BAD BUSH FIRE IS RAGING IN DUMMER

CHARLESWORTH IS UNDER FIRE FROM E. A. WEIR

Says Radio Chairman Knew Nothing About Broadcasting When He Was Appointed.

KNOWS LITTLE MORE NOW.

Experienced Staff of Commissioners But Only One Stenographer for Organized.

OTTAWA, June 8 (CP)—A declaration that Hector Charlesworth, chairman of the Canadian Radio Broadcasting Commission, "knew nothing whatsoever about broadcasting when he was appointed, and knows little more now," was contained in a brief filed with the House Committee on Radio to-day by E. A. Weir.

Mr. Weir, who was a director for the Canadian National Railways and was secured by the Commission, when it was first established, to give the benefit of his long experience to the new organization, was later dismissed. To-day's brief was the third shot in a verbal battle battle before the committee in which the Commission met charges of inefficiency and mistreatment with counter charges of officiousness, interference and inefficiency on the part of Mr. Weir.

The brief presented to-day was supported by letters from W. D. Robb, former Vice-President of the Canadian National Railways; Hon. Charles A. Dunning, written when he was Minister of Railways and Canals; Major Gladstone Murray, British Broadcasting Corporation expert who assisted in organizing the Commission; and from Dr. E. A. Corbett, Director of Extension, University of Mr. Weir's efficiency and worth as an executive, particularly with relation to radio matters.

51-Page Brief

Mr. Weir discussed in chronological order the 51-page brief presented by the Commission in reply to his first attack. "The unsupported allegations against my executive ability," he declared, "are not only without foundation, but the Radio Commission has not demonstrated in the past its competency to pass judgment on such a matter."

To a charge that he had written long memoranda to the Commission, Mr. Weir replied that the definite instructions of the Commission were that all suggestions from the staff must be in writing. Another reason was "the utter inability of the chairman to grasp at times the various factors and implications of matters brought before him unless first given an opportunity to digest them from a prepared statement.

"Even at that, one often sat in trepidation with him during interviews for fear his lack of knowledge and understanding would precipitate difficulties."

When the Commission was organized, Mr. Weir said, the Commissioner quickly surrounded themselves with "expensive" staff while he, who at first carried the load of organizing programs and laying the foundation for future operations, could secure the assistance of only one stenographer.

Fires Losing Ground In Sudbury District

SUDBURY, Ont., June 8 (CP)—Efforts of 400 men to check two bush fires burning near the Canadian National Railways line 15 to 20 miles from here are meeting with success and to-day the situation was more promising than it has been since the outbreak of the larger fire two weeks ago, Forest Branch officials said.

With the heavy winds slackening their force, the clouds of heavy smoke have been reduced and the work of the fire fighters aided. There is a complete ring of men around the first, and while they are not yet reported under control, officials state only an extremely heavy wind can spread the flames. They have been held in check for two days now.

At one time the fires almost met and one of them burned on both sides of the track but did no damage to property.

Lightning storms in the past few days have started nine new fires, but none of them is large and all are under control.

ICE TWO FEET DOWN

GALT, Ont., June 8 (CP)—Men digging post holes on the farm of John Gilchrist in Puslinch encountered ice two feet under the surface of the swamp. The ice was fa; thickness and the ground below it was not frozen. The post hole proved a fine place to keep drinking water cool.

32 Sailors Volunteer Their Blood On Call To Save Life Of Thirteen-Year-Old Girl

NEW YORK, June 8.—(AP)—The United States navy—in part, at least—was 13-year-old Rose Biona's to command today for blood.

The child is gravely ill of Leukemia in a Long Island hospital. Her father, Frederick Binona, appealed in a letter to Admiral David F. Sellers, commander-in-chief of the fleet now anchored here, for blood donors.

The appeal was broadcast to the men of the battleship Pennsylvania. Thirty-two volunteered. A drawing reduced the number to 12 and from this group L. E. Warner, second class seaman of Oakland, Calif. was selected for the first transfusion yesterday. He gave a pint of blood. A. W. Stibitz, a third class fireman, will be next. Others will follow, if needed.

Competition for the 12 places was spirited, several who failed to draw 'lucky' numbers trying to buy them.

VAST PLAN OF SOCIAL INSURANCE BEING PREPARED BY ROOSEVELT

Places Security of Nation's Men, Women, Children Among First Objectives.

FUNDS BY CONTRIBUTION.

(By Francis M. Stephenson.)

WASHINGTON, June 8 (A.P.).—President Roosevelt told the United States Congress to-day that he is preparing a vast plan of social insurance for the security "of the citizen and his family."

This, with another national plan for land and water resources, will be laid before Congress next winter.

In his longest message to Congress, the Chief Executive said:

"Among our objectives I place the security of the men, women and children of the nation first.

"People," he said, "want decent homes to live in; they want to locate them where they can engage in productive work; and they want some safeguard against misfortunes which cannot be wholy eliminated in this man-made world of ours."

Regarding homes, he said the Government has already appropriated millions for housing, and in a Housing Bill now before the legislators can "stimulate the lending of money" to modernize homes and build new ones.

No Prospect of Existence.

Of the "problem of readjustment of the population," he said, "hundreds of thousands of families live where there is no reasonable prospect of living in the years to come."

"When the next Congress convenes," he declared, "I hope to be able to present to it a carefully considered national plan, covering the development and human use of our national resources of land and water over a long period of years."

It involves abandoning millions of acres for agricultural use and replacing them with better land.

"I believe that the funds necessary to provide this insurance should be raised by contribution rather than by an increase in general taxation."

Hardy

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., June 8 (CP) — Ferdinand Waggoner, who had to get a new stomach after the first 60 years, has managed to get along with one made partly of silver for another 42 years. Now 102, Waggoner has had a stomach of silver tubes since he was accidentally shot in the back at the Chicago Fire in 1871.

BLAST FLINGS TRIO TO DEATH

Dozen Others Injured as Fumes Ignite in Philadelphia Drydock.

LAID TO NEGLIGENCE.

PHILADELPHIA, June 8. (AP). "Gross negligence on someone's part" is blamed by Ross B. Davis, chief engineer of the city fire brigade, for death of three workmen and injury of a dozen others in a shipyard blast that rocked northeastern Philadelphia.

The fire official demanded "vigorous" inquiry "to the furthermost limits" into the causes of the explosion, which blew out part of the side of an Atlantic refining company oil tanker, hurled workers about like ten pins, and set fire to the 350-foot craft and the drydock in which it was being repaired.

Ignition os gas by an acetylene torch in the hands of a repairman was cited as the probable cause of the blast, although police said inspectors of the Kensington Shipbuilding and Drydock Company examined the hulk before

EIGHTEEN TONS OF DYNAMITE TO SHATTER HAVELOCK QUARRY

Drilling of Long Tunnel Has Taken Over Year by Experienced Men.

FORTY-ONE POCKETS.

HAVELOCK, June 8 (Examiner Correspondent). — For more than three years now, the people of the district hereabouts have been looking forward to a spectacle scheduled to take place next week some time when eighteen tons of dynamite will be touched off to remove seventy-five thousand tons of rock at a single touch of an electric switch.

Workmen at the Ontario Rock Company's plant three miles east of this village have completed more than seven hundred and eight feet of tunneling and are now awaiting the arrival of a carload of explosives. When this arrives a few days will be required to load, wire and tamp with rock screenings to fill a log series of passages that took months to carve out of the hard limestone. A few hours will elapse crowds will have gathered on a hillside a quarter of a mile away, the electrical engineer will tape the ends of four dangling dead wires together and take up his position at an electric switch. After the sounding of the usual warning whistles the "fire" signal will be given and almost instantly the whole contour of the big rock quarry face will have undergone a complete change.

Started Year Ago.

Just Gin

KITTANNING, Pa., June 8. (C.P.)—A window smasher who picked on a state liquor store has provided a dandy advertising theme for the distiller of a 90-cent gin. After breaking the window he snubbed $100 worth of choice liquors on display and took the bottle of gin.

Valera Is Preparing Cut Tie With Britain

DUBLIN, Irish Free State, June 8 (AP)—Nothing is more certain than the ultimate separation of Ireland and Great Britain, President Eamon de Valera declared in the Dail to-day.

He made the statement in the course of a reply to criticism of Government policies.

"Ireland is prepared to take the full consequences of being an independent nation," De Valera said. "There will be a shock, but we should overcome it and become great and prosperous.

"The Government's policy now is aimed at preparing to resist that shock. We are getting into a position of strength so that when we cut ourselves off from Great Britain the jolt will not be too great. We shall cut ourselves off from Great Britain. There is nothing more certain."

SIMPSON FIRM BOUGHT GOODS OF SWEATSHOPS

Mark-up Often Three and Four Times Cost of Labour.

FIRMS BLACK-LISTED.

Instances Given Probe Committee of Cost of Making Suits.

OTTAWA, June 8.—(CP)—Evidence of sweatshop conditions in Montreal clothing plants which made suits sold by the Robert Simpson Company, Limited, Toronto to retail and mail order house, was presented to the parliamentary mass buying commitee today.

Before the inquiry closes names of the firms will be disclosed, promised Chairman H. H. Stevens, when pressed by W. W. Kennery, Cons. Winnipeg, South Centre, for "every publicity in the world" for offending firms and their blacklisting by provincial and federal governments from tendering for contracts.

Patronizing Sweatshops

Alex Edwards, Cons. South Waterloo, said the federal government patronized sweatshops by letting a recent contract for pants, probably for policemen, upon which 17 cents each was paid for labor.

"Yes," agreed Sam Factor, Lib., Toronto, "I have a letter relating to that contract."

J. G. Glassco, one of the investigating auditors for the committee, told of a contract let by the Simpson firm to a Montreal clothing manufacturer for 125 boy's' suits. The cost to the manufacturer was as follows: Material, $3.87; labor, $1.05, overhead, 24 cents, total, $5.16. The suits were sold to Simpsons for $5.65 each, which represented a profit of 49 cents to the manufacturer. Simpsons marked up each suit $3.41.

In filling the order, the manufacturer sub-let the labor. The subcontractor charged $1.05 for each suit which included his overhead and profit. The auditor said he could not tell how much was the actual labor cost but the manufacturer, he had been assured by Quebec government officials, had been convicted under provincial minimum wage laws.

At this point, Sam Factor reminded the committee it has heard evidence earlier of Montreal clothing manufacturers paying 50 cents a dozen as labor costs for men's pants and 35 cents a dozen for boy's.

The Montreal manufacturer receives most of his business from departmental stores, the auditor said. Last year he had orders aggregating $335,000 upon which his profit was $7,000 or two percent.

Markup Triple Labor Cost

There were other orders given by Simpsons to the Montreal house. On one, the manufacturer made 36 cents and Simpsons, $5.18 on another, 28 cents and $4.53. On every order, Simpsons mark-up was three or four times the labor cost.

It cost the mail order division of the Robert Simpson Company, Limited, of Toronto $1,052,291 to do business last year on goods for which they paid $2,056,312, the committee was told today by its auditor, George Adamson, Toronto.

Actually, the mail order division made a gross profit of $95,931 but this was converted into a net loss after the Simpson holding company started assessing interest, depreciation building maintenance, rent, income taxes and other charges. The net loss last year was $17,870.

The mail order furniture department made a gross profit of $171,134 last year but this was lowered to $14,090 through the outside charges which Chairman H. H. Stevens noted represented in themselves "a handsome profit on the business."

"We should see," suggested E. J. Young, Lib., Weyburn, "how much of these charges are necessary and how much are unnecessary."

"We should see whether this business is being managed efficiently," amended Sam Factor, Lib., Toronto.

It seemed incredible to him, said W. W. Kennedy, Cons. Winnipeg South Centre, the company's financial statement reflected a true picture of mail order operations. He could not understand why a large company would continue operating a mail order division that continually lost money.

FIGHTERS IN FIT SHAPE.

NEW YORK, June 8 (C.P.). — Max Baer and Primo Carnera today were reported in "satisfactory" condition for their 15-round heavyweight championship fight next Thursday night in Madison Square Garden Bowl, and the New York State Athletic Commission ordered the fight to go on as scheduled.

Medals in Pawn

KETTERING, England, June 8 (CP Cable).—The Prince of Wales told this one at the Nortamptonshire Agricultural Show to-day:

Two boys were discussing athletics. One said his father held a gold medal for running, a silver cup for swimming, and lots of cups for boxing.

"He must be a champion," said the other boy.

"No, he ain't," replied the first; "he's a pawnbroker."

"I hope," the Prince added, "that bad as times are none of the prizes won to-day will go there."

BENZOL CLAIMS SECOND VICTIM

Pt. Colborne Girl Succumbs Despite Ten Blood Transfusions.

INHALED FUMES.

PORT COLBORNE, June 8. — (C.P.).—Angeline Martini, 17, died in Welland County Hospital early to-day from benzol poisoning, allegedly contracted from inhaling fumes from cement used at a shoe factory where she had worked.

Jenny Scapillato, 17, a co-worker of Miss Martini, died Wednesday from the same cause.

The girl received her 10th blood transfusion yesterday and Dr. E. A. MacKenzie, her physician, had intended that she would receive another one to-day.

Miss Martini had been in the hospital for more than three weeks and yesterday was believed to have been holding her own against the sickness.

Inquest June 18.

An inquest into the death will be held on June 18 at Welland, Dr. Mackenzie, who is aso coroner, decided to-day. He stated he did not believe any other employees at the factory would be affected. He considered that if others had contracted the infection it would have appeared before this as use of the cement was discontinued early in May when the girls' condition was discovered.

Miss Martin died three hours before the funeral of Miss Scapillato was held. Miss Martin is survived by her parents, four brothers and one sister. The funeral will be held on Monday from St. Patrick's Church, Port Colborne.

BRITISH PLANES TORONTO-BOUND

Fighters Are Taken From Squadron on Outer London Defenses.

FOR CENTENIAL.

LONDON, June 8 (C.P. Cable) — Five of the "Fury" interceptor fighting planes of the Royal Air Force will be shipped to-morrow and 17 officers and men will sail for a visit to Canada, during which the planes will be shown at Toronto, Hamilton, London, Windsor, and Quebec.

The main object of the visit is to participate in the Toronto centenary celebrations on July 2, 3, and 4.

The five machines, one of which will be held in reserve, have been taken from the No. 1 Squadron at Tangmere, in the outer defence around London.

Wing Commander G. G. Pirie, M.C., D.F.C., commander of the station, will lead the flight. The flight commander will be Flight-Lieut. E. G. Russell-Stracey. Other commissioned officers are Flying Officers G. J. Chatterton and J. W. Donaldson, and Pilot Officer F. X. Dixon.

The men will sail from Southampton to-morrow on the Alsunia, while the machines, crated, will be put aboard the Manchester Producer at Liverpool.

WILL CONSIDER PLAN.

TORONTO, June 8 (C.P.). — Maple Leaf Milling Company, Ltd. is directed by an order Mr. Justice J. A. McEvoy made to-day at Osgoode Hall to summon a special general meeting of its shareholders to consider a proposed arrangement between the company and its shareholders of a financial reconstruction of the corporation. The meeting is to be held here on July 2

FLAMES FANNED BY STRONG WIND ACRES OF ASHES

Fire is Raging Unchecked in Woodlots in Dummer Township.

LITTLE CAN BE DONE.

Spreading Rapidly Late Today in Additional Woodlots.

Acres of ashes mark the smoking path of an extensive bush fire that has cut a wide swath through the woods on either side of the eighth line of Dummer, six miles north of Norwood, and is still burning vigorously late this afternoon.

Smoke hung over the unbroken expanse of green foliage where the trees united their top branches reaching off in the distance toward Stoney Lake, and along the ground the fire was crackling and blazing through the underbrush and the dry mould of last year's leaves and pine needles.

The woods on the east side of the rough narrow trail where the fire broke out Tuesday afternoon are owned by Edgar and Thomas Buck of Norwood, and in that area the most damage to valuable tanber was reported in the neighborhood today. A strong wind from the east carried the flames across the eighth line on Thursday into woods belonging to Clarence Staples of Indian River.

Flames Spreading

The fire has apparently spent itself in the Buck property, but, fanned by a strong wind, the flames were spreading steadily this afternoon deep into the woods on the west side of the narrow road.

An Examiner reporter drove up the ninth line of Dummer from Norwood this afternoon, but found that the fire was farther to the west. Returning to the eighth line the press car followed the road several miles northward to the home of William Kavanagh.

Can Do Little.

"I went in to Peterborough Tuesday afternoon," Mr. Kavanagh, a young farmer, told the reporter, "and there was no sign of fire in the woods then. I did not get back home until yesterday afternoon, and by that time the flames had jumped across the road to the west side. Mr. Staples was here last night, and Mr. Buck stopped for a few minutes this morning. He said there was nothing much that could be done. There are no houses in that area, and nothing that requires any special effort of protection."

The reporter drove on into the bush along the winding trail, part of which was an old corduroy section, fretted with deep ruts, that made the passage of the car almost impossible. A mile north of the Kavanagh home the path of the fire lay on either side of the trail. To the east, punky old stumps were still smouldering in the ashes of the more than two days' burning. Trees were blackened by the flames, showing evident signs of damage that affected more seriously the timbered acres deep in the woods on the Buck property.

The fire had leaped across the road into the Staples woods, and all the bouldered ground under tall pines was spread with the ashes of the burned mould and underbrush.

This morning the wind apparently had veered, driving the flames in a circle back toward the eighth line. Forty feet in from the automobile flames were sizzling with a loud swish through the dry ground growth with a sound that suggested waves washing on a shore. The fire was breaking out with intermittent gusts of flame as new depths of dry material were reached. Dense smoke clouded all the area on the west side of the road, and as the wind threatened for a time to burn toward the east, the press car was turned on the proverbial "nickel" and driven several hundred yards down the trail as a precaution which might probably have amused residents of that part of the township.

There were no fire-fighters along the eighth line, and nature's silence hung over the woods—a quiet that accentuated the hiss of the flames, as they licked through the parched underbrush.

Outcropping rocks were smudged black with the fire that had passed over them in the uneven swath that exended along the road for three hundred yards. At least thirty acres of fire swept woods could be followed visually from that section of the trail, but the extent of the whole area through which the fire burned since Tuesday could not be estimated.

NEW TAXI STRIKE.

CLEVELAND, O., June 8 (A.P.). —Violence flared again to-day in the taxicab strike here. Two drivers were injured, one cab was burned and another pushed over a cliff at the lakefront as police cruisers roared through the city.

SMUGGLING OF SMALL ARMS GOES ON UNCHECKED BY PARIS POLICE

PARIS, June 8. — Parisian gunsmiths, great and small, must be laughing up their sleeves at the depression these days. They are doing a roaring business these days. There were more rifles, pistols, revolvers, gats, knuckle-dusters, rubber truncheons, shotguns, rapiers, daggers, swords and other hardware and cutlery of that sort sold in Paris since Feb. 7, the day of the bloody riots in the Place de la Concorde, than in all the years since the war put together. In addition to the merchants of firearms and swords, of whom there are some eight hundred odd in Paris alone—I don't know the figures for the rest of France—loads and loads of small arms are being imported from abroad. One gentleman driving along the highway out of Belgium the other day picked up seventeen high-calibre revolvers which had dropped from a truck ahead of him. He reported his find to the police. One wonders what kind of customs officers there are on the French frontiers that they let such a load go through. Usually those gents are hawk-eyed, quick enough anyway to

The Final Blow

MEDIA, Pa., June 8 (CP)—It was bad enough when her husband struck her with a candlestick, a cake dish, a coffee pot, a floor mop and a floor lamp, Mrs. Florence McLay of Upper Darby testified in Domestic Relations Court.

But, said Mrs. McLay, when he slammed her with a cat—a black cat to boot — it was grounds for divorce. The judge agreed.

Smith's Falls Man Taken In Wild Chase

TORONTO, June 8. (CP).—Mike Johnsón, 28, who said he came from Smith's Falls although he had told police previously he was from Winnipeg, was remanded until June 14 when he appeared today in Oakville police court on a charge of automobile theft.

Johnson was arrested to-day after a wild 70-mile-an-hour chase by Constable W. Rosar. The officer said he suspected Johnson of having stolen an automobile and chased him in a taxi, firing two shots when Johnson refused to stop. Finally Johnson piled the car he was driving into a ditch and he was taken from the wreckage cut and badly shaken up.

A Rare Visitor

LETHBRIDGE, Alta., June 8 (C.P.). — Rare visitors to Canada, a pair of mocking birds have established "squatters' rights" near High River, Alta., and are busy making their home in the south land of Alberta.

Coming from the far south of the United States, the mocking birds put on an exhibition for Harry Gould, local naturalist, he reported to-day.

A hilarious and jovial song, he said, was followed by the birds imitating a rooster and a duck.

Gould has heard of only two pair of mocking birds having been seen in Canada—one pair at Red Deer, Alta., and another at Hamilton, Ont., some years ago.

EIGHT KILLED IN HURRICANE SAN SALVADOR

Five Hundred Are Left Homeless and $1,500,000 Damage Done.

MARTIAL LAW DECLARED.

Homes in Residential Area Washed Away, Business Buildings Ruined.

NEW YORK, June 8.—(AP)—Eight lives were lost, 500 persons were made homeless and damage estimated at $1,500,000 was done by a hurricane that swept San Salvador yesterday and last night, pan-American Airways reported today.

Martial law was declared today as a result of the complete collapse of communication facilities, light and power lines and railroad travel.

The reports, wirelessed to pan-American Airways via its airport in Salvador which escaped damage, said many large buildings in the capital were partially demolished.

Homes in the residential district of Ilopango and Foyopango were washed away by heavy rains that fell during the storm, the report said, while the highway to La Libertad was rendered impassable.

50 Mile Wind

The storm struck Salvador at 1 p.m. yesterday at which time 50-mile hour winds were reported. High winds continued throughout the night, accompanied by torrential rains.

Pan-American Airways reports said it we believed three weeks would be required to restore rail, communication and power services to normal, although several important power lines were reported partially repaired today.

No reports were available as to damage done by the hurricane in the interior.

The tropical storm, first disturbance of the kind of this season, formed in the Gulf of Mexico and struck inland at British Honduras, apparently gathering intensity as it moved forward.

Actress Is Killed Crash After Party

PASADENA, Calif., June 8. (AP) Dorothy Dell Goff, daughter of wealthy retired New Orleans lumberman, who attended spectacular prominence in motion pictures within the last several months, was killed early to-day in an automobile accident.

Her companion, Dr. Carl Wagner, 28, prominent Pasadena dentist, who was questioned by authorities several months ago in connection with the unsolved murder of Dr. Leonard Siever also a well known Pasadena dentist was probably fatally injured.

Miss Goff, known on the screen as Dorothy Dell, and Dr. Wagner had just left an Altadena inn after a gay party, police said, when the dentist's large sedan plunged off a road, snapped off a light pole and came to rest at the bottom of a ditch.

The automobile, police reported, was telescoped to half its normal length.

MEAFORD, Ont., June 8 (CP)—Henry Huss, local watchmaker for the past 25 years to-day succeeded in drilling a hole throught a common pin from end to end without breaking it. Huss has been experimenting for the past two years, and the hole made with a fine drill is just large enough to thread a hair out of a mans' head through it.

ONTARIO ABLE TO HANDLE DEBT EASILY—HENRY

Relief to Unemployed Must Go On Premier Tells Lindsayites.

ENDS EASTERN TOUR.

Charges Hepburn Becoming a Dictator in Very Definite Form.

LINDSAY, Ont., June 8. (CP), concluding his tour of eastern Ontario, Premier George S. Henry moved westward to-day to address meetings at Hanover and Owen Sound.

Before leaving here late last night for Toronto the Premier assured some 2,500 persons in the Armories the Province of Ontario was prepared to continue its program of public works, and said there was no need to worry over the public debt.

"I'm no pessimist," he declared. "The province can handle its debt with ease and all this work to give relief to the unemployed must go on." He said Liberal leader Mitchell F. Hepburn criticized the government for incurring the heavy expenditures but the Premier said: "There is no doubt about Hepburn having to worry about solving the problem, we'll be out of the depression and well on the road to recovery before he gets near the treasury benches in the Ontario legislature."

Hepburn a Dictator

The Premier charged Mr. Hepburn was "becoming a dictator in very definite form" and asked "where is the vaunted freedom of thought of the Liberal party." He said the Liberal leader had declared only those who agreed with him on the liquor question would be accepted in his cabinet. But during his journey around the province the Premier said he came across "hardly a Liberal candidate who has not been promised a post in the Hepburn cabinet."

Platform of the Conservative party was outlined by the Premier who said he proposed "as intimated in the manifesto" to see what can be done about reducing the cost of Hydro to farmers and rural dwellers "seriously handicapped and largely isolated."

Confidence in his return to power was expressed by Mr. Henry who said Mr. Hepburn would be lucky if he got 25 seats in the House "and he will be still more lucky if he gets a seat for himself."

REDS, FASCISTS COME TO GRIPS

Over 100 Injured, 20 Arrested in Battle at London Hall.

SIR OSWALD HECKLED.

LONDON, Eng., June 8. (C.P. Cable.)—Considerable indignation was expressed to-day over rioting that developed last night at a meeting of Sir Oswald Mosley's. Four members of the House of Commons wrote a letter to the Times accusing the Fascists of a "deplorable outrage against public order."

Fighting that began before the meeting became intense and more than 100 persons were injured, some seriously, as combattants wielded razor blades, slashing their opponens and tearing their clothes from their backs. Twenty or more persons were arrested.

The trouble started outside the Olympic hall in the west end when a group of about 100 demonstrators, said to have been Communists, jeered members of Sir Oswald's audience who arrived at the meeting place in evening dress. Police broke up the disturbance with a baton charge.

When Sir Oswald started to speak he was heckled vigorously. Three Conservative members of the House of Commons, T. J. O'Connor, J. S. Wedderburn and W. J. Anstruther-Gray, and one Independent, E. Scrymgeour, said in their letter they saw uniformed Fascists practise "wholly unnecessary" violence on interruptors. Men and women, they said, were knocked down and assaulted and kicked as they lay on the floor of the hall.

The hall was packed with a huge crowd whose members appeared evenly divided among Blackshirts and persons who were merely curious.

OTTAWA, June 8 (CP)—Mitchell F. Hepburn, M.P., Ontario Liberal Leader, left here to-day for Eganville and Renfrew, where he will end his whirlwind tour of Eastern Ontario. He leaves to-night for Georgetown and Port Credit, near Toronto.

The greatest crowd to greet the Liberal Leader during the campaign turned out here last night, more than 6,000 people packing the auditorium and giving him a thunderous ovation. Previously he had been tendered a luncheon by parliamentary colleagues and attended another large meeting at Casselman, 45 miles from Ottawa.

In the event of a Liberal victory, he told a questioner, there would be a "real constructive colonization scheme inaugurated in Northern Ontario" with money saved be reducing administration costs by 50 per cent.

He predicted the victory would come, declaring there was a general swing to Liberalism in Ontario and in Canada as a whole.

He declared there would be a

10 DAYS TO GO TILL ELECTION

Typographical Union Raps "Straight Furrow" Low Wages Paid.

ROWE JOINS CAMPAIGN.

TORONTO, June 8.—(CP)—Numerous meetings dotted the Ontario political map today with 10 meetings arranged for party leaders and cabinet ministers, ranging from New Liskeard in the north to Renfrew in the east. Premier George S. Henry will appeal to Owen Sound electors for a return of his government while Mitchell F. Hepburn, Ontario Liberal leader, urges Eganville and Renfrew citizens to turn the Conservative administration out of office on June 19.

Only 10 days are left until the votes are cast in Ontario's general elections and meetings are becoming more numerous as the various parties appeal for support. While the premier speaks in Owen Sound, five of his cabinet ministers will take the platform.

William Earl Rowe, Conservative member of the House of Commons for Dufferin-Simcoe, entered the campaign at Kingston last night, maintaining the present was no time to experiment with a new government. He urged the return of the Conservative administration as its members were 'tried and proven.' Mr. Hepburn, he said, was an unknown quantity and has issued no election manifesto.

The Liberal party was not united, he claimed, and its economic principles were not sound. Mr. Hepburn, he charged, was "swinging to the left and it is stated the fashion plate of inspiration of the Liberal leader is not far off Russia."

McCrea At Walkerton

An attack on what he called the 'Liberal board of strategy' was made at Walkerton by Hon. Charles McCrea, who said this board and Mr. Hepburn were "putting on the best burlesque show in the province.' At Leamington Attorney General Price accused the Liberals of opposing public-ownership and endangering the province's Hydro system while at Iroquois Falls Mr. Kennedy, Minister of Agriculture, reviewed the support extended the farmer by the government.

The "straight furrow," the Conservative party's official organ, is published by a non-union Toronto firm, charged John Kelly, secretary of the Typographical Union, before the Toronto Trades and Labor council. He said a new issue of 10,000 copies had been published by the firm which had "reduced wages and caused a lockout in the trade."

Earthquake Shakes Central California

LOS ANGELES, June 8.—(AP)—An earthquake shook a large area of central and Southern California last night, but report showed no damage.

Observers at the Carnegie Institution's seismological laboratory in Pasadena described it as severe enough, however, to have spread considerable havoc at its epicenter.

The quake was felt in only a small part of Los Angeles but adjacent cities and half a dozen others in Central California reported the shock was quite heavy

CANADA LUTHERAN SYNOD RALLIES AT MORRISBURG

MORRISBURG, Ont., June 8 (CP)—The Canada Lutheran Synod convention meeting here continued the hearing of executive committee reports yesterday following a Matin service conducted by Rev. Dr. N. Willison of Hamilton. The proposed budget allowed $18,000 for Waterloo Seminary and College, $4,000 for general expenses, $1,500 for home missions, $1,300 for inner missions, $3,000 for sinking funds, and $200 for building fund.

New congregations received into the Synod included Kirkland Lake, Owen Sound, and a sixth conference was formed in the north, which included Kirkland Lake, Sudbury, Massey, Finnish and English Lutherans of Sault Ste Marie, and Copper Cliff.

Precedent

LONDON, June 7 (C.P. Cable)—For the first time in the 264 years of the company's history the Governor of the Hudson's Bay Company will visit its Arctic trading posts.

Askley Cooper will leave on Tuesday for the journey, travelling to the north by the Hudson Bay route.

MARKETING BILL PASSES HOUSE BY 50 MAJORITY

Bennett Enters Lists on Behalf of Measure in Closing Hours of Debate.

KING LOSES LAST STAND.

McDonald Urges Gov' to Subsidize Canadian Airways—"Worst in World."

OTTAWA, June 8 (C.P.).—Another milestone in its slow progress towards a secure place in the statute books has been passed by the Natural Products Marketing Act. After months of debate, many amendments and stubborn opposition at every stage, the Bill received third reading last night by 85 votes to 35, and now awaits the will of the Senate.

Launched with the object of improving the economic position of the producers of natural products, particularly the farmers, the Bill was assailed by its critics in turn as Fascism, Socalism, and Communism. Conservative followers of the Government and the Progressive Farmer-Labor group were united in supporting it throughout, but the Liberals with two exceptions consistently opposed it, declaring they objected to the form of the Bill, although willing to support a marketing law based on other lines.

Bennett Joins Fray.

Prime Minister R. B. Bennett entered the lists on behalf of the Bill in the closing hours of the debate on third reading. He denied it was either Communism or Fascism, and declared if it was Socialism then he had been a supporter of Socialism for many years.

"You cannot make progress by stading still to watch the procession go by," said Mr. Bennett. Advocates of the doctrines of laissez faire were banded together to oppose the Bill as they had banded together in the 19th century to oppose reforms which reduced the hours of labor, abolished child labor, and increased the return of the worker.

The day of individualism was passing, said Mr. Bennett. Whether one liked it or not ,men were now

Toronto Livestock Review

TORONTO, June 8 (C.P.)—Hot weather slowed up the movement on the Toronto Livestock Market during the week and prices dropped on all classes with the exception of hogs.

Lambs registered the biggest drop, closing $2 to $2.50 lower on choice quality. Veal calves declined $1 to $1.50 on tops. Prices dropped fully 25 cents on butcher cattle and as much as 50 cents on weighty steers.

Receipts of all classes of livestock were about the same in volume as last week. Packing houses were glutted with beef and there were 1,300 head of cattle unsold at the close.

While cattle receipts should be kept down, if possible, some cattle were forced to the market this week from drought stricken districts. Pastures are bare in some sections and water is scarce. Cooler weather Thursday should slightly relieve the situation by accelerating the movement of beef. Rain is urgently needed.

Choice steers opened at $5.50 to $5.75, while the few closing sales were made at $5 to $5.25. Steers made a good proportion of the holdover. Butcher cattle opened at $5 to $5.50 for choice and closed at tops of $5 with common selling downward to $3.50.

Cows closed lower at $3.50 to $3.75 for choice. Bulls were slow all week at $2.50 to $3.50 according to quality. Fed calves ranged from $4.50 to $6.50 on Tuesday with no sales recorded for the balance of the week.

A few light stockers held at $3.50 to $4 cwt to speculators, with no inquiry coming from farmers. Milkers and Springers closed lower at around $40 for tops.

Calf receipts were 2,900 head. Prices opened steady at $6 to $6.50 for choice vealers, but dropped sharply to $5 for tops by the close. Common to medium calves had a smaller decline, closing at $3 to $4.50.

Hog receipts were again moderate at 4,300 head. The market gained 5 cents on Monday and held steady for the remainder of the week. Salesmen tried to increase the gain but, as was the case with other meats, pork and ham was moving slow to consumers. The market closed at $8.50 f.o.b. for bacons, $8.85 off truck and at $9.25 off cars. Packers were talking lower prices for week-end deliveries. Cables from Great Britain indicated a firm bacon market.

Sheep and lamb receipts were 330 head. Lambs opened $2 cwt. lower at $10 for choice and dropped to $9.50 towards the close. Medium quality lambs sold at $8 to $9 with culls at $5 to $6.50. A good many lambs showed the deteriorating effect of poor pastures. Sheep continued last week's decline, closing at $1 to $2 for the majority, with a few top ewes making $2.50. Yearlings sold at $5.50 to $6 cwt.

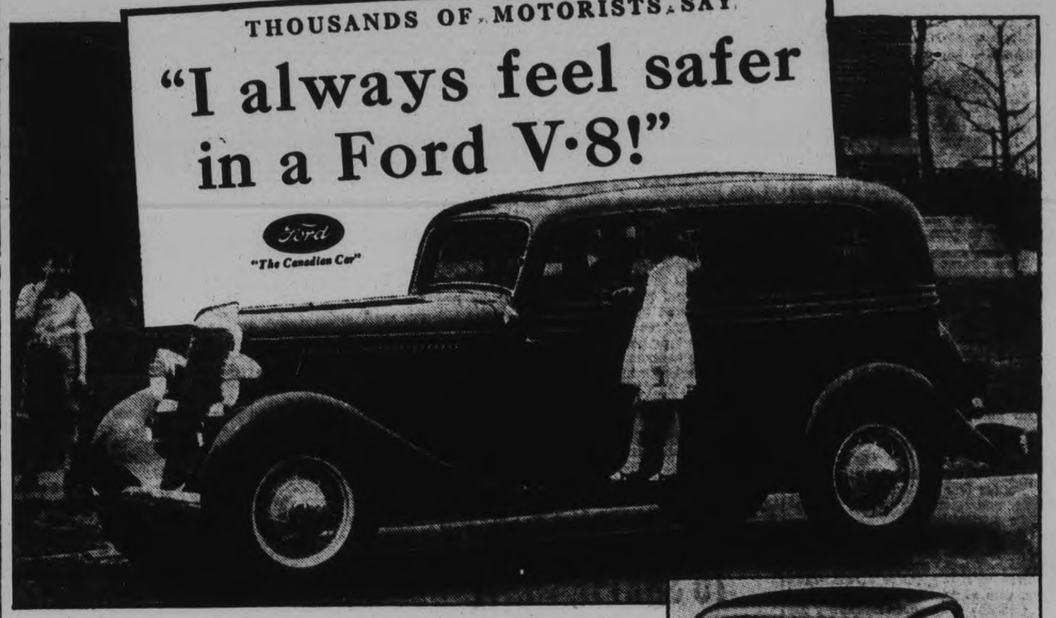
THOUSANDS OF MOTORISTS SAY

"I always feel safer in a Ford V-8!"



THE strength of steel protects you when you ride in a Ford V-8.

Around you is an all-steel body, electrically welded into one piece. Beneath your feet is a rigid, X-type steel frame of double strength. Out in front of you and behind you are strong steel axles, braced by steel radius-rods and supported by a steel torque tube. (Ford is the only low-price car with a full torque-tube drive.)

You ride upon steel-spoke wheels, also electrically welded into one piece. The windshield before your eyes is safety glass. (All New Ford De Luxe closed cars are equipped throughout with safety glass at no additional cost.)

Another reason why you feel safer in a Ford V-8 is ease of handling. There is always less strain and less likelihood of tight situations when you drive an alert, obedient car.

The Ford V-8 gives you an extra margin of safety because of its quick acceleration, eight-cylinder speed and power, ease of steering, stability on curves and rough roads, and powerful, oversize brakes. It has more braking surface per pound of weight than any other car.

DOUBLE-DROP, X-BRACED FRAME—Exceptionally strong and rigid. Channels forming X-member extend the full length of the main side-channels, making them doubly strong.

BIG, POWERFUL BRAKES—Ford brakes are larger than those in cars of similar weight and power. Big brakes are safer because they stop the car more surely and more quickly. Also less likely to wear.

TUNE IN—FRED WARING AND HIS PENNSYLVANIANS. A half-hour of glorious music. (Columbia Broadcasting System.) Every Sunday night and every Thursday night at 9:30 (Eastern Daylight Saving Time). In the meantime—"WATCH THE FORDS GO BY."

ALL-STEEL BODY—Not wood and steel, but ALL STEEL. And it is electrically welded into one piece to make it even stronger. You need an all-steel body for the greatest safety in driving and you get it in the Ford V-8. Costs us more to build, but there's no additional cost to you.

STEEL-SPOKE WHEELS—Hub, spokes and rim are electrically welded into one unit. Exceptionally strong. No separate parts to work loose, rust, corrode or become weakened.

CLEAR-VISION VENTILATION—Built in the windows. No exterior parts to obstruct your view. Windshield opens.

TRANSVERSE SPRINGS, with torque-tube drive and radius-rods. Give greater safety as well as easy-riding comfort. Solid front axle is an additional safety factor.

SAFETY GLASS THROUGHOUT on all Ford V-8 De Luxe closed cars at no extra cost. You pay many dollars extra for this protection on some low-price cars.

BUSINESS TAX HITS LINDSAY

County Council Adds $30,000 in Business Assessment to Town.

KILLALY SPEAKS

LINDSAY, June 8 (Examiner Correspondence)—The Equilization of Assessment Committee of the County Council had its report on the business assessment of the various municipalities in Victoria County adopted by the council at yesterday's session. Some $75,000 in assessment has been added, $30,000 of which was found in the town of Lindsay. The Lindsay representatives in the council objected to the levy and claimed that sign painters, plumbers, electricians, teamsters, etc. should not be assessed a business tax. They claimed the town was over-assessed in business tax to the amount of at least $5,000.

F. D. Kerr, K.C., of Peterborough was the guest speaker at the Twentieth Century Liberal Club meeting at Hotel Benson Wednesday night. He dealt with the political issues of the day in a very thorough manner.

Superintendent A. L. Killaly, of the Department of Railways and Canals, Peterborough, addressed the Victoria County Council on Wednesday afternoon regarding the levelsof the various lakes, Scugog Lake in particular, explaining to the council the efforts made by the Department to maintain the levels with as little variation as possible at the different seasons so that fish life might be preserved. Regarding the reported destruction of fish and spawn in Scugog Lake, Mr. Killaly said that everything possible was being done to maintain these waters at an even level. He pointed out that after much study it had been determined that the natural loss of maskinonge and pickerel spawn was ninety-eight per cent. He also informed the council that in the Trent Canal system there were 375 miles of navigable water to be kept at a proper level.

Bailieboro Y.P.S. Studies 'Cry Havoc'

BAILIEBORO, June 8 (Examiner Correspondence)—The completion of the reading of Beverly Nichols' book, "Cry Havoc" was the principal feature of the Young Peoples' regular meeting in the United Church on Tuesday evening.

The Christian Fellowship convenor, Mrs. Norman Thompson was in charge of the devotional service and was assisted by Rev. E. M. Cook and Miss Frances Watt. The literary convenor, Miss Fern Rahmel read the final instalment of "Cry Havoc" and at the conclusion of the meeting a unanimous vote of thanks was tendered Miss Rahmel for the untiring efforts she has put forth to make the reading a success.

The discussion period was led by Jack Ackison, who in his usual capable manner brought forth the conclusions of the group, by his clear explanations and well planned questions.

Next week's meeting will be in the form of a sunset service and will be held on the athletic grounds. The missionary convenor Miss Clara Seens will be in charge. An hour's recreation will be enjoyed before the meeting commences.

FROM CROW BAY TO NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE IN THIRTY HOURS

Max G. Horkins Makes Trip By Car When Train Connections Fail.

TO ATTEND FUNERAL.

CAMPBELLFORD, June 8 (Examiner Staff Correspondence). — From the Cedars, Crow Bay, to Nashville, Tennessee, in approximately thirty hours, is the record of Max G. Horkins, formerly of this district, and now a resident of that United States city, and during the World War a young Canadian airman attached to Admiral Beattie's North Sea Fleet squadron. And the trip was made in a car because time was of importance, and train connections bad.

Mr. Horkins arrived from the States on Sunday last with his wife and son, Max Junior ,to visit for two weeks at the summer cottage at Crow Bay, of his uncle, Fred J. Smith, and Mrs. Smith, prior to attending an insurance convention in Toronto on June 18. On Tuesday he received a telegram that his father-in-law, Mr. Dillon of Nashville, had died, and that the funeral was on Thursday.

Looking up rail connections he found that he would be unable to get home in time for the funeral, so the old dare-devil determination of war days, which was exemplified by Canadian airmen, helped him to find a way out, and at five o'clock on Tuesday evening, he left in his car, with his wife and son, to make the long trek south.

At eight o'clock yesterday (Thursday) morning, his uncle, Mr. Smith, received a wire from him that the party had arrived in Nashville the evening before, and were able to attend the funeral.

The distance from Campbellford to Nashville is approximately one thousand miles. Mr. Horkins averaging about 33 miles an hour on the trip.

Unpopular Decision?

Echoes of the fight for the Liberal nomination in East Ottawa came towards the end of Mr. Hepburn's speech when he declared Paul Leduc was the official candidate.

Supporters of J. A. Pinard, first chosen by a convention and later superseded, booed Mr. Hepburn's announcement and interrupted the program. They cheered Mr. Pinard and booed Mr. Leduce.

It was the first time the Liberal Leader had been bothered by interruptions since his election campaign started on May 21.

The fight for the Ottawa East nomination has created wide interest locally and the huge crowd seemed about divided between the Pinard-Leduce forces. As one side booed, the other cheered and the noisy demonstration lasted for some minutes when Mr. Hepburn placed his stamp of approval on Mr. Leduc.

Mr. Hepburn started with, "I appeal to you to support Mr. Leduc as the official Liberal candidate," when the roar started. Before this, he had attacked the Government for its "reckless expenditures" and declared he could and would reduce costs of administration by 50 per cent.

Trouble At Packers Said Storm In Teacup

TORONTO, June 8 (C.P.)—N. J. McLean, general manager of Canadian Packers Ltd., yesterday characterized reports of dissatisfaction among employes of the packers plant here as a storm in a tea-cup.

The report said the employes had asked the company to restore a 10 per cent wage cut made in 1931, and asked "certain questions" regarding the firm's financial position, recently dealt with in evidence before the Stevens mass buying committee at Ottawa.

Mr. McLean said the men had asked questions about the business, adding: "Of course that is natural after the reports from Ottawa." It was a "perfectly friendly" meeting he said. The men had submitted a memorandum requesting return of the wage cut but the subject had not been discussed.

Obituary

(Examiner Correspondence)

MARMORA, June 8.—The sudden death of Catherine Winnifred Bailey on Thursday cast quite a gloom over this district. The deceased resided here with her grandmother, the late Mrs. J. Flynn for a number of years and despite physical affliction was of a very bright temperament and all with whom she came into touch had a good word for her.

She was born in Marmora Township on July 1, 1904. Besides her father, Hugh Bailey who resides in Peterborough, she is survived by one brother Edward of Marmora and three sisters, Mrs. F. S. Johnston, Marmora, Mrs. C. Condon and Miss Eva Bailey, both of Thorold. The funeral leaves the residence of her aunt, Mrs. Teressa Warren at Crow Lake at 8:30 a.m. on Saturday for Requiem Mass at the Sacred Heart Church at 9 a.m. at which Rev. Father J. J. Kelly will officiate.

MRS. JOHN E. MINNS.

TWEED, June 8. — (Examiner Correspondence.)— After a short illness, Clementine, wife of Mr. James E. Minns, passed away on Monday at her home, 17 John street, Oshawa.

The late Mrs. Minns was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John W. Clarke, and was born in Wellington, Ont. She was a devout member of Simcoe United church, Oshawa, and her passing is much regretted by many friends.

Surviving to mourn her loss besides the husband, are one daughter, Mary of Windsor, three sons, Dr. John Minns of Toledo, Ohio, Clarke and Donald at home, two sisters, Miss Cora Clarke and Miss Norma Clarke of Belleville, three brothers, A. Wesley Clark of Sault Ste. Marie, Fred A. Clarke of California, and Harold Clarke of Paris, Ont.

Mr. and Mrs. Minns were former residents of Tweed and Mrs. Minns had many friends here who will regret to learn of her passing.

EDWARD WILLIAMS.

TWEED, June 8. — (Examiner Correspondenie.)—Word has been received here of the death on Tuesday evening of Edward Williams, a well known Canadian Pacific Railway engineer. He had resided in Havelock for some years past and was well known, not only in railroad circles but by the general public as well. Mr. Williams was in the cab of the C.P.R. train passing through Tweed each day. He has many relatives in this section of the province.

MRS JOSEPH GENDRON.

TWEED, June 8. — (Examiner Correspondence.)—Much sympathy is expressed on all sides in the death of Mrs. Joseph Gendron, which took place in Toronto Hospital, where she had been a patient for a short time. Mrs. Gendron underwent an operation which did not prove successful.

The funeral service, which was held on Wednesday afternoon at St. Paul's church at Arden, was largely attended and the service was preached by the rector, Rev. Mr. Cantrell, assisted by Rev. Mr. Bedding of Tamworth.

There was a profusion of beautiful floral tributes, evidencing the esteem in which the deceased was held. She leaves to mourn, her husband, three daughters, Mrs. Melvin Barr of Toronto, Mrs. Elic Fiame, of Toronto, and Mrs. Wm. Kimberley of Smith Falls; also four sons, Stanley and Erwin of the western provinces, Russell of Smith Falls and Stewart of Arden.

The pallbearers were C. M. Green, F. L. Wormworth, J. E. Newton, G. M Kirk, M. H. Gendron, H. J. Green

E. Hannah, Tamworth, was in charge of the funeral. Interment took place in Christ church cemetery at Tamworth.

JOHN R. EDWARDS.

LAKEFIELD, Juie 8 (Examiner Correspondence). — Succumbing to an illness of several years, John R. Edwards died at the age of 64 here last night. He was well known through a blacksmith business which he had conducted many years before illness forced his retirement.

The son of John Edwards, Sr., he was born in Lakefield and spent his entire life in the district. His mother predeceased him. Surviving, besides his father, are his wife, two sons, Hector and Percy, and two daughters, Mrs. Olive Emery and Elinor, all of Lakefield. Four brothers, Dan, James, and Sam of Peterborough, and Frank of Smith Township, and one sister in Port Hope also remain. John Edwards, Sr., is the only surviving member of the Lakefield Company which marched during the Fenian Raids of 1866.

The funeral service will be held at 2.30 o'clock on Saturday afternoon at the home on Nassau Street, proceeding to Hillside Cemetery. Rev. W. J. Creighton of St. John's Anglican Church will officiate.

18 TONS DYNAMITE TO SHATTER QUARRY

respondent recently in an exclusive interview are as follows:

The drilling of the long tunnel was started more than a year ago by experienced men from the district. The present face of the quarry runs in a general north and south direction. Starting at the face of the tunnel runs almost due east for a few yards then branches off this main line. On blueprints this resembles a telephone pole with three cross-arms. Along these at intervals are pockets, forty-one in all, divided almost equally on either side of the main passage. The average width is three and one-half feet, while the height runs about four and one-half. If each cross-cut was placed end to end with the main tunnel, it would extend for more than seven hundred and eight feet.

No "Thrown About."

Contrary to expectation the explosive is not thrown carelessly about the floor; but after an engineer has carefully looked the property over he knows exactly how much dynamite is needed and the most effective location to insure a good "shot." Getting this figured out is called determining the overhead burden. The engineer found this to range from thirty-one to seventy-three feet. From this he knew immediately that he would be required to move about seventy-five thousand tons of rock from overhead. This will require more than eighteen tons of dynamite and it will be placed in the forty-one pockets. The smallest will hold five boxes while the largest takes thirty-six.

The Havelock plant has won for itself an enviable reputation for successful tunnel shooting. Under the capable manager H. L. Scott, they have never yet had what is termed a "misspocket." Ten years ago, just previous to Mr. Scott's arrival at the plant, a thirty-ton shot was put off and a special train was chartered to carry crowds from Toronto and intermediate points to witness the spectacle.

Those who saw that shot will never forget the sight presented when a large section of the hill with trees and grass rose high in the air and settled again, that was "the grandest of them all." Since that time twenty-four tons were used in April, 1929; twenty-two tons in 1930; and twenty tons in April, 1931.

The method of wiring as explained to The Examiner was most interesting: Forty-two number eight electric detonators are doubly wired in two series. While there is only forty-one pockets, the extra cap is needed to balance the series. Number fourteen rubber-covered wiring is used. This is carried to the outside near the entrance of the tunnel, where it is connected with two parallel wires carrying 110 volts. The boxes of 50 per cent. forcite are placed close together and one board removed from the top of one box in each pocket. The harmless looking little detonator, about the size of the end of your finger, is placed in one stick in the box and the double wiring carried on to another pocket with rock screenings used for tamping purposes.

One Man On The Job.

When all is wired and spectators and workmen have all been removed to the limestone hill a quarter of a mile to the south-west of the quarry, there remains only one man only a hundred yards from the tunnel. He is the electrical engineer and has his switch under the mill, but away from the face of the quarry. He is given the signal to fire and trips the little switch that turns eighteen tons of dynamite to do its stuff with seventy-five thousand tons of extra hard limestone.

When the day has been set, it will be announced through these columns for the benefit of any reader who might care to take in the big event.

showing more appreciation of their obligations to their fellows and were combining together for the good of all.

The Bill simply provided farmers with facilities for organization to secure a fair return for their labor.

Industrial workers had long enjoyed that privilege and its exercise had worked great benefits. The Liberal party would deny to the farmers the right which labor enjoyed.

Extend Principle

It was well-established law said Mr. Bennett that a man might not bring a thing on his own land which worked injury to his neighbor. The time had come to extend that principle to economic life. It was not rightfor one man or group of men to ship an inferior product out of Canada into a foreign market and ruin the price for all his fellows.

Making a last minute stand against the measure Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Liberal leader, moved that it be referred back to committee for amendments. If suitable changes were made he would support it. The motion was lost and the Liberals voted against it.

The Senate yesterday heard a debate on aviation launched by Hon. J. A. McDonald (Shediac) who claimed Canada had the first airmen in the world and the poorest air services. He said the government should do something by way of subsidies and by establishing air mail services to encourage aviation.

TANNERS DEFEAT OUTLAWS 32 TO 18

Hastings League Teams Hook-up in Weird Softball Exhibition.

(Examiner Correspondence)

HASTINGS, June 8.—The Tanners continued their undefeated march to the first half championships in the Hastings Softball League on Wednesday night when they defeated the Outlaws 32 to 18 for their third straight win before a big crowd. The game was a wierd exhibition of softball, both teams being guilty of many costly errors. The same thing that has been happening far to often in league was quite prevalent again on Wednesday night, that is spectators rushing up to the umpire to argue decisions. These needless arguments only serve to hold up the game and nothing is ever gained.

Bonarlaw Society Elects Canon Swayne

BONARLAW, June 8 (Examiner Correspondence)—The Springbrook-Bonarlaw Bible Society meeting was held at Springbrook United Church on Tuesday. Rev. H. W. Foley acting as chairman.

An interesting talk was given by Wallace Wadland, representative of The British and Foreign Bible Society who explained the work and the difficulties the translators have to overcome in different countries in order to give the people a copy of the Bible in their own language. The Bible is now printed in 670 different languages and they are continuing to translate it into other languages at the rate of 12 each year. He advised the local organization not to despise the very small offering as even two cents will print some the leaflets issued containing portions of the Bible.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Canon W. G. Swayne, Bonarlaw; vice president, Rev. H. W. Foley, Springbrook; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. H. Mumby, Springbrook.

The following canvassers were appointed: Springbrook and 10th Line, Miss Laura Foley, Mrs. Reg McKeown and Miss Hazel Lough; Harold and vicinity, Mrs. C. Sine and Mrs. George Bailey; Tenth and Eleventh Cons., Mrs. Granville Meiklejohn and Mrs. Charles Burkitt; Twelfth Concession, Miss K. McComb and Miss R. Mumby; Bonarlaw and 13th and 14th, Mrs. W. J. Barlow and Miss Nellie Webb; Spry Settlement, Miss Dorothy Bennett and Miss Ruth Storms.

It was decided to hold a Bible Sunday in the near future when the work of the society can be brought before the various congregations.

Road Will Go On Despite Objections

TORONTO, June 8 — The road between Lakefield and Peterborough will go on despite the objections of Robert Cox, a property owner, who held up the work because of the price offered to him for his land taken by the Ontario Highways Department to form part of the highway, it was stated by a highways official yesterday.

Trade barriers are blamed, partly, for the present difficulties of Belgium's linen industry.

KENT TELLS THE WORLD.

Many Peterborough citizens are keenly interested in the county of Kent, in England, and they will appreciate the fact that their native county, through the medium of a special publication produced by the Association of the Men of Kent and Kentish Men, has put over a very effective piece of publicity.

This volume is entitled "Kent Tells the World," and it must be admitted that the name is thoroughly merited, for the publication, beautifully illustrated, contains a vast amount of information in regard to the beauties and industries of Kent.

Especially noteworthy is the suggestion that next summer should be made notable by a great homecoming to Kent, preferably in August, and that the climax of that return of the sons and daughters of Kent should be at Canterbury, the program to include cricket, ladies' day, old stagers, hop gardens and the cathedral.

There are nearly one hundred pages in "Kent Tells the World," and every page has something interesting.

To Canadians whose knowledge of England is but sketchy this description of England's garden country will be a revelation.

It is impossible to read the publication without being attracted to a district that contains so much of the beautiful and the interesting.

COMMUNIST DISTURBERS.

Something new in the line of heckling has developed during the present political campaign—notably in the Toronto area where organized attempts to prevent speakers from obtaining a hearing are almost nightly occurrences.

It is a nice question as to whether those who participate in such disturbances could not be charged with disorderly conduct, for certainly it does not seem fair to the vast majority in the audience who gather to hear what the speakers have to say that a little group of noisy disturbers should make oratory practically impossible.

A witty remark or a pointed question from a heckler adds spice to a political meeting, but there is a vast difference from that kind of thing and the systematic noise-producing demonstrations that have been staged at many political gatherings during this campaign.

Most of the trouble is caused by Communists, Reds who do not believe in constitutional methods and therefore feel that they are quite at liberty to cause all the trouble for political parties who are for settling issues by the ballot and not by the bullet.

Numerically they are not formidable, but they continue to create an amount of disturbance that is quite out of proportion to their numbers.

The strange thing about it all is that these are the very people who are always howling about free speech, and yet they attempt to deny to others what they are claiming for themselves.

THE ROTARY CARNIVAL.

Peterborough citizens are so well aware of the social service activities of the Peterborough Rotary Club, particularly of the fine work it has done in caring for crippled children, that it is certain that the annual carnival to be held on Wednesday and Thursday of next week will be magnificently supported.

Both by attendance at the carnival and by a liberal purchasing of the tickets on sale in connection with the annual event, the public can very materially assist the Rotary Club in continuing its program, for every cent of the proceeds are devoted to social service work.

It cannot be too strongly emphasized that the majority of handicapped children can be cured or greatly helped if the necessary treatment is provided in time, and it is here that the Rotary Club steps into the picture in cases where the parents are financially unable to provide the necessary surgical care and attention.

Scores of cases in the city and district have been successfully dealt with since the Rotary effort was launched, and it is the hope of the club that every child in this part of the province who can be helped by proper treatment may be given the chance to get a fresh start in life.

Remember your patronage at the carnival next week will help some little tot back to health and strength.

THE PUBLIC CAN HELP.

The appeal of Thomas Sargent, president of the Peterborough Humane Society, for a worth-while response on Saturday when the annual tag day in aid of the organization will be held should not fall on deaf ears.

All friends of dumb animals should esteem it a privilege to have a chance to help a movment that, as Mr. Sargent points out, "strives for justice and mercy for all creatures."

There is a very real need for such an organization in every community, and as there are no sources of funds except the generosity of the public the response on Saturday should be sufficiently generous to meet the expenses necessarily involved in the work of the Humane Society.

The public-spirited citizens who organized and carried on this work of caring for dumb animals are not interested in the effort because there is anything in it for themselves; they are giving of their time and their energy because they know that their organization has a real job to do, and that without the Humane Society there would be unnecessary suffering and pain for many of our animals.

They should have the support of the public in their praiseworthy mission.

GOVERNMENT LIQUIDATES GUARANTEES.

Gradually, Mr. Bennett is liquidating some of the guarantees to private interests that he has given during the course of the depression.

The $60,000,000 guarantee extended to the bank loan of the C.P.R. has been reduced to $48,000,000 by the sale of bonds to the Canadian public. It will be a happy day for both the taxpayers and the C.P.R. when this railway, Canada's largest private corporation, has entirely freed itself of entanglement with Government finance

The guarantee extended to the banks in connection with the Beauharnois Power Development has also been liquidated by the sale of bonds to the public.

The Government's responsibility in connection with the guarantee of bank loans to the wheat pools must be considerably larger than it was when first assumed, but one can take it for granted that John I. McFarland, general manager of the Central Selling Agency, is selling wheat as rapidly as he considers the export market will absorb it.

The use of public credit for private inteersts has not been as extensive in Canada during the depression as it has been in the United States, where various agencies have been set up to loan Government funds to railways, industries, construction projects, etc.

The Financial Post has criticized all of the three major guarantees referred to, feeling that they were not necessary and implied grave possibilities for harm to the country's financial position. As the economic condition of the country improves and the guarantees can be wiped out, the dangers will disappear. In each case Mr. Bennett's gamble—for he did take a chance in connection with them—will have turned out all right.

The guarantees to the four western provinces are in a different position. The prospect of their being paid off is not very strong at the moment.

The position is that the Dominion Government has assumed all the risk in connection with these advances, without assuming any of the control that should go with a loan. If it is politically difficult or impossible to enforce control of the finances of Provincial Governments to which loans are made, the alternative is the establishment of some form of joint loan council in which all the provinces and the Dominion would be represented.

Mr. Bennett seems to feel that the new central bank will perform this function satisfactorily. Unless he changes his mind, it is not likely that a loan council will be set up in the near future.—Financial Post.

A 2,750 TO 1 CHANCE.

The names of forty-six Canadians were drawn from the big drum at Dublin the other day, and the Irish sweep received another tremendous free advertisement in this country—as it did in all parts of the world. Thirty-seven of these lucky ticket-holders get each $2,070; the others have a chance at the big prizes.

Statistics have been compiled to show that something like 2,750 tickets are sold for every ticket which draws a prize. If this average held in the present case it follows that more than 125,000 chances on this drawing were held in Canada—a total which may not be far from the fact, but is surprising evidence of the extent of a business which is illegal, proscribed by the law, denied open access to the mails.

John J. McCarthy, writing on the Irish sweeps in Harper's Magazine and using as a basis last year's Derby, estimates that to raise prize money of almost three million pounds there must have been sold some 6,758,664 tickets, of which 2,404 were drawn for awards. "On a percentage basis, therefore," he has figured it out, "approximately only .00035 per cent. of the ticket-holders won, while 99.99965 per cent. lost." While 2,404 got prizes, 6,756,260 drew blanks.

The Journal fails to find any important moral distinction between two dollars put on a horse at Connaught Park and a ten-shilling gamble on a race in England at odds which may conceivably pay 60,000 to one. However, those who find ways to get around the Canadian law, spend their money on these tickets, should realize that for every winner there are some 2,750 losers. Counting unhatched chickens is a question of exact mathematics as compared to the spending of Irish sweep prizes before the drum has rolled.

The Harper's writer points out that in ten sweeps held between 1930 and January, 1934, funds of Irish hospitals realized £5,826,173—£18,824,206 was paid to winners throughout the world, "huge personal fortunes" were made by the two promoters, R. J. Duggan and Joseph McGrath, and "a neat share" of the proceeds went to the Free State treasury in taxes. On the last Derby fifty-three voluntary hospitals participated, and in addition a large number of county hospitals and other institutions throughout the country shared in the proceeds.

The Government, he makes it plain, exercises a very strict supervision over the whole enterprise, closely checks costs and receipts, and total operating costs average about 11 per cent. of the proceeds, which he thinks is "fairly reasonable." The lottery is conducted with the highest possible degree of fairness and no touch of scandal ever has been associated with it, so that the Canadian whose counterfoil is put in the big drum gets the same chance given every other ticket-holder.

So painstaking is the system employed that a separate index card is made out and filed for each ticket purchased, as the subscription reaches the Dublin offices—"and on a moment's notice," writes Mr. McCarthy, "the card record of any subscriber can be produced for inspection." The manner of drawing tickets from the drum has been described many times. It is protected absolutely against trickery.

Mr. McCarthy wonders about the future of these gigantic gambles, as others have done. "On no other single project in the entire history of Ireland," he declares, "have the several bitter rival classes who compose the Irish nation even been in complete accord as they are now on the soundness of the sweeps." They produce millions for the Irish hospitals, millions for the promoters, jobs for thousands of Irish citizens—and above all give the Free State a fascinating diversion which attracts tourists as well as immense sums of money.

At least the forty-six Canadians who drew horses on Monday will agree that it's a noble enterprise worthy of every encouragement. The losers may not be so sure.—Ottawa Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Snow in Northern Ontario followed the heat wave. Canadians have to be a tough lot of people to endure that kind of thing.

Mr. Hepburn's private fortune-teller says the Liberals are going to win 67 seats, while Mr. Henry says his Government will have 65. Now we'll hear from the C.C.F.

With over 200 candidates in the field, the provincial campaign should be capable of stirring up greater interest than has so far been evident.

There is some criticism over the fact that federal cabinet ministers have not taken part in the provincial campaign, and there would have been criticism if they had taken part. That is the way the political game is played.

THE LIQUOR ISSUE

To the Editor of The Examiner,

Dear Sir,—It seems to me with three candidates in the field for Legislative honors there is necessarily quite a great deal of confusion. To the hard boiled Tory, as the writer once was, Premier Henry and his spending, increase of liquor drinking etc. is just right even in hard times, as now, and much harder times on account of frost and drought just coming upon us. To the hard boiled Liberals the same may be said as to their attitude towards Hepburn and if we were to consider finance alone I must say I think Hepburn has a great deal the better of the argument, without need of exaggerating the results of waste in the financing of our resources.

But there is one great question of waste, the very greatest question of waste now going on in this province adopted and forced upon us by the Tories and which Hepburn has been weak enough and so lacking in information as to go against the majority of the voters in Ontario on the Liquor Question and join up with the Tories in catering to the Brewers. I know some people try to make us believe that the majority are in favor of this liquor curse, but surely nearly everyone knows Ontario gave a majority against Government Control as requested by plebiscite and by Ferguson, after which he decided to work it in as one of his party planks feeling certain the people would go against the re-electing of the Drury Government on account of Peter Smith's slip, coupled with his public mis-statement, with which he fooled the people. The great majority know now his cry of waste against Drury was not true, that Drury got back for Ontario over a million which he gave to his friend by trickery when he was Minister of Lands and Forests. Three Judges found him guilty and were called 2skunks for being true to their oath on the bench.

Now what has all this to do with Henry? Well did Henry not back him up? Of course he did. He says he did not knowingly state a falsehood. I say and can prove he is carrying out false statements and making them when he says the people want liquor and more liquor and yet the only organization he can name is the Brewer's. He knows the majority voted against liquor and now he says the people want it. How can he say such a thing and speak the truth? The evidence says it is a deliberate falsehood. Ferguson said he would not give us a chance to say again that we did not want it. Is that governing the people by the people? Is that democratic government or autocratic? He knows that Price made deliberate misstatements of facts, last election, against the temperance and public officials records. Henry accepted that by giving him his office of Attorney General. Those are the kind of men we are asked to approve of to govern us. It is our plain duty to send down a good man who will not do wrong to his constituents or to the people in general. One who realizes his responsibility in the making of just laws and the prevention of unjust laws.

I oppose the C.C.F. candidate because a vote for Sutherland means a vote for Lancaster. There is no possible chance of his election at this time and he must have a great deal self-conceit if he honestly thinks a party so little known in this constituency can win enough from both parties.

I wrote Mr. Sutherland some time ago pointing out to him how he is dividing the temperance vote. His answer did not convince me as to his sincerity in the cause of this important question. Surely a man does not need to make a false statement to bolster up his case. It looks bad for him personally. I refer to the statement that Mr. Hawthorne would have to support his leader on the temperance question. McQuibban, Simpson, Newman, Sinclair, Bragg and, I think, another went against their leader and have proven themselves to be real men. Hawthorne is with them. All temperance votes should be behind Hawthorne of Canadian Cities and Towns?

What's in The NAME

By FRANK H. WILLIAMS

MOOSE JAW, SASAKATCHEWAN

The origin of the name of "Moose Jaw" is bound up with tradition and no evidence is available to substantiate it. The popular supposition is that the present name is an English translation of the Cree word Monsochapiskanissipi, popularly believed to mean "the place where the white man mended the cart wheel with the jaw of the moose."

The city takes its name from Moose Jaw creek, which received its baptism prior to that of the city. Captain Palliser reached this creek September 16, 1857, where he found a Cree Indan encampment. The name Moose Jaw creek is first given official cognizance of the Palliser map lithographed by John Arrowsmith in 1859.

The "white man" referred to has been associated with Lord Dunmore and the Earl of Mulgrave. Local history is undecided as to which man deserves the honor of having inspired the choice of the name.

The first settlers reached the district in the spring of 1882, preceding the Canadian Pacific railway, which followed a few months later.

A Thought

DESIRES

Men are very seldom disappointed except when their desires are immoderate, or when they suffer their passions to overpower their reason, and dwell upon delightful scenes of future honors, power, or riches, till they mistake probabilities for certainties, or wild wishes for rational expectations. If such men, when they awake from these voluntary dreams, find the pleasing phantom vanish away, what can they blame but their own folly?

GERMANY

Capable, trustworthy, newspaper correspondents in times of international unrest

Karl von Weigand and suspicion are Intimate Contact Indispensable. Governmental action is often timed and directed the information gathered and the views expressed. To have a man of the type of Karl von Weigand in Germany at this stage of events is to all western nations re-assuring. No man can report German events without also also bringing all other great nations into the picture. German events are not wholly German. In some measure they are French, they are British, they are American, and they are Italian, and Russian. From the purely German standpoint German events cannot be unravelled. Weigand has made a first hand study of al lthe factors involved. He is one o fthe few great world newspaper correspondents.

From him the American government has received a digest of German political and economic social conditions. It is up to date information.

Hindenberg is ill. This and his great age and the weight of public service are the tokens his leadership as President of the nation is nearing the end. His place in the roll of great statesmen is assured. But what then? One thing is certain. Hitler will become both Presidednt and Chancellor. Will this double responsibility sober Hitler? Will he become less a dictator? To hold the masses of thinking Germans will he be willing that they re-assume their citizen part in the government? "Well, that remains to be seen" as Jim Hunter would say.

CALIFORNIA

Sinclair is an author. "The Way Out" was written in 1931. The book

Upton Sinclaire Begins Campaign

holds a series of letters to a young millionaire. The effort of the book is to convert the millionaire and to make him a socialist. With this and other conversions a social revolution would be born. For thirty years in other ways Upton iSnclair had labored to leaven the American people with socialistic ideals. Little progress came of the adventure. The time was not ripe. Like John the Baptist he was a forerunner. He came to herald. For thirty years he has been predicting. His words found a way into the nations. But the world seemed to be cold towards the socialistic program advocated. For thirty years he mused and dreamed.

Then came the depression. Like the dawning of a vision came the conviction that his opportunity was at the door. "The Way Out" was written .It was a best seller. It kindled like a match. It seemed to be the book for the occasion. The book is a plea. It ends thus:

'We ask you to use common sense, ordinary business judgment, and realize how preposterous and unthinkable it is to keep this vast business machine of ours in idleness any longer. We propose that you surrender your privileges as a profit-maker, and accept in return your rights as a citizen of industry. Is it altogether a Uptonian dream, that once in history a ruling class might be willing to make the great surrender and permit social change to come about without hatred, turmoil, and waste of human life?"

Socialism will be an issue in the next United States election.

IRELAND

Books that grow out of the native soil command attention. Some of Victor Hugo's books

What Irish Youth Is Reading, Thinking

smack of exile. Some of his books grew out of Italian environment as they were being written. These made instant appeal to the peasants and the intelligentia. Mother Mason and the Rim of The West, by Bessie Streeter Aldrich of Nebraska have for their setting the pioneer experiences of the settlers who travelled in prairie schooners from the East to the middle west. This pioneer experience was distinctive. Hardships, making much out of the little, plain fare, the struggle for existence, the pain of patient waiting for favorable returns from hard work, the joy of adventure, flavor both of these books. Ralph Conner's books are true transcripts of the scenery, and the life of men, when Canada was in the making. The aroma of pine forests, the scent of wild flowers, the sound of the woodsman's axe, the song of birds, appeal to the sensitive reader. Such books anchor the people to the soil, and make patriots of them.

Two writers of considerable note are being read by the Irish folk. Their books are warm with Irish life, and are picturesque with Irish village customs and ways. Too many promising Irish literary writers deserted their native land for either the continent, or for America. One of them was John M. Synge. At an early age Synge emigrated. He cut himself loose from everything. He became Parisian. In vain he searched for expression for his artistic energy in a foreign environment. Yeats advised him to return to his native soil. The advice given and received was his making. [More again].

Labor unions of Britain have lost over 1,000,0000 members in the last nine years.

The Next Leader

OTTAWA, June 7 (C.P.). — Some difference of opinion as to who would be next Prime Minister of Ontario arose in the House Committee on Railways and Shipping to-day. "Some members of the committee have been invited to attend a luncheon to the next Prime Minister of Ontario," said Wilfred Hanbury (Lib., Vancouver-Burrard), when the clock pointed to 12.45. "I wish the chairman would take that into consideration when adjourning."

"I didn't know George Henry was in town," said General J. S. Stewart (Cons., Lethbridge). "He's the only person I know who could be described as the next Prime Minister of Ontario."

Liberal members of the House were invited to attend a luncheon for Mitchell Hepburn, Ontario Liberal Leader.

ON THIS DATE

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

WHEN TORIES AIDED MACKENZIE

On this date, in 1826 a band of young Tories at York, either government clerks or sons of government officials, visited the printing office of William Lyon Mackenzie, scattered the type to the air, wrecked the establishment and threw the press into the bay. The raiders were led by Samuel Peters Jarvis, son of one of the original Loyalists, and they made no secret of their intention to be avenged upon the editor for his attacks upon the Family Compact in the columns of the Colonial Advocate.

Althought Mackenzie laid complaint against the aggressors no attempt was made by the authorities to arrest them and Mackenzie took civil action against them for damages. The editor sued for £1,500 damages; the attorney for the raiders offered a money settlement to the amount of the actual damage done but refused to apologize and Mackenzie insisted upon a trial.

He had better success than he had hoped. The jury awarded him the sum of £625, far below what Mackenzie had asked but in reality far above what he had expected. The actual value of the destroyed place was probably not a quarter of the sum awarded, and it was loaded with debt. So that Mackenzie made a substantial profit on the transaction. Indeed he is on record as having said that £625 was "sufficient to re-establish on a permanent footing the Advocate press because it enabled me to perform my engagements without disposing of my real property." He is also reported to have said that his actual money loss was $45 and that he had cleared $2,450 by the transaction, in addition to the political benefits which accrued.

The sum of the damages and the legal costs of the defendants, as well as those of Mackenzie were paid by a subscription among the parents and relatives of the raiders who thought that the price was cheap to wipe out the series of desperate personal attacks which the Colonial Advocate had been making upon the Chief Justice, Dr. Strachan and his wife and other social leaders. But all the same the affair was a boomerang. It paid the editor's debts, gave him fresh capital and added immensely to his political reputation as a militant fighter for "the rights of the people."

ALL OF US

JUST A TELEPHONE CALL

The telephone rang.

But I didn't answer it.

I was busy, and I didn't want to be disturbed....It was a buzzing fly, a whining mosquito, an itch, a torment, an interruption, a bore, a device of the devil, a challenge.... Let it ring! Why SHOULD I answer that telephone? Was there any law Could I be fined, put in jail, damned and disgraced because I didn't answer it?....Certainly not. ....My grandfather didn't have to answer any telephones. There weren't any in his house, so he was free of that sort of thing....Then why couldn't I be as free, even in an age of telephone calls, when anybody ten miles away could go to the phone and give a number and interrupt me at my work or drag me breathlessly from the garden to obey its clamorous call? Why couldn't I?....Well, why not?.... Then, very well, I'd not answer it... I'd let it ring.

Was I grouchy? No....Did I have any grudge against it? Not a shred of a grudge....No, I was merely doing something else and didn't want to be interrupted.... Was my train of thought so precious that I couldn't let it be broken for a minute? Well, hardly. But at the moment I didn't feel like answering the telephone. So, why should I?....If I weren't here, it would ring and nobody would answer it. So why not act as if I weren't here at all and let it jingle and jangle?....I would....and I did.

But it might have been important.....Yes, it might have been.... But most of the telephone calls you receive aren't "important." They are pleasant, convenient, socially valuable, and you'd rather have a telephone than not have one, but the chances were at least one hundred to one that this telephone would not be important, either.... So I didn't answer it.

And NOW am I satisfied? Did my little rebellion leave me at peace. ....No! A Big NO!....The Devil of Curiosity is now at work....Who was on the other end of that telephone call? What did he want? What news did he have? What have I missed? That might have been the most important telephone call I ever received, and I rudely rejected it....Will he call again? Will I ever be sorry?....Am I now ridden by itching curiosity? Do I wish I'd answered that telephone bell?....I do. I confess I do .... Is it all very silly? Yes, it is.

GOLDS FEATURE MINING TRADE

All Stocks of Yellow Metal Group Move Upward Under Heavy Volume.

BRIGHT LONDON NEWS.

TORONTO, June 8.—(C.P.)—Gold held the mining market spotlight in to-day's Toronto exchange session, all stocks of the yellow group moving forward under a heavy volume of buying. The more cheerful tone of the London share and metal market together with the report that a higher price for gold was proposed at Washington, stimulated the buying wave. Advances up to nearly a dollar were registered. Base metal shares were steady and silvers slightly off color.

Buying was heavy in Hollinger, McIntyre, Wright Hargreaves, Teck Hughes and Bralorne and these issues recorded advances up to 60 cents. Hollinger climbed to $18, McIntyre to 49.25, Bralorne to 14.25, and Dome to 42.25. Gains of about 10 cents each were registered for Teck Hughes, Wright Hargreaves and Pioneer.

Noranda moved up with the gold group, hitting $45 and closing at 44.85 for a net gain of 35 cents.

GOOD ADVANCES IN INDUSTRIALS

Oils, Metal and Distilleries Leaders in Upward Move at Toronto.

FOLLOW WALL STREET.

TORONTO, June 8 (C.P.).—Industrial shares trailed the New York board to higher levels to-day, gains appearing in substantial proportions at the close. Oil, metal and distillery stocks were the leaders in the advance, Nickel and Walkers Common being taken in heavy volume. Nickel closed at 26.10, up 50 cents, and Walkers advanced about 2 points. Gains up to a point appeared in the oils.

Walkers Common closed at 38¾ and 1⅞, while Distillers Seagrame, also a heavy trader, gained ¾ to 16¾. Industrial Alcohol ¾ to 11⅞, and Brewers and Distillers 10 to 1.45.

In the early trading ickel sagged to 25.35, but it firmed smartly in the afternoon to close well above $26. Brazilian added ½. Ford A more than a point and C.P.R. ⅝. Smelters gained ½ to 154.

Rylstone

On Wednesday evening, May 30, the Rylstone Community League held a sociable evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Heath. The first part of the evening was spent in softball and football. Rest of the evening was spent in singing, contests and games. Lunch was served.

Mrs. Matilda Finch spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. William Finch.

Mrs. Frank Sheppard, Marie and Munro, of Peterborough, visited her father, Mr. James Francis Finch, and family, over the week-end.

With the sudden death of Harry McKeown yesterday morning, the Lawn Bowling Club lost one of its most faithful and loyal supporters. Although Harry had only been bowling for three years, he had learned to play the game just for the fun that was in it. He was a real sport, a good bowler and a perfect gentleman.

The officers and every member of the club extend their sympathies to the members of the bereaved family.

Out of respect and in memory of Harry McKeown, the flag at the club-house will remain at half-mast until after the funeral.

To-night will be the second Friday night tournament of the season, and once more we have been asked to appeal to the boys to be out on time—it is not the easiest job in town to get these rinks lined up and away in good time—just give the men in charge an even break and you will be surprised how everything will work out — remember, 7.30 p.m. in the hour.

KIWANIS HEARS R. T. HICKS-LYNE

History of Banking in Canada is Outlined by Manager of Dominion Bank.

BANKS IN BABYLON.

The history and function of banking in Canada as compared with banking systems of other countries throughout the world, formed the subject of an address, delivered to the Kiwanis Club at Empress Hotel to-day by R. T. E. Hicks-Lyne, manager of the local branch of the Dominion Bank.

Touching upon some of the salient features of banking history, Mr. Hicks-Lyne traced the inception of banking back over 3,000 years to Babylon. The Venetians in 1584, he said, had a system of banking more for the funding of State debts. The system later entered into a phase similar to that known to-day.

In the sixteenth century Mr. Hicks-Lyne stated, English goldsmiths were repositories for valuables, and banking had largely evolved from that system. "Banking nowadays", the speaker believed, "is nothing more or less than a glorified system of bookkeeping." Cash transactions, he said, were almost negligible.

Banking in Canada, Mr. Hicks-Lyne remarked, had grown up with the country and had been the backbone of farming and commerce. He spoke of the Bank Act of 1871, under which banks in Canada are chartered for 10-year periods.

President A. B Gates presided over the meeting, extending to the guest speaker and to Miss Helen Ludbrooke, guest artist, the vote of thanks very ably moved by J. W. Pierce and seconded by A. R. Piper.

L. J Pettit outlined the plans for "All Kiwanis" night which is to be held by the local club at Wallace's Point next Monday and which will take the place of the regular Friday meeting next week. Entertainment is to e provided by Miss Ludbrooke and her Hawaian instrumentalists.

The largest percentage increases in Canadian canned fruit and vegetables last year occurred in the following products: cherries, 802; spaghetti, 681; evaporated apples, 587; asparagus, 218.4; peaches, 165; pickles, 97; pears, 35.6; tomatoes and tomato products, 30; and corn, 28.9 per cent.

Canadian Sealright Company Is Supplying Milk Bottle Caps To Four Chinese Dairies

From faraway Hong Kong, the local plant of the Canadian Sealright Company recently received four orders from Chinese dairies for milk bottle caps, to be printed in English and Chinese characters.

The orders are the first to have been received by the company from the Orient, but the Hong Kong agent through whom the orders were received, expresses the opinion that a certain volume of Chinese business can be developed in this line.

Samuel Whitehouse, manager of the Canadian Sealright, intimates that he got in touch with the Hong Kong agent two months ago with a view of securing milk bottle cap business, and as a result the four orders were received by the firm last week. One of the customers requested a picture of a fat baby on the cap.

OPTIMISTIC MOOD IS KEYNOTE OF MANUFACTURERS' CONCLAVE

Members Find Encouragemnt in Improvement of Economic Conditions.

LARGE REPRESENTATION.

MONTREAL, June 8 (C.P.)—In an optimistic mood inspired by the forward march of business activity, members of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association met here yesterday for their 63rd annual convention.

Industrialists from all parts of the Dominion were here to review the progress of the past year and to consider a program of action for the next 12 months.

As registration opened, a prediction was made that 500 members would attend the two-day sessions.

Questions of governmental control and supervision of business, matters of tariff, transportation and industrial relations were among subjects to be discussed.

A well-filled program will be completed to-night by an address from Premier R. B. Bennett at the annual dinner. Premier L. L. A. Taschereau, of Quebec, will be heard at to-day's luncheon.

The manifold activities of the executive officers were dedmonstrated by their report, one of the first matters to be dealt with yesterday. Prominent in the dooument was the declaration that members found encouragement in the evidence of improving economic conditions given by statistics of the past months.

Major L. L. Anthes, retiring president presented his review at luncheon yesterday. Major Anthes recently completed visits to different parts of the Dominion to feel the pulse of Canada's industrial life. Mayor Camillie Houde welcomed the delegates on behalf of the city of Montreal.

The stimulation given empire trade by the Ottawa agreements will be described at an informal dinner to-night by a number of speakers especially equipped to deal with the subject. Sir William Clark, High Commissioner for the United Kingdom, is chief speaker and several trade commissioners will discuss particular phases of the matter.

Installation of James H. Webb, Montreal, as president for the coming year, takes place to-night before the annual dinner. To-day's program includes addresses by specialists on various problems affecting industry.

In the executive committee's report attention was drawn to the recommendation of the industrial relations committee against the institution in Canada of legislation similar to the NRA in the United States.

"As regards collective bargaining," said the report, "the committee took the view after careful consideration, that it would not be wise for this country to follow the example set in thee United States under the National Recovery Act, one of the principal features of which is, of course, the principle of collective bargaining.

The report notes the committee has approved legislative amendments fixing maximum hours and minimum wages and providing that where men or boys are employed in substitution for women they must be paid the minimum rates fixed for women.

The view of the committee in an allied subject was that the association should adhere to a long standing policy of opposing general minimum wages for men.

"As regards Old Age Pensions," the reported stated in a further consideration of industrial relations, "the committee has to report that it has continued to urge upon the competent authorities that the present non-contributing 'deserving poor' type of act is unsound and that the sound type of Old Age Pensions is that under which everyone is eligible for pension, but everyone must contribute. It is satisfactory to be able to add that there is reason to believe that this view, which has been urged by the association from the beginning, is being given serious consideration by the competent authorities."

BUSINESS AN RELIGION

A negro was telling his minister that he had "got religion."

"Dat's fine brothah; but is you sure you is going to lay aside sin?" asked the minister.

"Yessuh, ah's done it already."

"An' is you gwine to support de church and help de widows an' orphans?"

"Ready right now."

"An' is you gwine to pay up all yoh debts?"

"Wat a minute pahson! Yoh ain't talking religion now—yoh is talkin' bizness!"

Judgment Is Given In Paquette Action

Dismissal of an action brought by J. Raymond Paquette to set aside two judgments gained a year ago against James B. Brown of this city by his daughters, Lily Brown and Alice Brown, has been announced by Mr. Justice J. A. McEvoy in Toronto. The action was tried at the sitting of the Supreme Court here in May.

As a result of the decision, execution of a judgment in favor of Elizabeth Brown for $5,200 and a judgment for $929.89 awarded to Lily Brown will stand. As the case was tried the plaintiff, Mr. Paquette claimed that he also was holder of a judgment against James Brown for $2,565 and evidence was submitted to the effect that the Royal Bank held a further judgment for $1,676.25 against Mr. Brown. The case centered on the question of the legality of the standing of the two daughters as creditors.

A. L. Elliott acted for the plaintiff and B. D. Hall for the two defendants.

NORTH HASTINGS CONSTITUENCY REGRETS COOKE LEAVING OFFICE

Retirement of Minister is Declared Loss to the Province.

SERVED PEOPLE WELL

TORONTO, June 8.—After twenty-three years' constinuously representing North Hastings in the Legislature, Hon. J. R. Cooke has decided to retire. His retirement is a matter of deep regret to all classes in his constituency and to the province at large.

To few men in public life has been accorded by citizens of all shades of opinion such genuine confidence as that for so long enjoyed by the retiring member for North Hastings. "Bob" Cooke's career was by no means spectacular, although it began amid humble surroundings.

Born of Irish parents in 1866, he inherited from his father, the late James Cooke, who served with distinction his township and county, as councillor and reeve for several years, a love of British institutions, a keen mind and a vigorous physique which with an ardent desire to serve his fellowmen, were the chief assets with which he began his notable career, says the Campbellford Herald.

Started at Bottom

Like most successful men, "Bob" started at the bottom, and step by step, won his way until he reached the eminent position he now holds. His success did not begin with his entrance to the Provincial Parliament. The foundation of his career was well and truly laid in the Township Council where he served as councillor and reeve for ten years. At the conclusion of his county career in 1909 he was given an acclamation for a seat in the Legislature, a most remarkable testimony to his ability and sterling worth of character, and an honor which seldom, if ever has been accorded a candidate presenting himself for election to Parliament for the first time. Since that time he has had several acclamations, and in each contest he was eminently successful.

In retiring as representative of his constituency, Hon. Mr. Cooke is honored by Liberals and Conservatives alike. His sense of fairness and the service he rendered in securing roads and opening up the north country, is reflected in his reception at the polls. The people appreciated the fact that his first care was his own constituency.

Disciple of Beck

Hon. Mr. Cooke's interest in Hydro dates from his first appearance in Parliament. His close association with Sir Adam Beck as personal friend and disciple, enabled him to watch its development, master its details and participate in the dreams of the enormous possibilities of this great enterprise. During the Drury regime he served efficiently on a commission of inquiry, and when the responsibility of the office of commissioner, and later as chairman of the Board, he was eminently fitted for the task.

Mr. Cooke gained his education in the school of experience. He was denied the opportunity of attending high school but his resourcefulness overcame this handleap, and not only has he proven his executive ability but has always been recognized as one of the most convincing speakers in the House, in which he sat so long.

Few men, on retiring from active political life, after so many years of service, enjoy the confidence of the people as does Mr. Cooke. Whatever the future has in store for him, he has the goodwill and good wishes of all.

The engagement is announced of Miss Frances (Pat) Wootten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Wootten, Peterborough, to Dr. W. S. Millman, of Oshawa.

Dairy Notes

CAMPBELLFORD, June 8 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent) — We are glad again to have a local cheese buyer in the person of A. J. Meyers, who two weeks ago took all the Campbellford cheese at the top board price, and last week was again in the running, but the quantity in the Campbellford storage was not quite sufficient to comply with the Belleville board ruling on the one making first selection.

The quantity of cheese passing through the Campbellford grading station thus far is scarcely 50 per cent of last year, but a few factories as yet have shipped no cheese, and although a few factories made more May cheese than last year, yet in the majority of cases the make it down.

Smaller make of cheese is apparently having a reaction on the price, which last week advanced to 10 5-16 cents per lb.

Mr. Meyers, formerly of Indian River, and later of Picton, has taken over Brickley factory, and we understand, is opening up shortly.

The executive of the Campbellford Cheese Factory Patrons' met on Tuesday evening to discuss some matters of interest. All appeared well pleased with the way the sale of cheese at Belleville is progressing.

LOAN OVER-SUBSCRIBED.

CANBERRA, Australia, June 7 (C.P. Cable via Reuters). — The lists for the Commonwealth loan of $60,000,000 at 3¾ per cent. issued at 98½, closed, heavily over-subscribed, shortly after the opening to-day.

THE MARKETS

ONTARIO GRAIN.

Approximate prices track shipping point—Wheat, 98c to $1; oats, 40c to 45c; barley, 48c to 50c; corn, 65c to 70c; rye, 48c to 50c; buckwheat, 58c to 60c.

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

Prices generally held steady on the Montreal Produce and Dairy Markets yesterday.

Fresh No. 1 butter was mostly quoted 22c to 22¼c a pound in carlots or less. Receipts were 9 boxes. Small lots to the retail trade were quoted by jobbers at 23c for solids and 24c for prints.

The cheese market was unchanged. Ontario colored selling for 10¼c to 10½c a pound. Arrivals totalled 350 boxes.

Eggs were steady, prices for graded shipments in carlots being 21c a dozen for A-large, 20c for A-medium, 19c to 19½c for B and 18c for C.

Potatoes remained at their former levels, Quebec Whites and N.B. Mountains being 75c to 85c per 80-pound bag, while Prince Edward Island Mountains were 95c to $1 per 90-pound bag.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Tumbles of nearly three cents a bushel maximum in wheat prices yesterday accompanied practical ending of drought in the Dakotas, Minnesota and Montana.

March of the selling witnessed in the wheat market was against enlarged speculative buying of corn. The corn buying was based a good deal on expectance of increased demand for corn because of shortage of other feed grains, and as a result of apparent likelihood the United States Government would make big purchases of corn for drought relief.

Wheat closed nervous, 1⅛c to 1¼c under Wednesday's finish; corn, ⅝c to 1c advanced; oats, ⅝c to ⅞c down, and provisions unchanged to 5c up.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, June 8. — Downturns at Chicago injected easiness on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange yesterday as rains fell in the Northwestern United States and parts of Alberta and Saskatchewan. Only slightly above bottom levels, wheat futures ended the day with losses of ¾c.

Lack of aggressive export inquiry and the forecast of heavy export shipmenst from Argentina for the week was a further weakening factor. July wheat closed at 76⅝c, with October at 78¾c.

After two days of rather violent fluctuations, the market presented a quiet appearance. Export sales were made to both Continental and United Kingdom interests, but the amount was small.

Operations were very mixed in character, with the most noteworthy offering coming from Chicago sources in the early trading.

Cash grains spreads were about unchanged, while coarse grains fell away in line with the action of wheat.

LINER REPORTED AFIRE.

HONOLULU, June 7 (C.P.). — The liner President Lincoln reported to-day a fire in her main hold and asked the coastguard to stand by in case help was needed. A later wireless message said the fire was temporarily under control.

The coastguard cutter Itasca broadcast an order for her crew to report immediately.

The second message from the President Lincoln instructed the Itasca not to come unless later requested.

JUNE 18 IS SET STARTING DATE FOR OCEAN TRIP

John Smith Has Had Offer of Company on Long Voyage Across Atlantic.

REGULAR TYPE CANOE

Vikings Used to Sail in Ships Not Much Higher Out of Water.

An offer of company of his lonely canoe trip across the Atlantic Ocean has been received by John Smith, the youthful Benson avenue sailor who announed last week his intention of paddling from Peterborough, Ontario, to Peterborough, England. The offer, believed to have been made by a local man, has been declined.

"All sorts of people have been asking me about the trip," Smith said to-day. "I don't know who the fellow was who asked if he could paddle over with me but I told him it would be out of the question. By the time I get the canoe loaded up there sure won't be any room for another person. I think he was some local fellow."

Smith reported that he has been the target for dozens of inquiries from curious persons approaching him both by mail and personally. People are asking him questions about his projected venture which he can not answer, he states. "They are asking me what I will do if so and so a thing happens and the fact is I won't know myself until the circumstance actually arrives."

Getting Canoe To-day

Monday, June 18, is the day definitely chosen for his departure, Smith announced. He intends to set out on his way down the Otonabee to Lake Ontario, rain or shine. He is making arrangements for his canoe to-day, he stated, declining to reveal the make of the craft he will use or where he is securing it. The canoe will be a regular modern —not the sponson type with the air chambers along the sides. The sponson canoe is too heavy and too difficult to paddle, he explained.

He is going to leave his purchases of food until he gets to St. John's, Newfoundland, in order that he may travel light down the St. Lawrence and out the gulf on the first leg of the trip. In St. John's he will also get the sextant and watch with which he will plot his position once he gets out on the Atlantic.

Sure Be Dirty Weather

"I'm not going to waste any time around St. John's waiting for good weather because I am bound to run into some dirty weather sometime during my three months at sea. I'll just shove off and keep going as straight as I can for Ireland."

As the date for his departure approaches his confidence is growing rather than diminishing. He points out that the Vikings used to sail over to America in ships that were not much higher off the water than a canoe.

Auxiliary Holds Successful Picnic

BETHANY, June 8 (Examiner Correspondence) — The Women's Auxiliary of St. Paul's Church held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Burke, Burke's Camp, Manvers Station. There was a splendid attendance and the meeting took the form of a picnic, with Rev. Mr. Holden conducting the exercises.

Plans were gone into for the annual garden party to be held on the church lawn on June 22nd. Messages were read from sick members who had been remembered with a gift of fruit.

The following were present: Miss Nesbitt, Mrs. Morton, Mrs. Vance, Mrs. O. H. McGill, Mrs. Holden, Miss E. Preston, Mrs. Calvin Reynolds, Mrs. T. Eakins, Mrs. Foster, Mrs. Hopwood, Misses Hannah, Marjorie Bailey of Toronto, Theresa Holden, Iolene Holden, Miss St. Clair of Toronto, Rev. Mr. Holden, Mrs. R. Morton, W. Fallis, Mrs. Burke, Mae McGill, Mae Burke and J. Yelland.

SMUGGLING OF SMALL ARMS

seize and confiscate half an ounce of tobacco, if there is that much over-allowance in your pouch.

Cater to Rioters.

I went into a gun shop in the Etoile quarter this morning by way of a try-out as to what a prospective young revolutionary can get here for his money.

"Have you a good heavy-bore rifle for me?" I asked.

"Chassepot?" inquired the salesman.

"The mark doesn't matter," I said. "I want something that will shoot."

The salesman winked. "Going hunting, I suppose?" he said.

"Maybe," I said.

"Just come downstairs," he replied. "Our range is in the basement. How about a nice repeating gun—short you know—that you can hide it under your coat?"

"A riot gun?"

"Precisely!"

"Here is one," he said when he had come in the cellar and showed me an American police model. "Five hundred shots a minute!"

"How much is it?"

"Three thousand francs!" ($200).

"Suppose I take a dozen?"

"In that case I can make you a substantial reduction," he beamed.

"Suppose I should want to get a machine-gun?"

"Nothing is easier, a Hotchkiss or a Lewis?"

Royalists Arming.

He didn't show me the machine-gun. He hadn't any in stock that day. I am to pass in a few days' time. Maybe!

Who is buying and importing the guns?

"The Communists," say the Royalists.

"The Royalists," affirm the Communists.

The Communists flatly deny they are stocking up arms. The Royalists frankly admit it.

I saw a truckload of rifles being unloaded in the Montrouge quarter by civilians, but could not tell, of course, whether the men were Royalists or Communists, questions might have been indiscreet.

Considerable arms smuggling is going on along the Spanish border. The solitary mountain-trails, known to only a few natives of the Pyrenees, offer a propitious route for the contrabandiers. Curiously enough, just as many arms are smuggled out of Spain as into Spain. Spain has for long been a profitable market for arms smugglers. The traffic goes on night and day. The only time one hears about it is when rival gangs or hi-jackers chisel in on the regular. Then the brethren try the efficacy of the stuff they smuggle on each other. There is a good deal of white-slave smuggling going between France and Spain in the bargain. The same boys do the business. The mountaineers, too, are having a taste of prosperity.

Huge White Slave Traffic.

"How much does the traffic in women amount to?" I asked a member of the morality police.

"We figure about six or seven thousand women and girls a year," he said.

"All go to Spain?"

"Spain is merely a distribution point for the South American republics."

"And Marseilles?"

"Marseilles is the distributing pont for the Near and Far East, Egypt, Tonkin, China, Syria, etc.," he said.

The same official of the security police, who just served six months in the border force, told me of some incidents in connection with gun-smuggling into Spain. One man was commissioned to buy 10,000 duros worth of arms in France on behalf of a political group in the Spanish Basque province. He bought for only 6,000 duros worth in Paris and shipped the lot to a place not far from the frontier, but still in France. Then he crossed the Pyrenees himself, taking with him but two samples. He saw the leaders of two political factions. The leaders of these factions could not agree on the division of the stock. Each wanted the whole lot. So the merchant declared nobly that he would not sell until they had reached an agreement among themselves. Of course, they ran after him. He saw them separately. To the one group he sold for 10,000 duros the secret of the location of the stock in France and to the other he said that their rivals had seized the stock. This led the second group to denounce the first to the Spanish police. The leaders of the second group were arrested. But the merchant still had his guns, which he sold two months later to another band, this time Catalonians, for 15,000 duros. A fine profit!

Men Work Overtime.

What are the governments doing to suppress the illicit traffic in arms? Couldn't they simply close the factories? They could, but to close a factory means depriving workmen of their jobs and increasing the number of unemployed. Moreover, no government in Europe seems to worry a great deal about the production of small arms these days so long as the dangerous products are shipped across the frontiers.

In other words when a revolution shakes the cities of Spain and the streets of Barcelona, Sevilla or Badrid flow red with blood, it means that the workers of arms factories in France have plenty of work, work overtime, in fact. Tragic? Tragic and criminal, too, I should think.

CANADIAN NATIONAL CANADIAN PACIFIC

SUSTAINED PROGRESS MADE IN DOMINION IN PAST YEAR

New Canadian Spirit Abroad Manufacturers Told at Montreal Convention.

WONDERFUL UPTURN.

MONTREAL, June 8 (C.P.)—Canada's depression bottom was reached last year and sustained progress has been shown ever since in the realms of industry and commerce, delegates to the 63rd annual meeting of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association from all parts of Canada were told here yesterday in the opening speech of the convention by Major L. L. Anthes, of Toronto, the retiring president.

A new Canadian spirit was abroad, he said, and this also would be sustained just so long as the people of the Dominion realized their prosperity was in direct ratio to that of the farmer.

In welcoming the delegates who came from as far west as Vancouver and as far east at Charlottetown, Major Anthes expressed gratification that during his term of office there had been a "wonderful business upturn not only from month to month but a sustained progress all over the country."

After a period of depression, he added, it was usual for the so-called consumer lines to profit. In the past year this had been proven true and many of these lines were doing better than in the peak year of 1929.

Progress was also noted in construction but not to the same extent as in other lines.

Unanimous approval to the report of the executive committee was given. As a preamble the report noted the committee had been excessively busy during 1933 as members request more assistance in bad times than in good ones.

Accomplishments of the subcommittees on tariff, transportation, legislation, insurance, education, commercial intelligence and industrial relations were reviewed. A highlight of the report of industrial relations committee was the stand it took in regard to the principle of collective bargaining. The committee took the view it would not be wise for this country to follow the example set in the United States under the NRA. Hence, the report stated, the Quebec division was believed right in opposing an d securing important amendments in the so-called agreements extension act introduced in that province.

The committee recommended to the railways that a more complete co-ordination of their various facilities, with addition of motor truck services where necessary so as to give a complete, fast and reliable service at reasonable rates is desirable in their own interests as well as those of shippers.

Summary of the reports of the Ontario division of the association read in part as follows:

Consideration was given to matters arising out of the administration of the corporations tax act and recommendations made the present method of allocating capital employed elsewhere than in Ontario should not be revised. The division reported no new taxation measures were introduced in the Ontario Legislature during the past session.

GASOLINE YOU CAN TRUST

EVERY TANK LEADING TO A SHELL PUMP IS Sealed—

You Know What You Are Getting!

EVERY DAY unsuspecting motorists are paying good money for low-grade gasoline masquerading as a leading brand. But not at Shell pumps! When you ask for Shell, you get Shell —whether you fill up at a big city station or country garage.

Shell Gasoline can't be "cut" with low-grade gasoline. Shell pumps can dispense only Shell Gasoline because of the Shell seal. After every filling of the underground tank leading to a Shell pump, that underground tank is sealed tamper-proof by the Shell truck salesman who makes the delivery. The Shell seal protects the good name of the dealer as well as the motorist.

Stop your doubts about the gasoline you buy. Switch to gasoline you can trust—Sealed Shell. That's the way to be sure you get the gasoline which embodies over 40 years' experience in refining, which combines the results obtained in 40 refineries throughout the world. You'll appreciate the safety of Sealed Shell Motor Oil, too. It is sold only in special Shell bottles which are delivered to dealers and service stations filled and sealed. Buy from the Shell pump with the guarantee.

LAWN CONTEST CLOSES JUNE 16

Competition Includes Gardens, Floral Displays, Factory Grounds.

EIGHT CLASSES

Having taken out a membership in the Peterborough Horticutlural Society for 1934 and laid out your grounds with all the best that nurserymen can supply you with, or you may have raised your plants from seed trying out the many new novelties that the world's seedsmen have to offer, we now urge you to enter your lawns and gardens in the annual competitions instituted for the purpose of stimulating that desire to make a beautiful display of your frontage, whereby visitors to the locality go away with the pleasing impression that Peterborough is indeed a "City Beautiful."

Competition can also mean co-operation, in the way that members of the society desire to draw out the need of all citizens to exert pride in letting our neighbors view the efforts of the organization in the improved appearance of frontages, either of homes or factories, by planting of shrubs, vines, flowers, in pleasing combinations, even can be improved by thoughtful arrangement demonstrating full use the more humble vegetable garden of ground and quality of foodstuffs grown.

Competition is open to all members of the society in city and district, private homes, institutions, schools, factories, etc.

In the case of factories, institutions, schools, the chief executive's membership entitles entrance.

No property may be entered in more than one class.

Class A—For best lawn and garden, surrounding the home where professional help is employed: 1st, $3.00; 2nd, $2.00; 3rd, 1935 membership.

B—For best amateur lawn and garden and floral display, frontage over 40 feet. No professional help employed: 1st, Mrs. Bell's cup, to be held one year; 2nd, $2.00; 3rd, 1935 membership.

Class C—For best amateur lawn, garden and folral display, frontage 40 feet and under; no professional help employed: 1st, Peterborough Horticultural Society's cup, to be held one year; 2nd, $2.00; 3rd, 1935 membership.

Class D—For best workingman's vegetable and flower garden: 1st, $3.00; 2nd, $2.00; 3rd, 1935 membership.

Class E—For best floral display at service stations.

Class F—For best kept factory or similar grounds with a limited area.

Class G—For best kept factory or similar grounds, with considerable area.

Class H— For best kept public grounds, including those of all public institutions, churches, schools.

Two certificates of merit will be awarded in each of the classes E, F, G, H.

Entries to be made with the secretary, Mr. G. P. Benton, P.O. Box 784, or 'phone 581 not later than June 16th.

Judging of these classes will take place during July and August.

Please note that judges look for quality, arrangement, careful cultivation, general impression, and not necessarily quantity. These are points at which all competitors can aim, therefore send in your entries at once and put the thing over in a grand way.

Hastings

A large number of ladies from St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church attended a "mystery tea," held at the home of Mrs. (Dr.)) Wilson on Tuesday afternoon, May 26th. It was indeed a "mystery tea," as each lady provided a part of the menu unknown to the others.

Mrs. Harold Stewart and son Jack of Foxboro, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. Dainard, and her sister Leta Dainard, who recently returned from the Nicholls Hospital, Peterborough, where she had been confined for the past two months with a serious illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Way and baby Joan of Toronto, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. Way.

Mrs. Clark of Norwood is a guest at the home of her grandson, Mr. and Mrs. E. Clark

Rev. H. F. Battersby attended the archdeaconery meeting held in Port Hope.

Mr. Barclay, Mr. McGee, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. McGee of Asphodel, has completed his course in Toronto University, and will graduate with the degree M.D., on June 7. After his graduation he will accept a position in St. Michael's Hospital.

Mrs. J. McGuire of Toronto, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McGuire.

Mrs. J. Black of Peterborough, spent several days in the village.

Miss Dorothy Kerr spent two weeks with her sister, Miss Vivian Kerr, nurse-in-training in the Ottawa General Hospital.

Mr. E. Hazelwood was called to Toronto on Sunday evening owing to the serious illness of his brother.

SPAIN GUARDING ITS PRESIDENT

Guards Surround Residence in Madrid After Assassination Rumors.

FARM STRIKE SPREADS.

By REX SMITH
Associated Press Foreign Staff.

MADRID, June 8. — (A.P.)—Guards completely surround the home of President Niceto Alcala Zamora to-day as a precaution against an alleged plot to assassinate him while sanguine disorders, fanned by a farm strike grew throughout Spain.

A newspaper publishing a report that Rightists were implicated in an uprising and planned to kidnap the President was fined but extraordinary precautions at the executive mansion revealed authorities feared for a possible attempt on his life.

The assassination of General Fernando Bergenguer, brother of a former Monarchist premier, and a toll of at last two dead and scores wounded in the farm strike spread fears of a possible uprising.

It was believed the assassins of Bergenguer had mistaken him for his brother, General Damaso Berenguer, who served as Premier under former King Alfonso. The slaying took place at San Sebastian.

Institute Notes

The North Hastings District Annual is being held in Madoc this year in Trinity United Church.

Cooper and Remington have elected a new president and a new secretary made necessary by the resignation of the former officers. Mrs. Frank Reynolds is president for the coming year with Miss Gladys Bailey, secretary.

Bannockburn has re-elected a former president, Mrs. James Bailey on the resignation of last year's president and secretary and Mrs. H. Parnell is secretary.

Madoc Institute has a new president, Mrs. Robert Bristol who having served as vice president very acceptably should be well qualified to preside.

Ivanhoe, Wellman's and Springbrook have re-elected their officers.

Marmora has elected Mrs. James Rice as president, and Miss Sopha being re-elected.

Cashel, the newest branch report increased interest not only in their members but in the men folk as well who duly appreciate the beneficial results of the Institute work. Their president and secretary were re-elected.

How to TONE UP Your Stomach

Are you sick and tired of having a stomach that acts up—that doesn't take kindly to good, wholesome food? Then bring your stomach to time. Don't take drugs. They are dangerous and habit-forming. Just follow the Andrews' Rules of Health. Eat moderately. Sleep plenty. Exercise regularly. Breathe all the fresh air you can. And keep yourself in healthy condition with a purifying, energizing glass of Andrews Liver Salt taken about twice each week while it is still deliciously bubbling.

This last rule is quite as important as all the others. What Andrews does is to exert a definitely beneficial effect on the stomach lining. It soothes the digestive organs and strengthens the whole process of digestion and waste elimination.

Don't let your stomach boss you. Learn to enjoy a sound digestive system and good, hearty meals by following the Andrews' Rules. You will feel better—much better and healthier—from the day you begin. Get Andrews Liver Salt from your druggist. In tins, 35c and 60c. New, large bottle, 75c. Sole Agents: John A. DELEGATES CHOSEN BY HASTINGS W.I.

Will Represent Branch at Annual Convention at Castleton, June 14th.

HASTINGS, June 8.—(Examiner Correspondence).—The June meeting of the Hastings Women's Institute was held on Tuesday afternoon, June 5, in the Council Chambers. Due to the very warm weather, the attendance was not as large as usual.

Opening with the Institute Ode, Mrs. Walter Fowlds concluded with the business and program.

The following ladies were elected delegates to the district annual convention to be held in Castleton on Thursday, June 14: Mrs. Walter Fowlds, Mrs. J. A. MacDonald, Mrs. A. J. Brown and Mrs. W. Walsh. Mrs. MacDonald will reply to the address of welcome.

Mrs. Walter Fowlds, president, expressed her appreciation for the flowers received, the work done by the vice-president of Asphodel, Mrs. Scott Fife, and the many acts of kindness shown during her recent illness.

The secretary, on behalf of Mrs. William West, expressed her thanks for flowers received during her recent bereavement in the loss of their little son, Billie.

A picnic will be held in July (the date arranged later) in Hastings along the river front. An invitation is extended to everyone of the village and community prizes will be given for races. Games and a good afternoon's fun will be enjoyed in real picnic style. Each family is asked to provide a basket.

A musical contest was conducted by Mrs. Roy King that was educational, yet puzzling. Mrs. Walter Fowlds was awarded first prize and Mrs. J. A. Brown second, the awards being framed pictures.

Mrs. A. E. Spooner had on display two beautiful hooked rugs, demonstrating the materials used, dying of colors and the work of hooking them. Mrs. Walter Fowlds' wool afghan of black with raised flowers in rose and the green leaves was admired by all present.

Those responsible for the refreshments were Mrs. M. Baker, Mrs. S. Scriver, Mrs. J. V. Findly and Mrs C. Dodd. Lemonade was made and served by Mrs. G. Kerr.

The European house cricket which is an annoyance in certain urban areas in southern Ontario is established in Ottawa, occasionally infesting dwellings, particularly furnace basements.

Apsley

The Apsley softball team met their Waterloo on Friday evening when they lost their first game on the home grounds, Camp 4 defeating them 12 to 2. Jack Patterson scored both runs for the home team, the first being a home run.

St. George's W.A. held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Frank Tanner on Tuesday evening. It was decided to hold a picnic on June 21, and committees were appointed to canvass for baking. The hostess served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

Charles Peacock, who operates a saw-mill north of Coe Hill, had the misfortune to lose his mill, garage and car by fire, which broke out during the noon hour while the men were at dinner. The house, which was threatened, by dint of hard work escaped falling a prey of the flames. Unfortunately for Mr. Peacock, the insurance had expired only three days previously and had not been renewed.

Prosecution Urged In Kidnapping Case

ALBANY, N.Y., June 7 (C.P.). — Aid of Secretary of State Cordell Hull has been sought by the International Brotherhood of Paper Makers to see that the five men who last month kidnapped Ernest Lambton, American labor organizer in Northern Quebec, are brought to trial by the Canadian Government.

Lambton is a former citizen of Gouverneur, N.Y., but has been in Canada about two years.

Arthur Huggins, secretary-treasurer of the Paper Makers' Brotherhood, said the identity of the alleged kidnappers is known, but no arrests have been made so far. He said Lambton was kidnapped and held captive overnight as a result of his activities in organizing workers in Canadian paper mills.

HUNTING KILLER

BEDFORD, Ill. — State Police hunted in surrounding hills yesterday for 20-year-old Robert Neal's two companions on a mad dash that left a deputy-sheriff dead and policeman wounded in southern Indiana Monday night.

Neal, held in jail here, admitted his part in the ride in a signed statement to Sergeant Donald Franklyn of State Police and named Ed Coffin, whom he described as an ex-convict and a former Ohioan as the slayer of Deputy Harold Amick of Scott County.

PLACING OF SIGNS

Peterborough branch of the Ontario Motor League is requesting the co-operation of motorists throughout the county in the placing of signs at intersections or turns, where roads are at present not clearly marked.

Any motorists who know of intersections or turns not clearly marked by direction boards, are asked to communicate with James J. Dorris, secretary of the Motor League, at the Chamber of Commerce offices here. The League will then take steps to have defects in this connection remedied.

FAINTS DURING CHIMNEY FIRE.

When the chimney caught fire shortly after nine o'clock this morning, at the house tenanted by Mrs. Hughey of 525 Chamberlain street, the excitement proved to be too much for the woman and she fainted. Members of the Department rendered first aid, and summoned Dr. G. Murray Fraser.

A grass fire adjacent to the Canadian National Railway tracks on Sutherland street, yesterday afternoon gave the brigade a run over to East City.

DIED

McKEOWN.—On Thursday, June 7, 1934, Henry F. McKeown, of 536 Waterford street.

The funeral will be held from his late residence, on Saturday, June 9, 1934, at 3 p.m. Dr. A. T. Barr, of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, officiating. Interment in Little Lake Cemetery.

HAIG—On Thursday, June 7, 1934, Margaret Myrtle Mackenzie, the beloved wife of Samuel G. Haig at the family residence, 621 Water street, in her 42nd year.

Funeral on Sunday from the residence at 1.30 p.m. followed by a service at the Pentecostal Assembly at 2 o'clock. Interment at Mount Pleasant Cemetery, Campbellford.

IN MEMORIAM

MOORE.—In loving memory of Bert C. Moore, who departed this life, June 8, 1933:

Quickly and quietly came the call,
His sudden death surprised us all.
We have lost, but God has gained
One of the best the world contained.
We loved him; ah, no tongue can tell
How much we loved him, and how well.
God loved him, too, and thought it best
To take him home with Him to rest.

—Ever remembered by his Wife and family.

IN MEMORIAM

MANN In loving memory of Sherman A. Mann, who died June 8, 1933.

The face I loved is now laid low,
His loving voice is still,
The hand so often clasped in mine
Lies now in death's cold chill.
I often sit and think of him
When I am all alone;
For memory is the only thing
That grief can call its own.

—Inserted by his loving Wife and Family.

CATTLE BREEDERS PLAN FIELD DAY

Frank Scollard Appointed County Representative to Projected S.P.A.O.

Frank Scollard was appointed Peterborough county representative to the projected Swine Producers' Association of Ontario at a meeting Thursday afternoon in the offices of A. R. Runions representative of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

A beef cattle breeders' field day will be held at the Exhibition Grounds, Thursday, June 28, and the following members of the County Livestock Association were appointed a committee to arrange the details: Mr. Runions, Mr. Scollard, Wm. H. Elmhirst, V. Millburn, W. A. Anderson, Everett Birdsall and Allan B. Mann.

W. B. Watson of the livestock branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture reviewed the progress which had been made in the preliminary effort to organize the swine breeders of the province for the primary purpose of obtaining more money for their hogs. Meetings have been held in all the counties from which the movement is expected to receive membership support, and their representatives will be called to Toronto before the end of this month to discuss the next stage of organization and the plans which have been growing out of Mr. Watson's contacts with the county groups.

Establishment of demonstration feeding stations establishment of more confidence between producers and packers, the possility of securing price stabilization or as an alternative setting up an exchange for the marketing of hogs, were some of the ideas which Mr. Watson briefly surveyed yesterday as likely to be brought before the provincial meeting.

Magistrate's Court

Jimmy Donovan, formerly of Toronto, now of this city, pleaded guilty in Magistrate Langley's court to-day to driving a car without a permit. "My boss, William Driver, knew I didn't havt a permit, but he had me drive the car and wouldn't buy me a license," he told the court. Penalty was not imposed to-day, further hearing being adjourned until Tuesday.

Henry Sararas failed to appear today to answer to a serious charge under the Liquor Control Act. His counsel, J. A. O'Brien, stated that he did not know where his client was, maintaining that he was as anxious as the court to locate him.

Chief Newhall was not alarmed by the man's absence, asking that the case be adjourned one week. He will show up all right," said the Chief. "We don't need a warrant for him."

100 Children Leave For The Rotary Camp

One hundred happy youngsters gathered from all corners of the city left for an overnight camping trip to the Rotary Camp on Clear Lake this afternoon. The outing was arranged by the Boys' Work Board.

After supper to-night the boys, ranging in age from eight years up, will gather around a huge campfire on the shore of the lake for a couple of hours of music, singing and some special stunt entertainments which have been planned.

And to-morrow morning will see the holding of a big athletic meet on the camp grounds with a variety of competitions and games.

James McClenaghan and Doug. Loomis, both of the Y.M.C.A. staff, and L. W. Copp are in charge of the camp. The return to the city will be made late to-morrow afternoon.

THOMASBURG W.M. CELEBRATES ITS FORTY-FIFTH ANNIVERSARY

Past History is Reviewed and Old Members Are Called on to Speak.

BIRTHDAY CAKE CUT.

THOMASBURG, June 8.—(Examiner Correspondence).—The members of the Women's Missionary Society of Thomasburg United Church held their forty-fifth anniversary in the church on Tuesday afternoon. There were visitors from Toronto, Belleville, Madoc, Tweed, Lodgeroom, Bethel, Roslin and the Women's Auxiliary of Thomasburg Anglican Church. The president, Mrs. James Bateman, took charge.

Mrs. Joseph Chappell read of the pioneer members of forty-five years ago.

There were two chorter members present, Mrs. Martin, of Belleville, and Mrs. Margaret Embry.

A solo was rendered by Mrs. Harry Foster, of Bethel; reading, Mrs. C. Jeffery, of Thomasburg Anglican Church; solo, Mrs. Harry Grier, of Tweed; reading, Mrs. Dafoe, of Madoc.

Mrs. Jabez Jones read some of the past history of the W.M.S. There have been twenty-one presidents and eight of these are living.

Three pupils of the primary department of the Sunday school presented Mrs. A. Martin, Mrs. Embry and Mrs. J. Jones with flowers.

Past President Speaks.

Mrs. Connell, of Toronto, (wife of the late Rev. Connell) said she was very pleased to be at this meeting as she had been here twenty-four years ago and was president of the society for four years.

Several of the past presidents were then called on. Mrs. Robert Morton, of Foxboro, not being able to be present, sent a letter which was read by the secretary.

Mrs. Beatrice Morton read the names of the departed members, and for each four names Mrs. Edward Way put a flower in a vase. There are forty-nine deceased members.

A duet was given by Mrs. H. B. Herrington and daughter, Lucille. Mrs. W. Hicks, of Tweed, closed the meeting with prayer

A birthday cake with forty-five candles and W.M.S. written on it was brought in. After grace was sung the candles were blown out and the cake was cut. A sumptuous lunch was served by the local members.

Character From Handwriting

By BLANCHE A. DRAPER

A Feature Conducted by Peterboroughs Leading Handwriting Analyist for the Readers of The Examiner

Full name and address (complete) must be given in all samples sent in.

Eugene Caol D. Capaul, Apsley, Ont.

Your handwriting denotes a predominating characteristic of keeping people guessing. You like to make them use their brains as you use your own. Every thought of yours is intelligent. Somehow you appear to hold great sway over many people. You belong to the executive type, the creators of ideas necessary to the human race. Without new thought life would become insipid and worthless. You are anxious to have people think well of you. Many of them do. They look up to you and respect you, but those whose misfortune it is to have been born of inferior birth resent your intrusion. However, as the inferior type always will resent authority, it is only a minor detail in your life. You enjoy entertaining and being entertained. You are, to use the modern expression, 'a good fellow', appreciating your gain and admitting your loss. You are a lover of home comforts and must have everything done in a well appointed manner. You utterly detest a slovenly person. Your number is 11. Your birthsign Aries the Ram. You are ruled by Mars. June and July are your best months, and Tuesday your lucky day.

Joseph Moore, Ennismore, Ont.

Your handwriting delineates versatility. It is as though you were not in the same mood twice in a day. You are apt to let yourself fly off the handle at the slightest provocation. The 't' bar crossings do not show me that you possess as much will-power or determination as you would like to have, but I feel sure that you can develop this characteristic as you become more settled in your mind. You are evidently at your best when among men of strong character and determination, because they in turn feel a sense of protection towards you, and enjoy being able to emanate wisdom and comfort for your benefit. Your capital "E" illustrates a keen interest in out-of-door sports and shows that you really have a spirit of leadership, and that if you continue to develop that trait, you should soon lose your fear, and so gradually become more and more successful. Generally speaking your character is above reproach. You are sincere, genuine and keenly intelligent. I would suggest electricity as a future occupation. Comedian as a side line. Your number is 22. You are ruled by Mercury. February and November are your fortunate months, and Wednesday your lucky day.

RELIEF IN MAY COST $11,514.09

Decreased $3,290.29 From Same Month One Year Ago.

HIGHWAY WORK HELPING

Compared with the same month a year ago relief in the city during May showed a decrease of $3,290.29, A. G. Metheral, relief officer, informed the Central Committee at its regular meeting last night. The city's total relief bill last month was $11,514.09, while in May a year ago it was $14,804.38.

A comparison of the monthly costs is as follows:

	May, 1933	May, 1934
Provisions	$ 9,719.52	$ 7,041.13
Milk	911.76	767.07
Fuel	996.21	989.60
Clothing	418.44	246.06
Medicine	9.88	30.66
Rent	2,506.57	2,124.41
Doctors	242.00	315.16
Totals	$14,804.38	$11,514.09
Num. of families	739	533
Num. of individuals	2,553	1,664
Num. of single men	38	22
Num. of women	23	25
Total	3,353	2,246

Mr. Metheral explained to the Board that the reduction in the number on relief was due almost wholly to the increased employment in local factories. "We haven't yet shown in our monthly figures the reduction which has occurred by the large number given jobs on the highways," he explained. "That will show in this month's report and it will be away down. The highway work is certainly easing the relief portunity to earn a livelihood."

LEADING THROUGH STRENGTH

One of the best known rules is: Lead through strength and up to weakness. This leading through strength means through such tenaces as A-Q, K-J, or K-10, hoping that partner may hold a tenace back of the honors shown in dummy. By all means avoid leading through honor combinations which are so strong that after partner has won a single trick, the remainder of the suit will become established, affording opportunities for the declarer to discard losers in another suit. The following hand recently appeared. It illustrates proper and improper procedure.

	♠ K J 10 ♥ Q 7 5 ♦ A Q J 2 ♣ K J 9
♠ 5 6 3 ♥ A K 9 6 ♦ 4 ♣ 9 5 ♣ 10 4 3	W N E S	♠ None ♥ J 10 8 3 ♦ K 8 7 6 ♦ 4 ♣ A Q 5 2
	♠ A Q 9 7 5 4 2 ♥ 2 ♦ 10 3 ♣ 8 7 6

Bidding went: North, 1-no trump; East, 2-diamonds; South, 3-spades; North 4-spades, ending bidding.

Before leading partner's suit, senior should lead one of two winning honors, to see whether partner can ruff the third round, and to note what dummy holds. Laying down a winning card is at times very useful, as when partner wishes a second lead through dummy. Partner may hold A-Q-10, back of dummy's K-J-9, and need two leads through. Having won his first trick he knows how to put senior in the lead, to obtain another lead through dummy.

West led his K of hearts, and East played the discouraging three, telling West to shift. It is too dangerous to lead through so strong a suit as dummy showed, even if East had bid two-diamonds. West should have tried a lead through North's clubs, and the contract would have been defeated. All West thought of was leading his partner's suit. West led the 9 of diamonds. Dummy played low. East was in with his K, and he had no place to go.

East led back a heart, hoping that the declarer held another card of that suit, so that West might win the trick and lead a club, but South ruffed the heart. Three rounds of trumps left the lead in dummy, with all opposing spades down. South followed suit upon the first lead of diamonds, then he discarded two losing clubs upon the last two diamond leads, leaving the declarer a single losing club.

South led and ruffed dummy's last heart, then he led his 8 of clubs, losing his third trick and going game, when he should have gone down a trick against better defensive play.

DILLINGER AIDE IS FATALLY SHOT

Mechanic Fixing Car Spots Guns and Tip Police Off.

YOUNG WIFE HELD.

WATERLOO, Ia., June 8.—(AP)—New clues to John Dillinger's whereabouts—alive or dead—were hunted today over the back-trail of Tomy Carroll.

When quick-shooting detectives pumped five bullets into Carroll yesterday they erased another of the crime brothers of Dillinger; but their gunfire was a bit too good, for it sealed lips that might have given valuable information about the number one bad man.

O. H. Dewey, a federal agent, questioned Carroll before the 38 year old gunman died, but so far as he would say Carroll had nothing to offer concerning Dillinger.

With Carroll was Jean Crompton. She said she was his wife. Police are holding her. She was one of the three women arrested following Dillinger's escape from the little Bohemia resort at Mercer, Wis.

Police heard that another man and another woman had been companions of Carrol and the 21-year-old Crompton girl, and search for them was being pressed today.

Mechanic Gives Tip

Carroll yesterday drove his car to a garage, asking a mechanic to fix it. The mechanic grew suspicious when he noted extra license plates and weapons in the machine. As soon as he completed his work, he notified police.

Detectives Emil Steffen and P. E. Walker saw the car parked in the city. Screened from view, they watched. When Carroll and his girl-bride walked toward the car the officers stepped out and identified themselves.

The ex-convict reached for his gun—but too late. The detectives' weapons spat lead. Carroll fell, bullets in the left arm pit, in the chest, and three slugs in the spine. He was rushed to a hospital, where he died later.

Carroll's first words after arrest were concern for "the little girl." "She doesn't know what it's all about," he said. "I've got $700 on me. Be sure that the little girl gets it."

5 BIRTHDAY CELEBRATORS PERISH IN AUTO SMASHUP

READING, Pa., June 8 (A.P.).—A birthday party caused death of five men in an automobile crash.

Morris L. Koller, whose birthday occurred Tuesday and three friends, William T. Klinger, 22; Harold J. Spatz, 18, and J. H. Schaeffer, 22, all of Reading, were killed instantly yesterday. Lawrence Kuhns, 22, Boyertown, driver, fifth celebrator of the anniversary, died last night.

The quintette were pinned under their overturned automobile, which plunged through a barricaded dead end of a street, over a steep bank to railroad tracks below.

Eleven tunnels and several viaducts and bridges have been constructed for the new railway line stretching 75 miles from Fez to Taza, in Morocco.

THE POLITICAL PUMP

(Tune: The Village Pump)

Once again the time has come,
For our candidates to run;
All around the province; Can't you hear them
Stump, Stump, Stump.
With their banners in array
And orations every day.
They are gathered all around the village pump.

Chorus:

Oh the pump; The political pump;
On an upturned water barrel hear them
Stump, Stump, Stump.
And the good they're going to do.
It will satisfy me and you,
If we'll only pump the handle of the pump,
Political Pump.

We have Henry's and Hepburn's,
We have Philpott's and Macphail's
Who are trying hard their rivals to out
Stump, Stump, Stump.
By the law for freer beer,
They all hope 'twill bring us cheer,
When we gather round about the village pump.
Chorus.

HOW MEMORY WILL TORTURE SOME CARELESS DRIVER'S MIND!

CONSCIENCE is torturing not one, but hundreds of careless Ontario motorists because of tragedies like this. Honest, decent citizens for the most part, perhaps neighbours of yours, but—somewhere in Ontario are the drivers who last year killed or injured 1,942 innocent children. For the rest of their lives these men and women will vainly regret having failed to obey the few simple driving rules which keep motorists out of trouble and save life, limb and property.

Because so many drivers ignored these rules 8,280 persons were killed or injured on our highways in 1933. Every death, every accident was caused by human negligence! Isn't it time for us to do a little thinking?

Do you drive carefully . . . always? You should, if only for your own protection. Remember that over 50 per cent of the victims of fatal accidents last year were occupants of motor vehicles.*

The pre-summer picnic of the choir of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church (made possible through the generosity of the Board of Managers) was held on Wednesday evening to the South Beach Hotel, Clear Lake. The weather conditions were a wee bit chilly; and this helped materially to allay the activities of the mosquitoes. The members and guests, to the number of about eighty, travelled by automobiles and found the genial host, Mr. Brooks, had arranged tables, with a capable staff of waitresses, for the party, providing a splendid hot supper without delay. To express the appreciation of the diners, the space here allotted is inadequate—suffice to say everyone was happy, and a contented expression was evident on each face. This office performed, the lawn was visited and games and softball engaged the time of many, winners in foot races being Misses Grace Thompson and Emily Hemphill. The personnel of the choir periodically changes; and to mark such an event, Rev. Dr. Barr read an address of appreciation for services rendered, and presented a fountain pen from the choir, to Miss Clara (Toady) Patterson, who shortly will pack her chattels and depart for British Columbia Province. Toady replied, and gave thanks for the remembrance. The dance pavilion at the hotel was the happy ground for the fraternity; and the social period until ten o'clock was enjoyable. Mr. John T. Hornsby as transportation officer, performed his task without a hitch, to and from the picnic grounds, bringing to a conclusion al outing to be remembered as one of the best of many enjoyed by St. Paul's Choir.

The members of the Women's Association of Trinity United Church were hostesses yesterday afternoon at a delightfully arranged and very successful afternoon tea, followed by High Tea, on the lawns and in the basement parlors of the church. Mrs. F. C. Neal and Miss Mabel Clarry were joint convenors of the affair ,assisted by a bevy of the members who carried out every detail in the most satisfactory fashion. The pretty green lawn at the back of the church was utilized for the service of afternoon tea, which was in charge of Miss Clarry and Mrs. G. E. Porter. Gay flags and large striped umbrellas made colorful notes on the green lawn, as well as the decorative effects achieved with the tables. The long tea table, presided over by Mrs. F. M. Wootton, was done with a cloth of white damask centered by a square of yellow on which was placed a huge low shallow bowl of brass filled with yellow and purple iris lilies. A handsome silver service was used. The individual tea tables were covered with brightly-colored cloths, and an interesting "Touch and Take" table, in charge of Miss Tena Mathers and Mrs. R. J. Kidd, was draped with panels of pastel-tinted paper. The mysterious little parcels were also wrapped in colored papers, and there were interesting novelties in the form of large "sunflower" match holders, the centers a solid mass of matches, the borders done in long scallops of bright yellow oilcloth. A sale of home-made cooking, carried on at a table centered by a large basket of iris and spirea, was supervised by Mrs. A. B. Gates and Mrs. J. W. Pierce. Attired in a gay gypsy outfit, Miss Mamie Foote told fortunes from the tea cups. Tea servers included Mrs. H. V. Dobson, Mrs. C. S. Cummer, Mrs. Osborne Smith, Mrs. Olive Nichols, Mrs. R. Cowan and Miss Lulu Morrow. Mrs. A. Fife acted as treasurer. The tables for High Tea, which was attended by over two hundred guests, were spread in the downstairs parlors of the church and their arrangement was in charge of Mrs. Robert Neil, Mrs. D. Walker, Mrs. R. Hicks and Mrs. Agnes Smith, while Miss Emma Morrow arranged the flowers for the parlor. Two ladies looked after each of five long tables: Mrs. Jas. Juby, Mrs. H. S. Huffman, Mrs. H. Tanny, Mrs. F. G. Rappe, Mrs. W. Davern, Mrs. W. Stocker, Mrs. W. J. Padget, Mrs. C. E. Horton, Mrs. J. A. Wolstenholm, and Mrs. N. Hamley. Grace was pronounced by the Rev. A. H. Going, and the guests present evinced a thorough enjoyment in a most appetizing repast, with quantities of cold meats, delicious salads, relishes and pies. Young men of the church acted as servers for tea and coffee, and groups of the members of the Women's Association labored to replenish the plates. The tables were decorated attractively with white lilacs and yellow and purple iris lilies, and the entrance to the parlor, at the east side of the big interior, was flanked by two huge bowls of iris and spirea. This parlor, which, with the kitchen, was recently completed by the women's Association, proved a pleasant gathering-place after the High Tea was finished. A committee of ladies headed by Miss Emma Morrow, with members in Mrs. Robert Neil and Mrs. G. E. Porter, had charge of its arrangement, and the result is extremely "different" and very artistic. Brown tones predominate in warm effects. The cream walls are panelled with brown wood, and the table and chairs, the latter of a modified Windsor type, are also painted in the smooth richness of that warm brown shade that artists term raw sienna. The chairs and table are pencilled slenderly with dark green and the falling leaf of the large table has a tiny painted central motif in a pair of scarlet and green love birds. A beautiful carpet that attracts the attention is of tiled pattern in a thick pile. The interwoven blocks are in subdued tones of blue, rose and beige and a wide border of brown painted wood fills the space between the carpet and the baseboard. A piano is in one corner and a strikingly handsome Chinese screen, with raised dragons and Orientalized flowers, is placed in another. The glass door and tiny window spaces are curtained in cream and an ivory mantelpiece, with electric grate, is flanked by two low chests of drawers in the sienna brown. Highlights of deep rose color are in the large shades of two table lamps with porcelain bases, placed on either chest. A cosy chesterfield is drawn up near the grate, upholstered in dark colors, and a handsome picture, "Cloudy June," with horses watering in a shallow stream near a rustic bridge, is over the mantelpiece. In the kitchen, where there is plenty of table space and a large gas range, a commodious, huge sink catches the eye, with plenty of room for dish-washing and a finish in galvanized iron.

The Opening Field Day and Tea of the Ladies' Section of the Kawartha Golf and Country Club was a very pleasant and successful event of yesterday. About seventy ladies were in attendance for a well-planned program of golfing contests and the tea which followed, in the attractive clubhouse. The competitions were between teams led by the captain, Mrs. C. G. Graham, and the vice-captain, Mrs. G. C. Solmes, with the latter's group proving victorious at the close of the play. Mrs. Graham, Mrs. Solmes and Mrs. J. E. R. Munro were in charge of contest arrangements, and the captain and vice-captain donated prizes for the best gross score on either side. Mrs. F. J. A. Hall (player on Mrs. Graham's team) and Mrs. R. H. Turner (Mrs. Solmes' team), were winners of these prizes, while Miss Lauder won the prize for the putting competition. The awards were pretty china cups and saucers, and they were presented by Mrs. F. M. Somerville at the conclusion of the contests. The guests for tea were received by Mrs. C. J. Ray, general convenor of the Ladies' committee, and Mrs. Somerville, vice-convenor. Pouring tea were Mrs. C. A. Salmonsen and Mrs. W. M. Cruthers, assisted by members of the executive: Mrs. J. F. Reid, Mrs. F. C. Ferrier and Mrs. F. J. Overend. Mrs. F. Hooper, convenor of the Social committee ,was in charge of arrangements. The table was extremely attractive with its crystal adornments on a lace cloth. In the centre a tall crystal jar held spirea and purple iris lilies, low crystal bowls were filled with iris and lily of the valley, and four crystal candlesticks held ivory candles. The Ladies' Section of the club will hold similar field days throughout the summer season, every Thursday afternoon.

Every woman can be a writer of at least one book. It has the same title whoever writes it, and that is "The Worry Book." Despite the one title, each volume will be entirely different from any other. It will prove interesting reading to the author and to any of her friends whom she permits to read it. I hard of it just today, and how such a book proved invaluable to the person who wrote it.

* * * * * * *

Don't be misled by the title and believe that the volume will be depressing although it is all about worries. It is one of the most cheering and heartening of volumes, the sort you will delight in reading when things seem to be going wrong, and you are plunged in a gulf of gloom through anticipation of possible bad results. It is a book which will make you realize the futility of worrying.

* * * * * * *

Since the book is such an antidote to depression and you can have it by spending just a few moments a day writing, why not start it immediately? The only equipment is a blank book, pen and ink, or a pencil. It seems a pity not to start the volume—if you have a worry, that is the subject matter. Here is the best way to begin. With pen in hand and the blank book open before you, think what you are worrying about, and jot it down. Put the book away after dating what you have written. The next time you have something to worry about, write it in the book and date it. Keep on setting down what you are worrying about. Write just as briefly as you can. And don't bother to read over what you have written previously.

* * * * * * *

Some weeks later when you have the opportunity and feel inclined to believe something will go wrong, open the book and read what you wrote first. Probably you will have forgotten all about the subject of the first worry. Refresh your memory. Keep on reading, for you will be interested to note how few of the things came to pass. You probably laid awake nights worrying over them. You may have been about sick worrying—and then nothing happened.

* * * * * * *

The effect of worrying is disastrous to nerves and health and to happiness most of all. By keeping the Worry Book and reading it occasionally we discover how foolish it is to make ourselves miserable apprehending troubles which never happen. The Worry Book is suggested as an efficient remedy for this misery.

PRESBYTERIANS ARE WELCOMED TO TORONTO FOR 60TH RALLY

Greater Synod Powers on Home Missions Among List to be Recommended.

FAVOR RETIRING AGE OF 70.

By HAROLD J. FAIR
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, June 8 (C.P.)—Canadian Presbyterianism, gathered here from all parts of the Dominion for the 60th General Assembly, was officially welcomed to Toronto yesterday by Mayor William J. Stewart, who expressed thanks for the Presbyterian Church's share in the upbuilding of the city.

"Long may you continue to grow and prosper," Mayor Stewart said in stressing the function of a church as moral guardian of a community.

The Mayor was introduced by Rev. Dr. J. G. Inkster, pastor of Knox Church. After his address he was formally thanked by the Moderator. Then Dr. J. S. Shortt, newly elected Moderator, presented the Mayor and City Clerk James Somers with a copy of the official report.

The assembly then turned to business which had been announced before the reception of the civic delegation by Rev. Dr. George E. Ross, Fredericton, N.B., convenor of the business committee.

Recommendations

Giving notice of motion, Dr. A. S. Reid, of Toronto, financial agent of the church, announced several recommendations. He proposed enlargement of synod powers involving responsibility of administering home missions within its boundaries, collections for the church budget funds, and responsibility of the synodical missionary to the synod or synods in which he works. He will move consolidation of the Presbyterian record, the Sabbath School publications, and the work of the Sabbath School Board as an economy measure. A ministerial retirement age of 70 will be recommended.

Rev. A. L. Budge, of Hagersville, tabling a mass of booklets from a seemingly bottomless grip, reported for committee. He described the church archives in Knox College, and pleaded for contributions of historical matter. He paid tribute to the late Rev. Dr. R. G. MacBeth of Vancouver.

At the conclusion of the service, the Moderator announced the committee which, under the convenorship of Dr. A. S. Reid, Toronto, would confer with him regarding standing committeee. Other members were Rev. Dr. N. A. McLeod, Brockville; Rev. S. J. MacArthur, Monoton, N.B.; Rev. A. C. Stewart, Toronto; Rev. S. Banks Nelson, Hamilton; A. M. Nairn, Montreal; Col. W. M. O. Lochead, Waterloo.

DRUNKEN DRIVER GIVEN 20 DAYS

Four Cars Involved in Crash on the Chemong Road.

ALL ARE DAMAGED.

Eugene Murphy, of Ennismore Township, to-day pleaded guilty to driving a motor vehicle while in an intoxicated condition, and was sentenced by Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., to twenty days' imprisonment.

According to Highway Patrol Officer A. E. Hornick, Murphy was responsible for damage to four automobiles, including his own vehicle which was overturned on Chemong Road about a mile from the city limits at about eight o'clock last night.

Mrs. Walter Oke, it is stated, experienced engine trouble and had her car parked well over on her right side of the highway. She signalled William Rose of Rubidge street, to give her assistance, and Mr. Rose parked his automobile behind the stalled car.

Murphy driving in the direction of Chemong is alleged to have crashed into the rear of the Rose car, forcing it into the rear of the car ahead. He afterwards shot across the highway into the side of another vehicle being driven in the opposite direction by Walter Ferguson, of the Peterborough-Lindsay Bus Lines.

Murphys' car was overturned, and he was fortunate in escaping with slight injury to his forehead. Each of the four cars was more or less badly damaged, but apart from Murphy none of the persons involved in the series of crashes sustained personal injuries.

Weddings

HUGHES—POTTER.

A wedding took place quietly in St. George's church, St. Catharines, on Tuesday, when Miss Edith Elizabeth Potter, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Potter, was married to Mr. Cyril Seymour Hughes, only son of Mr. and Mrs. James Hughes of Peterborough, and district manager of the Crown Life Insurance Company. Rev. Capt. A. W. Downer, Scarboro, officiated. The bride was given in marriage by her father, and was unattended. The groom was attended by Mr. Don Chisholm of Oakville, and during the ceremony the organ was played by Mr. George Tinlin. After the ceremony a wedding luncheon was served at the home of the bride's parents in Yale St. Later Mr. and Mrs. Hughes left for London and Detroit, and on their return will live in Peterborough. The bride is a member of the Alpha Omicron Pi Sorority, Toronto.

J. A. McLaren Stood Third Month Of May

J. A McLaren, representative of the North American Life Insurance Company here, has won again an outstanding place for himself for the business he secured during the month of May. He led Central Ontario and stood third among the representatives of his company throughout Canada.

Mr. McLaren joined the North American Insurance Company in 1924, and during his career with the company has placed well over a million dollars' worth of business on its books. He has earned the right to attend six conventions, appeared on the company's monthly honor roll 50 consecutive times, won two first prizes for conservation and second prize for reinstatement, as well as many agency prizes and contests from time to time.

King Sends Greetings To City Of Cornwall

CORNWALL, Ont., June 6—(CP)—Replying to a message forwarded to him by the Loyalist Society of Stormont County on the 150th anniversary of the landing of the first United Empire Loyalist at Cornwall, His Majesty the King yesterday sent greetings to this historic city.

The following message was received by M. Mack Alguire from A. F. Lascelles, secretary to Lord Bessborough:

"His Excellency the Governor General is commanded by His Majesty the King to convey to you and to John H. Cline, and William H. Gallinger, vice-presidents, and your fellow members of the Loyalist Society, His Majestys appreciation of your loyal greetings on the historic anniversary you are celebrating in Cornwall."

VICTORIA COUNCIL HOLDING SESSION

Emily Township Asks for Gov't Aid or Soldiers' Settlement Farms.

LINDSAY, June 8 (Examiner Correspondence)—Victoria County Council opened its June session at the Court House yesterday. The Warden in his address informed the council that it would be called upon to make the annual equilization of the assessment of the various municipalities. The committee appointed at the January session has made a careful examination of every assessment roll and will submit a detailed report during the session. Emily township council is asking the county to support a resolution regarding soldiers' settlement farms and taxes thereon. It appears that the taxes are not being collected, and the government will be asked to cooperate in financing the township for such arrears. The County Council decided to assume the cost of entrance examinations of county pupils at the different schools.

The Portage Road between Kirkfield and Gamebridge in Ontario County is being surveyed for a Provincial Highway, and it is understood that work will commence shortly. This will connect Highway No. 12 with that already under construction east of Kirkfield.

The local police are investigating two cases of burglary reported to the department. During the weekend the residence of James Cayley, west of the town, was entered and a quantity of wearing apparel, etc., stolen. Entrance was effected by breaking the lock in the door. A few days ago parties entered the home of Bernard McGeough, South Ops, and stole a sum of money and other articles.

The death took place during the week-end under tragic circumstances of Margaret Forman, the only little child of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Forman, of Victoria Road. The little child was left alone in the house while the parents were at the barn milking. In some manner the child worked the bed covering over its face so that suffocation followed.

250,000 CHILDREN WILL FIGHT CLOVER DODDER

LONDON, Ont., June 8 (C.P.)—Two hundred and fifty thousand rural school children of Ontario have been enlisted to hunt the farmer's public enemy No. 1, the clover dodder, District Weed Inspector A. R. G. Smith told the Middlesex County Council.

Most people in cities never heard of the clover dodder, but Mr. Smith says there is more legislation against it than any other obnoxious weed. Governments all over the world seem to have it in for the clover dodder and spend a great of their time passing laws against it. However the weed keeps growing right along.

Inspector Smith told the council that all rural school children in the province were being told about the damage done by the clover dodder. They are being taught to recognize it and will be asked to pull it up when ever they see it.

INSIDE THE PADDOCK

BY ART MURRAY

LONG BRANCH got away to a nice start on Wednesday, quite a contrast to their opening of one year ago when a severe storm, the worst of the year in Toronto, all but put the opening day out of business. There is accommodation for six hundred horses at the Orpen plant and every stall is occupied with some having to be vanned up every day from Dufferin where the overflow is quartered. And while we are speaking of Long Branch, we might here mention that E. F. Seagram's Young Kitty came across on opening day to win her fourth race this season out of five starts, the single exception being a third hole berth at Woodbine.

FRANKIE MANN did not deserve any medals for the ride he put up on Mild on closing day at Thorncliffe, in the race won by Bran Muffin. He allowed the McLaughlin entry to be a trailer by some twenty-five lengths going down the back stretch and brought him up and was only beaten a nose for all the money. This is not the first time that Mann has demonstrated that he is a poor judge of pace. And while we are on the subject of jockeys it will be well to remember that Dude Feden need not take a back seat to any of them. The veteran is sure riding in grand form this spring.

PAN IS ONE horse that we are looking forward to do the necessary before long. He is in smart hands and it will be a nice dividend. Old Granite Rock took a classy field of Canuck Breds into camp on Monday at Thorncliffe and looks good for another win on his next start. Fred Almy, a recent winner is a little better than the ordinary run of platers and should also repeat. Energetic Boy now eats his oats in the Seagram barn, E. F. having claimed him his last start. Polo Bar is knocking at the door, ready for his best effort. This one has a touch of real class.

When Faux Pas won on Monday it made his third straight victory of the season and he should be good for a few more as he is right at the top of his form now. Also Darkling is due to wake up any day now, he has only started twice since coming from Florida but those two should put him right on edge. Old Bushman never looked or acted better than at the present time and he will be able to kick dust in a few of their faces from now on. The Labrot stable in charge of trainer Clay Sutphin who are at Long Branch are shipping to Rockingham Park immediately after the close of Orpen's oval.

Indians Drop Into Virtual Tie With Browns, Who Defeat White Sox 5-3.

SENATORS WIN 7-3.

(By Canadian Press)

Mickey Cochrane's Detroit Tigers consolidated their position at the head of the American League by trouncing Cleveland 11-6, while the Yankees and Red Sox decided it was too cold for a game at Boston. Two runs engineered when Charley Gehringer and Marvin Owen joined singles with three walks, put the Tigers ahead in the seventh, and they followed up with a six-run outburst in the eighth.

The Indians dropped into a virtual tie with the Browns, who rallied for three runs in the ninth to overcome a lead Chicago had gained through Zeke Bonura's 15th homer of the year and to beat the White Sox 5-3.

Washington Senators won the other game, beating Athletics 7-3 behind Earl Whitehill's six-hit flinging when a five-run rally in the sixth proved better than homer No. 14 by Jimmie Foxx.

Four Teams Entered Trent Valley League

MARMORA, June 8.—(Examiner Correspondence.)—Under presidency of P. Yuill of Havelock, a special meeting of the Trent Valley League was held in the Royal Hotel, Marmora, on Thursday evening. Hitherto only two teams, Deloro and Havelock, comprised the league, but Coe Hill and Marmora had representatives present seeking an entry for their teams.

Upon ther acceptance, G. Woodhouse and J. Brady for Marmora, and C. S. Collins and C. McCormick for Coe Hill were duly added to the executive. The entrance fee for each team was set at two dollars. The winner of the league, it was pointed out, must be declared by August 18th to get into the O.B.A.A. playdowns. It was mutually agreed that the Reach ball be used by all teams. The schedule to be drawn up by Secretary W. Regan will include opening games at Deloro and Coe Hill on June 13th, with Havelock visiting Deloro and Marmora journeying to the northern village. Visiting teams will furnish the umpire-in-chief and the home teams the base umpire. The organization of the Marmora team will take place on Friday evening.

While Rochester Redwings Drop Night Game Decision to Montreal 8-4.

LEAFS AGAIN LOSE 17-4.

Boone Outfit Takes 17-4 Shellacking From Bisons in Another Ngiht Affair.

(By the Associated Press)

Newark's steady play had carried the Bears into a virtual tie for the International League lead with Rochester today.

The Bears hit hard behind Walter Brown's effective pitching yesterday and trounced Albany Senators, 14-5, for their 34th victory against 18 defeats. Rochester dropped a night game decision to Montreal Royal, 8-4, and thus suffered its 17th defeat against 33 triumphs. Although the two clubs thus are in a virtual tie, Rochester still holds the lead in percentage, .660 to .654 for Newark.

George Selkirk and Vince Barton led Newark's' 22-hit offensive against four Albany hurlers. Barton connected for two triples, a double and a single while Selkirk's string included four singles. Brown allowed nine hits and walked eight but was effective in most of clutchers. He forced over Albany's' first run by walking four men in the opening frame but got three of his seven strikeouts in that frame.

First Win Over Wings

Ray Fritz had only one bad inning the first as Montreal scored its victory over Rochester. The Red Wings counted three of their four runs in that session but Fritz was in almost complete control thereafter. A three-run drive by the Royals in the fifth gave them a safe 7-4 lead.

Third place Toronto, badly crippled by injuries and illness, took a 17-4 shellacking from Buffalo Bisons in another night affair. Frank Pearce, recently obtained from the Phillies, made his Buffalo debut and kept 10 hits fairly well scattered. The Bisons, meanwhile, thumped out 20 hits of which Ollie Tucker contributed four.

Maintains Hold

Syracuse maintained its hold on sixth place, a half game in front of Buffalo, by stopping Baltimore again, 4-2. Fred Fussell slightly outpitched Pete Appleton in a game decided by Manager Andy High's double with two on in the fifth.

GLENDALE GOLFER IN ONTARIO FINAL

Mary Hunter and Mrs. Mary MacIntosh to Match Strokes This Afternoon.

KITCHENER, Ont., June 8. (CP) Youthful Mary Hunter of Glendale to-day makes her bid for the Ontario Ladies' Golf championship. At 2.30 o'clock this afternoon she will match strokes in the championship final with Mrs. Mary MacIntosh of Galt.

Miss Hunter gained the final by superb golf in her match with Mrs. A. B. Rutherford of Owen Sound. With the coolness of a veteran Miss Hunter captured her semi-final match 3 and 2. She led the Owen Sound player by three holes when the first nine was finished and she maintained her lead easily.

Finals in the first second and third flights of the championship consolation will be held this morning. Mrs. George Stanley of Thorndale will play Miss C. Mitchell of Kingston in the consolation final.

Miss W. Robinson of St. Catharines meets Miss Hazel Hudson of Toronto in the first flight and Mrs. A. McLean of London plays Mrs. W. J. Southam of Hamilton in the second. In the third flight Miss H. Tolton of Westmount and Mrs. Gerald Wood of Peterborough clash.

McQUADE SINGLE SCORES ELLIS WITH WINNING RUN FOR TIREMEN

Errors Lose Game For Hefferman as Electrics Take 4-3 Licking.

HEART-BREAKING LOSS.

McQuade's single in the last half of the ninth sent Ellis home with the winning run and gave Johnston's Tires at 4-3 victory over C.G.E. last night in the best men's softball game played at Central this year. It was a beautiful pitcher's duel between Jack Hefferman for the Electrics and Freddy Elliott for the Tiremen. But it was errors that lost the struggle for Hefferman who hurled a lovely brand of ball in the fast one-hour game. None of the Johnston runs were earned.

Hefferman held his opponents to six scattered hits while he fanned thirteen and issued no walks. His fast ball, with a peculiar hop on it, had them fooled throughout and not a man reached third till the sixth. Elliott also threw steady ball to give but eight hits—four bunched for three runs in the fourth—and he struck out two and walked one. His support was much better than that of C.G.E.

Newson got a hit in the second, but it was not until the fourth that C.G.E. got their runs, an error, hits by Weese, Osterland and Fleming along with Newson's homer sending three in. They did not get a runner to third the rest of the way. Johnston's Tires went out in order the first four frames, Ellis scratching a hit in the fifth. They got a run in the sixth on Starr's single and two miscues. Another one counted in the seventh on an error, an out and McQuade's hit. They tied the score in the eighth on Dorrington's single, Crary's double and an error at the plate. With one out in the ninth, Ellis got to second on an error at first and he raced home on McQuade's bingle to centre.

Stanger turned in some smart fielding, while Starr, Fleming, Jones and McQuade also looked good defensively. The latter led the winners at bat with two singles in four. Newson hit a homer and single in three times for C.G.E. and Osterland got two singles in four. The teams:

C.G.E.: Jones, lf; Grant, rf; Weese, 2b; Miller, cf; Newson, 3b; Walsh, c; Osterland, 1b; Fleming, ss; Hefferman, p.

Johnston's Tires: Starr, c; Dorrington, 3b; Anderson, ss; Crary, ss; Montgomery, rf; Allen, cf; Ellis, 1b; McQuade, lf; Elliott, p; Stanger, 2b.

Score by innings:

C.G.E.	0	0	0	3	0	0	0	0	0—3 8 5
Johnston's T...	0	0	0	0	0	1	1	1	1—4 6 2

ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

GOLF FACTS NOT THEORIES!
By ALEX. J. MORRISON

Last Saturday I played at the Westchester Country Club with Dr. Garretson, the noted neurologist.

The doctor probably has played golf longer than I have.

During the game he complained about his hands. Somehow his grip wasn't just right and he was getting blisters.

I watched his swing and found that the real cause of his grip trouble was in his failure to shift his weight properly.

Seems a long way to go for the source of trouble with the hands, but I"ll leave it to you, the next time you find your hands letting go of the club, loosen up your feet and legs.

This will make it easier for you to maintain the proper hold on the club throughout the swing.

Most players believe that adjustments about their swings made on the course are like fixing punctures on the road.

Only in very few cases does swing patching done on the course hold up.

Since the week-end golfer relies so much on this patching here's one that may get you home.

If you find too many of your shots going to the left, just watch the way you are addressing the ball.

If you"ll place the heel of the clubface opposite the centre of the ball and try to hit the ball with this part of the clubface, your shots will straighten out.

Of course, you must also keep your chin back.

Emil Leonard, Dodgers: Shut out Phillies with seven hits, fanning six.

Billy Rogell, Tigers: Knocked in three runs in triumph over Indians.

Babe Herman, Cubs: His single brought home Billy Herman with run that beat Cardinals 1-0.

PAUL RUNYAN LEADS IN ODDS TO COP HONORS

Three Professionals Head Pace-setters in Opening Day's Play at Philadelphia.

GOODMAN HAS A 76.

Tommy Armour, 1927 Winner, Virtually Blows Himself Out of Running With an 82.

By BOB CAVAGNARO
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

MERION CRICKET CLUB, Philadelphia, June 8. (AP).—To-day was the day the United States Golf Association wielded its pruning knife in the 38th annual open championship, and Johnny Goodman, the cocky Omaha amateur and defending champion, the least of those fearing the fell stroke of the sharp blade that meant elimination from the tournament. The second 18-hole round was to be played after which all but the 60 low scorers and ties will be shuttled to the sidelines.

Pro Trio Sets Pace

Five strokes back of a trio of professional pace-setters — Whiffy Cox, Wee Bobby Cruickshank and Charley Lacey—26-year-old Johnny Wasnot in an unfamiliar spot. He looked at his predicament philosophically recalling that he overcame a seven stroke handicap in the second round last year at Chicago to jump into a two-stroke lead.

"My position to-day is better than it was a year ago," Johnny said confidently. "I've still got a good chance to be up there. I say again that if I get any kind of breaks I'll at least give the boys a good fight."

Paul Runyan Favored

Either in front of or tied with the young Nebraskan at 76 or better were five other Simon-Pures and 37 professionals, including four former champions — Gene Sarazen, Walter Hagen, Johnny Farrell and Billy Burke—as well as a flock of younger salaried stars topped by Paul Runyan, the betting odds favorite. Tommy Armour winner of the 1927 championship, took a first round 82 and virtually "blew" himself out of the running unless the silver-haired Scot can produce something like the 67 he scored here in practice last week or the 68 he posted at North Shore last year.

Deadlocked with 72's, Cos was conceded a better chance of being able to maintain the pace than either the veteran Cruickshank or the British-born Lacey. Cox's 71 might easily have been several strokes lower had it not been for his inability to master three of the four short holes, where he yielded four strokes to par. Although Jovial Wiffy hit only four fairways with his tee shots, he pulled off some great emergency shots, which, coupled with four one-putt greens, enabled him to offset driving inaccuracies.

FIRST TEST MATCH IS HALTED BY RAIN

Near Rout of Touring Australians Threatened When Play is Called.

NOTTINGHAM, England, June 8 (CP Cable).—Heavy rain shortly after lunch intervened in what threatened to be a rout of the touring Australians, causing stoppage of play in the first test cricket match between England and Australia.

The match was resumed shortly and at mid-afternoon the Aussies had lost three of their strongest wickets for 125 runs. The celebrated Don Bradman was good for only 29 before he was caught by Wally Hammond off George Geary.

Youthful Kenneth Barnes, making his first appearance in test cricket, collared the wickets of Captain W. M. Woodful and W. H. Ponsford, the latter with 53 runs making the best stand.

HUNDRED ENTRIES IN MEN'S SINGLES

Ontario Tennis Championships Will be Held at Armor Heights July 14-21.

TORONTO, June 8. (CP).—More than 100 entries in the men's singles were assured to-day for the Ontario tennis championships at Armour Heights July 14-21 according to John S. Proctor, tennis captain of the Toronto Cricket Club and chairman of the tournament committee.

The Canadian championship series takes place on the same courts the following week, July 23-30, and nearly all the provincial representatives, coming for the Dominion event, will arrive a week earlier to take part in the Ontario series and thus get some valuable practice for the following week.

Captain Proctor said Quebec intends to send Marcel Rainville, Bob Murray, Laird Watt and Roland Longtin for the Ontario competition and Commander J. C. I. Edwards of Ottawa, formerly of the navy yard at Esquimalt and also of the Victoria Tennis Club, will be present.

Other westerners now settled in eastern Canada who will take part in the championships include Hope Leeming, now Mrs. K. Salmon, and Jack Kennedy, both formerly of Victoria. Gordon Shields, well known Vancouver all-around athlete and finalist in the University of Toronto championships last year, is practising regularly and promises to be a factor. In the Dominion event each province sends two players.

The dates for the matches, Quaker Oats at Kawartha and Trinity at Kawartha are to be arranged between these clubs.

SPORTS DAY BY DAY

By C. J. P.

It seems that the Dukes of Oshawa will be visiting us tomorrow to play a couple of games of baseball with the Petes in Riverside Park. Now this is scarcely news as everyone has heard of it already. But how come the Motor City players parade under a royal title is what interests us. We strongly suspect that if one of them should receive a spike wound tomorrow, say in the leg, that good old red blood would ooze forth, not a drop of blue blood showing up on the scene. And we doubt very much if the wives of any of these ball players who happen to be married are called duchesses. In fact, it looks very much like they've got a crust—instead of a crest—to be called Dukes at all. But they must have some reason.

• • • • • • •

The only dope we could dig up on it was not very satisfactory. It came from a guy that left here to work in Oshawa. But for some reason or other, he got the can hung on him and is again giving the broads a break up and down George Street. He tells us that when the Oshawa team first entered a Toronto league, the players sort of went high hat. They had a meeting to decide, among other things, what name would best suit the team. Such common names as Cubs, Tigers, Maple Leafs, Royals, etc., got nothing but a ha-ha from the gathering. Finally someone suggested the Dukes and that name got the duke.

• • • • • • •

A sour-castic chap present asked: "Dukes of what? Ya got to be a duke of something or someplace. Why not the Duke d'Auto Parts, or the Dukes des Chev?" Most of the lads present were smart and besides that they all worked in General Motors, so they suspected it was a crack or something, and tossed the wise guy out on his left ear. And they stuck to their royal titles and felt quite proud of 'em for some time. Of course later on they got into the Ulster League and had their high hats knocked down over their ears. After all, what chance has a duke among Ulstermen? We don't know how true the above account of the name Dukes is, as the guy who told us may have been prejudiced. At any rate, they're here tomorrow to play at 2.15 and no doubt the commoners of our fair burg will be out in droves to see their royal highnesses.

And we strongly reesnt the Kingston scribe's crack about us being related to the Dukes. He says: "Well, Peterborough are satisfied at last. They finally managed to work their 'cousins", the Oshawa Dukes, back into the C.O.B.L. One would think that from the way Oshawa have treated the C.O.B.L. for several seasons, the Central League would be just a little careful about allowing them back in, but Peterborough just couldn't see anything but the Oshawa crowd back. Maybe they wont think the same when the season is over." Possibly the lad is right, but look at the social prestige we get—hobnobbing with dukes! His remarks are so typically Kingstonian they need no comment.

Pitchers this year have a tough break what with baseballs being pepped up worse than ever. The balls this season are like dynamite, as lively in fact as Mose Yokom's band (Advt.—and that ought to rate us something, eh Mose?). No fooling, there will be plenty of extra-base hits in Riverside this year, same as everywhere on the continent. A lively ball is fine for batters but is tough on twirlers and fans should remember this.

'Way down at the Grounds of ye Exhibition this fine twilight along about six chimes of the clock, one E.P.L. ball game goes on the air—no, Ashur, not up in the air, we trust. It will be between C.G.E. and Fosters and what with one squad struggling valiantly to climb out of the damp cellar and the other striving mightily to stay out of that spot where the beer is stored in warm weather — well, it looks like quite a little brawl by and large. Both outfits will be in there battle till the cows come shuffling home, and the customers ought to see a classy contest. Some new mugs may be spotted on the rival lineups, and that shouldn't mar the scenery any.

Santa Claus has visited the City Baseball League and left a lot of ball and bats in the boys' stockings. Bill Kay has obtained a dozen bats and twelve balls from the O.B.A.A. and is giving three clubs each to these teams: King Edward, Maple Leafs, St. Peter's and Terriers; and will donate the balls to the minor series. Then, Ches Mowry has received a dozen bantam balls from Chris Hughes of Grafton's to be given to the minor series. Nice work, and no doubt the kids are grateful.

Talk about heart-breakers, Jack Hefferman and the C.G.E. men softballers certainly took one at Central last eve. Jack pitched beautiful ball to let Johnston's Tires down with six scattered hits while fanning thirteen and giving no walks, yet the Tiremen won out, 4 to 3! It was the best game of the year up there but Electric errors figured in all four of Johnston's runs. It was a crying shame for a twirler like that to lose because of poor support. But Elliott and the Deck boys deserve a bouquet, too. They played gallant ball to sneak a run across at a time and finally win out late in the ninth. Softball games like this are well worth seeing and the fans sure enjoyed it. But C.G.E. hasn't even poor luck—it hasn't any luck at all.

MAX BAER IN NO SHAPE TO MEET CARNERA

Bout Should Be Postponed at Least Month, Belief of N.Y. Commissioner.

UPSETS GARDEN PLANS.

Part of Ballyhoo Stunt May Have Disastrous Ending for Busted Beezer Trade.

(By Edward J. Neil—A.P. Sports Writer).

NEW YORK, June 8 (A.P.).—The fate of a heavyweight championship fight rested to-day on the judgment of Bill Brown and his ability to convince his two associates on the New York State Athletic Commission, that Max Baer is not in fit condition to battle Primo Carnera next Thursday night.

White-haired, militant veteran of 30 years in the boxing business, Brown says the challenger is in no shape for the test, that the bout should be postponed at least a month, that perhaps it would be best to call it off entirely.

He couldn't have caused more excitement in the world of busted beezers if he had set fire to Madison Square Garden, or resurrected the brass-studded cesti of the ancient Greeks for the use of modern gladiators.

Commission Sits To-Day.

As a result of this situation, Baer and Carnera, their managers, all the potentates of Madison Square Garden, Jack Dempsey, and a host of newspapermen, moved in on the commission to-day for a final decision unprecedented in the history of championship matches. It was the problem of Brown's associates, General John J. Phelan and D. Walker Wear, to study the third man's report and decide whether a postponement should be ordered.

It all started from a harmless enough ballyhoo stunt that had little or no objective except the selling of a few more tickets for the duel in the Garden bowl on Long Island. It was Jack Dempsey's idea and so he told the gentlemen of the press a couple of days ago that he thought Baer would not beat his best by next Thursday night, that he needed another full week at least of training.

DOUBLEHEADER TO COUNT IN STANDING

Spook Scriver and Bill Calladine Likely Hurlers for Petes on Saturday.

Both ball games between the Petes and Oshawa in Riverside Park tomorrow afternoon are regular C.O.B.L. games, neither one being an exhibition contest, as a number of fans have phoned this office to inquire. First tilt starts sharp at 2.15, with the second commencing right afterward. This second game will be a seven-inning one. Spook Scriver and Bill Calladine will both likely get a chance to hurl for the Petes, while the Dukes have five twirlers to choose among. They expect to field their strongest team of the year in a real effort to get off on the right foot in this league.

There has been much interest in whether or not Oshawa was coming into this league, in view of the winter-long argument and the hot skirmishing at spring meetings, and undoubtedly this interest will be shown in a large crowd at tomorrow's double-header. The rival players have absorbed that inter-club antagonism and it will be reflected in their battling on the diamond in both fixtures. It promises to be a real baseball afternoon here, and the new team will be a welcome sight to fans fed up on seeing only the Belleville and Kingston teams opposing the Petes in Peterborough.

THE SPUN GLASS MYSTERY

A Tale of Scotland Yard

By A. FIELDING

READ THIS FIRST

John Tait, stepson of wealthy Lady Tait, is engaged to marry Lucy Burnham, a widow. This is resented by Alysia Naylor, John's cousin who has been making her home with her sister, Etta, and her brother, Claud, at Tait's abode in London. Lady Tait sees her stepson talking with a beautiful girl, revealed as Gillian Dundas, in the hotel lobby at Vichy where she, Tait and Lucy are stopping. Gillian, it seems, is blackmailing Tait for a past indiscretion. Back in London Lady Tait shows John a letter from her dead son's wife, an Italian woman she despises, demanding money for her son. Lady Tait's grandson. Tait learns of the fatal shooting of his business associate, Lord Mills, for which his valet, Brown, is held. Tait had recommended Brown for the post. Reggie Claridge, Alysia Naylor's fiance, attracted by Gillian Dundas whom he met in Paris, follows the latter and a strange-looking young man in a cab. Miss Dundas returns to the station and Claridge follows the man into an apartment. He comes upon a human fiend sitting before a mirror. The stranger spies him, runs after him but Claridge leaves him behind. Tait goes to Lord Mills' quarters in an effort to have Brown, the valet, released from police custody. At Scotland Yard Superintendent Dartmoor talks over the Mills shooting with Chief Inspector Pointer and tells him of Tait's interest in the case. Back at Lady Tait's Mrs. Burnham, her guest, defends Gillian Dundas whom she has "taken under her wing" since her dismissal from the employ of a Mrs. de Sousa. Lady Tait's maid tells of seeing John Tait and Gillian Dundas in private conversation the night before which was interrupted by Claud Naylor coming in when Gillian disappeared. (NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

CHAPTER 18

It was 12 when the door of her morning room opened and John himself came in. He looked very grave.

"I found Miss Dundas staying here in the house when I came in last night," he began, after the swiftest of good mornings. "She tells me that Lucy got you to let her stay here, as she has left Mrs. de Souza and doesn't know where to go. That she's a sort of contemporary companion to Lucy?" His tone and eyes questioned Lady Tait almost anxiously.

"Yes. Lucy found her on my doorstep and brought her in. She could hardly do otherwise. As Miss Dundas very well knew."

"She can't stay here," John said decisively. With something almost fierce in his tone and eye.

"I quite agree." His stepmother spoke coldly, but in reality she was glad of at least that much agreement with her own ideas.

"Lucy should have consulted you, or me," John went on.

"She did consult me. But only after the girl was in the house. But why is Miss Dundas not to stay here, John?"

"Because we none of us know anything about her," he replied shortly.

Lady Tait said no more. She thought it was only too plain how things were, in which case, the less said about them the better. After all, John was doing his best to keep anything that had happened in the past away from the present—the future.

"Lucy's out at the moment," she went on, more happily. "I wish you could get this young person out of the house at once, John, for I'm rather afraid Lucy will take her side. I detest the girl, and her barefaced effort to get in here I consider a form of housebreaking."

"No wonder she's terrified," he said on that, a grim note in his voice.

"What of, pray?" Lady Tait did indeed stare at him.

"Of being without a situation." He replied at once, but she wondered if that had been what he meant to say. Some day she would have all this cleared up, but not now.

"Well, I must be off." He had sat down throughout the talk. "This death of Mills——" He seemed to pull himself up.

"Don't be late for lunch," she reminded him, turning to her letters. "Remember it's a family function. You and Lucy are the guests of honor."

A horrified look crossed his face. He knew his stepmother's love of that sort of thing.

"I'm afraid I shall be a trifle late. An engagement that I can't possibly put off. . . I made it without remembering the lunch," he explained.

"Put the engagement off," she said promptly.

"I'm awfully sorry——" and he looked it. "If it were any ordinary engagement I should. But it happens to be something I can't alter. However, I shall be back before you've quite finished."

Lady Tait was too vexed to say anything.

"I take it for granted Miss Dundas won't be there?" he went on.

"At the family lunch? Oh, no. You and she will both be away." It was a nasty speech, and meant to be so. But John did not seem to notice, and he was generally quick to catch undertones.

He looked at her with a sudden charming smile. "I've got to do a couple of things between now and then, and you may be sure I shall rush them if possible." With that he was off.

Lady Tait was extremely annoyed, but she had a feeling that things were too serious for careless speech. It was at the lunch that she intended making a sort of stately presentation to John of the deed of gift to be formally signed after his wedding, when he would make his own new will.

She had loved John Tait the elder, and for that reason in her secret heart nothing that his son could do would have prevented her dealing anything but generously with him. Fortunately, she reflected, John did not know that, nor the others of the family except perhaps the Naylor girls. They might guess that nothing but death would ever prevent her carrying out any promise she had made John. Evidently there was some unsavory entanglement with Gillian Dundas. Past, of course. And she had tried to revive it again at Vichy, and failed. She looked that kind of young woman. But her effrontery in coming to the house where John was living till his marriage—of getting in under the wing of the woman he was going to marry. Poor, generous-hearted, blind Lucy Burnham. But after all, a woman of her age should know better than to throw such a disturbing type of good looks into the way of any man. A sudden fear of the future came to Lady Tait, a middle-aged little silly, however sweet, and kind, and good, was hardly likely to make John Tait a good wife, and John needed careful handling at times. This lunch, for instance, it was most trying of him to absent himself. What engagement could it be that kept him? Made with whom? Suddenly she remembered another occasion when he had refused to keep an engagement made in his name by Etta, which was very important indeed, but which he had said would be impossible for him. There too he had spoken of another appointment that he could not break, but which he did not specify more clearly. Etta had told her about it. Funny. . . . Lady Tait turned resolutely to a letter to her solicitors about some property. Claud came in as she was finishing it. She read it to him. But for John, all that she had would have gone to Claud and his sisters. Lady Tait believed in keeping money together in one family if possible. He did not seem to pay much attention and, as a rule, in money matters he was most helpful.

"You're looking poorly, Claud," she said before she thought—thought of her talk with her maid this morning.

"Really? It's a special gift from heaven, then, for I'm feeling uncommonly fit," he answered her rather rudely.

"Something's upset you," she said to that, hoping he would drop some word which might untangle things a little, for she suddenly felt as though, under the surface of life around her, were coils, and knots, and twisted ends.

"Where's John?" he asked, instead of replying.

"Out."

"Back to lunch?" he asked in a casual tone.

"Only for coffee probably."

She could have put off the lunch till two, but, as it happened, the Naylor girls had several times asked her to move her lunch hour, and she had refused. Half past one was the latest at which she herself cared to lunch, and to that she adhered.

"Mrs. Burnham will be there, of course?"

"Of course."

"And—eh—Miss Dundas? I understand that she is staying here with Mrs. Burnham for a while."

So that was it. That explained his interest in the coming meal.

"How did you know she was here?"

"I found her in one of the rooms yesterday afternoon. She told me that she is staying on as a sort of temporary companion to Lucy till the wedding."

"Very temporary, I hope. However, she's out for the day, at a sort of studio she claims to possess somewhere in town. What are you fidgeting so for, Claud?"

"Sorry. I've just thought of something I've forgotten. Be back for lunch." He made for the door.

"You'd better be!" she said firmly, "or I shall begin to think you only looked in to see Miss Dundas."

For Saturday, June 9

The lunar configurations on this day stress the value of earnest effort in employment, with the incentive of enlisting the particular favoritism and preferment of employers and those in authority. Through diligence and steadfastness promotion may be had for the seeking. Writings of an original nature or from strange sources or from a distance seem to add interest and benefit.

Those whose birthday it is are urged to diligence, application and fidelity to employers, superiors or those in authority, should they desire benefits, promotion or preferment at their hands. Writings correspondence, or news of an exceptional nature or in connection with strange adventures seem to thrive.

A child born on this day should be a favorite with its superiors and employers through its cleverness, fidelity or possibly through some peculiar stroke of genius, particularly in literary talents or other original expressions.

CONFIDENT JOCKEY

EPSOM DOWNS, Eng.—Charley Smirke, who rode Windsor Lad to victory in yesterday's Derby, was not bothered overmuch about Colombo, he intimated after the race. "I felt I would win after turning into the straightaway from Tattenham Corner," said the jockey. "Tiberius was the only horse in front of Windsor Lad then and I knew I could go to the front when I desired. Once I had taken the lead, my horse ran wonderfully."

SIX WEEKS WITH SCIATICA

Could Not Sit Down—Even To Eat

Now Recommends Kruschen

Here is an extraordinarily strong recommendation of a remedy for sciatica from one who has suffered the complaint in its most severe form. If you have ever felt the twinges of sciatica, you should certainly read it. If you know anyone who has sciatica, you should tell them about it.

The recommendation comes from Mr. T. P. R. He writes:—"I suffered from sciatica for about six weeks. At times I could not sit or lie down, but had to walk all the time. I could not even sit down to eat. I was told by my neighbour to try Kruschen Salts, which I did, taking a teaspoonful in a tumbler of warm water every morning. When I had taken one-and-a-half bottles the sciatica left me, and I have not felt it since. I owe a lot of thanks to Kruschen."—T. P. R.

The pains of sciatica are a symptom of deeper trouble—the same trouble that causes rheumatism, gout and lumbago. They are a sign of an impure bloodstream. They show that poisons have crept into the blood.

Kruschen is a combination of six natural salts, which ensure internal cleanliness and keep the blood-stream pure. New and refreshed blood is sent coursing to every fibre of your being. Then sciatica and those kindred ills all pass you by.

Kruschen Salts is obtainable at all Drug Stores at 45c. and 75c. per bottle.

Liberals Declare at Rally Held at May's School in North Monaghan.

FERGUSON DICTATION.

The bonded debt of Ontario is more than the combined debt of six other provinces, T. J. Carley stated in an address at May's School last night in support of the candidature of James Hawthorne.

Ontario's debt in 1932 amounted to $577,705,000 as compared with the aggregate debt of $495,122,000 of the provinces of Manitoba, Quebec, Saskatchewan, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick, in the same year, said Mr. Carley who, with Alex L. Elliott, assisted the Liberal candidate in presenting some of the issues in the present provincial campaign.

William Stevens was chairman of the meeting.

"It has been my observation that the Conservatives are the most liberal with other people's money, and the Liberals are the most conservative in the handling of it," Mr. Carley remarked. "It is a remarkable fact that when the Liberals went out of power in Ontario in 1095 leaving only a floating debt of $6,000,000 which they borrowed from the bank for the construction of the T. and N.O. Railway, and with an annual expenditure of only $5,000,000 they have not been given a chance by the people to form a government.

Look back over the record of the Liberal party and you find that the foundation of all our institutions was laid during that regime which closed with the administration under the leadership of Sir George Ross. The Liberals during that long period from 1871 onward had to deal with such questions as provincial rights, the public school system, extension of good roads, the building of institutions for the blind and the deaf and dumb, and yet when they went out of power they left no bonded indebtedness.

Sir James Whitney, who succeeded Sir George Ross, adhered to the general policy of the Ross Government. Whitney belonged to that old school whose policy was to pay as you go. The people of Ontario naturally thought that the new Conservative administration was giving good government, and so it did. And any citizen, regardless of his politics, could be proud of Sir James Whitney's management of public affairs.

Then came the Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, the free spender. We don't object much to men who are spending freely so long as it is their own money, but Howard was spending the people's money. At that time everybody had a few nickels in their pockets instead of the holes that are there now."

Mr. Carley lightly sketched the Ferguson period, remarking that in several elections he was astute enough to retain power by injecting the liquor question into the political campaigns. So as not to be forgotten by posterity, Mr. Ferguson had his picture painted in oil at the public expense, but had its white vest changed to black when he realized in London that white vests were no longer in style; the final production costing some $2,500. And, paraphrasing a verse of poetry from his school days, Mr. Carley applied it to Mr. Ferguson as follows:—

"Among the beautiful pictures
That hang in memory's hall,
Is one of dear old Howard
That cost us most of all."

Even in London, Mr. Ferguson did not release full control of the Conservative Government in this province, Mr. Carley continued, for when Premier Henry was proposing an election last year Mr. Ferguson hurried home and ordered a postponement.

Referring to the Conservative slogan, "Your leader is your policy," and to a statement by Premier Henry to the effect that he was glad that all his supporters in the Legislature thought as he did, Mr. Carley quoted a news item from Germany recounting the control and regimentation of the minds of the German people by Hitler. The heading of the item was "Where all think alike, no one thinks very much." Mr. Carley suggested that this caption applied to the Henry party in the fact that their leader was their politics.

"Mr. Henry and his Cabinet forget that there are thousands of Conservatives who put their own interest and the public interest above that of their leaders, and who won't stand for the reckless expenditure that has been going on. As a Conservative said to me, 'The Liberals turned out the Ross Government, and we'll turn out the Henry Government, and we'll make such a clean job of it that there will be no doubt left'."

Mr. Carley quoted the Liberal pledges to the electorate, and stressed a statement that the choice of government was in the hands of the men and women of the province in marking their ballots on election day.

Mr. Elliott

Mr. Elliott affirmed that the people were entitled to recall the promises made by the Government in its last election. In criticizing the record of the Drury Government, Hon. G. Howard Ferguson said he was appalled at the annual expenditure; but the financial affairs of Ontario during the last ten years indicated that the Drury administration was only a novice in spending as compared with the subsequent record of the Ferguson and Henry governments.

"The cost of carrying on the government of Ontario was $38,000,000 in the year the Drury administration was defeated; but in 1928 under Howard Ferguson this annual cost had increased to $58,000,000. And yet Mr. Ferguson had promised the electors that he would exercise economy after denouncing the previous administration for increasing old taxes and devising new ones.

In 1922 the debt of Ontario was $240,000,000; in 1928 it had grown at $394,000,000; and at the close of the fiscal year of 1933 the debt of the province was almost $600,000,000. In the last three years our debt has increased at the rate of $80,817 a day up to the end October, 1933."

Mr. Elliott pointed out that there was nothing in the capital expenditure which would explain the mounting debt.

"From 1931 onward there has been unemployment and hardship, as you all know. Wages have been seriously reduced, but this Government made no move to introduce a minimum wage bill for men ,or a fair wage law, although they could rush to the aid of the Abitibi bondholders including Premier Henry himself. During those years from 1931 and 1932 the factory worker was left at the mercy of unfair employers, but the Henry Cabinet could immediately increase their salaries as Ministers from $8,000 to $10,000 a year, and Mr. Henry's salary was increased from $12,000 to $14,000."

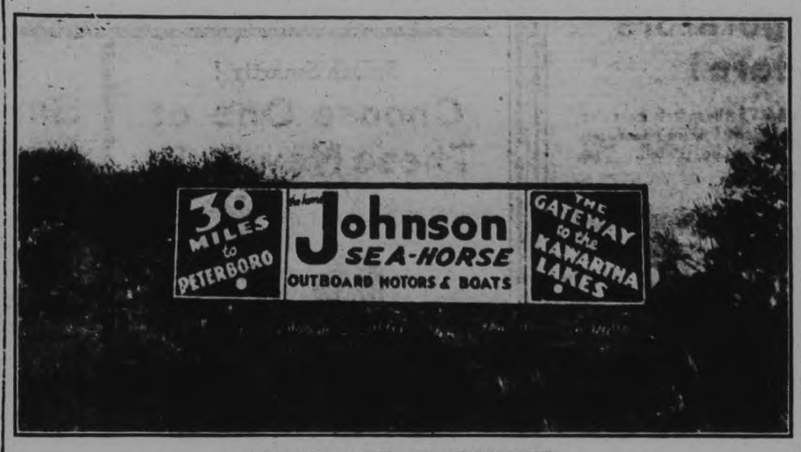
Peterborough Is SureTo Benefit By Road Sign



A SERVICE TO THE WHOLE DISTRICT.

At Welcome, thirty miles from Peterborough, where the Peterborough road meets the through Toronto-to-Montreal Highway, the above new directional road sign has been erected by the Canadian Johnson Motor Company Limited, of this city. All traffic leaving Toronto for Central and Eastern Ontario, Quebec and the Maritimes, passes this point, and a survey shows that approximately only one out of twenty cars turns to Peterborough. Some days approximately 200 cars an hour have been counted. Many of these are Ontario and United States tourists, and of the latter group we must admit many are not aware of being in the proximity of Peterborough and the wonderful Kawartha Lakes vacation ground. A road sign such as this fifty-foot sign, located at such a strategic traffic point, even if it only turns to this district one additional car out of every one hundred passing, means in the course of the season thousands of dollars to not only the merchants of Peterborough but the countryside as a whole, and the Kawartha Lakes district. Such a sign is a great service to a community, and the sponsors are entitled to commendation for their enterprise. Its design and completion was under the supervision of the Horne Ardiel Company, National Advertising Agency, Toronto.

Insull Established C.G.E. In The City

SIGNED PAPERS BETWEEN CITY EDISON COMPANY

Samuel Insull Frequent Visitor to Peterborough in Early 90's.

OLD AGREEMENT.

Although Never Stationed Here Well Known to Business Men of Time.

Samuel Insull, dethroned power king of the middle west who held the spotlight of the world as he fled by land and sea from arrest by American authorities during recent months, was the man responsibe for the establishment of the Canadian General Electric Company in this city fourty-four years ago. This curious fact was recalled as a memorandum of the original agreement between the company, then known as the Edison General Electric, and the town of Peterborough came to light to-day.

The agreement which the Edison company made with the town regarding the establishment of its branch here, dated September 24, 1890, was signed by Insull on behalf of the Edison interests. The late Mayor James Stevenson signed on behalf of Peterborough. Insull, it is believed, made frequent visits to Peterborough during the years subsequent to 1890 as the plant was getting organized, and, although he was never stationed permanently at the Peterborough works, was well known to the town officials and business men of the time.

But none of those who met the austere, close-mouthed Englishman in those days could have dreamed that he was destined one day to build the world's greatest power empire. And little did they guess that one day his fall as a financial giant would rock the world with scandal for then he was merely one of the Edison company's under officials. He signed himself as "Second Vice-president" of the company. Apparently at that stage

TIMBER FIRE IS STILL RAGING

Several Hundred Acres of Valuable Woodland Been Burned Over.

SEEN FOR MILES.

NORWOOD, June 9 (Special to The Examiner).—The timber fire in the centre of Dummer Township, which has been burning since Tuesday and has turned several hundred acres of valuable wood lots in ashes, was raging forward unabated to-day.

Robert Tedford, reeve of township, visited the scene and inspected the course of the fire yesterday in answer to the appeals of owners of threatened wood lots, but it was not learned whether he would order out more fire fighters.

The district through which the fire is raging is so sparsely settled that no homes are endangered, but it represents one of the richest timber areas in the county. Last night the fire could be seen for miles and a great pall of smoke hung over the district.

Revenge

BRANTFORD, Ont., June 9 (CP)—Old Dobbins got into the news this morning, getting revenge on his rival, the auto.. A team of city owned horses, driv- by Amos Wilson, West Brantford, ran away when a headband snapped. They crashed into a car driven by Mrs. William Gillen, Park Avenue, who was badly shaken up. One horse tried climbing over the front of the car, but failed to get a foothold.

Ask Britisher Attend Duce-Hitler Parley

LONDON, June 9.—(A.P.)—Great Britain, it was semi-officially reported to-day, has been invited to send a representative to the disarmament discussion between Chancellor Hitler of Germany and Premier Mussolini of Italy, expected to be held shortly in Venice.

The government was represented as undecided whether to accept. Reports that Sir John Simon, Foreign Secretary, would go were neither confirmed nor denied at the foreign office, where it was indicated the cabinet wants to consult Anthony Eden, Lord Privy Seal and disarmament delegate, before replying.

Since the French announced that their foreign minister, Louis Barthou, will not participate in the Italian conference it was thought possible that Great Britain would not either.

Captain Eden has returned to make his report and may remain here while Sir John Goes to Geneva.

Tots Tied To Bed Parents Arrested

PONTIAC, Mich., June 9 (A.P.).—Raymond De Harrold, 32, and his wife, Maybelle, 26, to-day were bound over to Circuit Court for trial on charges of binding their two children with ropes to the bed and taping their mouths shut.

Each was held under $750 bond. Their arrests followed the discovery of their children, Eugene, 4, and Neoma, 6, alone in the De Harrold home. Officers said the children's hands and feet were bound and tied to a bed. Tape had been affixed to their mouths in "X" fashion.

TWO OTTAWANS LIE NEAR DEATH VICTIMS OF FIRE

Blaze is Believed to Have Followed Violent Explosion in Home.

CAUSE IS UNKNOWN.

Woman Found Unconscious in Yard—Believed Trying to Douse Flames.

OTTAWA, June 9. (CP).— Two persons, a man and his wife, are in hospital with little hope held out for their recovery as the result of burns suffered when fire, preceded by an explosion swept through their home here early to-day.

The injured are: Steve Liscombe, a watch maker, burned about the body.

Mrs. Liscombe, his wife, burned about the feet, back, and head, hospital authorities stated her condition was critical.

Mr. Liscombe, it was stated, slept in the front part of the shop and his wife in the rear. The fire was believed to have started in the part occupied by Liscombe and was preceded by an explosion.

When found by firemen Mr. Liscombe was lying in a laneway near the front of the house and his wife some distance back in the yard. It was thought that they had rolled on the ground in an effort to extinguish the flames in which they were enveloped and were too weak to call out for aid.

The cause of the fire was unknown. It was said to have evidently started from an explosion as it looked to be what is known as a 'flash fire"—over in a few minutes.

2 PROSPECTORS ARE DROWNED

Two Others Reach Shore After Canoe Upsets in Northern Lake.

ON FISHING TRIP.

KENORA, June 9 (C.P.). — Two survivors of a drowning tragedy that claimed the lives of their companions in Dogtooth Lake, southeast of here, to-day told a harrowing story of their fight for life after the waves had overturned their canoe.

The drowned men were Thomas Barket and Grant McKay, Winnipeg prospectors. The two who managed to reach the shore were Fred and William Gubbins, brothers, also of Winnipeg. The Gubbins brothers, holidaying in the Lake of the Woods country, were fishing on Dogtooth Lake on Thursday, and met Barker and McKay. The two prospectors took them to a part of the lake where the fish were biting.

In attempting to round a point, quartette were riding was caught broadside-on by a wave and overturned. All four managed to hang on to the upturned boat for some time, and then the two Gubbins swam to shore. Barker and McKay attempted the chilly swim, but succumbed before reaching the banks.

Cold and miserable in their sodden garments, the Gubbins brothers made their way to an unemployment relief camp and told of the tragedy. Ontario police from Kenora were notified and recovered the bodies of the drowned prospectors.

Barket, who was to have been married shortly, had lived in Winnipeg for 15 years, and is survived by his father, mother, brother and sister in England. McKay leaves a widow.

FOUND IN RIVER

NEW YORK, June 9 (CP)—Police are mystified to-day concerning the identity of a grey bearded man whose body was found floating in the East River yesterday.

In a pocket was found a medal bearing the inscription "For King and Empire, service rendered."

A letter in another pocket is being checked with a woman in Pawtucket, R.I., as it bore her signature. It was addressed simply, "Dear Daddy," and bore the name "John McLaughlin."

Missionary Held For $35,000 By Chinese Pleads Anew For Aid By Wife, U.S. Gov't.

HANKOW, China, June 9.—(AP)—A cry for help came today from the Rev. Howard Smith, United States missionary held by bandits in the mountain fastnesses of Kweichow province.

In a letter to his wife: He asked her to have the United States government try again for his release.

In the meantime she should maintain his insurance "without fail," the letter warned.

The missionary, who was kidnapped by the bandits a month ago, wrote that he was well treated.

The letter bore the mark "somewhere in Kweichow," indicating the outlaws have been travelling widely to elude possible followers. The kidnapping took place in Szechwan province, across the Yangtse River.

He is in the hands of the notorious renegade, General Ho Lung, who demands $35,000 cash and $3,500 in medical supplies.

STEEL WORKERS REVOLT AGAINST PLAN FOR PEACE

Will Present Own Proposals to Roosevelt, Then Prepare to Fight.

DONE WITH JOHNSON.

Officials Fear General Strike Will "Hog-tie" Recovery Drive.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—(A.P.)—Amid a roar of bitterness, steel union insurgents revolted to-day against a plan for peace in the United States' steel industry approved by Hugh S. Johnson and the employers.

They swore to see President Roosevelt to-day, present him a plan of their own and then hurry home "prepared to fight."

The threat of a steel strike, which many officials fear would hog-tie the recovery drive, seemed still ominous.

About the plan for a peace board to settle capital-labor fights— a plan which Johnson said he "practically prescribed" and which the steel masters accepted last night—the International president of the Steel Union, Michael F. Tighe, remained silent.

Battle Grows Bitter.

Johnson and the insurgents whaled away at each other—using such phrases as "hell and bluff" and "damnable."

FALL OFF AUTO FATAL TO GIRL

Succumbs in Lindsay Hospital With Broken Neck After Mishap Near Fenelon Falls.

ENTRANCE PUPIL.

LINDSAY, Ont., June 9.—(CP)—Muriel Wray, rural entrance pupil, broke her neck and fractured her skull when she fell backwards from the running board of a friend's car after school Friday and died in the hospital here last night without regaining consciousness.

Remaining after school to study her exams, the girl had walked to within sight of her home, east of Fenelon falls when friends came along in a car and offered her a ride. She decided to stand on the running board of the car as she was so near home. As the car started, and before it was in high gear, the door flew open in some manner and the girl fell backwards on the road.

The girl's mother died only last Christmas and there are 10 brothers and sisters surviving. An inquest is not definite.

WORLD WHEAT WAR

PITTSFIELD, Ill., June 9. — (C.P.).—It costs money to sell hard liquor in this town. City Council decreed that the yearly license fee should be $3,000, believing it to be the highest in the United States. A beer license is only $100. The population is 2,400.

MRS. JOHN WEST STRUCK BY CAR

Victim Suffers Extensive Head Injuries Crossing at George and Perry Streets.

RUSHED TO HOSPITAL.

Mrs. John G. West, 132 Perry street, sustained extensive head injuries when she was knocked down and run over by an automobile driven by William Floyd, 21 Brioux street, shortly before 2.30 p.m. this afternoon.

The accident occurred at the intersection of George and Perry streets, just as Mrs. West was crossing the street after alighting from a south-bound bus. She was conveyed to Thomas Littlefair's shoe store nearby, where John Barnes, senior officer of the local division of St. John's Ambulance Brigade, rendered first aid. Dr. T. G. Loudon, who was summoned, ordered the removal of the injured woman to Nicholls Hospital.

City police investigated the accident and reported that the driver was extremely upset as a result of the accident.

Northern Bush Fire Burns Wolf, 4 Deer

MATTAWA, Ont., June 9.— (C. P.)—A bush fire which raged near Klock for three days destroyed a settler's stable and garage, the latter containing a complete outfit of household effects, it was learned to-day.

The blaze was so fierce that one wolf and four deer were burned to death and a number of rabbits horribly scorched. Highway workers sent here to fight the fire came upon the suffering rabbits and put them out of their misery.

It was believed the animals, crazed by the thick smoke and intense heat, ran headlong into the path of the fire, which covered a seven-mile stretch. Their carcasses were found by the fire-fighters.

Governor Of Shansi Marshal Yen Dies

SHANGHAI, June 9.—(C.P.-Havas)—The death of Field Marshal Yen Hsi-Shan, governor of Shans province and one of China's' most celebrated war lords, was announced today. Famous for his ability as an administrator, the general was reported to be one of the few war lords who succeeded in reducing his army and diminishing the crushing burden of military taxes the civilian population of China has been compelled to bear. His army of 200,000 men was being scaled down to 100,000.

From the beginning of the revolution late in 1911 the general was known as the "model governor" of China. He kept his province out of civil war, built highways, increased educational facilities, reforested many thousand acres of barren land and carried out many other constructive works.

HIGH EXPLOSIVE FOUND IN OFFICE SUB CHANCELLOR

Discovery Throws Officials in Turmoil—All Public Building Guarded.

3 BRIDGES WRECKED.

Dollfuss Fascist Policeman Slain, Second Wounded by Raiding Party.

VIENNA, June 9 (A.P.).—A bomb was discovered to-day above the offices of Prince Ernst von Starhemberg, Vice-Chancellor of Austria, in the Chancelery on the famous Ballhausplatz. The offices were thrown into a turmoil.

The bomb was discovered in a desk in an unused office. Authorities said it was found only by accident.

Increased police protection was rushed to all public buildings and further acts of violence were expected.

In addition to a long series of other bomb outrages throughout the country, the high pressure water pipes feeding the turbines of the electric power plant at Bergenz were wrecked by a bomb explosion, and the electric train service was paralyzed in parts of Vorarlberg.

Three Bridges Wrecked.

(By Warner—A.P. Foreign Staff).

VIENNA, June 9 (A.P.).—Opponents of the Dollfuss regime continued to defy the gallows to-day by bombing three separate railway lines, endangering numerous lives and disrupting transportation.

The bomb explosions occurred despite the fact that railway lines throughout Austria are closely watched and orders have been issued guards to "shoot without warning" at anyone approaching lines after dark.

The crack Vienna-Salzburg-Paris express narrowly escaped disaster early this morning near Vieckla-bruck, when the railroad bridge was dynamited 10 minutes before the train was scheduled to cross it.

Another bridge was bombed near Semmering, temporarily interrupting railway connections between Vienna and the nearby mountain resort.

The third railway bomb tore up tracks near Krems, in lower Austria, 30 miles north-west of Vienna.

Unidentified persons fired at a Fascist auxiliary police patrol near Kitzbuehel, killing one and injuring another.

Two auxiliary policemen, belonging to the 'Sturmscharen,' a Catholic organization, were shot and killed near Passlung railway station to-day when they surprised a party in an attempt to sabotage the railbed. The plotters fired on the policemen and fled.

In The Sticks

CORBEIL, Ont., June 9 (CP) —Letters from well-wishers,-would-be advisers and the curious have come to Dr. A. R. Dafoe, physician attending the Dionne quintuplets since their birth, May 28. But the "prize" of the lot found its way to the country practitioner last night. It was addressed:

"The Doctor in Charge of Quintuplets,
North Woods,
Canada."

It came from Harrisburg, Ohio.

LORD LONSDALE ADMITS HE ONCE HELD UP STAGE

Sets England Agog by Story of Denver Cowboy Days of '74.

NOT AN EARL THEN.

Lord Lieutenant of Cumberland Chuckles Over Memories as He Watches London Rodeo.

(By Albert W. Wilson, Associated Press Staff Writer)

LONDON, June 9 (AP)—After setting England agog by confessing that he once helped hold up a Denver stage coach, the Earl of Lonsdale went to a rodeo to-day.

He contemplated the cow-punchers' flirtations with death through the smoke of a series of long cigars and chuckled over his own life as a cowboy back in the days when the West was wild and woolly.

At a banquet for the cow-punchers yesterday he revealed the great secret of his life—that he helped in a stick-up of the Denver stage coach in 1874.

"My life," said the 77-year-old Earl," was like these kids and I just can't get enough of their tricks with ropes, horses and steers."

Tells of Adventure

He sat back in his chair and told between smoke puffs of his adventurous youth.

The deal has much in his life which he can contemplate with satisfaction. He may be spoken of as Col. Hugh Cecil Lowther, under which name but without the military title, he chaperoned cows in the Far West.

To-day he is Lord Lieutenant Cumberland and Custos Rotulorum, Hereditary Admiral of the Coasts of Cumberland, Westmoreland, and Lord Warden of the West Marches; Honorary Colonel of the First Cum-

TROTSKY, STILL IN FRANCE, SEES MASS UPRISING OF PEOPLE NEAR

ASKS UNITED FRONT.

By PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

ST. DENIS, June 9—Leon Trotsky hasn't left France after all. The combined protests of the socialists and Liberal press and the monster mass meetings in Paris against what was called "a violation of the ancient tradition that has made France a place of refuge for all political exiles" has made the government withdraw its expulsion-order for the time being. For a few days the battle for and against Trotskys' expulsion waxed bitter and furious in the press, the Communist dailies' curiously enough, being loudest in their denunciations of the creator and former commander of the Red army.

The interview published a few weeks ago, wherein Trotsky told me that Stalin was "leading the Soviet Union straight to perdition" which had come to the attention of the Communists here, formed the basis of an attack on him from his former "comrades," who now refer to him disdainfully as "Monsieur Trotsky, the reactionary, counter-revolutionary publicity-hunter."

Trotsky no longer lives in Barbizon however. He is "the warden of the French working-class" and

The Weather

TORONTO, June 9 (Synopsis).—Pressure is high to the southward of Nova Scotia, over the north-west states and on the British Columbia coast, and low over the lake region, Hudson Straits and to the northward of Manitoba. The weather has been cool in nearly all parts of Canada, and showers have occurred locally from Alberta eastward to Quebec.

Lower Lake Region and Georgian Bay—Partly cloudy and warm to-day and Sunday; probably a few local thunderstorms; moderate south-east to south-west winds.

Northern Ontario—Unsettled with showers or local thunderstorms to-day and part of Sunday.

Ottawa and Upper St. Lawrence Valley—Partly cloudy and warm to-day and Sunday; probably a few local thunderstorms; moderate south-east to south-west winds.

ROOSEVELT ASKS 525 MILLIONS DROUGHT RELIEF

Required For Loans, Feed Farmers, Stock, Re-locate Destitute Families.

PURCHASE 1935 SEED.

Wheat Crop Prospects Lowest in 41 Years—Hay Shortage Acute.

By FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON

WASHINGTON, June 9.—(AP) — President Roosevelt asked the United States Congress today for $525,000,000 to finance the drought relief program the administration already has undertaken.

"Large scale assistance by the federal government is necessary to protect people in the stricken regions from suffering, to move feed to livestock, and livestock to feed, and to acquire and process surplus cattle to provide meat for relief distribution," he said in a message to Congress.

Absolute freedom for the administration to spend the money as it saw fit was asked.

"We are dealing with a rapidly changing problem and it is important that the authorization should be flexible so that funds can be allotted to the several federal agencies as required," the president said.

Where the Money Will Go

He detailed the proposed relief expenditures as follows:

1. $125,000,000 for special work program and human relief.
2. $75,000,000 for livestock purchase in addition to the funds already available under the Jones-Conally Act.
3. $100,000,000 for shipping, processing and relief distribution of purchased cattle.
4. $100,000,000 for loans to farmers to finance emergency feed purchases and shipments.
5. $50,000,000 for emergency acquisition of sub-marginal farms and assistance in re-locating destitute farm families.
6. $50,000,000 for work camps to afford employment in the drought

CHIEF REPLIES TO GEO. LEADER

Duty of Citizens to Tell Police Where Bootleggers Doing Business.

INFORMER NOT SUMMONED.

"My attention has been called to the remarks made by George Leader at a local political meeting this week during which, in attacking the Liquor Control Act, he said his information was that there are twelve speakeasies on Hunter street alone" Chief Constable Samuel Newhall told The Examiner today."

"If George Leader or any other law-abiding citizens knows of the location of any speakeasies I think it is his duty as a citizen to inform the police" continued the Chief. "It is only through the co-operation of citizens that police can properly fulfil their duties. If Mr. Leader will come forward with his information to me he will get instant action in the arrest of these bootleggers and, as in all such cases, the informer will not appear in the case at all.

"I earnestly request the supplying of such information by citizens, because the police are so busy on other duties and the force is so small that I can not post men out to watch speakeasies without some definite information to go upon. I hope Mr. Leader and others who make such charges will come forward and that they will do their part in seeing that the conditions which they describe may be cleaned up."

Very Successful Conservative Rally is Held in Douro Hall.

ANSWERS HAWTHORNE.

Thomas F. Battle is Special Speaker for Mr. Lancaster.

Thomas F. Battle, K.C., of Toronto who figured as special Crown prosecutor in the Jackson murder trial, last evening addressed an enthusiastic meeting at Douro on behalf of T. P. Lancaster, Conservative candidate.

Reeve Frank D. Leahy presided, while others on the platform also included, S. S. Joyce of Havelock, J. A. Sexsmith, ex-Federal member; Reeve Richard Sanderson, of Havelock and ex-Warden W. Montgomery of Norwood.

River Road

Mr. Lancaster giving the electors an account of his stewardship as their representative touched upon increased government subsidies on township roads that he had been the means of securing for townships in the county. While the subsidy to most of the townships was minimum of 40 per cent, Mr. Lancaster stated, he had succeeded in getting 50 per cent for Douro on the understanding that the township was to maintain the River Road. He as much as intimated that, the township would have to look to the upkeep of river road if they desired to continue getting dollar for dollar on road expenditures.

"The sooner we get away from direct relief so much the better," Mr. Lancaster stated in commenting on the physical and moral benefits which workers on the highway camps are receiving.

Answers Hawthorne

Taking exception to a statement reported to have been made by James Hawthorne at a recent Liberal meeting, to the effect that the government had refused to assist townships and counties on road work, while the government is now filling in ditches, Mr. Lancaster

AID PROMISED THOSE HEADED BACK TO LAND

Premier Also Pledges No Modern Machinery to be Used on Relief Projects.

FULL BENEFIT FOR NEEDY.

Strict Observation of Local Option Privileges to be Continued.

OWEN SOUND, Ont., June 9. — (C.P.).—Prepared to expand its "back to the land" development scheme, the Ontario Government is ready to give a "lift" to those anxious to return to the farm, Premier George S. Henry has assured the electorate of Ontario.

The Premier, speaking last night at a meeting on behalf of Newton Cooper, Conservative candidate in North Grey, intimated a survey would be made to determine the number of persons anxious to move back and earn a living on the land. These people, he said, had found it impossible to earn a living in the cities and towns and would appreciate the opportunity to return to an industry in which they are experienced.

Assurance also was given by the Premier no modern machinery would be used in unemployment relief projects as long as he remained head of the Conservative Government, which he claimed had been criticized for its failure to use modern facilities in its highway work. The Premier defended the Government's policy and said it was the only way in which needy men would derive full benefit from the Government expenditures.

"No Election Manifesto

Premier Henry again criticized Liberal Leader Mitchell F. Hepburn for his failure to issue an election manifesto and advise the people how his party stood regarding the diferent issues at Stake. He charged Hepburn with going around the province "making promises to every man and woman" and said the Liberal party never would be able to fulfill all the promises being made by its leaders.

No promises were being made by him, the Premier said, and in all his speeches he reviewed the past record of his government. "If it is any evidence of what I can do for you in the future you'll vote for your Conservative candidate" Premier Henry added.

Details of amendments to the Liquor Control Act were stressed by the speaker as not breaking away from the government's policy of strict control over liquor sales. And he assured residents of the "dry" riding of North Grey, "as long as I am Premier of the province the government will maintain just as strict observation of the local option privilege."

From here the Premier left for his own riding of East York where he will adress meetings to-night at Agincourt and Unionville.

HEPBURN ENDS HIS CAMPAIGN THROUGH EAST

Enlarges Scope of Criticisms —Points to Extra $450,000,000 Federal Debt.

ADDED IN FOUR YEARS.

Endorses St. Lawrence Seaway Principle, But Claims Time Not Ripe.

RENFREW, Ont., June 9.—(CP)—The Eastern Ontario election campaign of Mitchell F. Hepburn, Ontario Liberal leader, is complete. Following a slashing attack on the record of Premier George S. Henry, Mr. Hepburn left last night for Toronto and the final stage of the campaign.

Speeches were made here and at Eganville today on the eve of the Liberal leader's deprture from Dominion politics. Mr. Hepburn told the audience here his resignation as a member of the Dominion Parliament was in the hands of Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the opposition.

His activities in the provincial field would have their repercussions in the Dominion arena, however, Mr. Hepburn declared. A victory for Ontario leaders would, he claimed lead to a federal election within a few months.

Administration expenses of the Henry government were again the object of condemnation. These expenses, he declared, would be reduced by 50 percent under a Liberal administration and the saving could be used in keeping men at work.

Mr. Hepburn's criticism was not confined to the Ontario field.

"During my four years in opposition," he said, "I have witnessed a sharp increase in the federal debt by nearly $450,000,000. Taxes were put on sugar, boots, clothes and everything else when the sales tax was restored to six percent, making your dollar worth only 94 cents.

YOUR GROCER WILL HELP YOU KEEP HEALTHY AND HAPPY

Delicious Cereal Promotes Regular Habits

The right kinds of foods form the very basis of health. You need nourishment for strength and energy. And you need "bulk" to prevent common constipation.

Otherwise, this ailment may cause headaches, loss of appetite and energy. You can correct it, usually, by eating a delicious cereal.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN adds generous "bulk" to your daily menu. Tests show this "bulk" is similar to that found in leafy vegetables.

Inside the body, the fiber of ALL-BRAN absorbs moisture, and forms a soft mass. Gently, this clears out the intestinal wastes.

ALL-BRAN is also a good source of vitamin B and iron.

Isn't it safer—and pleasanter—to enjoy this food in place of taking patent medicines?

Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily will overcome most types of common constipation. Chronic cases, with each meal. If seriously ill, see your doctor. ALL-BRAN makes no claim to be a "cure-all."

Serve ALL-BRAN as a cereal with milk or cream, or cook into fluffy muffins and breads.

Remember, Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is all bran with only necessary flavoring added. It contains much more needed "bulk" than part-bran products. Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

Second Hurricane Approaches as San Salvador is Flattened by First.

HONDURAS SUFFERS.

Crop Loss is Heavy — Little Word From Interior, Lines Are Down.

SAN SALVADOR, Salvador, June 9 (By Pan-American Airways Wireless, A.P.). — A new tropical disturbance roared to-day toward the coast of Central America, battered for the past two days by destructive hurricanes.

A wireless despatch from the weather station at Merida, Yucatan, Mexico, said a storm centre had formed in the Gulf of Mexico and was moving toward the Central American east coast.

The North American Continent, apparently, will not encounter the storms which have lashed Central America.

Communication service was badly crippled by strong winds and heavy rains which accompanied the hurricane. Preliminary reports indicated eight were killed in Salvador and property damage might reach as high as $2,000,000.

A despatch from Mexico, D.F., said six persons were killed in the crash of an airplane, possibly caught by heavy winds on the edge of the hurricane, in Chiafas State.

Severe damage, it was learned, was caused in Honduras by rains and wind. Transportation service was cut off.

San Salvador, one of Latin-America's most modern capitals despite the city's age, was under martial law to prevent looting as the government pressed relief work.

The storm abated somewhat yesterday after hundreds were made homeless in the city and its vicinity. Fears were felt for inhabitants of interior, from whom little word was received. Crop damage was heavy. The city spent the night without light or power.

REABORO BRANCH GUESTS AT OMEMEE

Women's Institute Holds Social at Home of Mrs. W. McQuade.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

OMEMEE, June 9. — A very pleasant afternoon was spent by the members of the Women's Institute on Thursday afternoon, June 7, at the home of Mrs. W. McQuade. About 72 ladies were present, including the members of the Reaboro branch, who were the guests of the local branch for the happy ocasion.

This was followed by a reading by Mrs. S. Calvert, entitled "When You and I were Young, Maggie." Mrs. B. McNevin then rendered a vocal solo with guitar accompaniment.

Miss Harriet Graydon of Streetsville, a government speaker, was introduced to the audience, and gave a practical talk on "Health." Miss Harriett went into detail on the subjects of nervousness and high and low blood pressure.

Mrs. Fred Hickson favored the ladies with a humorous reading. Mrs. S. Calvert tendered a vote of thanks to the speaker and to this branch for the prosperous afternoon that they had spent.

A delicious lunch of cake and sandwich was served by the members and the ladies felt that this was a most successful event.

Christ Church Guild.

The members of the Guild of Christ Church met in the basement of the church on Thursday afternoon, June 6th. About 25 ladies were present, and the president, Mrs. Nurse, presided. Two quilts were quilted after which Miss Mabel Thorn and Miss Essie Woods served lunch.

Hydro Commission.

The members of the Hydro Commission met Wednesday evening in the council chamber, with all members present except Dr. McPhee. A number of accounts were authorized and ordered paid and the supervisor, L. Morcombe, was given authority to go ahead with some needed repairs in the line. Mr. Morcombe reported completion of the work of replacing a steel wire on the system with a new copper wire doing away with some considerable loss of power. The meeting was ajourned to meet again the first Wednesday in July.

MARMORA MAN INJURED IN MISHAP AT GARAGE

MARMORA, June 9 (Examiner Correspondence).—An accident of a peculiar nature befel Joe Dale on Wednesday evening. He had just given Eugene Phillips air for his car when the latter, in backing to the gas pump, collided with the air tower, breaking it off at the base.

The tower struck Joe a blow on the head, stunning him for a while. At the time he had the air tester in his hand, and in his fall he ruptured a blood vessel of the index finger. He received medical attention from Dr. Victoria Wellman.

IRELAND, COOKE RALLY CROWDS MARMORA HALL

West Hastings Candidate Points to New Road Work in District.

GREAT TOURIST CARD.

Hydro Electric Best Barometer of Industrial Improvement Available Says Cooke.

(Examiner Correspondence)

MARMORA, June 9.—In the interests of the candidature of W. H. Ireland, Conservative candidate for West Hastings, a rally was held at Marmora Town Hall on Friday evening. The large audience was representative of Marmora village and township and the northern part of Rawdon township. The chair was taken by ex-Warden G. B. Airhart.

Dr. A. T. Embury, M.P. was the opening speaker. He conveyed a messageof optimism for the chances of the Conservative candidate in the northern part of the riding and said that the Liberals were not mentioning the Hon. J. R. Cooke's name in the north for they would not run the risk of being put off the platform. He considered also that Mr. Ireland's' chances were good in the other parts of the riding "I am absolutely in favor of the Henry government", said the speaker" in the face of anything the Liberal party may have to place in its place".

Howard Graham, K.C. of Trenton who succeeded, said he was struck with the character of the arguments put forth by the opposition. With the exception of the short U. F. O. regime the province had seen thirty years of Conservative government. Before the Conservatives first came into power, education was not so widely extended throughout the province as today. Yet the opposition was handing out statements which no sane thinker could swallow. The expenditures had only increased because of the work the government has done for the people. "The costs of administration have been decreased. Ask the opposition how they can be further decreased", was his parting shot.

W. H. Ireland

"Bill" Ireland next addressed the meeting. He referred to the past cooperation between himself and Mr. Cooke for the good of the county. Touching upon taxation, he remarked that no taxation went direct from any municipality to the government, but rather through services. He stoutly upheld the policy of his party on road construction and drew attention to the fact that Marmora should get good results in the tourist traffic through the new highway opening up the good scenery. He also briefly alluded to the restocking of local waters. Paying a tribute to the Hon. J. R. Cooke, he said the latter had risen to a high position in the province, not through a political pull, but because he had the 'stuff.' The Liberals cannot agree how to form a government among themselves if

Fourteen Lilies

CAMPBELLFORD, June 9 (Examiner Staff Correspondence). — Fourteen beautiful red lilies on five stalks, each flower four inches across, and the plant over fifty-four years old, is one of the pretty floral sights to be seen at Campbellford, on the verandah of the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Rusell, of Centre Street. Blooming earlier this year than is customary, the plant is a picture, with perfectly formed flowers, a-dazzle in the sun. And there are still six more stalks, full of buds, which are now ready to bloom. The plait belonged for many years to Mr. Russell's mother, who when she died fifty-two years ago, gave it to her son, who has tended it ever since. It blooms regularly every year, but this season the blooms are more profuse and beautiful than usual.

Have You, The "Can't Afford It" Habit ?

THE use of that phrase does not suggest the inability to buy so much as the desire to practice rigid economy ... to save ... to deny yourself needed and necessary commodities.

But Man, oh Man, and you, too, Madam, how better and more effectively can you practice economy and thrift than to buy when prices are at their lowest ebb in years? How more certainly can you insure economy than to replace worn or out-of-date furniture than when new is selling for one-third of what it sold for 15 years ago? Or to stock up on food products when they are 40% less than at any time since the war? Or clothing when $53 to-day will buy you what you paid $100 for in 1912?

What you really cannot afford to do is not buy because you cannot afford to miss to-day's low levels.....prices that are an actual boon to reduced incomes.....to the practice of sensible, far-sighted economy.

The Golden Text

Hebrews 12: 2—"Looking unto Jesus the author and perfector of our faith, who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising shame, and hath sat down at the right hand of the throne of God."

Sabbath Message For The Shut-Ins

Written for The Examiner by the Ministers of the City.

GOD'S FAITHFUL PROMISE.

(Rev. Gordon R. Duncan, B.D., Minister of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Warkworth.)

"He hath said, I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee."—Heb. xiii:5.

WHEN Moses was handing over the charge of his people to his successor, Joshua, he first said to the people and then to Joshua, "Be strong and of good courage. . . . He will never leave thee nor forsake thee." The writer of the Epistle to the Hebrews falls back upon these words with a slight alteration, and turns "He" into "I," simply because he recognized that when Moses spoke, God was speaking through him, and countersigns with his own seal the promise which His servant made in His name.

The revised version of the Scriptures substitutes for "leave me," "I will not fail thee." We might even in our every-day modern language say, "I will never drop thee." Never let His hand slacken, never withdraw His sustaining power, but will communicate forever, day and night, not only the strength but the conscious security that comes from feeling that great, strong, gentle hand closing you round and keeping you tight. "No man can pluck thee out of My Father's hand." There is Peter out there on the sea, and as he feels the cold water coming up above his ankle and sees it rising higher and higher, he begins to fear, and his fear makes him heavier, so that he sinks the faster, and he cries out, "Lord, save me." The Lord's outstretched hand saves him, and he walked till he was helped into the boat again. So will God do for you, if you will, for He has said, "I will never relax My grasp. Nothing shall ever come between My hand and thine."

In this world all human helps may fail, and all human love have its limits, but God's hand never slackens its grasp, and you may be sure that He will hold you when you have committed yourself unto Him.

But there is another form to this promise, "I will never drop thee." That promises sustaining strength according to all your needs. No, "He will never forsake thee." The tottering limbs need to be held up. The lonely soul walking along life's lonely way, lonely after severed companionships, suffering in the depths of sorrow, that human sympathy cannot sound, that soul may have a divine companion. Surely this is a word for the solitary—those who have been called upon to walk the lonely road in a great darkness, and to live lives little understood, little sympathized with by others. Dear ones, go and take half our hearts with them. People little understand us. We feel that we dare not open out our whole selves to any. "We feel that, just as scientists tell us, that no two atoms of the most solid body are in actual juxtaposition, but that there is a film of air between them, and hence all bodies are more or less elastic, if sufficient pressure be applied," so after the closest companionship there is a film. But that film makes no separation between God and us. "I will not drop thee." There is the strength according to the every need. "I will not forsake thee." There is a companionship in all our solitude.

YOUR PROBLEMS

Religious and Social Questions Answered
By DR. WYLIE CLARK

Are the Christians of to-day keeping Christ from coming into direct contact with the needs of the world?—D. K.

It is through those who believe in Him that Christ reaches the conditions of the world. He Himself said: "As the Father sent me even so send I you." That is, we are speaking and acting for Him. As we reveal Him, the world sees Him and His purpose for the future. The real question is, How are the Christians of to-day meeting and handling the problems of the world?

Dr. Wylie Clark

What is the Christian attitude to war, poverty, unemployment, drink, greed, selfishness and human misery?

We are not by any means too energetic or determined that the principles of the teachings of Christ shall be applied to these world conditions for their cure.

A surgeon's knife is not any use half a mile or half an inch away from the diseased part. Neither is Christianity any use unless it comes into direct contact with the sorrows of the world as Christ did when He was here on earth.

What is known of the Isle of Patmos?—J. R.

It is a volcanic island of the Sporades group in the Greek Archipedlago. The Romans used it as a place of exile for the lower class of criminals. John was banished there by the Emperor Domitian. Tradition says, "He was there at hard labor for 18 months and had his revelations in a cave."

In 1088 a monastery was founded in connection with the cave by a monk named Christodulus.

They show what is claimed to be the embalmed body of John.

Who are lobbyists and what are they trying to do?—U. N. S.

Lobbyists are people who seek to influence the voters of a legislature or council or any deliberative body. They have no rights in the hall to debate or speak on the question under discussion, so they meet the members in the lobbies, and endeavor to persuade or bribe them to vote in certain ways which will benefit the lobbyists or those for whom they are working. Much legislation is secured in this way.

What kind of government will we have in Canada in twenty years from now?—G. C.

The way we are going means the end of party government before very long. We may have a Union government, like Great Britain, for a time, which will try to pull us out of our difficulties, and then will come government by a commission.

Of course, in all estimates of what is going to happen in the future, there is a large element of guesswork. Conditions in the next twenty years may change so differently from what we might expect that all our speculations will be very far away from what will actually happen.

It is a good thing to keep on guessing; some one may make the right guess and thus help to solve the problem.

Is it true that there is a moral liberalism in our midst which is acting as a cancer on our standards of living?—N. E. R.

We are supposed to be living in a broadminded age. We dread to be accused of being narrow or old-fashioned in our thinking or ways of acting. This has produced a liberalism towards the whole of human relationships quite different from the days of our grandfathers and even of our fathers.

This change had to come because it was necessary in the progress of truth that liberty of thought and the right to develop should find freedom from any hindering bondage of the past which was retarding the advancement of what was called civilization.

The natural result was that this liberalism went far too far, some think. They see not only things cleared up, but the destruction of old and sacred traditions and in their anxiety they are foreseeing the overthrow of all old standards of thought and behavior.

In all sifting processes the sieve does its work of separation—that which is worth while is retained and the rest is rejected.

The cancer is not going to win; it will be cut out and cast away.

Cathedral Musings

IN the kingdom of the starry realms there are no titles or dignities, but there are lesser or greater Servants. Each serves according to his capacity. Some may be more fitted in certain ways than others, but each does what he can in pure unselfish love. As one grows in knowledge and wisdom, as one evolves in comprehension of the laws, so does one's responsibilities to others increase. To obtain more light one must give light to others, according to their need and to their capacity to receive. That is the occult law, the casting of the mystical bread upon the waters. Hence any man desiring to enter the kingdom of heaven frustrates his own purpose if he be intent only on his own salvation. Before he can enter the mystic realm he must grow to a point where his own progress is of little account to himself, as long as there are others whom he can help upon the Path. To attain a true purity of heart one's inmost motives must necessarily be wholly pure and free of the least taint of self. For in the last analysis, self, the lower mortal self, must die. For there are two crucifixions in the evolvement of the soul. First, there is the crucifixion of the soul upon the physical body, and secondly, the long and slow crucifixion of the lower animal consciousness, extending through many, many lives, until at last the Immortal Rose blooms in its wondrous perfection. For we are not as we seem. The outer man as known to his fellows is but as a wisp of smoke, a bubble of foam eddying in the stream of life; but the inner man when he is united with his God is eternal. For the Light that lighteth every man is the real life of that man, and endureth forever; for it is the Eternal Logos of God.—Frater IX., Rosicrucian Order, San Jose, Calif.

It is the part of wisdom in the care of the body to protect, preserve and develop our vital energies.

Religion is News

ON Easter Monday one New York newspaper carried twenty-four feet and eight inches of religious news. This was exclusive of stories descriptive of Easter parades and festivities. A comparable amount of space was given to religious news in other metropolitan newspapers and in the press all over the country.

Of course, religion does not get so much space every day in the year. But as there are 1,911 daily morning and evening newspapers published in the United States, some of which devote a weekly page to the subject, it would probably be safe to say that the amount of linear space given to religious news during a week averages at least a mile.

All of which is by way of preface to the fact that what has been described as the biggest scoop of its kind, Charles Dickens' "The Life of Our Lord," the serial rights to which belong to the United Feature Syndicate, has been published by more than one-fourth of the daily newspapers of the country.

The total circulation of American papers publishing the Life is 12,000,000, which includes a 10 per cent. increase since publication of the famous serial. The increase in circulation ranged from 5 per cent. in some cases to 20 per cent. in others. One New York newspaper reported an increase of 45,000, and an Oregon paper reported an increase of 3,000. Many newspaper readers who had not read the first installments when they appeared besieged newspaper offices for the back numbers. In one case 68,000 people asked for bindings, made by the paper, in which to preserve the serial as it was clipped from tphe paper day by day.

A large part of the popular interest in the serial is due, undoubtedly, to the fact that Dickens wrote it. Yet it is probably equally true that many read the Life because of its intrinsic worth. This is the view accepted by the United Feature Syndicate, which is now selling the serial rights to "Statesmanship and Religion," by Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace. Another syndicate is planning to offer serial publication of "The Modern American Bible," a translation edited by Dr. Edgar J. Goodspeed of the University of Chicago.—Literary Digest.

MASONIC PICNIC SET FOR JUNE 27

Picnic Will be Held at Rotary Camp—Take Boat at Lakefield at 2.30.

COMMITTEES NAMED

Members of the Corinthian, Peterborough and Royal Arthur lodges will join forces for a Masonic picnic trip to the Rotary Camp on Clear Lake on Wednesday, June 27. The men will go to Lakefield by automobile and complete the journey to the camp by steamer.

Leaving the Masonic Hall in Peterborough at 1.30 o'clock in the afternoon, the party will embark at Lakefield at 2.30 p.m. One stop will be at Young's Point at 3.30 on the way up. The program will include games, supper in the camp dining room and a cruise around the lakes before the return is made.

With the retirement of C. J. Ray from the post, W. L. Ferguson has been chosen new chairman of the Masonic Picnic Commitee. The committees responsible for the picnic arrangements are as follows: Advertising, Wilson Craw and Fred Hills; sports, Walter Fitzgerald, Alex Sollitt and Fred Reed menu, Doug Loomis and J. Turnbull; transportation, F. Turner and Louis Ingram; tickets, W. C. Hughes, A. Sollitt, M. Hardill, Fred Hills and Doug Loomis.

Jesus on the Cross
Scripture—Matthew 27:1-66
By the Rev. Alvin E. Bell And Alfred J. Buescher

The peril of avarice is seen in Judas whose love for money led him to betray his Master for thirty pieces of silver. Seeing Jesus condemned he repented, returning the money, confessing, "I have sinned in that I betrayed innocent blood", and went and hanged himself.

Jesus was brought before Pontius Pilate, the Roman governor, for trial on charges of disloyalty to Rome. Pilate repeatedly protested Jesus' innocence and yet because he was afraid of the influence of Jesus' enemies he surrendered Jesus to be crucified.

Jesus hung upon the cross for six hours during which he spoke seven times, praying for his crucifiers, assuring salvation to his companion on another cross, providing for his mother's care, then after a loud cry of victory he peacefully committed his spirit into the hands of his Father.

Jesus' body was taken from the cross by Nicodemus and Joseph of Arimathaea, two secret disciples of his who were prominent religious leaders. They buried it reverently in Joseph's tomb and Pilate sealed the tomb and set a guard over it.

ARBITRARY POWERS.

The order issued by the new Ontario Milk Board that dairymen supplying the city of London with milk shall receive $1.45 per hundredweight serves to remind the London Advertiser of the arbitrary powers that have been given the board.

The regulations provide that the granting, refusal, suspension and cancellation of a license to a distributor shall be in the sole and absolute discretion of the board, and it shall not be necessary for a valid refusal, suspension or cancellation of any license that the board state any reason, and its action shall not be open to question and review.

In other words, a distributor who feels that he has a grievance has no legal right under this act to make representation to the board. The latter has the power to hear him if it so desires, but it is not required to listen to any protest—in fact, it has the power to put any distributor out of business at a moment's notice and without even giving him a reason.

Certainly while the need of authority to stabilize the milk industry and prevent cut-throat competition is recognized, there should be some opportunity for the distributor, and especially for the farmer, who is both producer and distributor, to appeal.

HELPING THEIR COMRADES.

Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Federal Minister of Finance, announced a few days ago that careful consideration would be given to a suggestion that trades unionists of Canada who contribute from their wages to union funds allocated to the relief of their out-of-work members may be able to claim exemption for such contributions when making out income tax returns.

This is a concession that most people will feel would be entirely justified.

The fact that a proposal of this kind has been made serves to call attention to a fact that may not be well known outside the ranks of the trades unionists, and that is that many members of the unions have been contributing as much as 15 per cent. of their weekly earnings to help other members who are out of work.

One of the redeeming features of this long period of depression has been the willingness with which those who were the least effected by the hard times have held out a helping hand to victims of unemployment, and this generosity has been nowhere more splendidly apparent than in the ranks of many trades union organizations whose working members have stood by their brethren in distress.

It would be a simpler act of justice to exempt these donations when income tax returns are being made.

THE ROMANCE OF LANCASHIRE.

All the nice things we said in these columns yesterday in regard to an attractive booklet advertising the beauties of the county of Kent, in England, will have to be repeated to-day for the benefit of another great English county, for the mails to-day brought The Examiner a copy of a most interesting publication, entitled "The Romance of Lancashire."

This illustrated survey of the history, development and varied activities of the county Palatine is issued under the auspices of the Empire Trade League, and is full of interesting information in regard to Lancashire.

Many people are inclined to think of Lancashire merely for its cotton industry, but this booklet shows that while it may still be best known on that account, forty-three separate industries in the county, each of which employs 5,000 or more workers, and that in very many of the greatest and most varied of the industries of the nation Lancashire supplies a surprisingly large percentage of the total workers—from hats to locomotives, from soap and perfume to electric generators.

But it is a mistake to think only of Lancashire as a manufacturing district, for we read that while the core of industrial Lancashire holds the densest population on the earthand throbs ceaselessly to the beat and drive of the most advanced and perfected industrial machine in the world, fully two-thirds of the county is pastoral, with far-stretching meadow lands, sparkling rivers and glorious lines of hills and valleys sweeping up to Coniston and Windermere.

MORE UP-TO-DATE LISTS.

While there have been some complaints, especially from Toronto, of loose enumeration work, the comparatively small number of revisions made in most centres in Ontario would seem to indicate that on the whole the enumeration of voters has been well done.

There will always be mistakes and omissions when the task of compiling a list of all the urban voters in the province is undertaken in the short space of four days, but in spite of that fact the enumeration system appears to be more efficient than the old plan of depending upon the lists prepared by the municipalities.

In the first place, the cost falls upon the province, where it rightly belongs, and secondly, and more important, the list is more complete and up-to-date than under the old system, which found listed as eligible to vote dead persons and others who had moved out of the district since the assessor made his rounds the previous year.

The lists to be used at this election will be up-to-date within three weeks of the election, and on that account much of the confusion and difficulty of locating electors who had changed their place of residence since the municipal lists were prepared will be eliminated.

Political organizations should therefore find it a much simpler matter than usual to get the vote out on this occasion.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Manufacturers have many mutual problems. The re-arrangement of the local organization should therefore serve a decidedly useful purpose.

MONEY MADE HONESTLY

To the Editor of The Examiner:

SIR: The Simpson inquiry at Ottawa has disclosed nothing to the discredit of anybody concerned in the making of that vast organization a success. The promoters have made vast sums of money, but apparently quite honestly. In the old days we were taught at school to recite with youthful meteor, and I have no doubt Sir Joseph Flavelle was taught also this pretty ditty: "One honest John Tomkins a hedger and ditcher, although he was poor, did not want to be richer." He is actually now working on the Burleigh Road. But we repudiated that stuff years ago; by organization, standardization, etc., our brainy people beat the rest of us to it—and that is all there is in it. There are some rascals, of course. But it is mere bluff to regard this disclosure at Ottawa as anything but the workings of legitimate business. If we throw down our business foundations, what have we left?

J. H. BURNHAM.

THE FINANCIAL REVOLUTION.

To the Editor of The Examiner:

Dear Sir: — The invention of money was perhaps the greatest labor-saving discovery of all time. Like the invention of high explosives and poison gas, it threatens to be one of the most life-destroying discoveries of all time. Shall we learn how to control them before they have reduced our civilization to ruins? Quite possibly not; unless we give our minds seriously to the matter. The invention of "Representative" (viz, Costless) Money, though only casually mentioned in our textbooks was one of the most momentous events in human history. For thousands of years Money was a precious metal; so scarce that sometimes the supply could only be made to go round by "debasing the currency," viz., by mixing baser metal with the silver in each coin. And, lo, at the impact of a brilliant idea — the child of the unknown genius who first persuaded his fellows to use costless paper for Money—that age-old obstacle to human progress had vanished. This was the message of boundless hope, which was brought to mankind by that ancient, unwitting benefactor of our race. "For long centuries, my toiling brothers, you have been hampered and impoverished by the scarcity of metal. From this bondage you are now set free. No matter what mountains of Real Wealth you shall produce by your industry, no matter what superabundance of necessaries, luxuries, or refinements you can create, with the aid of Science and Invention: always, the Money, which will enable them to be distributed easily, shall henceforth be available—and virtually, at no cost. Never again need you ask, "Can the Nation 'afford' this or that?" Whatever a nation can produce, it can 'afford.' Never again need you ask "Where is the Money to come from?" for any desirable pubic project; from now on, there is no rational financial limit to the expansion of Real Wealth, or to the increase of Public Luxuries. So far as the actual "medium of exchange" is concerned there is no valid reason why any willing and efficient worker should ever be moneyless. In this sense of mon-eylessness, Poverty has now become 'a Financial Absurdity."

Would to God that Canada would take the message to heart.

There is a four-leafed shamrock among the herbage if you will only seek for it honestly on your knees; there is a straight stick in the wood if you will be satisfied with it when found. What's in The NAME of Canadian Cities and Towns?

By FRANK H. WILLIAMS

KEEWATIN, ONTARIO

It was by a devious method that the town of Keewatin, Ontario, came by its name. The present town had its inception as a railroad construction camp in 1876, when the Canadian Pacific railway started cutting the right of way.

A construction camp was located on the site of the town and was named Rat Portage camp, owing to the prevalence of muskrats. Later, this construction camp was movedd to where Kenora now stands. All mail for the abandoned camp went to Kenora, or Rat Portage, as it was then called, until the residents of the former camp asked for a post office.

In August, 1879, John Mather and his associates buit a sawmill at the abandoned campsite and when the federal government offered to provide a post office he was asked to name it. He christened it "Keewatin," taken from the Indian language and meaning "the backing up of the north wind" or "the north wind blowing backwards." This derivation resulted from the action of the wind, which often blows steadily from one direction for several days, only to turn and blow the opposite direction for the same period. Hence the Indian name "Keewatin."

ALL OF US

(By Marshall Maslin.)

ARE YOU PREJUDICED?

You meet a stranger and you do not like him....He is arrogant, he is too suave, he talks too much, he is distasteful to you....You know why you don't like him, or you haven't the least idea.

You ought to like him. Other people like him profoundly. What's the matter—with him or with you—that you are so instantly prejudiced against that new-met human being? ....You are not even certain that it IS a prejudice. A prejudice has been described as an opinion existing without visible means of support....Has this prejudice any roots in the past? Has something about this man reminded you of some distasteful happening that makes you dislike him? Did you have an enemy once whose eyes were like this man? Did a man with just such curly hair take away your "girl" once upon a time? Is he fair and are you dark and do you dislike fair people?....No, no, and no? Then why don't you like him?

You do not know. No more do I. ....Sometimes you are defiant of those prejudices that creep up on you so unsuspected from the dark of the unknown. Sometimes you are ashamed of them....You should be taking people on their own merits, not be dismising them so abruptly just because you have a prejudice against them...And yet here we are, all of us, in a great crowd of humanity, sniffing and sneering and turning distastefully away from one another....Life is so short, we have so little time, we waste so much of it, throwing it away as if it were inexhaustible.

But we have pleasant prejudices, too....We meet people and they warn us, enlighten us, increase our happiness at once. Deep within us a small voice begins to whisper, "Here is somebody you like, here is a rare find."....Here, perhaps, is someone you may come to love. Sometimes love begins in violent distaste, but usually it begins with a pleasant glow of friendly prejudice. ....And who would sacrifice this charming phenomenon of meeting a stranger and finding him instantly a friend?....Not you, not me....Away with our violent, antagonistic prejudices but let us maintain forever those delightful ones that run like gold threads through the duller fabric of living.

ON THIS DATE

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

THE FIRST (?) KILTIES IN TORONTO

On this date, in 1836, according to Dr. J. T. Scadding, the historian of Toronto, the first kilted regiment arrived at that town, then of course, still York. I have my doubts as to the correctness of this statement, and should like any students of military history who are posted on Scots' regiments in Canada to come to my aid and tell whether there were not Highlanders in Upper Canada before 1826. I have always been under the impression that the Glengarrians raised by the Macdonells were kilted, that the men who captured Ogdensburg and tried to save York in 1813 were kilted. If I am wrong I should like to be corrected.

The regiment which set York astir on this date in 1826 was the 79th, under Colonel MacGregor. Up to that time Niagara had been military headquarters and the transfer of the garrison to York was quite an event. The pipers and the regimental band were enough to set any young community by the ears, especially when the band had further accessories of pomp and circumstance in the shape of negro cymbal players and "magnificent oriental looking standard of swaying tails, surmounted by a huge glittering crescent bearing small bells", which sounds somewhat like a description of one of the bands which comes to us at intervals when Canada is favored with visits from United States shriners or other multi-colored uniformed organizations.

It was The Patriot that said: "It was on this occasion that the inhabitants of York beheld for the first time the impressive sight of a Highland regiment wearing the kilt and the lofty plumed cap." And that is the point I should like to have cleared up.

Foreign Affairs

(By H. W. L. MAHOOD)

MEXICO

Time is needed to overcome the imprint of a conquest. The conquest of the human has never been complete. No human force has ever been equal to the task of conquering the individual human. The will is every man's own. Oliver Goldsmith wrote She Stoops To Conquer. Force stands up to beat down. Love conquers by Winning. The Spaniard struck the native Mexican down. But the peasant Mexican was not conquered. The Spaniard was ruthless. Revolution follows coercion. It is sure to be as radical as imperialism has been drastic. These two features are written upon the pages of Mexican history.

The Spaniard did not stop with the attempted physical conquest of the peasant Mexican. At once the Spanish foreigner decided to destroy and to remake Indian culture. The same policy was adopted by the colonists from Britain and from France in the case of the American natives. In America the native population was small. In Mexico it was large. The effect of the foreign culture upon the North American native was transforming. Not as permanent was the effect upon the greater population of bourgeoisie Mexico. Besides the native culture of the Mexican was of a higher order. The real Mexican to be conquered is not the physical Mexican. With his intact culture the Mexican could defy conquest and abide his time. European culture spread rapidly among the North American natives. Spanish culture never rooted itself in the soil of the Mexican Indian.

With the advent of Diego Rivera native artistic culture is once more asserting itself in Mexico. Diego Rivera was invited to the United States to do some Mural painting. Struggle is the central feature of Mural painting. Rivera has completed his Portrait of America. I have before me a copy of this significant work of art. It reminds me of another great masterpiece by a foreigner. The New World Symphony is the creation of John Devorak. Diego Rivera has put on canvass, and also on the walls of the palace in Mexico City the story of the Conquest of Mexico by the Spaniards, and of Mexico during the Spanish regime, and of Mexico as a young republic.

To create a faithful portrait of Amercia an extensive historic background is essential. The colonists who came to the part of America now known as the United States, whether from Britain or from France, were radicals. They came not only to conquer but to till the land with their own hands. The Spaniards did not come to Mexico to engage in manual labor. Not one of them came to till the land. They came to conquer. During the whole period of the Spanish colonization not a single one of them put his hand to the plow nor to the mining tools. They lived on the labor of the indigenous people. They saw rightly that above the riches and the wealth of the country measured by lands and mines and precious stones, the greatest wealth was to be found in the Indian himself. The Indian was considered The Factof in the development of the country far above any material resources to be found in the land. The Spaniards looked upon theemselves as managers of men, managers of labor. Two parties contended for the mastery of the natives. Exploitation was the policy of the representatives of the Spanish Empire.

The Catholic ecclesiastical representatives strenuously opposed the direct and brutal rapacity of the Spanish adventurers. The native humans to these adventurers were just anmials. To keep them down every native with ability was assassinated. There were a few native painters gifted with genius. A Spanish soldier walked to his hut and shot him down in cold blood. If he had any children they were taken to the public square and there slaughtered like wild beasts. One day a large number of native Mexican rolls, or manuscripts, or books in Aztec and in other Indian dialects were piled up on one of the streets of Mexico City and burned. The Spaniards, who have not been reconciled to the present form of government still boast that the pile was higher than the spire of the present lofty Cathedral. Four hundred years have passed. The native Mexicans to-day visit the spot where those books were burned. It is to them a sacred shrine.

The Spaniards were impressed with the native pyramids. Indian society was builded like the pyramids. The cultured and most civilized were at the top. The masses, ignorant, cruel, animal-like were at the bottom. Destroy the people with the culture, the arts, the sciences who were at the top, then the masses could be enslaved. This the Spaniards heartlessly did. Think of this atrocity hidden from the world for centuries. Diego Rivera has turned on the light. Canvasses have become the enlighteners of the world.

His potrayal of some events in American history, some of them of the past and some of them of the present, have been a shock. In the copy of the Portrait of America before me are characteristic afces of slave owners and of Abolitionists. Calhoun sits at his desk in the center of the group. Before him is a slave. Through a hole in a plank sticks up the head of a negro. His hands stick up through a hole on either side of his head. The contrivance is made to fit close about both neck and hands. Other negro faces are there. A slave owner has a rifle in his hands. Thoreau is there full of protest. (More again).

BANDITS SHOOT UP BANK.

MAGNOLIA, N.C., June 9 (C.P.).—Two bandits shot up the Bank of Magnolia at opening time today leaving two men wounded as they blazed their way to waiting cars with an undetermined amount of loot.

The bandits met a hail of lead from hastily assembled residents as they sought to join waiting confederates, and two of them were believed wounded.

PRICES SHADED MINING TRADE

Profit-taking Follows Rise of Past Two Days on Toronto Exchange.

SENIOR GOLDS DOWN.

TORONTO, June 9 (C.P.) — Profit-taking on the eve of the last couple of days on the mining section of the Toronto Stock Exchange was in evidence in to-day's short session and the best prices were shaded a little before the close. Recessions up to 50 cents were registered in the senior gold group, but narrow gains were general in the base metal and silver groups.

Interest in the copper shares gave Sherritt Gordon a run up to $1.12 in the first half hour, but the advance of 6 cents was dropped later. Noranda hit $45 but also forfeited the gain.

In the senior golds, Dome dropped 50 cents, Hollinger 10, Lake Shore 25 cents, McIntyre 50 cents, Bralorne 20 cents and Pioneer 10 to $13.40. Gain of 1 to 5 cents were recorded for San Antonio, Gunnar Gold, Little Long Lac, Read Authier, Granada and McKenzie.

ISSUES SOFTEN IN INDUSTRIALS

Narrow Losses in Interlisted Shares After Early Morning Advance.

TORONTO, June 9.—(CP)—Prices of the industrial shares eased down slightly just before the close of today, due apparently to some traders deciding to take their profits on the last rally.

Most of the interlisted shares sold higher during the morning but at the close the group had a few narrow losses. Nickel retained a gain of 10 cents while Ford A. and C.P.R. were off ⅛ to ¼. Of the distillery stocks Industrial Alcohol held a gain of ⅛ at 12 and Walkers common was off about ¼. Brewers and Distillers at $1.50 was 5 cents higher.

BUYING IS SLOW FARMERS' MARKET

Supplies Not as Plentiful as Usual—Butter 20 to 22 Cents Per Pound.

Buying was very slow at the farmers' market this morning, both in the open market and the basket section. Supplies were not as plentiful as usual, but patrons were very scarce and slow in taking up the available produce.

Butter could be had from 20 to 22 cents a pound, with the latter figure as the general quotation. Eggs were priced from 16 to 18 cents a dozen, cream was 20 cents a pint, and year-old chickens were 15 to 17 cents a pound. Broilers sold at 25 to 28 cents a pound. A lone turkey weighing nearly fourteen pounds was offered at 18 cents a pound.

Potatoes were very plentiful this morning. A dealer from Uxbridge had a truckload at $1.15 a bag, while $1.25 was the general price asked for local spuds.

Little pigs were $8 to $12 a pair. Green, growing things were plentiful also, at regular prices. Sweet green peppers wer $1 for a flat of 100 plants. Foliages and double ruffled petunias were in little pots.

Small pups, with police dog heads and collie bodies, were $1 and $2 apiece.

LEEMING AND LEEMING

NEW YORK, June 9. — The fact that the market broke out of the trading range on the upside on increased volume marks the start of a new up-trend. The recent action of gold and silver stocks is of more than passing significance. Gold stocks have been pretty strong and in the meantime reports are heard that an early change in the gold value of the dollar is probable. There has recently been some revival of inflation fever, and it is altogether probable that the so-called "inflation stocks" will again get into the spotlight in the near future.

BROKERS' OPINIONS.

Paine Webber: Any possible setback from current levels should be of minor proportions and the probabilities are for an early lift through highs of last month.

Jackson Bros.: With further legislative threats out of the way all indications point to a concentration on policies that should tend to encourage private business initiative.

C. D. Barney: We believe it is just as well to be conservatively sceptical regarding the immediate prospects of the market, but we don't feel certain of the inevitability of an immediate rise.

VICE CONSUL MISSING

SHANGHAI, June 9.—(C.P.-Havas)—Eimh Koromoto, Japanese vice consul in Nanking, China, disappeared mysteriously last night as he was on his way home after accompanying Akira Ariyoshi, Japanese ambassador to the railroad station.

His disappearance did not become known until today.

WINNIPEG WHEAT SLIGHTLY HIGHER

Renewed Buying Engendered by Bullish Government Crop Reports.

WINNIPEG, June 9 (C.P.). — Wheat prices moved upward on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange to-day under renewed buying engendered by the bullish crop reports issued by the United States and Dominion Governments late yesterday. At mid-session quotations were ⅜c to ⅝c higher.

July wheat traded at 78⅜c, October at 80½c, and December at 81⅝c. Good buying was encountered at the start with houses with Chicago connections the best purchasers. Profit-taking developed at the high points, however, where the market was nearly 2 cents up, and recessions occurred.

score of the leaders said in a statement.

Recently, a group of leaders of local unions—declared by President Tighe to be without authority to speak for the International—suggested Johnson could learn something by walking up to an open meat furnace and getting his summer pants scorched.

Johnson, in a speech last night, answered what he called "these immature leaders."

"As for hardship and scorching pants," he said, 'I have had mine scorched by months of exposure to an equatorial sun, and to paraphrase an Indian-fighting Colonel of my early service, Old Greaser Hughes:

"I have worn enough skin off the part of me that fits into a saddle (or used to) riding over the flat lands of Texas and the hills of Arizona, to make a half-dozen such critics as they."

Speech Angers Leaders

Enraged, a score of leaders issued a counterblast, which said:

"We, the undersigned steel workers, who have just listened to your refined speech full of hell and bluff, denounce you for making such a damnable statement using your government position and the national radio to call us steel workers who criticize your schemes just so much skin off a saddle.

"We are done with you and your Iron and Steel Institute Board.

"Tomorrow we go to the President to place him before an honest, straightforward plan for a settlement.

"Having seen the President, who saw the steel magnates earlier this week, we shall go home to our lodges prepared to fight for that 'pure recognition' of the right of collective bargaining that you scorned."

The list of names attached was headed by Earl J. Forbeck and William J. Spang, called "rank and file" leaders.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

NEW YORK, June 9 (A.P.), — Scattered profit-taking came into the stock market to-day, following yesterday's sharp bulge, but it was generally well-absorbed and extreme dullness followed the mild selling flurries. There was still some nervousness evident over the steel labor situation. The close was fairly steady. Transfers approximated 700,000 shares.

2 Freighters Damaged In Erie Harbor Crash

ERIE, Pa., June 9.—(A.P.)—Two large freight vessels were damaged in an early morning collision in the Lake Erie harbor to-day.

Coast guard officials reported the steamer E. C. Crowley, entering the harbor, crashed into the stern of the steamer Arcturus, anchored at a buoy. The Arcturus had arrived in the harbor a short time before.

A large hole was driven in the Arcturus' stern. Three plates on the E. C. Crowley's boy were buckled. Neither craft shipped any water, the damage to both being above the water line.

Captain William Stephenson of the the E. C. Crowley, told coast guardsmen he sighted the Arcturus too late to stop.

he was serving as one of the Edison interests' industrial missionaries, taking orders from the New York offices and occupying himself with the welfare of the outlying branches.

Rise of Insull

Insull had already been with Edison a number of years by the year 1890. Edison, with his distaste for business affairs and his desire to have his time free for concentration on his inventive work, had been placing more and more responsibility on the shoulders of the Englishman. With the formation of the Edison General Electric, Insull played an increasingly important part in the development of the industry, supervising, as in the case of the Peterborough plant, the program of expansion. Then came the amalgamation of the Edison interests with the Thompson Houston Company of Lynn, Mass., and the formation of the new General Electric Company. The electrical industry was growing up.

Insull found a bloc of opposition against him among the shareholders and directors of the new company. His great ambition for the company was to have it spread into the power development field and corner a control of power in the entire eastern and middle-western section of America. But the opposition was too strong. His enemies fought successfully against his rise to a position in which he would have power to carry out his visions. He decided to cut loose from the manufacturing end of the electric field and when a modest opportunity for getting into the utilities field in Chicago presented itself he took it.

Collapse of Empire

The whole world knows the rest of the story. It is the story of the rise of a man who once deigned to supervise the establishment of a mere thirty thousand dollar branch factory in Peterborough, to the control of a two billion dollar utilities octopus. And it is the story of a man who though, like millions of others, that the era of prosperity of the 'twenties would go on forever.

When Middle West Utilities finally collapsed with a resounding crash, the people of Peterborough had forgotten Insull as the man who signed the contract establishing what has become the city's largest industry. They knew him only as the rest of the world knew him—as the man who had defrauded investors throughout America, among whom were many Peterborough people, out of their life savings.

The old document which bears Insull's signature is itself of interest.

According to the agreement, the town turned over to the Edison General Electric a considerable portion of the property on which its buildings stand to-day, the title to be transferred "so soon as the said company shall have erected on said lands brick or stone buildings for the purposes of its said manufactory of the value of thirty thousand dollars." The plant and its property was to be free from all taxation for a period of ten year.

A reference to the back files of The Examiner reveals that on September 23, 1890, the day before the agreement was executed, the public of Peterborough voted its approval by a count of 656 to 11. It is safe to say that few factory by-laws since have received such a hearty endorsement.

LORD LONSDALE

berland Volunteer Artillery; Honorary Colonel of the Third Battalion of the Border Regiment; and Colonel of the Westmoreland and Cumberland Imperial Yeomanry.

But to-day, also, he was cowboy, top hand.

"I was one of the first cowboys out West," he said. "I remember Denver when it was only a one shack town and when I first saw Cheyenne there was only one shed there.

"I was there several years and I learned the game from start to finish They turned me from a greenhorn into a westerner.

"It wasn't always so easy, either, but I managed to stand it. Why, I even lived with some Indians for a time.

Aided in Hold-up

"Some of my friends went out one day to hold up the Denver stage and I went with them. The others in the hold-up are all dead now.

"In my days there, I learned how to use a lariat like a veteran. In this country we like our animals as tame as we can get them. In the west you can't do that and you haven't fences like we have. So you have to rope.

"There are often accidents but you can't avoid them sometimes. When we put a thoroughbred into training here, we use a dummy jockey while he is bucking. Cowboys get into the saddle and do the job themselves."

And he grinned with delight as he watched the boys and girls doing exactly that.

'QUAKE IN ITALY.

ROME, June 9 (C.P.-Havas). — An earth shock rocked the region around Venice early to-day.

The shock also was felt at Belluno, Udine, and Padua, lasting from 4.17 a.m. until 4.22 a.m. without, however, doing any damage. The epicentre was said to be located in Carnia.

Gasoline Prices Slashed In Ottawa

OTTAWA, June 9 (C.P.).—One of the most substantial cuts in gasoline prices for several years went into effect here to-day with the announcement that medium and low test gasoline would sell for 22 cents per gallon. This price is inclusive of the Government tax of six cents per gallon, and applies only to Ottawa, Hull, Eastview and Westboro.

White gasolines, known as low test, have dropped from 26 to 22, and medium or colored gasolines from 26 to 22 cents per gallon.

High test gasoline prices remain the same, 22 cents per gallon.

Lowest Crop 41 Years

To the picture of widespread desolation, government experts added a forecast of the smallest wheat crop since 1893. Nineteen states suffered the worst spring blight in history. Any skepticism about the seriousness of the drought yielded to a crop report showing June 1 conditions. It disclosed: Total wheat production estimated at not more than 500,000,000 bushels, lowest since 1893.

Winter wheat reduced 61,000,000 bushels during May. Spring wheat estimated liberally at 100,000,000 bushels, with conditions 41.3 percent of normal.

Oats set at 700,000,00 bushels, lowest since 1893. Barley and rye damaged about equally.

An "acute shortage" of hay in prospect with production set at 50,000,000 tons compared to the normal 84,000,000.

DIONNE BABIES WILL STAY HOME

Doctor Advises Against Moving to Chicago Exhibition This Summer.

MOTHER OUT OF BED.

CORBEIL, Ont., June 8.—(CP.)—A loss of 2½ ounces by Emilie left the combined weights of the 11-day-old Dionne quintuplets to-day only one ounce more than yesterday, but all are thriving, Dr. A. R. Dafoe, their physician reported.

Emilie yesterday showed a gain of 3½ ounces over Wednesday, so it was not unexpected that she should lose some of the unusually heavy gain. Yvonne and Annette gained 1¾ ounces overnight and Marie and Cecile ½ ounce each. Their weights now are: Yvonne 40 ounces; Annette 37½; Cecile 31; Emilies 29½; Marie 26. They total 10 pounds 4 ounces.

All the children have slate grey eyes and dark brown hair. Their increased weight has ironed out some of the wrinkles and they now look more like ordinary infants than they did at birth.

Mrs. Oliva Dionne, their mother, left her bed this morning. Dr. Dafoe had considered keeping her confined over the week-end but she showed such improvement he consented to her arising. She saw the youngsters for the first time in several days and is expected to be well enough to leave her home and visit her other five youngsters who are living with relatives.

Fine Features.

In addition to reporting the infants all have grey eyes and brown hair, Dr. Dafoe said their features are "fine."

The Dionnes have given up all thought of exhibing their infant daughters this summer. Their physician had advised against moving the children and they intimate they will do as he says. Dionne signed a contract to show them in Chicago, but Dr. Dafoe's consent was stipulated. Dionne, it is said, has received only $100 from the promoters and it was agreed he was to get that much each week until the babies went on exhibition.

Gifts that have been pouring in to the parents from all over the continent are becoming less numerous. Yesterday, for the first time it was not necessary for Fred Sauve, Callander relief officer, to make a trip to the Dionne farm with a truckload of them.

Ten Square Miles Of Timberland Destroyed In Fierce Nova Scotia Fire

Forest fires, many of them beyond control of fire-fighters and every available volunteer, are doing incalculable damage in many parts of new Brunswick and Nova Scotia. Here is a photo, taken at risk of life from the River Herbert district of Cumberland county, Nova Scotia, where ten square miles of valuable timberland was destroyed before the fire could be checked. The fire raged for days before harassed fighters masteerd it. Hundreds have been rendered homeless by the many fires.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE REVIEWS

ONTARIO GRAIN.

Approximate prices track shipping point—Wheat, 98c to $1; oats, 40c to 45c; barley, 48c to 50c; corn, 65c to 70c; rye, 48c to 50c; buckwheat, 58c to 60c.

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

Prices held steady on the Montreal produce and dairy markets yesterday.

Fresh No. 1 butter was quoted 22c to 22¼c a pound. Receipts totalled 959 boxes. Small lots to the retail trade were quoted by jobbers at 23c for solids and 24c for prints.

The cheese market remained steady at 10¼c to 10½c a pound for Ontario colored. Arrivals were 2,343 boxes.

Eggs were unchanged, prices in graded shipments of carlots or less being 21c a dozen for A, large; 20c for A, medium, 19½c for B and 18c for C. Arrivals totalled 3,297 cases.

The potato market showed little change, the price for New Brunswick Mountains being 80c to 85c per 80-pound bag, while Quebec whites were 70c to 75c per 80-pound bag, and Prince Edward Island Mountains 95c to $1 per 90-pound bag.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Higher prices on wheat formed the rule most of the time yesterday, but big profit-taking sales at the last largely wiped out gains.

Strength of securities, together with correct anticipation that the Government crop report, issued after the close of yesterday's trading, would prove bullish, did much to lift wheat about 2 cents a bushel before the late reaction. Stimulus for wheat market upturns came also from indications of big export business at Winnipeg, together with sharp curtailment of crop estimates in France and Czechoslovakia, stoppage of all agricultural exports from Bulgaria, and urgent need of rain in Australia.

Trade comment after the Government report was issued gave emphasis to the fact that the 1934 probable yield of United States winter wheat is about 17,000,000 bushels less than the average of recent private returns, and that the probable rye crop is the smallest since 1875.

Prior to the issuance of the Government report, wheat closed nervous, ⅛c to ½c higher than Thursday's finish, corn unchanged to ⅜c up, oats ⅜c to ¾c advance, and provisions showing a rise of 10c to 15c.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, June 9. — Ignoring the best weather map Western Canada's grain fields have seen for weeks, wheat prices turned upward on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange yesterday and scored net gains of 1 to ⅞ cents.

Absence of aggressive selling, a fair export business in Canadian wheat, and anticipation of bullish crop reports from United States and Canadian Governments played an important part in the advance. Near the close, however, general liquidation developed and the maximum gain of 2 cents was considerably lowered.

July wheat closed at 77⅝c. October at 79⅝c, and December at 80¾c. The distant option made its first 1934 appearance on the Winnipeg board after mid-session.

Cash grain spreads improved under better export demand and coarse grains, led by oats, were all fractionally higher.

WEDDING SHOWER HELD FOR LAKEFIELD GIRL

LAKEFIELD, June 8 (Examiner Correspondence)—On Friday evening last a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Irene Davis, a bride of the month was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sanderson in Smith with more than a hundred neighbors and friends present. Miss Mildred Sage read an address expressing the heartiest good wishes to Miss Davis for a very happy married life from many friends and while the address was being read little Jean Foster and Doris Stockdale drew in a prettily decorated waggon filled with gifts for the new home and each accompanied by an individual greeting and representing the kindly feelings of the donor to the young couple.

Several of the young girl friends of the bride unwrapped the gifts and Miss Elda Sanderson passed them to Miss Davis who made a suitable reply. The groom to be was present and also spoke a few words of appreciation. A short program was given with community singing, a solo by Miss Mildred Purdy and readings by Miss MacNeil and Miss Cameron. A social hour was spent and refreshments served and a community gathering broke up in the wee sma' hours.

(Examiner Correspondence).—A very pretty June wedding took place on June 2nd when Jennie Lois, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thompson, and John Moore of Queensboro, son of Mrs. Moore of Toronto and the late T. H. Moore of Elzevir, took place at the home of the bride's parents, Madoc township, Rev. J. R. Trumpour of Eldorado, assisted by Rev. S. E. Morton, of Brockville, uncle of the bride, officiated.

The bride entered the drawing room on the arm of her father to the wedding march played by Miss Mary Moore of Toronto She was beautifully gowned in white triple crepe and lace fashioned on princess lines with white tulle veil with bandeau of orange blossoms. She carried a cascade bouquet of talisman roses and lily of the valley.

Little Marion Burnside, niece of the groom, in green organdie, trimmed with white and carrying a basket of sweet peas and baby's breath, was the bride's only attendant. During the signing of the register Mrs. A. T. Ashley of Whitby sang "Because", accompanied by Mrs. Harry Shaw of Toronto.

After the bridal party had received the congratulations of those present, about fifty guests sat down to dinner served by six girl friends of the bride.

Mrs. Thompson, mother of the bride, assisted in receiving and was gowned in blue printed chiffon. Mrs. Moore, mother of the groom, was dressed in navy printed crepe.

Later, Mr. and Mrs. Moore left on a motor trip to New York state, the bride travelling in a navy and powder blue crepe suit with blue hat, shoes and gloves. They will take up residence near Queensboro.

SPENCE—FITZGERALD

TWEED, June 8. (Examner Correspondence).—The marriage took place quietly at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Fitzgerald, when their daughter, Thelma Etherwyn, became the bride of Mr. William Spence, son of Mrs. Spence and the late Mr. W. Spence of Toronto.

The ceremony was performed before a bank of palms, ferns and spring blossoms. Rev. James Binnie officiated. Mrs. Neil McLeod, sister of the bride, played the wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of powder blue printed chiffon and carried a bouquet of Johanna Hill roses. The bride's mother was becomingly gowned of black lace and corsage of Talisman roses. The groom's mother wore a black triple sheer dress and corsage of Ophelia roses.

Later, the couple left on a motor trip through eastern United States. The bride travelled in a navy and white silk suit with navy and white accessories.

MASTERSON—GROTTO

TWEED, June 8. (Examiner Correspondence). — St. Michael's Church, Belleville, was the scene of a very pretty wedding at seven-thirty Tuesday, when Vera June, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Grotto, became the bride of Mr. Donald Nelson Masterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Masterson of Stoco. Rev. C. E. Baker officiated at the ceremony.

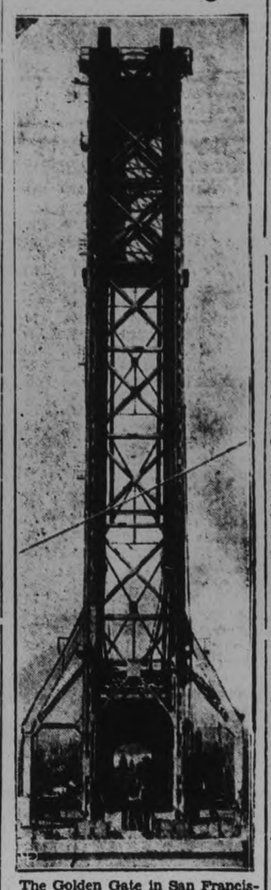
The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Edward Grotto, looked charming in a dainty frock of shell pink crepe rosemarie with sleeves and necking of ruffled net. She wore a picture hat and carried pink sweet peas and baby's breath.

Mrs. Jack Boyle was matron of honor and wore a smart powder blue swagger silk suit with white hat and accessories. She carried pink snapdragons. Mr. Jack Boyle was groomsman.

After the ceremony a reception and wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride, on Everett street. Thirty guests were present and the dining room was tastefully arranged with spring flowers and white streamers from a large white bell. The groom's gift to the bride was a mother of pearl necklace; to the matron of honor a mesh purse and to the groomsman, a cigarettte case.

Later the bride and groom left on a motor trip to western cities. The bride chose for travelling an assemble of white silk with red accessories. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Masterson will reside in Belleville. The bride was the recipient of numerous lovely gifts from her many friends.

New B.C. Bridge



The Golden Gate in San Francisco is not the only place they are building big bridges. Quite an imposing structure is the Second Narrows Bridge in Vancouver. Here is seen part of the huge span that drew hundreds out to watch as workmen fitted it into place. The span was floated into position on the tide.

SECOND READING GIVEN SHIPPING BILL IN HOUSE

Duranleau Urges Members to Spend Week-end Studying Its 719 Sections.

PASS IT THIS SESSION.

Final Approval Given Bank Act—Definition of Banker Limited.

OTTAWA, June 9.—(C.P.)—Members of parliament will spend a quiet week-end if they take the advice of Hon. Alfred Duranleau, Minister of Marine, who wants them to study 497 closely printed printed pieces of law. It is the new Canada Shipping Act, with its 719 sections, hundreds of sub-sections and 113 definitions.

The Minister offered them a word of encouragement. He said they would find it was not as complicated or as ponderous as it looked and he assured them they would have time to go to church and still be prepared to discuss the bill next week.

The bill has already passed the Senate, and when it came up for second reading last night a number of members urged it be left over until next year as the task of weighing its merits was too heavy for the end of a session.

Mr. Duranleau said he would like to get the measure enacted this session as it would encourage other Dominions of the Empire to take similar action and thus accomplish the object of straightening out the tangled situation regarding marine law in the Empire. The aim is to get a more or less uniform law enacted by the several Dominions to replace the Imperial acts which were formerly in force throughout the Empire and which are now out of date by reason of the complete legislative authority of the Dominion.

Stood Long Test.

The Bill, the minister explained, re-enacted many sections of English Acts which had stood the test of long years of experience. There were only about 25 sections, he suggested, which would occasion discussion in the House. It received second reading and was moved into committee.

Only a person who operates a bank will be able to call himself a banker in the future and there will be no "investment bankers" in Canada. The House of Commons decided this yesterday when it gave third reading and final approval to the new Bank Act. An amendment was made to restrict the use of the word.

LUTHERANS TO RALLY

MORRISBURG, Ont., June 9 (CP)—Tomorrow Lutherans will gather at St. John's Church near here to commemorate the 150th anniversary of the founding of the congregation. A cairn will be unveiled and Prime Minister R. B. Bennett will deliver an address.

The church is considered the oldest in Ontario. Lutherans from various parts of the province will take part in the unveiling.

STAMP CORNER

By M. A. BESSEY

It is rather discouraging after having saved a lot of stamps for anywhere from five to 25 years, to be informed that they are of little or no value; but it is more often than not, only too true. We cannot all find "rarities," and if we did, before long there would be no such thing.

During the past twenty years for every "find" there have been hundreds, perhaps thousands of disappointtd persons who have unearthed an old accumulation or collection of stamps, only to be told they are of very little value. There is no need, however, for one to become discouraged, rather it should be an incentive to hunt around still further on the chance of uncovering some other lot of old stamps that may have been forgotten or overlooked.

That erroneous impression among the uninitiated still seems to persist, "that all old stamps are valuable." Such is not the case by any manner of means, the age of a stamp has absolutely nothing to do with its philatelic value. Some of the rarities of to-day are very old stamps, but that is not because of their age, but rather because of the very limited number of them that are in existence.

Why Stamps Are Rare

If Canada were now to issue a new stamp, and limit the quantity to say 200 or 300 copies all told, such a stamp would be a rarety at once; there would be no waiting fifty years for the stamp to bring a high price, it would do so at once, because every collector would want a copy for his collection. There not being, by far, enough to go round, those collectors who coud afford to do so, would be willing to pay a very high price for such a stamp to be sure of securing a copy. As the stamp increased in age, it would doubtless increase in value, due to the ever increasing demand for it, and the fact that one or more copies would probably become destroyed in some manner, automatically increasing the value of the remainder.

This same condition governs the value of the stamps of all countries and issues. It is not their age, but it is the quantity of each kind that are in existence.

A good many illustrations of this exist right among our own issues of Canada. The one and three-cent denominations issued between the years 1869 to 1890, are somewhat similar in appearance to the half-cent illustrated (ABOVE), being just slightly larger, over-all. These two stamps were in use a good many years, and to-day thousands of them are still changing hand at the rate of $1 per 1,000, in some cases less than that. Although the stamps range in age from 40 to 65 years, they are still not scarce, there having been such large quantities used.

Other Not So Common

The half-cent value, as illustrated, although issued during those years, is by no means so common, it catalogues at 15 cents used or mint, and usually sells retail at one-half of that amount. Wholesale prices are still lower but vary considerably.

Many of our old Canadian stamps are worth from two to ten times as much, if they are still on the complete envelope, all of which must be in good condition.

The lower portrait of Queen Victoria, is, as she appeared on the issues of 1897 and 1898. The first of these issues appeared with the maple leaves in all four corners, but when having been in use only one year, were replaced by a similar issue, having numerals of value in the two lower corners, instead of the maple leaves. This change was made necessary as a large proportion of our French population were unable to read English.

It cannot he said that any of these two issues are "rare," but some values are becoming much more scarce each year. This is particularly true of the six and ten-cent maple leaf, and the six and 8-cent numeral issue.

A still more recent issue, which we have previously discussed is the Quebec issue of 1908, again we find that certain values are much more scarce than others, but in this case the scarcity seems to graduate in proportion to the face value, with the exception of the two-cent, which is still quite common.

It is a fine set throughout, and although I have seen a number of sets offered at very reasonable prices only just recently, I believe they will eventually prove to be one of the scarcest of the 20th century issues of Canada, up to this time.

Next week, further notes along these lines, which will be of interest to anyone having an old collection or to anyone just starting to collect.

is stopping for the moment in this city of St. Denis, the Communist stronghold, where Jackues Doriot is mayor and all the members of the city council Trotskyists. Bolshevik-Leninists, they call themselves to be exact. Trotsky moved away from Barbizon because his life was obviously in danger. Several White Russians have been arrested in the neighborhood of his house, who confessed they were on their way "to execute the Bolshevik commissar." The campaign in the right-wing press and in the Fascist papers for his expulsion has not diminished. The conservative Matin writes even now: "Trotsky must go! He must not be allowed even to commit suicide in the Forest of Fontainbleau, for that would dishonor the trees."

No Part in Riots

Trotsky had nothing to do with the bloody riots of February 6, for these riots were instigated by the Fascists. The action for which he was to be expelled, the formation of a fourth internationale, goes on unabated, however. It comes down to this: Trotsky is in favor of a united front between Socialists, Communists and even Liberals to bar the road to Fascism. The orthodox Communists, who take their direction from the executive committee of the Third International in Moscow, refuse to collaborate with other groups on a basis of group-equality. They alone have the right, they claim, to lead the masses to the assault on the reactionary forces.

"Against Fascism," Trotsky said to me when I finally located him this morning, "against Fascism I would not hesitate to make an alliance with the devil himself. The French Stalinists," he went on, "are making the same mistake as their colleagues in Germany. In their unimaginable blindness and stupidity they are preparing the enslavement of the French working-class. Even as they brought about the advent of Hitler in Germany."

Arm Against Fascism

More he would not say on the French situation, as he has promised to refrain from direct participation in French politics. But his newspaper in Paris, or rather the paper of his followers, Le Verite (same title as the Russian Pravda, which means Truth) declares that the immediate need of the moment is to create a working-class militia in France in order "to stem the mounting tide of Fascist violence and provocation." The paper points out that the government of France does not interfere in the slightest with the drilling and arming of Fascist bodies and that bands of men and boys in uniform swarm over the boulevards, invading cafes and restaurants beating up anyone found to be reading a Liberal or Socialist newspaper." This is no exaggeration for I see those hilarious bands every day, as I live in the Latin quarter. They are mostly students, but they have never ventured yet to beat me up in spite of the fact that I do not hide the papers I am reading. Yet Trotsky's advice is bearing fruit, for Paris is to have two monster meetings of protest against war and Fascism this month. One, to be held in the Bois de Vincennes, on the outskirts of the city, is expected to bring out half a million men. In June the Communists, Socialists anarchists, revolutionary artists and a dozen other organizations will march past the "Mur des Federes" (the wall of the Federated) in the cemetery of Pere Lachaise in Paris, where the last "ocmmunards" died fighting on the last day of the Commune of Paris in 1871. In former years various radical bodies marched past on different days. On the proposition of the Trotskyists all combine this year in "a united front demonstration under the red flag."

"Soviet or Else!"

Personally Trotsky dissociates himself completely from Soviet Russia. When I ventured to point out to him that the recognition by America had greatly enhanced the prestige of the U.S.S.R. in the international field, he said sardonically: "Yes, the U.S.S.R. is becoming respectable. It is gaining friends everywhere. But what kind of friends? Liberal newspapers and professors who affirm that Russia is no longer a danger to the rest of the world. We, however, want the U.S.S.R. to be a danger to the capitalism of the world. We will not compromise. We want Socialism all over the world, not only in Russia. Friends of the Soviet Union?" he sneered. "Wait till the Soviet Union is attacked and all those friends will pass over into the camp of the enemy."

"But why are you founding a Fourth International?" I asked.

"Because the Third International as a revolutionary force is dead," he said.

"Then those who say the U.S.S.R. is no longer a danger to the rest of the world, are right?" I asked.

"Paralyzed by fear, the Stalinists are ready to make pacts with everybody, said Trotsky. "They have lost their revolutionary courage. They have killed the world-revolution for fear of losing Russia. Yet the only protection of the U.S.S.R. is a Soviet Germany, and a Soviet France, a Soviet England and a Soviet Canada."

"That will be some time yet," I ventured to say, "before we see world-soviets, I mean."

"Within this generation, inevitably," said Trotsky with finality. But then he qualified: "Either that or chaos, cultural death and absolute enslavement of the workers!"

Brown, White Cotton

Mary Carlisle, that charming blonde youngster playing in pictures, wears this very wearable little suit in striped brown and white cotton in a new Will Rogers picture.

Jacket and skirt are brown and white striped cotton, the back of the coat featuring a yoke with inverted box pleat at the center. The acccompanying blouse is brown shantung, with hat of same material.

Shoes are white with brown lacings.

Character From Handwriting

By BLANCHE A. DRAPER

A Feature Conducted by Peterboroughs Leading Handwriting Analyist for the Readers of The Examiner

Full name and address (complete) must be given in all samples sent in.

Pat Reynolds,
Omemee, Ont.

The handwriting as indicated on sample for analysis is expressive of an intelligent personality. You are quite able to adjust yourself admirably to almost any condition, because you are keen and sensible. You do not expect the impossible then pout because you cannot obtain it. You are diplomatic and distinctive. You attire yourself in robes according to your good taste and never deviate from the path of dignity. You are fond of music and flowers, but would not sacrifice personal comfort in order to get them. Your mental powers are well developed, but you are rather prone to crowd too many ideas into your head at once, though there is a noteworthy characteristic predominant in your writing which tells me that you can undertake more than one project at the same time, and really accomplish each item in its turn with remarkable accuracy. Your number is 4. Birthsign Scorpio the Scorpion. January and July are your best months, and Tuesday your lucky day.

Miss Margaret Elizabeth Jones,
R.R. No. 11, Peterborough.

Your handwriting shows that you have a well-balanced disposition. You do not go into raptures over any one thing in particular. You know exactly what you like, and do not appreciate being told what to do. You are absolutely positive and determined. There is a subtle vivaciousness about your personality, which lends delightful mystery to your otherwise firm inclinations. This has a tendency to make your friends look deeper into your heart, and into the meaning of your words. You are clever, intelligent with a brain development beyond the average. You are capable of undertaking anything you wish, with success. But leadership belongs to you as a natural birthright. You have marvellous executive ability and understand the rudiments of elemental training—as nurse, in charge of an institution. As head of a social welfare, you could command attention. Your capacity to impart knowledge is noteworthy. However, your life never need grow 'stale.' You can always find an outlet for your emotions in intelligent work. Your number is 9. Your birthsign is Libra the Balance and you are ruled by Venus. August and December are your most fortunate months and Friday your lucky day.

Miss Donna Kay Jones,
R.R. No. 11, Peterborough.

Your handwriting shows that you think with lightning-like rapidity, and that most of your thoughts are intelligent and logical. The firmness of your letter formations suggests a dominant characteristic, which means that you will brook no intereference in your plans, and that you have a determined will, couples with keeness of perception. It is imperative that you carry out your ideas and projects in your own way. You are not slovenly by any means. You possess a remarkable agility, and act as quickly as you think. You can be secretive when you wish, especially if it is necessary to be so, in order to assist your friends over rough places. You will go to any length to provide happiness for others. Your temperament is usually fair and even, but if you become angry, you generally flare up quickly and then forget about the incident. You are not too ambitious but just sufficiently so to enable you to accomplish anything which you deem worth the energy that your ingenious nature allows you to expend in the completion thereof. As an occupation I should suggest a literary career. Your birthsign is Gemini the Twins and you are ruled by Mercury. Your number is 9. April and August are your best months and Friday your lucky day.

Viola Douner,
R.R. No. 7, Peterborough.

For a girl of fifteen your writing shows excellent promise, but you will have to guard your health, be very careful of what you eat, what you wear, and your hours of rest. You are quite nervous and temperamental just now, but no doubt you will grow out of that. If it is possible for you to join a physical culture class at the Y.W.C.A. or swimming it would do you good. The next thing is to develop your talents, make up your mind just what you would like to do, then be sure you are going to enjoy your work, and gradually you will be surprised at the change which will take place in yourself.

LIBERAL RALLY IN ASHBURNHAM

George Ashbrook of C.L.D.L. Asks Speaker Several Questions.

SECTION 98 AGAIN.

George Ashbrook of Toronto, representative of the Canadian Labor Defense League, crossed the river last night to the Liberal meeting in the Ashburnham community hall, and posed a few questions after Wilfrid Huycke, John Dewart and W. Y. Scollard had concluded addresses on some of the aspects of the provincial campaign.

"How about a few questions?" Mr. Ashbrook called out from the rear row, just as the National Anthem was suggested.

"Sure. Go ahead," Alderman Jas. Ellis, chairman, replied.

"What does the Liberal party propose to do for the unemployed?"

Col. Dewart replied that the Liberal manifesto over the signature of Mitchell F. Hepburn, assigned a primary place to consideration of the whole question of unemployment.

"What do the Liberals propose about Section 98?" Mr. Ashbrook asked.

Mr. Huycke answered that the amendment desired by the C.L.D.L. was beyond the jurisdiction of the Ontario Government, no matter what party was elected. He added that the Federal Liberal party had advanced and proposed the abolition of Section 98. Changes in the Criminal Code, Mr. Huycke said, could be made only by the Dominion Government.

Mr. Ashbrook loudly asserted that Mackenzie King had stated in the last Federal campaign that he wouldn't give a five cent piece to the unemployed.

That brought protests from a half dozen sources, with Mr. Ellis, Mr. Scollard and Mr. Dewart ready with response.

Col. Dewart replied that Mackenzie King's words were that he was not in favor of appropriating sums of money from the Federal treasury to local Conservative administrations for them to spend it.

After the National Anthem was sung, Mr. Ashbrook was surrounded by a group of men and women for a few minutes. Mrs. McNeely asked him if he was not the "paid heckler" who was at Premier Henry's meeting in Peterborough. He admitted that he was, and another woman suggested that he ought to vote for Mr. Hawthorne.

After the women had gone, Mr. Ashbrook was telling a few men that neither of the parties had any solution for the problems of today, and that was needed was an entire change from the capitalistic system.

Mr. Ellis was suggesting, as the Examiner left the hall, that there was only one Man who could establish the conditions Mr. Ashbrook mentioned,—"and if you'll look in the first chapter of Corinthians...."

But, Mr. Ashbrook laughingly remarked, "I've got to get a drink of water," and probably the argument ended, like many another, without any change of opinion.

Mr. Huycke said in his appeal to the Ashburnham audience in behalf of James Hawthorne that he did not think anyone seriously believed the third party in this contest would win the elections.

"Since the third party has come into the field the Conservatives have been smiling because it has been so often found where there is a third party he is opposed to the government. That means the opposition to the government candidate is divided, and the people who would support the C.C.F. certainly don't want to support the Henry government."

Mr. Huycke said that the electors should make sure of the best use of their ballots by marking them for Mr. Hawthorne.

PARLIAMENT HILL HEARS

By WILFRID EGGLESTON

About the time that now-famous interchange of remarks was going on at Toronto between the Earl of Bessborough and His Worship Mayor Stewart, an untoward incident was happening at Montreal, which, so far as I have observed, failed to get into the press at all, but which was reported to me by one of my genial colleagues who happened to be present. The setting was a banquet in honor of Queen Victoria, who seems on both these occasions to have been the unwitting cause of considerable agitation.

In Montreal Premier Bennett was the guest of honor. Just behind his seat at the head table there was draped a Union Jack, and beside it was a bas-relief, beautifully executed I am told, of the prime minister. Among the toasts was one to "Our Fallen Heroes," and it had been arranged in advance that on a given signal the lights would go out, a bugler would play "Taps" and then, after a moment's silence, play "Reveille" as the lights came on. Another toast was to the memory of the Queen. Finally there was to be a toast to Canada. The last was to be signalized by the sculpture of Richard Bedford Bennett and the Union Jack.

Unhappily, the banquet didn't get away to a prompt start. The speakers were supposed to go on the air at nine sharp, but that hour saw the patriotic gentlemen still toying with their fish. The radio broadcasting staff fussed up and down with microphones trying to get the show started somewhere near time. The attendants who were in charge of the lights, and the bugler, amongst others, got all fussed up and didn't know what was going on.

The crisis arrived, I am advised, when the chairman rose to propose a toast to the memory of the Queen. The lights went out, and, as the spotlight played on the impressive features of R.B., the bugler sounded the ominous—and, we trust politically non-prophetic notes, of "Taps"....(Curtain.)

Just to round out the evening, I gathered from another source, the prime minister, who had just got into his most eloquent vein, was unceremoniously "cut off" the air, the reason apparently being that the lateness in starting—and, perhaps the generous and expansive mood of the chairman—and projected the prime minister's address into the middle of the Hour of Frivolity and Suspense, or something of that kind, which, of course, could not be shortened or delayed for the most eloquent oration. Radio fans who were listening to the P. M. got on the phone and made some heated remarks to those in authority about it.

I forgot how we happened to be talking about "Tommy" Church, but Hector Charlesworth passed along to me the following anecdote anent the hectic days of 1926, when the King government was holding power by the slimmest margin, when "pairs" were cancelled by the chief whips, and it was as much as a member's life was worth to be absent when division bells were ringing.

One of the Liberal members from western Ontario received reports of his wife's serious illness, and prepared to depart for her side. He ran into serious difficulty, so the anecdote goes, because possibility arising from the absence of a single Liberal vote (it might have precipitated an election) and the refusal of the Conservative whip to grant a pair.

This came to "Tommy" Church's ears. The solemn injunction against pairs meant nothing to "Tommy," when there were human feelings at stake.

He went over to the Liberal member: "You take the next train to your wife's bedside. I'm your pair!" he announced firmly.

Peter McGibbon's reference to the finding of some august body that, while a child at birth is worth $10,000 (does that explain the alleged offer of $50,000 for the Corbell quintuplets?), a man of 25, $32,000; a man of fifty still worth $17,510, a man who has reached 70 is worth nothing, has provoked some mild disagreement on Parliament Hill, as well it might.

This learned committee is a bit hard on Sir George Perley, who is nearly 77, and has hardly a gray hair in his head; also Hon. W. A. Black, who is 87; Hon. Murray MacLaren, who is 73; Hon. Charles Marcil, who is 74; E. A. Peck (Peterborough West), who is 76; Col. Harry Mullins, who is 73; Franklin Smoke of Brant, who is 74, and a few others. What about such virile minds as the late Senator Beique, who at over eighty retained all his amazing keeness of mind, of Sir Allen Aylesworth, who will be eighty this year, and can make a masterly speech in the Senate yet?

More than once the Senate has seen men pass the century mark. I have before me a clipping taken from a newspaper of 1904 describing the presentation of a portrait to Senator Wark, who was then over a hundred years old. Senator Dessaulles, in our own time, added three or four years to the century mark.

Sir John A. Macdonald, according to Franklin Smoke, was once misreported, when attempting to say that "his youthfulness had gone," and made to say that "his usefuness had gone." This was certainly not true in Sir John's case, nor in Sir Wilfrid's, nor in the case of contemporaries. Some of the best work on Parliament Hill has been done by men of threescore years and ten, and few attain to the highest posts before they are at least 58 or 60.

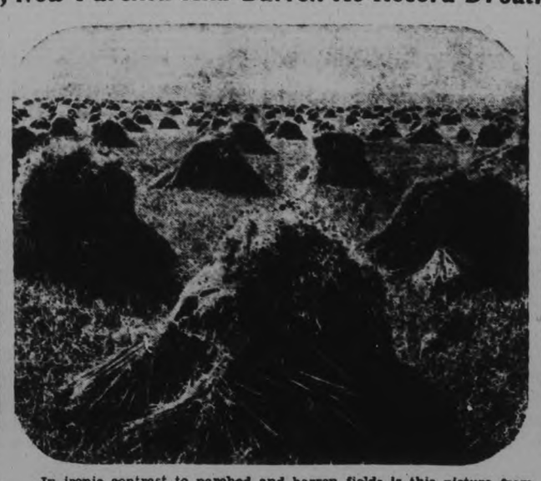
Fields That Should Be Teeming With Grain, Now Parched And Barren As Record Drouth Destroys Million Dollar Crops

Although scattered rains in sections of the middle west, in both Canada and the United States, have given promiseof relieving the severe drought that has gripped the vast area, thousands of acres of farm land have been without water so long that the crops have been totally destroyed. This section of land, in South Dakota, once a great field of wheat, now is overgrown with thistles, the only plant able to survive.



In ironic contrast to parched and barren fields is this picture from the Peace River district of land teeming with bounteous grain. It was taken during a year when rain and crops were plentiful and the price of wheat was close to a dollar.

Owing to a lack of rain, crops are weeks behind in growth. Photo shows condition of the corn crop, stunted from lack of moisture.

Scattered rains in some portions have given promise of ending the severe drouth that has left the prairie provinces parched and dry. The above photo shows a section of land which once was a wheat field, but now is a desert of dry dust.

COSMOS CLUB OF MILLBROOK HOLDS ITS ANNUAL STREET FAIR

Over 1,200 Crowd Into Village for Dancing by George Wade—Special Prizes Given.

SCRAPPY LACROSSE GAME.

MILLBROOK, June 9 (Examiner Correspondence) —Festoons of colored light, the music of George Wade and his Cornhuskers; the amateur, but apparently effective, "spieling" of the men in charge of the various booths particularly those with wheels of fortune promising blankets, sides of bacon, and picnic hams to the holders of lucky numbers, together with a crowd of approximately twelve hundred people, all combined to give the town a gala appearance on Thursday evening when the Cosmos Club sponsored its annual street fair and dance.

An improvement this year on the arrangement of previous seasons was the fencing off of a smaller area on King street for the dancing, allowing music from the booth at the west end, as well as the calling off for the popular square dances, to be heard more clearly, and still allowing plenty of space for those willing to pay the extra quarter and enjoy tripping the light fantastic.

As usual the Cosmos Club had every detail connected with the event thoroughly planned and organized, and over six hundred tickets had been sold previous to the night when the dance actually took place. The heavy expense involved included prizes to the value of at least $75, the draw being made by George Wade at the intermission half way through the dance program. Only those who had purchased their tickets beforehand were eligible for the draw; the winners being: Gentleman's suit or topcoat, or lady's coat or dress, value $23.50, won by R. I. Fallis; electric clock, value $18, L. Armstrong; wrist watch, value $12, Raymond Terry, South Monaghan; chair, table lamp, or mirror, value $8, James Whittington; blanket, value, $5, A. Hutchison.

Several Dance Prizes

The big extra prize to the dancer holding the lucky number, a silver tea service, Queen Anne design, donated by R. W. Wainman, jeweller, Millbrook, went to Miss I Shea, of Janetville. At the conclusion of the draw B. B. Dawson, secertary-treasurer of the Cosmos Rink Company, presented the prizes. Children under twelve were admitted free to the danec area, and seating was provided in front of the Armouries that accommodated a few of the spectators who largely outnumbered the dancers, the cool night, however, making it necessary for people to keep moving in order to be comfortable.

The cool atmosphere was likewise responsible for the heavy patronage accorded the booth where hot dogs, hamburgers, and hot coffee were dispensed, in preference to the stand where cool drinks and ice cream cones were offered for sale. George Wade had a seven-piece orchestra, besides himself, and a cowboy singer, in full western regalia.

Financially reports are not yet complete, but as the Cosmos Rink Company has a deficit to meet in connection with the operation of the rink last winter, the dance was planned with the end in view of wiping out the adverse figures on the balance sheet.

Millbrook Wins by Default

The exhibition game of box lacrosse between two inter-county teams, Cobourg and Millbrook, at the Cosmos Rink, at 5.30 p.m. on Thursday, as a preliminary drawing card to the street dance which was to follow later in the evening, while it provided plenty of excitement for fans and players alike, was a short-lived proceeding as only two periods were played.

The Cobourg referee, Roy Black, showed a decided antipathy to the home players, particularly the two Peterborough men, LeBarr and Creighton, who have signed up with Millbrook for the season, meeting out penalties so fast that at one time the local team had not more than four of their men left in the game. Local fans, incensed at the number sent to the penalty box, and not able to see what for, expressed their mind in no uncertain terms, the visiting teams supporters answering in kind. No fault was found with Vertil Reynolds, of Peterborough, the other referee for the game, which was enlivened with three fights within the two periods played.

In the first few minutes of play at the games' opening Creighton, LeBarr, and Donnelly were penalized, Reg. Edmunds scoring the first goal for Millbrook, and Lucas for Cobourg, Lyal Nattress being sent to the penalty box before the bell rang. In the second period Lucas and Cooper scored for Cobourg, and all changed players; penalizing and disagreements continuing. Manager Nattress withdrew his men until some agreement could be arrived at, and this proving futile, the Cobourg manager took his men off the field, refusing to return to the game; this meant, that although the score stood 3-1 in favor of the visitors, the game went to Millbrook by default. The line-up was:

Cobourg.—Brown, goal; Spoon and Morford, defence; Jamison, centre; Ovens, rover; Convie and Henderson, wings; Johnston and Stewart, subs.

Millbrook.—Larmer, goal; Creighton and LeBarr, defence; Stinson, centre; Freelove, rover; Harkness and L. Nattress, wings; K. Donnelly, D. Brown, R. J. Scott, Reg. Edmunds, McGee, subs.

Referees:—Roy Black, Cobourg, and Vertil Reynolds, Peterborough.

CAMPBELLFORD

NEWS ITEMS FOR THE TRENT TOWN DISTRICT

Mr. Fred Knox, who has been the local manager of the A. and P. Store in town since that branch was opened some months ago, has been transferred to the Napanee branch of the same business. His place in the local store has been filled by Ronald Hazell, who has been a member of the local staff since the branch opened in Campbellford. Mr. Hazell is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hazell, of town.

Mrs. C. Long returned from Toronto on Thursday, where she was called owing to the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. O'Shea, who is reported to be slightly improved in health.

ONE MAIN ISSUE IN THE CAMPAIGN

pointed out that the Henry government last Fall extended an offer to every municipality in the province whereby they might participate in unemployment relief work. The government, he said, had offered to assume two-thirds of the labor costs of such relief work.

Mr. Battle who dealt with provincial taxation, made reference to brief speeches made by Mr. Joyce and Mr. Sexsmith as having been "very inspirational." The former had touched upon the beer and wine question, while Mr. Sexsmith had made a brief comparison of the present highway system with the mere trails he remembered as a boy.

"I submit to you electors, in this campaign we have but one main issue," Mr. Battle stated. "That is, shall we as electors entrust the affairs of the province to the men who have been carrying on for the past five years, or are we to turn the administration over to inexperienced, untried men?"

Performance

"The Liberal leader, he felt, had made extravagant promises that were absolutely impossible of fulfillment even if he were to be elected. The Henry government could be judged on its past performance, while the merits of Hepburn and his associates could only be estimated by their promises and by their comments on the administration of the past four or five years.

Chief criticism of Mr. Hepburn, the speaker said, had been of what he termed "the enormous burden of debt that the Conservative government has put on the province." Such talk he described as being absolute nonsense.

"Taxes in principle," Mr. Battle said, "are levied for the privilege of citizenship; for the protection that citizenship affords, and for the services rendered by the state." Of the total provincial revenue of $51,000,000, he stated, less than $5,000,000 was attributed to direct taxation. The balance of the revenue was derived mainly from the subsidy from the Federal government; by automobile licenses and gasoline tax; game and fisheries licenses; profits from the Liquor Control Board; succession duties; and from corporations.

Direct Taxation

Direct taxation was levied, he said, for mothers' allowances; old age pensions and provincial highways only through the tax bill of the local municipallites.

In other words the speaker remarked, "nearly one half of what the government takes in direct taxation goes for charitable purposes. It is silly to talk about people being taxed to death by provincial taxation."

He remarked that while Hepburn would criticise Premier Henry for personal investments and would describe such investments as having been astute, he would inconsistently remark with the next breath that Premier Henry's financial administration was unsound.

"It is too critical a period to experiment," said the speaker. "On June 19 you will be called upon to decide between two very estimable gentlemen, but you must vote for Mr. Lancaster if you are to vote for the administration of which I have been speaking."

ELECTION LURES MANY MAYORS

Glencoe, June 11; Windham Centre and Mount Pleasant, June 12; Palmerston, June 13.

Hon. George H. Challies, Minister without portfolio, at Smith's Falls and Perth, June 11; Morrisburg, June 12, and Hallville, June 13.

Hon. Dr. J. M. Robb, Minister of Health, at Sturgeon Falls and North Bay, June 12.

Col. Price will speak at Blenheim tomorrow and Mr. McCrea appears at Simcoe and Port Colborne; Mr. Kennedy at Warren and Nipissing and Hon. Leopold Macaulay, Minister of Highways, at Goderich.

The election is luring Mayors of Ontario into political life, nine of them entered as candidates. Mayor James Lyons of Sault Ste. Marie is Conservative candidate in that riding, and Mayor R. B. Robson of Guelph is a Government candidate. Seven Mayors are running under the Opposition banner. They are: Mayor M. M. MacBride of Brantford, Independent; F. H. Avery, of St. Catharines, Liberal, for Lincoln; Charles W. Cox of Port Arthur, Liberal; William E. N. Sinclair, Liberal, Ontario riding; David Croll of Windsor, Liberal for Windsor-Walkerville; J. F. Kelly, of Huntsville, Liberal for Muskoka-Ontario; Dr. J. C. Bradley, Pembroke, for Renfrew North.

Sinclair's Charge

Mr. Sinclair, the Oshawa Mayor, and former Liberal Leader in the Ontario Legislature, charged in an address in his home city last night that not one cent of the $132,000,000 collected in highway revenue was going directly to pay expenses of the Highways Department. Another charge was placed against the Government at Toronto when W. J. Gardhouse, West York Liberal candidate, claimed Premier Henry was sending men from his East York riding to work at the Ontario Hospital in New Toronto, West York.

Other speech making of the night found Harry Nixon, Progressive leader, at Cayuga, declaring "loyal intelligent Conservatives" were not endorsing Premier Henry's policies. Attorney General W. H. Price at Petrolia said people of the province were laughing at Mr. Hepburn for his "outlandish" statements during the campaign, while before a Brampton meeting Hon. T. L. Kennedy reviewed the Agricultural Department's record and maintained loans to farmers were a necessity.

Hon. Charles McCrea, Minister of Mines, stressed the serenity and order in Ontario and Canada under the present Governments compared to "revolution and riot" in Europe and other parts of the world.

Marriages are increasing and births decreasing in the Irish Free State.

HEPBURN ENDS HIS CAMPAIGN

Henry and beat Bennett, for their policies are ruinous to Canada and to Ontario."

The Ontario Liberal leader placed his endorsement on the principle of the St. Lawrence deep waterways, but declared the present was not the appropriate time to carry out the project.

"Why build added avenues of transportation when we can't afford to maintain the railways we have? Why build a means of carrying wheat when we have legislation right now to restrict production of wheat?

"When we have a Liberal Government in power at Ottawa, with its policies for increasing trade and restoring prosperity, then the St. Lawrence will be built."

Yesterday's meetings were in support of T. P. Murphy, running for re-election as member of South Renfrew. Mr. Hepburn was supported on the platform by Arthur Slaght, K.C., prominent Toronto Liberal.

IRELAND, COOKE RALLY CROWDS

they get a chance, so vote to return good, sound, sane government" he concluded.

R. A. Elliott who came next said he had always found Bill Ireland a square shooter, a man you could depend on. He ably outlined the redistribution of seats in Hastings County, the reason for which he said was that "we have a government trying to show economy." He challenged statements made by the opposition at different polls in the riding respecting the employment of men on the highway. At one poll it was stated the rate per hour would be slightly raised if the Liberals returned to power. At another it was stated that the highway construction would cease and a third, the doubling of the rate was promised.

"What do you think of a party with a different policy for every poll?" he enquired. Other statement of an incorrect nature were also assailed by Mr. Elliott. In introducing the Hon. J. R. Cooke, Mr Elliott mentioned that the position he now held was equal to, if not greater than that of the premier of the province. "I introduce to you a student, a scholar, and a gentleman" said Mr. Elliott.

Hon. J. R. Cooke

Honorable "Bob" was tendered a real ovation as he rose to speak. He said at the outset that he was not present to talk politics but he would speak on "The problems of the province of Ontario." He touched upon the laws relating to the hospitals and charitable institutions and also those dealing with municipal industrial and commercial problems passing on to the Hydro question he asserted. "The Hydro Electric is the best barometer of industrial improvement you can find." He called for a support at the coming election of those men who have made the struggle during the past few years. "I am going to vote for Bill Ireland and I hope you do", was his final remark.

S. R. Burrows of Belleville was musical director of the evening leading in community singing and giving one of his popular songs. J. F. Baker also took part giving two numbers and Leo Riggs of Belleville acted as accompanist.

Earlier in the evening the same speakers addressed a goodly sized gathering held in Deloro Hall where Reeve S. B. Wright was chairman.

NORTHUMBERLAND REGT. TO PLAN FOR FALL CAMP

CAMPBELLFORD, June 9 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — Officers of the headquarter staff of the Northumberland Regiment met in Campbellford on Thursday evening, to discuss the possibilities of the unit going into camp this year as part of their annual training. Although no definite arrangements were made, it was thought that the unit might hold four days' camp training some time in November, which would be preceded by company training in the four centres: Campbellford, Cobourg, Brighton and Norwood. These arrangements, however, are subject to the approval of M.D. 3, Kingston.

The meeting was presided over by the officer commanding, Colonel H. Sauva, V.D., of Carrying Place, those present being: Captain P. Bradbury and Lieutenant A. Bird, of Cobourg; Major R. E. Drope, M.M., of Harewood; Lieutenant F. S. Atkinson, of Brighton, and Major J. M. Bygott, V.D., Captain J. D. McEachern, and Captain G. H. Free of Campbellford. The meeting was held in the Armouries.

Hastings

The following ladies from St. George's Anglican Church, Hastings, attended the board meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Toronto diocese held in St. Peter's church, Cobour on Thursday, June 7: Mrs. H. F. Battersby, Miss D. Plant, Mrs. Roy King, Mrs. Thos. Curel, Mrs. Ed Radford, Mrs. Blackbourne Sr., Mrs. Cyril Blackbourne and Mrs. L. Scriver.

Dr. Cartwright, president, presided and thirteen other officers of the Toronto Board gave a report of the work done by each officer. Rev. R. H. Haslem, late of Kangra, India and now principal of Emmanuel College, Sask. told of the distress among the people of Saskatchewan followed by a very helpful address to the member of the Woman's Auxiliary and the girls of Hatfield College who were also present. Mrs. Blackbourne of Fort George gave a vivid description of the work among the Indian children. Delegates were present from Toronto, Peterborough, Bowmanville and all branches of the diocese.

Trinity United church basement was chosen for an aluminum demonstration on Tuesday evening June 5th. The ladies of the church assisted with the setting of the tables. Over 35 women were present to partake of the supper The menu consisted of roast beef with brown gravy, mashed potatoes, cabbage, carrots, lettuce and rice. Pancakes with hot maple syrup was then served, followed by a delicious whole wheat short cake with strawberries and cream.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE WEEKLY COLUMN

A goodly thing it is to meet
In Friendship's circle bright,
Where nothing stains the pleasure sweet,
Or dims the radiant light.
No unkind word our lips shall pass,
No envy sour the mind;
But each shall seek the common weal—
The good of all mankind

MILLBROOK

A visiting delegate to a group of Institute branches, by request, gave her first talk on the theme, "The Medicine Cabinet for Summer Camp or Cottage" and notebooks were much in use in the course of the constructive address.

"Camps and summer cottages, as a rule, are a distance from a first class drug store, often from a doctor, and for this reason a small, but well-equipped medicine box should always be part of the vacation supplies. We all have a bath room medicine cupboard which holds practically all the ordinary remedies that are needed from time to time by the family. But when the summer vacation is in prospect the homemaker finds it difficult to make choice of what will be most necessary.

So I bring out this afternoon a few of the supplies best taken along in your medicine chest, a competent doctor having given us this information for this very purpose.

Your lad's skinned knee, or any other thing that breaks the skin, requires tincture of iodine — but please remember that this is a poison, and must be well labelled and is better kept in a separate place from the other medicines. Put it on a high shelf where the children cannot reach it, and beside it place Red Cross sterile gauze bandages, also a spool of adhesive plaster. Below this you would be well advised to have a bottle of aromatic spirits of ammonia, most necessary for faintness or other weakness, and also recommended as very good for the beginning of a cold in the head—something that seems often to happen on the annual vacation. Twenty drops on water three or four times a day is the dose found helpful.

Spirits of camphor should certainly be next on the list; it is a stimulant like the ammonia, and for children especially 'sniffing' the bott'e, and rubbing it round neck, chest, throat and head is a cold preventive. The doctor who gave us the information I am passing on to you said five drops on a lump of sugar three or four times a day, alternating with the ammonia, makes a good anti-cold treatment. You may make a wry face, but a bottle of castor oil should be on this medicine shelf in camp or cottage; it may be administered at once in a sufficient dose after anything has been eaten that causes intestinal pain. And of course you will have a carton of bicarbonate of soda (baking soda) as the older folk can take this remedy—say half a teaspoonful in half a glass of water—if they suffer from heartburn, indigestion, or gas, after indulgence in a favorite dish, or perhaps after a heavy meal when over-tired. Children do not often need this help however.

Now for vaseline, cold cream, or other good clean grease for immediate use on a burn or scald, or the prevention of chapping or sunburn. It is not recommended that headaches should ever be treated with 'quick cures' but their cause determined and then the proper remedy found. However, older folk particularly find it easier to 'take a pill' than to deny themselves what it may be they know well enough produces their headache, so supposing we allow five-grain aspirin tablets, one or two to the dose; and this as an emergency measure only. As a large percentage of headaches undoubtedly come from constipation, the second 'cure' is a gentle laxative at night. Compound licorice powder is considered very good, using a teaspoonful in a little water at bedtime. Adults of a nervous disposition troubled with sleeplessness can ruin everybody's holiday, so take along a bromide mixture, prescribed by your family doctor in the correct dosage before you leave home, and give it a place on the medicine shelf.

In these days of long, dusty automobile drives a simple eye-wash is a necessity; use one teaspoon spirits of camphor, two of borax, added to a pint of water that has been boiled five minutes and is still hot; this will make a pleasant and soothing eyewash, used freely with an eye-dropper when the eyes are irritated with dust, overwork, too bright sunlight, or from late reading. Used three or four times a day it is also a good wash for a cold in the eyes, reducing redness and irritation. Now as to a throat gargle common salt (half a teaspoonful) in a glass of water is most healing; it is also good for nasal cleansing and for washing off any infected wound.

We can hardly close without mentioning tonics, two medicines being really efficacious: Cod liver oil in some form, as palatable as you may think best and are able to secure it, for thin, fast-growing children, especially if they have a tendency to colds, and for all pale anemic people, particularly growing girls. The iron is believed to act largely as a stimulant to the iron-forming elements in the body, and is best taken intermittently for alternate months. Altogether I have only mentioned about a dozen medicines, all easily procurable, and all necessary to your comfort, health and pleasure for the family outing this vacation time.

Trent River

TRENT RIVER.

The Central Ontario Ayrshire Breeders' Club will hold their annual field day in the park at Havelock on Wednesday, June 13th. Addresses will be given by L. E. O'Neil, assistant livestock director, Toronto; Frank Napier, secretary Canadian Ayrshire Breeders' Association, Ottawa; F. C. Biggs, chairman National Livestock Records, Dundas, and Mr. T. P. Lancaster, of Havelock. There will be a judging competition under the direction of the agricultural representatives of Northumberland and Peterborough Counties: Messrs. A. D. Runion and W. H. Smith. Mr. W. J. Peoples, of Havelock, is president of the club, and F. M. Rutherford, of Bonarlaw, secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Davidson attended the Wood family re-union held at Exhibition Park, Peterborough, on June 2.

Recent visitors with Mrs. Joseph Doupe were her son, Mr. Jim Doupe, wife and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Shaw, of Campbellford.

West Bridge baseball team lined up with Donegal Thursday evening on the field at the farm residence of Mr. W. G. Barrie, resulting in a win for the latter.

The Seymour West Women's Institut will hold their regular meeting on June 21 at the home of Mrs. G. V. Orser. Roll call will be, "Thoughts from the District Annual." The paper will be on "What other Institutes are doing."

Demonstration Given At Hastings Meeting

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, June 9. — The regular monthly meeting of the local branch of the Women's Institute was held on Tuesday afternoon in the Town Hall with a good attendance of members. Mrs. Walter M. Fowlds, the president, occupied the chair.

The meeting was to have been featured by an art demonstration by Miss McCarthy of Peterborough, but she was unable to be present.

Mrs. J. A. Brown, the secretary, thanked the institute for their kind expressions and sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. West and family during their recent sad bereavement.

Mrs. A. E. Spooner and Mrs. W. M. Fowlds gave very interesting demonstrations on hooked woollen mats and a woollen afghan.

The meeting also planned for a picnic to be held along the water front some time in July. Invitations will be extended to the children of the district.

Judging Contest in Livestock Classes And Domestic Science.

AT EXHIBITION PARK

Coaching Trip for Judging Team Planned by A. D. Runions.

The Annual Peterborough County Judging Competition in Household Science and Live Stock is to be held on the Peterborough Exhibition Grounds, Friday, June 15, commencing at 9 a.m.

The girls Household Science Judging Competition will be under the direction of Miss Edith Hopkins, Lindsay, who will be assisted by members of the staff of the Institute Branch, Toronto. The competition will be divided into three sections, viz: Nutrition, clothing and house furnishings with small prizes for the winners in each section. In addition there will be a team demonstration in clothing and the winning team will represent Peterborough County in the Inter-County Competition at Peterborough Industrial Exhibition on Wednesday, August 22nd.

Agricultural Representative A. D. Runions will be in charge of the Live Stock Judging Competition which will consist of at least 6 classes of live stock that will be judged on farms in Peterborough district.

There will be prizes for the winners in each class, as well as a prize for high junior boy and high boy of the competition. A number of new boys who are enrolled in club work are expected in to the competition and therefore a special invitation is being extended to all interested boys to attend as it will afford them an opportunity to get started in competition work with the other juniors.

The senior boys (former judging team members) are also urged to attend as the competition will be more or less of a preliminary trial for the County Judging team for the Royal and Ottawa Winter Fair. Mr. Runions plans to take from 12 to 16 boys on a special coaching trip this Fall prior to the winter fairs and their work in the county competition will be considered when the trip members are being chosen. In addition to the regular live stock work arrangements have been made with Mr. Davies, Creamery Instructor, for the district to give all interested boys and especially the senior boys coaching in the art of cream grading. A cream grading competition for junior farmers is being included in the junior section of the 1934 Canadian National Exhibition program at Toronto and any Peterborough County boys who are interested, Mr. Davies will arrange to give them some additional coaching prior to the C.N.E.

Mr. M. C. McPhail, assistant director of Agricultural Representatives, Toronto; Mr. A. E. Summers, Agricultural Representative, Port Hope; M. H. Winter, Agricultural Representative, Lindsay; Mr. W. H. Smith, Agricultural Representative, Brighton, and Mr. W. M. Gordon, Dominion Live Stock Branch, Peterborough, will assist with the Boys' Judging Competition.

These competitions which are held annually are open to all young women and young men in Peterborough County who are interested in Household Science or Agriculture. Competitors are asked to meet at the Exhibition Grounds, Peterborough, Friday morning at 9 o'clock—the program will continue all day and providing the crowd is large enough and interested in making the trip, a boat trip for competitors and friends only, will be arranged to leave Peterborough at 8 p.m.

O.R.E.C. To Meet At Trent Bridge

CAMPBELLFORD, June 8 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — The Rev. R. M. Sanderson, of Toronto, will be the guest speaker at the annual convention of the Campbellford, Seymour and Belmont branch of the Ontario Religious Education Council, when that body convenes in Trent River United Church, on Tuesday, June 12. Two sessions will be held, in the afternoon at 2.30 p.m. and in the evening at 8 o'clock.

KILLING OFFICER TO COST 3 LIVES

Trio Found Guilty of Machine Gunning Patrolman After Hold-up.

APPEALS MADE.

By ANDREW J. CLARKE
Associated Press Staff Writer.

DEDHAM, Mass., June 9.—(A.P.).—The Millen brothers and Abe Faber to-day stood convicted of murder in the first degree.

In their cells in Dedham jail, guarded by alert State troopers, they mused over the proceedings of the past eight weeks which culminated in their being found guilty of the slaying of Patrolman Forbes McLeod, Dedham patrolman who was dropped by machine gun fire in the robbery of the Dedham Trust Company.

The bell in the First Parish church, a bell they had heard through long days of confinement, had just tolled midnight as they were led into the court room to hear the verdict that, unless the Supreme court intervenes, means they will die in the electric chair.

Their fathers and mothers were there, sisters, and cousins, as the clerk called the court to order.

Michael Doherty, foreman of the jury that had taken four and a half hours to decide their fate, arose to stamp the seal of guilty—first on Morton, then on his brother, Irving, and last on Abraham Faber.

Brothers Unmoved

Murton still wore the leer that has characterized his every court appearance. Irving, alleged "tool" of his brother, took his medicine still with a smile on his face. Faber, branded "yellow" by the prosecutor, still kept his eyes down and his head bowed, in the stupefied attitude that had been called a "sham."

Sentence of the trio await deliberation of the Supreme Court on exceptions filed during the trial by attorneys of the defense. The attorneys, William R. Scharton, who defended Faber, and George Stanley Harve, for the Millens, left the court hurriedly after the verdicts were announced. They seemed tired after the eight weeks of trial.

The trial was one of the longest in the history of Massachusetts; exceeding by almost a week, the famous Sacco-Vanzetti trial, which was held in the same courtroom.

IN MEMORIAM
MACK.—In loving memory of Mrs. James Mack, who departed this life, June 9, 1926.

Our mother is sleeping, so free from all pain;
Oh wake her not, sweet spirit, to suffer again.
She slumbers so soundly; oh let her sleep on,
Her sickness is ended, her troubles are gone.
Just think how she suffered and moaned with pain
In the long night hours we soothed her in vain,
Till God in His mercy sent down from above
An angel that whispered a message of love.
—Ever remembered by the Family

MACK.—In loving memory of Mrs. James Mack, who passed away June 9, 1926.

As I gaze on your picture that hangs on the wall,
Your smiles and your welcome I often recall;
I miss you and mourn you in silence unseen,
And dwell on the memories of days that have been.
Dear is the grave where Mother is laid,
Sweet is the memory that never will fade;
Flowers may wither, leaves fade and die;
If some do forget you, never will I.
—Ever remembered by Pearl and Howard.

PRESENT PRIZES TUESDAY, JUNE 12

School Children Notified of Humane Society Meeting.

Only eight of the fifty school children of the city and county attended the meeting Thursday night at which members of the Humane Society intended to present the prizes for the writing of essays in the recent contest which the Society conducted.

It was thought that their absence was due to lack of sufficient notice, and for the presentation of the prizes in St. John's Parish Hall next Tuesday night at 8 o'clock post cards have been sent out to the children and their parents requesting them to attend the postponed meeting. Ven. Archdeacon Blagrave will preside.

C. U. Stapleton Is Elected President

The honor of being elected president of the National Office Management Association of America has been conferred upon C. U. Stapleton, former Peterborough boy, now manager of Office Services, Canadian National Railways, Montreal. Mr. Stapleton was elected director of this Association 1927, second vice-president in 1929, first vice-president in 1932, moving up to president this year at the 15th annual conference in Chicago. This is the first occasion on which a railroad member, or a Canadian, has been chosen for the highest honor within the gift of the National Office Management Association.

REV. GEO. E. ROSS IS FOUND DEAD

Former Pastor of Mark Street United Church in Peterborough.

LIVING IN TRENTON.

TRENTON, June 9.— Rev. George E. Ross, a retired minister of the United Church (and former pastor of Mark Street United Church in Peterborough), was found dead in his home on Dundas Street, Trenton this week. His wife died last March, and most of the time since then he had lived alone. When he was not seen about on Wednesday morning, the neighbors became alarmed, and, entering the house, they found Mr. Ross lying dead on the floor near a chair, from which it is thought he fell when taken with the attack which caused his death. It is not known when death occurred, but it was either on Tuesday or early on Wednesday morning.

The late Mr. Ross was born in Scotland and came to Canada when quite young. He studied at Albert College, Belleville and later at Victoria University, preparing himself for the ministry of the Methodist Church, to which he was eventually ordained. He served successfully for many years and was very highly esteemed by his congregations and by his fellow-ministers. His last charge was at Rednersville, having left there two years ago to live retired in Trenton. Mr. Ross was an excellent speaker and writer.

The sick and needy always found a friend in him, and during his retirement from active work he spent much time visiting the sick. He was also a friend of the unemployed, and two weeks ago addressed a meeting of unemployed men in Trenton. On Tuesday of this week he made a trip to Bath and visited a sick friend.

Mr. Ross will be much missed by many friends and acquaintances. He was a member of Grace United Church in Trenton. At one time he was pastor of this church.

One daughter, Mrs. (Dr.) W. L. Mollard, of Saltcoats, Sask., survives.

SALE OF MONUMENTS
AT GREATLY
REDUCED PRICES
In order to keep our men employed, we offer in this sale a splendid opportunity for intending purchasers to save money on monuments.
Having our own factory, and being completely equipped with machinery for the manufacture of monuments from the rough stone into the finished article, we save you the extra costs of duty and freight on finished imported work. That means a very considerable saving, as the rates are high.
EVERY KIND OF MEMORIAL
We make any kind of memorial from a marker to the most elaborate monument and invite you to call and inspect our stock before purchasing. As we have no agents our patrons are also saved the agent's commission charged by the majority of other dealers.
BUY AT HOME
Agents of firms in outside centres are calling on citizens here in need of cemetery work, and soliciting their orders. These firms pay no city or business taxes in Peterborough, whereas we have been ratepayers of Peterborough for over 40 years. Then why buy from out-of-town manufacturers? Why not deal with Coughlin's, who contribute toward the up-keep of your own city, and who can sell for less. We guarantee our workmanship, and our designs are the newest.
Orders placed now will be completed in time for Decoration Day.

"SACRED CAT" OF THEBES CLAWED HAND OF SLEEPER

Death of Antiquaries' General Recalls Finding of King Tut

VICTIMS OF CURSE?

London.—Of the 21 men directly and indirectly concerned in the unearthing of Tut-Ankh-Amen's tomb and mummy in Egypt, in November, 1923, only one remains alive; he is the American archaeologist, Howard Carter. The others, beginning with Lord Carnarvon, are believed by adepts in occult arts to have been victims of the "Tut-Ankh-Amen curse."

What makes Mr. Carter the only survivor was the recent death of Arthur Weigall at the London hospital.

Although Mr. Weigall was not a member of the party, he was inspector-general of antiquaries to the Egyptian government at the time, and took the keenest interest in the expedition.

Mr. Weigall always emphatically denied the story that a terrible curse was written on the walls of Tut-Tnkh-Amen's tomb; yet that he did believe queer things happened sometimes to people who disturbed the ancient dead is proved by a story he told in "Tut-Ankh-Amen and Other Essays."

Plenty of Action

It concerned the wooden figure of a sacred cat he dug up in Thebes. By mistake it was put in his bedroom. In the dead of night his butler was bitten by a scorpion, and screamed about "a large gray cat" in his delirium.

Mr. Weigall fell asleep staring at the wooden cat uneasily. In the night he awoke in terror as a large gray cat leaped on his bed, clawed his hand, and vanished through the window.

There was a crack like a pistol shot. The wooden figure of the cat in his room had fallen apart.

"Between them," he wrote, "sat the mumified figure of a cat, the bandages which were swathed round it being ripped open at the neck as though they had been burst outward."

WEARING TROUSERS GIRL WINS MATCH

Golfer "Sure That Objectors Will Become Accustomed to Seeing Them"

Porthcawl.—Gray flannel trousers worn by a golfer in the women's international matches here led to his approval being expressed by other members of her team.

When Miss Marjorie Barron, playing for Wales against Scotland, appeared on the first tee wearing the trousers, her colleagues approached officials of the ladies' golf union, who decided to take no action.

After Miss Barron, who is 1, finished her match—having beaten her opponent—she was informed, unofficially, of the objection of her trousers.

She merely smiled, and went to luncheon, appearing later dressed as before, to win her second match, against a Scottish player.

"This fuss makes no difference to my dress opinions," she said. It was suggested that I should play in waterproof overalls instead of the trousers. But what is the difference? I am going to continue wearing them, as I have for a long period. I am sure that the objectors will become accustomed to seeing them."

A member of the L.G.U. committee said: "Trousers are much more convenient than skirts, especially on rainy and wet days."

VILLAGERS FEARFUL OF GUNS' PRESENCE

Freedom Restricted as Huge Artillery Arrives

Shoeburyness. — Britain's latest monster gun, said to be of 15-inch calibre and destined for the great Singapore naval base, on which work is being hurriedly pushed ahead, will be tested near here.

The three greatest pieces of heavy artilery in the world are to be included.

At least one of them is to have its firing trials here, and people over a wide area already suffering from the blowing out of windows and the cracking of ceilings from the reverberation of guns at the Coast Artillery school, are frankly scared by the thought of what the effect of firing the latest giant may be.

An emplacement 30ft. deep, with a diameter of about 100 ft., has been sunk and gun-mountings have been constructed in 24 ft. of concrete.

It is said that the gun will be fired without anybody being in the pit with it, the loading by crane, and the firing being automatically controlled.

Military police patrols have now been introduced and the villagers always kept away from the isolated spot where the gun is to be mounted, find their freedom more restricted than ever.

M.P. STARTS NURSERY FOR POOR CHILDREN

Modern School Will Provide Variety of Entertainment

Kettering.—One of the most modern nursery schools in Britain, is to be opened here.

The cost, which is about $5,000, is being met by Ronald Tree, M.P., of Kelmarsh, Northants.

The nursery is intended for children between the ages of two and five, and numerous playing facilities have been provided.

"The idea," an official said, "is to provide for the working man the same facilities as exists for those more fortunately placed." The cost of maintaining will be met by voluntary contributions.

TOGETHER IN DEATH

Harlesden. — Mr. and Mrs. G. Hellish, who died within two days of each other, were buried together. They were married 54 years.

CALICO GROUP SENDS SPINNERS TO CHINA

Move Made Partly Combat Japanese Competition

London.—A party of cotton operatives, four girls and 12 men, is to be sent to China to train Shanghai labor in cotton spining. The party is being sent by one of the biggest concerns in the British textile industry, the Calico Printers' Association.

The men have agreed to stay in China for five years and the girls for 18 months.

While they are away money will be banked for them in England by the association.

The association stated that the scheme had been formulated partly to combat Japanese competition.

SUSPECT "VAMPIRE" AS CHILDREN HURT

"Terror" Punctures Skin and Sucks Blood, Father Claims

London.—The three children of a Finsbury family have been attacked on two separate occasions by a nocturnal visitant which has punctured their skins and sucked their blood.

Michael Baines, a painter; Mrs. Baines, who, before the "terror," used to go out to work; and three of their children occupy two basement rooms and a ground floor room in Risinghill St.

"Six weeks ago," Mrs. Baines told a reporter, "we put the children to sleep in one of the basement rooms.

"In the morning when I went in to the children I found Marjorie, aged eight, and Eileen, aged seven, covered with blood. I found that Eileen had two small marks, half-an-inch apart, on her wrist. They were just like punctures, mauve in color, and swollen. Marjorie had two just like it above her elbow. The doctor was puzzled. He said the marks were like a bite, and yet not like a bite. He could not imagine what kind of an animal had made them. He did not think it was a rat. He had never met anything like it. He told us that the liking for blood reminded him of old vampire legends.

The family dog will not sleep in the basement room.

UNEARTH ROMAN VILLA

Discovery May Have Served as Centre for Troops

Bristol.—On the main road to Avonmouth, near Sea Mills station, the site of an old Roman villa, comprising three rooms, with an overall length of about fifteen yards, was discovered.

It is believed to have served as the quarters of Roman troops, for not far away a stone bearing the inscription "Second Legion" was recently discovered. Numerous finds of the period of Constantine have been discovered in the same field.

The excavations are proceeding, and as the site is on ground belonging to the corporation of Bristol, it is hoped it may be preserved permanently.

PIN-PRICK CAUSES DEATH

Calcutta.—Story of how a pin-prick was alleged to have caused the death of a man was related at the resumed hearing of a plague bacilli murder case here.

NOURISHED ON PORT COCK LOSES TO CHAMP

Direction Charts Found by Police Prove Fakes So Fight Goes On

Kendal.—Nursing its torn and bleeding spurs, "somewhere in the lake district" is this year's cock o' the north.

The cock-fighting championship of the northern counties was decided at dawn recently after one of the most secret meetings ever held.

The scene of the fight was the centre of a lovely moor, overlooking a lake famed for its beauty.

For weeks before the fight took place there had been a battle of wits going on between the promoters and the police.

A venue was chosen. Charts showing the way to get there were issued to the select few. Yet the promoters never intended them to be used—except by the police.

Then the real scene was disclosed to those who could be trusted. Every one in the secret had to be vouched for by three other people.

So that there should be no suspicious crowding on the road to give the police a clue a variety of routes and time tables were drawn up.

Secure from police interference the two contesting cocks were released. One, a black and red bird, had a few weeks ago won the championship of Westmorland and $250 for its owner. The other was a red bird belonging to a Cumberland miner. It had been nourished on the finest vintage port.

By five a.m. the fight was over. The Westmorland bird was cock o' the north.

WOOED GIRL BY POST ABSENT FOR WEDDING

Police Search for Missing Bridegroom as Date Set

Liverpool.—Recently all arrangements were completed for the wedding of a young Wirral nurse to a doctor. Instead of orange blossoms, a ceremony and a reception, police are searching for the man she thought she was to marry.

The nurse's shattered romance began about three months ago, when she received a letter from a "Dr. Henry Radcliffe" saying that he had been trying to trace her since falling in love with her photograph.

Next he sent her a ring, and followed up his wooing by repeated telephone calls.

The girl fell in love with his voice, and agreed to become engaged. Her fiance's father, she was told, was a Harley St. surgeon.

The wedding was arranged to take place in St. Paul's cathedral, London. Wedding gowns were sent to her home, and all was ready for the ceremony. When no bridegroom arrived, the police began search for him which is still continuing.

BRITAIN'S BUILDING BOOMS

Ministry of Labor Reports Plans For $175,000,000 Expenditures

London.—The face of Britain is being changed by the biggest series of building schemes ever undertaken in this country.

Since the beginning of the year 146 leading local authorities have reported to the ministry of labor that they have approved plans for building, totalling $175,000,000.

Never has there been an approach to this figure. The nearest to it was in the spring of 1929, when the corresponding total was $132,500,000.

Already there has been an increase of nearly 25 per cent. in building schemes, compared with the same period of last year. In the great majority of these schemes the actual building has not started. In nearly all cases it will begin this summer.

TRY THIS ON YOUR MOTORCYCLE

Well, everyone to their own sport. If the boys at Catterick Camp, Yorkshire, want to take to hurdling on motorcycles, that's their look-out. It's just an old custom with the Royal Corps of Signals. As well as fun for the lads, the display pictured ABOVE, is designed to illustrate the possibilities of horsemen and motorcyclists working in conjunction with each other. Doubtless, there were some among the spectators who, after watching the leaping machines, decided to stick to their horse.

MAGISTRATES WHO FINED GIRL REFUSED HUNTING PRIVILEGES

Father Issues Ban Claiming Daughter Unfairly Treated

ALLOWED IN PAST

Nantwich.—A farmer, whose nineteen-year-old daughter was fined $25 for stealing a pair of gloves at a charity ball, has forbidden the magistrates who heard the case to hunt over his land.

The farmer, Thomas Vaughan of Fullyhurst Hall farm, has, since the conviction of his daughter, also informed Sir Watkin Wynn, master of the Wynnstay hounds, that in future his hounds must not hunt over his farms at Malpas, in the Wynnstay country.

Mr. Vaughan said that he was incensed at what he described as the harsh decision of the Wem (Shropshire) magistrates against his daughter Nora when there might have been a mistake.

"I have had no grievance against Sir Watkin Wynn," said Mr. Vaughan, "or his hounds hunting over my land. I have always shown them the greatest courtesy as did my father and grandfather before me, but I can only make my protest in this way against the Wem magistrates, who heard the case and who may hunt with Sir Watkin's hounds."

SEEK SUNKEN TREASURE

Attempt Salvage of Bullion in Laurentic's Hold

Liverpool. — The salvage steamer Attendant arrived in Lough Swilly recently to renew operations for salving the balance of the gold bars in the Laurentic, which was sunk by enemy submarine during the war, it being estimated that one million pounds' worth still remains in the ship.

MILK QUENCHES FLAMES

Lincoln.—Milk was used to put out the flames when a lorry caught fire following a collision.

BEQUEATHS $250,000 FOR VILLAGE SPORTS

Money To Be Used in Promoting Football, Cricket, Golf

Woodham Walter.—"Aye, he was a grand man, and never were a happier village than this. I can tell you Mr. Thomson made it the finest village in the country."

It is old Solomon Davis talking—the 81-year-old gravedigger of this sleepy Essex village, whose rustic sportsmen have just been staggered by a windfall from a wealthy stockbroker.

Henry Walter Thomson, who died in April worth nearly half a million pounds, left a trust fund of $250,000, part of the income from which is to be used "for the upkeep of Warren Farm (which he owned), and the expenses of organizing and encouraging football, cricket, golf and other pastimes in the village of Woodham Walter."

BRADNAM'S THE NAME

Famous Cricketer Should Not Be Addressed Bradman

South Shields.—Don Bradman's name is not Bradman at all—it is Bradnam, according to a relative of the great cricketer.

"Our family names is Bradnam," his great-aunt explained. "We think the difference must have started when Don's branch of the family first went to Australia. People often make mistakes with our name. It is possible that they were called Bradman so often that they simply gave up trying to correct the mistake."

LEAVES STATUE TO KING

His Majesty Receives Royal Heirloom From Cleric

London.—A marble statue of Queen Alexandra, and furniture that was the gift of the late Princess Royal, were bequeathed to the King and Queen by Rev. Basil Bourchier. Mr. Bourchier was rector of St. Anne's, Soho, and for twenty-one years vicar of St. Jude-on-the-Hill, Hampstead.

NEW BRICK REQUIRES NO STRAW OR CLAY

Claim Cement Invention Has Double Ventilation Cavities

London.—The ministry of health has approved a new brick which is made without straw or clay.

It has been evolved by two Englishmen, and the ministry has promised to notify all local authorities of its qualities.

The bricks, made of a special cement composition, are four times the size of the ordinary type. They can be manufactured in any color.

They have double ventilation cavities, which give resistance to damp, dry rot and sound and also maintain even temperature winter or summer.

They are made in the form of the double letter "H." They interlock, and can be used for constructing the whole of a building, including floors and ceilings.

Bricklaying time and labor are cut by 75 per cent with the new brick, while an 80 per cent. saving is achieved in the use of mortar or cement.

The brick can be manufactured in twelve hours instead of the five weeks needed with bricks made of clay. The invention is the result of the combined researches of a British architect, J. J. Hine, and W. A. Fox-Strangways.

ONIONS LOOK EDIBLE ONE BITE ENOUGH

Southend-on-Sea.—Onions by the hundreds of thousand are blooming on Shoebury Common, east of here.

They are of the spring variety and look healthy and succulent, but are as tough as leather.

It is believed that they are relics of a Dutch seed barge wrecked over twenty years ago, when there was nothing but sand and pebbly beach between the common and the sea. Now there is a substantial sea wall.

Another explanation is that the common has been a camping ground for Londoners for years. Some residents recall that the Shoebury Common onion was tender, but years in the sand have toughened it.

AIR BOMBER STRIKES WIRE PLUNGING PILOT TO DEATH

Tow-Line Tears Aeroplane to Pieces 2,000 Feet Above Earth

AT TARGET PRACTICE

Sutton Bridge.—A thin strand of wire, taut, in mid-air, wrecked a Royal Air Force bomber and sent the pilot crashing to death into the Wash, two thousand feet below.

High up among the clouds Pilot Sergeant Frank Baker of No. 41 squadron launched into a nose-dive, guns spurting at the sausage target towed by a Fairey II.

With engines wide open, the Fairey, trailing the target on a long strand of thin wire, tore over the sea at 120 miles per hour.

Down swooped Baker's Bulldog fighter, humming over and around the target, first on one wing-tip, then on the other, stabbing spears of lead into the target. Suddenly his machine lurched, hovered, began to fall to pieces. He had flown full into the trailing wire, and it had wrapped itself round his machine like the tentacles of a steel octopus.

The wings crumpled; fell off one by one. Pieces of fabric tossed crazily in the air like great sheets of paper. Then the fuselage, coiled about by the murderous wire, plunged seaward at 300 miles per hour, with Baker still strapped to the seat.

The crew of the Fairey III. saw it plunge into the sea and shiver to fragments.

They thought they saw Pilot Sergeant Baker detach himself from the machine and fall into the water far from the spot where his aeroplane struck. They wirelessed their headquarters — and launches dashed to the wreck. It was strewn over many yards of sea. In the midst of the twisted mass they found the pilot. He had not jumped out. He had perished with his aeroplane. The target aeroplane was not even damaged.

DEAD OUTNUMBER LIVING IN FINCHLEY

Beauty Makes It's Cemeteries Popular, Mayor Explains

London.—The borough of Finchley has more dead in it than living people.

So said P. Herbert Jones, secretary of the National Council for the distribution of the dead, at the congress of the Royal Institute of Public Health, at Norwich.

"Every dead body," he said, "receives accommodation at the expense of the living and to their detriment."

The mayor of Finchley, Vyvyan Wells, has a simple explanation for the high number of dead in his borough. "Finchley is so beautiful, and the amenities are so well preserved, that people like not only to live within our borders, but to be buried there too," he said.

The borough surveyor said he had not counted up the dead, but the cemeteries in Finchley covered 170 acres. This left 3,319 acres for the 65,000 living inhabitants.

REFUSES LEGAL AID

Man Confesses Murder With No Wish for Jury

Retford.—"I am guilty of the charge, sir. I quite realize what I say. I don't wish to consult a solicitor at all."

This assertion was made by Walter Prince, alias Jones, when he was committed for trial on the charge of murdering Harriet Shaw, aged twenty-one.

LADY HAIG WILL LIVE AT HAMPTON PALACE

His Majesty Provides Home for Late Commander's Widow

London.—Lady Haig, widow of the British war-time commander-in-chief, Earl Haig, will soon join one of the most exclusive coteries in the world when she moves into the apartments in Hampton Court Palace granted to her by King George. Four of the royal palaces—Windsor, St. James', Hampton Court and Kensington—have these coteries.

They consist of men and women of distinguished military, naval or court associations. Suites of apartments in each of the four palaces are set aside for them. They live rent free, and the apartments are their homes until they die. All the interior decorating and the furnishing they do themselves. They employ their own servants. In most cases no duties or obligations are attached to their positions.

WOMAN DOCTOR'S SKILL RESTORES MAN'S SIGHT

Boxer Can See After Undergoing a Delicate Operation

Birmingham.—Willie Unwin can see.

The young South African electrical engineer turned heavyweight boxer came to England to make his fortune in the ring, but he lost his sight.

He was training last Christmas when his eyes failed. "I can't see! I can't see," he cried to his manager, who rushed him to Leicester hospital, where an operation partially restored his sight. "Everything seems dim to me now," he said.

Three weeks ago he was persuaded to go to the Birmingham eye hospital. He was operated upon for detached retina—an ailment only too prevalent among boxers who go on fighting with cut eyes to give the crowd "value for money."

The delicate operation was performed by a brilliant woman ophthalmic surgeon. She is on the staff of the hospital, and has a big reputation in the Midlands.

For twenty days Unwin has lain in a dimly lit room with his eyes bandaged. Recently the bandages were removed.

He must stay in hospital for another fortnight; he will have to take the greatest care of himself; he may have to take up his old trade and abandon his genuine vocation for the ring. But Willie Unwin can see.

SUCK ADDER'S WOUND IS CORONER'S WARNING

Child Gathering Flowers Dies After Bite From Viper

Holt.—The risk of children being bitten by adders when playing in fields and woods is emphasized by an inquest held at Cromer hospital, Norfolk on Dorothy Horne, the three-year-old daughter of Mr. Horne.

A verdict that death resulted from poison from the bite of an adder was recorded.

The coroner, W. J. Barton, said that a snake bite wound should be sucked immediately after a person had been bitten.

According to the evidence, the child was out with her grandfather gathering cowslips at Edgefield. A few hours later a punctured wound was observed two inches above her left ankle. She seemed well then, but craved for water.

Dr. Nash was called and dressed the wound, but within a short while the child had to be rushed to Cromer hospital, where she died—less than 24 hours after being bitten.

Before going to the hospital she told her grandfather that she had been bitten by a frog.

The adder, or viper, Britain's only poisonous snake, has claimed several victims in recent years, but treatment saved all but one. The poison, injected through a canal along the fangs from a sac in the jaw, acts directly on the heart.

SPEED ACE BEATEN BY HOME-MADE CAR

Given 31 Seconds Start, Youth Defeats Malcolm Campbell

Brooklands.—A youngster in what was virtually a home-made car had the thrill of beating Sir Malcolm Campbell—holder of the world's fastest land speed record. It happened in the fourth race.

He was W. E. Harker and he proudly called his car a Harker Special. It was driven by two small M.G. engines coupled up with great skill by this young engineer. Campbell's car was the giant Sunbeam, of 3,976 c.c. The Harker Special was only 1,492 c.c.

Campbell started scratch. Mr. Harker in his home-made car had a start of 31 seconds. Campbell drove with all his accustomed skill. He overhauled the whole field, but found his master in Mr. Harker and his Harker car.

FAMOUS THEATRE BURNS

Third Generation of Barnards Operated Music Hall

Chatham.—Barnard's Palace Theatre, High St., claimed to be the world's oldest music hall, was destroyed by fire.

Barnard's was a popular variety theatre as far back as 1850 and there is evidence of some form of entertainment having been provided there even before then when the building was the Granby Coffee Tavern.

The proprietorship of the theatre is in the third generation of the Barnard family.

AUSTRIAN CHURCH CLAIMS 45,000 RETURN TO ITS FOLD

"Overthrow of Social Democracy" Said One Cause of Religious Fervor

ALL CREEDS GAIN

Vienna.—Tens of thousands of new members are flocking into Austria's churches.

The semi-official Politische Korrespondenz, discussing the return of approximately 25,000 men and women to the Catholic church in Vienna alone, believes it is a natural result of the destruction of social democracy in Austria.

"In consequence of the overthrow of social democracy, which had succeeded in estranging hundreds of thousands from the church by terroristic methods and by heaping contempt on its representatives and most sacred symbols, there has developed in all parts of Austria a 'back - to - the - church' movement simply astonishing in extent," says this semi-official organ.

On the other hand, at headquarters of the Protestant churches (Augsburg and Helvetic confessions) the influx of almost 20,000 new members in Austria since February 12 is interpreted as a revival of the Protestant faith stimulated by opposition to the government's goal of establishing a Christian - Catholic state.

Protestant leaders also assert, however, that some who drifted out of the churches when the Socialist party dominated Vienna are coming back now.

Seek Refuge In Church

The Jewish newspaper, Neue Welt, puts still another interpretation on the new popularity of church membership. Unofficial but nevertheless persistent and quiet elimination of Jews from academic and professional posts, says this newspaper, coupled with an official emphasis on the "Christian-German" character of the new Austria, is causing among faint-hearted Jews a "baptismal movement"—an attempt to make themselves "Christian-German" by joining a Christian church.

What percentage of the new Protestant and Catholic church members are of Jewish ancestry is not clear. The Neue Welt itself does not attempt to estimate.

But it does protest vehemently against the suggestion voiced in some pro-government quarters—notably in the Linzer Volksblatt—that the only satisfactory solution of the Jewish problem is the conversion of the Jews to Christianity.

HELD BY HIS BEARD SENTRY SHOT DEAD

Bandits on Rampage, Escape From Indian Jail

Calcutta. — Shooting two sentries dead and arming themselves with 19 rifles and 950 pounds of ammunition, a gang of 27 bandits escaped from Faridkot state jail in the Punjab district.

The leader engaged the sentry in conversation for some time, then caught hold of the sentry's flowing beard, while the rest of the gang disarmed him and shot him dead with his own rifle. Then they raided the magazine and shot another sentry.

They escaped with the rifles and ammunition with the police in hot pursuit.

FUN AT A PRICE

Students Must Pay for Any Damage Done to Furniture

Paris.—With the sub-custom during the regime of General Petar Zhivkovitch for the student at different Jugoslav universities to shut themselves in the university buildings and from there to demonstrate against the regime by breaking tables and chairs and throwing them out the windows, they thus protected themselves from the police, who, according to the old statute, were forbidden to enter the university building unless specially asked by the rector.

The government, being fearful that new demonstrations may arise, has issued a new decree, by which the students are made responsible for all damages to the property of the university. The rector is empowered to rule that all demonstrating students shall lose a term.

MINE OF REAL GOLD IS NEAR, YET SO FAR

Aeroplanes Carry Equipment to Location 2,250 Feet Above Sea Level

London.—At a height of 2,250 feet above sea level, 35 miles in a direct line from the coast of New Guinea, from which no road of any description exists, lies a gold mine.

When the construction of a road from the coast to the property was considered, it was found that, to cross the intervening range of mountains through a pass, the minimum height of which is 4,000 feet, the road would have to be 90 miles long, and would cost $1,000,000 to build, apart from the heavy cost of upkeep.

Hence, during the time the property was being proved and developed, aeroplanes were used to obtain access to it, and it was decided to look into the possibilities of dispensing with a road entirely by using aeroplanes for transporting, not only the necessary supplies, but all the machinery required.

Two dredgers have already been carried by this method to the gold fields. The mining company then ordered a diesel excavator, with the stipulation that the machine must be suitably supplied in packages for transportation from the coast to the mine by means of aeroplanes.

The machine, which is on its way out from England to New Guinea, is a standard shovel of a total weight of 24 tons. The heaviest piece weighs two tons two cwts., and the longest piece—the boom, 21 feet long—has been sent out complete without being shortened or sectionalized, as the aeroplane will accommodate this.

HAT SHELTERS ROBINS

Hythe.—A pair of robins built a nest in a hat-box in a bedroom at "Balgowan," the residence of Brig.-General G. W. H. Nicholson, and now there is a fine brood of young birds.

COFFEE FOR FRIENDSHIP

London.—To seal a treaty of friendship between Great Britain and Yemen, two tons of coffee arrived for King George as a gift from Imam Yahya.

EARL COMES TO AID OF BEEFSTEAK CLUB

Lord Duncannon May Save True Blue Club, Another Famous Group

Cambridge.—There are rejoicings at Cambridge at the news that the Beefsteak club, the oldest of the Cambridge university clubs, dating back nearly 200 years, has been saved, and that the True Blue club, which is nearly as old, will probably be saved.

These two clubs are very exclusive and really appeal only to the nobility. They were founded in times when money was plentiful and the young aristocracy had special ways of amusing themselves.

They are dinner clubs and there is no doubt that in early times they dined very frequently. Both possess plate of great value.

Recently, it was announced that these clubs were to disappear, but that is not so. The Earl of Ranfurly has come forward to save the Beefsteak club. He is a 21-year-old undergraduate of Trinity college. He has accepted the presidency of the club.

It is highly probable that the True Blue will also be saved. The name of Lord Duncannon is being mentioned in connection with this.

The clubs dine in special costumes which in many cases are handed down from one generation to another. Both have special music, which is played during the toasts. This music is in manuscript form and is closely guarded.

HONOR ALI'S MEMORY

Cavalla.—The statue of Mohamed Ali, founder of the present Egyptian dynasty, made by Dimitriades in Paris, has arrived here and will be set up on a base being prepared in Panaghias Square, near the house in which Mohamed Ali was born. The statue will be unveiled next October with elaborate ceremonies, which King Fuad is expected to attend.

WITCHCRAFT SCREENS CRIME

Nairobi, Kenya, East Africa. — Witchcraft as a screen for crime has been discovered here in a vast criminal organization headed by the "witch doctors" of the Lumbwa tribe, and charged with many crimes, principally cattle rustling.

ONCE BOUGHT $250,000 RING JENNY DOLLY BECAME POOR

France Charges She Smuggled Jewelry Into Country

SOLD AT AUCTION

Paris.—Beautiful Jenny Dolly (one of the sisters) stood in the dock of a Paris police court recently, defending herself against an attempt by the customs authorities to fine her $700,000 for the alleged smuggling of a diamond ring.

Stories of her one-time wealth told in court almost made her cry with vexation. For now she is poor.

This ring in question was a few months ago sold by auction for a paltry $100,000 in order to pay her debts.

Yet, said prosecuting counsel: "You bought in Cannes in 1928 a ring valued at $250,000. You wore it for six weeks. Now it was supposed to be exported."

"The jeweller had not had to pay luxury tax of at least $50,000," said the lawyer, because it had been sold for exportation.

The jewel was said to have been exhibited by Miss Dolly at Cannes Casino when it was supposed to have been exported to England.

Then, after its journey across the channel, her secretary, who was now dead, was supposed to have brought it back to France without having paid the duty on it.

Miss Dolly denied that she knew anything of the affair. If the duties were unpaid it must have been through her secretary's negligence, she said.

GIRLS FIGHT OVER MAN

Djako.—Two high school girls fought a duel with knives in a village near here after they quarrelled over a young army officer. A large crowd watched the duel until one of the girls fell; then they called the police, and the winner was arrested.

BUILD HUGE BRIDGE

London.—When completed, the new bridge over the Sabi river in Southern Rhodesia will be the largest in South Africa. A year will be required in the construction work.

FISH LEFT STRANDED AS LAKE RUNS DRY

Ten Acres of Water Disappears Into Disused Mine

Staunton Harold. — For the first time for centuries a ten-acre lake in front of Staunton Harold Hall, the mansion of the Earl Ferrers, near Ashby-de-la-Zouch, has run dry.

A farm hand heard a loud, rushing sound, and within a few hours the water had completely disappeared, leaving hundreds of fish stranded in the mud.

Investigation has revealed that the ground above a disused colliery, which was tunnelled beneath the lake some years ago, had given way, the water filling the whole of the old mine.

The water in the lake was harnessed to supply cattle in all parts of Earl Ferrer's large estate.

BOAT'S SKIPPER BLOWN EIGHT FEET TO SHORE

Four Men Escape When 150 Gallons of Gas Explode

Teddington.—Four men had an extraordinary escape when a $12,500 motorboat, Benita, owned by Jack Dunfee, the racing motorist, blew up and sank in the Thames.

An hour after the craft had been launched for a trial run 150 gallons of petrol in the stern exploded. Within a moment the boat was a mass of flames 30 feet high.

The skipper, Fred Banham, of Barnby, was blown eight feet on to the shore. Three other men on the boat jumped for their lives into the water.

The boat had two 160 h.p. engines and was capable of 35 m.p.h. It was named Benita, after the film actress, Benita Hume, to whom Mr. Dunfee is engaged.

JOCKEY WINS PIGEON RACE

Weymouth.—Gordon Richards, the champion jockey, who promised Newbury Pigeon club a dinner when he won a pigeon race, gained the first position in the club's recent race.

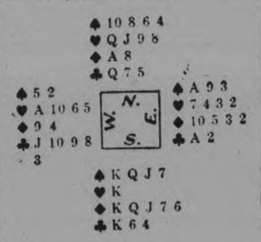
CONTRACT BRIDGE

WRITTEN FOR CENTRAL PRESS

By E. V. SHEPARD

VERY GOOD STRATEGY

Highly trained players continually see possibilities which average players pass unnoticed. Here is an instance where most players would have fallen down by leading back the wrong suit.



Bidding went: South, 1-Diamond; North, 1-No Trump; South, 2-Spades; North, 4-Spades.

The opening lead was the J of clubs, upon which dummy played low, and East won with his Ace, knowing that South held the missing K.

The majority of players would have led back a heart which would have given the declarer an easy game as he would have lost only to the 3 adverse Aces. Bidding has shown clearly one of two things; either both suits shown by South were K-Q suits lacking J's or he had no winning tricks in hearts Had both suits bid been K-Q-J suits, without losing hearts, the natural bid for a non-vulnerable player would have been 3-Spades over 1-No Trump, bid by a very conservative partner. In either case the contract might be defeated, with proper defence. If West held a heart trick and South held three clubs, East could obtain a club ruff. If South held only two clubs there was the chance to pick up two heart tricks, or else to pick up a single heart trick and an added trick in trumps. The latter event might occur if East ruffed a third lead of clubs with his 9, forcing South to overruff with the Q, in case West happened to hold the J.

Having digested all the possibilities, as later on shown by East's explanation of his play, that player led back the 2 of clubs, clearly marking him as having no more of the suit even the fact that he led back suit at all were not sufficient evidence that he could not hold a third club.

South wasn't dumb. He knew what was going on and he knew that his only chance for game was if East and West held three diamonds apiece, so that dummy could discard its third club, and ruff the third lead of that suit with the 10, so that East would have to pass the trick or ruff with his Ace. Dummy won the second club trick then led the Ace of diamonds and another. West ruffed and dummy overruffed the third round of diamonds, spoiling South's plan. When a trump was led East won with his Ace, led a heart. West's Ace won the trick and East ruffed the third round of clubs after all. But South's strategy was as excellent as that of East.

MENU HINTS

Skillet Spaghetti With Catsup
Fresh Green Salad
French Dressing
Fresh Rhubarb Sauce Cookies
Tea or Coffee Milk

The salad should be made of any fresh spring greens or vegetables you have on hand—lettuce, radishes, young onions, cress, etc. Mix all together and serve with French dressing.

Today's Recipes

Skillet Sphagnetti—One pound ground round steak, one onion, one small green sweet pepper, one can tomatoes, two cups water, one cup uncooked spaghetti, one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon paprika, one-half teaspoon pepper. Brown meat in pan with a little butter and add onion and pepper, chopped fine. Add other ingredients and bake in moderate oven one hour.

FACTS AND FANCIES

Rules for Making Ice Cream

Cool the mixture thoroughly before putting into the freeezr. After packing in the can, let stand five minutes before turning freezer.

Never fill can more than two-thirds full.

Use coarse ice cream salt, never table salt.

Chop ice finely and evenly. A mallet and a heavy canvas bag facilitate this process.

Place can in position, fasten cover and try turning crank to be certain freezer is working smoothly.

The ice and salt may be mixed, using four quarts of ice to one and one-third cups salt. Or the ice and salt may be packed into alternate layers. For the smoothest ice cream, one part salt to eight of ice is a good proportion to use; however, a longer time of freezing is required. Five to six parts of ice to one of salt give satisfactory results and speed the freezing.

Turn the crank slowly and evenly until the mixture begins to thicken, then turn more rapidly to whip the mixture, turning until you can turn no longer.

Allow the brine to escape by removing the plug from the hole on the side of the container. Wipe off top and lid. Remove and lift out dasher carefully. Replace the lid, cork the hole in the lid tightly. Pack in ice and salt, cover with a heavy cloth and set aside to ripen until needed.

For Meat Service

For meat, steam dried peach or apricot halves and prunes. Place a prune in the center of each peach (or apricot half) and arrange, with sprigs of parsley, around platter.

Chocolate Ice Cream

Two squares chocolate, one-half cup sugar, one and one-third cups milk, two tablespoons sugar, two eggs, dash of salt, one cup whipping cream. Cook over hot water the chocolate, sugar and milk, stirring constantly until chocolate is melted. Add one teaspoon vanilla. Chill. In the meantime beat the egg whites until stiff adding the two tablespoons sugar. Beat the yolks until thick and mix with the above. Beat cream until thick but not stiff. Stir the egg cream and chocolate mixtures together gently. Freeze in refrigerator stirring once.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

The popularity of furnishing the lawn is emphasized by the many styles of lawn furniture that are now on the market. Many of the pieces are intended to be left out of doors in rain or shine. Once marble and plaster held almost sole sway, with occasional wrought iron pieces, and a few example of hickory and bark-covered wood pieces. Today these are found but there are various new types, less stately and massive, and a bit more comfortable.

* * * * * * *

Instead of the heavy wrought iron settees and chairs, is found bent iron furniture, with curved slats of iron but which have enough "give" to them to suggest springs, although it is true the springs would be stiff. The iron is painted in gay colors so that the green lawns form attractive backgrounds for the spots of color.

* * * * * * *

Sometimes the framework is of bent iron and the upholstery, if such a term can be used for the simple textile, covering, is of awning cloth. Either models can be left out all the time without injury. The all iron pieces withstand the elements better, of course, but the furniture with the textile upholstery will last at least two seasons if heavy awning or tent cloth is combined with the iron. The colors cannot be expected not to fade some under the severe test of rain and summer sunshine. But then the material is not expensive and is so simply attached to the frame that anyone can 're-upholster" the pieces.

* * * * * * *

There are card table sets of table and four chairs of this bent iron work, so that those who delight in bridge, can find a table ready placed, and chairs also, where the beauty of flowers, greensward, and shade trees, can be enjoyed while cards are dealt and played.

* * * * * * *

Iron gliders come in a great array of styles, many of them have removable seat and back cushions. These can be the only things carried indoors as necessity demands. Or if preferred, these can remain out and have the protection of rubberized coverings made expressly to slip ov the gliders, and obviate the necessity of taking the upholstery in the houses.

* * * * * * *

It is quite the correct thing to have cushions as upholstery for all the furniture which remains out unprotected. It is a very simple matter to put the cushions out and take them in, and they certainly soften the furniture to luxurious ease. If the covers of these cushions in some of the many waterproof textiles, it will not hurt them to be out occasionally, but in heavy and prolonged storms they should be brought in under cover.

OTONABEE CHAPTER WILL SPONSOR TEA

Members to Hold Social at Home of Mrs. R. R. Hall on June 15th.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Otonabee Chapter I.O.D.E., held on Wednesday afternoon in the green room of the Y.W.C.A., with the regent, Mrs. Bert Jackson, presiding, it was decided to hold a tea at the home of Mrs. R. R. Hall, Reid street, on Friday, June 15th. The proceeds will be used to buy cots for the children at the Jackson Park Camp. Convenors of the tea will be Mrs. B. MacLean and Mrs. C. E. Blewett, Councillors for the month of June.

At the meeting, the reports of secretary and treasurer were read and adopted. A letter of thanks was received from the Well Babies' Clinic, acknowledging a donation of $28.

The report of the recent National convention will be given by the regent at the October meeting of the Chapter.

JUST AMONG US GIRLS

Your Health

by DR LOGAN CLENDENING

Greatly increased interest in the care of the child's teeth is an indication of the importance which health authorities attach to a sound and uninfected mouth. Specialists in children's dentistry are a very recent development, and the keynote of the campaign for good teeth is that they start in on them while they are still young.

That such a campaign is needed is indicated by the reports of the conference on child health a few years ago. Reports from all over the country showed that at least 90 per cent of children have dental defects, most of which can be remedied and which will prevent dental decay later in life.

One of the old ideas was that the first set of teeth, or baby teeth, did not require very much attention from the dentist. If they become infected, it was better to let them alone and not remove them, because they would save space for the permanent teeth when they came in. This seems to be a complete fallacy, as the permanent teeth come in whether there is a temporary tooth present or not, and the advantage of having a mouth clean and free from infected teeth, whether temporary or permanent, is very considerable.

The prevention of dental decay should be begun in childhood, even before the permanent teeth come in, and should be largely directed toward diet. The permanent teeth are influenced in their formation and growth by diet, even during the time when the baby teeth are still in position. Modern opinion is that diet is more important than cleanliness in preventing dental decay.

A state dental society recently put out the following bulletin on the method of making sound teeth:

"Milk is the most important food for the teeth, because it contains minerals of which teeth are made.

"Everyone should have daily:

"One quart of milk for every child.

"One pint for every adult.

"Green leafy vegetables and fruits.

"Vitamin D, found in egg yolk, cod liver oil and sunlight.

"Butter and cheese.

"Bread and cereals.

"Eggs, meat or fish.

"Brush your teeth and massage your gums on arising, before retiring and after meals.

"Cleanliness will help protect your teeth, but keeping the teeth clean will not prevent decay unless you eat proper foods and have dental care."

QUESTIONS FROM READERS

J. A. B.: "What causes veins to break in the nose, and can anything be done to prevent or cure it?"

Answer: Inside the nose veins usually break from irritation of foreign particles in the air, such as dust, and the consequent picking at the nose which this irritation causes.

BE BEAUTIFUL

By GLADYS GLAD

The charming Dorothy Lee, who is one of the most versatile of Hollywood's younger cinema stars, is a decided grapefruit juice fan. Dorothy believes that grapefruit juice not only helps to keep the complexion clear and smooth, but also aids in keeping the figure svelte and slender. Each morning she cuts a grapefruit up, puts it in a pan of water, boils the mixture for ten minutes, and then chills the solution. And this liquid constitutes her entire breakfast.

Personally, I don't think it necessary for anyone to go through this procedure to reap any benefits from the drinking of grapefruit juice that results merely from squeezing the fruit is just as beneficial as the concoction that Dorothy prepares. Grapefruit juice has an excellent effect on the entire system. And as Dorothy claims, it not only is an excellent complexion beautifier, but also helps to keep the figure slim and symmetrical.

Several weeks ago, a group of New York debutantes decided to have a grapefruit juice reducing contest. Eight girls were in the contest. The winner was to be awarded a boat trip to Florida. And each girl promised to follow the outlined instructions to the letter, with absolutely no cheating.

The diet outlined was followed for three weeks. At the end of this time, the winner of the contest had lost 13 pounds, and looked and felt better than she ever had. And since the diet seems to healthful and effective, I think it well worth describing here.

In this diet, three regular meals were consumed each day. All sweets, starches, fats, rich gravies, fattening dressings and heavy foods were eliminated, however. Six glasses of grapefruit juice were consumed each day in addition to the normal, non-fattening meals. One glass of the grapefruit juice was taken half an hour before each meal. In addition, one glass was taken at 11 a.m., one at 4 p.m., and one before retiring. That was the entire routine, and one couldn't really call it a severe one. Yet if followed faithfully, and supplemented by proper exercising, it can prove most effective in keeping the figure lithe, slender and symmetrical.

PASSION PLAY SEEN ON SCREEN

Presented Under Auspices of Young People's Society of George Street Church.

APPROPRIATE MUSIC.

The Passion Play which depicts the story of the life of Christ was presented in moving pictures to an audience assembled last evening in the Sunday School auditorium of George Street United Church, to watch the scenes that have become so familiar in story and song to all the peoples of the world.

Messrs. Clarke and Hodgkins, of Toronto, were in charge of the powerful lanterns which threw on the screen the figures in that story, ever old, yet ever new, that follows the Saviour of men from the cradle at Bethlehem to the cross of Calvary. The life, the customs, the dress, of that ancient time, is reproduced in these pictures, which move to the slow, rhythmical tempo of a patriarchal age that knew nothing of the demands of speed and hurry.

Appropriate music accompanied the presentation. "Adeste Fidelis," "Holy Night," "Glory to the New-Born King," and other Christmas hymns, set the note for the Nativity scenes; Tschaikowsky's famous Andante Cantabile was played for the pictures of the youth of Christ; "The Palms" followed Jesus' triumphal entry into Jerusalem, with "Nearer, My God, to Thee," later, and the mighty "Hallelujah" chorus from "The Messiah" for the Transfiguration, and "Rock of Ages" for the finals.

The pictures opened with the enrolment of David's tribe at Bethlehem and progresses through the the moving story of the Nativity and the visit of the three Wise Men: Gaspar, Melchoir and Balthazar, bearing gold and frankincense for the king and myrrh for a winding-sheet.

Then comes the dramatic picture of the slaughter of the innocents and the heavenly vision which enjoined on Joseph the flight into Egypt. Here is a beautiful episode, when the weary Joseph and Mary, with the Holy Child, pause by the wayside and the power of the guarding angel renders them invisible to the pursuing Romans.

Youthful Scenes

The Child is shown, helping His foster father in the humble carpenter shop at Nazareth, while Mary plies her distaff. And later the the youth teaches in the Temple and John baptizes Him in the waters of the Jordan. At the request of His mother, He performs the first miracle at Cana, and then comes the Magdalene with long tresses thrust forward to sweep the floor in the agony of her penitent mind.

Jesus raises the daughter of Jairus and, in a singularly beautiful scene, walks over the turbulent waters of the Galilean Sea.

The entry into Jerusalem, when "the people of the Hebrews with palms before Him went," is beautifully pictured and later comes the Passion Week, the Last Supper and the Garden of Gethsemane, and the kiss of the traitor, Iscariot.

Once again the art of the moving picture triumphs in the curious detail of the scene where Peter denies his Lord and the cock stands before him to mock his betrayal.

There are some dramatic and tragic episodes in the scenes before the High Priest and Pilate, with a very realistic scourging and the Via Dolorosa, with its suffering and agony. Veronica stamps the face of her Lord on the towel with which she wipes His face and the Cyrenian help to carry the heavy Rood. On the hill of Golgotha, Christ hangs between two thieves, and the Roman centurion who later became one of the early Christian martyrs, according to tradition, pressed the spear into His sacred side, in an attempt to end His suffering.

Then comes Joseph of Arimathea and the tomb in the rock, with Christ rising on Easter morning and finaly, the Transfiguration, as a period to an impressive and beautifully-arranged story.

The audience watched with quiet and intent appreciation this moving portrayal of the Passion Play, which was presented under the auspices of the Young Peoples' Soiety of George Street Church.

DAILY PAPER FOR BLIND IS PLANNED BY STUDENT

NEW YORK, June 18 (CP)—Bernard Krebs, blind senior in New York University, is planning to start a daily newspaper for the blind.

It will be in braille, the raised dot system for reading by touch. By next Fall he plans to have a newspaper plant in which he will publish a 24-page paper.

His present plans call for free circulation to 5,000 blind in the Middle Atlantic States.

His paper will include condensations of the news, he said, to-day; special articles of interest to the blind, and advertising.

"In Braille," he said, "you can't skip anything, so advertisers can be sure their money is well spent."

C.G.E. Takes 6-1 Win Over Fosters

OSTERMUELLER FILLS SHOES OF GROVE ON BOSTON LINE-UP

Limits Senators to 8 Hits in 12 Innings for 3-2 Victory Friday.

ST. LOUIS GOING UP.

(By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr., A.P. Sports Writer.)

In a season which has been all cluttered up with rookie pitchers some sort of special mention seems to belong to Kritz Ostermueller, Boston Red Sox southpaw from Rochester.

Ostermueller, who cost $25,000, has taken the place as a left-handed starting pitcher that was reserved for $100,000 Bob Grove, and while he has absorbed his full share of beatings his record has been formidable. Fritz was promoted to a starter's job just in time to drop an 11-inning 6-5 decision to Cleveland on May 11. From there he went on to lose four more games without being hit hard, then came back to take two games from Washington Senators with good performances.

Following up last Saturday's 7-2 triumph Ostermueller limited the Senators to eight hits in a 12-inning battle yesterday, and finally won out 3-2 by scoring the winning run himself. He nicked Al Crowder, third of his Senatorial rivals, for a single and went around on a sacrifice, an infield out, and Eddie Morgan's base hit. The result put the Sox and Senators into a tie for fifth place.

Browns in Third Place.

While Boston was advancing through pitching, Rogers Hornsby's St. Louis Browns slugged their way into third place by beating Cleveland 8-6. A five-run outburst in the seventh and two more tallies, gained without a hit when the Cleveland infield "blew" in the ninth, won the game.

Detroit's league-leading Tigers held their place by slamming out 18 hits and a 13-5 victory over the White Sox and New York Yankees batted out an 11-4 decision over Philadelphia Athletics in a game which kept them only a game behind the lead, but put Babe Ruth out of action for a while. The Babe was struck on the wrist by the first pitch from Mort Flohr, the A's rookie southpaw from Duke University and suffered a painful bruise.

NO POSTPONEMENT OF TITULAR BOUT

Commission Doctors State Baer's Condition is Satisfactory.

NEW YORK, June 9 (AP)—The fantastic comic opera battle of the build-downs swept back into existence yesterday on the word of three doctors that Max Baer is in fit condition to fight Primo Carnera for the heavyweight championship of the world next Thursday night.

A lame, white-haired little Irishman, Bill Brown, third man on the New York State's Athletic Commission, stood like a crippled Horatio at the bridge, sticking doggedly to his opinion that it was "all a swindle," but he could not stay the rush alone.

Three Commission doctors surveyed the athletes. They wrote out a long report and the gist of it was this:

"Our opinion on both these boxers, which we have reached unanimously, is that they are both in splendid physical condition, and we fully believe that they are physically able to engage in this contest of fifteen rounds of boxing."

OMEMEE GIRLS TUMBLE LEAFS

Village Maidens Break Losing Streak With 18-16 Win at Armour Field.

HEAVY SLUGGING.

Omemee girls snapped out of the losing streak which has been dodging them since the Ladies' Loop started, and hit a winning stride at Armour Field last night to tumble the Maple Leafs, for a neat 18-16 victory, in a heavy hitting battle that has a large crowd of rooters in an uproar.

This defeat put the losers in the cellar position, but on their performance should soon break into the win column. They pounded eight hits into the outer field for ten counters in the first four frames while Omemee was getting seven. A triple by Morcombe and a clean homer by E. Bigelow started a rally that pushed the visitors' total to 12 and the Leafs tied it in their half, after M. Ballantyne had clicked for a home run. The Leafs added four more in the last two frames, which included circuit wallops by G. Mann and D. Ferguson. Omemee displayed some clever base running in the eighth, tallying twice, and came back strong in the ninth to score three more, one of these being a heavy clout by "Lefty" Reddick that sent the ball soaring over the right fielder's head, for the longest hit of the year on that diamond.

Agnes Sturgeon pitched nice ball for the Leafs, while Ev. Morcombe was in top form for the visitors. Mary Pickett at first for the winners, turned in a great game, and D. Rehill in right also showed some smart work.

The teams:

Omemee: D. Rehill, rf; E. Bigelow, c; M. Fisher, 2b; D. Sherin, cf; P. Bigelow, lf; R. McQuade, ss; E. Morcombe, p; M. Pickett, 1b; H. Reddick, 3b.

Maple Leafs: D. Ferguson, cf; P. Rome, 2b; H. Mann, lf; L. Trollop, rf; A. Sturgeon, p; S. Sturgeon, 1b; M. Ballantyne, ss; G. Mann, 3b; B. Thirnbeck, c.

BISONS TAKE THIRD IN ROW FROM TORONTO

Fabian Kowalik Shuts Out Boone Outfit for 6 Hits and 9-2 Victory.

WINGS LOSE TO ROYALS.

For the first time since April 26, Rochester Red Wings had lost their hold on first place in the International League today. Taking their second beating in a row from the Montreal Roys last night, 7-6, the Red Wings fell back into second place as Newark, beating Albany 9-1 in another night game, moved into the lead.

Rochester apparently had the Royals beaten, 6-5 going into the ninth, but the Canadians rallied to tie the score and then won out on a single by pinch hitter Frank Reiber. The Red Wings hit Chad Kimsey had but could do little wkh eitherof his two successors, John Pomorski and Clarence Fisher. Ray Harrell went the route for Rochester.

Johnny Larocca gave Albany only six hits, two of the infield scratches, as Newark pounded out its easy victory. The Bears assaulted Barrett and Edwards for 14 hits of which three came off Dale Alexander's bat. Larocca struck out 11 men and never was in trouble.

Easy Win For Herd

Buffalo took another easy night game decision from Toronto, 9-2, as Fabian Kowalik shut off the Canadians with six hits and blanked them after the third inning. Ray Fitzgerald's homer accounted for one of the Leafs' runs. Buffalo's collection of 10 hits include a home run by Roy Spencer and triples by Les Mallon and Ollie Carnegie. The latter also contributed a double and a single to the cause.

The only daylight game of the schedule ended in a 13-10 victory for Syracuse over the last place Baltimore Orioles. Syracuse sewed up the game with a si xrun rally in the eighth after two men were out.

Win or Lose

Ken Hetherington Gives Brilliant Mound Display

Nicholls Leads C.G.E. Sluggers, McGillen and Corbett Rank Next in Line.

GENE McCARTHY FAIR.

With Ken Hetherington hurling three-hit ball in the E.P.L. game at the Exhibition Grounds last night, C.G.E. took a 6-1 decision over Fosters in a snappy fixture that went little over an hour. Hetherington had the Foster hitters handcuffed throughout, giving a single in the second, one in the sixth and another in the seventh as he fanned seven and walked three. With good support, he was never seriously threatened.

Gene McCarthy pitched a good game for the losers, keeping nine hits pretty well scattered, fanning five and issuing two walks. He was a trifle wild at times. The Foster fielding was good, but the batters couldn't hit and this accounted for the loss.

Nicholls for C.G.E. was the big hitter, knocking two doubles and a single in three appearances. McGillen got two in two trips and Corbett hit a mighty triple to right. McCarthy, McCarroll and Bert Bailey were the only Foster players to get a safe hit. All the C.G.E. infielders turned in good performances, while Williams, Maudsley and B. Bailey were best defensively for the losers.

The Electrics slipped a run across in the first frame, Nicholls doubling to right, stealing third and scoring on McGillen's single to left. Corbett tripled in the second with one out but died on third. They got two more in the third. Nicholls doubled to left and went to third on a wild pitch. He scored on a fielder's choice, the same one that let McGillen to third after he walked and stole a base. The latter raced home after a fly to the outfield. The final three C.G.E. runs counted in the fourth. Hetherington singled to left and moved up on an out. He tallied after Nicholls was hit by pitcher and McGillen singled, Nick going to third and McGillen advancing on the throw. Both scored on a bad throw of Mowry's roller to first.

McCarthy singled in the second for Fosters but nothing came of it. In the sixth, B. Bailey scratched a hit to short, stole second, went to third on an out and scored on an error. McCarroll got Fosters' third hit in the last inning, a single to right, but not no further than the keystone sack.

CARDS RETURN TO 2ND PLACE NATIONAL RACE

Giants Lose to Phillies, While Cincinnati Reds Defeat Cubs.

BRAVES ALSO BEATEN.

After a day in fourth place, St. Louis Cardinals returned to second in the National League standing by batting their former Nemesis, Larry French, about in the early innings and defeating Pittsburgh, 6-2, behind Tex Carleton's six hit flinging.

Cincinnati's lowly Reds shoved the Cubs down behind St. Louis by taking a 4-3 decision when they landed on Bill Lee for three hits and as many runs in the sixth. With Curt Davis hurling six-hit ball for his second victory over the world champions within a week, the Phillies helped keen the race close by turning back the first-place Giants, 3-2.

Van Lingle Mungo of Brooklyn registered the best of the National League pitching performances when he limited the Braves to four puny hits to give the Dodgers a 10-1 triumph.

Our Boarding House . . . . . By Ahern

Inside Sportin' Dope—By A. Wise Cracker

Mister Sporting Editor:

Well, Mac, our lads sure cracked down on the Belleville Nats last Sat. A coupla days before a bird from the Quinte town told me how strong the Mills outfit was and just what kinda knots they was going to tie the Petes into, and he had me a little scared. However, they was no need to worry, for the visitors went down almost without a struggle. Our Mister Deyell, pitching steady, effective ball and issuing nary a free ticket, had the Belleville hitters handcuffed all through the piece, while the moundsmen trotted out by Mister Mills all were cousins so far as the Petes was concerned, even the famous Mister J. Williams, the Redskin crooked arm, who started like a house afire when he took over the burden in the 6th, but was crashed through for 3 perfectly good runs in the 8th. At that Mister Williams has a lotta stuff left and he'll be plenty tough a good many days this summer. Our talent played good ball, did some timely hitting, and our Mister Konopka starred with a gorgeous diving stop of a hard hit roller to his right that was screaming "hit" all the way until the shortstop left his feet, came up with the ball and pegged to 2nd for a force.

Everything was lovely except for the fact that a few local fans seemed to think they could help the Petes on to success by riding some of the Peterborough players. That's about the poorest way to help I can think of. Ball players look for abuse when they're on the road—and they don't usually hafta look far—but when they're playing on the home lot they don't expect to be the target for grandstand jockeys. Toss the hammer into the river, lads, and we'll have a better ball club.

With Oshawa back, old-timer, the Central loop looks to be in for a great season, and there'll be plenty of hectic games before the title is finally settled.

Everything is quiet, including the election, so I'll fade outa the picture.

Sportfully yours,
A. WISE CRACKER.

BRINTONS TIE FASHION-CRAFT

Clothiers Come From Behind to Even Count in Final Frame of Struggle.

WEIRD EXHIBITION.

In a wildly-played game at Central last night, Fashion-Crafts came from behind to tie Brintons in the last half of the eighth to shove across four runs in a scoring bee which reached its climax with one out when Chuck Butcher strode to the plate with the tying run on second and clouted a long double to deadlock the count at 15-all. He went to third on an out but was caught at the plate trying to score on a passed ball. The game ended a draw.

It was a weird exhibition of softball, errors and hits being plentiful. The Brinton infield was noticeably weak, while the other side had but two miscues but both were costly. Both starting twirlers were derricked, Naish getting his in the fourth and Abbott an inning later. Currie gave way to Sturgeon in the eighth. Naish and Butcher between them gave fourteen hits, fanned four and walked twelve, and Naish had a balk. Abbott, Currie and Sturgeon allowed a total of fourteen hits, fanned four and allowed five free bases.

Both squads showed fair fielding in spots, Brintons having two double-plays and the other team one. Gainey starred at bat for the Clothiers along with Butcher, the former getting three for five, one a homer, while Butch got two doubles, and a triple in four. For Brintons, H. Dormer with three in five and Dallin with two for four led the clouters. The teams:

Brintons: H. Dormer, 3b; Smith, 1b; Bradshaw, 2b; P. Calladine, c; Weir, lf, 2b; Dallin, cf, lf; Williamson, rf; Playford, rf, cf; Abbott, p; Currie, p, rf; W. Calladine, ss; Sturgeon, cf, p.

Fashion-Craft: McDougall, 3b; Dobson, c; Gray, rf; Wiley, 2b; Gillespie, cf; Clarkke, 1b; Gardner, lf; Gainey, ss; Naish, p; Butcher, p.

Score by innings:

Brintons	122	501	13	—	15	14	7
Fashion-Craft	310	403	14	—	15	14	2

We just would like to express the appreciation of the committee to the boys for their fine co-operation at last night's tournament. Everything went off much smoother and faster and then everybody went home in reasonably good time. It sure does make an awful lot of difference when everybody pulls together.

And now we have some news for the bowlers—the little hint about nice smooth pebbles for the ditches has been successful—the stones arrived yesterday and will be placed in the ditches to-day—every little bit helps. And we hear that we are to have some more individual score boards; and what a help that will be.

And now if we could just get the greens rolled a little more—why everything would be O.K. Anyway, we surely are making progress.

Before the games commenced last night a minute's silence was observed out of respect for the late Harry McEwen.

Last night's winners:
1st—J. T. Braund's rink.
2nd—H. Coleman's rink.
3rd—W. Zelhr's rink.
4th—R. Dyer's rink.

TENANT TO BOOTLEGGER

PHILADELPHIA, June 9. (CP). The Upper Darby School Board has learned something: It was landlord to a bootlegger. One of its best-paying tenants left town suddenly. Routine inspection revealed that the property had served as a first class bootleg plant. It cost $784 to repair holes in floors, walls and ceilings.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By The Associated Press)

Lou Gehrig, Yankees.—Walloped 14th homer, two doubles and singles against Athletics.

Si Johnson, Reds—Outpitched Bill Lee to give Reds 4-3 victory over Cubs.

Irving Burns, Browns.—Drove in three runs with homer, then scored winning run against Indians.

Curt Davis, Phillies.—Limited Giants to six hits.

Charley Gehringer, Tigers.—Made four hits for perfect day at bat against White Sox.

Van Mungo, Dodgers.—Held Braves to four hits for 10-1 triumph.

Eddie Morgan, Red Sox.—Drove in two runs including winning tally, against Senators.

Joe Medwick, Cardinals.—Led attack on Pirate pitching with three hits.

GENE SARAZEN FOLLOWS CLOSE SCOTS' HEELS

Wiffy Cox Four Shots Back of Front-runner With 146 Total.

IN U.S. GOLF OPEN.

By BOB CAVAGNARO
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

AMERION CRICKET CLUB, Philadelphia, June 9. (AP).—Wee Bobby Cruickshank, the half pint Scottish professional, had another chance to-day to gain the United States open golf championship.

The chunky shotmaker from the land of heather and bagpipes was in the driver's seat, with a three stroke lead as 64 qualifiers tackled the hazardous and testing final 36 holes over Merion's thus far impregnable par 70 east course.

Cruickshank's chances of crashing through this time and cashing in on a rich reward estimated to be worth in the neighborhood of $25,000 this year, depended again on his ability to shake off Sarazen. With a pair of 71's for two round aggregate of 142, Bobby's closest pursuer was the Socky Sarazen who combined rounds of 73 and 72 for a 145 total.

Four shots back of the front runner was Wilfred (Wiffy) Cox, "people's "professionall" from Brookly, who blundered on three greens yesterday afternoon to take a 75 for a two-day aggregate of 146. Cox, but for three-putting three greens and having to play a long iron shot from a tractor rut, might easily have posted a 71 to duplicate his first round card and keep abreast of the peedy Scot.

A trio of veteran pros—Horton Smith, Leo Diegal and Bill Burke, winner of the 1931 marathon—and young Rodney Bliss, Jr., Omaha amateur and runner-up for the intercollegiate championship last year, were bracketed at 147.

Indian River Wins From North Douro

Indian River took an uninteresting game from North Douro last night, 18-9, in the East Peterborough Softball League. The River players pounded three Douro hurlers hard, and the losers failed to hit till the last inning, when darkness aided them. Errors also proved costly. Walsh for Indian River pitched superb ball to fan one or two batters every innings. The teams:

North Douro.—Coughin, c, ss; Allen, rf; S. Condon, 1b, lf; Delaney, 1b, p; G. Condon, 2b, p; J. Delaney, cf; P. Condon, p, lf; C. Condon, lf; Twigg, ss, c; Leahy 3b.

Indian River.—Lonergan, 3b; O'Brien, ss; Walsh, p; Doherty, 2b; Fitzgerald, cf; Quinlan, c; Cavanaugh, lf; Spencer, lf; Holmes, 1b.

Score by innings:

Indian River	363	33	—	18
North Douro	102	15	—	9

Umpires—Knox at plate; Walsh on bases.

SOMERVILLE AFTER CROWN.

TORONTO, June 9.—(C.P.)—Ross Somerville, United States' amateur champion in 1932, intends seeking the crown again this year, he said here to-day. He said he would be among the starters at Brookline, Mass., September 10.

Somerville played no golf during the winter but has been hard at practice for two weeks. Yesterday he shot 72-75 on the par 71 Lambton course here in an invitation tournament.

STANFORD—Coach Templeton poses with Dunn, Blackman, Deacon, Klopstock, Mottram, Nimmo and Lyman of Stanford track team.

SPORTS DAY BY DAY

Baseball, Lacrosse, Soccer
Softball, Bowling, etc.

By C. J. P.

There was quite a gathering over around Concession and Douro streets last p.m. as there was a gals' softball game in Armour Field. It was a terrifically close tilt what with Omemee notching a mere eighteen markers and the Maple Leaf lasses right in their heels with sixteen. Agnes Sturgeon and Evelyn Morcombe were the hurlers and both got bounced for a heap of hits. In fact, those Omemee maidens rattled the ball around the field when batting till it resembled a hailstorm—all right, then, a softball storm. One H. Reddick, a gal who tends the hot corner for the O's, busted a homer that climbed halfway up Armour Hill and startled six pairs of neckers considerably. 'Twas a very long clout indeed.

• • • • • •

We have been hearing complaints since the gals' loop started this season from managers. They claim that their players all want to play; none of 'em want to sit on the bench. And they kick up a fuss about being pulled out for a substitute, etc. This would seem to bear out the argument of those anti-girls' sports that the femmes never learn to be good sports, as the he-athletes learn. We don't know about this—and we don't wish to be liable for libel—but it seems to be a fact that gals who will sit out and wait their turn at dances raise a heck of a fuss if they're asked to give another dame a chance at a ball game. It's not sporting, it's not good softball, and it certainly doesn't point to a good disposition.

• • • • • •

When the shouting and the tumult died down at Central last eve, it was seen that Fashion-Crafts and Brintons were tied at 15-all. Each team got the same number of hits and the same number of runs, but Brintons outscored Fashion-Crafts badly in the error-column, notching 7 to 2. However, there's a rule this year that the team that leads in errors does not get the prize, so it didn't mean anything. There was quite a pitchers' parade, some good and bad fielding, an eighth-inning rally for Johnny Russell's roustabouts, and some nice hitting by Messrs. Butcher, Gainey, H. Dormer and Dallin. The shades of e'en were drawn sometime before nine o'clock and the boys went home with a draw.

• • • • • •

In the E.P.L. game (gosh, he's down at the Exhibition Grounds now; how that guy covers ground!) C.G.E. trotted out too much Hetherington for Fosters and waltzed home to the tune of a 6-1 number. The Electrics' twirler put Foster on a three-hit die and slapped three strikes by seven of them in a nifty example of what every young pitcher should know. He had curves, control, change of pace and support. You can't want much more, unless it's a taxi-ride to and from the park. C.G.E. got to Gene McCarthy for timely hits and took advantage of all the breaks. Fosters looked much better and will be in there yet, but couldn't do much in the face of such high-class flinging.

• • • • • •

The E.P.L. has a charm distinctly its own. Always something unusual is thrown in with the ball game, and all for the one admission price of a dime, two nickels, a tenth of a dollah, folks! For instance last gloaming, C.G.E. started a nice double-play. Shorstop got the ball, tossed it to second whence it went over to first. But only the runner at first was out, the secondbaseman forgetting to touch his base! Another time a runner was thrown out at first and the ball was promptly thrown to second to get another one going down. The ball was there in lots of time but the fielder just caught it and stepped on the bag, forgetting he had to tag the runner. And Ira Dundas fielded a nice one and then threw a lovely curve to first. If the first-sacker were a hitter he couldn't have come near that hook—in fact, even though he was a fielder he couldn't. Two runs scored on that bender. Yeah, and all for a dime.

• • • • • •

This guy Speedy St. Louis is some shucks of a Kingston pitcher—the same guy that ruined a perfectly good opening day for the Petes here May 26th. After holding Belleville to four hits and beating 'em Wednesday, the chunky Pony righthander let the strong Brockville gang down with five bingles in an exhibition tussle yesterday and his teammates—in the timeworn Limestone tradition—bunched hits in one frame to cop a 5-2 nod. Abber Joyce, who looks more like a politician that a first-sacker—but he belies his looks—up and smacks a homer with two aboard in the eighth that didn't hurt the Kingston cause the least bit.

• • • • • •

"Shiner" Johnston had tough luck yesterday, and that's why he wasn't available for umpiring duties today. Working out a hoss at the Exhibition track here yesterday afternoon, the bronc stepped in a hole or something and tossed Shiner for a loss, the ex-ball star suffering a broken shoulder, the right one, and receiving quite a shaking up. The horse escaped injury. It was a tough break for the popular Shiner and we hope the shoulder knits okay and soon.

City Baseball League opens at King Edward School Tuesday evening at 5.45 o'clock, Maple Leafs and St. Peter's clashing in a bantam game. There will be no band out to usher in this schedule, not even a tin whistle or two, and none of the big shots will be on deck to toss over the first ball. But those things mean little to the kids—in fact, they'd only be so much unnecessary delay. They want to get out there and paste that old apple lopsided. If grounds can be arranged for, the juveniles will open the following p.m. Incidentally, managers are reminded that only players can go on the coaching lines.

MISS M. HUNTER TAKES COVETED ONTARIO TITLE

Returns to Hamilton Home With Ladies' Golf Crown After Five Years' Struggle.

PROMISING PLAYER.

KITCHENER, Ont., June 9 (C.P.).—Miss Mary Hunter, daughter of Jim Hunter, Glendale Club professional, carried the Ontario ladies' golf crown to-day to her home in Hamilton after five years of struggle for the coveted award. The slim brunette from Hamilton strode over the Westmount Golf and Country Club course to fight one of the most exciting battles in the event's history with Mrs. Mary McIntosh of Galt.

The Hamilton girl's victory was wrested from a player who knocked Miss Ada MacKenzie, of Toronto, out of the running to spoil the Toronto player's hopes of a sixth championship. In her other tournaments, Miss Hunter never got beyond the second round, but she did capture the Provincial junior crown and was considered one of the most promising young players in the game.

Her victory came on the 17th hole which she won, and then halved the last to walk from the course with a one-up triumph. Her steadiness carried her through, while her opponent appeared nervous on the first nine and at other periods during the tense struggle witnessed by a gallery of hundreds.

St. Paul's Bantams Defeat All Saints'

St. Paul's Bantams defeated All Saints, 10-6, last night in the final bantam Church Softball League game of their schedule, the winner qualifying for the play-offs. It was a snappy game, with good pitching and fielding on both sides. The rival left-fielders, first baseman and the winners' shortstop were best defensively. J. McMillian, Steer, Abraham and G. Ackford led the hitters. The teams:

All Saints: McDougall, lf; Abraham, cf; Tillcock, 2b, ss; Boddison, rf; Horley, 1b; Csumerick, c; G. Ackford, ss, 2b; R. Ackford, p; Hotrum, 3b.

St. Paul: King, 3b; T. McMillian, 2b; Sedgewick, c; J. McMillian, p; Williamson, 1b; Morrow, cf; Rutherford, lf; Ferguson, rf; Steer, ss.

INSIDE THE PADDOCK

BY ART MURRAY

LONG BRANCH is sure getting a nice break from the weather man this week, every day has been a perfect racing day. The Smallman stable whom we told you the other eve were ready for some wins, had a double on Thursday with Quickly and Chips and also scored on Friday with Meloy. Round Table from the Labrot stable who we also recommended broke the track record for one mile and seventy yards on Thursday. This one has now reached his top form and will beat the good ones from now on.

You can look for one called Bald Crest to salute the judges most any day now. He has a real burst of early speed and is a gun from the gate. Arthur Hullcoat has one by the name of Uncovered that is just raring to go. He finished second on Thursday in the number by Bushman after having a ten length lead at one stage. This should just sharpen him up and the next time out he will make no mistakes. Darkling is just waiting for the proper spot to strut his stuff. He was the medium of a heavy play on his last appearance and failed to get a place in the playoff.

OUR OLD friend Sir Byron came to life on Friday and took a nice bunch of platers into camp and you can tab him to win a few more right smartly. Hillsborough is slowly rounding into shape and will cop a heat shortly. They have brought Frumper back to the races this year and the old fellow is in the proverbial pink. It was not so long ago that he was beating horses like Khorasan and others of the same ilk, and in with a bunch of platers he will just tin can a field of that class. Whitey Abel put over another winner yesterday when he booted Black Target to victory in a nose finish over Friend Charley.

Today will see the running of the Canadian Breeders handicap which carries a two thousand purse as well as a gold cup. It will bring together Horometer, Crofter, Easter Hatter, Shady Well and a few lesser lights. It should be a real horse race but we think at the finish it will be Horometer that will be led into the winners' circle . . . There have been a lot of reports lately that Broadway Lights, the good handicap performer belonging to Brooklyn Tommy McCarthy has a bad leg so this week we took the opportunity of going down to the stable and having a look at him. Let us tell you right here and now that he never looked or acted better and all his legs are as sound as steel. He will perform in his old time style from now on so don't be looking out of the window as he is the best handicap horse in Canada and that takes in a lot of territory.

Zion Outfit Wins Over Stewart Hall

Before a hilarious crowd of fans, the Zion girls hammered out a 33 to 22 decision over Stewart's Hall last evening in the latter's ball park. It was a close battle up to the fifth when Zion began to connect hard to earn the win. B. Hayes made her debut, twirling fast ball for the winners. M. Collins pitched the first half for the losers, giving way to M. Hall. The teams:

Zion.—B. Hayes, p; J. Slattery, c; D. Thompson, 1b; A. Powers, 2b; E. Manley, 3b; K. Powers, ss; Mrs. J. Jackson, lf; L. Dixon, cf; M. Fitzgerald, rf; A. Burns, cf; V. Crane, lf.

Stewart's Hall.—M. Collins, p, ss; M. Hall, p; M. Chambers, c; B. Dawson, 1b; H. Savigny, 2b; V. Trimble, 3b; C. Hanbridge, lf; M. Patterson, cf; M. Stewart, rf; D. Savigny, lf.

246 RUNS SHORT.

NOTTINGHAM, England, June 9.—(C.P. Cable).—Australia had England on the defensive when the second day's play in the test cricket match concluded this afternoon. With six wickets left the Englishmen were 246 runs short of the Aussie first inning total.

50 People Asked For Contribution 49 Make One Towards Punt For 'Jack's'

By public subscription Alderman Fred Tuggey announced today he had received sufficent donations to purchase a new boat for the Jack's, popular swimming place at the end of London street, to be used in connection with life saving facilities there. "The boat will be a fine flat-bottomed punt which I have been able to buy from the Peterborough Canoe Company for $27.20," Alderman Tuggey said. "It will be kept at the Jack"s and will be available in case of emergency at all times."

He expressed his appreciation to citizens who had so generously contributed to the boat fund. "I asked 50 persons and received contributions from 49," he said.

Those who contributed toward the purchase of the boat are: W. Stocker, A. Metheral, H. Gainey, Mr. Madill, A. McIntyre, T. Hooper, Bruce Fowler, T. Hendry, W. A. Richardson, J. J. Duffus, Arthur Stevenson, Gordon Hall, Mr. Martin, F. Dawson, A. McDonald, R. M. Glover, R. Taylor, J. K. Hughes, F. Kerr, D. Drummond, Mr. Hodgins, A. Hope, W. R. Morris, L. Yeotes, W R. Turner, G. THE SPUN GLASS MYSTERY

By A. FIELDING

CHAPTER 19

Claud looked extremely indignant at that as he stalked out. Lucy met him.

"He looks quite cross," she said with a half smile. "Have you been scolding him?"

"I'm afraid he'll get entangled with your Miss Dundas," Lady Tait replied disingenuously. She was not in the least afraid of such an unlikely eventuality. But she told herself that here was a most excellent "hide." "A was only to be expected," she went on "when you brought such a pretty girl into the house where a young man also lives. Of course he's bound to get entangled."

"Entangled, Lucy Burnham repeated reproachfully. "What a horrid word."

"It's a horrid state of things, Puss. And not at all fair on Claud. He can't marry—yet, a while."

"But how could I stop to think of possibilities when the poor child was in such a dreadful predicament?"

"So she says!" Lady Tait said meaningly.

"You skeptic! You destroyer of all confidence!" remonstrated the other. "I think it tremendously to Gillian's credit that she felt so desperate. A girl as pretty as she is could easily have stayed on and tried to inveigle young de Souza into an engagement. He's very wealthy, apparently."

This was true. Ordinarily Lady Tait would have allowed as much. But she did not soften now.

"And is it tremendously to her credit to wear the kind of clothes she does? Do you think they're the usual garments of a companion?" Her voice had become tart.

"She explained that very sweetly once at Vichy. When I chaffed her about her golfing turn-out. She's found a place where ladies' maids, and shops, sell soiled models."

"And you think that frock she wore the last night at Vichy was a soiled model?" Lady Tait spoke with warmth. She very much objected to being thought stupid.

"Didn't she look a duck in it?" Lucy said rapturously. "She told me that that frock was practically given away for a few francs."

There was no more to be said on that subject evidently. It was all very well for gullible Mrs. Burnham to be taken in, but if ever a frock was designed for its wearer by an artist that dress had been for Gillian Dundas.

"Well, my dear, if you chose to believe her I won't argue that matter. But, frankly, I don't want her in the house."

"Lady—Tait!" came in an aghast tone from Mrs. Burnham, who looked as though she had not heard aright. "You mean—not even for a short time—until we can find some nice quiet spot for her to live?"

"Not even for a short time," Lady Tait went on determinedly. "It's not fair to Claud." She finished maternally. "I thought so last night but I know so this morning. No, don't ask me for chapter and verse. Just take it from me that I do know what I'm talking about."

"It's a curse to a girl to be as pretty as she is," Lucy said sadly, "without any family or means. But do you mind explaining just a little more? Is it because you dislike her or because you think Claud may fall in love with her, that you want Gillian to go at once?"

"Neither." Lady Tait decided on greater frankness. "It's because I don't like the way she came here. Don't believe her story."

"But why should she come to me if her story is not true?" Lucy's voice was a tone study in bewilderment.

"Just so! Why should she? That's what I don't like. There's something about Miss Dundas I actively mistrust, my dear. I have from the first moment our eyes met."

"You do surprise me!" came rather helplessly from her guest. "I think she has such a nice, frank glance."

"Arrogantly indifferent," corrected Lady Tait. "I'm sorry, Puss. But we must see about getting her rooms elsewhere. I knew of quite a respectable boarding house, kept by a cousin of Rainer's, in fact, where she would be quite comfortable. Not expensive. And not far from this so-called studio of hers."

"Oh, but it is a real studio!" wailed Lucy. "I saw it, you know. It's much too uncomfortable for anything but a studio. There are only three chairs, all wood, in it. She's working there at this moment. Working her hardest on that Sevres plate of yours. But of course asking her to stay in a boarding house——" Lucy looked rather dismal.

"Why not? For one thing, she's not a lady, my dear."

"Her father's a regular officer, her mother's a Welsh landowner's daughter——" Mrs. Burnham's tone was growing more and more bewildered. "She knows the rules and usages of ordinary good society——"

"Oh, yes, she knows them. No, what I mean is that she's artificial through and through. I don't think she ever makes a movement that isn't thought out beforehand."

"But lots of girls nowadays are like that. They pose frightfully."

"Yes, but——well, there's a difference."

"Poor child," murmured the younger woman, "that's because she's been a paid companion ever since her school days. Of course she has to think over everything she says, before she says it. And of——"

"Puss, she's not like any companion I've ever met. No, believe me, there's something wrong about her. And I think you very unwise not to let her go. At once. We can arrange it so that she doesn't lose by it. Except, of course, the very pleasant life she would have with you. No duties. No!"

"Oh, she was to keep my things mended."

"You little fraud," laughed her hostess. "Much your things are mended." And Mrs. Burnham had to laugh herself. "You'll tell me next that she's going to darn your stockings."

"But I can't turn her adrift," Mrs. Burnham spoke with unexpected firmness. "I have no fault to find with her. I like her. I think she's a thoroughly nice girl. But, of course, since you feel like that about her, I'll let her stay with some one else until I'm back from our wedding trip. Though it will be awkward." She was thinking hard.

"I have a strong feeling that she's unreliable—all through," Lady Tait persisted. "Or I wouldn't have ventured to speak as I've done. But to me she spells mischief—trouble—worry."

"But I can't do it at once!" protested the other. "She only came to me for help yesterday. And she's frightfully upset over this affair of Lord Mills."

"When had she met Lord Mills?" Lady Tait demanded.

"After we left Vichy. Or no, before she came on to Vichy she and Mrs. de Souza had been at Trouville."

"Much more in her line than Vichy!" threw in Lady Tait, and again Mrs. Burnham laughed, half agreeing, half in protest.

"Apparently Miss Dundas had met him once or twice on the links. In a nice, fatherly way, you know, he quite took to her," Lucy went on.

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Sunday, June 10

Sunday's horoscope is not a particularly propitious one for church, state and philanthropic organizations or purposes, as it is likely to be a day of tumult, commotion, clamor as well as tenacious obstacle, postponements and disappointment or frustrating circumstances.

Those whose birthday it is may find their coming year beset with delays, obstacles, disappointments and other circumstances that may be turbulent, rash and disastrous unless a curb be kept on tongue and temper.

A child born on this day should be given early training to prepare it for a possible life of turmoil, strife, enmities as well as many tenacious obstacles to cope with. It should have keen talents, possibly unusual ones, requiring the stamina and ability to meet such destiny.

For Monday June 11

Monday's astrological forecast is for a most propitious progressive and happy state of affairs although there may be some intriguing situation to compose by tact and diplomacy. There are high goals to be reached, with the succor and friendship of those in places of power and prestige.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year in which the stars assist to high goals of achievement and progress. This despite some treacherous situations, with secret enmities, fraud and misrepresentation.

A child born on this day should be talented, versatile, ambitious and being personally gifted, popular and well liked should be equipped to reach high station in life.

NEWTON SAW MILL BURNS NEAR ARDEN

Capt. Eric Wood of Tweed Salvation Army Crops, is Burned by Acid.

(Examiner Correspondence)

TWEED, June 8.—The saw mill owned and operated by J. E. Newton about one and one-half miles from Arden, was completely destroyed by fire on Sunday night. This throws a number of men out of employment as there was a large number of logs yet to be sawed. The origin of the fire is unknown and no insurance was carried which means a considerable loss to Mr. Newton.

Captain Eric Wood of the local Salvation Army Corps met with an unfortunate accident on Tuesday of this week, when he spilled a quantity of lye on his forehead. The acid penetrated the flesh around the temple and Captain Wood narrowly escaped serious injuries to his eyes. However the sight was not impaired and the wounds are healing nicely.

Mr. Hillyard, engineer in charge of the highway construction work near Actinolite, sprained his ankle while engaged in his duties early this week. He was brought to the office of a Tweed physician where the fracture was reduced. He will be laid up for a short time.

CENTREVILLE

The president, Mrs. D. N. Dodds, was hostess to the Women's Missionary Society of Centreville Presbyterian Church for its meeting on Wednesday afternoon, when thirty-five members were in attendance. Mrs. Karl Huggins presided. Miss Darling read the scripture lesson.

After considering some items of business the following interesting program was presented. Mrs. Kenneth Moncrief read a chapter from the study book, giving a graphic account of the work of the Presbyterian Church in foreign countries.

The roll call was answered by each member quoting a verse of scripture. Mrs. Fred Wood, in fine voice, sang a solo, "Peace Wonderful Peace," which was much enjoyed. Miss Allie Berry gave a delightful reading on "What have you," which was followed by a fine piano solo by Miss Grace Finnie.

The spacious drawing room was decorated with choice flowers. The meeting closed with a hymn and the Lord's Prayer in unison.

Dainty refreshments were served and a pleasant social hour was spent. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered to Mrs. Dodds for her kindness in entertaining the W.M.S.

MILBURN'S HEALTH AND NERVE PILLS

Shortness of Breath Weak, Sinking Feelings

If going up stairs, climbing hills, walking too fast, if the least exertion causes you to stop to get your breath, or if you have weak, sinking feelings, it is time for you to stop and think as to the cause of your trouble.

What you should do is take a course of Milburn's H. & N. Pills. They tone up and strengthen the vital organs so as to prevent any harmful attacks of disease.

TORONTO GIVES PRESBYTERIANS CIVIC WELCOME

Assembly Commissioners and Wives Feted on University of Toronto Campus.

BUDGET UNBALANCED.

James Dutton, Peterborough, Suggests Committee on Stewardship—Receipts Falling.

(By Harold J. Fair, C.P. Staff Writer.)

TORONTO, June 9 (C.P.). — Melodies dear to the hearts of the Scottish race thrilled Commissioners to the 60th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada today when the City of Toronto extended a civic welcome with bagpipe music as a prominent feature of the proceedings.

Following a drive around the city, the Commissioners and their wives were feted on the University of Toronto campus. Mayor J. Stewart had extended the official invitation when he brought Toronto's greetings to the Assembly on Thurday morning, and last night Rev. Dr. J. G. Inkster, pastor of the Assembly (Knox) Church, reminded the Assembly of the event, adding the information about the musical treat in store for the Commissioners.

The Assembly sat till one o'clock to-day, and the afternoon and the evening rest from deliberations was welcomed after two days of stiff business discussion.

Receipts Decreasing

The afternoon sederunt yesterday heard James Dutton, Peterborough, reporting for the Board of Administration, say that the budget for 1933 had not been balanced. He reported decreased receipts from congregations, and the report asked authority to appoint a committee on budget and stewardship.

The assembly was cheered, however, when E. W. McNeil, Toronto, in presenting the treasurer's report affirmed his confidence in the Presbyterian Church and said: "It is perfectly solvent." He told the assembly Presbyterian property throughout the Dominion was worth $1,633,000 after deducting the accumulated operating deficit of $150,000.

Foreign missions were discussed at night, when four of the Church's missionaries in the East described their work. The assembly also honored Dr. Margaret O'Hara. Smith's Falls, Ont., retired after 40 years' service in India. Missionary addresses were heard from: Rev. L. L. Younge, Kobe, Japan; Rev. C. P. Young, Bhil Field, India; Rev. Angus MacKay, Juhansi, India; Miss Jean C. McLean, Kobe, Japan; and Mrs. A. R. McMurrich, Toronto, secretary of the western division of the Women's Missionary Society.

Canada Suffers With Whole World From Drought

Farmers all over Canada and the U.S. are suffering alike from drought which is searing most important food-producing areas of world, as shown by map. One farmer is seen here trying to find whether seeds he planted in spring have had enough moisture to sprout, and others are shown scooping up water from waning streams in desperate effort to save some of crops. Rain in the west has saved at least a part of the crop in some sections.

MUSIC CONCERT AT SPRINGBROOK

Program Excellently Staged by Pupils of Springbrook, Greens, Ridge Road, Minto Schools.

LAUDED BY INSPECTOR.

BONARLAW, June 9 (Examiner Correspondence). — On Tuesday evening of this week a concert was given in the Orange Hall at Springbrook by the pupils of Springbrook School, Senior and Junior; Green's School; The Ridge Road, and Minto, under the direction of Mrs. Blanche V. Alexander, musical instructor. The numbers consisted of choruses by the various groups and all were well rendered and showed the result of careful training. The tone and pronunciation were excellent and in the character songs the acting was good. Those present could not fail to be impressed with the great necessity of music being taught in all schools.

Two short but excellent addresses were delivered during the course of the evening by Rev. Canon W. G. Swayne, rector of St. Mark's Church and Mr. A. A. Martin, Public School Inspector.

Canon Swayne congratulated the township on being so progressive as to have music taught in schools especially during the so-called depression, and he stated that as it was being carried on so successfully during the lean years, there is every prospect of it developing during the coming years of prosperity. The cost, he said, to the taxpayer would be only about fifty cents per year on the average. Some of the advantages to the pupil, Mr. Swayne pointed out, were change of work in school hours, giving rest to the mind and developing a cheerful spirit, development of the voice, ability to appear in public, and take part as a citizen of the community, taking part in choruses, church services, choirs, etc.

Lauded by Inspector

Mr. Martin paid tribute to the excellent work being done by Mrs. Alexander, although the time spent on music per week is only 45 minutes. He asked for the co-operation of every school teacher which he stated was verye necessary. He declared that music is as much a course of study in schools as arithmetic or other subjects and it is only owing to the fact that each and every school teacher cannot be also a music teacher that it is not taught in every school. We should have music in our country schools, he said, the same as they have in the cities. It is a notable fact, said Mr. Martin, that those from the country nearly always succeed when they go to the city, yet they are apt to despise their home in the country; the very home that gave them their start in life. We want people in the country who believe in the country, declared Mr. Martin. Music in our country schools will tend to put the country more on a par with the city.

Mrs. Alexander thanked the teachers for their co-operation and said how greatly she appreciated their help in carrying out her work.

Mr. George E. Thompson, Reeve of Rawdon, acted as chairman in a very capable manner.

Prefers to Lose Preference Than Sell Soul to Liquor Interests Says McQuibban.

CUTS AT HYDRO.

GUELPH, June 9 (C.P.). — Reaffirming his stand on the liquor question, Dr. George McQuibban, Liberal House leader, last night told a Rockwood audience that while he believed he had sacrificed political preferment because of his views on the L.C. Act amendments, he preferred to do that than to "sell his soul to the liquor interests." It was his only reference to statements of M. F. Hepburn that his Cabinet, if he is elected, will include no "dry" Liberals.

Dr. McQuibban attacked the Government's financial methods, declaring that Mr. Henry's financial statements indicated that the Premier was "apparently capable of taking rabbits out of hats," and he scored Hydro expenditures for power, declaring that Ontario was purchasing power at $15 a horsepower in Quebec, paying $10 for transporting it, and selling it in the United States at $5 a horse power.

He scored the redistribution bill soundly and demanded that in the future, definite steps be taken for the electrification of rural Ontario, which, he said, had been shamefully neglected under the Conservative regime.

James F. Blaiklock Passes In Toronto

Wilfrid F. Huycke to-day received news of the death that occurred this morning at Toronto of his brother-in-law James Frederick Walter Blaiklock, Ontario manager of The Foundation Company of Canada, Ltd.

The late Mr. Blaiklock was well known in this city where he resided for some time and was engaged as assistant engineer on the construction of the Capitol Theatre. He was the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. E. Blaiklock of Montreal, and during the Great War served with the Northumberland Fusiliers and the Northumberland Light Infantry in the Imperial Forces.

The deceased was married just ten years ago this month, to Rosamond Hucke, who survives. He also leaves three children, Rosemary 9; James, 5; and Ian, 1 year.

Royal Dutch Air Lines will enter a plane in the London-Melbourne race.

CHEERFUL REPORTS ARE READ AT ANNUAL INSTITUTE MEET

Delegates From Peterborough County Attend Conclave at Hall's Bridge.

OFFICERS ELECTED

LAKEFIELD, June 9. (Examiner Correspondence).—More than one hundred and fifty members of the Woman's Institute met in Hall's Bridge on Wednesday for the Peterborough district annual meeting, officially known as the East Peterborough district, in reality all the Institutes of the county were represented. The meeting was held in Buckhorn Lodge and the welcome was one which gave the meeting a splendid start for the cordiality and hearty reception sent everyone into the house smiling with pleasure.

The meeting opened with the president, Mrs. Rothwell of Norwood, in the chair and after the opening exercises the minutes of the last district annual held June 15th last in Apsley were read by the secretary, Mrs. George Weller, of Warsaw.

The branch reports were, as usual, cheering and showed that the Institute motto "For Home and Country" had been kept bright in every branch and that the Woman's Institute is indeed the service club of the land.

Apsley Branch

Apsley reported a welcome and shower given to Dr. and Mrs. Manning who came to the village last year. A bazaar was held, a booth at the school fair and a program held in the Public School with program supplied by the pupils and the refreshments by the Institutes. The Institute also served refreshments to the visiting Legionaires on Remembrance Day; branch accounts for each new baby have a sunshine club for visiting the sick and shut-ins. The wood cut by the unemployed men was sold. The Institute have inaugurated street lighting in Apsley and pay for it ,and their work in clearing and improving the cemetery is outstanding. Total receipts were $351.76; expenditure, $345.79.

Young's Point

Young's Point report a girl's sewing class under the efficient direction of Miss Kearney with 15 girls enrolled. Thirteen pairs of mitts were knitted and distributed and a medal given to a girl who took honors in the entrance examinations.

Hall's Bridge

Hall's Bridge gave prizes at the school fair; held a sewing class and a community picnic; an old lady living alone in a sadly dilapidated house was provided with a comfortable home (the men cooperated in this undertaking); and the Institute is paying the bills for the teaching of music in their school and also No. 10, Smith. Financial report was: Receipts $18.48, expenditures $170.18, balance on hand, $10.30.

Lakefield Branch

The Lakefield branch reported a community picnic for children; card parties; a Valentine Tea at the home of the members; a baking contest held, sponsored by the Lake of the Woods Milling Co. The outstanding feature of the branch activity was relief work and the convenor, Mrs. Morrison, gave a room in her home to keep clothing, etc., in and many children were kept comfortable during the severe winter by Mrs. Morrison and her committee. The sum of $54.75 was spent mainly for underwear and footwear.

Lakefield Juniors

The Lakefield Juniors reported 24 members. Two girls were sent to the Guelph conference and the branch is still selling its cook books. An autograph quilt is under way. Prizes to the high girls in the judging competition were given. Christmas Cheer was taken to the House of Refuge. Cupid visited the branch three times during the year.

Warsaw

Warsaw reported providing music in the school, and two needy families provided with needed food and clothing. A layette was made for an expectant mother. Total receipts, $174.20; expenditure, $93.35; balance, $71.85.

Norwood Branch

Norwood reported a good deal of relief done and co-operation with the Welfare Board of the village to which a cash contribution of $25 was made besides many useful articles. Cash contributions were given to a deserving case and other worthy funds; a bale was sent to Glenalda; a tag day was put on for the Children's Aid; a practical nurse for maternity cases was twice engaged and paid and in coo-peration with the I.O.D.E. a diptheria anti-toxin clinic was sponsored. Proceeds for the year amounted to $363.14; expenditure, $138.94; balance on hand, $129.20.

Havelock

Havelock reported five demonstrations; a very interesting paper on life on a Scottish estate; a tag day for the Children's Aid was held and a bread and cake baking contest under the Lake of the Woods Milling Co.; cocoa matting for the stairs of the council chamber was purchased, also a water heater; a donation was made to the continuation school library, and relief problems met. The total receipts were $218.90 and the expenditure $184.80. Balance on hand $34.19.

Trent River

Trent River reported the Institute a bright spot in the life of the community. Picnic tables and benches have been placed in the park and the grounds beautified. A study of the community history has begun and the branch will have a valuable contribution to the historical research department. Christmas cheer was given, as was the case with all the other branches. Receipts were $130.06; expenditure, $82.53; balance, $47.55.

Belmont

Belmont reported a community flower bed planted around the hall and a cleaning up of the grounds. Prizes of $3 each were given to the pupil in Belmont and Metnuen who took the highest marks on the entrance examination. A quilt pattern contest proved good. Besides assisting in relief work the sum of $10 was donated toward teaching music in the schools. The receipts were $162.94; expenditure, $98.19.

Westwood

Westwood reports 54 members and the sum of $81.19 spent for relief. Prizes were donated to the Norwood fair, the school fair, and the Library was aided. A relic display with discription given of the articles was very interesting. The cenotaph grounds have been improved considerably. Receipts amounted to $211.40; expenditure, $113.38; balance on hand, $98.02.

The Financial Report

Mrs. George Weller read the financial report of the district, which showed receipts of $130.43 and expenditure of $121.11 with a balance on handof $9.32. The signed statement of the auditors (Albert Graham and Margaret Vance) was appreciated. Miss M. V. Powell, secretary of the Federated Board took the chair for the election of officers, which was by ballot, with Mrs. J. A. Northey of Hall's Bridge and Mrs. McIlvena of Warsaw acting as scrutineers. The following were elected:

Officers Elected

President—Mrs. A. Davis, Lakefield.

1st Vice President—Mrs. Everett Birdsall, Westwood.

2nd Vice President—Mrs. Wellington Lean, Apsley.

Secretary-Treasurer—Mrs. George Weller, Warsaw.

Federated Repesentative—Mrs. A. Davis, Lakefield.

Second District Representative—Mrs. Rothwell, Norwood.

Convenors of standing committees re-elected on recommendation of the executive.

Health and Education—Mrs. Hubel, Havelock.

Legislation—Mrs. Fred Crowe, Warsaw.

Agriculture—Mrs. H. A. Shearer, Hall's Bridge.

Home Economics—Miss Marjorie Frankish, Lakefield Juniors.

Community Activities—Mrs. W. Lean, Apsley.

Relief—Mrs. Rothwell, Norwood.

Historical Research—Mrs. Adrian Brooks, Young's Point.

Publicity—Miss Graham, Lakefield.

Immigration—Mrs. Harry Mann, Trent River.

Canadian Industries—Mrs. Everett Birdsal, Westwood.

Junior Activities—Miss Ethel Longmuir, Havelock.

Address of Welcome

Luncheon, a sumptuous and delicious meal, was served in the dining room of the lodge by the Hall's Bridge branch. When the meeting re-convened at 2.30 the official address of welcome was given by Mrs. H. A. Shearer, president of the Hall's Bridge branch and was an inspiration, stressing the need and the value of service to one's fellow men—service which makes the world better and stimulates the highest impulses and ideals and puts away all that is base and unworthy.

The reply which was given by Mrs. Birdsall of Westwood, was an equally high standard and urged a greater measure of service, and a continuation of the friendly relations which exist among the branches and a strong appeal for even more zeal in the work of our community and district.

Mrs. W. M. Graham of Lakefield moved a hearty vote of thanks to the Hall's Bridge ladies for their welcome and their abundant hospitality.

The ladies' quartette of Belmont sang sweetly that popular favorite "The Old Spinning Wheel". Miss Seeney of Havelock contributed a reading which had an appeal, especially to the older members and Mrs. Chaplin of Lakefield gave Nina Moore Jamieson's "Appreciation" which gave a note of rare humor which all enjoyed.

Miss Powell conducted a question drawer and the questions ran the gamut from "How long should a president hold office" to "Who made the delicious buns served at dinner" and "What is the river in front of the Lodge?" Miss Powell gave answers to these questions and made several suggestion which occurred to her from her experience with other districts. In Welland county a branch made cradles out of fruit baskets for the children of the Shelter. Some districts have found a quilt competition between branches a good one, with the winning quilt sent to the C.N.E. Others have a hooked rug competition; another suggestion was a contest concert. The primary object of the Institution is not the raising of money but is community service. The program of health is a popular one all over Ontario and there is, wisely, a greater use of the agricultural representative.

Mrs. George Kilbourn of Apsley sang very sweetly "The Sunshine of Your Smile". A member of the Trent River branch gave a delightful reading, "When the Teacher Comes to Tea." Mrs. George Guernsey played for community singing which was a pleasing interlude.

Mrs. Rothwell introduced Mrs. Davis of Lakefield, the new president, who urged definite planning for more effective work along educational lines. A Cambridge debate gave the Lakefield branch one of its most delightful programs. Millbrook had an Institute church parade which was a novelty This was a good idea. The Institute loan library is not taken advantage of as much as it should be.

A letter of gratitude and appreciation was read from Miss Edith Nelson, who won the scholarship last year in the county judging contest, which was a short course at Guelph. Unfortunately there is not a girl for Peterborough County now at Macdonald Hall.

Mrs. Birdsall's kind invitation to meet next year at Westwood was accepted.

Misses Marjorie Frankish and Eleanor Garvey appealed for the granting of a scholarship again this year.

Mrs. Weller, Mrs. Davis, and Mrs. Birdsall were appointed a delegation to the County Council regarding a grant. Miss Edith M. Hopkins was present, but felt it was too late to have her address; and promised to visit the district again before long.

The meeting was dismissed, quite a large number remaining for a sumptuous tea prepared by the Hall's Bridge ladies. It was a delightful day and the beautiful scenery won many compliments from the visiting ladies. Seldom had this community had such an invasion of women. So the ninth annual meet becomes history and the various branches will go forward with greater courage and higher aspirations which are the fruits of the Hall's Bridge Convention.

Branch Delegates.

The voting delegates were:

Apsley—Mrs. R. Tucker, Mrs. S. Windsor, Mrs. J. Downing.

Lakefield — Mrs. Chaplin, Mrs. Blakeley, Mrs. Murphy, Miss Graham.

Belmont — Mrs. H. Scott, Mrs. Seabrooke, Mrs. Anderson, Miss Sexsmith.

Westwood — Mrs. Birdsall, Miss Garvey, Mrs. Cameron, Clysdale, Mrs. Sargent.

Norwood — Mrs. Stuart, Mrs. Locheed, Mrs. Pennell, Miss Comstock.

KILLED ON FIRST JOB

GALT, Ont., June 8 (C.P.). — John Holtz, 37, Preston, working on his first steady job in over three years, was almost instantly killed this morning after 2 hours and 15 minutes on the job.

Holtz fell 30 feet off a ladder, when it was struck by a truck driven by his employer, A. G. Fach, Preston contractor.

Vegetables Trim Hat

By LISBETH

If you're the tailored type of gal you can wear your cartwheel hat with naught but a band, or at most a tailored bow for decoration.

But if you are the "feminine" type, you can trim it as elaborately as you choose with feathers, flowers, fruit or even vegetables. In fact, some of the newest chapeaux look as if mayonnaise should be passed with them.

Above in the picture is pretty brunette Frances Drake, who is wearing a natural colored straw cartwheel in a garden model. It's a leghorn and is worn with a ruffly garden party frock of yellow organdie. A casual band of brown and yellow velvet ribbon is tied nonchalantly around the crown for trimming.

And below is another garden party type hat worn by Miss Claire Trevor, of the Broadway stage and films, who is wearinig a cinnamon brown Milan with shallow crown and a trimming consisting of a lei of potatoes, tomatoes, carrots, radishes, lettuce and parsley.

E. A. WILLIAMS LAID TO REST

Special Train Brings Hundreds of Friends to Havelock for Funeral of Late Engineer.

TOUCHING SERVICE.

(Examiner Correspondence)

HAVELOCK, June 9.—The funeral of the late Edward Milton Williams late engineer in the employe of the Canadian Pacific Railway for the past half century, was held from his residence on Concession Street Havelock on Friday afternoon and was one of the largest ever seen in this district.

A special train from Smith Falls to convey the friends from intervening points west was placed at their disposal, and arrived in Havelock shortly before 12 o'clock. Other friends from Ottawa and Carleton Place arrived on the afternoon train from Montreal, and filled St. John's Anglican church, many being unable to gain access to the edifice. An official car was also on the noon train.

Rev. E. W. G. Worrall incumbent of St. John's was in charge, and he was assisted by Rev. P. C. Howard, formerly of Havelock and Rev. T. H. Floyd of Campbellford.

The service according to the Anglican Ritual was fully choral and the singing of two favorite numbers of the deceased were in keeping with the funeral of this Christian gentleman who had given his only son to the service of the church he loved so well. "Great God, what do I see and hear" and the first and last sections of "The Litany of Advent" to the tune of "Abba" were sung by the entire congregation.

Havelock Lodge 345 A.F. and A.M. formed a guard of honor and escorted the funeral cortege of their beloved and honored brother. The pall bearers were six engineers who had been associated with Mr. Williams during the long years of service with the same company. They were Messrs J. Toman, J. Hoffmann, R. Sanderson, Harry Burnett Peter Haig and Harold Francis.

Many beautiful floral tributes from private individuals, and the various organizations of the village and elsewhere, offerings from the parishioners at Greemore of which Rev. Milton Williams, a son of the deceased is pastor bore mute testimony to the esteem in which the deceased and family are held.

Friends from Toronto, Guelph, Belleville, Madoc, North Bay, Creemore, Trenton, Shannonville, Smith Falls, Kingston, Frankford, Bonarlaw, Deloro, Willowdale, Millbrook and Montreal were present to pay their last respects to an honored friend.

The remains were interred in Maple Grove cemetery on the Trent River Road in a beautifully shaded plot less than half a mile from his home, and within hearing of the engines which for more than thirty-five years, Mr. Williams had guided.

Besides his widow, formerly Agnes Barlow he leaves to mourn his loss one son, Rev. Milton Williams of Creemore, and two daughters, Mrs. J. E. Boundy (Beatrice) Toronto and Mrs. W. E. Wilkie (Phyllis) of Guelph, also one grandchild Joyce Agnes Boundy. He also leaves four brothers and three sisters; John Williams of Smith Falls, David of Duluth, Adam of Nakina, Ontario, and Omar of Toronto; Mrs. Scharfe of Carleton Place; Mrs. A. Porter, Carleton Place, and Mrs. Crovier of Spokane, Wash.

The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the bereaved wife and family.

LOST AIRLINER FOUND IN CATSKILLS

Oak Lake Sawmill Employee Drowned

CANOE UPSETS 2 MEN THROWN INTO THE WATER

Earl Whitley Drowned in Oak Lake While on Fishing Expedition.

COMPANION RESCUED.

Fatality Occurred 40 Feet From Shore in 5 feet of Water.

RUSH POINT, June 11. — Earl Whitney, aged 34, employee of John E. Woods' sawmill at Oak Lake, 12 miles north of Havelock, was drowned in the lake about 3.30 Saturday when his canoe capsized.

In company with Albert Bettes, aged 50, of Peterborough, also employed at the sawmill, Whitney had set forth on the lake in a canoe to fish for mudcats. They stopped to fish at a point about 50 feet off from the shore at Woods' landing.

According to Bettes' statement to Dr. J. Holdcroft, coroner of Havelock, Whitney, in reaching over the side of the canoe for a pail of water, caused the canoe to overturn and both men were thrown floundering into the water.

Neither Could Swim

Neither man could swim a stroke, but both managed to seize hold of the overturned canoe. They held hands across for some minutes, but Whitney apparently became frightened when the canoe settled lower in the water, and releasing his grip he sank. Before he sank he grabbed Bettes, almost taking him down with him.

A few minutes later another employee of the sawmill, Murnie Barton, set out in another canoe and rescued Bettes. Later, Walter Cooney, of Havelock, dove and recovered the body of Whitney.

The fatality occurred about 40 feet from shore and the lake at that place is little more than 5 feet deep.

All efforts to revive Whitney failed, although he had only been under water about ten minutes.

Whitney is survived by his widowed mother, Mrs. Jesse Whitney, of Timmins, and several brothers and sisters. One brother, Isaac, was a victim of the Hollinger mine disaster in 1926.

Coroner Dr. Holdcroft made a thorough investigation into the tragedy a few minutes later. He decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

TWO INJURED IN TRUCK CRASH

Truck and Car Collide at Main Intersection in Norwood.

BOTH VEHICLES DAMAGED.

NORWOOD, June 11. (Examiner Correspondence).—Two persons received injuried when a truck driven by Alvin Vansickle of Havelock, collided with a car in charge of Donald Toppin, Brockville, at the intersection of Colborne street and No. 7 highway here late yesterday afternoon. Alvin Vansickle and his mother, Mrs. Harry Vansickle, who was a passenger in the truck, required treatment for cuts about the face and head.

The truck was proceeding west along the highway when the collision occurred, the force of the impact turning the truck on its side. Toppin and three passengers in the other car escaped injuries. Dr. N. F. Sutton of Norwood attended Mrs. Vansickle and her son. Both vehicles were extensively damaged.

A particular tragic feature of the accident was that Mrs. Vansickle was being rushed to the bedside of her dying mother, Mrs. Carmen, in Westwood, at the time. On reaching Norwood after the crash, Mrs. Vansickle received word that her mother had passed away.

Fan Mail Starts For Able Seaman

John Smith, the local sailor who intends to paddle across the Atlantic in a canoe, has evidence that his fame has already spread far. Among the fan letters he has received is one from a woman in Weston, Vermont, addressed as follows:

John Smith, able seaman and sailor,

The man who is going to paddle across theocean,

Peterborough, Ont.

The author of the letter wishes Mr. Smith to carry a letter from her to relatives in Peterborough, England. She states that she will pray for the success of his venture.

SUDDEN DEATH TAKES 7 LIVES OVER WEEK-END

Ottawa Couple, Two Men Are Victims as Homes Are Burned.

TWO BOYS DROWN.

London Woman is Killed in Auto Smash, Husband Badly Hurt.

(By Canadian Press.)

Seven perons died in fire, highway and drowning tragedies in Ontario during the week-end. Four persons were burned to death, two were drowned, and the other was victim of a highway accident.

Antonio Biachini, 45, died in a fire that destroyed his two-roomed cottage near Welland. He had apparently fallen asleep on the floor beside his bed. John Gallagher of Chishom Township, near North Bay, was burned to death when he was helping to remove furniture from the flaming home of his brother Dan. The 60-year-old farmer was overcome by smoke in an upstairs room and Dan, the only one aware his brother was trapped, collapsed at the front door. John's bones were found in the ruins.

Fire raging through their tiny apartment in Ottawa, claimed the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Liscombe. They were taken from the blazing apartment and rushed to hospital where they died. The husband was 57 years of age and his wife 50.

Two Drowning Victims.

Five-year-old Benny Stasewiski was drowed in Lake Ontario on Sunday when he fell from the seawall on which he was walking with two other young companions. A two-hour fight to revive him failed.

The unidentified body of a boy about 10 years of age, was taken from the Niagara River at Niagara Falls.

Mrs. Robert G. Bowie, 68, of London, Ont., was victim of an auto crash near Islington. She was killed instantly and her husband injured.

Mr. Bowie was rushed to hospital in a critical condition with broken ribs, lacerations, and other injuries. He is 70 years of age.

Little hope is held for the recovery of 15-year-old Helen Tedball of Thedford, badly burned when gasoline she was using to light the stove exploded, enveloping her in flames.

Your Evening Smile

WORKING IT OUT

The mistress of the house took a friendly interest in her maid. One day she asked how her love affair was progressing.

"Oh, I've given that fellow up now," said the girl coldly.

The mistress expressed her regret and hoped the girl would be successful another time.

Two days later she saw her maid out with the same young man.

"Mary," she said in tones of surprise when the girl returned, "I thought you told me you have given up that young man?"

"That's right, ma'am. I have," said the girl airily; "but, you see what it is, he hasn't finished workin' out his fortnight's notice yet."

TWO BIRTHDAYS.

PUEBLO, Colo., June 11 (C.P.).—Twins born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wood won't celebrate the same birthday. One arrived at 11.32 p.m. Friday, and the other at 12.0. a.m. Saturday. They are boys.

EATON COMPANY HAD SALES OF $132,500,000

Growth of Eaton Organization Explained by Committee Auditor.

PAYROLL OF $24,945,000.

Operates 13 Large Department Stores and Many Other Subsidiaries.

OTTAWA, June 11.—(C.P.)— In 1869 Timothy Eaton opened a small store at the south-west corner of Yonge and Queen streets, Toronto. He did most of the selling himself.

For the final year ending Jan. 11, 1934, the T. Eaton Company Limited had sales of $132,500,000; a payroll of $24,945,000; assets of $100,035,000 and conducted stores, factories, warehouses, mail order depots, and subsidiary companies from Cape Breton in the east to the Rocky Mountains in the west. The peak year of the many-sided organization was 1929 with sales of $225,063,000.

Growth of Organization.

The growth of the Eaton organization was explained to-day to the Parliamentary Mass Buying committee by W. L. Gordon, one of the committee's investigating auditors.

To-day the company started by Timothy Eaton and now controlled by his son's estate, Sir John Eaton, owns and operates 13 large department stores, five mail order distributing depots; 32 small department stores; 72 groceterias; three creameries; 112 mail order offices; seven factories; four warehouses; nine buying offices throughout the world and 10 non-merchandising companies.

In 43 years, all the outside capital taken in by the expanding firm was less than $13,000,000. It paid its own way as it grew and today its annual interest charge on mortgages, bonds and debentures is less than $1,000,000. Thec apital of the Eaton company at incorporation in 1891 was $248,500 with a balancein the surplus account of $248,500. The present issued capital is $1,000,000, a figure maintained since before 1911.

Controlled By Estate

The Eaton commercial edifice is controlled by the Sir John Eaton estate which owns 8,890 shares of the 10,000 shares of the T. Eaton Company Limited. A hook-up is maintained between the estate and the operating company and all subsidiaries which include an insurance company, stove factory, drug company, knitting factory, a finance corporation and various real estate-holding companies.

Some idea of the vastness of the organization may be judged from the fact sales increased from $22,428,000 in 1907 to $101,175,000 in 1918 $225,053,000 in 1929 and $132,500,000 last year. Of the 1933 sales, 26.2 percent came from the Toronto store; 13.8 n Winnipeg; 11.2, Montreal; 11.6 per cent in the smaller department stores (Hamilton, Regina

Mother Who Didn't Believe in Big Family Gives Birth To Quadruplets, Boy, 3 Girls

SAC CITY, Ia., June 11 (A.P.).—A 30-year-old mother who does not believe in large families is caring to-day for a quartet of new babies, ranging in weight from two and a half to four and a half pounds.

She is Mrs. L. R. Wycoff of Sac City, who gave birth to quadruplets, boosting the family roster to nine.

Mrs. Wycoff was "very proud," but said she feels "very sorry" for her children because "they won't have the privileges they should."

Lawrence Wycoff, the father, works for the State Highway Commission for $16 a week.

"I don't know what to think about it all," he said, "but you bet your life I'm proud about it."

The babies all have the same initials—L.D.W. Their names and weights:

Lester Dean, 4½ pounds; and the three girls: Lavern Danene, 4 pounds; Lavonne Danene, 3½ pounds; and Loraine Delaine, 2½ pounds.

MISS CHARLOTTE DICKSON PASSES LAST MEMBER OF PIONEER FAMILY

Actively Interested in Church and Sunday School, Other Public Organizations.

TRIBUTE FROM PASTOR.

The death of Miss Charlotte Dickson that occurred at her, Dickson Street residence on Sunday, severs the final link in a family name that was closely allied with the growth and development of Peterborough City and County.

Born in Peterborough on September 5, 1849, she was a daughter of the late Samuel and Ann Dickson, who were among the pioneer settlers of this district, and whose family name was a household word in the early history of lumbering activity here.

After finishing her early education in local schools, Miss Dickson attended the Church School at Toronto under Dr. Langtry, principal. From her youth she had always been actively interested in church and Sunday school work. Both St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, of which she was one of the original members, and Knox United Church owe much to her loyal devotion and inspiring work.

The late Miss Dickson was a Sunday School teacher at St. Paul's for fifty-two years, and was for thirty-two years president of the Women's Missionary Society of St. Paul's Church and later occupied offices in the Women's Missionary Society at Knox Church. Extension of church work and life meant a great deal to her.

Head of Company.

Possessing a keen business mind, which was doubtless a heritage from her father, Miss Dickson often exhibited great foresight and judgment when following the death of T. C. Haslitt, former president of the Dickson Lumber Company, she took control of the business. She held the position of president of the company at the time of her death.

Interested in all public enterprises and organizations for the good and welfare of the city, the late Miss Dickson was a member of the Peterborough Protestant Home Board, and was also identified with the work of the Y.W.C.A., the Y.M.C.A., the Salvation Army, the Well Babies' Clinic and Peterbor-

Touchy

WALLA WALLA, Wash., June 11 (C.P.).—It's tough on the black widow when the brown bachelor gets his clutches on her—speaking of spiders.

A large brown spider, termed the 'brown bachelor,' was caught and placed in a jar with six or eight of the widows. Someone tipped the jar upside down.

The widows clung to their webs, but the "brown bachelor" was tumbled about. Resenting it, he sank his fangs into the back of one of the widows, killing it. Then he returned to his own web to sulk.

ASSEMBY GETS SEVERE SHOCK

Discover Two United Ministers Carrying on Presbyterian Work in Formosa.

ASK CLOSER SUPERVISION.

By Harold J. Fair
Canadian Press Staff Writer

TORONTO, June 11.—(CP)—Revelations of United Church ministers serving the Presbyterian church in the Formosa Mission gave the general assembly this morning the most exciting session so far.

Rev. Dr. James Wilson, Toronto, reported for the special committee investigating the mission and found "no evidence of maladministration", but suggested the Assembly take steps to ensure closer supervision.

In the ensuing discussion, it was brought out that Rev. G. Gushue-Taylor and Rev. H. A. MacMillan employed in the Formosa field had left the Presbyterian Church at union and joined the United Church.

"I never had any idea that we were carrying on our work with United Church ministers," observed Dr. Alex. Essler, Vancouver.

Closer Supervision

After an hour and one-half of a debate that was punctuated by frequent burst of applause, the Assembly carried the motion to Dr Hugh Munroe, New Glasgow, N.S., that the recommendation of the report for closer supervision be carried to the general board of missions, who should give effect to it.

Rev. A. C. Stewart, Chalmers Church, Toronto, claimed the MacMillans were still members of the South Kinloss, Ont., Presbyterian Church, but this was refuted by the minister of the church.

Asked by a commissioner if there was anything veiled or serious in the charges investigated, Dr. Wilson replied "There isn't anything serious, there's a difference between one family and the rest of the work."

JEWS ARE CHARGED WITH HEINOUS CRIMES IN NEW NAZI ATTACK

Special Edition of German Paper Calls Forth Protests of English Bishops.

ADVISES MASSACRE.

By PIERRE VAN PAASSEN

PARIS, June 11. — The special anti-Jewish edition of Der Sturmer, against which the Archbishops of Canterbury and York have protested, is to be the signal for a new assault on the Jews of Germany by the Nazi authorities. Showing a mediaeval picture of four rabbis sucking the blood of a Christian child (a small cross hangs around the child's neck) the Sturmer (Stormer) calls upon the Aryans of Germany to finish "the Jewish assassins" once and for all. "So far," the paper says, "we have been far too lenient with the Jews. We must teach them a lesson."

Der Sturmer is the paper of Dr. Julius Streicher, one of the most influential members of the National-Socialist party of Germany. The London Times in expressing the in-

Wise Guys

BOSTON, June 11 (C.P.).—A brown leather purse was on the ground. Nearby stood a group of young fellows who snickered audibly each time somebody was about tto pick it up. The passersby, embarrassed, walked on. Just a hoax, thought them.

Finally a woman picked up the purse—and how the youths did laugh.

"I dropped it a little while ago," she said, as she examined a roll of bills inside. "I'm glad people are so honest nowadays."

The youths did not laugh.

WINS APPEAL

LONDON, June 11 (CP Cable).—A wife's battle to recover securities pledged in 1920 in a vain attempt to save her husband's business from failure ended in success to-day, when the highest tribunal in the Empire allowed the appeal of Mrs. Jean MacKenzie of Ottawa from a decision in favor of the Royal Bank of Canada.

Armed Robbery Costs Ten Years, 15 Lashes

OTTAWA, June 11.—(C.P.) — A sentence of 10 years in Portsmouth penitentiary and 15 strokes of the lash was meted out to Alphonse Plante, 25, of Ottawa, when he appeared in police court before Magistrate Strike to-day. Plante was found guilty last week on charges of armed robbery with threats of violence and attempting to escape from the county jail.

Twenty thousand finger prints of criminals and suspects were added to the files at Scotland Yard, London, in the last year.

SEVEN ABOARD ARE ALL KILLED TERRIFIC CRASH

Bodies Burned Beyond Recognition, Private Aviator Reports.

STEWARDESS VICTIM.

Craft Disappeared Saturday Evening, 4 Passengers on Newark-Chicago Flight.

LIVINGSTON MANOR, N. Y. June 11.—(AP)—W. H. (Ted) Hallock, the aviator who discovered from the air the wrecked Newark-Chicago air liner in the forests near here today, made his way to the scene on foot and later reported that all of the bodies of the seven occupants, with one exception, were beyond recognition.

NEWARK, N. J., June 11. —(A P)—The American Airlines plane, missing with seven occupants since Saturday night, was reported sighted this afternoon near Livingston Manor, N. Y.

Planes sent out by the airline to check reports made by a private flyer reported back here by radio.

Earl Ward, general superintendent of the line, said pilots in the ships had wirelessed that the plane, partly burned, was buried in the underbrush in the side of a mountain near the New York village.

The report also said that the four passengers, pilot, co-pilot and stewardess were inside the plane and had been killed.

Earl F. Ward, general superintendent of the company controlling the liner, announced receipt of the report, saying it had come from a man named Hallack.

Ward placed the spot where the plane was reported found as south of Roscoe at a place called Mongaup Park. It was 15 miles north of Livingstone Manor, he said.

Ground crews were immediately dispatched to the scene.

Seven Crew and Passengers

The plane, when it left Newark Saturday en route to Buffalo carried:

Clyde Holbrook, 38, of Chicago, pilot; John Barron, Jr., 33, of Chicago, co-pilot and Miss Margaret Huckeby 28, of Chicago, stewardess, comprising the crew, and the following passengers:

Harry H. Pinsley, of New York; W. B. Bader, of Buffalo, N.Y.; W. A. Cass, of Buffalo, and H. C. Coppins, also of Buffalo.

A large fleet of planes had been engaged in the search yesterday and to-day, circling a wide area over the Catskill Mountain region of New York State, checking many reports that had been relayed to the office here of the American Airlines.

MADMAN KNIFES FIVE TO DEATH

Slays Man, Wife, Daughter, Son and Girl Friend in Calfifornia.

SUSPECT HELD.

SUSANVILLE, Calif., June 11.—(A. P.)— Three women and two men were stabbed to death here during the night by a maddened knife wielder.

The victims were Mr. and Mrs. Sazio and their 20 year old daughter, Maria; and Mrs. Lena Amistani and Sazio's son John.

Joe Sazio and his wife and 20-year-old daughter were attacked in their home here last night and stabbed to death.

The maddened killer, Sheriff Leavitt said, dismembered Sazio.

Then the slayer ran three-eighths of a mile down the road and attacked Sazio' son John, and Lena Amistania, slashing them to death with his knife.

Sheriff Leavitt said he had taken a suspect into custody. The man gave his name as Peter Dalosi, 45, a worker in a nearby mill.

Construction permits in Sydney, Australia, in March were more than three times those of the same month of 1933.

1890 Music Hall Star Near Death

FAIR HAVEN, N.J., June 10. —(A.P.)—Maggie Cline, who made the lusty lyric of "Throw him down McCloskey!" a byword 40 years ago, is near death at her sister's home. She suffered a stroke yesterday.

The aged musical hall favorite knew other songs, in her day, but audiences demanded "Throw him down McCloskey," and Miss Cline always obliged. From the time she introduced it in 1890 until her retirement in 1917 it is estimated she sang the song 75,000 times.

SAN SALVADOR TORNADO TAKES LIVES OF 2,000

Aerial Survey Reveals Death and Destruction Over Miles of Country.

WHOLE TOWN DESTROYED.

Lakes Rise, Wipe Out all Civilization Around—Army Rushed Relief.

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador, June 11 (C.P., via Pan-American Airways Wireless).—Relief workers to-day estimated 2,000 persons were dead in the vicinity of San Salvador alone, following last week's disastrous tornado and rainstorm.

The Salvadorean Air Corps yesterday sent out aeroplanes to survey the country. They returned to report death and destruction everywhere.

L. C. Calloway, Pan-American Airways Airport manager, went along as an observer and made an official report of his findings.

He said the government planes dropped messages to all communities where life was still observed, asking them to report in to the capital immediately as to the extent of casualties and loss in each village.

He saw evidences that whole towns had been destroyed by landslides started down volcanic mountain sides as the result of the rains.

In the Lempa River he saw the funnel of a river boat sticking out of the water and bodies floating around it.

The coast from La Libertad to La Union was hit most severely and the villages there were destroyed.

The President of the republic has issued a decree that prices on foodstuffs must remain the same as before the disaster.

Import Duties Dropped

He abolished all import duties on wheat, rice, and other cereals for the next three months in order that the people of El Salvador may be fed at as low a cost possile.

Electric power was restored over the week-end in San Salvador. The capital city is receiving drinking water again although it is only issued two bhours daly. The work of burying the dead is being carried on as fast as the army can get rescue workers into the stricken settlements.

Lakes Guija and Coatepeque have risen far over their banks and swept away every vestige of civilization around their shores.

Aeroplane observers flying over the International Railroad of Central America, which has been completely washed out for long sections, saw the International train lying upside down several hundred feet from where the mountain track had been.

There was no way of telling from the air, of course, but it appeared likely that every person on the train had been killed.

Practically all the agriculture in El Salvador has been wiped out.

The government is doing its utmost to relieve its citizens and the army is laboring faithfully to take care of the unfortunate.

The main fear at the present time is that the destruction of sanitary facilities and the presence of many unburied bodies may cause a pestilence.

Insull Home Looted

CHICAGO, June 11.—(A P)—The island home of Samuel Insull, Jr., on the Insull estate at Libertyville was looted of all its furnishings, art and valuables during the absence over the week-end of Dr. Robert Maynard Hutchins, University of Chicago president who has made the place his spring and summer home.

CEASE BUYING ARTICLES MADE IN SWEATSHOPS

Stevens' Plea to Toronto Church Congregation Draws Applause.

OUST BIG BUSINESS EVIL.

Arousal of Public Consciousness Necessary—Terrified at Present Situation.

TORONTO, June 11. CP).—The public, in the opinion of Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, can do its bit to prevent business concerns operating for large profits while they cut employees' wages.

In a speech last night before the congregation of Trinity United Church, the Minister of Trade and Commerce drew applause when he declared:

"If from to-morrow morning the interested, earnest church women in this city would cease buying the products of sweatshops," those who permitted sweatshop conditions would take cover.

He said that "because thousands of good Christian people do thoughtlessly flock to great mercantile shops and buy the products of sweatshops. . . ." no failure of Christianity was indicated. He held, however, that such a condition disclosed "gross carelessness."

Look Evils in Eye

"What is necessary," he continued "is the arousal of public consciousness. It is necessary to look these evils in the eye. To the extent that any self-respecting citizen can combat these conditions, he ought, and there is a very effective way."

Mr. Stevens said that when he first became impressed with conditions in Canadian business, "I said they cannot exist in Canada. But I am satisfied they do and I am terrified at the situation as it exists now. I hope this message will percolate—that is one reason why I am here—there is no force equal to an enlightened and intelligent public opinion.

"We have got to get into the minds of the people that they have a responsibility. We may pass laws and we must pass laws. But laws cannot do a great deal of good unless backed up by public opinion.

JOHN R. CORKERY RESIGNS OFFICE

Secretary of Liberal-Conservative Organization Tenders Resignation.

SCHOOL QUESTION.

John R. Corkery this afternoon confirmed rumors that he had resigned as secretary of Peterborough County Liberal-Conservative Association, but beyond acknowledging that his action had been determined by his stand on the Separate School question, declined to make any comment to the press.

Mr. Corkery is secretary of the local branch of the Catholic Ratepayers' Association, and feels the Catholic ratepayers cannot look to the Conservative administration for any redress on Separate School taxation.

As City Solicitor, Mr. Corkery was engaged at a meeting of the Legal Committee of the City Council when The Examiner located him this afternoon at the City Hall. He readily assented to talk with The Examiner, and upon receiving permission of the chairman withdrew from the meeting for a few moments.

Asked if he wished to comment on his resignation as secretary of the Conservative Association, Mr. Corkery said:

"I have tendered my resignation to Colonel Birdsall, president of the association in writing."

"Would you care to state the reason for your resignation?" he was asked.

"No. In view of the letter being addressed to Colonel Birdsall I think you should obtain that information through him if he is willing to divulge it."

"We understand that your resignation is due to your stand on the Separate School question. Is that so?" The Examiner asked.

"Yes."

"There is nothing further you would care to state."

No. I think not, in view of the fact that I have set forth my reasons in a letter to the president of the Association."

SHOWERS BRING SMILES, RELIEF ONTARIO FARMS

Precipitation Arrives Just in Time to Avert Widespread Crop Failure.

HAY TO BE SCARCE.

Raspberry and Strawberry Crops Hard Hit—Few Areas Still Dry.

TORONTO, June 11 (C.P.). — It wasn't so hard for the Ontario farmer to raise a smile to-day. Sun-baked fields and puny, thirsting crops that had been without drink for many days had largely disappeared. It rained over the week-end.

One of the most serious spring droughts in years, extending over a month in some districts, was definitely broken early on Sunday by a drenching rain that fell for an hour or more over the greater part of the Province. Eastern and Western regions both benefited

The precipitation arrived in time to avert widespread crop failure. Agriculturists had feared another few days of hot, dry weather would completely destroy any chance of crops getting started. Even as it is many districts that saw only rain-clouds—but got no rain—are still threatened.

Western Ontario has given up hopes for a bumper hay crop There is likely to be a shortage of hay in most parts of the province Another few days of drought, said producers of small fruits, would have ruined the strawberry crop. The extreme cold last winter took a heavy toll of strawberry plants.

The berry crop in the Galt district was on the point of failure when rain arrived. There had been no moisture for 28 days. Fruit farmers in Grey and Bruce Counties cheered a downpour that lent new life to wilting crops.

The farm population was inclined to call the drought-break "welcome but hardly satisfying." Further moisture will be required within a few days in the sections where rain fell over the week-end, and the still-dry balance of Ontario hoped for rain immediately.

Psychiatrist Promises Magic Rope Trick; Asks $275,000 Provide Yogis, Tropic Heat

LONDON, June 11 (CP Cable).—For $275,000 a psychiatrist here from India will do the magic rope trick in Albert Hall, but so far he has no takers.

The Magic Circle, a society that investigates phoney mysticism, recently offered a $25,000 reward to anyone who will do a genuine magic rope trick. At that time Lord Ampthill, an expert on magic, said the reward might just as well be $250,000, because no one could do the trick.

His pronouncement brought from Dr. Alexander Cannon, the psychiatrist, an offer. The doctor will do the trick for the original reward with the $250,000 added to cover expenses. He need that much money, he said in a letter to the Magic Circle, because he would have to import Yogis and their assistants from India, bring over special sand and heat Albert Hall to the temperature of the tropics. He would also need special lighting effects.

Interested, the Magic Circle wrote Dr. Cannon and asked him if he would return the $250,000 if the trick failed. He replied, "No." The Circle appeared ready to let the matter drop then, but the doctor wrote again and repeated his offer.

In the magic rope trick a fakir throws the end of a rope into the air where it appears to become anchored to nothing. Then a boy climbs up.

DEBATE PUSHED IN PARLIAMENT

Bennett Holds Public Works Bill Till Provincial Elections Are Over.

PROBE ACTION UNDECIDED.

OTTAWA, June 11.—(CP)—Signs of an appreciable speeding up of operations on Parliament Hill as a prelude to the end of the session are in evidence. With the Marketing Bill, the major bone of contention in recent months, through the House of Commons, other legislation may be dealt with more quickly.

The farm debts legislation will be discussed this week and the shipping bill, a bulky piece of substantive law, awaits consideration in committee. Prime Minister R. B. Bennett has indicated he will not introduce the Public Works Bill until after the provincial elections, June 19, in order to avoid any suggestion of attempting to influence the vote. It will provide for the expenditure of a substantial sum of money on a building program designed to assist business recovery and provide employment.

The next week or so will see a decision reached as to whether any legislation will be attempted dealing with conditions revealed in the inquiry into price spreads and mass buying.

A Problem

A considerable demand for action exists and the government is understood to be eager to find some way of dealing with the matter despite the constitutional and other difficulties involved. The Marketing Bill is expected to meet the situation to some extent in so far as price spreads on agricultural products are concerned although it is not based on any finding by the committee.

That group, headed by Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, continued its probe to-day. Further attention will be paid to department stores and the auditors who investigated the Robert Simpson Company will again be on the stand.

CAMPBELLFORD CHURCH TO HOLD ANNIVERSARY

CAMPBELLFORD, June 11 (Examiner Staff Correspondence). — St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Campbellford, are preparing to observe their ninety-seventh anniversary on Sunday, June 24, for which occasion the guest preacher will be the Rev. J. C. Grier, B.A., of Lindsay, a former minister of the congregation. In connection with this celebration the annual garden party will be held on Tuesday, July 3, when supper will be served in the basement of the church.

Fourteen inches of rain, equal to the year precipitation in some parts of the United States, fell in a few hours recently in Rangoon, India.

RATES ON FARM LOANS TO BE CUT STILL FURTHER

Henry Hopes in Near Future to bring Interest to 4½ Per Cent.

RESPECT DRY AREA WISHES

Curb to be Placed Upon Drinking Parties in Hotel "Bedrooms."

BY ERNEST BURRITT

Canadian Press Staff Writer

AGINCOURT, June 11.—(CP)—Still lower rates of interest on agricultural loans to farmers, further restrictions to curb hotel drinking and provision to care for its needy if the Dominion fails to contribute to the cost, are among the high lights of legislation to be considered by the Conservative government if returned to power in the general election of June 19, according to Premier George S. Henry.

The premier made this known to gathering here and at Unionville in his riding of East York, Saturday night. It was his first public appearance in the constituency since last Saturday when he addressed a meeting at Todmorden. The government, said Mr. Henry, had come to the aid of farmers in reducing the interest rate on agricultural loans to five percent and expressed the hope that "at some future date we will be able to reduce the interest to four and a half percent as a real encouragement for men to remain on the farm to develop the industry."

Respect Dry Wishes

He also outlined provisions under the new legislation to provide for freer distribution of beers and wines and gave the assurance the government did not want "to foist anything on anybody and shall give the people what they want." Local option would be respected, he said, "and I'll go further. The new legislation won't effect portions of a municipality which doesn't want it, even if they are not under local option. We shall give the people what they want."

Permitting of drinking liquor in hotel bedrooms, which he said were not strictly bedrooms but rooms prepared for the evening, where a group could go and drink, were described by the Premier as the weakest part of the Liquor Control Act. "However," he added, "if the present plan for distribution of beer proves itself feasible, and I believe it will, further restrictions under the law to help eliminate this abuse probably will be introduced."

Accused Of Many Crimes.

The Government, said Mr. Henry, "has been accused of almost all the crimes on the callendar during this recent talking fest," but he claimed opposition charges of extravagant administration were unfounded and challenged the Liberal leader, Mitchell F. Hepburn, to point out to the people what services would be eliminated to provide for the 50 per cent. saving in administration costs he had told the voters about.

He also charged Mr. Hepburn with ruling out all his followers who failed to agree with him on the liquor question, and the Premier asked, "Where stand the candidates who go around posing as temperance candidates and yet align themselves with Mr. Hepburn, who certainly does not express that policy?" If Mr. Hepburn does," said the Premier, "what about his lieutenant, Mayor David Croll of Windsor, who has been telling the people every restaurant in Windsor will be given a license to dispense beer."

FLIN FLON MINE UNDER PICKET

1,300 Employees of Hudson Bay Plant Strike for Union Recognition.

17 R.C.M. POLICE SENT.

FLIN FLON, Man., June 11 (C.P.) — Pickets were stationed around the property of the Hudson Bay Mining and Smelting Company plant here to-day as 1,300 employees went on strike, demanding recognition of their union, no discrimination against union employees and restoration of 15 per cent. wage cuts imposed a year ago.

Flin Flon's 5,000 inhabitants were in high tension as the strike was called and arrival of 17 members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police was awaited. Travelling on the same train as the R.C.M.P. detachment was R. H. Channing, Jr., president of the company. The train is due at noon to-day.

Seventy pickets took their places at the mine last night after a meeting Saturday. The strike call was made when W. A. Green, superintendent of the plant, refused to recognize the Mine Workers' Union of Canada. The union was organized here recently.

J. S. Chandler headed the union delegation which presented demands for union recognition and restoration of the pay cuts to Mr. Green. Mr. Green informed the delegation the union would not be recognized. He immediately informed Mr. Channing of the action.

Hope was expressed throughout the district a settlement would be quickly reached. Practically all residents are dependent on the operations of the company for a living. Reports said some of the merchants were putting all business on a cash and carry basis.

No Trespassing

ERIE, Pa., June 11 (C.P.)—"Trespassing" dogs face arrest in Erie.

Police Chief William F. Detzel has ordered licensed dogs, found on other than owners' properties, to be locked up in the city jail.

And what's more, the owners must pay the dogs' room and board, pending trial, or the dogs will be shot.

QUIT THE FIGHT HEPBURN URGES CCF CANDIDATES

Appeals for Straight Battle Between Liberal and Conservative Forces.

NOTHING AGAINST PARTY.

Would Like to Understand Problems and Assist in Solution.

(By Jack Hambleton, Canadian Press Staff Writer)

ST. THOMAS, Ont., June 11 (CP)—From his Elgin County farm home, Mitchell F. Hepburn, Ontario Liberal Leader, left to-day to resume his high-speed election tour. Three weeks of the grind have ended, and one week from to-night Mr. Hepburn will return home for his final speech of the campaign.

The Liberal Leader spent the week-end quietly at his farm, walking over the field with "Rowdy," his dog. It was a great week-end for Rowdy, for when Mr. Hepburn arrived after motoring from Port Credit where he spoke Saturday he was almost knocked over by the canine, who gave him no uncertain wecome.

In Port Credit, hotbed of politics, where a great fight is being waged between Hon. Thomas Kennedy, Minister of Agriculture, and Hon. Duncan Marshall, former Minister of Agriculture for Saskatchewan, Mr. Hepburn addressed a capacity audience.

In the course of his address, he appealed to the Co-operative Commonwealth to withdraw its candidates and allow a stright fight between Liberals and Conservatives. "I regret we are facing so many three-cornered contests," he said. "I have nothing against the C.C.F. I believe they are victims of circumstances beyond their control and I believe in their sincerity of purpose, although differing with them on many points of political opinion. I would like to understand their problems and do what I could to help in their solution."

NEW MEDICAL AID

SUDBURY, Ont., June 11. (CP). A clear, colorless fluid which, it is claimed, experiments and practical usage have shown, will stop bleeding from even large blood vessels and which may have varied uses in both first-aid and surgical operations, was announced Saturday by Dr. Luigi Pancaro. Sudbury physician and surgeon. The heamostatic, Dr. Pancaro insisted, is a development rather than a discovery and followed two years of intensive work in the physician's laboratory here.

Public Schools Take Part In Swim Meet

The Public scohols of the city were represented at the Y.W.C.A. swimming meet Saturday night. Special trail tests were given to every swimmer. Practice shuttle relay races were a part of the sports program. King Edward school winning the shuttle relay race fom Queen Mary school; Prince of Wales school was successful against the Queen Alexandra school; Central and King George schools had not a full team but promised to be ready by next Friday. St. Mary's won from a special team. Confederation and May school are reminded to have teams in the competition next week. P.C. I. vs. St. Peter's will be also in next week's program.

L. Barnes was first in senior speed.
D. Bestan second in senior speed.
E. Bestard first in junior speed.
A. Richardson second in junior speed.

Miss Littlefield announced that the weekly sports hour held every Friday at 8 p.m. will include the shuttle race of the Public school teams. Also competition diving, two dives from each school competing. There is no charge for swimmers at the swimming meets, but spectators are asked for silver collection.

The program of races, diving and stunts is very interesting and exciting and it is hoped parents and friends will encourage the children of the city by being present.

A large number of children have already learned to swim this season and more are joining classes every day. Many are planning a vacation at camp and want to be able to swim before holidays. The Y.W.C.A. camp opens June 30th. Girls planning to go to camp should register early as accommodation is limited.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

What are known as vegetable plate meals are in high favor during the summertime. These plates are less heating to the blood than meat, and they can be equally substantial. Those who are accustomed to having meat consider the hearty dish as a meat substitute. Vegetarians insist that a vegetable meal is a complete entity, that substitution implies a lack which does not exist, and the word is therefore incorrectly used. This is certainly true from their point of view. But in any event a substantial dish is enjoyed by both groups.

* * * * * *

Some dishes which take the place of meat are baked macaroni and cheese; spaghetti with tomato and green pepper; fried rice with poached eggs; tomatoes stuffed with minced celery, some of the tomato pulp, bread crumbs, or boiled rice, butter, salt, and peper. Green peppers can be used as well as tomatoes for stuffing. Corn oysters are delicious. They can be made from scraped corn from 6 ears or a can of corn. Make a batter of 2 egg yolks, ¼ cup flour, 2 teaspoons butter, 1 teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper. Whip whites of eggs and add to corn batter. Drop tablespoonsfuls into hot fat and brown on both sides. Or make a stiffer batter and fry in deep fat.

MUSHROM LOAVES

Wash some button mushrooms and boil in a little very hot water. Make a rich cream sauce and when the mushrooms are tender (which will take but about 7 minutes) drain them and pour into the cream sauce. Pull out the centres of large tea biscuits. Fill with the creamed mushrooms, and cover again with the top of the biscuit so that the filling is completely concealed. Dress the top of each loaf with wee sprigs of parsley or with water cress leaves. Put a thin slice of hard-boiled egg in centre and top with a sliver of pimento, or a circle of stuffed olive. The name loaves is a quaint old one for what we now call Mushrooms en Surprise.

Eight Days Remain Before Votes Cast

TORONTO, June 11 (C.P.). — Eight days from to-day Ontario citizens will select the Government they wish to hold power for the next five years. In the eight days the party stalwarts will pack all the meetings possible to spread their pleas for election, with Premier George S. Henry and Mitchell F. Hepburn, Ontario Liberal Leader, starting on the last lap of a heavy itinerary.

To-day Mr. Henry addresses the Wingham residents, while the Liberal Leader visits Woodstock, Brantford, Galt and Kitchener, one of the busiest days the Liberal Chieftain has had during the campaign. Hon. Charles McCrea, Minister of Mines, will speak at Niagara Falls, and Attorney-General W. H. Price at Sundridge.

Hon. W. G. Martin, Minister of Public Welfare, to-day will deliver addresses at Strathroy and Glencoe, and Hon. George H. Challies, Minister without portfolio, speaks at Smith's Falls and Perth. To-morrow

AUDIENCE ENJOYS MUSIC RECITAL

Numbers Given by Pupils of Miss Aileen Rose in Wesley Hall.

The recital of piano studies given by pupils of Miss Aileen Rose was enjoyed by a large and appreciative audience in Wesley Hall at St. James' United Church on Friday night.

Assisting in her splendid program was Miss Jennie Smart, contralto, pupil of Dorothy Allan Park.

A pretty setting for the young musicians was achieved by a profusion of spring-time flowers and roses, with the added glow from softly shaded lights.

Most of the recital numbers were played from memory, and showed a fine grasp of technique throughout the wide range of difficult selections.

One of the pleasing features of the program was the rhythm band, played by four girls: Ethel Sims, Dorothy Frost, Betty Piercy and Mildred Clark. Their numbers, with Miss Aileen Rose accompanying, were: (1) In the Alps, (2) Aunt Belinda's Music Box, (3) The Donkey Ride, (4) The Cheerful Cherub.

Another unique arrangement of players took the form of a musical story, read by Betty Piercy, with the various characters and scenes represented in appropriate solos and duets. The girls participating in this romantic story of King Cotton and the three beautiful maidens, were: Marjorie Sims and Aileen Rose, a piano duet, "King Cotton"; Margaret Smart and Betty Ferguson, duet, "Camp of Glory"; Dorothy Frost, solo, "Country Dance"; Eileen Doig and Aileen Rose, duet, "In the Boat"; Ethel Sims, solo, "A Dance on the Green"; Dorothy Frost and Ethel Sims, duet, "Come to School."

The story was concluded with Edgar Guest's well-known poem, "Sentiment."

Interspersing the piano numbers were the delightful vocal selections sung in groups by Miss Jennie Smart. These included: (1) "May Day Morn," "Danny Boy." Her second group was "In the Glad Springtime" and "Beloved it is Morn."

One of the youthful performers, Mildred Clark, deserves special mention for her splendid playing after only six lessons. Indeed, each of the large class of pupils deserves special mention for the credit they reflected upon their teacher's training in the following program:

Piano duet — "Dance of the Winds," Marjorie Sims and Aileen Rose.

Piano solo—"Daisy," Mildred Clark.

Piano solo—"Wallflower," Betty Piercy.

Piano duet—"Little Miss Daffodil" (Mae Erb), Dorothy Frost and Ethel Sims.

Piano solo — "Harvest Home" (Lang), Ethel Sims.

Piano solo—"March in D" (Bach) Dorothy Frost.

Piano solo—"Mazurka" (Heins), Eileen Doig.

Piano solo (a), "Dance of the Clowns," (b) 'Valse" Durand), Marjorie Sims.

Piano solo — "Gypsy Rondo," Margaret Smart.

Piano duet—"The Juggler," Margaret Smart and Betty Ferguson.

Showing the great appreciation in which their teacher is held, Dorothy Frost, on behalf of the class, presented Miss Rose with a lovely bouquet of pink carnations.

Miss Rose expressed her thanks for the attendance of parents and the many interested friends, and brought to a conclusion her recital with the singing of the National Anthem.

PROVED by "Blood Tests"

Thousands of people in 72 different countries have declared that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been of definite benefit to them in the treatment of nervous, run-down conditions. That is evidence—now comes PROOF. It is furnished in the recorded results of "blood tests" made by a reputable physician on patients who were in a run-down, tired-out condition, due to impoverished blood.

The one sure proof of the efficiency of a blood-builder is its power to improve the haemoglobin content of the blood. Haemoglobin, as the physician explained to his "blood test" patients, is the oxygen-carrying element of the blood. It builds body cells and clears the system of poisons. Normal health and energy are possible only when the haemoglobin content of the blood is normal.

The physician "blood tested" a typical group of under-par, anaemic people. They were put on a treatment of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for a month, and were then given a second blood test. In the physician's own words, the haemoglobin increase was "nothing short of remarkable." The patients had better color, more pep and vigor, more desire to work. They were no longer anaemic. The physician's records of these cases are authentic, and copies will be given to any person who desires them.

Why not try this "blood-tested," proven remedy? It will revitalize your run-down system and brighten your life. It will do as much for "teen age" girls and weak children. Your Druggist has Dr. Williams' Pink Pills—50 cents a package.

Character From Handwriting

By BLANCHE A. DRAPER

A Feature Conducted by Peterboroughs Leading Handwriting Analyist for the Readers of The Examiner

Full name and address (complete) must be given in all samples sent in.

John Wesley James,
R.R. No. 3, Hastings, Ont.

Your handwriting for analysis shows that you are a very candid sort of person. You express your views with a delightful appeal, which intrigues your listeners with a sense of your ability to see into things with a clearness and conciseness which is beyond their power of conception. Your large open capitals tell me that you are subject to change even those candid opinions of yours, no matter how convincing they were at the time. The way you cross your 't' indicates very strongly that you have great determination and will-power. Once you decide to accomplish a task, you set about it with all the energy you possess, and thereby make a success of the undertaking. You are full of fun and emanate the spirit of good fellowship wherever you chance to be. You are attractive to the opposite sex. Your number is 4. Your birthsign Aries the Ram. You are ruled by Mars. June and July are your best months. Tuesday your lucky day.

Mr. George McConnell,
Indian River.

Your writing delineates you as changeable, but in reality this is due to a nervous tension when pressed either for time or words. You have the typical writing of one who means to get along in the world, and if you find that you cannot be successful in one line, you will try another. You are energetic and rather forceful once in a while you are stubborn. The obdurate quality will help you later on for once your mind is (really) made up as to vocation marriage or any other vital outcome, you will be master of your own fate, through choice of decision.

Mrs. Hazel Dean,
Lakefield P.O., Ont.

The handwriting as indicated shows that you are intelligent and understand values as rated in the present day crisis. You are modest and retiring, nervous at times and not at all aggressive. You deserve a great deal of praise for work well done, but somehow you do not seem to derive much pleasure from it, because you usually have to ask others, 'how they like such and such' then, after gaining their approval you feel hurt. You have a keen mind for detail and perhaps you are a little too fussy about things in general. It might be as well if you gave yourself more rest and let others do the work. Then I think you would find that your labors would be appreciated much more often than they are now. You are a quick thinker and you are gifted with imagination and humour. You are always on the alert and ready to assist those who need your kindly help. If you have time for a hobby, I might suggest a semi-scientific field. Your brain is so active that it must be doing something every moment of the day. You do not even rest properly when you are presumed to be asleep.

MAY SUSPEND PAYMENTS

PARIS, June 11.—(AP)—Reports the Germans may be on the verge of suspending payments on Young and Dawes plan loan bonds as well as commercial debts alarmed British and French financial quarters today.

Rumors concerning the Dawes and Young loans arose soon after receipts of French information that payment on the commercial obligations had been suspended.

FLOWERS FOR THE PARKS.

While there is general approval of the splendid appearance of the city parks and citizens are unanimous in their opinion of the good work that has been accomplished in recent years by the Parks Committee under the chairmanship of Ald. Stocker, the situation in regard to the purchase of bedding plants for the municipal beauty spots is not regarded as so completely satisfactory.

It would seem only fair to local florists and a much better thing in the interest of horticulture generally if the plants required for this purpose consisted as far as possible of plants grown here in Peterborough.

Shrubs, small trees, various bulbs, etc., have necessarily to be imported, but the plants used in making up the various flower beds could, The Examiner is informed, be grown locally, and there is no occasion for them to be brought in from outside.

This whole question of the purchase of supplies for the civic parks should receive more attention from the Council than it apparently does, because, if The Examiner is not mistaken, there is a by-law that provides for calling for tenders in all such cases, and it would seem to be a sound business practice to see that the principle of that legislation is acted upon.

THEY GOT ONE OF THEM ANYWAY.

From Ottawa the other day came a story which The Examiner hopes most of our local motorists read carefully.

It was to the effect that a resident of the capital who blew the horn of his automobile "almost continuously" as he drove along an Ottawa street at midnight was brought into the magistrate's court and fined under the Traffic Act.

The noisy order of Horn Tooters has a huge membership everywhere.

There is the high-spirited fellow who makes the night hideous with unnecessary sounds merely in the exuberance of animal spirits, as a contemporary puts it.

There is the dull-minded individual who seems to think that by tooting his horn vigorously at the tail-end of a line of traffic he's helping to clean-up the jam.

There's the gay spark in the wedding procession who is sure the event would not be legal without a continuous blast of tooting automobile horns.

And worse of all is the lazy motorist who announces his arrival by using the horn of his car instead of going to the trouble to climb out of the machine and ring a door-bell.

Now that action has been taken against one member of the fraternity, a long suffering public may see a faint ray of hope; perhaps the Traffic Act may again be invoked for the protection of society against unnecessary and disturbing noises.

AN ABSURD SUGGESTION.

Somebody has attempted to make a campaign issue out of the series of safety advertisements issued by the Ontario Department of Highways, the insinuation being made that money is being spent on this publicity in the hope that the press of the province may be favorably influenced toward the Government.

Since the election date was announced The Examiner has maintained a neutral attitude in these columns and proposes to continue in that course until the campaign is over; nevertheless we feel constrained to point out in connection with this accusation that the Ontario Department of Highways has been carrying on this advertising for several years, and there is reason to believe that it has been reasonably effective.

Certainly there has been every need for a campaign of education, and if good results have been obtained through the department's publicity efforts, there was no occasion to drop the advertising merely because an election was in the offing.

The press incidentally is getting a little weary of the insinuations that its editorial opinion can be purchased with advertising orders, and is ready to tell the world that even if this highway advertising had been a new thing instead of a continuance of a policy that has been in effect for years, it would not make any difference one way or the other so far as newspaper approval or condemnation of the Government might be concerned.

A NEW HIGH RECORDED.

General business in Canada in April showed a sharp rise to a new high after a decline of two months from the recovery's high in January, another proof that the trend in this country is distinctly upward.

The Alexander Hamilton Institute's index of Canadian trade activity was 66.7 in April, as compared with 65.7 in March, 68.3 in January, the previous peak, and 47.6 in April, 1933.

As the report points out, the increase of 4.6 per cent. in the April index over the previous month was distinctly encouraging.

During the past four years of depression the decreases in April from March amounted to 3.3 per cent. in 1933, 7.2 per cent. in 1932, 2.1 per cent. in 1931 and 5.1 per cent. in 1930. In 1929, the last year preceding the general decline, the April index decreased 4.6 per cent. from March.

Automobile factories expanded sharply, with production surpassing any previous month since early in 1930.

Pig iron output rose to 27,356 tons, an increase of 126 per cent. over the March production, and while the output of steel ingots declined slightly in April from the previous month, the production of 70,363 tons compared favorably with the 11,384 in April last year.

Newsprint produced showed a 3 per cent. increase, and the volume of building increased in April for the third consecutive month.

Foreign trade registered less than a seasonal decline, and freight car loadings in April over the previous month and a further rise of one per cent. is indicated for May.

A PATRIOTIC UNION.

Recent cable dispatches from Pretoria show that South Africa is making tremendous strides in parliamentary government. The two great parties, the Nationalists led by Preemier J.D. Hertzog, and the South Africans under the leadership of former Premier General Jan Christian Smuts, have decided to form a permanent amalgamation. For patriotic purposes in a time of crisis in the South African Union these two great parties sank their differences and united to form a National Government, which has proved a decided success in the management of the country's affairs. Economic conditions have greatly improved, and the Government closed the last fiscal year with a very substantial surplus. The terms of the permanent agreement which the two parties have agreed to accept confirm the existing relationship between the Union and the Commonwealth of British Nations, and co-operation with these individual countries "subject to their being no derogation from the status of the Union and no assumption of external obligations conflicting with its interests."

The United party, while standing for the maintenance of the present constitutional system and relationship with the Commonwealth, will also champion the cause of the white people against any encroachment upon their existing rights. The union of these two parties is not surprising, as the constitutional issue has practically disappeared. The Nationalist party, led by Premier Hertzog, which formerly advocated the establishment of an independent republic, is now just as loyal a supporter of the British Commonwealth as is the South African party under the leadership of General Smuts. Nothing could be more gratifying to the other British nations than to see the manner in which the South African people themselves have worked out this problem. It is a marvelous tribute to the faith exhibited by the Campbell-Bannerman Government which promoted the Union and granted complete self-government. — Brantford Expositor.

MORE OF INDEPENDENCE ALL AROUND.

On Tuesday the Banking and Commerce Committee of the House of Commons put finishing touches on the new Central Bank Act, and—

"It put its seal of approval on the provision which compels the banks to turn over their gold at the statutory rate ($20.67 an ounce) instead of at the market price of approximately $35. The banks have been fighting this provision, and S. H. Logan, general manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, filed a protesting brief on the subject last week."

We are told, until it becomes almost nauseating, that "Big Business" runs the country. We are assured, especially by our young radicals, that Mr. Bennett and Mr. King are just puppets; that it is St. James street, not Parliament Hill, which decides how we shall be governed. Yet here we have the spectacle of a committee of the House of Commons—just politicians—defying their "masters," brushing aside the wishes of Sir Herbert Holt and Sir Charles Gordon as though those allegedly mighty men didn't count!

Nor is it that this gold decision didn't matter, that the banks didn't care. Actually, the decision mattered a great deal. The banks hold gold to the value of some $40,000,000. Consequently, by having this gold taken from them at the rate of $20.67 an ounce, instead of at $35 an ounce, the banks lost several millions of profit. It was something worth fighting for.

It would be pleasant to think that an incident like this would check some loose tongues. But we fear otherwise. There are certain people so sure that their fellow-citizens lack honesty and character, nothing can change their suspicions. They like to believe seemingly that their neighbors, particularly if they happen to be politicians, are capable of stooping to most anything, that they all "have their price," are more or less corrupt.

And—to people of this mind—the press is as bad as the politicians. Just as they imagine Sir Herbert Holt and his fellow-bankers treating the Prime Minister as an office boy, so they talk as though every day some committee of "Big Business" gets after newspaper editors to tell them what to write. Every newspaperman has met the gentleman who sympathizes with him over this condition. "We know you have to write these things."

Nor does it seem to matter in the least that the facts are all the other way. The creation of a Central Bank was opposed by every banker in the country. So with certain changes in the Bank Act. Yet despite this, despite also that all through the present session Parliament has been investigating "Big Business" and legislating to curb and restrict "Big Business," the old fictions go on thriving. Suspicion, the propensity to think evil about others, appears to be invincible.

Meanwhile what is happening? Year after year politics in Canada, political action and political discussion in Canada, become increasingly honest and intelligent. There is more of independence all around. More and more our Parliaments are getting away from class legislation, from legislation for special interests. There is more of the free play of opinion within parties, more of intelligent discussion, less of party prejudice. And there is more of independence in the press.

Newspapers to-day are not taking orders from party bosses, nor from "Big Business." They are printing the news—the facts—let the chips fall where they may. More than that, newspapers to-day, on the average, are concerned more with political principles, concerned less with political parties. They may believe in a party, may believe in its traditions and principles, but they reserve the right to interpret those traditions and principles in their own way, not in the way of some party leader. It is an entirely wholesome condition.—Ottawa Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

The Rotary Carnival means a new start in life for the crippled children of the district. Give it liberal patronage on Wednesday and Thursday nights.

One more week will see the Ontario campaign come to an end—and it is impossible to think of that without a sigh of relief.

Saturday's rain was hard on sporting schedules, but it was worth the proverbial "million" to the country

With a week to go the rival politicians should be able to dig up a few new charges against each other, although it is suspected that they have almost reached the limit of their resourcefulness in that respect.

NO ADEQUATE POLICY

Editor of The Examiner:

Sir,—With your kind permission I wish to express my feelings with reference to a Liberal meeting held at Centreville Thursday, June 7. The principal speaker being J. J. Duffus of Peterborough who gave an excellent address, quoting facts and figures of the blundering management of the present Conservative government. It was most regrettable that such a splendid address should end as a farce for lack of a sensible and adequate solution to meet the requirements of the present conditions.

What's in The NAME

of Canadian Cities and Towns?

By FRANK H. WILLIAMS

TORONTO ONTARIO

The origin of the name Toronto has been the subject of great debate, and the authorities are by no means unanimous, even yet.

The generally accepted theory seems to be that the name was first given by the early French explorers, Champlain and Brule, to Lake Simcoe and the district between the lake and Nottawasaga Bay. This was the centre of population of the Huron country and the original form of the name of Toronto may mean either "place where people meet" or "place where many people live."

On the principle that a road leading to London is known as the London road, the two rivers giving access to the Toronto country were called the Toronto rivers. One of these now is the Severn and the other the Humber. By a further application of the same principle both Matchedache Bay at the mouth of the Severn and what is now Humber Bay were both known as Toronto Bay.

References to the mouth of the Humber and the district where Toronto now is situated, as Toronto, are frequent in the old French reports.

In 1750 a small fort and trading post was established there by the French and while it was officially named Fourt Rouille, in both French and English documents it is most frequently referred to as Fort Toronto, or the fort at Toronto.

This name was used continuously until September, 1793, some months after the town and garrison had been established by Governor Simcoe. At that time, in celebration of a victory won by the British forces under Frederick, Duke of York, Simcoe changed the name of both the fort and town of York.

On the incorporation of the city in 1834, the ancient name of Toronto was revived by act of parliament.

DON'T WORRY

Your mental attitude in thinking properly is a powerful factor in maintaining health. Thinking can be constructive or destructive. The mind can be built up to a strong fortitude by constructive thinking, or it can be torn down by destructive thinking. Worry is a mental illness. Worry, anger, and abnormal mental conditions generate a body poison detrimental to health.

ON THIS DATE

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

THE BURIAL OF SIR JOHN MACDONALD

On this date, in 1891 there took place at Kingston the burial of Sir John A. Macdonald. He had been given a state funeral at Ottawa the previousy day when all Canada paid tribute to the great Father of Confederation. Then his body had been taken to Kingston where it lay in state all morning in the city hall of the town which John A. had represented for Parliament for so long.

The next morning early a special parliamentary train left Ottawa for Kingston bearing senators, M.P.'s newspaper men and a few civil servants. I wonder how many of the passengers on that train are yet alive? Most of the politicians have passed. R. S. White, now M.P. for Mount Royal, remains. Are there any others? Newspaper men must be a long-lived lot for I can count at least half a dozen of the reporters of that day who remain to retail their reminiscences of the days when we were young together.

The funeral ceremony at Kingston was much simpler than that at Ottawa. There was, of course, a military escort; there was a long line of walkers, and many carriages filled with mourners, but it was a home town's farewell to a favorite son more than the nation's tribute, though of course, many of the delegates from all over Canada who had been at Ottawa went to Kingston. They were there as lookers-on. It was Kingston's day of mourning.

The ceremony at Cataraqui cemetery was simple, just the lovely service of the Church of England as we laid the Chieftain in his final bed beside his loved ones, and left him there at rest. I wonder if his grave has been cared for as it should be? As a matter of fact it ought to be a spot pointed out to all visitors to Kingston, for there lies the remains of one of the greatest of Canadians, whose lifework as a unifier of this Canada should always be impressed upon our young people. John A. would have disliked the idea of his grave being made a show-place; but there is a happy mean, and not even he could object to visitors to Kingston staying a moment at the grave of the Glasgow lad who became one of the foremost figures of the British Empire.

THE BROWSER

The Browser forgets what he said about Caroline Miller's "Lamb in His Bosom" when it was published back in 1933. But he does know that he liked and went around telling people it was a lovely-strong book——Only a month ago he lent it to an intelligent man to read, but the intelligent man brought it back unread because it wasn't exactly the sort of book that interested him....Now the Browser wonders how soon it'll be before the i.m. asks the Browser if he has a copy of that Pulitzer Prize winner and if he can borrow it....The Browser will laugh at him...Nevertheless he is disappointed. He's the fellow who kept saying that Louis Bromfield's "The Farm" should win that prize. After all, "The Farm" is a much wider and deeper picture of American life, on a broader canvas, with more meaning and fire in it and it should have been recognised....It's partly pride, to be sure, that makes the Browser disappointed and he might as well admit it. ....Those other Pulitzer award books are just middling: Herbert Agar's "The People's Choice" for history; Tyler Dennett's "John Hay" for biography; Robert Hillyer's book for the poetry prize.... Who cares?....And after all, perhaps "Anthony Adverse" SHOULD have won the fiction prize. It has been a big, successful, profitable stunt, the biggest in many a year—and that's something.

The Browser has received a polite letter from a fine woman who bought "Such Is My Beloved" because he said it was a good book, but she was disappointed. She writes: "While it is vastly interesting, it leaves one with a lump in the throat, to think after all the profound effort of the dear priest to reform those girls, it ended in complete failure and wrecked his useful life. Now I could have done better with that ending myself and I am just one of the many toilers who don't pretend to know anything about writing. So the next book you recommend to your readers, let it have a happy ending."....The Browser is sorry, but he can't promise. When he says a book is good, he doesn't mean that it has a happy ending. All he means is that it sounds true and beautiful to him, and that's all he asks of any book. ....Sheila Kaye-Smith's "Superstition Corner" is excellent history, a poor story. She takes you back to the days in England when the Catholics were being persecuted and masses were held in secret and martyr-priests were tortured and hanged by the law. It's good stuff, but just when the Browser began to wonder what would happen to the devout heroine, she upped and died of the fever and escaped the perils and adventures of Puritan England.. It never seems quite sporting of an author to do that to his readers....Anne Parrish's "Sea Level" is a best-seller in London... Stephen Vincent Benet's novel, "James Shore's Daughter", takes its title from the old hobo railroad song, "Jay Gould's Daughter":

"Jay Gould's daughter said before she died,
'Father fix the blinds so the bums can't ride.
If ride they must, let them ride the rod,
Let them put their trust in the hands of God'."

Once long ago the Browser heard the boys in the jungle by the Pajaro river, singing that song, lugubriously singing that song.... Wallace Beery will be Captain Bligh in M-G-M's "Mutiny on the Bounty"; Clark Gable will be Christian the leader of the mutineers....Edna St. Vincent Millay and her husband are back in America from France. Her next book will be called "Epitaph on the Race of Man"....Fannie Hurst is learning to drive a car....The Browser is deep in Beri ben Meyr's "Your Germs and Mine" and now he can speel off anything you want to know about cocci, spirilla, bacilli staphylococci, streptococci, diplococci, simple spirilla, flagellated spirilla, capsulated spirilla. He knows that diphtheria germs sits in one place and pour poison into the system and that if you grow them in beef tea they make poison but if you add glucose to the solution, they make lactic acid instead.... He knows about resistance, infection, immunity, all the diseases and how they kill and how they are licked....He knows that a micron is the standard measurement for a germ—it is 1/25,000th of an inch—and that some germs are small and some are relatively as big as Cernera or a house....And he breaks the rule that he breaks practically every week by recommending "Your Germs and Mine" as the best simply written book on health that has ever come to the attention of

JOINT LIBERAL RALLY IS HELD HASTINGS HALL

Peterborough and Northumberland Candidates Speakers at Gathering.

DEBT INCREASED.

McArthur Attack on Mayor Carr at Recent Meeting Under Criticism.

HASTINGS, June 11 (Examiner Correspondence) — The Town Hall was filled on Friday night for the joint Liberal rally in the interests of Mayor H. N. Carr of Campbellford, candidate in Northumberland and James Hawthorne, of Warsaw, standard bearer in Peterborough.

J. J. Collins, vice-president of the Liberal party for Hastings, acted as chairman in his usual efficient manner.

Mrs. VonVaricon of Picton was the first speaker of the evening. In opening her address she said she had no apology to make for going on the platform in this great fight against wrong. Women must see that they have a place in the workings of the province, more now than ever before. Twentieth century Liberal clubs are being organized very strongly throughout the province for women.

In 1905 the debt of the province has increased from six million to six hundred million at the present, with a Conservative government in power with the exception of four years the farmers were in office.

Premier Henry is the richest Prime Minister Ontario ever had, yet he saw fit to increase his own salary and to increase his cabinet from eight to eleven ministers. Each minister is supplied with a luxurious car at an upkeep of $3,340 a year each to the province. Also quite recently over eight hundred have been added to the seven thousand civil servants of the province.

Last year over forty-five million dollars was raised by taxes. People in the province of Ontario are taxed for everything even when they die, the only thing left is sunshine.

No public man was ever more slandered than Hepburn and yet he always comes out on top. In closing she implored the women to work as they never worked before for Hepburn and insure new overalls for Mr. Ontario and a new dress for Mrs. Ontario.

Fight to Save Province

James Hawthorne in opening said it wasn't a fight between the two old parties, but one to save the province which would be bankrupt if Henry was returned. He also touched on the recent attack of F. J. McArthur, M.P.P. on Mayor Carr in which the local member thought his opponent should not enter the race.

Mr. Hawthorne explained the road building that is taking place in the northern part of his county. Peterborough County in general want a Liberal government.

J. J. Duffus of Peterborough, the main speaker of the evening received a very hearty reception from the big crowd. "This is not a campaign but a matter of economical salvation for the province," said Mr. Duffus in opening his attack on the Henry government.

For years it has been said that the Liberals were not aggressive in Ontario. This cannot be said of Hepburn who at the early age of seventeen was cashier in a bank at Winnipeg. In 1926 Hepburn won Elgin for the Liberals after thirty-six years under a Conservative member. He is the only man to aspire as Prime minister of the province who has had House of Commons experience. In over two years campaigning all over the province Hepburn has yet to take back a statement, or to have his challenge to debate the issues of the day with the opposition accepted. Ontario will follow suit with the rest of the province and give Hepburn a landslide.

Over three thousand miles of provincial highways had been built up until the end of last year at a cost of $200,000,000 of which sum nothing had been paid, not even the amount taxed to the municipalities for this purpose. If a municipality builds a road they make some provision to pay it off, but not so with the Henry government. Speaking in his own riding the Premier said he had another ten million to spend.

Wasteful Expenditure

Another example of wasteful expenditure was the building of an assembly hall at the asylum at Hamilton at a cost of $140,000,000 and a nurses' home at $240,000,000, also the famous $37,000 barn at Orillia. It was things like these that has forced many Conservatives to rebel and put honest George who has served his days of usefulness out of office.

Ontario must pay the penalty for the ever increasing debt which is driving industries out of the province into Quebec. Every year there is diminishing the number of people able to pay their taxes.

In order to say they had a surplus at the end of the last fiscal year the Henry government got a cheque from the Liquor Control Board for $1,250,000, when the Board only had $19,000 in the bank. Ontario was the only province that used such resources to fool the people in regards to a surplus.

Putting men on the highways was nothing more than an attempt at bribery with the people's own money.

Just before closing his very interesting address Mr. Duffus touched on the Hydro question, and power that the farmers should be able to get at cost. He also dealt with the power railway junk line bought in Western Ontario by the Hydro for $22,000,000.

Mayor H. N. Carr received a big hand from the crowd when he took his place on the platform. He hoped that Peterborough County would do the same for Hawthorne as Northumberland was going to do for him. All through the county Liberals are working in harmony to displace a government that handles public money so reckless for one that handles it with a sacred trust.

He claimed Mr. McArthur's remarks about him at the Campbellford meeting was an insult to the intelligence of the citizens of that town who had elected him Mayor. In his twenty-five years in business he had always found a knock a boost and would treat McArthur's remarks the same.

Mayor Carr stated his stand in the deer hunting question would be to do every thing humanly possible for the hunters.

John J. Callahan the last speaker of the evening was obliged to shorten his address considerably owing to the late hour. He dealt chiefly with the workings of the Hydro electric and gave a very thorough explanation.

The meeting was closed with the National Anthem.

Rail Bombing Raids Continue In Austria

VIENNA, June 11 (AP)—A series of rail bombings in Austria continued last night, with approximately 20 acts of terroism against Federal Railways in the past three days reported to-day from throughout the country.

The latest bombings resulted in only slight interruptions to regular train schedules and minor property damage. Vienna police searched the home of a Nazi and found 117 hand grenades. They arrested one person while three others escaped.

ADVERTISE IN THE EXAMINER

SENIOR GOLDS ARE UNCHANGED

Base Metals and Silvers Record Narrow Gains in Fair Volume.

NORANDA ACTIVE.

TORONTO, June 11. (CP). — The mining section of the Toronto Stock Exchange maintained a steady front to-day pretty well over the board on volume better than the average over recent weeks. Senior gold shares were mainly unchanged while base metals and silvers recorded narrow gains with action heaviest in Noranda, Hudson Bay, Sherritt and Eldorado.

The mining board had a few soft spots to-day but the general tendency was towards higher prices. Senior gold shares recorded gains up to 25 cents, and Noranda in heavy turnover was holding at $45 this afternoon for a gain of 50 cents.

Despite a mild reaction on the New York board the big golds held firm or added narrow gains. McIntyre, Hollinger, Teck Hughes and Wright Hargreaves were moderately active.

San Antonio continued its steady advance and touched $5.60 around noon, up 45 cents.

BREWERY STOCKS CLOSE ON UPSIDE

Fractional Losses in Bank, Food, Construction and Utility Shares.

TORONTO, June 11 (C.P.) — Narrow recessions predominated at the close of the Toronto Exchange to-day on the Industrial Board, interlisted issues generally reflecting the mild sell-off on the New York market. Most of the oils held their ground and the brewery stocks closed on the up side, while distillery, bank, food, construction and utility shares took small fractional losses.

Industrial shares steadied to-day around Saturday's closing level although a few issues exhibited advancing tendencies. Oil and distillery shares were nicked for small fractions, while brewery stocks were a little stronger and the food group boarded more gains than losses.

International Nickel firmed with the New York metal group, but Smelters was off a fraction this afternoon. Brazilian was up also on good turnover.

The Weather

TORONTO, June 11 (C.P.). — Synopsis: Pressure is low over the greater part of Canada, with the centre of depression over the Mackenzie Valley, to the westward of Lake Superior, over Northern Quebec and to the southward of Newfoundland, while the barometer is relatively high on the British Columbia coast and over the northwest states. The weather over the week-end has been unsettled, with showers occurring in all provinces from Alberta eastward to the Atlantic, and temperatures have been below normal in nearly all parts of the Dominion.

Lower Lake Region and Georgian Bay: Moderate south-west to west winds; partly cloudy. Tuesday — Fresh or strong south-west to north-west winds; unsettled with showers or thunderstorms.

Northern Ontario: Fresh winds; unsettled with showers tonight and Tuesday.

Ottawa and Upper St. Lawrence Valley: Moderate west and northwest winds; partly cloudy. Tuesday —Fresh or strong winds; unsettled with occasional showers or thunderstorms.

The heavy rain of Saturday and Sunday morning brought gladness to the hearts of the farmers. It was, indeed, heavy, having a total of 1.28 inches. One inch exactly of this fell on Saturday, and the balance on Sunday morning. One inch of rain equals 100 tons to an acre; thus if a farmer owns the usual 160 acres, he has been the recipient of 20,000 tons of pure, soft, life-giving water during the last few days. The last heavy rain we had was on April 11th, when we had 1.01. Since that date the following is the official rainfall in Peterborough:

April 11, .74; 24, .24; 26th, .11; 27, .02.

May 9, .05; 10, .31; 13, 44; 20, .05; 21, .64; 22, .19.

June 9, 1.00; 10, .28.

The above figures show that while we have not had the usual average rainfall, it has been much more abundant than most sections in Ontario.

Highest temperature, Sunday, 74; lowest, 54; lowest last night, 49.—W.P.

TWO CYCLISTS HURT IN CRASH

Finlay Clarks Suffers Fracture of Left Arm—Both in Hospital.

HEAD-ON COLLISION.

Hurled through the air when the motorcycle on which they were riding collided with a car at the corner of Park and Charlotte streets, Finlay Clarke, 19, and Leslie Brien, 23, were rushed to Nicholl's Hospital Saturday afternoon. Clarke's left arm was broken and both are suffering from shock and abrasions.

Gerald Haig, 621 Water street, was driving east on Charlotte street and was making a left turn to go up Park when the crash took place. The motorcycle with Clarke driving and Brien riding on the rear fenders was moving west on Charlotte and struck the car almost head on. Haig claims to have been proceeding slowly and to have indicated clearly with his hand his intention to make a turn.

The two young men were first taken to the Clinic before Dr. A. G. Howson ordered their removal to hospital. Both are employed at Goodwin's' Machine Shop. The front part of the motorcycle was wrecked and the front of the car was extensively damaged.

Police Constable John Naples investigated.

MISS CHARLOTTE DICKSON PASSES

ough Health Association, to name but a few of the outstanding organizations that received her support and sympathy.

During the War period the Dickson family were outstanding in Red Cross work and other patriotic activity. The late Miss Dickson contributed generously to the Patriotic Fund and also to the War Memorial Fund.

Pastor's Tribute.

Rev. William McDonald, pastor of Knox United Church, expressing deep regret at the passing of Miss Dickson, stated: "She was one of the little group who sixty-two years ago founded the Sunday school south of Charlotte Street, out of which grew the mission that ultimately became Knox Church."

"We look on Miss Dickson as one of the original founders of Knox Church. She and her late sister were great benefactors of the Church all along. At Church Union, Miss Dickson transferred her membership to Knox Church and ever since that time she had been particularly faithful and helpful. She and her sister, six years ago, decorated the interior of the church as a free gift," he said.

The Rev. Mr. McDonald also spoke of the late Miss Dickson as having been "a staunch supporter of missionary work."

"In every way we valued her association with the church. She was a good Christian woman, very humble and very sincere, and who was always extremely modest about her benefactions."

The marble font recently dedicated in the church was a gift of the late Miss Dickson, and the Rev. Mr. McDonald stated, it is hoped in the near future to place on it a brass tablet to the cherished memory of the donor.

Surviving relatives of the late Miss Dickson include: Miss Laura J. Davidson of Peterborough, a niece; and J. Roger Davidson of Frobisher, Sacskatchewan, a nephew; also the following grandnieces and grand-nephews: Mrs. Gordon Mitchell, Miss Janie Spier, Miss Winnifred Spier, all of Montreal; Miss Helen Munro, Gordon Munro, Crawford Hall and Billy Davidson, all of Peterborough, and H. D. Hall of Toronto. Other relatives also include Mrs. Dickson Hall, Mrs. Dickson Davidson and Mrs. Gordon Munro, of this city.

The funeral is to be held from the family residence, 490 Dickson Street, on Wednesday, at 2 o'clock p.m., followed by interment at Little Lake Cemetery.

No One Is Injured Lightning Hits Home

LINDSAY, Ont., June 11.—(CP)—Lightning never strikes the same place twice, but during a terrific electrical storm early Sunday morning one bolt hit a home that had been struck heavily by tragedy only two days previous.

This was the home of Thomas Wray, near Fenelon Falls. Father of 15-year-old Muriel Wray who died Friday of a broken neck, suffered when she fell backwards off the running board of a friend's car.

The lightning bolt entered the house by the stove pipes, scattered furniture in a room in which there were six people, and left the house by the cellar, without injuring anyone.

GARAGE SAFE RIFLED

WELLAND, June 11. — (CP) — Early today some one broke into the garage on West Main St., owned and operated by Alderman G. E. Nash, and rifled the safe, taking $50 away. City police are investigating. Constable George Hatton discovered the window had been broken, and on entering he found papers strewn all over the office with the safe door open.

WELFARE WORK OF PROVINCE IS ABLY DISCUSSED

M. A. Sorsoliel, Deputy Minister of Public Welfare, Discusses Various Phases With Rotary Club.

MOTHERS' ALLOWANCES.

That Act Really Children's Legislation, Speaker Says in Explaining Benefits.

Vivid glimpses of the work of the Ontario Department of Public Welfare were given members of the Peterborough Rotary Club at its weekly luncheon to-day when M. A. Sorsoliel, M.A., the Deputy Minister of the Department, gave an eloquent address on some phases of the activities that come within his jurisdiction.

Introduced by Rotarain H. R. H. Kenner, who referred to the speaker's association with Peterborough as a former member of the local Public School and Collegiate Institute staff, Mr. Sorsoliel explained the Departmest of Public Welfare which was established on the recommendation of the Ross Commission had under its control the administration of Mothers' Allowances, Old-Age Pensions, the three Childs' Welfare Acts, and all the orphanages, industrial training schools, and similar institutions. Altogether some 100,000 people in the Province were within the Department purview.

Speaking of the Mothers' Allowance Act, Mr. Sorsoliel said that the name was a misnomer for the legislation really had to do with children. The 7,000 widows in the Province who received grants under this Act had 20,000 children, and it was to ensure for these children proper home conditions, adequate education and a fit start in life that the legislation had been provided. The question of extending the benefits of the Act to widows with only one child under 16 years of age had been held up for some time, he said, because to put it into effect meant an immediate increase of one million and a half dollars in carrying out the provisions of the Act. It had been provided, however, by Order-in-Council that in the case of a widow with only one child under sixteen and others over that age in attendance at school, that the grants should continue until the older children reached the age of eighteen.

The work of the 58 Children's Aid Societies was next dealt with by the speaker, who said that the main objective was to get neglected children into good home conditions. The old idea of shelter for such children had been left behind. While shelters were necessary as a centre from which children could be sent out to proper homes, Mr. Sorsoliel declared that it was impossible to get the best results from institutionalizing children in such places.

In regard to the Boys' Training School at Bowmanville and the Girls' Training School at Galt, Mr. Sorsoliel explained that the majority of inmates of those institutions came from homes in which the conditions were bad. The object of the training schools was to give these young people new standards of living, to give them strong, virile bodies, and to endeavor if possible to discover what occupatiol they were best fitted for. The speaker declared that it was perhaps time that more attention was given to the whole question of home-making, for most people were totally ignorant in respect to their duties as homemakers and parents.

The work of the Industrial Schools was touched on by Mr. Sorsoliel, who said that old methods of dealing wth juvenile deliquents were being abolished. It was a most difficult problem, as was evidenced by the fact that all but 25 per cent. of those discharged from industrial schools eventually found their way into other institutions of correction. Out of a group of 49 convicts in Portsmouth Penitentiary it had been found that 32 had passed through Victoria Industrial School.

Another problem the Department of Welfare was constantly dealing with was the queston of the children of unmarried parents. 2,500 such children were reported in Ontario last year, and taking care of them took up about one-third of the Department's time.

Rotarian A. Mowat voiced the thanks of the Rotary Club to the speaker.

At to-day's luncheon Rotarian Jack Seels, manager of the Rotary Carnival, issued final instructions for the big event which takes place on Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

48 R.M.C. CADETS GRADUATE.

KINGSTON, Ont., June 11 (C.P.). —Attended by Hon. Donald Sutherland, Minister of National Defence, and hundreds of friends of the Cadets, closing exercises of the Royal Military College was held at the College to-day, when forty-eight Cadets graduated and prizes were presented to winning Cadets.

The final closing of the College will be the annual June ball held to-night, at which it is expected that more than 1,000 will attend.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, June 11 (A.P.). — The stock market began the week at moderately lower price levels today. Following selling at the opening the list backed and filled narrowly with declines of fractions to around a point predominating in the late dealings. Auburn dropped around 6 points on adverse dividend action. U.S. Steel, New York Central and Chrysler were off about a point each. Some of the communications and metals resisted. Transfers approximated 800,000 shares.

Saskatoon, Calgary, Edmonton, Moose Jaw, Moncton and Halifax) and 26.8 percent from the mail order and chain stores.

On Jan. 1, 1934, the Eaton organization had 26,765 employees. In 1933, the average number was 25,737 and payroll, $24,945. In 1924, 17,827 employees received $25,416,000 which showed that 10 years ago, the organization paid more money to a lesser numberof employees than today.

The business was started by the late Timothy Eaton in 1869 and was carried on as a private unincorporated enterprise until July 8, 1891 when the T. Eaton Co. Ltd., was incorporated. In its development, there was very considerable expansion in 1927 and 1928.

"Since 1929 the policy has been to somewhat contract the company's activities," the accountant replied. "Some of the Canadian Department Stores and groceterias have been closed."

The employees retirement and benefit fund represented appropriations made from profit and loss. There was no regular pension scheme in operation except for senior employees. A fund of $3,250,000 set up under this fund was distributed as a retirement fund for company directors extending for 10 years after their retirement. At present seven present directors and five retired directors were embraced by the fund.

"It has nothing to do with the employees at all," suggested Mr. Stevens.

"No."

"It is not a benefit fund for employees."

"No."

The original capital of the T. Eaton Co. Ltd., on incorporation in July 1891, was $248,500, the accountant answered. The present capital was $1,006,000.

The approximate net worth of the company and its subsidaries at Jan. 1926 was $38,419,000 and in January last the net worth was $48,006,000.

"The original capital stock has never changed since the issue of $1,000,000 of shares issued just before. 1911?" asked Norman Sommerville, committ counsel. Witness agreed.

"So the company did not take advantage of the amendment to the Income Tax Act in 1930 by which surpluses could be exempted from payment of income tax and reorganised its capital structure?" questioned counsel.

Witness replied that was correct. The present capital was still $1,000,000.

The reserves of the company increased from $18,344,000 at Jan. 1925 to $28,344,000 in Jan. 1929, the accountant replied. In Jan. 1930 the reserves had increased to $33,394,000. A sum of $4,000,000 of the increase in reserves from 1929 to Jan. 1930 was represented by a capital surplus arising from the sale of the fixed assets to the T. Eaton Realty Co. Ltd.

At Jan. 1934, the Reserves of the company were $35,394,000, said said witness.

The committee will meet again this afternoon.

Mexican Gulf Prepares As Hurricane Approaches

BROWNSVILLE, Tex., June 11.—(A.P.)—Alarmed residents along the Gulf of Mexico watched carefully to-day the progress of a tropical storm, reported by weather observers to be moving across the gulf at a point between Tampico and Brownsville.

J. W. Schurnbuch, Brownsville weather observer, said the disturbance, changing its course, was located last 300 miles east of Tampico and 375 miles south-east of Brownsville. It was moving at an eight-mile-an-hour speed in a west-north-westerly direction.

All vessels in the gulf were warned by weather bulletins that the disturbance was accompanied by winds of gale force and probably of hurricane force near its centre.

Do YOU wish to be a KULAK ?

A MESSAGE TO THE FARMERS OF ONTARIO

YOU HAVE READ OF RUSSIA.

You know what farming in the land of the Soviet has become.

State collectivization, with industrialization the supreme goal, has made the farmer little better than the beasts of the field, the hewer of wood and the drawer of water to the more favored classes, those to whom communism looks for the ultimate success of its state industrialization experiment.

FARMERS MUST BE FREE

Ontario wants no "swing to the left". Its farmers must be left free. The men who, in 1932, produced $226,446,000 of this province's wealth, cannot be made the stepping stone for some radical experiment in state industrialization.

Farmer though he is, Ontario's Liberal leader is prepared to sacrifice his own friends, to betray his fellow workers in the fields in a frantic bid for control of Ontario's vast natural wealth.

By his own confession he "swings well to the left", towards the land where the communists, the socialists and the radicals dwell.

HIS OWN WORDS

Accept his own words to the electors of West York on May 14, 1932.

"I swing well to the left where some Grits do not tread."

Or take his speech to St. Thomas voters on February 11, 1933. Then the C.C.F., its ideals not yet analyzed, its impossible-to-be-achieved dreams still unexploded, had seized briefly on a part of the public imagination. Mr. Hepburn saw in it another opportunity for a bid for power at the expense of the solid, producing classes of the province. So seizing his opportunity, recking nothing of what such a programme would mean, he said, in all the enthusiasm of his inexperience:

"The C.C.F. is an example of this realignment of political thought. It is the latest move in Radicalism. I sympathize with the people who make up the ranks of the C.C.F. They are trying, at least, to find a way out."

STAGNATION AND MORTIFICATION

Ontario's Liberal leader would cut the cost of government fifty per cent.

A tall order, but quite possible if Mr. Hepburn and his party are prepared to sacrifice progress and give the people of Ontario stagnation and mortification.

To cut his expenditures Ontario's Liberal leader, among other "economies" would wipe out the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

He has placed himself on record to effect this.

The Toronto Globe, in reporting his speech at a banquet in Toronto on December 15, 1932, says:

"The departments of Game and Fisheries, AGRICULTURE, Labour, and Mines, the Motion Picture Bureau, Research Work and Colonization were a few which Mr. Hepburn cited as instances where curtailment or ABANDONMENT of one service could be affected without hurting administration."

WHAT OF THE FARMER?

Possibly administration would not suffer.

But what would happen to the farmer?

Where would he be with his overseas selling agent gone merely to set up a record for low spending?

Would it be true economy to wipe out, at one enthusiastic gesture, the agricultural research which makes available to every farmer, without money and without price, all the resources of science, skill, knowledge and experience for the enlarging of output and the improvement of quality at lower operating costs?

WOULD THESE HELP?

Would it help the farmer to wipe out the department which held, for farmers and farm women, in 1933, a total of 93 courses in agriculture and home economics at as many centres throughout the province?

Would the monetary saving justify the elimination in every county of the trained agricultural representative, the man to whom the farmers look for advice in cases of plant or stock disease?

Through abandonment of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, Ontario's Liberal leader would abandon the Ontario Marketing Board.

Can the Ontario farmer afford to be without this board, or would its abandonment be another of the Costly Economies which Mr. Hepburn proposes.

The Ontario Marketing Board knew that fruit produced in Ontario was good fruit, but it knew also that it was not reaching outside markets in a way which made potential buyers aware of its goodness. Through co-operation with fruit growers, cooling places and a grading system were established.

In 1929, the year this policy was decided on, Ontario sold 65 carloads of apples beyond its own boundaries.

FRUIT SALES CLIMBED

In 1933, after ten cooling places had been established, sales in Great Britain alone totalled 450,000 barrels, valued at $1,080,000.

In addition to this, there were correspondingly large sales on the continent of Europe and in the Canadian West.

In the same five years the export of pears and plums grew from practically nothing to more than 100,000 packages.

This is one service rendered by the Henry Government which the Ontario Liberal Party would wipe out in its effort to make good on the rash "economy" promise of its leader.

But this is only a small part of what the Ontario Marketing Board, product of the progressive Conservative administration has done for the farmer.

PRICES WENT UP

In 1932 it saw another opportunity and this year saw Ontario Brewers who had abandoned Ontario barley using 1,000,000 bushels of the Ontario product at a price $150,000 above the current market quotation.

The board turned to the problems of the turnip grower. As a result of its first season's work the board obtained one contract for 1932 for 40,000 bushels and the price obtained now by the farmers is between 50 and 100 per cent. better than before the board became interested in the situation.

BENEFITS TO CATTLE BREEDERS

Export sales of cattle in 1933 for the whole of Canada totalled 50,317 head, valued at $3,189,194. Aggressive sales methods of the Ontario marketing board were responsible for TWO-THIRDS OF THIS TOTAL—31,783 HEAD, VALUED AT $2,014,471—GOING FROM ONTARIO.

What the Ontario Department of Agriculture and its subsidiary, the Ontario Marketing Board—the Department which Liberal Leader Hepburn would wipe out—has done for the bacon industry needs no comment. The figures speak for themselves.

BACON SALES JUMPED

In 1932 Ontario sold thirty million pounds of Bacon in the British Market. In 1933 the figure had grown to 40,000,000 pounds. AND THE FIRST FIVE MONTHS OF 1934 HAVE BROUGHT INCREASED BACON RETURNS OF MORE THAN $15,000,000 TO THE FARMERS OF THIS PROVINCE.

But the record of the Conservative Government in the interests of Ontario farmers does not stop there.

Export of dressed poultry has grown from a negligible figure to a total, in 1933, of $1,226,098.

To improve live stock herds of the province it agreed to pay twenty per cent. of the cost of pure bred sires. In 1932 alone there were 430 applications and $37,000 was paid. In the five years 442 approved herd sires were sent into Northern Ontario. On these the Ontario Government paid 30 per cent. of the cost, plus the freight.

FOR THE DAIRYMAN

Efforts of the department and co-operation of dairymen have improved the quality of the 86,000,000 pound annual production of Cheddar cheese from 89 per cent. first quality in 1924 to 96 per cent. first quality in 1932 and Ontario Cheddar Cheese now brings a premium of from two to three cents over cheese from other countries.

Ontario is the only province which loans money to farmers on the security of their land and chattels. In 1933 it loaned in round figures, $6,700,000 to 3,415 applicants.

PLEDGED TO ELIMINATION

This is the department which Mitchell Hepburn, leader of Ontario's Liberal Party, has pledged himself to eliminate.

In one fell swoop he would wipe out a department which has done more than anything else in the Dominion of Canada to see the farmers of this Province through the period of agricultural depression.

Ontario cannot afford loss of its Department of Agriculture.

Ontario must have construction under the progressive Henry Administration.

Destruction under Liberal leader Hepburn would mean ruin.

FAILURE OF L.C.A. IS RESPONSIBLE FOR BLIND PIGS

Impossible for Police to Stop Bootlegging, C.C.F. Speaker Declares.

OFFER A WAY OUT.

Liberals Have Nothing to Suggest, Rally on Market Square Told.

No reflection on the efficiency of Chief Newhall and his police force was intended when he recently repeated a report to the effect that twelve bootleggers were operating on Hunter street, George Leader declared at a C.C.F. rally on the Market Square Saturday evening. The point he wished to make was that the Conservatives promised to stamp out bootlegging by the Liquor Control Act but have failed, he said.

"It would be impossible for the police to stop bootlegging," Mr. Leader asserted. "The failure of the Liquor Control Act is responsible for it. As for the Chief's request that I inform on the bootleggers in Peterborough I must say I am not a police spy. A prominent business man told me that there are twelve bootleggers doing business on Hunter street and that is all I know about it."

Reviewing the C.F.F. program for Ontario, Mr. Leader maintained that the C.C.F. is the only one of the three parties which offers a way out of the present crisis. The Conservatives do not realize that a crisis is at hand and point with pride to the immense debt they have been piling up, he said. The Liberals have nothing to suggest but are confident that a return of the Liberals to power will be the cure all. In contrast, the C.C.F. is prepared to give a finished outline of every step it will take in bringing back prosperity in making its bid for power.

Mr. Leader spoke of the C.C.F. proposal of a moratorium on evictions during the transitional period while the country is getting on its feet. He outlined the proposal of a state medical service and pointed to the care of the underprivileged as a duty, not charity.

Mr. Sutherland

Rev. Sutherland, the candidate, told the gathering of more than one hundred persons attracted to the Square by the speeches, that the time has come when Christian ethics should be given a place in governmental operations. Present governments pay no attention to Christian principles, he declared. They proceed in accordance with the capitalistic system which is governed not by Christian principles but by the law of the jungle.

The C.C.F. program is based on Christian ethics, he continued. The C.C.F. party proposes to govern in the interests of the many, not the few. It intends to protect the weak against the strong, to wipe out the underprivileged class and to provide for the sick and the aged in the measure they deserve, he said. Under the greedy capitalistic system which has for its slogan, "Survival of the fittest," such government is impossible.

H. G. Lewis, another speaker, drew a picture of the conditions the C.C.F. is striving to bring about. It is ridiculous that some workers are to-day being required to work eight and ten hours a day while thousands of their comrades are walking the streets without employment. The C.C.F. party is looking toward the day when all men will have work. They will each work four or five hours a day and have the rest of the day for leisurely recreation and exercise, he said.

This vision of the C.C.F. is not impossible, Mr. Lewis declared. The C.C.F. knows that it is possible and have planned each step which will be taken to make it a reality.

Rev. Dr. Moore also spoke a few words in support of Mr. Sutherland before the meeting was brought to a close with the National Anthem.

Obituary

MRS. MARY PRESTON.

LIFFORD LINE, June 11 (Examinre Correspondence) — The many members of the Preston family in Manvers have learned with regret of the death of one of their kin in the person of Mrs. Mary Preston, widow of Adam F. Preston, of Victoria, B.C. The deceased lady was a daughter of the late Major Isaac Preston, her early life being spent with her parents in Manvers Township.

MICHAEL COSTELLO

The death took place to-day of M. J. Costello, proprietor of the American Hotel on Hunter street, in his 67th year. The deceased was born in Ennismore and lived practically all his life in or around this district. Mr. Costello had been ill for some time, but was thought to be progressing favorably until he contracted pneumonia from which he died.

The surviving relatives are his widow, Mrs. Lydia Costello; one son, Arthur; one daughter, Gladys; two sisters, Mrs. Bert Herbert, Rochester, N.Y., and Mrs. Daniel O'Bryne, Calgary, Alta; also two brothers, Jack of Calgary and Daniel of Vancouver.

AGNES CAREY.

The death occurred in Detroit on Friday, June 8, of Agnes Carey, a former resident of Otonabee, after a brief illness. Born in Otonabee a daughter of the late Redmond Carey and Ann Logan, she resided in this district until about fifteen years ago, when she took up residence in the States. She leaves to mourn her loss three brothers: John Carey, ex-Reeve of Otonabee; Redmond Carey, Otonabee, and Joseph Carey of Detroit; five sisters: Mrs. Bowman of Detroit, Mrs. Henry and Mrs. Moore of Toronto, Mrs. Cleary of Calgary, and Mrs. Torpey of this city. The remains were forwarded to Peterborough on the 11 a.m. C.P.R. train Saturday and were conveyed to St. Peter's Cemetery for interment in the family plot beside her parents, who both predeceased her in 1905.

Rev. Dr. Masterson conducted the services at the graveside.

Pall-bearers were: Geo. Carey, J. Torpey, Clarence Carey, Geo. O'Brien, John Carey, Thos. Heffernan.

Friends from Detroit, Toronto, and Omemee attended the funeral.

JAMES G. W. BLAIKSTOCK

TORONTO, June 11.—James F. W. Blaickstock, 71 Lynwood avenue, Toronto manager of the Foundation Company of Canada, Ltd., died of a streptococcic infection of the throat in the Toronto General Hospital at noon Saturday.

Mr. Blaickstock who as in his fortieth year ,was taken ill last Saturday and entered the hospital Wednesday. He is survived by his widow, Rosamond, elder daughter of the late E. C. S. Huycke, Peterborough, and three children, Rosemary, 10; James, four; and Ian 10 months. Mr. Blaicklock was the second son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. E. Blaicklock, Montreal. He has one brother ,George Walker, Toronto, and two sisters, Mrs. James A. Baillie and Mrs. Eldridge Cate, both of Montreal.

An engineer by profession, Mr. Blaicklock moved to Toronto from Montreal three years ago and has been concerned here with the construction of the intake pipe for the new duplicate system of the city. He served for four years with the Imperial forces during the Great War. He enlisted as a private and won his commission as an officer in the Scots Fusiliers by service in the field. He was a member of the Toronto National Hunt and Skating Clubs.

Fully 1,600,000 bushels of rice were grown in China last year.

RANGERS HOLD CHURCH PARADE TO ST. JOHN'S

About 150 Men of All Ranks Take Part in Annual Parade.

BUILDER'S STONE.

Responsibility of Accepting Christ as Foundation Stone Rests With Individuals.

The spirited music of the Rangers' red-coated band and the tramp of soldiers' feet resounded in the streets yesterday morning as the Rangers' regiment paraded for its annual visit to St. John's Anglican Church. About one hundred and fifty men, all ranks, took part in the march.

Under the command of Lt.-Col. G. G. Winterbottom, M.C., D.C.M., the regiment proceeded directly from the Armouries to the church, winning the admiration of pedestrians along the route with its trim precision. On arrival, the four companies marched in and took the pews reserved for them in a large section to the front of the church. Then the ceremony of depositing colours in the chancel was carried out and the colour party escort, grounding arms on the lawn, entered.

Venerable Archdeacon Dr. R. C. Blagrave, minister of the church and chaplain of the Rangers with the rank of honorary captain, preached the sermon, basing his words on the text from St. Luke, "The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner." Whereas he has been in the habit of choosing more worldly subjects when speaking on occasions of military church parades in the past, he said,. he chose the text in the hope of bringing closer to the church some of the members of the regiment who may not have had much interest in the church in the past.

Builder's Stone

The builder's stone is the subject of many references in the Bible, Dr. Blagrave said. Sometimes it is the keystone of the arch, sometimes a foundation stone and sometimes the corner stone but always the reference is made in connection with Jesus Christ. As the foundation stone is the one stone in a building absolutely essential to the existence of the building, Jesus can be regarded as the foundation stone of life.

It is because humanity is rejecting Jesus as the foundation stone that the world finds itself in such an unhappy plight to-day, he continued. Nations are watching each other suspiciously and jealously. They are building up high armies and navies. Armament and naval conferences have been held in endeavours to check the tendency toward a complete upheaval of civilization but, as yet, the peoples of the world are no better off than they were two thousand years ago. They rejected the stone when they crucified Christ and they are still rejecting it, he said.

Clashing Forces

However, there is hope, Dr. Blagrave maintained. Opposed to these who are rejecting the stone are those who are striving to replace it as the chief stone. The very fact that disarmament conferences have been held, unsuccessful as they have been, indicates the existence of the two clashing forces. "The Lord is always coming back. And when He comes He will stand in judgment before every nation and every individual for nobody will dare deny His right."

The speaker pointed out that the nation is merely a group of individuals thus the responsibility of accepting Jesus as the foundation stone rests with the individual. The way to acceptance of the stone is through the Christian church, he said.

"The place to begin is right with ourselves. How far are you rejecting the stone? How far am I rejecting the stone? You must let this chief stone be built into your building. No force can destroy it."

Capt. G. R. E. Melton, adjutant.

AUSSIES HOLD BIG ADVANTAGE

NOTTINGHAM, June 11 (C.P. Cable).—A crowd of more than 30,000 saw the visiting Australians assume a substantial advantage over England as the Test cricket match progressed to-day. Scores at the close of the fixture, which ends Tuesday night, were: Australia 374 and 159 for three wickets; England, 268.

Only Patsy Hendren with 79 and George Geary with 53, gave the Aussies any trouble as England completed her innings to-day, with a deficit of 106 runs. The wicket favored the bowlers increasingly as play continued.

The Aussies lost their first wicket for two runs and the second at 32, but young W. A. Brown and Stanley McCabe set up a great third-wicket stand, being unbeaten with 37 and 74 respectively at the close.

BOYS ENJOY ROTARY CAMP

Rain Mars Athletic Meet on Saturday But Youngsters Enjoy Overnight Say.

ONE HUNDRED ATTEND.

Rain marred the athletic meet which had been planned, nevertheless the overnight visit to the Rotary Camp on Clear Lake on Friday and Saturday was a complete success as far as the more than one hundred boys who made the trip were concerned. Seventeen Sunday Schools and churches of the city were represented in the contingent.

A swim and then supper, prepared by the camp cook, Bill Smith, were the first items on the program on arrival on Friday afternoon. After supper a sing-song was directed by J. C. McClenaghan of the Y.M.C.A. staff and Rev. C. D. Daniel of Mark Street United Church, conducted a vesper service. L. W. Copp, Jack Skitch, and Earl Barrie were the feature entertainers in an impromptu camp-fire program.

There was no need for reveille on Saturday morning. Every youngster was awake by daylight and ready for the mornnig dip. After breakfast the athletic meet got under way, with D. A. Loomis in charge, assisted by Ed Ascott, Rec. Kingdon, Fraser Bradshaw, and Ormie Benson. By noon the lads were ready for a couple of hours' rest before making the trip back to Peterborough.

George Street Sunday School was most heavily represented with thirty youngsters, while Murray Street Baptist Sunday School had sixteen Mark Street, St. John's, All Saints', Salvation Army, St. Paul's, Knox and St. James' all had five or more boys in the group. Transportation was provided by the following: J. K. Hughes, H. T. Rehill, Peterborough Fuel and Transfer Company, P. W. Johnson, L. W. Copp, M. Andrews, James Juby, Dr. J. A. Bannister, C. P. Borland, J. F. Reid, Jack Gillespie, S. C. Warne, Roy Thompson, J. A. Bell, A. White, H. W. Howell, and N. H. Bradley.

The trip was sponsored by the Peterborough Boys' Work Board.

SUITS DELIVERED

Delivery was received by the City Fire Department from Grafton's Limited of twenty-which were on Saturday evening last inspected and passed on by members of the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

Members of the committee present at the inspection of uniforms along with Fire Chief George Gimblett included Alderman Malcolm McIntyre, chairman; and Alderman Fred Tuggey and James Ellis.

INSIDE THE PADDOCK

BY ART MURRAY

ABE ORPEN'S Long Branch catered to a capacity crowd on Saturday with every available inch of the spacious west end plant being filled with a throng of over fourteen thousand racing fans. As we predicted Horometer accounted for the feature event of the afternoon with the Seagram entry of Shady Well and Candy Feast running second and third. Arthur Hullcoat put over a double with Revonah winning the first and Mr. Hyde the fourth.

The Smallman stable claimed Boscobel back the other day, and as they were the breeders to first bring this speedy mare to Canada we look for her to win her first race this year real soon. They always did know how to handle her . . . Eddie Seagram is sure getting in a nice stable. His most recent claim being Spartan Lady, a plater of no mean ability. Juniam has reached his top form and is right at home on the Long Branch oval. If he gets in a race before closing day you can jot it down in your hat band that he will be returned a winner. Sam Worthy is another that looks headed for a win before long. The Wright colorbearer finished a fast going second on his last appearance and is all set for winning effort.

HIDDEN LORE is a fast trick but Jack Hutton who trains him tells us that for some reason or another he does not fancy the Lakeshore racing strip, but there are other tracks that are more to his liking. When Yellow Metal is dropped down a notch or two from the company he has been asked to meet lately he will account for a heat. He has been entered with horses that have been a little too classy for him, and at that he has been giving a good account of himself, but unable to score a win . . . We are just wondering if this Dornoch is ever going to win a purse. He has been made a top heavy favorite on his last two or three appearances and has always finished up the track. Personally we think they have been fooling with him and some of these days when he is not burdended with the public's money on his nose he will just laugh his way home from the same ones that have been trimming him lately.

You can look for a trick called True Sentiment to bang down in front at juicy odds any day now. He is fit and ready to run for a King's ransom right now. This Acastaw has not been performing in the style he is capable of, but in the near future he will wake the boys up. He is possessed of a lot of class and prefers a slow track, although he is not by any means a dud on a fast running strip. The Jewel Bros. have their good handicap performer Friend Charley all set for a sure win.

Saints Win 16 To 11 In Lakefield League

LAKEFIELD, June 11 (Examiner Correspondence).—St. John's won from St. Paul's in a fine fast game in the Junior Church League which has got away to a good start and has already improved a great deal. The attendance of fans is not at all in proportion to the interest of the game. The teams have each signed up fifteen players and inaugurated strict rules and are very much in earnest. The score was 16-11 with Ralph Mason making two home runs and Charlie Birch and Pat McFadden each making one. C. J. Lake was plate umpire and E. J. Robertson the base umpire. The line-up:

St. Pauls'.—Bernard Arthur, c; Pat McFadden, p; Veverley Graham, 1b; Jim Crowe, 2b; Billy McFadden, 3b; Martin Coughlin, ss; Elmer Graham, rf; Eric Mann, lf; Basil Archer, cf; Jack Murray, sub.

St. John's.—Jack Chappell, c; Ralph Mason, catcher; Charlie Birch, 1b; Cameron Pearson, 2b; Allan Macon, 3b; Jack Birch, ss; Charlie Earnshaw, rf; Johnny Hampton; Gordon Hampton, cf; Dennis Remnant, sub.

Score by innings:

KOMONEN WINS U.S. MARATHON

Finnish-Canadian Star Leads Field Home by Five Minutes.

RACE AT WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—(C.P.)—Dave Konomen, the lightning Canadian-Finn from Sudbury, Ont., yesterday continued his dominance over North American distance runners after setting a new record for the United States A.A.U. marathon from Mount Vernon to the White House. He won the event for the second successive time Saturday.

He covered the 26 miles, 385 yards along the Memorial Highway, around the Hains Point speedway, across the city and back to the executive Mansion in 2 hours 43 minutes 26 3-5 seconds, or 10 minutes 16 3-5 seconds better than the best previous time, which he himself scored last year.

Porter is Second.

Five minutes later Mel Porter of the German-American Athletic Club, New York, plodded past the finishing line. His exact time was 2.48.04. William Steiner, also of the German-American, was third in 2.49.45, and August Siovoda, unattached, of Chicago, was fourth.

Komonen and Steiner made a two-man race out of the event, but in the final stages Komonen had no difficulty in shaking off Steiner's persistent challenges and entering the city left him well to the rear.

GIANTS SWAMP PHILLIES 18-7 HUBBELL HURT

Victory Failed to Increase New Yorker's Lead as Cards Also Win 3-2.

DODGERS LOSE TO BRAVES.

Two Errors in 11th Inning Costly to Brooklyn, Final Score 10-8.

(By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr., A.P. Sports Writer.)

In their latest spurt to the head of the National League standing, New York Giants, the "hitless" champions of 1933, appear to have turned into a bunch of high-powered sluggers. In the course of winning 12 out of 15 games since they started their return from fourth place two weeks ago, the Giants have touched the 10-hit mark nine different times, reaching a climax yesterday when they battered the Phillies for 20 blows and an 18-7 victory.

The biggest blow of the slugfest was Mel Ott's fifth home run in four days and his 15th of the season. It gave him a tie with Lou Gehrig of the Yankees and Zeke Bonura of the White Sox for the major league circuit swatting lead. Blondy Ryan, who had a perfect day at the plate, also hit for the circuit as did John Moore and Mickey Haslin of the Phillies.

Carl Hubbell Hurt.

The Giants suffered one setback in the contest. Southpaw Carl Hubbell, who won his ninth decision of the season, was forced out in the fifth when he hurt his hand trying to field Al Todd's hit, and may be absent a week or more.

The victory didn't increase the Giants' lead as the second-place Cardinals came through with a 3-2 triumph over Pittsburgh with the aid of Jim Collins' 13th homer and Dizzy Dean's steady pitching. The Cubs, in third, came back to beat Cincinnati 7-4 after dropping two straight to the tail-enders. It took some snappy fielding to give Lon Warneke the decision over Paul Derringer in the final clash.

Two Errors Costly.

Brooklyn's "Daffiness Boys" lived up to their reputation in the fourth National League game by dropping a 10-8 decision to the Braves with two errors in the 11th inning after they had overcome a five-run deficit to tie the score.

Elgin And The Clerks Battle To 20-All Tie

HASTINGS June 11 (Examiner Correspondence).—In one of the most interesting games despite the large score, played so far in the local softball league, Elgin and the Clerks were tied 20-all at the end of seven innings when darkness made it necessary to call a halt. The game was witnessed by a bumper crowd.

Runs were scored in every inning with the exception of the first half of the first, when Elgin failed. The end of the sixth saw both teams tied, but in the seventh Elgin slipped one over on two successive hit. The Clerks came right back in their half of the seventh when Wilson, first man up, hit for the circuit. Roy Scott also got a home run on a long crash to centre field.

SOX TRIUMPH OVER TIGERS YANKEES WIN

American League Race Tightens as Leaders Battle Over Week-end.

15TH HOMER FOR GEHRIG.

(By Canadian Press)

The American League leaders tightened up their race again when Detroit's pace-setting Tigers ran into a 3-1 setback at Chicago's hands despite Schoolboy Rowe's six-hit pitching and the second-place Yankees smashed out a 7-3 decision over the Athletics. Lou Gehrig started the Yanks off ahead by smashing homer No. 15 with the bases loaded in the first inning.

Boston's new brother battery of Wes and Rick Ferrell, turned in its first full game with Wesley doing most of the work in a 4-3 triumph over Washington. He granted only eight hits and drove in the winning run in the ninth by hitting a long fly with the sacks crowded. The Sox again moved into a fifth-place tie with the losers.

Ceveland broke a virtual tie for third with St. Louis by slamming out 15 hits and a 6-1decision over the Browns behind the seven-hit hurling of Bob Weiland, the southpaw who came from Boston in exchange for Ferrell.

DELORO VS. C.G.E. ON TUESDAY NIGHT

First Evening Game of Season on King Edward Park at 5.30.

Deloro soccer team will be here on Tuesday evening to play the Canadian General in a league engagement on King Edward Park. Kick off has been arranged for 5.30. The Smelters are on daylight saving and intend being present for a prompt kick-off and the C.G.E. stop at four o'clock standard time. Harry Hotston will handle the game.

Wardie Wright has signed a form for the Canada Packers. Lindsay are anxious to get some Peterborough players to strengthen their team owing to a number of their players being on highway jobs.

Camp No. 4 sends in a challenge to play any team from the city on a date that may be convenient for them. Also they guarantee the players a good time if they visit them.

Bisons Advance From Seventh to Fifth Place by Defeating Orioles Twice.

(By the Associated Press)

Finding Baltimore Orioles easy pickings over the week-end, Buffalo Bisons had jumped from seventh to fifth place in the International League standings today.

The Bisons, surprise winner of last year's playoff series, checked in with two triumphs over the last place Orioles yesterday, 6-1 and 3-0, and gained the fifth notch on a percentage basis although in a virtual tie with both Syracuse and Albany.

Buffalo won the opener from Baltimore by pounding Cliff Dudley and Hormidas Aube for all their runs in the first four frames. Chick Outen slugged out two home runs and a single in successive times at bat and Ollie Tucker also hit for the circuit. Ken Ash, meanwhile, held Baltimore to six hits. Dudley was given his release immediately after the game. George Milstead gave the Bisons some more fine pitching in the nightcap, allowing only four hits as he gave the Orioles' their first shutout of the year.

Scores His 8th Victory

Al Hollingsworth scored his eighth straight victory as he pitched Toronto Maple Leafs to a 5-1 decision over Syracuse in a game halted in the eighth because of rain.

Hollingsworth gave up only six hits and blanked the Chiefs after the first. Toronto won the game in the third when five hits in a row, topped by Murray Howell's triple, scored four runs.

The league-leading Newark Bears split two games with Montreal, dropping the first 6-3 but winning the second 4-1. Johnny Salveson earned his fifth victory in succession in the opener but saw his string of consecutive scoreless innings end at 22 when Jesse Hill clouted a homer in the sixth. Pete Stack's homer in the first half of that frame had come with two men on and sewed up the game for the Royals Vito Tamulis gave Montreal only two hits in the nightcap and struck out five men. George Selkirk's double and two singles featured Newark's eight-hit attack on Dutch Henry and Orilin Collier.

Albany and Rochester were rained out.

HEAVY RAIN FAILS TO STOP SOCCER FIXTURE ON SATURDAY

Players Play on Rain Soaked Field—Moir, Lindsay, is Injured.

CHAMBERLAIN STARS.

When the kick-off hour arrived for the Canada Packers versus Lindsay soccer league, on Saturday afternoon, the grounds were completely covered with water but a small working party endeavored to drain the goal area. When the rain let up and the sun shone the teams set out to battle out the issue. After twenty minutes' play the rain again broke loose and drenched the participants to the skin but they continued throughout the seventy minutes, until the whistle announced the Packers winners by the score of five to nothing to gain two valuable league points.

Alex Moir, Lindsay, was injured in first half and retired for the rest of the game.

Opens Scoring

After waiting a full hour for the playing field to dry out to give a proper footing to the participants Capain Buchan, of Packers, won the toss against the Lindsay captain, Art O'Halloran, who was compelled to play in the worst half of the field. In the early stages both custodians were called upon to save their charge but an individual effort by McCracken left the goalie no chance to stop the first Timer. Midfield tactics prevailed for a long period with the ball being heavy and hard to control. A continued seige led by Taylor of Lindsay eventually crumbled when the full backs checked closely Buchan sent his forwards back into the visitors' goal where Todd registered number two. For the remainder of the first period the players indulged in short passing manouveres in an endeavour to get within shooting range and just before the whistle announced the thirt-five minutes, McCracken made the count three to nothing.

Played in Pouring Rain

Amidst a heavy downpour of rain, the visitors opened up a barrage of shots upon Chamberlain's charge who had no difficulty in handling the shots because the ball had no force behind it. Keen tactics took place up on the front rank with Taylor and Harry Latham making many individual attempts to break through the consolidated defense of Packers. Buchan changed places with Newt Downer when the latter was slightly injured. A break away by George Downer on the left wing finally found the goal for the fourth counter. Art Bromley added the fifth and immediately retired when he was checked closely in midfield. Canada Packers 5. Lindsay 0.

Lindsay—Bert Moore, goal; Art O'Halloran, full back; N. Doble, David Wilson and J. Wells, halves; A. Moir, D. Best, Harry Latham and J. Springhall, forwards.

Canada Packers—J. Chamberlain, goal; Newt, owner and A. Downer, full backs; Art. Downer, J. Buchan and A. Bromley, halves; Ed. Rishea, W. McCracken, J. Tdd, T. Foster and G. Downer, forwards. Referee—A. Frick.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By Associated Press.)

Jimmy Dykes, White Sox — made three of team's six hits and drove in winning runs against Tigers.

Bill Cisell, Red Sox —hit homer and single, scoring twice in victory over Senators.

Blondy Ryan, Giants — made four hits for perfect day, drove in five runs against Phillies.

Bob Weiland, Indians—struck out eight in hurling seven-hit game against Browns.

Kiki Cuyler, Cubs— knocked in three runs against Reds with double and two singles.

Randy Moore, Braves — singled in eleventh to drive in run that beat Dodgers.

OLIN DUTRA TAKES TITLE

Gene Sarazen Second With 294 in U. S. Open Golf Tournament.

3 TIED FOR THIRD.

MERION CRICKET CLUB, Philadelphia, June 11. — Swarthy Olin Dutra, 33-year-old Californian of Portuguese extraction, wore the mantle of United States open golf king to-day after shooting from the rear on Saturday to overhaul a pack of faltering pace-setters in the final drive. He had been so ill during the past few weeks that he doubted his ability to withstand the tournament strain.

The last man to finish in the entire field, and his deciding shot the last to be played in the thirty-eighth national tournament, Dutra came from behind to whip Gene Sarazen, stocky former champion, by a single stroke, 294 to 293, for the regulation 72 holes.

Triple Tie.

Three others were deadlocked another stroke back at 295.

For a man who carried his medicine around with him for emergencies and confessed to having lost twenty pounds from a serious siege of amoebic dysentery this spring, Dutra played like a sharpshooter in the best of health, as well as with the stoutest of skill and courage.

Eight strokes behind the front-running Bobby Cruickshank at the end of thirty-six holes, and five shots back of Sarazen at the same stage, Dutra unfurled two sensational rounds on Saturday to overhaul them both, with only four holes to go and then outplay them decisively down the stretch.

Dutra posted successive rounds of 76-74-71-72, as he carried off the open crown for the first time.

In the triple tie for third place here, Cruickshank, the Richmond, Va., professional, who tossed away a gorgeous chance for triumphs with 71-71-77-75—295; Wiley Cox, the Brooklyn veteran, also the victim of some bad luck as he carded 71-75-74-75—295; and Lighthorse Harry Cooper of Chicago, who came out of the pack with one of the final day's best finishes to wind up with 76-74-74-71—295.

Buried almost out of sight in the rush was the departing champion, youthful Johnny Goodman, Omaha amateur, who had final rounds of 82 and 75, a grand total of 311, 18 strokes back of the winner, and in a tie for third place. Goodman did not even have the satisfaction of being the low amateur, an honor that finally went to William Lawson Little, Jr., the Stanford star, and new British amateur champion.

Creavy Sets Record

While the leaders were fighting it out in a desperate heart-breaking battle, Long Tom Creavy, of Albany, N.Y., exploded a spectacular 66 on his final round, four shots under par, as he alone achieved the distinction of breaking Merion's "perfect 70" for the only time in the tournamen. This dazzling performance clipped a stroke from the old course record, a 67 made by Clark Corkman, an amateur, in 1924.

Tabulated scores of the leading money winners follow. * Indicates amateur:

Olin Dutra, Brentwood Heights, Cal., 76-74-71-72—293—$1,000.

C.G.E. gals set the alarm on the Westclox lasses at Central Saturday eve and when it went off, the count stood 16-14 for the maidens from the Electric plant. It was a tidy tussle, despite an armful of errors by the winners. Westclox were trailing by three city blocks till they rallied in the eighth and then tied up the score in the ninth. But with the first two C.G.E. gals in the last half of the ninth taking three strikes and a drink of aqua pura, Dot Byers fluked a single off the wire that's over the infield. Then Elsie Gates smacks out a long clout to deep centre for a homer and the old ball game. Strictly speaking, it wasn't a homer but only a three-bagger. There's a rule that covers this point when the winning run scores in the last half of the ninth, that the hit is not a homer—only good for as many bases as scored the winning run—unless the ball is driven right out of the park.

Southend Softball League standing appears elsewhere today. With only four more games in the first half, it's still a tossup as to the playoff teams. The first four squads all have a chance, and this week's games should be good. They play at the Exhibition Grounds. The Nationals are anxious to arrange some games with teams in the nearby towns, and any out-of-town outfit interested is invited to write J. Copping, 268 Dalhousie St., Peterborough, and check details.

A rain that was badly needed finally arrived Saturday, just in time to spoil things for the senior baseballers. Oshawa Dukes were here but the first game couldn't have been played in that downpour, and when it cleared up in time for the second fixture, the ground was covered with ponds of water, so the whole affair was postponed. Too bad for the players and their followers, but it was a million-dollar shower to the farmers. And the games can be played again. The Petes are billed to go to Kingston Wednesday.

• • • • • •

We sat in a dugout at Riverside during the storm and talked to an Oshawa ball player. And we heard plenty. Seems the Dukes are so hard up financially that the boys buy their own meals on all trips! It that isn't amateurism and sportsmanship, it'll do till something better is heard. And the Dukes believe their star of hope is shining more brightly now that they're back in the C.O.B.L. and it'll take a real dark cloud of certainty to knock that optimism out of them. "You know," the fellow told us, "we could never get a full team out for practises or games in the Ulster League. Sometimes only four or five fellows would show up for a practice! And it was really a joke the rotten team we were taking to Toronto. But with work easing up now, we should be able to field a good team and win plenty of ball games in the Central League."

• • • • • •

Several games on the revised senior ball schedule were arranged Saturday, and the complete list will be out this week. The Petes play in Kingston Wednesday, with the Pones back here Saturday, and Belleville in Oshawa Saturday. The locals then go to Belleville next Monday, while Oshawa Dukes play a twilighter at Riverside a week from this Wednesday. Kingston tops the circuit now with two wins, a tie and no losses; Belleville has a victory, two losses and a tie; the Petes won and lost a game; while Oshawa lost its only game to date in the C.O.B.L.

The kids who will start the City Baseball League off tomorrow p.m. at six, Maple Leafs playing St. Peter's in a bantam game at King Edward School, are going to have an opening ceremony after all. Just a simple one but it will give the boys the proper sendoff. Bill Kay of the O.B.A.A. will toss in the first ball, President Swanston of the C.O.B.L. will catch—hardly a new position for him—and George Hewitt, honorary prexy of the City Loop and member of the senior club executive, will swing the willow. Fred Scates will umpire the ball game, at which no collection will be taken up and everyone interested is invited. Next game will probably be between King Edward and St. Peter's' Friday at the same grounds.

• • • • • •

Jack Deannard, president of this league, told us this morning that there would be only one juvenile team in the loop, Herb Ralph's Terriers. Seems no other manager wants to buck up against this strong squad, although there are plenty of good ball players available. So Ralph and the league will bring outside teams here for exhibition games to keep the local team prepared for the O.B.A.A. playdowns later in the summer, and some of the strong Lakeshore outfits will be invited, with the Terriers playing return games.

• • • • • •

Intermediate lacrossers will practise tonight at 6.15 at the Exhibition Grounds and these players, along with any others wanting a tryout or whose name has been omitted, should be on hand: Creighton, Miller, Cadd, King, Dundas, Hatton, Magee, Routley, Olaveson, Hope, Staunt, Jones, Hutchison, McGregor, LeBarr, Gardner, etc. The players will hold a meeting there after the workout. Schedule should be out shortly and they'll likely have their first game in about a week. Can't say for sure yet what grounds will be used here.

• • • • • •

Grab-bag: Fosters and Cogs tangle at six in tomorrow's E.P.L. ball game at the Fair Grounds . . . . Quinn, Kingston second-sacker, is out for a week or so with a bad leg . . . . Rain Saturday spoiled it for tennis here, too . . . . The two ex-Milton intermediate ball players now living here have received their O.B.A.A. transfers . . . . Sportswriters elsewhere, who have seen the McLarnin-Ross fight move, claim Ross copped the duke handily with a left jab and a perfect defence . . . . Seems the ex-Canadian, having abandoned his old crouching style, looked bad and had nothing but a cocked right that seldom landed.

ST. THOMAS TOMCATS SUFFER THIRD CONSECUTIVE DEFEAT

Guelph Maple Leafs Take 12-2 Decision from Twin City Panthers.

O.B.A.A. ROUND-UP.

TORONTO, June 11. (CP). — The St. Thomas Tomcats to-day pondered over their third consecutive defeat as they planned a drive for another senior Ontario Baseball Amateur Association crown. The 1933 champs were finding the road difficult.

They dropped a 5-3 decision to Brantford Red Sox in an intercounty struggle Saturday, the third straight loss and the fifth of the season. Each team earned every run and although the Cats' right-hander, Al Hunt pitched great ball the last year champs were unable to bring home the runs.

Twin City Panthers were knocked about at Kitchener by the visiting Guelph Maple Leafs for a 12-2 defeat, the eighth straight loss for the Panthers in the senior intercounty. They have not won a game this season and their errors Saturday along with McNeil's pitching for Leafs, wrote their downfall.

Little Trouble for Tigers

Moodie Tigers had little difficulty downing Terriers at Galt, 10-3, displaying superiority at every angle of the game. Jocelin of Tigers was the batting hero, slamming out four hits in six times at the plate, one of them a homer with one on base.

Eddie Hales of St. Catharines Garden Cities tripped up the winning port Colborne Sailors with a neat pitching display at St. Catharines. The veteran allowed Sailors a pair of scratch hits until the eighth as he twirled his team to a 3-2 win.

Although rain made playing uncomfortable Victorias slapped Dundas Graftons into a 10-5 defeat at Hamilton in a senior City League fixture. Victorias collected 12 hits. Mathhews was first on the mound for Vics but was sent off the field under a barrage and Brown finished the job from the fifth. Nelligan of Graftons fanned eight but the hits Vics obtained were put to good use.

In the other senior struggle Stratford Nationals entertained the League-leading London Winery in an intercounty game and presented them with a 4-2 defeat. Nats' win was the second they obtained at Winer's expense. London has lost only two games this season, both to Nats and Pitcher Ken Biddle turned the tric each time.

BEACHES CLUB WINS FROM WHITTAKER'S

Toronto Eleven Scores 132 Runs Against 75 for Locals on Saturday.

The Beaches Cricket Club of Toronto were the opponents of the G. Whitaker Co. Cricket Club at Nicholls Oval on Saturday afternoon.

The start of the game was delayed owing to the rain and when play commenced the ground was in a heavy condition.

The Beaches club batted first and the innings was opened by R. G. Farrel and C. Farmer, the former putting on a well-played 55 runs before being dismissed. A. Johnson and R. Macarthy contributed 20 and 24 runs respectively towards a total of 132 runs for the visitors.

The home team made a total of 75 runs in reply, the highest individual score being made by Brian Roberts who made 18 runs in very nice style. The other main scorers were A. Hamilton with 12 runs and F. Jefferson with 13 runs.

The outstanding bowling for the visitors was that of A. Johnson, who took 7 wickets for 37 runs. For the Whitaker team, J. Wild captured 5 wickets for 27 runs; the other wickets being equally divided between G. Monkman, A. Hamilton and F. Jefferson.

Next Saturday a return game will be played in Toronto.

Mount Pleasant Wins Annual Field Day Cup

MOUNT PLEASANT, June. 11.—(Examiner Correspondence)—Mount Pleasant boys' softball team won the silver cup donated as first prize in the annual field day competitions played in that village on June 4. Omemee defeated Millbrook 13-11 in the first game while Mount Pleasant took a 11-7 decision from the Fairmount aggregation. In the final match the homesters easily defeated Omemee 24-7 for first honors.

In the girls' game, Omemee won from Millbrook 25 to 12.

A SAVING

KINCARDINE, Ont. — M. A. Campbell, secretary of the Ontario Trustees' and Ratepayers' Association, told a Bruce County Educational Association that individual pupils pay 80 cents for books which school sections can supply free. It would cost school sections only 19 cents.

Fosters And Cogs Tangle On Tuesday

Fosters and Cogs meet in an E.P.L. game at the Exhibition Grounds Tuesday evening at six o'clock, and the rejuvenated Foster crew will make a mighty effort to hand Cogs their first licking of the season. The Clubmen are perched on top of the ladder with two straight wins, while Fosters have yet to break into the victory column. They will trot out their strongest lineup and may pitch Lefty Dunkerley.

Cogs have Percy Vannest and Lefty Billingsley available for hurling duties, besides Kitchen and Masterson—who have already hurled and won a game each. If the two southpaws hook up, it should be an interesting mound duel. Both squads have been showing good fielding lately, Fosters having strengthened up considerably. They are about due to step in and surprise their opponents by playing the brand of ball these players are capable of, and tomorrow may be the night. There is always plenty of fun, besides some good baseball, in these E.P.L. struggles, and fans are advised to drop down and look the intermediates over.

WARKWORTH GIRLS WIN FROM BRIGHTON 17-13

(Examiner Correspondence)

WARKWORTH, June 11.—Warkworth girls won another game in the Northumberland Girls softball league on the home field Friday night, June 8th when they defeated Brighton Girls 17 to 13. The lineup was as follows:

Brighton — M. Sluggett, ss; E. Thompson, 3b; M. McDonald, 1b; O. Bangay, rf; M. Coulter, p; I. Bedal, cf; E. Scriver, 2b; M. Ireland, c; F. Smith, lf.

Warkworth—L. Mallory c; I. Bowen, 2b; M. Diamond, 3b; N. Greenly, 1b; C. Curtis, p; D. Platt, ss and p; D. Nelson, rf; H. Yobsley, lf; R. Field, cf.

Umpires— G. Lindsay at plate; A. Duncan on bases.

The next event of outstanding importance in connection with our lawn bowling club will be the men's doubles open tournament to be held on Wednesday, June 25.

This date has been sanctioned by the Central Ontario Lawn Bowling Association, and incidentally is the only tournament to be held in this district on that date.

This event is always looked upon as being the classic in bowling, inasmuch as it brings together the cream of bowlers of Eastern Ontario. Last year 52 entries were received from Lindsay, Port Hope, Cobourg, and as far east as Belleville. This year, with a bigger association, it is expected that we will reach our full quota of 64 rinks.

There is another feature that might be mentioned, and that is the new "O-P" system of running these tournaments. This system has been adopted by all clubs connected with the C.O.L.B.A. It means that all clubs entering these competitions know just what to expect, as far as the draws are concerned. Each rink that wins will be given two points, irrespective of the score, and a game played to a tie, each ring receives one point.

Every rink will play three games, each 14 ends; and as a special attraction our club guarantees a prize to every rink winning all three games This is entirely a new idea, and we believe that our club is the only one that has ever made such an offer.

The games start at 1 o'clock (Standard Time), and the entrance fee is $2.50 per pair.

THE SPUN GLASS MYSTERY

A Tale of Scotland Yard

By A. FIELDING

READ THIS FIRST

John Tait, stepson of wealthy Lady Tait, is engaged to marry Lucy Burnham a widow. In France where the three were sojourning Lady Tait takes a dislike to Gillian Dundas, a beautiful girl who, it is disclosed, is blackmailing Tait for a past indiscretion. Back in London, Lady Tait shows her stepson a letter from her dead son's wife, an Italian woman she despises, demanding money for her son, Lady Tait's grandson. Tait becomes alarmed when his business associate, Lord Mills, is found shot to death. Mrs. Burnham takes Miss Dundas "under her wing," much to Lady Tait's annoyance, after the girl is released from the employ of a Mrs. de Sousa.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

CHAPTER 20

For a moment Lady Tait looked at Mrs. Burnham in open exasperation Then her brow smoothed, and, leaning forward, she kissed her future daughter-in-law, for so she called her. "You're rather a darling, Puss. Nice, fatherly way! Hanson Rydings — Handsome Rydings, as we used to call him—well, Lady Mills could tell you that she's close to the end of her tether as far as he's concerned. But have it your own way. Let her stay on here until the wedding, then dump her on some other confiding lamb. But for heaven's sake do tell her not to throw back her head when she laughs so as to show the line of her throat, nor to fold her cloak round her and then mince towards the car. It got on my nerves in Vichy."

"I think it's the films," Mrs. Burnham explained. "I think these young things see some one they admire tremendously, and then come home and practice. But you know, Etta wouldn't have taken to her, as she tells me she has, if there was anything really wrong with Gillian. Etta's awfully clever, I think."

"Etta!" Lady Tait's under lip shot out dubiously. "My dear, it's not always easy nowadays to be sure of what Etta likes or doesn't like. It used to be simple enough!"

"Let's hope that all these worries are quite needless, and that she'll marry soon. With her youth and beauty, she ought to." Lucy Burnham was speaking of Gillian Dundas.

"Well, she mustn't marry Claud," Lady Tait said, trying to laugh.

"I don't think she cares for him," Mrs. Burnham said placatingly. "But, of course, I do see. . . . I really forgot about him being here. I only thought of John and me in the house. . . ."

Lady Tait could stand no more. "Lucy," she said suddenly, against her better judgment, "don't you think there's something odd about the way Miss Dundas has followed you around? She came to the hotel where you were in Vichy. She comes to the house where you are in town?"

She stopped, rather appalled at what she had done. "Cursed be he that moveth his neighbor's landmarks." Had she moved Lucy's too far? Moved it so as to show to the gentle little thing a glimpse of that rather grim landscape—reality?

But Lucy looked worried, perplexed. "I can't quite make you out. I met her in Vichy, and because we had met there and she felt that I liked her and really wanted to be her friend, she came to me as to a refuge. Liking is usually mutual."

Lady Tait decided to do the thing to which she had set her hand as thoroughly as possible

"But are you sure she does like you?" she asked now. "I happened to see her face yesterday afternoon when you brought her down and were telling me about helping her to start work in this studio of hers ——" She hesitated. She intended to be quite truthful but she did not want to exaggerate.

"Well?" Lucy asked with very natural curiosity.

"You were turned to me, and Miss Dundas' eyes, which were on you, were as unfriendly as can be imagined. There really was positive ill-will in them, Puss."

"Oh, no, Lady Tait!" Lucy shook her head with a little, confident laugh. "One always feels ill-will, you know. Frankly, I feel it in Etta. I don't say that Gillian Dundas is an easy character. I don't say she doesn't grudge me, a little, the pleasant time I have, in contrast to her own lot. But that's only natural, and will pass as she finds I really want to help her."

Lady Tait hurriedly rang the bell for the butler. Her excuse was that she wanted to see him about some wine that was to be ordered for the big supper and dance next Thursday. But, though she turned the pages of his cellar-book, her thoughts were not on what she was doing.

The lunch was not a success. Something almost tangible seemed to weigh on the little group of five at the table. All Lady Tait's and Mrs. Burnham's efforts—and both women made them—to lighten things, seemed to flicker out like matches in the rain. Alysia and Etta were galvanically sprightly, but with the same result. Only Claud refused to play up. Saturnine of face, monosyllabic, he remained until John hurried in. As it happened at that moment, the talk, struggling up the wall of ice, had fastened for a moment on Lord Mills' death. Claud was emphatic in his belief in the valet's guilt.

"The man's innocent," Tait said harshly. He looked very strange, his stepmother thought. Deeply angry, or was it merely deeply disturbed? At any rate, she decided to say nothing for the moment about the handing over to him of a slice of his dead father's money. There was something in the air today. . . .

"It was suicide," Tait went on, "and I shall see to it that there's no mistake made about it. I happen to know it was suicide."

"You'll have hard work to make Lady Mills accept that idea," Naylor said. "She'll spare no expense to have it anything else—Brown for choice. With two girls not yet off her hands . . ."

"Personally, it seems much more likely to have been murder than that a man in Lord Mills' position should have killed himself," Mrs. Burnham said a little timidly. "I don't wonder his wife finds that impossible to credit."

"No, Lucy," John looked at her with great affection and sadness in his eyes and a greater envy, "you would find suicide incomprehensible, but ——" He seemed half-inclined to finish his sentence, half unwilling to.

"What a tragic subject!" Alysia said reproachfully, and turned the talk to a card scandal that was running through the clubs. Neither of the men took it up. Coffee was to be served in the library, where all were to hear broadcast a very important speech from Downing Street before going on to a special charity matinee for which Lady Tait had taken a box.

"One moment, Claud, can I have a word with you?" Tait laid a detaining hand on the other's arm as the meal was over. Just as the door closed behind Etta, they heard him say as he shut it, in a deeply moved, and therefore carrying, voice, "Do you believe in a devil?"

Claud replied that he did not. His voice was half puzzled, half scoffing.

The women paid due attention to the address from the prime minister—or appeared to do so. Neither of the man showed themselves. When it was over, as they would not leave the house for another half hour, Lady Tait wisely suggested dispersing until that time.

The butler entered. Could Mr. Tait have a word with Mrs. Burnham?

"What can it be?" Lucy asked of her companion. The two were now alone, on their way upstairs. "I had an idea in the dining room just now that he was frightfully worried."

Lady Tait thought that she could guess what about.

"My dear," her voice was very kind and, for her, coaxing, "I want you to listen carefully to John. Remember, apart from being the man you're going to marry, he's a very clever, astute man of the world. Don't forget that side of him." And she gave her a little motion towards the door.

For Tuesday, June 12

A very interesting and reassuring day is presaged from a propitous rule of major planets. While there may be a change, dealings with strangers or in new fields of endeavour, yet the old and meritorious efforts are to meet with substantial recognition from either elderly persons or institutions. A fine influence for stabilizing the fortunes and forging ahead into new projects. It is a favorable time for approaching employers for honors, promotion or increase.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a year showing gratifying fulfillment of long-cherished wishes, with a stabilizing of the fortunes, increased possessions, reward of merit from elderly persons and institutions. It is a time for applying to employees for favors, honors, or promotion. However, an important change is imminent and it should be advantageous, taking one into fresh fields.

A child born on this day should be studious, industrious, original, independent and ambitious and should succeed well with superiors and elders or employers. It may attain position and property.

Millbrook

Four car-loads of members from the Women's Association of St. Andrew's Church motored to Port Hope on Tuesday and attended the 'hostess tea' given by the "Gleaners" of the United Church of that town. Mrs. F. J. Smith, president of the local W.A., had the matter of the delegates from here in charge.

The junior W.A. of St. Thomas' Church, under the direction of its superintendent, Miss Margaret Simpson, held a delightful tea in the Parish Hall on Wednesday afternoon, the little girls very capably assisting their leader in receiving, and waiting upon, the many guests. The Women's Guild had a table of fancy articles for sale at the tea, Miss Anna Kells as the president having a general oversight of this feature, assisting her being Mrs. R. A. Ford, Miss Ella Grandy, Miss Margaret Christie, Mrs. Ivan Gray, Mrs. G. F. Harrington and several others. As entertainment for the guests the two members of the Junior W.A. gave a number of descriptive dances, wearing appropriate costumes, and going through the various movements gracefully and in correct time. Miss Simpson, who had trained them, presided at the piano and among the dances that were so much enjoyed was an Indian dance which was a solo performance by Maud Raper; a dainty Japanese dance by Betty Smith and Laureen Handley; and Irish step by Mary Dawson, Ruth Richards, Mary Armstrong and Betty Bristow; a Dutch movement by Elsie Theobald and Lillian Footitt; and a 'foursome' by Gloria Dawson, Ada Peers, Mary Smith and Joan Deyell. The large room was attractive with summer blossoms artistically arranged, and the motto of the hostess society, "To pray, to learn, to work, to help and to give," was prominently displayed. The rector, Rev. Mr. Simpson, was present to greet the guests, and with him was the Rev. Mr. Paynton, of Gore's Landing, who with his mother were visitors at the rectory that day.

The next event in the Anglican Church calendar is the visit of His Lordship, Bishop Owen, of Toronto, on Sunday, June 10, who will preach the sermon at the "Service of Remembrance" in St. John's Church, Ida, at 3 p.m., and conduct a Confirmation Service in St. Thomas' Church, Millbrook, at 7.30 that evening. St. John's choir will be present in the evening to augment the local choir for the special music for the occasion; a reception for the Bishop, on his initial visit to the parish, will be held in the Parish Hall following the public service.

Rev. P. W. A. and Mrs. Roberts and Mrs. Bedward, of Colborne, were guests of Dr. H. A. and Mrs. Turner last week. Mr. Roberts going on to an Archdeanery meeting at Peterborough, and joining his wife and her mother here the next day, when the party motored home.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lowery, spend the week-end in Hamilton, returning on Tuesday evening. The two little boys were with their grandparents over Sunday.

HOMER IN NINTH WINS FOR C.G.E.

Elsie Gates' Circuit Drives in Two Runs to Defeat Westclox 16-14.

A clean cut home run in the ninth innings by Elsie Gates, that sent in two runs, gave the C.G.E. girls a 16 to 14 victory over the Westclox team, last year's league champs, at Central School Grounds on Saturday evening.

The Electrics got away to a good start, counting six times in the first and twice in the second, and at the end of the sixth were leading 14 to 1, while the Westclox had been held to four hits by Helen Newson, who pitched for the C.G.E. The Clockmakers scored twice in the seventh, and started a rally in the eighth when they touched Newson for four hits, and these together with five errors by the C.G.E., gave the former team seven runs. Marg Snowden took over the mound duties with two out, and allowed one hit before retiring the side. Two errors, two walks, and a single gave the Westclox four runs in the ninth, and C.G.E. went to bat with score tied 14 all. Mary Hall fanned the first two batters to face her in the ninth, but Dot Byers singled and Elsie Gates walloped a homer into centre to win the game.

Mary Hall made her first appearance on the Westclox line-up, and pitched fair ball. She fanned eleven, walked three and allowed twenty hits, which included homers by E. Hodson, M. Snowden and Gates. Newson fanned seven in seven and a half innings, passed none and was touched for nine hits. Snowden walked two and gave two hits.

The teams:

Westclox: Ferguson, ss; Blade, 3b; Chartren, 3b; Hawkes, 2b; Hall, p; Mortimer, 1b; Webb, c; Crary, cf; McNaughton, rf; Harris, rf; Merrett, lf.

C.G.E.: Martin, cf; M. Snowden, lf, p; Hodson, rf; Byers, 2b; Gates, 3b; W. Snowden, ss; Todd, 1b; Newson, p; English, lf; Kearney, c.

UPPER CANADA XI. WINS BY NINE RUNS

Prep School Championship Series Opens With Win for Toronto School.

PORT HOPE, June 11.—Upper Canada College defeated Trinity College School by the narrow margin of nine runs in the first engagement of the clubs in the Prep School championship series here on Saturday. U.C.C. batted first and totalled 110 runs, of which Campbell contributed 32 and Fuller 31. Tovell, with 12, was the only other visitor to get double figures. Although troubled somewhat by rain the visiting bowlers had the locals worried throughout the T.C.S. innings, but it was close at the finish. Vaughan, with 27, led the losers with the bat, while Kerr, with 20, and Seagram with 10, next in line.

dignation of the whole British nation over the special anti-Jewish edition of Dr. Streicher's paper remarks: "This edition is apparently intended to push racial fanaticism to its bloody culmination." Dr. Streicher is frankly disappointed at the meagre response to the anti-Semitic agitation on the part of the German people. It may be recalled that in an interview he accorded me in Geneva last fall, Julius Streicher boasted of being the initiator of the anti-Jewish drive in the Reich and promised more stringent measures in the future. Dr. Streicher said then that he will not be satisfied until there has been a general massacre of the Jews in Germany.

Revives Ancient Charge

The furor of the Sturmer is so great that the Nazi government has forbidden its circulation outside Germany. In the special issue just off the presses which had been heralded for weeks as a great event as it would show the German people some unknown crimes of the Jews, Dr. Streicher revives the old charge of ritual murder, which has been completely refuted a hundred times. According to this base slander the Jews use the blood of young Christian children in the preparation of their passover cakes, the so-called mazzoth. The charge originated in Rome, where it was first used by Nero against the Christians, who that emperor said, were practicing blood-rituals and human sacrifices in the catacombs. Nero's excitation had the desired result. It diverted popular dissatisfaction against the Christians, who were persecuted with fierce ferocity.

The London Times says of the Sturmer: "Apart from the grave danger occasioned by the publication of such excitations to violence, official toleration of so thoroughly discredited a calumny on the Jews will cause great damage to the intellectual reputation of Germany."

Churches Protested

Dr. Streicher charges among other things that: "According to a secret rite, the Jew has shed Christian blood throughout the ages, for every Jew pledges himself during a secret service in the synagogue to kill at least one non-Jewish person in his life-time." New as this may sound to the readers of Dr. Streicher's paper, the charge is an old one.

When it was formulated once in 1912 by a Russian Jew-hater, two hundred German intellectuals immediately protested at that time. In England the Anglican church officially protested through the mouths of the Archbishop of Canterbury. Lord Robers, Lord Cromer and Lord Milner and Cardinal Bourne joined in that protest as well as the Kalif ul Islam, the spiritual head of the Mohammedan religion.

Dr. Streicher cites 131 cases of alleged ritual murders committed by Jews since the beginning of the Christian era. Here are two average examples: "In the year 418 Baronius says that a child was crucified by Jews at a place called Imm half way between Aleppo and Antiochia." You will search your history books in vain for a man named Imm in the fifth century. Or this one: "In 1850 a young Copt was assassinated at Mit-Kamar in Egypt on Easter day. Jews needed Christian blood."

Quotes Martin Luther

Dr. Streicher cites a coarse word from one of the coarsest religious figures of history in support of his contentions: "Luther said: No more than a snake will refrain from biting, no more will a Jew refrain from killing a Christian when he has the chance." Dr. Luther is the man who believed that some people were physical descendants of the devil.

In the special anti-Jewish edition of his paper, Dr. Streicher affirms that the Jews are plotting to assassinate Her Adolph Hitler. He bases this allegation on a mysterious token which was found in a New Year's greeting card. This card was traced to a Jewish girl 13 years old in Munich. The mysterious token, a row of crosses, pretends to be a mark to denote kisses, but means in reality a symbolical menace at the address of our great leader," the learned doctor affirms in all seriousness.

Goebbels Warns Jews

Lest the outside world gain the impression that Dr. Streicher's menaces at the address of the Jews of Germany are merely the expression of a private individual, the minister of enlightenment and propaganda, Dr. Joseph Goebbels, writes in his newspaper, Der Angriff. "We give the Jews a last warning. They must not pretend that they are of equal value or standing with Aryans. There have been again cases of Jewish arrogance and impertinence. The Jews must know that our patience will soon be exhausted. Jews must not take upon themselves the presumption of writing articles in newspapers, not even to defend themselves. They must not show themselves on the streets. They must not be seen on the Kurfuerstendamm (Berlin's Broadway). Let these words serve them as a last warning. If they do not behave themselves as we want them to behave they will be responsible for the consequences which will necessarily follow. This is not a private threat, this is an official menace."

Helpless, reduced to complete silence, terrorized to the extent that seevnty thousand Jews have fled and tens of thousand are clamoring to be allowed to leave, without any chance to obtain redress in the German courts for insults and discriminations, the German Jews feel that they are to be picked as the victims, the scapegoats of the failure of the Nazi economic policy which has reached a point where the Berliner Tageblatt can write on May 17: "The economic situation of the Reich is worse than ever before. It is disastrous!"

RURAL POWER ASSOCIATION FORMED BY THREE TOWNSHIPS

Douro Township Will Also be Asked to Join the Association.

OFFICERS NAMED.

Reeve W. A. Anderson, Otonabee, was chairman of the organization meeting of the Peterborough Rural Power District Association Saturday afternoon.

Bruce Johnston, clerk of North Monaghan, was appointed secretary, and the other municipal representatives present were: Reeve Allan B. Mann and Percy Udy of Smith, J. J. Moore of Otonabee, Deputy-reeve James Milby and John Barnes of North Monaghan.

It was decided that membership should consist of the clark and two appointed representatives from each of the component municipalities, and that Douro township be invited to appoint delegates.

On Mr. Milby's suggestion it was decided to write the Hydro-Electric Commission for information as to whether South Monaghan and Cavan should be included in the Peterborough district association. Another resolution asked the Hydro to send a representative to the association's next meeting at which its scope and other information regaring rural power service in this district could be explained.

Mr. Mann said that Smith had already passed a by-law adopting the Commission's new five-year power contract, but the advantage of this change was not available to one community until all the other district municipalities had passed similar bylaws.

CADETS ATTEND CHURCH SERVICE

Age of Realism in Thoughts, in Books and in Actions.

LAW AND FREEDOM.

Peterborough Collegiate Institute Cadets held church parade on Sunday morning to St. Paul's Presbyterian Church. The Cadets, about fifty strong, mustered on the parade ground on Confederation Square, under the supervision of H. R. H. Kenner, Principal, and to the notes of five bugles, with creditable military precision, marched to the church, under the command of Major Jack Clayton. They occupied front seats, and were heartily welcomed by Rev. Dr. Barr, the pastor.

Authority and Discipline

A text appropriate to the occasion was the words of Matthew 9, 9: "Follow Me; and he arose and followed Him." Dr. Barr remarked that so many had rejected the authority of the Word of God and had fallen back on their own resources and inclinations, allowing their own mental and physical outlook to hold sway in their lives. Outside of the Cadets, he said, there was no finer training for our boys to-day—they had to obey those in authority, and were enabled to become bigger and better citizens. But the leadership of Christ Jesus was most necessary for spiritual and moral well-being; and we should live under His authority and leadership to gain a high station in life.

Law and Freedom

Dr. Barr continued by pointing out the mistake people commit when they demand freedom of speech in opposition to recognition of the laws of government, giving way to crime and misdemeanors which have their punishment. Men demand freedom, but look for authority to guide them. If we build our lives on God and His precepts, we follow the direction of true wisdom. This was an age of realism, said the preacher, in books and though and actions; we must not forget there is law and order for our guidance and discipline. "Fall in, and follow Me," was in effect Christ's injunction. To end war we must build up national and international goodwill—follow whither God would lead, to peace and contentment among nations.

Officers On Parade

The following officers were on parade with the Cadets: Major Jack Clayton, in command; Instructor J. K. Craig, Captain Harry Marsh, Captain Perry, Lieuts. Ford, Westbye, Rowan, and Davidson; Sergt-Major Bowler; in addition there were five buglers and ten members of the first-aid corps.

In Memorian

At the evening service special reference was made to the passing of Harry McKeown, a former choir member. In respect to his memory the choir sang Tennyson's hymn, "Crossing the Bar."

Magistrate's Court

Crazed with wine, Edward Cameron, aged 23, transient, caused much disturbance late Saturday night on Simcoe street, when he tried to force an entrance ino a residence. He smashed a chair in trying tobatter his way through a daar. Previously he had frightened several persons by his wild career through the streets.

Before Magistrate Langley today he pleaded guilty to being intoxicated. He said his home was in Montreal but answering a question of His Worship he stated that he did not nokw Premier Taschereau.

"I've never heard of him," he affirmed.

Ever heard of Johnny Walker?" asked the bench.

"Yes" was the reply.

"And John Dewar?"

"You bet."

18-DAY DROUGHT BROUGHT TO END

Crops in This District Take on New Appearance After Heavy Rain.

FALL 1.28 INCHES.

Crops in this district took on new and remarkable appearances of growth and vigor as the resut of the heavy rains over the week-end which ended an 18-day drought. Continued lack of moisture and the intense heat were threatening the life of all crops. But Sunday the whole crop situation in this district had changed, and farmers were in high glee.

"It came not a day too soon, but it came," one agriculturist said, "and now the whole picture has changed. Everything will get straightened away and we should have at least fair crops."

Walter Peters, official weather recorder, reported that Saturday's rain was the first that had fallen here since May 22. During the four storms on Saturday and Sunday a total of 1.28 inches of rain of rain fell, he said.

CAVAN SOCIETIES HOLD JOINT MEET

Women's Association Calls Off Sessions for Summer—W. M.S. Plans Quilting.

CAVAN, June 11.—(Examiner Correspondence).—The Cavan W.A. and W.M.S. met in the church on Thursday afternoon, the W.A. holding the first session, with the president, Mrs. James Douglas in the chair.

Mrs. (Rev.) Lang read the Scripture lesson, Mrs. Perrin read a devotional leaflet, and Mrs. Matchett led in prayer.

During the business session arrangements were made for the reception of the new pastor and his family and for the lunch at his induction, the date of which will be announced later.

It was decided to withdraw the W.A. meetings for July and August.

W.M.S. Session.

Mrs. Perrin presided for the W. M. S. It was decided to quilt the quilt for the allocation bale on the afternoon of June 26, either on the parsonage lawn or in the basement of the church, according to the weather on that day.

The treasurer reported $40.10 sent away on the allocation.

Mrs. Swain read an interesting article on temperance and one on Africa. Mrs. Syer read a leaflet on India, and Mrs. Snider one on "Tithing." Mrs. Swain and Mrs. Lang read a dialogue from the Missionary Monthly describing a visit of a Bible woman to an elderly Chinese woman.

There was discussion regarding holding the July and August W.M.S. meetings, and it was decided to do so. The collection was $1.85. Prayer closed the meeting.

100 Hurt In French Anti-Fascist Riots

PARIS, June 11.—(A.P.)—A violent outburst of anti-government, "anti-Fascist" disorders, with 100 injured in severe fighting, swept French provinces over the week-end.

Cavalry troops, swinging carbine butts at Grenoble and Cambrai, charged into crowds and produced scores of cracked heads among the Communists and Socialists.

Other anti-Fascist demonstrations were being held at Denain and Valenciennes after clashes between crowds and the police. Even Paris had a skirmish between Communist and Royalist newspaper vendors.

Freight cars in Poland are to be equipped with continuous air brakes at a cost of over $23,000,000.

Campaign Notes

E. A. Peck, KC., M.P., addressing Saturday night rallies at the Women's and Men's Conservative Committee Rooms, offered criticism of Mitchell F. Hepburn and expressed deep resentment at what he termed "abuse of parliamentary privileges" in referring to the "despicable" part Hepburn had played in seeking to put through the House the Georgian Bay Canal Bill to give valuable water and power rights to the Sifton family; and also his unwarranted attack on two of Canada's leading insurance companies.

Mr. Peck who described himself as holding one of the oldest policies in the city, in one of the companies concerned, strongly defended the insurance companies, and stated "Hepburn's unwarranted criticism actually endangered the safety of two of Canada's greatest financial institutions."

Harry Foote was chairman of the meeting held in the Men's Committee Rooms, and each of the various speakers including J. F. Strickland, K.C., former member in the old constituency; W. H. Bradburn, ex-M.P.; W. J. Arthur Fair; S. T. Medd, K.C., and Mayor Roland Denne, stressed the need of organization and work during the remaining few days before polling day.

Mr. Strickland, who had to leave for Hall's Bridge to address a meeting there in the interests of Mr. Lancaster, was one of the first speakers. Mr. Bradburn who stated he was the seventh car owner in the city, spoke of the good roads constructed under the Conservative regime as being a valuable business asset.

Formerly in the Attorney General's Department at Toronto, Mr Fair spoke of some of the inner workings of the department in which he was engaged, and referred to the cabinet ministers as being men of highest calibre morally and intellectually, who steered the province through a most difficult period.

It had often been a puzzle to the speaker, why the Liberal Party should seek leadership of such a man as Mitchell Hepburn who had no political experience behind him. He believed the only reason was that he had a clever man behind him in Mr. Slaght. The latter he predicted would "dump" Hepburn just as soon as Hepburn had served the purpose for which he was now being supported.

Mr. Medd spoke of the manner in which "Mr. Lancaster has carried out his promises to the electorate," and spoke of the candidate as being a "go getter from the word go". He was the type of man, Mr. Medd urged, that "we cannot afford to be without."

LIBERAL RALLIES

Three local rallies at the committee rooms, Charlotte Street, the building formerly occupied by McBride and Franks, are outstanding in James Hawthorne's program for this week.

The Liberal candidate has a list of country meetings which will be carried out as planned, but in order to make the final week of special interest to the electors of the city the following features have been arranged:

Tuesday night.—F. D. Kerr, K.C., and Joseph Singer, Toronto.

Wednesday night.—Col. A. T. Hunter, Toronto, and Gordon Conant, ex-Mayor of Oshawa.

Friday night.—Hon. G. N. Gordon and Hon. Ian Mackenzie, M.P., Vancouver.

Saturday night.—Week-end rally; speakers to be announced.

E. L. Sackville was chairman of Saturday night's Liberal meeting in the speacious committee rooms, and the speakers were Lloyd Irwin, Toronto; Mr. Hawthorne, Howard Quinn, Alex L. Elliott and J. J. Duffus.

Mr. Hawthorne spoke briefly of his meetings in different parts of the riding last week, extending from the far northwest corner in the Kinmount district to the extreme southeast at Hastings.

"The feeling throughout the county," Mr. Hawthorne said, "has been most encouraging to me, and I don't think there is any doubt about the sentiment of the farmers. The feeling generally in the townships is that the Henry government has outlived its usefulness and has lost the confidence of the people by a record of debt accumulation and extravagant expenditure that is making every farmer realize that there must be a change in the government of this province. If the city electors are equally determined to vote for a new deal I think we have a good chance on the 19th."

Mr. Hawthorne said he was pleased at the number of young people at Saturday night's rally, and hoped that it was a sign of their interest in his candidature.

Mr. Irwin said that he had recently made a business trip over a wide area of the province, and found everywhere a marked swing to Liberalism under the leadership of Mitchell Hepburn.

"I have known Mr. Hepburn for a year or more, and he has impressed me as a young man who is fearless and honest, and deserves the trust of the people. If the Liberals are given a majority in the Legislature he will have no difficulty in forming a Cabinet that should make a big improvement in this province."

Howard Quinn of Douro said he was glad of the opportunity to bear testimony to the worthiness of Mr. Hawthorne..

"I have known him a long time. He has been a successful farmer and warden of this county, and there is one thing that all those who know him fully realize, and that is he has a quiet way of getting things done. He has got results in his own municipality, in the county council, and in his own business, and I feel certain that he will be a good representative."

An interesting interlude in the rally program was a group of songs, several of them paradies, by a quartet of young men: Cyril Rice, first tenor; Victor Boorman, second tenor; John Ridyard, baritone, and James Ridyard, bass. Their harmony was well balanced and their splendid tone won several encores.

J. F. Strickland, K.C., and T. H. Stinson, M.P., spoke at Buckhorn Saturday night in the interests of T. P. Lancaster.

On Tuesday night over radio station C.F.R.B. two cabinet ministers will be heard. Speaking from eight to nine o'clock (Standard Time) Hon. Dr. Robb, Minister of Health, will be heard from North Bay, and from ten to eleven (Standard Time) Hon. W. G. Martin, Minister of Public Welfare, will be heard from Mount Pleasant.

AUSSIES TAKE INITIAL MATCH IN TEST SERIES

Australians Win First Fixture by 238 Runs and Two Wickets.

FOR MYTHICAL "ASHES."

Down Under Bowlers Prove Too Tough on Crumbling Pitch for English Opponents.

NOTTINGHAM, June 12 (C.P. Cable).—Australia won the first of the season's five test cricket matches with England by 238 runs.

The Aussie bowlers proved too tough on a crumbling wicket for the Englishmen, who made a desperate stand in an effort to gain a draw. The last five English wickets were collared for only 31 runs. The scores:

Australia—374 and 273 for eight wickets, declared.

England—268 and 141.

Too Much for Homesters

The Australians declared just before lunch, giving England the task of getting 380 runs for a win in less than six hours. It was too much.

Surprising the critics who have been hailing the 1934 Australian team as chosen obviously for great batting power, the Australian attack proved too much for the English batters. The Aussie fielding also was better than ever. E. A. Chipperfield, the "baby" of the team, proving exceptionally brilliant in the slips.

Chipperfield shares the honors in the disastrous dismissal of the Englishmen in their second innings with W. J. O'Reilly, six-foot medium pace spin bowler, who leads the Australian attack.

He made dazzling catches in the slips, getting three of England's best wickets in this manner. After putting out Patsy Hendren with a dive for a ball that was an inch from the ground, Chipperfield took the ball off Geary so low down the batter contested it, but the umpire ruled he was out.

HAY HARDEST HIT OF FIELD CROPS

Peas in Durham Look Promising—Rain Saves Hastings Pastures.

ESSEX WHEAT GOOD.

TORONTO, June 12. (CP).—Hay has suffered more than any other crop from drought that now has been broken to some extent in many districts, the weekly crop report of the Ontario Department of Agriculture to-day says.

In some districts hay is a complete failure and in others has suffered extensive damage from lack of rain. Spring grains are standing still, some sections report, but in others they have come through the dry period better than was expected.

Field crops are decidedly backward but in Dufferin a fine shower over the week-end did much to improve conditions and came just in time to give hay a chance. Spring grains look well in Grey and Huron are in fairly good condition.

Saturday's rain north Simcoe did much to improve all crops but in Wellington dry weather continued and hay will be a light crop. Essex county has 100,000 acres of fall wheat which all wintered well, the report says, and with some rain gives promise of an average of 20 bushels.

Hay a Failure

Grain crops are at a standstill in Haldimand and hay practically a complete failure. Fall wheat is heading out about one foot in height in Lincoln and spring grain is holding its own in Oxford.

Fields of canning and fancy peas look promising in Durham and further damage to pastures has been at least delayed in Hastings by rain. While fields crops in Muskoka and Parry Sound do not appear to have suffered seriously, dry weather had checked growth to some extent.

The hay crop in Ontario county is past redemption, the report says, and regardless of future weather will scarcely be more than a 50 percent crop. Rain is necessary at once in Prince Edward and Victoria and Carlton if damage to crops is to be averted. All crops are healthy in Glengarry but rain would help considerably.

Plans Canoe Trip to England

John Smith, 24-year-old sailor, plans a canoe trip from Peterboro' Ont., to Peterboro', Eng. He is serious in his attempt and plans to paddle down the St. Lawrence to Newfoundland and thence across the ocean to Ireland. He is an experienced sailor. He expects the voyage will take about three months. The illustrations show John Smith and his canoe.

Clean-up Gang

BELTON, Motn., June 12 (C. P.). — Greedy goats are making it tough on trail builders in the Rockies.

Ranger Ben C. Miller, returning from the Muir Creek district, said a pair of goats, "seemingly of the comon Alley variety," had followed a trail crew, eating as fast as they were placed on s akes, small bits of white cloth defining the route to be followed.

ADVANCE POLL OPENS SATURDAY

List of Those Permitted to Vote at Advance Poll Extended.

INCLUDES MILITIA MEN.

Contrary to previous reports the members of the Peterborough Company of the 4th Canadian Machine Gun Battalion, which leaves Saturday evening for Connaught Ranges Camp, will not miss the privilege of casting their vote in the provincial elections.

Provision has been made for an Advance Poll where not only railway employees, sailors and travellers may use their franchise previous to election day proper, but also certain people who are attending conventions and soldiers who will be going to camp.

Those to whom the convenience of the Advance Poll has been extended in this election are: druggists who plan to attend the Provincial Druggists' Convention at Windsor; Shriners, who plan to attend the Shriners' Convention in the States; Oddfellows and Rebeccas, who are attending the convention in Toronto; soldiers, who may expect to be in camp on election day.

The Advance Poll is located in the Sheriff's office at the Court House. It will be open June 16 and 18, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m.

Major James Turnbull, commanding officer of the Machine Gunners, said his company was parading this evening and he would impress on the men the facilities for voting that had been extended to them.

SIX SURVIVE PLANE CRASH

Clings to Wings Four Hours Before Rescued by Launch in Argentine Lake.

FIVE ARE KILLED.

JUNIN, Argentina, June 12. (AP) Six survivors of the crash of an aeroplane near here in which four North Americans and a Chilean were killed told to-day how they clung to wings of the plane for four hours to escape drowning.

The plane, operated by Pan-American Grace Airways, fell into a small lake yesterday when two hours out of Buenos Aires on a flight to Santiago, Chile.

No boats were available, so the six survivors were forced to hold on to the wings until a launch was brought by truck from some miles away. The six suffered from exposure.

Those killed were: Charles F. Lindenbers, Los Angeles, pilot; Samuel B. Eisenmann, 28, Teaneck, N.J., co-pilot; James Raley, Irene, Texas, radio operator; H. Greig Veeder, American engineer living at Buenos Aires; and Senora Maria Mila Martinez of Santiago.

One of the survivors was Carlos Alessandri, a nephew of the President of Chile.

Drowning Victims To be Buried Together

FORT ERIE, June 12.—(C.P.)—Six year old Nelson Maurer will be reunited to-day with Donald, seven year old brother. On Feb. 21 they walked together down by the shore of the icy waters of Niagara river here with a collie dog as a companion. The collie came home dripping wet without the children.

Donald's body was fond wedged under Fort Erie ferry docks April 18, while Nelson's body was found at the Maid of the Mist at Niagara Falls yesterday. This afternoon relatives and friends will gather with the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Maurer, Buffalo, when the body will be laid beside that of another little grave in Pine Hill cemetery near Buffalo.

Sixty-four plants in the Roubaix-Tourcoing-Lannoy district in France are busy producing carpets and upholstery.

HALTING OF WAR DEPENDS UPON CITIZENS' STAND

Nothing So Likely to Bring Conflict On as View It is Inevitable Says Massey.

KIWANIS CONVENTION.

Claims Peace Must be Taken Seriously, Organized, Bought at Price.

TORONTO, June 12.—(CP)—Nothing is so likely to bring on "the next war" as acceptance by public opinion throughout the world that it is inevitable, Hon. Vincent Massey, former Canadian Minister to Washington, told the 18th annual convention of Kiwanis International here today.

"It can be averted," he said. "That rests with what people just like ourselves the world over want to do about it. If populations make up their minds, governments must respond."

War could not be averted by pious resolutions nor armed forces. Nations still suffered from the "ancient and vicious illusion" that preparation for war is the best guarantee for peace. History for centuries had been a demonstration to the contrary.

The only hope for averting, Mr. Massey submitted, was to take peace seriously. "It must be organized," he said. "It must be bought at a price. Risks must be taken to secure it."

These ideas were in the minds of some of the men who conceived the League of Nations. It was the best they could do, he said, and it had had its successes and its failures. But it stood for one of the biggest ideas in the world, an idea that would not disappear—the principle that all governments are collectively responsible for world peace.

The important thing was to keep only the broad principles of the League in mind and not to get principles confused with instruments which for the time being represented those principles.

U.S. Has Aided Cause

The United States although not a member of the League and not likely to become one had made great contributions to the idea for which the League stood.

Explaining his remark that risks must be taken to secure peace, Mr. Massey said that when one of the governments of the world took the law into its own hands three years ago and defied the League the covenant of the League became little more than a scrap of paper. "Now it would seem obvious," he said, "that if the League is to live it can only survive if it honestly endeavors to do the things its members undertook to do. Moreover, it is more likely to be respected and supported by other states if it shows the world that it means business."

Peace must be bought at a price, he said, in that sovereign states could not organize for peace unless they were prepared to limit their individual freedom and accept a check on their sovereignty. "We can't have it both ways," he continued, "we must either accept the 19th century conception that a nation is the sole judge of its action, with the anarchy that will mean, or we must in all seriousness accept general rules which govern nations in their relations to one another."

NOTED TELEGRAPHER DIES

EDMONTON, June 12. — (CP) — John Stuart Macdonald 78, whose hand tapped out a telegraph message telling of the capture of Louis Riel in the Northwest Rebellion, is dead here. He served through the campaign of 1885 as a special telegrapher with General Middleton's forces.

Suicide Tuesday

NEW YORK, June 12. (CP). This is "Suicide Day" in New York.

Statistics of the greater New York Save--A-Life League show that more persons commit suicide in this city on the second Tuesday of June than on any other day. The society has no explanation.

Twelve suicides were reported a year ago to-day. The daily average is four.

THREE ENTERED LOCAL CONTEST

No Upsets in Nomination Proceeding for Peterborough County.

PAPERS ARE FYLED.

Anyone expecting by any stretch of the imagination a last minute nomination day surprise in the Peterborough riding was doomed to disappointment. As the time limit expired at 2.00 o'clock this afternoon, the three expected candidates had duly qualified, and no new development had occurred.

The nomination papers for both James Hawthorne, Liberal candidate, and T. P. Lancaster, Conservative, were turned into Sheriff F. J. A. Hall, deputy returning officer, this morning. The papers for Rev. John Sutherland, C.C.F. representative, had been deposited Saturday morning. Jacob Low acted as official agent for Mr. Hawthorne; Douglas Lawrie for Mr. Lancaster, and Alex. Murray for Rev. Sutherland.

All papers were considered in order by Sheriff Hall. The requirement of at least one hundred signatures of taxpapers on a nomination petition had been met by each candidate.

Hamilton In Grip Of Whooping Cough

HAMILTON, Ont., June 12 (CP) —A grave epidemic of whooping cough is sweeping the city, and an appeal to the citizens to co-operate in checking it was made by Dr. James Roberts, Medical Officer of Health, to-day.

"The situation is serious," Dr. Roberts said, "unless citizens give us the desired co-operation, there is no telling how far the epidemic will go. My advice to parents who have reason to suspect their children of being afflicted with the disease is to consult their family physicians immediately."

He pointed out that such cases must be reported to the health authorities without delay.

HENRY, HEPBURN ARE NOMINATED EAST YORK, ELGIN

Premier Faces Liberal, C.C.F., Independent, Socialist, Communist in Own Riding.

LIVELY BATTLE.

Liberal Chief Has Straight Fight With Tory—274 Sign His Papers.

Premier George S. Henry and Mitchell F. Hepburn, Liberal leader, were nominated in East York and Elgin respectively this afternoon as more than 240 candidates officially entered the Ontarion general election battle.

In his own riding Premier Henry will face five opponents —a Liberal, Cooperative Commonwealth candidate, Independent, Socialist and Communist.

Mitchell Hepburn however has a straight fight with the former member for Elgin, Dr. H. J. Davis, Conservative. Two hundred and seventy-four electors signed the nomination papers for the Liberal leader.

The Conservative Party has placed a standard-bearer in each of the 90 constituencies, with Liberals running in 85 and throwing support to opposition candidates in the other five ridings. There are 36 candidates of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation; 10 Independents; six Communists; three Independent-Liberals; two Independent-Conservatives and two United Farmers of Ontario.

The others fighting for election include one Liberal-Progressive; one Labor-Socialist; one Liberal-Labor; one Farmer-Labor; one Independent-Labor and one Independent-Farmer.

Independent Enters.

Mayor I. L. Davis, of Chatham, running as an Independent in West Kent, made his plea for election last night and attacked the Natural Gas Conservation Act as "iniquitous, damnable legislation." He said many of the 322 wells in Essex and Kent, where 65 per cent. of the province's gas supply came from, had been capped with people refused the right to use the gas.

The Department of Public Welfare came in for criticism when J. A. McRuer, K.C., of Toronto, took the platform in Sarnia in support of the Liberals. He charged children from unorganized districts were placed in a Toronto home "operated by an old lady." In the home, he charged, conditions were PARIS, June 12.—German militarism which has been expanding dangerously since Hitler came to power, has been checkmated for the time being. French and Russian diplomats, assisted by military experts, of the two nations, are putting the finishing touches to a defensive military alliance which is to knit the two countries so closely that there is to be a virtual merger of their gigantic air forces.

The two most powerful and most efficient armies of Europe, those of France and Russia, will shortly be the great sentinels of peace on the continent.

Neither France nor the Soviet Union have the least designs on anyone else's territory.

BANK BANDITS TAKEN

KENANSVILLE, N.C., June 12. (AP).—Two heavily armed men, found asleep in a wood near here, were captured by officers to-day and charged with participating in Saturday's hold-up of the Bank of Magnolia, in which two men were wounded.

The sleeping men had $804, believed to be part of $836 the bandits carried off as they shot their way out of the bank and through a ring of blazing guns in the hands of rallying Magnolia residents.

Bulldog Attacks Girl 41 Stitches Required

FERGUS, Ont., June 12 (CP) — Viciously attacked by an angered bull dog, Doreen Ladd, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Ladd, Union street, is in Groves' Memorial Hospital to-day suffering severe injuries as the result of the dog's bites. Forty stitches were required to close the 18 wounds on the childs' legs and shoulder. Doreen's younger sister, Marie, aged four years, was the first to be attacked and was bitten on the hip.

When neighbors freed her from the dog's angry attack it immediately took after the older sister dragging her into the ditch. Bystanders were unable to rescue the child until the dog was beaten to death with a hoe in the hands of a neighbor.

Dr. N. M. Craig attended the children who at the time of the accident were playing near the home of the dog's owner, Hugh Templin. Although they have often played with the same dog they had never experienced trouble of any kind with it previously.

Too Much Life

CAMDEN, N.J., June 12 (CP) Bartender James Barron must explain in court his alleged undue haste in arranging the little courtesies that are part of a friend's funeral.

Barron reputedly took up a collection among residents of Westville Grove to buy flowers for a neighbor's funeral and Police Chief Alfred Marker arrested him for obtaining money under false pretenses.

A few minutes after chipping in $1 the chief saw the 'corpse' walking down the street.

MEXICAN COAST PREPARES FAST FOR HURRICANE

Tampico Hospitals, Police Prepare for Emergencies as Alarm Spreads.

MAY HIT TEXAS.

Bus Fleets Are Organized to Carry Citizens to Safety—Harbor Closed.

TAMPICO, Mexico, June 12 (C. P.). — The entire Mexican coast from the Texas border to Vera Cruz dug in to-day against a tropical hurricane moving toward it with nerve-wracking slowness from the Gulf of Mexico.

The Red Cross, hopitals and police in Tampico prepared for emergencies as grave alarm spread.

So wide was the area of the approaching storm that fears were held it might strike Texas. Latest advices said the hurricane was about 100 miles off Tampico, and was moving toward the shore at about eight miles an hour.

Despatches from Honduras and El Salvador, meanwhile, told of a growing death toll from last week's hurricane with the known dead placed at 2,500.

The city of Ocotepeque, near the Guatemala-El Salvador border was wiped out by floods and more than 500 persons were drowned.

Heavy Sea.

Tampico was buffeted by a strong wind and the sea was heavy.

The beach section at Playa Mriamar, destroyed by storms last September, was cut off and the river into Tampico was closed to ships because navigation was dangerous.

Bus fleets were organized to carry residents from places of danger. As far inland as Mexico City, the despatches stated, the effects of the storm weather were evident in unusual cold and high winds.

Despatches from San Salvador said great floods were reported at the important interior points of Sonsonate, San Miguel, Sonta Ana, and San Vicente. Bridges constructed 300 years ago and strong buildings were unable to resist the floods.

Soaking Rain Falls Over South Ontario

(By the Canadian Press.

Soaking rain fell over most of Southern Ontario early to-day, bringing relief to drought-stricken farmers whose crops had been helped little by lighter precipitation during the week-end.

The rain has stopped in most districts near noon to-day but prospects were for more moisture. Skies were cloudy and the weather forecasts predicted scattered showers.

Kingston's rain started at nine o'clock this morning and gave promise of developing into a steady downfall. Pastures and crops seemed in good condition.

A three-hour rain fell in Galt district. It was a steady fall, the sort farmers welcome, and later in the morning there was another shower.

There were light showers in the St. Catharines district all night and heavy rain at Brantford which put an end to the longest spring drought experienced there in many years.

POOLED BUYING FORCED DOWN FIXED PRICE

Illustration of Power of Mass Buying Given Probe at at Ottawa.

MERCHANDISING PRACTICE.

Eatons Combined Order From Three of Their Large Stores.

OTTAWA, June 12. (CP).—An illustration of the Power of mass buying was given to-day to the parliamentary commitee investigating that business practice. F. M. Johnson one of the committee's investigating auditors said that The T. Eaton Company Limited, pooled their purchases of Madras muslin curtains and forced down the fixed price in Scotland.

Between October and Dec. 1933, Eatons placed an order for 232,000 yards of Madras muslin, later advertising they were able to offer it at comparatively low prices through their ability to pool purchases for their Toronto, Montreal and Winnipeg stores.

50 Percent Mark Up

When Eaton buyers first approached the Scottish textile manufacturers they were told the fixed price was 8¼ cents a yard, the auditor said. The large order was dangled before the eyes of the weavers who first refused it, then accepted at 7 cents a yard. The laid-down price in Toronto was 10¾ and the sale price was 16 cents, a mark-up of 50 percent.

"What does this demonstrate" asked Sam Factor, (Lib., Toronto).

"It shows the combining of orders and the forcing down of prices," replied the auditor.

"It was a case of Greek meeting Greek," suggested W. W. Kennedy, (Cons., Winnipeg).

"Eatons broke a Scottish combine, that was all," interjected J. L. Ilsley, (Lib., Hants-King).

Chairman H. H. Stevens denied there had been a combine among Scottish weavers and fortified this opinion with a letter from a firm of Scottish lawyers.

"But they fixed the price and Eatons broke it," shot back E. J. Young, (Lib., Weyburn).

Loss In Toronto Store

The Toronto store of the T. Eaton Company, Limited, listed a net departmental loss last year of $466,415 on sales of $34,711,594, the committee was told by Mr. Gordon.

Turning from the financial setup of the vast commercial organization to merchandising practices, the committee studied operating costs and mark-ups.

At the fiscal year ending Jan. 11, 1934, sales in the Toronto store totalled $34,711,594 and the cost of sales, $23,422,964. This left a gross profit of $11,288,630 or 48.2 percent on the basis of sales.

Workroom wages were deducted and other expenses, leaving a net

NORANDA STRIKE GOES INTO FORCE

Three Hundred Miners Walk Out —No Disorders First Few Hours.

100 SPECIAL POLICE.

NORANDA, Que., June 12 (C.P.). —A strike involving 300 employees of Noranda Mines seeking better working conditions, wage increases and the right to organize went into effect here to-day. There were no disorders in the first few hours and a force of 100 special constables augmented by 14 Provincial police constables from Quebec patrolled the streets to keep order.

The miners voted to strike at a special meeting of the United Mine Workers last night. Handbills were circulated throughout the twin mining towns of Noranda and Rouyn to-day, advising miners of the decision to walk out of the mines and criticizing the Noranda Company officials.

Special constables escorted a few workers to the Noranda property, where they went to work. Majority of the strikers were employed underground. The Noranda mill and smelter plants were reported working at nearly full strength.

As the underground shift changed this morning crowds of strikers and sympathizers gathered at the Noranda gate in picket formation. They threw a few stones half-heartedly but nobody was injured.

Likely to Demand Disbanding of Chinese Secret Society Under Gen. Chiang.

TOKYO, June 12 (C.P.).—Foreign Minister Koki Hirota, with the Cabinet's approval, acted to-day to inform China "a very serious affair" menaces Sino-Japanese relations, referring to the unexplained disappearance at Nanking of Eimeh Kuramoto, Japanese Vice-Consul there.

Kuramoto has not been seen since he saw the Consul-General off at the railway station last Friday night.

Hirota instructed Yakishiro Suma, the Consul-General at Nanking, to interview Waig Ching-Weh, Chinese Minister for Foreign Affairs, tomorrow to impress upon the Chinese Government Tokyo's serious view of the incident.

A Foreign Office spokesman denied this means a threat of military action, but vernacular newspapers said if Kuramoto was not found or satisfaction was not obtained within two or three days, bluejackets might be landed from three Japanese warships already lying off Nanking to make a forcible search.

Japan, the newspapers added, may demand disbandment of the 'Blueshirts," a Chinese national secret organization which General Chiang Kai-Shek has fostered.

Many Japanese believe the 'Blueshirts" are responsible for the disappearance of Kuramoto, once attached to the Consulate at Seattle, Wash.

NOT ABOLISHING DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

So Hepburn Tells Woodstock, Brantford, Kitchener, Galt Audiences.

CHANGE IN EDUCATION.

Sees Little Hope for School Children if Henry Resumes Portfolio.

By JACK HAMBLETON
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

ST. THOMAS, Ont., June 12.—(C.P.) Spurred by the knowledge that only one week remains of the election campaign, with its hectic hustle and bustle, Mitchell F. Hepburn, Ontario Liberal leader, prepared to-day to motor to the city from his farm to accept the official nomination to the riding of Elgin. With Dr. H. J. Davis, Conservative member and candidate, he will mount a platform in St. Thomas this afternoon before rushing off to Stratford for further engagements.

The Liberal leader spent a hectic day yesterday, speaking at Woodstock, Brantford, Kitchener and Galt and participating in two mammoth parades between Ingersoll and Woodstock and Paris and Brantford.

He received attentive hearings at all centres, with only two minor interruptions at Brantford meeting. At all the meetings he denied Conservative advertisements which stated he intended abolishing the Department of Agriculture, declaring he had already named Hon. Duncan Marshal, former Saskatchewan minister, to assume that portfolio in the event of a Liberal victory at the polls.

Improve Education

Mr. Hepburn also stated his intention of obtaining a "noted and well known educationist," to supervise operation of the Department of Education, declaring the department was suffering at present from gross maladministration and was "fossilized and mummified." He declared Premier Henry's recently declared intention of again assuming the portfolio if the Conservatives were returned to power "held no hope for the school children in Ontario."

A photograph of the premier, dressed in overalls on his farm which recently appeared in a Toronto newspaper, drew Mr. Hepburn's attention at the Woodstock meeting. "That's the first time he has worn overalls since he wore three cornered pants 60 years ago," said the Liberal leader. "The photograph was carefully posed in an effort to show Mr. Henry as a practical farmer."

He made a brief reference to the Cooperative Commonwealth Federation, declaring he was greatly in sympathy with them. "The only trouble with them," he said, "is that some of their policies are not workable. We've got to apply policies which will work in this country."

GRIT CHARGES EXTRAVAGANCE GIVEN DENIAL

Charles M. Garvey of Toronto, Addresses Ennismore Audience.

SUCCESSFUL TORY RALLY.

Hepburn Failed to Support Legislation Aiding Farmer, Peck Charges.

Charles M. Garvey, K.C., of Toronto, former Peterborough old boy, was in the district last evening for the first time since "Old Home Week," and addressed a meeting held at Ennismore in the interests of T. P. Lancaster, Conservative candidate.

Reeve James Gifford presided over the meeting, and other speakers included Mr. Lancaster, E. A. Peck, K.C., M.P., and C. Knox former road superintendent in the camps in the northern section of the county.

Mr. Garvey, who remarked upon the "dear associations" that Peterborough and district held for him, dealt with the charges of extravagance which the Liberals have levelled against the Henry administration.

Going over the public accounts, the speaker referred to the $30,000,000 investment in the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway, as being one that had opened up vast wealth to the province. The value of gold and silver mined in Northern Ontario to the end of 1933, he said, aggregated $476,000,000, and asked, "Is Hepburn, Slaght and McRuer justified in criticizing such an investment?"

Other investments Mr. Garvey spoke of were the Hydro, which, he said, under public ownership had secured for the people of the province low cost in power and light and had resulted in establishment of a number of important industries; also public buildings. He referred to mental hospitals, prisons and reformatories and preventive institutions. The latter, he said, with particular reference to Bowmanville school for boys and Galt school for girls, "are the wisest investments that any Government ever made."

Highways and roads were also spoken of by Mr. Garvey as investments that were wholly justified. Since 1930, he stated, $116,000,000 had been spent by the Government on roads, and it had been computed that work was provided through that source for 45,000 men working 200 days per year.

The money thus spent, he argued, had given employment when employment was most needed, and had been the means of attracting a number of tourists. It had been estimated by the Bureau of Statistics, the speaker remarked, that in 1930 American tourists spent $125,000,000 in Ontario.

"What is the use of Hepburn and his associates going up and down the province saying the Henry Government is extravagant? The people of Ontario have demanded these various services, and it is an insult to your intelligence for them to speak of extravagance," he said.

In speaking of revenue and expenditures, Mr. Garvey told the meeting, "the Government sells services and only those who take those services are called upon to pay in proportion to their requirements."

Reference to some of the measures of the Henry Government in the interests of the farmers concluded Mr. Garvey's address.

Mr. Peck briefly discussed federal politics, with particular reference to the preferences for agricultural products which Premier Bennett had secured for Canadian goods on the British market.

He charged that Hepburn had failed to support these measures in the interests of the farmers.

Expressing his pleasure at meeting a section of the electorate whom he had the honor of representing, Mr. Peck assured them that he was at all times willing to be of utmost service to them.

After Mr Peck had spoken Reeve Gifford stated he wished to publicly thank Mr. Peck for his advice and consideration as county solicitor. He had been impressed, he said, with the manner in which Mr. Peck gave of his time and service to the County Council.

FILLING DITCHES TERMED INSULT TO ELECTORATE

Lt.-Col. J. A. Dewart Replies to Answer Made by T. P. Lancaster.

RALLY IN LAKEFIELD.

Government Might Have Spent Money on Municipal Roads, Dewart Claims.

Renewing his charges that the Highway Department's program of "filling the ditches at this time conveys an insult to the electors," Lieut-Col. J. A. Dewart replied vigorously last evening to the answer of T. L. Lancaster, Conservative candidate, that such highway work was not considered an insult by the men who are being given the opportunity of earning two dollars a day on the highways.

"Mr. Lancaster knew perfectly well what I meant when I made the charge that it was an insult to the electors," declared Lieut-Col. Dewart in addressing an enthusiastic meeting on behalf the candidature of James Hawthorne, Liberal, in Lakefield. "And I reiterate that charge now.

Purpose Explained

"Why was the money now being expended in filling the ditches not handed over the townships and counties to expended on municipal roads? These roads need repairs and the work could have been provided just as adequately. I will tell you why. Because the Government wanted to keep the expenditures in its own hands, so that men who get the jobs may feel indebted to the Government and vote for its candidate.

"This type of thing is altogether too obvious,' he continued. "The only persons being fooled by it are the members of the Government themselves."

Accessory to Debt

Later Lieut.-Col. Dewart declared, "Anyone who votes Conservative in this election has made himself an accessory to this vast amount of debt that is being piled up." He stated that since 1904 the debt had increased from $6,000,000 to more than $600,000,000.

Mr. Hawthorne in a brief address again charged that the Government had made it impossible for the municipalities to take advantage of the Government's relief works program last winter because the municipalities subsidies from the Government had been so greatly reduced. "Why couldn't this money now being spent to give men work on the highways not have been expended last summer when it was needed?" he asked. "The Government's relief works program for the municipality was for the winter when the municipalities could not go on with the work. It was just as badly needed last winter."

He charged that the Government's announcement that the charge to municipalities for highway construction was cut from 20 per cent to 10 per cent was but another attempt to win votes. He maintained that the Government should have been well able, from revenue received from the gasoline tax and motor vehicle licenses, to pay the whole cost of highway construction. "Mr. Hepburn has prom-

HENRY APPEALS SANE LIBERALS TO TURN TORY

Raps Hepburn for Seeking to Lure C.C.F. and Radicals Under His Banner.

"NO PLATFORM."

Reads Letter From Woman Asking Cash for Three Votes.

WINGHAM, Ont., June 12.—(CP)—Premier George S. Henry today returned to his constituency of East York for the official nomination day. He left here after fire accusations against Mitchell F. Hepburn, Ontario Liberal leader, for what the premier said were attempts to lure the C.C.F. and radical organizations into the Liberal fold.

The premier said Mr. Hepburn had failed to deny he had said "I swing well to the left," and the government head declared the Liberal leader appealed to the Labor Defence League to support the Liberals in the Ontario general elections. Mr. Hepburn, Premier Henry said, was "attempting to hitch himself to all and sundry."

In his address to a large audience here last night Mr. Henry asked "all sane-thinking Liberals to retain their self-respect and to stand with us for continuance of stable and honest administration." He urged "annihilation" of Communistic bodies seeking to overthrow the present system of government.

$50,000,000 Demand

Mr. Henry read "demands" of the Labor Defence League and allied organizations from a letter, claiming the demands were from organizations to which Mr. Hepburn appealed for support. One of the demands, he said, would cost the province $50,000,000 annually.

He accused Mr. Hepburn of having no platform and said Liberals had no idea or plan to relieve present difficulties.

Liberals, he added, were not much more than a group "which has no experience and has nothing to offer you to indicate the change they say is needed which would be beneficial to the province."

Another letter, the premier continued, came from a woman asking the premier if he would be willing to pay for three votes at her home and he alleged "Mr. Hepburn was willing to pay for support.

CRASH VICTIMS ARE RECOVERED

All But Stewardesss Found in Broken Cabin of Airliner.

ONE ESCAPES FLAMES.

LIVINGSTON MANOR, N. Y., June 12 (C.P.).—The broken bodies of the seven who died when a Newark-to-Chicago "luxury liner" drove with terrific speed into the wooded side of Mongaup Mountain late Saturday afternoon, were brought here to-day.

Through the black night, down tortuous, uncertain trails, the strange funeral procession moved, picking its way with the aid of beams from electric torches.

The torn, battered bodies of the two pilots, the 28-year-old stewardess and the four men passengers lay in baskets which were suspended from poles, the ends of which rested on the shoulders of volunteer pall-bearers.

In one basket was the body of Harry Pinslet of New York, a passenger. It was the only one to escape burning when the plane dove into the mountainside and caught fire.

In another basket they carried the corpse of Harold Coppins, 42, of Buffalo, N.Y. It was found to the left of Pinsley's, and was severely burned. The position of the body indicated that Coppins may have survived the crash and attempted to crawl away from the leaping flames.

The body of Miss Ada Huckeby, the ship's stewardess, lay on a rock at the edge of a cliff. Her clothing had been burned away. The other four bodies were found in the ruins of the liner's cabin. The bodies of Clyde Holbrook, 38, the pilot, with more than 10,000 hours of successful flying to his credit, and of Co-pilot John Barron, Jr., an experienced airman, who was making his first flight over the Newark-Chicago route, were hardly recognizable, so badly were they burned. The other passengers, William Bader and William Cass, both of Buffalo, also were severely marked by the flames.

YELVERTON L. A. PLAYS HOSTESS TO FLEETWOOD AND BETHANY

Delightful Mixed Program is Put On by All Groups—Pastor Gives Fine Address.

LUNCH SERVED ON LAWN.

YELVERTON, June 12 (Examiner Correspondence) — Yelverton United Church was the centre of a rally of the Fleetwood, Bethany and Yelverton Ladies' Associations of the Manvers United Churches on Thursday afternoon, when about sixty ladies congregated and enjoyed a pleasant afternoon.

Mrs. William McCabe, president of the Yelverton branch extended a hearty welcome to the visiting ladies on behalf of the local association and acted as chairman for brief devotional exercises.

Mrs. Jamieson, president of the Bethany W.A. announced the various numbers as follows: duet, Mrs. Bert Monk and Miss Verna Belle Lee, accompanied by Miss Winnie Dawe; reading, "Love," by Mrs. Victor Grandy.

Parting Address

Rev. Mr. Scott gave a most encouraging talk on "Work" stressing the need of co-operation and optimism, adding a few parting admonitions as this was his last opportunity of speaking to the associations as a body before his departure for his new work at Roseneath at the end of June. A duet, "Where He leads me I will follow" was sung by Mrs. Werry and Mrs. Grandy with Miss Ida Shea accompanying; Mrs. Thompson read "A Little Pilgrim"; an organ solo was contributed by Miss Ida Shea; Mrs. Scott and Miss Richardson accompanied by Miss Thompson sang "When the Springtime flowers bloom"; Mrs. Albert Sutton gave an appropriate reading on "Friendship"; the Fleetwood quartet including Mrs. Grandy, Mrs. Werry, Mrs. Cummiskey and Miss Ida Shea rendered "Let the Lower Lights be Burning"; Miss Richardson recited the humorous selection "Beyond her Reckoning."

Biblical Contest

The concluding number was a most interesting alphabetical Biblical contest. Miss Richardson who won the highest number of points and was presented with a pretty China dish.

It was announced that the annual garden party would be held on the church grounds on June 20.

Tea was served at two long beautifully decorated and bountifully laden tables set on the church grounds. A hearty vote of thanks was extended to the Yelverton branch for their kind hospitality by Mrs. Werry on behalf of the Fleetwood Society and by Mrs. Ryley voicing the sentiments of the Bethany Association.

Obituary

JOHN WATERS.

TRENT RIVER, June 12.— The death of John Waters occurred on Sunday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. George Cook of the Wilson Settlement at the age of 89 years. The late Mr. Waters resided at Trent River until about five years ago, when he went to reside with his daughter. Mrs. Waters predeceased him about two years ago.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. George Cook of Percy township and Mrs. Ira Ivey of Oshawa, and two sons, Stanley of Napanee and Henry of Warkworth, also one brother, Fred, who resides with his son, Knowlton Waters, in West Seymour.

STRIKE HOLDS AT FLIN FLON

Town Council Offers to Mediate Between Miners and Officials.

FOOD SUPPLIES GUARDED.

FLIN FLON, Man., June 12.—(CP)—An offer to mediate in the strike of 1,300 employees of the Hudson Bay Mining and Smelting Company here today was made to the Mine Workers Union of Canada and company officials.

Meeting in an emergent session last night, the town council offered its services in an attempt to end the strike which started Monday morning when workers quit their posts demanding union recognition and restoration of pay cuts made a year ago.

Reports were heard union pickets had attempted to prevent food being delivered to the skeleton crew which remained on duty at the plant. Officers of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, sent here from Winnipeg to maintain order, were guarding food supplies being sent to the plant.

Alex Hay present the case of the strikers at the meeting of the town council. He denied the Union had a paid organizer in the Flin Flon district and said there were no men from outside points on any of the union committees.

Negotiations between the strikers and the company officials were at a standstill.

"appalling," with insufficient clothing and food. He said Premier Henry, chairman of the York County Children's Aid Society, had taken no action until Harry Nixon, Progressive leader, brought the matter up on the floor of the Legislature.

Attorney-General W. H. Price at Sundridge announced the Government would support an organization to boost tourist trade in Parry Sound.

He urged the election of the Conservative candidate riding, W. H. C. Jackson, who made the suggestion for the organization. Col. Price said the only way a new district could be developed was by spending money and he declared this is what the Government intended to do. Criticism of the $1.20 paid in relief camps was replied to by the Attorney-General, who said this sum was never considered a wage but was merely a relief measure to help the jobless.

Campaigns For C.C.F.

A British Columbia woman took the platform in the campaign in support of the C.C.F., when Mrs. Angus MacInnis, daughter of J. S. Woodworth, C.C.F. head, and wife of the Labor member in the House of Commons for Vancouver, spoke at Fort Erie. She described the Stevens' mass buying probe in the Commons as the old story "of putting a bell on a cat."

"Much is being heard so the rest of those involved can get clear," she declared. She predicted the C.C.F. would be either the official opposition or the government at the Saskatchewan general elections, June 19. Her husband also spoke, declaring no improvement could be shown no matter what was tried, as long as the outlived capitalistic system existed.

Graham Spry, chairman of the C.C.F. Executive Council in Ontario, turned down Liberal offers of co-operation by emphatically declaring C.C.F. candidates would run absolutely independently and adhere strictly to C.C.F. doctrine, refusing to have "truck or trade" with those outside the body.

MILLLBROOK W.A.

Ladies Plan Garden Party for July 17 at Home of Mrs. W. A. O'Brian.

MILLBROOK, June 12 (Examiner Correspondence) — Mrs. J. H. Might extended the hospitality of her home for the June meeting of the Women's Association of St. Andrew's Church, over fifty being present at the gathering held on Wednesday at 3 p.m.

The chair was taken by the president, Mrs. F. J. Smith, and the treasurer, Mrs. J. McKnight, reported talent money received from Mrs. Byam and Mrs. Bigelow of $2.10, and from Mrs. Locke and Mrs. McKnight of $2.90, the receipts of afternoon teas given by these hostesses; also $5 from the Seth Parker concert at Fraserville. Martha Earle read the lesson and Rev. Mr. Jones led in the opening prayer.

On motion it was decided to hold the annual garden-party on July 17, at the home of Mrs. W. A. O'Brian, canvassers being appointed as follows: Fourth Line, Mrs. H. A. Earle; Zion, Miss Burnham; Fallis Line, Mrs. G. E. Burnham; Seventh Line, Mrs. T. Douglas; village west, Mrs. F. A. Kidd; east, Mrs. W. West; centre, Mrs. P. Stinson; Tupper street, Mrs. W. Fallis and Mrs. Westall.

Mrs. W. W. Kennedy contributed a solo, Mrs. Jones accompanying and Mrs. McKnight gave a reading, "I like to know everyone," written by a son of Rev. C. R. Spencer, of Bowmanville, and formerly of Millbrook. Two new members were introduced, Mrs. Wainman, recently moved from Peterborough to the village, and Mrs. Emily, whose home is the former Luxon residence. The hostess and her assistants, Mrs. OBrian, Mrs. Thornton, Mrs. Douglas, Mrs. Smith and others, served tea at the close of the business session and a very pleasant social hour was enjoyed.

Rush Point League Holds Weekly Meet

RUSH POINT, June 12 (Examiner Correspondence) — The regular league meeting of the Rush Point Young People was held in the church on Thursday evening with Mrs. Reginald McQuigge in charge. Mr. Earl Pollock read the scripture lesson. The Rev. Mr. Kemp conducted the opening exercises. Miss Luella Keating presided at the organ. The topic "The value of influences" was taken by Lloyd Petherick.

Miss Mae Seeney gave a comic reading and Miss Luella Keating played two selections on her celestophone. Mr. Gordon Newton had charge of the contest.

Triple Murder of Klondike Days Recalled

"That's him, I know by his whining voice." Frank Allen, the "Klondike Kid," retired gold prospector, points to Tom Jensen, Danish sailor, as the "Blueberry Tom" who had been sought for 20 years. He was wanted for the murder of three comrades in the Yukon mining regions. Allen picked him out of a crowd of 75 spectators in Brooklyn homicide court. Twenty-one years ago three men and a woman set out from Fairbanks to scrabble for gold dust. It was the winter of 1913, and when spring came around, it was said that they had nearly $20,000 worth of dust in their pokes. Then the bodies of "Sweet Marie", who came out of the Fairbanks dance halls; of "Fiddler John" and Frank Adams were found. They had been done to death, and "Blueberry Tom" Jensen was missing. Someone recalled that "Blueberry Tom" had shown up and had auctioned off a bracelet that once belonged to "Sweet Marie."

GOVERNMENT SPEAKER VISITS JANETVILLE WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

Ladies Hear Fine Talks on Benefit of the Association to Northern Areas.

AND "OUR NERVES."

JANETVILLE, June 12 (Examiner Correspondence)—The beautiful club rooms of the Janetville branch of the Women's Institute were filled to capacity on Tuesday evening when Miss Harriet Graden, government speaker of Streetsville, delivered an excellent address.

Mrs. William Hill, president of the local branch took the chair and a brief business session during which homes were offered by the members in which to hold their meetings for the coming year preceded the enjoyable program which was as follows: "O Canada" sung by all present; reading, "My Sister's Best Fella" by Miss Evelyn Millson; violin duet, "Just an old dusty trunk in the attic" by Mrs. (Rev.) Walker and Miss Malcolm.

In a few well chosen words the president introduced the special speaker who chose two subjects "Making the Institute serve the community and "Those Nerves of Ours." Miss Graden, who is a nurse, spoke in detail of the work in Northern Ontario especially near Mathison where she was located. Interesting word pictures were given of the difficult situations in which doctors and nurses labored with meagre equipment and long chilling drives and of the much appreciated assistance given the work by Institutes. The speaker declared the W.I. to be the greatest organization in the whole of Canada with its 40,000 members. At the conclusion of this talk the speaker asked the ladies to rise while she led in several restful physical exercises.

Fruits, Vegetables.

The second subject was then taken up with explanations of some of the causes and remedies for nervous breakdowns stressing the importance of the use of plenty of vegetables, fresh fruits and pure water in the diet. A second vocal duet "Smilin' Through" was contributed by Mrs. Walker and Miss Malcolm. Miss Norma Stacey gave "The Cattle Thief" (Pauline Johnston) in splendid voice. The singing of "It's a good time to get acquainted" and "God Save the King" concluded the program.

A vote of thanks to Miss Graden for her splendid interesting and instructive talks was sponsored by Mesdames Chas. Deyell and George Wilson. Lunch was then passed by the local ladies and a happy social hour enjoyed with further helpful hints dropped by Miss Graden in general conversation with the ladies.

Patrick Bellwon Is Sold To Quebec Men

HASTINGS, June 12 (Examiner Correspondence).—Central Ontario lost another fast horse on Saturday night when "Dick" Walsh, prominent local trotting horse breeder, shipped Patrick Bellwon to St. Hyacinthe, Que. Mr. Walsh's horses are held in high regard in the Province of Quebec as he recently shipped Bud Wenger and Bucko Junior to the same group of sportsmen that purchased the third one.

Pat Bellwon is well known to the race fans that took in the fairs in Central Ontario, where he raced with much success.

Sportsmen of this district will watch with interest the success of the Walsh horses under new ownership in Quebec.

FENELLA W.M.S.

Miss F. Macklen is Named to Attend Wicklow Convention June 14.

FENELLA, June 12 (Examiner Correspondence). — The regular monthly meeting of the Fenella Women's Missionary Society was held at the home of Mrs. Bruce Macklin on Wednesday afternoon, with a large number of members and visitors present.

The Baby Band meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. H. Sandercock in July with Mrs. F. Down and Mrs. James Curtis as program leaders.

The president, Miss Florence Macklin was elected to attend the Women's Missionary Society convention at Wicklow on June 14. A reading "The Mother's Petition" was read by Mrs. John Cowling, the World's Peace secretary.

Mrs. Montgomery then took charge of the program. A series of leaflets on "Chinese Work in Canada" by Mrs. A. Hamilton were read by the following ladies: Mrs. George Montgomery, Mrs. Fred Talling, Mrs. Howard Macklin and Mrs. N. C. Leach and hymn "A Better Day is Coming" was sung. A reading "In as much," a confession by Mrs. James Knox was enjoyed.

The meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction and a dainty lunch was served.

Sergt. C. Long Gets Efficiency Medal

CAMPBELLFORD, June 12. (By Examiner Staff Correspondent) — For ten years' efficient service in the Canadian Militia, Sergeant C. Long, of "C" Company, (Campbellford), The Northumberland Regiment has been awarded the Efficiency Medal by the Department of Militia, which was forwarded to him by the officer commanding the unit, Colonel H. Sauva, V.D.

Sergeant Long has an army record of many years' standing, for in 1914 he joined the Canadian forces, enlisting in the Royal Canadian Regiment, with headquarters at Halifax, N.S. Going overseas in 1915, he served until the end of the war in this distinguished regiment with distinction, being demobilized some time after the conclusion of hostilities. Since the war he has been active in militia circles, for which service he was awarded the first efficiency honor to come to the Northumberland Regiment.

Apsley

The Parish Hall was packed to the doors on Wednesday evening for the presentation of the three-act comedy drama, "Eyes of Love," by the Coe Hill Hockey Club and the Girls' Softball Club. The play was well presented and was much enjoyed by the large audience. The cast was as follows:

Atlantic Flyers To Visit Montreal

BROOKLYN, N.Y., June 11.—(A.P.)— The French trans-Atlantic fliers, Lieut. Paul Codos and Capt. Maurice Rossi, took off from Floyd Bennett airport at 8.21 a.m. E.S.T. to-day for Montreal.

The two fliers, who arrived in New York May 28 after severe vibrations forced them to abandon their attempted non-stop flight from Paris to San Diego, have named Montreal as the first stop of their modified North American good will tour.

Rossi and Codos will not fly to the west coast as originally planned but will stop only at Montreal and Chicago.

Just before the take-off this morning the flyers' representatives announced that they would make another attempt to fly nonstop from Paris to the western coast of the United States this summer.

Charge Is Withdrawn Apsley Police Court

APSLEY, June 12.— (Examiner Correspondence.)—Police Magistrate Langley was in Apsley on Saturday afternoon to hear a charge brought by James Campbell, tax collector of Chandos township, against Mr. and Mrs. George Robson for obstructing him in making a seizure for 1931 taxes. As the taxes had been paid since the information was laid, the charge was withdrawn with the consent of the magistrate, after he had pointed out to the defendants the seriousness of the offence, and obtained their assurance it would not occur again, should the same situation again arise.

ised that he will pay the full cost of highways," he added. "I desire to inform you at this time that more than half of Peterborough County's debt is for construction of Provincial Highways, and over this expenditure the Council had no control and nothing to say."

Government Lost Confidence

"I think the Henry Government has lost the confidence of the people," he concluded. "They have tried to cover up their misdeeds, the huge salaries they have been paying and they have tried to make us believe they had a surplus last year of $470,000 when in reality they had a huge deficit of millions. They have been trying to capitalize on the needs of the people for their own selfish interests."

J. J. Duffus dealt with what he termed "the extravagant expenditures and lack of leadership of the Henry Government." He stated that whenever Ontario had a Conservative Government bad times befell the people and it took a Liberal Government to again place them pack on the straight road to financial stability.

Misrepresentation Charged

He charged that Premier Henry's statement that the Liberal Government had never made any effort to pay off any debt was misleading. "Mr. Henry knew that the Liberal Government never had any debts to pay off, and in making such a statement he was betraying a sacred trust to the people of Ontario."

Also he maintained that the Government had made no effort to pay one dollar of the cost of highway construction during the past several years, but used the money from gasoline tax in capital expenditures. "Mr. Henry defies the law and goes on spending," he stated.

He charged that Hon. Mr. Lyons, "A minister of Ferguson's Government," had said, "Mr. Henry has passed his time of usefulness as premier of this province".

UPON A HIGH PLANE.

Local candidates for the Legislature, The Examiner believes, are to be congratulated upon the fact that throughout the campaign, which now enters upon its final week, they have treated each other with commendable courtesy.

There has been none of the mud-slinging or personal abuse that apparently have been featuring the political fight in other constituencies; Mr. Lancaster, Mr. Hawthorne and Rev. Mr. Sutherland have referred to their opponents in this constituency on every occasion in the kindliest possible terms, and the campaign has been fought out up to this stage at least on a high plane.

It is true that references to party leaders have not always been so polite or so generous, but after all those leaders have not themselves set a very inspiring example in that respect, and they therefore have no cause to complain if they are perpetual targets for hostile snipers in all parts of the province.

The three candidates named in Peterborough County are men of standing in the community, men with a splendid record and against whose public and private lives no stones can be effectively thrown, and it is gratifying to note that the electoral fight in this particular riding is totally free of personal bitterness, which is the way all campaigns should be, but rarely are.

THE PUBLIC HAS HELPED.

There is one angle of this question of unethical business practices, mass buying, loss leader sales, sweat-shop conditions, etc., that is usually lost sight of, and that is the public—and by that we mean everybody who buys anything—cannot successfully evade the charge that it is to a great extent responsible for the evils complained of.

At heart we are all bargain-hunters, and when goods are offered for sale at prices that appeal to that instinct there are few who stop to ask themselves anything about the origin of the articles on the bargain counter, what the people who made them got in the way of wages, or what conditions governed their manufacture.

Because they are apparently cheap we rush in and buy them.

They may have been produced in Japan or Czecho-Slovakia, they may have been bought under conditions of sale that gave the original manufacturer or producer little or no chance to make a profit, but so long as the price is attractive most of us have no qualms about buying.

It is because of that tendency that many of the conditions that are featured in the headlines of Canadian newspapers to-day have developed, and while governments and industrial and business leaders have their share of responsibility, Mr. John Q. Public, if he is honest, will have to admit that all along he has played a prominent part in creating these glaring evils and injustices.

STIMULATING EMPIRE TRADE.

A very notable edition of a very notable Scottish newspaper has reached The Examiner Office in the form of a special Empire trade number issued by the Glasgow Herald, and most appropriately on Empire Day.

This fine special edition is full of interesting and helpful articles on such matters as the importance of co-operation, links with the Dominion, trade with the Motherland, Glasgow and the Empire, and a score of other well written and thoughtful stories on Empire trade developments and possibilities.

It is a helpful, encouraging and intelligent effort to bring about a greater expansion of business within the Empire, and the proprietors and staff of the Herald are to be congratulated upon their enterprise and vision.

From a Canadian viewpoint the edition is disappointing in only one respect, and that is the Canadian Government has apparently missed a splendid opportunity to effectively advertise Canadian products.

New Zealand is to the fore with a full page advertisement under the heading "New Zealand is Coming" and calling attention to the merits of New Zealand apples, butter, cheese, lamb and mutton, while the director of Australian trade publicity has a catch display notice appealing to readers of the Herald to "support your Kinsmen overseas by purchasing Australian products."

Once again our Australasian cousins are setting the pace for us in this matter of advertising in the United Kingdom; they are keeping their wares before the British people, while Canada's efforts along the same line are feeble in comparison.

MORE SIGNS OF RECOVERY.

The statement recently issued by the Toronto Stock Exchange in regard to the net earnings and dividend payments of 134 Canadian companies reporting up to the beginning of this month and the dividend changes of 38 companies on the Exchange offer further evidence of the improvement in business and industrial conditions throughout the country.

Net earnings of the 134 companies indicate a continued betterment throughout Canadian industry generally.

The figures prepared by J. Scott Rattray, statistician of the Exchange, show that 81 of these companies report decided improvement, while 53 showed reduced earnings and a greater deficit than the year before.

Of those companies which bettered their position 48 reported net in excess of the preceding period, 14 had net earnings instead of the deficits that existed a year ago, and 19 managed to reduce deficits.

The total net earnings of 98 corporations amounted to $96,987,444, contrasted with $70,001,647, after a deduction of deficits of $4,558,931 recorded by 14 companies for the 1932 years.

As the companies used in the analysis represent a good cross section of the industrial and mining life of the Dominion, the figures given by Mr. Rattray afford an excellent opportunity to size up the situation generally and to visualize the fact that there has indeed been considerable progress made toward recovery.

F.D.R. IS DETERMINED.

President Roosevelt is the kind of a man who doesn't let reverses trouble him.

He demonstrated this when, a few years ago, he was stricken with infantile paralysis and when everyone believed his public career was over. But he fooled them all. In spite of the most tremendous handicaps he staged a "come back," eventually being elected Governor of New York and, later on, President of the United States.

A few months ago the United States Senate rejected the Administration's St. Lawrence seaway idea. But Mr. Roosevelt is still determined to go through with it. It is not a dead issue by any means, so far as he is concerned. Disregarding the action of the Senate, he has been pushing his plans ahead. A detailed program has been mapped out, based on the thought that the lakes-to-ocean treaty with Canada will finally win senatorial approval. The President hopes to be able to bring sufficient pressure to bear on Congress to ensure acceptance of the scheme which both he and former President Hoover heartily approve.

Here is the significant paragraph in a statement on the Great Lakes region, filed in a sub-committee's report:

"Water-power development is of major importance especially in connection with the improvement of the St. Lawrence River for navigation and the further development of the power resources of the Niagara River. The proximity of the Niagara-St. Lawrence region to one of the important industrial centres of the country and to New York, Boston and other large Eastern cities offers a strong inducement for the further development of the large potential water supply."

It is no secret that Premier Bennett and other Canadian, as well as American, leaders were deeply disappointed when the Senate turned down the St. Lawrence scheme. It had been counted upon as a tremendous producer of employment and business generally and all advance reports from Washington indicated that it would have a safe majority in the Upper House. But the forecasts were wrong. Nevertheless, as we have said, Mr. Roosevelt has not given up hope and it will be interesting to see what he is able to accomplish by fall in bringing senators and congressmen around to his point of view.—Border Cities Star.

HEARST AT HIS WORST.

Britain's notice to the world that war debts must be settled angers America's jingoistic publisher, William Randolph Hearst.

In a passionate editorial outburst on the front page of his papers, he fairly screams at John Bull:

"How are the English fallen!

"England's word, England's promise, England's honor as a borrower and as a debtor, have gone to protest.

"She has toppled from her world position as the examplar of good faith . . . and is now content to become the bellwether of the defaulters of Europe."

And then there comes this emotional passage. We record it here as a classic of backward journalism, perverted thinking and out-of-date sensationalism:

"When England was backed to the wall; when her civil population was faced by starvation; when her armies were being steadily forced back by the Central Powers; when her merchant marine was being sunk by submarines at the rate of one million tons per month, and not a week passed but 40 ocean going steam vessels were lost; when India was seething with revolt and Britain was unable without American help to maintain her currency system; when she could no longer buy the requisite food to support her civil population nor the munitions to supply her armies; when the shadow of forced surrender hung over the Empire—she turned to the United States for succor in the hour of her extremity.

"America responded. Our people tightened their belts. They reached down into their savings. They poured their money into British coffers . . ."

The obvious retort to this emotional claptrap is that:

1. American shipping was also being sunk with impunity, and losses would have been greater but for the protection of the British navy.

2. The $4 billions of money loaned to England's allies, but guaranteed by England, was poured into American coffers, not British, in the form of purchases of munitions and food at wartime inflated prices.

3. Britain has written off war debts owing to her—more than she owes United States.

But it does no good to go back and rehash a story already as familiar as a nursery rhyme to even fourth-rate intelligence the world over.

The fact to be faced to-day is that the war debts are part of a superstructure of capitalized burdens which are strangling world trade to-day. To pay them would be to strangle creditor even more severely than debtor. Capitalism's $200 billions of interest-bearing debts must be settled at 50 cents or 25 cents on the dollar.

The Hearst school of thinkers are like the politicians and financiers of whom Edward A. Filene said: "They knew much, but most of what they knew had recently ceased to be true."

In the fever heat of war, Hearst's frenzy would have been effective band music. To-day, in the cold light of economics, it is merely dangerous, reactionary blather.

It belongs to an era that ended with the Great War. It is 20 years out of date.

It is Hearst at his worst.—Vancouver Sun.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Well, we are at least sure after to-day that no more candidates will bob up to disturb the election campaign.

Mr. Stevens is fast becoming the man of the hour on the Canadian scene, but the public generally is waiting to see what action follows the present investigation.

One week from to-day and a lot of persons will suddenly discover that they are unable to vote because their names are not on the lists.

The Rotary Carnival will steal the show from the politicians on Wednesday and Thursday nights. It is the one issue on which all political parties are unanimous.

LEGITIMATE BUSINESS

To The Editor of The Examiner:

Dear Sir:

According to J. H. Burnham's letter, "Money Made Honestly," the Stevens Committee disclosures on the Simpson's Ltd. holdings are mere bluff. That in itself, is as much as to say, that, the taxpayers of Canada are paying an investigating committee to reveal to them the workings of what Mr. Burnham terms, legitimate business. But the letter itself is full of ambiguous phrases, with the additional slight at his more unfortunate fellow creatures, who, through no fault of their own, must be ditchers on the Burleigh road.

Does selling bonds to the public, without any real security constitute legitimate business?

Five million dollars obtained from the public and distributed between Flavelle, Cox and Fudger, through selling of bonds without any real estate security and without any fixed assets, but issued against common shares which were already subject to a bond issue on the common shares outstanding. If that is the law in business, then there is something radically wrong with the men whom the people of Canada appoint to the legislature. It is also legitimate business for an employer or company to reduce the wages of the workers whereby the debt for new construction may be wiped out. The business ethics contained herein are: The workers shall construct the place wherein to work, his wages must be reduced so that balance from mass reduction will pay for the construction. The company shall retain the construction erected and paid for by the worker as an asset, they shall divide among the company holders as dividend the surplus accumulated through the efficiency of the workers and their production.

The accumulation of capital, the lands, machinery and buildings, "assets to real wealth" obtained through the labor of the laborers from the beginning of history, are held by three per cent of the population of this country, and Mr. Burnham has the audacity to tell us that "the brainy people beat us to it." He should have added that the brainless people whom the faithful elected to protect the country, beat us to it.

Another spectacular instance in the working of legitimate business: The liquidating of guarantees to private interests by public funds, in other words the taxpayer is called upon to subsidize private interests, and also pay the interest on the subsidy. The same applies to the Beauharnois Power Development and the guranteeing of bank loans to wheat pools. When will the masses of the people in this democratic country awake and realize, that those who form the legislative authority of the country are forming laws which the power of riches can evade.

It is not in the law that the fallacy is found but in the enactment of the law or its enforcement.

The altering of the face value or the making substitute for coin is called counterfeit money, and is subject to penalties under the law. The circulation of a greater quantity of paper money as bonds, drafts or dollar notes, than the stock of gold, real estate, or stock of commodities is another way of making false money. The writing-up of stock, "watered stock' and the issuing of bonds on watered stock is creating false money. Therefore those found guilty of the latter should be subject to penalties under the false money law, to the same degree as those who make counterfeit money.

If we "throw up" our business foundations as they stand, Canadians will have done one of the grandest actions which only our future generations shall be able to cherish.

—JOHN BEGGS.

THE VAIN WISH

My friend sat over there and sighed because he wasn't able to live the sort of life he wanted. What he'd love to have, said he, was "a calm, regulated life." A peaceful life. With no riots, arguments, upsets, storms and agonies in it. A quiet one. A placid, ruminative, even sort of life. That's what he'd like.

I listened....Then I laughed.

I know him well, that friend of mine. I know he wouldn't be able to stand that sort of life for more than a week....He wasn't the sort to live that way....He is stormy, impassioned. Both gentle and fiery. Both realistic and mystical. Full of contradictions, and admitting them. Generous and violent. Rich both in love and hate.... Imagine such a fellow living "a calm, regulated life!"....I laughed at him and he laughed at himself.

He knew it was just a dream, merely a vague and transitory longing to be other than himself. An impossible and hopeless aspiration, not wholly desired....He knew that was true and he admitted it.

After all, said he, I suppose we all live the kind of lives that our characters demand. We wouldn't be happy living in any other way. You think you'd be happier if you could keep your desk cleaned up and be even with your work all the time, but you wouldn't be. That sort of life would be more strain than the life you have now....We are all torn between the dream and the fact in our lives. We think we are square pegs in round holes but we are not. We are round pegs in round holes, most of us, vainly dreaming of how happy we'd be if we were living in square holes....I guess you're right, said he.

And for some odd reason I remembered the sweet little poem that used to be in my school reader about that buttercup down in the meadow one summer day that wished it were a daisy and about the priggish robin that delivered a lecture and told the flower, "I'd rather be my honest self than ANY MADE-UP DAISY!"....My friend was the buttercup, I was the robin, and I always did have a friendlier feeling for the flower than for the preachy bird.

What's in The NAME

of Canadian Cities and Towns?

By FRANK H. WILLIAMS

ST. BONIFACE, MANITOBA

The cathedral city, which lies across the Red River from Winnipeg, bears the name of the patron saint of Germany, martyr bishop, who was killed by the Pagan Saxons in the eighth century after he had converted practically all of Germany to christianity.

In 1812, Lord Selkirk, whose Red river setlers had been persecuted by the northwesterners, got a message from Red river through the famous John Baptiste Lagimodiere, of the threatened danger to the young colony in the spring of 1813. He, therefore, hired a regiment of Swiss soldiers, called DeMeuron's regiment, who had just come to Canada after the close of the Napoleonic war. Many of these Swiss soldiers were German-speaking and after the incipient trouble had been smoothed over they settled on the east side of the Red river.

When a name for the parish had to be chosen a few years later by Mgr. Provencher, the officers who were educated and influential suggested the city be named for their patron saint, and so it was done.

Argentina will exempt from heavy taxes for 20 years the first factory of each industry established in the Provinces of Jujuy and Mendoza.

Foreign Affairs

(By H. W. L. MAHOOD)

AUSTRIA

The fate of Austria rests in the personality and leadership of three men Dolfuss, Starhemberg and Fey. The manner in which Austrian issues have been directed by the three does not brighten expectations. The rest of Europe looks on with considerable misgiving. A new corporative constitution has been adopted by the Christian Social rump parliament. All the bourgeoise parties have been amalgamated in the "Fatherland Front." Thus organized Austria takes her place among the Fascist states. Cabinet decrees will henceforth take the place of legislative action. The people will have no voice, except on occasion it be the voice of protest. The press will be muzzled. The public platform will be a powder magazine. The conscience as well as the will of the people must bow to coercion. How long will Austrians render to Caesar the things that are Caesar's and to him also the things that are of God?

Dolfuss, Starhemberg and Fey will form a triumvirate. The business of the nation will be promoted by them. Fortunate however is the investment of a limited degree of power in the Catholic Church. A Concordat between the Vatican and Austria has been concluded. By virtue of this Concordat the Catholic Church has been vested with rights and privileges greater than she enjoys in any other country. To her comes the opportunity of giving to the whole world an example of what the golden rule embodies. "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and soul, and might, and thy neighbor as thyself." Certain it is that she will do so.

HOLLAND

Fascism as a theory is changing. It lacks the power to remain pure Fascism. Socialism is also undergoing a very great change. Reactionary trends are at work at the heart of these theories. To define in final form any theory related to human needs and to human welfare and progress is impossible. To do so the philosopher must go back and live all the human past. He must go forward and live all the human future. There is only one solvent of all the issues that arise in our human world. And there is one. That one is a person. That person is beoming so well known that we need not write His name here. It is His Spirit gaining access through the hearts of men that is touching and changing for the good all theories whether they be industrial, or economic, or social. For a time a theory may change backward. It will not be for long. Holland is passing through a transition period. The Dutch have a well edited newspaper by the name of The Haagsche Post. Recently it carried a cartoon of Hitler frowning down upon the Dutch workers. Upon his face there is the expression of determination. Hitler is not the only person in the cartoon. Albarda, the man to whom the Social Democratic party has pinned its hopes is seen picking up the rifle he had broken, one day, in the past, and is mending it again. The Dutch Social Democrats have denounced militarism. They have been anti-nationalistic. Will they now go militaristic? Increasingly, for five years the Dutch authorities have become both militaristic and extremely nationalistic. Fifty-seven organizations have been listed whose members cannot serve as officials. Thus Albarda.

ON THIS DATE

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

QUEBEC'S THEATRE HORROR

On this date, in 1846 Quebec City was the scene of one of the most tragic fires in Canadian history. The theatre St. Louis, used mainly by the officers of the Coldstream Guards for their amateur performances, was also rented to travelling companies, thus lightening the burden upon the mess fund. In June, 1846, a man named Harrison from Hamilton, arrived in Quebec, leased the theatre and advertised a showing of lantern views, which he called a diorama. The theatre was crowded the show had been a good one; and the spectators had risen from their seats to leave, when there was a cry of "fire". An oil lamp had fallen on to the scenic background on the stage. Instantly there was panic. Men, women and children rushed to the exits only to be caught in a fighting mass of people anxious to save their lives at any cost.

The inevitable happened. Many were crushed to death, or suffocated by the smoke as the theatre burned fiercely. Father Bernard O'Reilly, who had taken some boys to the show, did his best to stay the panic; it was in vain; but he managed to bestow the last blessing upon the poor souls as they went to their deaths.

The exact number of victims was never known. More than 50 bodies were identified; others were missing; still others suffered for months, perhaps years, as a result of their fearful experience. The inquest showed that the affair was purely an accident; it could not have been avoided; and Harrison returned to Hamilton in company with a coffin containing the body of his brother who had given his life in the attempt to stop the panic and fight the flames. The only parallel to this tragedy was the holocaust at the Laurier theatre, Montreal, in 1927, when 27 child lives were sacrificed in a panic consequent upon a false cry of "Fire," dreadful at any time but never more so than in a crowded theatre with few exits, and these upstairs as was the case at Quebec.

Character From Handwriting

By BLANCHE A. DRAPER

A Feature Conducted by Peterboroughs Leading Handwriting Analyist for the Readers of The Examiner

Full name and address (complete) must be given in all samples sent in.

Madeleine Faire,
467 Elm St., Peterborough.

Your writing for analysis emphasizes a versatile nature. You are a lover of all things beautiful and, in fact demand exquisite personal appointements. You desire self-expression but do not seem to have quite sufficient 'spunk' or courage to do as you like, therefore, you appear to be like one who is never satisfied, always wishing for just a litte more, no matter what it might be. Music intrigues you, and you sometimes crave more knowedge in that line. There is a tendency to crowd thoughts, a willingness to segregate them but a lack of strength both bodily and mentally. However, you do not allow the above characteristics to deter you from attaining your ambition. We all possess some trait which we do not wish the public to become aware of and yours are not a detriment to your character. Environment has played a big part in your life but once you are on your own, surrounded by love and happiness, I venture to say, you wil shine with undiminished light. Your number is 5. Your birthsign Sagittarius the Centaur. February and June are your most fortunate months. Thursday your lucky day.

Miss Annie May Pegg,
R.R. No. 4, Dundas, Ont.

The handwriting on your sample is expressive of a gracious personality. You are pleasing, agreeable and friendly. You are not too indulegnt but sufficienty so to enable you to demonstrate your kindness of heart. You are benevolent and courteous, but yet you do not enjoy having your good nature imposed upon. I am afraid that quite often it is. Any knowledge which you have gained through experience, you should be able to impart to others. I do not mean in the general sense of teaching as in schools. You are dignified and refined, and I think that sometimes you find it difficult to express your emotions through the medium of words, it seems to me that words simply will not come to you when you need them the most, though no doubt your facial expression conveys much more than words ever could at these times. You are thoroughly lovable, and should have many friends who appreciate you for your real worth. Your number is 20. Your birthsign is Aquarius the Man. You are ruled by Uranus. April and August are your most fortunate months, and Saturday your lucky day. For one of your years, your writing is exceedingly well expressed.

Frank Huffman,
Norwood, Ont.

Your writing as shown on sample indicates that you are reserved, secretive and a little afraid of self-expression. However, it shows that you are determined and that you have a certain amount of will-power which should assist you along the road to success. You are not the yearning type always longing for something to happen, and once you have set a definite goal for yourself, you will not go back on your purpose. You are kindhearted and generous, but perhaps find it necessary to be a little cutting in your remarks when people will not understand you. You are a steady plodder, and no matter what you set out to accomplish. Your better judgment will assist you to see it through in all its finality. Musical interest is denoted in the roundness of some of the letter formations, and I venture to suggest that it is very soothing to you at times, when everything seems to go wrong. In answer to your question, your choice of occupation should be successful. Your number is 9. Your birthsign Scorpio the Scorpion. You are ruled by Mars. January and July are your best months, and Tuesday your lucky day.

Miss Verna Hefferman,
Norwood, Ont.

Your writing indicates that you are a person who has a good mind of her own. You are not one to be told what you must do, but you can successfully tell others when and how and where, if necessary. The outlines are that of the nursing profession, but could assure you much interest and enjoyment in the pastime of imparting knowledge of any nature to others. You are swayed by your feelings, but yet you are absolutely reliable. You are practical and methodical, but there is a tendency to wish to get right away from work at times. This is chiefly because you need recreation which does not seem to fit in with the scheme of things at present. You are artistic and enjoy doing anything which brings beautiful results That means anything at all of an artistic nature, but does not of necessity mean only painting. Your general all round character is good. You are trustworthy and honest, and your friends know exactly what to expect of you. Your number is 22. You are ruled by the Moon, and your birthsign is Cancer the Crab. February and September are your best months, and Monday your lucky day.

A Thought

THE LAWS OF NATURE

Man can consruct exquisite machines, can call in vast powers; can form extensive combinations, in order to bring about results which he has in view; but in all this he is only taking advantage of the laws of Nature which already exist. He can establish no new law of Nature, which is not the result of existing ones. His greatest advances in skill and power are when he calls to his aid forces which before existed unemployed, or when he discovers so much of the habits of some of the elements as to be able to bend them to his purpose. He navigates the ocean by the assistance of the winds, which he cannot raise or still.—Dr. Whewell.

HEAVY TRADE IN BREWERIES

Follow Efforts of Brewing Corporation to Secure Control of Canada Bud Stock.

MARKET CLOSES HIGH.

TORONTO, June 12 (C.P.). — Heavy trading in the brewery shares developed this afternoon on the industrial section of the Toronto Stock Exchange, as a result, it was reported, of the effort of Brewing Corporation to secure control of the Canada Bud stock. Canada Bud shares were pushed up ⅝ to 10⅛, and Brewing Common at 10 closed ⅞ higher. The market closed firm with gains holding a margin over losses.

TORONTO LIST FAIRLY STEADY

TORONTO, June 12 (C.P.) — A generally firm tone with both strength and weakness apparent in a few individual instances characterized the Mining Section of the Toronto Stock Exchange to-day. Senior gold issues had a majority of narrow gains over losses; cheaper golds were off a little in spots, and base metals steady, while the silver issues were barely steady, and the oils weak. Trading was in good volume.

gross profit on the company's records of $10,039,186.

Departmental expenses, various amounts added to invoices such as interest, overhead advertising, rent and space charges, totalled $10,505,601, leaving a net departmental loss of $466,415.

List of Expenses

The committee spent some time analysing the figure of $10,505,601 the total for operating expenses, which turned a net gross profit into a net departmental loss. It included the following: Interest, $258,998; rent and space charges, $1,596,349; sales wages, $2,200,487; office wages, $1,150, 315; advertising, $1,314,113; delivery expenses, $971,144 and general expenses, $2,024,098.

The figure of $10,505,601 represented 45 percent of the cost of sales, the auditor said and increased the cost by that per centage. On the basis of cost of sales, the figure was broken down as follows: Overhead charges, travelling and buying expenses, 1.7 percent; rent and space charges, 6.58; sales wages, 9.07; office wages, 4.75; advertising, 5.4; sundry departmental expenses, 3.1; furniture and fixtures, .65; city delivery expenses, 4.00; general expenses, 8.34 percent.

NEW YORK, June 12 —The recent break out of the market on the upside is of more than usual significance. In the first place the upturn was accompanied by a substantial increase in the volume of trading. In the second place the gains took place after both Dow Jones Index and rail averages had practically made a double bottom. Then, too, both the industrial and rail averages cleared their respective high points on the same day. Moreover, the fact that the advance was unaccompanied by any especially favorable news adds to its significance. To our way of thinking, the market has clearly completed a turning movement and is now in the initial stages of what should later on prove to be a substantial upward swing. The available figures covering auto sales for the first four months of this year reveal some striking trends. For example, comparing that period with first four months of last year we find Plymouth sales in Canada 102.8 per cent., whereas Chevrolet sales advanced only 19.3 per cent. Dodge reported an increase of 192.8, while Hudson showed remarkable gain of 496 per cent. Among the big units, General Motors still holds first place, but it has lost some ground. In first four months of this year it did 37.25 per cent. of the total business against 49.01 in first four months of last year. Ford did 29.56 against 18.94 and Chrysler 23.91 against 21.07. All others combined did 9.28, against 10.98. These figures support the belief that Chrysler has gained over most of its competitors during the past few years.

Brokers' Opinions.

Munds, Winslow & Potter.—We think an important advance has begun and we expect to see substantial gains for this week.

Valuable Papers Taken From Wreck

LIVINGSTON MANOR, N.Y., June 12 (C.P.). — The giant airplane which carried seven persons to their deaths on the rugged side of Mongaup Mountain near here carried valuable naval papers which were salvaged.

Dr. V. G. Burke, Sullivan County coroner, disclosed the fact that the papers were aboard as he went ahead to-day with preparations for an inquest to determine the cause of the disaster.

He said the papers had been in possession of William Bader, Buffalo, one of the victims of the crash, that they had been salvaged and were now in his possession.

Dr. Burke said an employee of Bader told him Bader had carried another bag which he was "very anxious to find."

"There was no trace of it left," said Dr. Burke.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, June 12.—(CP)—All grades of cattle were selling 25 cents lower for the week on the Toronto Livestock market this afternoon and the lower prices apparently found favor with buyers as trading was reported 'fairly active' for the first time in days. Calves and hogs tipped the scales in favor of the gain side with advances of 50 and 10 cents respectively. Lambs were steady while sheep continued selling slow.

Receipts as reported by the Dominion Livestock branch were: Cattle, 380; calves, 370; hogs, 830; sheep and lambs, 670.

Weighty steers ranged from $3.75 to $5.35 while choice butchers sold from $4.75 to $5. Common butchers went down to $3.50. Cows sold mostly at $2.50 to $3.50 with bulls at $3.00 for tops. A few fed calves brought $4.50 to $6.00. Good stockers made $2.75 to $3.20.

Calves jumped 50 cents under the light run to sell at $5.50 to $6.00 for choice vealers and at $3.00 to $5.00 for common to medium kinds. Hogs also advanced, gaining 10 cents to $8.50 f.o.b. for bacons, $8.85 off truck and $9.25 off car.

Lambs sold steady at $5.50 to $9.00 cwt. with a few tops at $9.25. Sheep trade remained slow with sales on the majority ranging from $1.00 to $2.00 cwt.

LIVESTOCK QUOTATIONS.

Calves, good and choice, $5.25 to $6.00; common to medium, $3.00 to $5.00; grassers, $2.50 to $3.00.

Hogs, off car basis, selects, $1.00 premium; bacons, $9.25; butchers, $1.00 discount; heavies, $1.50 discount; lights and feeders $1.00 discount; sows $6.25.

Cattle, sheep and lamb quotations remained unchanged.

County Cricket

LONDON, June 12 (CP Cable) — Middlesex, Hampshire, Gloucester and Glamorgan pulled out full victories in county cricket matches ending before the time-limit this afternoon.

NEW YORK, June 12 (AP)—Resuming the forward movement, following yesterday's moderate setback, virtually all groups of stock pushed higher to-day, including silver and aircraft shares. Dealings were generally quiet. U.S. Smelting rose 3 points, while issues up about 1 to 2 included U. S. Steel, American Telephone, New York Central, Johns-Manville, American Smelting, Douglas and General Motors.

Transfers approximated 1,000,000 shares.

FRENCH FLIERS IN MONTREAL

MONTREAL, June 12 (C.P.) — The French fliers, Lieut. Paul Codos and Capt. Maurice Rossi, landed at St. Hubert airport here at 12.08 p.b. E.D.S.T. on their return from an overnight visit to Quebec. They were passengers in a commercial plane flown by Capt. K. F. Saunders.

BITTER BATTLE SASKATCHWAN

Cooperatives, Liberals, Farm-Labor Each Have Candidate in All Ridings.

SOME 4-CORNERED FIGHTS.

REGINA, June 12. (CP).—Returning officers in 51 of 52 constituencies to-day were receiving nominations from three major parties and Independent candidates in Saskatchewan's general election.

Close to 170 candidates are expected to be placed in the field between 12 noon and 2 p.m. (Mountain Standard Time) to-day, the official hours for receiving nominations for the 54 seats at stake in the voting June 19. The election in Athabaska constituency has been deferred until June 24.

The Conservative party and its allied Progressive and Independents forming the present Co-operative Government of Premier J. T. M. Anderson, have candidates in all seats. So have the Liberals under J. G. Gardiner and the Farmer-Labor (C.C.F.) party under M. J. Coldwell.

Three-cornered fights will predominate with a scattering of other candidates making four-cornered fights in the other single-member consituencies. Eight candidates are seeking election in the two-seat constituencies. Eight candidates are and Sasaktoon and seven in Regina, also a two-seat constituency.

A formal manifesto was issued yesterday by Mr. Gardiner citing the Liberal policies. Previously Premier Anderson and Mr. Coldwell had issued statements outlining proposals for government of the province, both premier Anderson and Mr. Coldwell suggested planning commissions, although diferent in nature.

Aged Oakwood Man Is Badly Injured

LINDSAY, Ont., June 12 (Special to Examiner).—Robert Sanderson, aged about 70 years, a well-known resident of Oakwood, was probably fatally burned at noon to-day, following an explosion in his home of an oil stove. Villagers, on hearing the explosion, rushed into the Sanderson home and found him lying on the floor in flames. He was terribly burned about the face and head, and sustained serious lacerations from a portion of the wrecked stove. Mr. Sanderson is at present in Ross Hospital in a critical condition. The house took fire, following the explosion, and the interior was also badly damaged before the village brigade extinguished the flames.

Look Crisp At Night—Nautical By Day

Left, white silk crepe sailor frock; center, novelty weave cotton jacket dress; right, white organza evening dress

By LISBETH

If it's an evening dress you are buying, remember that you want something crisp looking.

If it's a daytime model, you simply must have something reminiscent of the sea—with at least a suggestion of the nautical.

The sailor theme is emphasized in the jaunty suit shown at the left. A sailor's hornpipe should come easy to the maid who wore it. It's a white silk crepe with navy blue stripes and buttons and a big sailor bow.

The sailor hat has a stitched, rolled brim, and the eyelet punched pumps are of crushed white kid.

White cotton with colored accents is another smart note of the season. The jacket frock, center, is a novelty weave white cotton with collar, cuffs and belt boldly striped in blue, yellow and black. White kid ties are stitched in white, and the broad-brimmed white felt hat is banded with blue.

A crisp, sheer material styled with feminine details characterizes the evening frock pictured right. This white organza evening dress has a soft fichu which covers the shoulders, a corsage of flowers at the neckline, and a rustling taffeta slip. White kid evening sandals, with an unusual cutout design on the vamp and quarter, accompany the frock.

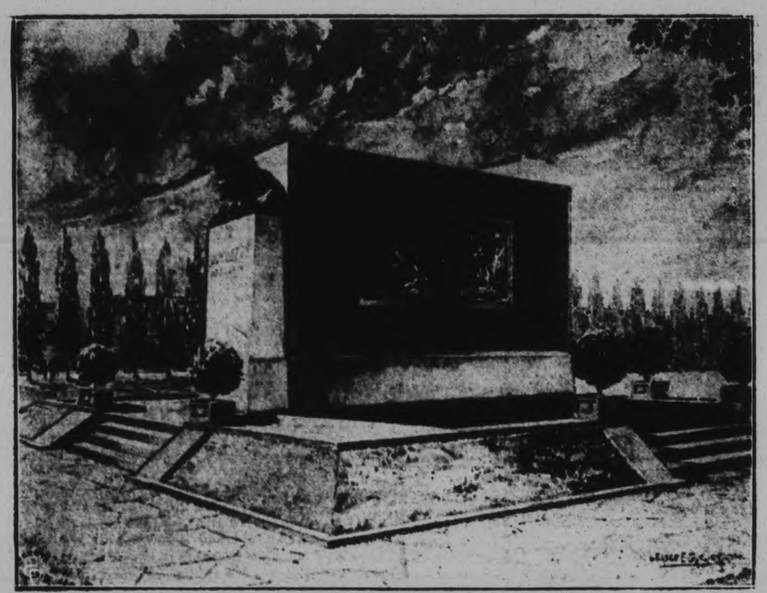
Trois-Rivieres Celebrates Tercentenary Anniversary In July



The city of Trois-Rivieres, Quebec this year celebrates its tercentenary anniversary. The celebration program will start on July 14 and continue until the end of August. During that time five monuments will be unveiled and ceremonies held in memory of heroes who founded the famous city. The above is a drawing of the monument being erected in honor of the founder of Trois-Rivieres—Sieur de la Violette who landed there July 4, 1634. It is the work of Leonce Cuvelier, Canadian artist.

Death Ray Machine Is Suppressed

A death ray machine of tremendous war potentiality, reported to have been invented by Dr. Antonio Longora, Cleveland, O., scientist, has been described at the National Inventors' congress, in session at Omaha, Neb. Witnesses to demonstrations of the machine declared that dogs, cats and rabbits fell over, instantly killed, their blood turned to water, when the death day was directed at them. This is a photo of Dr. Longora with his machine at an early stage in its development. It is reported that the machine has been suppressed by the U. S. government until required for purposes of defense.

'Member When They Wore Suits Like These?

Evolution of milady's bathing suit since 1900.

Summer here—plenty, and the thoughts of heat-stricken populace turns immediately to summer resorts and bathing beaches. Here, for the purpose of comparison, is what milady thought of in the way of bathing costumes a few years back. The two row shows the evolution of the bathing suit since 1900, when they weighed as much as 14 pounds. Now they can be carried in a handbag. It was after the war that the young ladies got their courage up and appeared without stockings; and, well, one thing led to another until today as little as possible is the accepted style.

Capitalistic System Is Assailed By Federal Member

CAPITALISM CANNOT FUNCTION WITHOUT SCARCITY OF GOODS

E. J. Garland, M.P., Addresses Meeting in Behalf of C.C.F. Candidate.

FLUENT ORATOR.

"They want to stop what they call over-production. But there is no such thing as over-production until the last Hottentot lives like a millionaire. All that the capitalistic system offers you is a restriction of production—in other words, capitalism cannot function without a scarcity of goods.

"In our own land we have governments spending millions to teach us how to farm better and to get rid of pests. And then they turn round and spend more money to send delegates to Europe to find out the best way to restrict crops. It seems as if George Bernard Shaw was right when he called this earth 'the insane asylum of the universe.'

"Do you know that 97 per cent. of the people of Canada have never earned enough to pay income tax? All the income tax of the Dominion is paid by the remaining 2½ per cent., and that includes 38,000 people who pay tax on incomes of less than $2,000. With such a concentration of wealth in the hands of a few people, it is impossible for the masses to consume what they have produced. Are you Christians to tolerate such a system? It is not the survival of the fittest, but the survival of the slickest. Put any one of those wealthy men on a desert island and they will survive by peeling bananas, but they won't amass wealth. That requires the ability to take away from a wealth-producing community of workers all that they can grab for themselves.

"Do you realize that when someone swells out his chest and points with pride, as Hon. Mr. Robb did, to the fact that Canada has floated another loan that it only means that we have added another hundred millions to our debt for a future generation to pay—that when the thirty-five years is up for the bonds to mature, that we will have paid out 105 million dollars in interest, we will still owe the original million and have had the use of only 97 millions? And do you realize that, by their actions in depriving essential funds, that the banking group have shown less faith and less confidence in Canada than any other of its people?"

Fluent Oratory.

E. J. Garland, M.P., of Bow River, Alberta, spoke last evening to over two hundred of the C.C.F. supporters of the city and district, in the hall of the Conservatory of Music, in a dynamic, eloquent address that held the undivided and hypnotized attention of his listeners. Compelling, sincere, an orator whose richly-modulated voice and flow of eloquent language combined with an utter and overpowering belief in the crusade on which he has embarked, Mr. Garland proved to be one of the most interesting of many political speakers in the present campaign.

He arrived from Keene at ten o'clock, after the C.C.F. candidate, the Rev. James Sutherland, and H. G. Lewis had addressed the audience. W. L. Abbott, local vice-president of the organization, was in the chair.

"The C.C.F. movement," said Mr. Garland, "is the expression of the economic change which has come into existence in our lifetime. A similar movement has arisen in every intelligent country on earth. . . . The West is alive, crusading. Saskatchewan is going to have a C. C. F. Government. But you people in the East have been torn apart by a small group of mistaken enthusiasts who attempted to use your movement for their revolutionary philosophy. . . ."

Harking back to the year 1851 as the date when human production changed from the non-mechanical to the mechanical type, Mr. Garland gave some examples of the extent to which machinery has replaced human labor, citing the instance of the recently re-modelled steel mill which in older days employed 300 men and now, with the use of labor-saving devices, employs only six men.

"And yet machines have never been employed to their full capacity. As has been said, if they were so employed, we "would be smothered with the things we want." Between 1913 and 1928, there was an increase of 40 per cent. in the railway mileage of Canada and an increase of over 10 per cent. in freight handled, but the decrease in men employed totalled 1,667.

"Don't be bribed and fooled by these employment tricks on roads and in camps. After the election that work will cease at once. I have seen it happen."

The speaker referred to the economic conference at Ottawa which was supposed to solve the problem and to the later world conference, "when someone with a diabolical sense of humor must have made the arrangements for the delegates to meet in the fossil room of the British Museum. They were all groups of men who had failed to do anything in their own countries and went to England to meet identically similar groups of failures from other lands. And then we were told to have patience, and that it will take another generation, at least, to reap any benefit from the conference."

Mr. Garland spoke of the tragedy of youth in the present crisis and implored his listeners to support the platform of the C.C.F., with planks in (a) national planning, (b) nationalization of the essential industries for that plan, (c) nationalization of the banking industries of the country.

A hearty vote of thanks to the speaker was moved by Thomas McMurray and seconded by T. Hall, with three cheers and a tiger for Mr. Garland and another salvo for Mr. Sutherland.

PARTY LEADER UNDER ATTACK AT HASTINGS

Hepburn Voted Against Deepening of St. Lawrence River While in Federal House

POLICIES CRITICIZED.

Large Crowd Attends Conservative Smoker in Interests of F. J. McArthur.

HASTINGS, June 12 (Examiner Correspondence). — There was a large crowd present Monday evening at the public smoker, held in the Town Hall, in the interests of F. J. McArthur, M.P.P., and Conservative standard bearer for Northumberland in the provincial election.

Dr. J. H. Hess, vice-president of the Conservative party for Hastings, made a very capable chairman.

F. J. Richardson of Cobourg, the first speaker of the evening, opened with a strong attack on Mitchell Hepburn. Hepburn had been a member in the Federal House for some time and all during that time he was a back bencher. He voted for the Beauharnois concession and also to raise Sir Henry Thornton's salary, and is now crying to cut salaries fifty per cent. Hepburn voted against the deepening of the St. Lawrence because he knew of a private company in the United States that wants the power on the St. Lawrence. The deepening of this river would mean a great deal to the ports of this county.

Turning his attack on Mayor H. N. Carr, the Liberal candidate, the speaker said that the only manifesto he had to offer was as a business man and charges of maladministration. Carr had attended many Conservative meetings that the speaker was at until last fall. He tried to picture for his hearers a scene that took place in an office when W. A. Fraser, M.P., got Carr to come out on the Liberal ticket at this election.

700,000 Attend School

Touching briefly on the different departments, Mr. Richardson wondered how the Department of Education could be cut fifty per cent, when there are over 700,000 children attending schools in the province, and of this number 28,000 are subnormal and receiving special courses. Money spent on county roads was at the request of the counties council. Provincial highways were started during the time of the Drury regime, and the Henry government have been keeping them up and adding more where it was advisable, and as a result Ontario has eighty per cent of the tourist traffic of Canada. The speaker also dealt briefly with the Department of Health and Public Welfare.

A. J. Skeans of Cobourg the next speaker also launched out on an attack of Hepburn. The latter could not possibly announce the personnal of his cabinet as he has promised cabinet positions to sixty-four of his candidates in the field. Hepburn would do away with the British North American Act, whereas all it needs is a couple of amendments.

Premier Henry has shown splendid leadership and at the present time he is burdened with four departments.

In dealing with the different departments, Mr. Skeans said that the criminal investigation section of the Attorney General's department was second to none. The department of game and fisheries had shown a profit of $60,000 and had helped considerably to bring one hundred million dollars worth of tourist business to Canada.

Carr would have backed out of the campaign if he could have in good grace, but Fraser was right behind him with a pitchfork. Fraser's money is running the campaign not Carr's'.

Misleading statements to the effect that taxes would be raised on the farms in front of where the ditches are being filled in by ten per cent have been circulated in that section. Whereas the ten per cent of the cost is spread throughout the county. McArthur has done more for this county than any other member. He was the man that started the Steven's investigation which has resulted so far in increased prices on farm products.

No Liberal Policy

N. A. McColl spoke briefly on the lack of leadership and no policy of the Liberal party. Mayor Carr was a very close personal friend, but he was obliged to speak against him on account of the policy of the Hepburnites.

F. J. McArthur, M.P.P. who arrived while the meeting was in progress from Codrington where he had addressed another meeting, got a big hand from the crowd.

In opening his address Mr. McArthur said that most of the work of the government had been covered by other speakers and that he would only deal with a very few. Farm loans were of great importance. When a government has sufficient confidence in an industry to loan fifty five million dollars to and prepared to double it to put the farming industry in the position it belongs, then they should get the support of the farmers. After having the farmers' contracts for five years they have reduced the interest from 5½ to 5 and might possibly make it 4½%.

The government has protected the small man against the capitalist by the Mortgage Act.

Critics are calling for a change. The present times are a world condition and cannot be charged to the government. With times are as present a small committee got together and appointed Hepburn as the man to go around the province and try and agitate the people, but so far it has been to no avail.

To Give Men Work

The speaker said he would support every move in the government to spend more money to give men work. The men on the highway are costing the county only 20c a day and these men are earning a respectable living and not on relief. Filling in of the ditches is making the highway safer and will provide a means for farmers to draw loads over in the winter. Critics can say what they like but the government is not turning back but going straight ahead.

Hydro is paying handsome dividends on the money invested.

Mr. McArthur then dealt with the Stevens' investigation which he stated he had started and if returned would see that it is finished. The government has lost the friendship of the capitalist but gained the small man who they are always trying to protect.

W. B. Horkins, K.C., of Toronto who was the main speaker of the evening, was obliged owing to the late hour to make his address very brief. Mr. McArthur has been tested the past four years and has came through. No one can point a finger at him and say he did not perform his duties diligently.

In engaging a captain to guide your ship out of troubled waters you secure one with experience as well as a crew. The same applies to Henry and his cabinet. Mr. Horkins also dealt with the Workmen's Compensation Act, Old Age Pension and Widow's, all three children of the Conservative power.

Refreshments and cigars were handed around to the crowd, while the musical part of the evening was well looked after by a four piece orchestra from Cobourg.

To the Electors of Peterborough

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN:

Having been unanimously nominated as Conservative candidate for the combined city and county ridings, I am appealing for your support at the approaching provincial election as a supporter of the Henry Government and on my record as the representative of Peterborough County in the Legislature during the last four and one-half years.

First, a personal word.

When the electors of Peterborough County honored me with their support in 1929 I pledged myself then to work unceasingly for the interest of my constituency, and I can unhesitatingly say at this time that I have kept the faith. Those of you who live in the county know that I have, in season and out, fought for Peterborough County, for work for its unemployed, for better roads, for the re-stocking of our lakes and rivers, for anything and everything that would help this district and its people. Relief road schemes have provided work not only for many urban unemployed but for farmers and settlers in all parts of the riding. The Burleigh Falls-Bancroft road project, for the establishment of which I most earnestly pressed, has furnished hundreds with jobs, has been a direct benefit to the merchants of Peterborough by reason of the money spent with them by the camp workers and staff, and will bring infinitely greater returns in the years to come because of the additional tourist traffic it will attract to this part of the province.

To the people of the former city riding, I pledge myself at this time that the service I have hitherto given the county and of the constituency will be extended in full measure to you. Henceforth it will be my ambition to work for the whole county, city and country alike, and to further every movement that means prosperity to our people.

In addition to the experience I have gained as a member of the Legislature, my twelve years' service as municipal clerk and treasurer has given me an intimate knowledge of municipal problems, and the additional public service that is inevitably associated with the editorship of a newspaper cannot fail to be of assistance. I feel that I have had the close contact with urban and rural questions that is essential to effective representation of a constituency made up of both city and country dwellers.

My position in regard to the wine and beer question is simply this, that I am a supporter of the Henry Government in its policy of extending the privilege of sale by the glass to standard hotels. I am, however, opposed to such sale in restaurants so far as the city of Peterborough is concerned, and I have the assurance of the Premier that my wishes in that respect will prevail.

And now as regards the general situation. We, in common with the whole world, have been passing through lean years. I know—because I have been in contact with these problems and difficulties day after day—that many of our people have been having a difficult time. I sympathize with our farmers whose expenses have mounted, while the prices of the products they sell have dropped far below normal. I appreciate the struggle for existence that the unemployed workers and their families have had to face. I readily realize that when times have been bad there is a tendency to blame the Government that happens to be in power for the conditions and to look elsewhere for a betterment.

I respectfully submit to you, however, that now when the tide has turned and a distinct improvement is making itself felt is no time to take a wild leap in the dark.

Consider the alternatives that are offered you. On the one hand you have a united Conservative party, familiar with the problems of the hour, experienced in public administration and led by a tried and true veteran in the person of Premier George S. Henry.

On the other you are offered—what? A disorganized opposition party, united only in the desire for office, with Hepburn Liberals, McQuibban Liberals, Sinclair Liberals and Nixon Liberals all working at cross purposes and with no unanimous declaration of policy, head by M. F. Hepburn, a leader whose eight-year record as a member of the Federal House shows nothing to indicate constructive statesmanship, and whose irresponsible speeches since his accession to the provincial leadership have utterly failed to inspire confidence. Is there anything that Mr. Hepburn has done at Ottawa in return for the more than thirty thousand dollars he has drawn from the public treasury, or anything that he has said as leader in Ontario to justify the belief that the administration of public affairs should be entrusted to his inexperienced hands?

The C.C.F. can be dismissed from serious consideration, first because its program is impossible, and secondly because if it elected all the candidates it has in the field—and there is no chance of that—it would not come even close to getting into power.

The choice is between Henry and Hepburn, and I earnestly submit to you that your own interests will best be served by returning to power the administration that in the face of a situation such as no other Government in the history of the province has had to meet has brought Ontario safely through the stormy years. You cannot afford to gamble with a disorganized crowd of political novices under a leader whose chief claim to fame is the wildness of his public utterances.

From time to time before election day members of the Government will discuss the issues of the campaign in this constituency. May I urge you to attend these meetings and to give the Government and myself your support on June 19th in the interests of a prosperous Ontario and the welfare of this banner county.

Your sincere servant,

T. P. LANCASTER

FRANCE AND RUSSIA JOIN HANDS TO BLOCK THE PLANS OF GERMANY

member of the present Doumerge cabinet of national union, goes the distinction of first having approached Rusia on the subject of an alliance during his visit to Moscow last summer. Worried by Britain's consistent refusal to guarantee French security with a definite promise of an effective British military intervention on behalf of France in case France is attacked, the French turned naturally, in the direction of the one great power in eastern Europe which has no entangling alliances whatsoever so far.

Demobolize Storm Troopers

The Franco-Russian alliance or failing an alliance a mere drawing together of the two countries, inflicts the third or fouth shattering diplomatic defeat on the Hitler government. Mussolini frustrated Hitler's chance to annex Austria. The Polish-German pact forced Hitler to abandon his claims to the Polish corridor for ten years, something which no previous German government would have dared to undertake. The anti-German boycott by world-Jewry and labor organizations in different countries is hitting the German economic system so hard that there will be no money to keep the storm-troopers after June and half of them are to be demobilized.

It is now virtually certain that Moscow will enter the League of Nations in the month of September. Opposition to Moscow's entry has dwindled down to one state; Holland, where the prime minister, Dr. Hendrik Colijn, who is one of the directors of the Royal Dutch Shell group, cannot forgive the Soviets their expropriation of his company's properties in the Caucasus in 1917.

French Persuade Holland

As there must be unanimity among the members of the league on the subject of admitting a new member and France is extremely anxious to draw Russia into the Geneva body, French diplomats are bringing pressure to bear on the Dutch government. This pressure, I understand, takes the form of an arrangement by France and Holland to institute joint action against Japanese dumping in their far eastern colonies, and perhaps joint military measures in that part of the world. France has for long tried to integrate Holland into her system of military alliances, something to which the present Dutch prime minister is not altogether hostile.

Although rumors had been circulating for some months regarding pour-parlers, the Franco-Russian rapprochement came about with dramatic suddenness. The Germans virtually drove the Russians into the arms of France by their refusal to sign a pact with Moscow respecting the Baltic republics, Lithuania, Latvia and Esthonia.

Germany Expects War

Litvinoff namely proposed to Berlin a few weeks ago to draw up an agreement whereby both Russia and Germany guaranteed the territorial integrity of the three Baltic states. To the amazement of al the foreign offices in Europe, Germany refused this Rusian proposition. That refusal opened the eyes of many to Germany's real intentions, for such a pact need but have been a mere scrap of paper after all as far as Germany is concerned. That Berlin refused nevertheless indicates that Berlin expects war between Russia and Japan at an early date. At any rate this is the way Litvinoff interpreted Berlin's refusal.

From Litvinoff's side the proposal of a Baltic pact now turns out to be the most brilliant diplomatic stroke that he has carried out. From Germany's side, the refusal is a colossal diplomatic blunder. Germany was unmasked. Her real intentions were bared by the Bolshevik foreign minister's masterstroke. Litvinoff learned without the slightest difficulty how near Japan is to attack Russia in the far east. Without any words, he made Germany Japan's closest ally, tell him the secret.

CURTIS CHARGES BE INVESTIGATED BY COMMITTEE

Council of United Counties Opens Its June Session in Cobourg.

NO EXTRA TAX RATE.

Government Refuse to Appoint Commission to Deal With Curtis Charges.

COBOURG, June 12.—(By a Staff Reporter). — No increase in the county tax rate this year was the grateful intimation by Major E. I. MacNachtan, clerk and treasurer, to the members of the Finance Committee of the Council of the united counties of Northumberland and Durham, which opened its June sessions here yesterday with Warden Wilbert Davey presiding.

Other high lights of the first day's proceedings were:

Reference of Reeve C. H. Curtis' charges against the management of the counties' road department to a special committee to be appointed by the Council.

Auditors' report that counties' accumulated deficit had increased $5,690.34 to $85,128.28.

Finance Committee's decision, approved by the bank, to pay off $10,000 of deficit this year, and to continue this policy of amortization.

Reply from the Ontario Government that application for repeal of special bill passed by the Legislature in 1905 setting the basis of periodic equalization of bridge costs in the united counties was discussed, and was laid on the table for further consideration.

Adoption by the Council of daylight saving for the sessions, conforming with Cobourg's sunlight time.

Morning Session.

Warden Davey's excursion was booked for Tuesday, instead of the customary mid-week date, and in order that the Council might get some of its sessional work well under way, the opening meeting was called for Monday morning. The warden expressed his appreciation of the attendance of the members at the earlier hour, and urged that the committee work be completed as soon as possible for the anticipated adjournment Friday.

The charges made by Reeve C. H. Curtis of Percy Township last December, alleging certain irregularities in the county road department, were laid again on the Council's doorstep by a notification from the Attorney-General's department that the proposed appointment of a commission by the Government to investigate the assertions in three affidavits which Mr. Curtis read at the closing sessions of 1933 was a matter which should be dealt with by the Council itself or referred to the county judge.

The Legislative and By-laws Committee, of which Reeve N. A. MacColl of Campbellford is chairman, put this subject at the head of its agenda, and proceeded in the afternoon to discuss what action should be taken.

Three proposals were advanced in the form of resolution and amendments. The motion suggested that as a matter of economy, saving the county the cost of a judicial enquiry, the Curtis allegations be left to the special county roads commission. An amendment favored appointment of a special committee on the floor of the house for a preliminary review and investigation of the charges and report to the Council as to the advisability of submitting them to Judge L. V. O'Connor. An amendment to the amendment recommended that they be placed in the hands of the judge directly.

Reeve W. J. Duncan, Seymour Township, remarked that the Council had been unanimous last December in asking the department to appoint a commission to deal with the matter. There was no doubt, he said, that the Council was still of one mind in desiring to clear up the reflections on the county road affairs as soon as possible, and that the ratepayers supported this course.

Reeve Norman Green, Cartwright Township, remarked that the cost of an enquiry by the judge might amount to $1,000. In any event he demanded action this session in order that the matter might be cleared up before the end of the year, and that the members of the councils could meet their ratepayers in the confidence of having performed their duty.

Comment on Reeve Curtis.

Reeve Percy Stinson, Millbrook, expressed the opinion that it was a prudent course to consider what the cost of a judicial enquiry might be, and this was one point which a special committee could ascertain.

"A committee could decide whether they thought there was sufficient evidence to place before the judge," Reeve Stinson said. "The matter of economy should be taken into account, but at the same time we don't want to leave any member in a difficult position with the ratepayers regarding these charges. They should be cleared up. I feel that Mr. Curtis was looking after Mr. Curtis when he made those charges last December. I think they were brought in to have a bearing on the elections in his municipality. He said himself that he had a hard fight there."

Reeve Curtis replied that the step he took in making the charges was for the interest of the ratepayers of the united counties.

"I resent anyone saying that I did it for personal reasons. I don't have to take such methods in Percy Township."

Reeve MacColl commented that there were some persons who would be ready enough to make an affidavit, but would not go before a committee, although they would go before a judge. He asked Mr. Curtis if he could have the three men who signed the affidavits appear before a committee.

Mr. Curtis replied that he was not sure that he could. It was suggested that they might be interviewed at once to find out whether they would come before a committee and substantiate their charges.

The discussion gradually resolved into the motion and two amendments, and by a vote of 12 to 10 it was decided to recommend to the Council the appointment of a special committee to investigate the charges and to determine whether they should be referred to the judge, their report to be brought in during the present sessions.

The Auditors' Report.

The Finance Committee, with Reeve W. E. Cooper of Cobourg presiding as chairman, immediately followed Reeve MacColl's committee, passed interim accounts, and carefully read the report of the counties' auditors, Oscar Hudson and Company of Toronto, on the financial affairs of Northumberland and Durham last year.

Part of that report is quoted as follows:

The counties' financial position on December 31 last was summarized as follows:

Counties' deficit on December 31, 1932	$ 79,437.94
Expenditure in 1933	453,928.53
Total	$533,366.47
Income for 1933	448,238.19
Deficit Dec. 31, 1933	85,128.28
	$533,366.47

The indebtedness to the Bank of Toronto for loans at Dec. 31, 1932, amounted to $142,000, and at the end of the fiscal year 1933 was $115,090. The rate of interest is now five per cent.

To meet current expenditure the Council may borrow up to 70 per cent. of the income for the current year.

It will be noted that the deficit was increased during 1933 by $5,690.34, notwithstanding that the budget for the year was substantially lived up. The exceptions are items beyond the control of the Council, namely:

High and continuation school estimates exceeded by $10,966.92.

Old age pensions estimates exceeded by $3,313.03.

Some provision should undoubtedly be made to liquidate the large deficit of $85,128.28, and we suggest that a policy of spreading the levy for the purpose over a maximum period of five years be adopted.

It should be borne upon the Council that the position is entirely in the hands of the bank, who may decide at any time to restrict the loan accommodation, with unpleasant consequences. This possibility presses the absolute necessity of the Council fearlessly doing its duty and meeting its obligations. A start in this direction for the year 1934 would give confidence all round.

We would again like to emphasize that the attendance of the counties' pupils at high and continuation schools outside the counties is largely responsible for the continued deficits. Investigation as to the reasons in the individual cases should be proceeded with, to make sure that the privilege is not being abused, the auditors proposed, and also the question as to whether your own schools within the counties are adequately meeting the requirements of the counties. "Your own schools apparently do not present the attraction to pupils outside the counties that the outside schools present to your own residents, from the fact that no income whatever is received by you from pupils resident in other counties at your high and continuation schools."

In the 1933 estimates provision was only made for high and continuation schools expenditure of $105,000, while the actual expenditure for 1932 was over $125,000. "It would be interesting to know upon what basis the estimate for 1933 was made, in view of these figures.

"We suggest that the requisitions for schools be carefully checked by your committee, and that a copy of audited statement of the high schools accounts for the previous year be required before making payment."

From Drought To Cloudburst Is Lot Of Farmer

The lot of the farmer is anything but a happy one this year. Praying for rain to soak crops parched by a record drought, he is beset, in Iowa, at least by a cloudburst. Here is the result—the main line of the Chicago railway line washed out and freight trains derailed.

WHEAT CIRCLES GROW ALARMED OVER ARGENTINE

Has Already Topped Export Quota of 110,000,000 Bushels by 4,000,000.

BOOKED SHIPS FOR MORE.

Fear "Wheat War" May Include Canada, United States and Australia.

LONDON, Eng., June 12 (C.P. Cable). — A feeling of alarm ran through wheat circles as news spread Argentina had topped her export quota of 110,000,000 bushels by 4,000,000 and had booekd ocean carriage space to export more.

Some said the Latin-American republic had openly tossed overboard the London wheat agreement she signed last year under which her quota was alloted. Others pointed out Argentina's wheat crop had turned out considerably bigger than when she signed the agreement, and that the country had been placed in an awkward position.

While observers in some circles prophesied the Argentine action would result in a "wheat war" involving Canada, the United States and Australia others hoped for a solution of the problem by agreement. These persons pointed out Argentina has no facilities for storing large amounts of wheat.

The fact that the republic had reached a difficult situation regarding its crop became known several weeks ago when its representatives sought an enlargement of its quota at the Rome meeting of the International Wheat Advisory Commission.

Offered Loan.

Subsequently it became increasingly clear that some arrangement would have to be made to save Argentina from over-running her quota and the remaining three chief exporters offered her a "loan" of 40,000,000 from their own quotas.

Argentina was reported anxious to secure actual re-allotment of quotas rather than a "loan" which it would have to repay at some time, and was represented as ready to demand a one-third share of the world's total export allowance of 560,000,000 laid down in the London treaty.

Such a demand was never made and there was no confirmation that the Argentine government actually had contemplated it. Nevertheless the offer of the 40,000,000 by Canada, Australia and the United States went unaccepted and the three governments concerned have not yet received a reply from the Argentina administration.

The Municipal Council of the Township of Percy met in the town hall here Tuesday, June 5. C. H. Curtis, Reeve, was in the chair, other members present were Ray R. Mallory, Deputy Reeve, U. E. Wartman, W. H. Nelson and W. Partridge, councillors.

William Herriot was appointed sheep inspector for balance of 1934 in place of Richard Honey, deceased.

Cyril Churchley was appointed truant officer to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Thomas A. Allen.

Accounts amounting to $110.22 for police village and $284.49 for the township of Percy were ordered paid, after which the council adjourned to meet again July third at ten a.m.

Weddings

MOORE—THOMPSON.

MADOC, June 11. — (Examiner Correspondence.) — A very pretty June wedding took place on Saturday morning, June 2, when Jessie Lois, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thompson, and John William Moore, of Queensboro, son of Mrs. Moore of Toronto, and the late T. H. Moore of Elzevir, took place at the home of the bride's parents, Madoc township. Rev. J. R. Trumpour, assisted by Rev. Stanley E. Morton, of Brockville, uncle of the bride, officiated.

The bride entered the drawing room on the arm of her father, to the strains of the wedding march, played by Miss Mary Moore of Toronto, sister of the groom, and made a pleasing picture under an arch of white lilacs combined with sweet peas. She was beautifully gowned in white triple crepe and lace fashioned on princess lines, with white tulle veil with bandeau of orange blossoms. She carried a cascade bouquet of talisman roses and lily of the valley.

Little Miss Marion Burnside, niece of the groom, in green organdy trimmed with white, and carrying a basket of sweet peas and baby's breath, was the bride's only attendant.

During the signing of the register, Mrs. A. T Ashley of Whitby, very sweetly sang "Because," accompanied by Mrs. Harry Shaw, of Toronto.

Over fifty guests sat down to dinner, served by six girl friends of the bride.

Mrs. Thompson, mother of the bride, assisted in receiving and was gowned in blue printed chiffon. Mrs. Moore, mother of the groom, wore navy printed crepe.

Mr. and Mrs. Moore left on a motor trip to New York State, the bride travelling in a navy blue suit with blue hat, shoes, purse and gloves. They will take up their residence on the old Moore homestead near Queensboro.

MILLER—DONALDSON.

KEENE, June 12. — (Examiner Correspondence.)—A quiet wedding was solemnized on Sunday, June 10th, at 2 p.m. at the St. Paul's Presbyterian manse by Rev. Dr. Barr, of Peterborough, when Margaret Helen, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Donaldson of Otonabee, was united in marriage to Sydney Franklin, son of Mrs. Alexander Miller of Victoria, B.C., and the late Rev. Alexander Miller, B.A.

After the ceremony they left by motor for Muskoka Lakes, where they will be guests of the groom's sister, Mrs. George Harkness.

On their return they will reside in Keene.

CLARKE—SOPHA

MARMORA, June 12 (Examiner Correspondence) — At the United Church parsonage, Williamsburg on Monday, June 4, the wedding was solemnized of Clarence Ralph, son of Mrs. Blanche Clarke of Stirling and Florence Marion, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Sopha of Marmora. Rev. Charles A. Adey was the officiating minister.

The contracting parties were unattended. They will later take up residence in Stirling.

CORKERY LETTER IS MADE PUBLIC

Reason For Resigning Office in Conservative Association Made Quite Clear.

MATTER OF PRINCIPLE.

Peterborough County Liberal-Conservative Association to-day made public the communication in which John R. Corkery tendered his formal resignation as secretary of the Association.

Mr. Corkery, who is secretary of St. Peters' Parish Branch of the Catholic Ratepayers Association, in his letter to Colonel R. E. Birdsall, president of the Association, which is reprinted below, makes it quite clear that he is resigning from the Association merely on principle, feeling that the Catholic ratepayers cannot look to the Conservative administration for any redress on Separate school taxation.

He makes it equally plain that he holds no personal grievances and he acknowledges the cordial relationships that he has enjoyed in the past with members of the Association and expresses the hope that such a relationship will still continue.

Copy of Letter

June 8, 1934.

Colonel R. A. Birdsall,
President, The Peterborough Liberal-Conservative Association,
Birdsall, Ont.

My Dear Colonel Birdsall.—For the reasons hereinafter set out, I am prompted to tender to you and the Executive of the Liberal-Conservative Association of the County of Peterborough my resignation both as a member of the executive and secretary of the association.

I am and for nearly three years past have been the Chairman of the St. Peter's Cathedral Parish Committee of the Catholic Taxpayers' Association of Ontario. This association composed of the Catholic electorate of the province, was formed early in the year 1932 for the purpose, amongst other things, of procuring changes in the law required to secure to the Catholics of Ontario their just share of taxation for Separate Schools. A great deal of data was procured and much publicity given to the aims and purposes of the association, and eventually in the month of January, 1933, the case was presented to the Government during the 1933 session of the Legislature. The above session of the Legislature closed without any statement from Premier Henry although he had previously assured the association that the situation was being studied by him and that the decision as to the policy of the Government in the matter would be conveyed to the association at the earliest possible moment.

At the last moment of the 1934 session of the Legislature the Government announced its decision in respect to the matters referred to it by the association, by which decision certain stated questions were to be submitted to the Privy Council. This announcement came as a great surprise to the association, and the association before expressing any opinion on the Government's decision until after a full consideration of the whole situation, has now definitely reached the conclusion that this proposal of the Government made at the closing moments of the last session of the Legislature and after a great many months of silence can only be regarded as a final attempt to sidestep their very definite responsibility. The Catholic Taxpayers' Association feels that any relief for the Separate Schools in the Province of Ontario can only come from an amendment to the Assessment Act, and that the Government cannot shift the responsibility that is theirs.

By reason of the Government's action and the interpretation placed upon it by the Catholic Taxpayers' Association and which in my opinion is the only logical interpretation to be placed upon the Government's action, you will readily understand that it would be inconsistency on my part to continue to remain a member of the executive of the Liberal-Conservative Association. As a matter of principle and solely guided by what I consider to be the dictates of my own feelings in the matter I am, therefore, compelled to tender my resignation as a member of the executive of your association and secretary of the same. In conveying this message to you I wish to make it perfectly clear that I have only the kindliest feelings toward you, the other members of the executive, and Mr. Lancaster, the candidate. My action has been prompted solely by what I consider has been an evasion of its responsibility by the Government of Ontario who have failed to do justice to a cause in which I am vitally and personally interested.

Let me say that in writing you this letter I am mindful of our pleasant relations in the past which will always be a source of gratification to me.

Yours sincerely,
J. R. CORKERY.

INSPECT CADETS ON WEDNESDAY

Public School Companies Will Parade Individually on Thursday.

COLLEGIATE AT 2.30.

School Cadets of the city are busy shining their brass buttons and polishing their military belts in preparation for inspection parades tomorrow and Thursday. Captain C. C. Mann of Kingston, Cadet officer and general staff officer of Military District No. 3, will review the Collegiate Cadet Corps to-morrow, at 2.30 oclock, and the six companies of Public School Cadets will parade individually for inspection on Thursday.

About 375 Cadets, all ranks, will parade in the Collegiate Corps under the command of Cadet Major Jack Clayton. In preparation Cadet Instructor Captain H. A. Craig, D.C.M., of the Collegiate Staff has been drilling the company two to three hours each week since Easter. The public will be welcome at the display which will take place on the grounds in front of the Collegiate.

The inspection routine will commence with an inspection of the lines followed by the march past in column of platoons, in close column and in column of route. Company manoeuvres and platoon and section drills will then be held. In addition to a physical training displayed by the company as a whole, smaller groups will stage demonstrations of gymnastics, first aid and signalling.

In the review of the Public School Corps, the inspecting party is expected to visit Central, King George and Queen Alexandra Schools Thursday morning, and King Edward, Prince of Wales and Queen Mary in the afternoon. The winner of the Mayor Denne Cup for general corps efficiency for the present season will be decided.

Demonstrations of physical work will feature the Public School inspections.

BIG ROTARY FAIR HELD THIS WEEK

Carnival Will Open on Market Square on Wednesday Night.

TWO BIG NIGHTS.

Old and young alike will be wending their way down to the Market Square on Wednesday and Thursday nights of this week to enter into the fun and frolic of the annual Rotary Carnival. Amusement has been planned for the children as well as grown ups, and this affair has grown to be an institution in the minds of those wishing to enjoy themselves among their friends and at the same time contribute in some measure to the wonderful work made possible from the proceeds of this event in lessening the handicaps and in many cases affecting complete cures for crippled children.

Someone is going to be the proud possessor of a Chevrolet Coach which will be drawn for on Thursday night, and the Rotarians report a good sale of tickets so far. Then there are ten other handsome prizes now on display in The Examiner window, which will be drawn for Wednesday night.

The Weather

Gladning the hearts of the farmers, 4.1 inches of gently refreshing rain fell over Peterborough and district at dawn to-day. Overcast skies that prevailed for a greater part of the morning, held promise of more rain.

Moderate temperatures were enjoyed following the rain, the thermometer attaining a maximum of 71 degrees this afternoon, as compared with an overnight temperature of 55 degrees.

TORONTO, June 12.—Synopsis: A depression of moderate intensity, moving eastward across Ontario has caused showers and thunderstorms in many districts from the lake region to the Maritime Provinces. Pressure is also low over the Western provinces and the Rocky Mountain states, but relatively high over Hudson Bay and on the Labrador coast. It has been moderately warm with a few scattered showers in Alberta and Saskatchewan, but temperatures have been below normal in nearly all other parts of the Dominion.

Lower Lake Region and Georgian Bay: Fresh southerly to westerly winds; mostly cloudy with a few scattered showers. Wednesday — Fresh north-west winds; fair and rather cool.

Northern Ontario: Northerly winds; partly cloudy with a few scattered showers; quite cool tonight. Wednesday — Moderate northerly winds; fair and cool.

Ottawa and Upper St. Lawrence Valley: Fresh winds; unsettled with showers or thunderstorms. Wednesday—Fresh north-west winds; mostly fair and rather cool.

250,000 STEEL WORKERS ADAMANT ON WALKOUT

PITTSBURGH, June 12.—(AP)—Threats of a steel strike in the United States had solidified today into a concrete movement for a walkout of the union contingent of the 250,000 raw metal workers.

Demanding recognition, officials of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Tin and Steel Workers, completed plans for a meeting Thursday at which a formal strike call is expected to be issued unless industry capitulates.

"We are asking only one thing, recognition," said Michael Tighe, president of the association.

The industrialists were represented as opposed to union recognition on the grounds that it involved abrogation of the "open shop principle," but agreed to a government proposal for a three-man arbitration board.

TRAVELLING GAVEL PRESENTED MISTRESS OF LAKEFIELD L.O.B.A.

Rev. C. D. Daniels, Peterboro, Gives Stirring Address—Other Guest Speakers.

OPEN SESSION.

LAKEFIELD, June 11 (Examiner Correspondence.— A well-attended open meeting of the L.O.B.A. Northern Light Lodge No. 381 was held in the Lakefield Town Hall on Wednesday evening, with the Worthy Mistress, Sister Edith Nicholls in the chair.

The meeting opened with a verse of "Faith of Our Fathers," with Miss Ethel Blakely at the piano. Bro. J. E. Holden, County Master of the Orange Lodge, was called to the platform to act as chairman for the remainder of the evening. Walter Walker contributed a couple of guitar selections, one being the accompaniment to a "Grumbling" song, which brought down the house. Little Jean Millar got a great hand with her recitation, "Kittens and Babies," with "Girls on Queen Street," as an encore. Mr. Morley Nixon sang, "I Can't Change It," an amusing number.

Rev. W. B. Walker was the first speaker, although not a member of the Orange Order, Mr. Walker expressed his sympathy with it and its aims.

H. J. Brown contributed a reading, "Their Daughter's Voice," which had a special appeal to the older people.

The Efficiency League Orchestra gave a couple of selections, medleys of songs. Those taking part: Mrs. H. E. Moore (pianist), Mrs. MacMillan, Mrs. Warren Payne, Misses Grace Yonge and Myrtle Armstrong, Rev. W. R. Archer, B.A., Messrs. G. W. Payne, Ralph Darling and Jack Hendren.

Extends Good Wishes

Rev. W. R. Archer, B.A., gave a short address referring to last year's open meeting which he attended by invitation. He stated he was not a member of the Orange Order but has often considered joining, for he has the fullest sympathy. On this, the anniversary of the L.O.B.A., he extended heartiest good wishes.

Mrs. D. H. MacMillen sang very sweetly, "Love Calls Me to Your Garden," and as an encore, "The Orange Parade." Rev. R. J. Burton was one of the local clergy present who is a member of the Orange Order.

Mrs. Stanley Bryce of Peterborough presented to Miss Nicholls the travelling gavel, which is an emblem of the fraternity of the lodges and which in due course will be passed on to another lodge.

The Guest Speaker

Rev. C. D. Daniels of Peterborough was the guest speaker of the evening.

"We are," said Mr. Daniels, "we Orange people, Protestants, but we have no grudge against the Roman Catholics; we would defend them as readily as we would Protestants. They do live in their faith and are a standing lesson of fidelity to their faith, which should make many Protestants blush with shame. In the beginning the Order was established as a protest against religious persecution and oppression and the signs, ceremonies and secrets, all symbols, have grown with the years. Brotherhood and Freedom are the keynotes of the Orange Order, and they stand ready to defend anyone oppressed.

The closing number on the program was a reading by Mr. Wallace Anderson, "The Railway Train."

Following the program the visiting lodge members were entertained in a social way with the ladies serving refreshments.

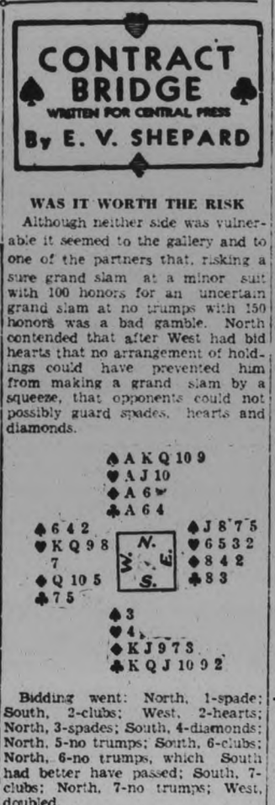
WAS IT WORTH THE RISK

Although neither side was vulnerable it seemed to the gallery and to one of the partners that, risking a sure grand slam at a minor suit with 100 honors for an uncertain grand slam at no trumps with 150 honors was a bad gamble. North contended that after West had bid hearts that no arrangement of holdings could have prevented him from making a grand slam by a squeeze, that opponents could not possibly guard spades, hearts and diamonds.



Bidding went: North, 1-spade; South, 2-clubs; West, 2-hearts; North, 3-spades; South, 4-diamonds; North, 5-no trumps; South, 6-clubs; North, 6-no trumps, which South had better have passed; South, 7-clubs; North, 7-no trumps; West, doubled.

The opening lead of the 2 of hearts marked West as holding 5. West's Q lost to the ace and the battle was on. North was confident from the first that it would be impossible for West to guard both hearts and one of the other suits, as either spades or diamonds. Also that East could not guard both spades and diamonds. The declarer was confident that by watching the discards he could tell which side suit would yield him the grand slam through a squeeze.

First 6 clubs were run. North let go his 10 of hearts on the fifth trick and his 6 and 9 of spades on the sixth and seventh. West discarded his 3 lowest hearts and the 2 of spades, which made North confident that West was short in spades and held the Q of diamonds. East discarded 3 hearts and the 2 of diamonds, as if he held a stop to spades.

Next North ran off his 3 good spades. West followed suit on the first 2 spades, then at the tenth trick West had to let go the 5 of diamonds. He could then be read as having the K of hearts and just 2 diamonds. East followed suit on all 3 spade leads, showing that he held the missing J of that suit and just 2 diamonds.

The rest was easy. All North had to do was to lead his ace of diamonds, followed by his 6. Knowing that East and West held 2 diamonds apiece, of course, he put up dummy's K, dropping the Q from West's hand, and leaving the J good for the thirteenth trick and his grand slam, which netted 150 points more than South would have made at 7-clubs.

THE HANDICAP OF BEING SECOND BIDDER

At rare intervals you pick up a hand bristling with honors, causing visions of a certain game, with probably a slam. Your partner passes and the opponents at your right makes an opening bid, usually destroying your slam possibilities, and often making it difficult for you to convince partner of your great strength. We will take a few examples of the sort, to illustrate your best course in each case.

South deals and passes. West bids 1 spade, which makes it more difficult for you than if he had made a minor bid. Suppose West holds one of the two following types of hands:

(A)—
♠ A K Q 6 3 ♠ A 7 2
♥ 8 4 ♣ 9 5 4

(B)—
♠ K Q J 6 3 ♠ A 7 2
♥ 8 4 ♣ K 5 4

You hold the following hand:

(1)—
♠ None ♠ K Q J
♥ A K Q J 9 7 6 ♣ A Q J

There are even chances for your partner to hold the missing K of clubs in case West has Hand A, but instead of making an opening bid of 3 hearts, to show game in hand as you would do as dealer, you have to shut off further adverse bidding by calling 4 hearts.

Holding Hand 2 you plan to open with a forcing bid of 2 clubs, while Hand 3 causes you to contemplate as opening bid of 2 hearts. West bids 1 spade. Your best course is to make an informatory double. If West bids Hand A, and your partner holds the K of clubs, there may be a small slam at his best suit, but neither of you dare bid more than game. If West bids Hand B, and your partner holds the ace of spades, there may be a small slam, but only game can be bid. That handicap of being second bidder is a serious one at times.

♠ None ♠ K Q J 8
♥ A K Q 6 ♣ A Q J 10 3

(3)—
♠ 5 ♠ K Q J 8
♥ A K Q 6 ♣ A Q J 10

Five trumps cannot stand being ruffed frequently in case partner is short of your suit. This causes Hands 4 and 5 to be better for informatory doubles than 2 hearts, when West makes his opening bid of 1 spade.

(4)—
♠ None ♠ K Q J 8
♥ A K Q J 8 ♣ A Q J 7

(5)—
♠ 5 ♠ K Q J
♥ K Q J 10 3 ♣ A Q J 7

Ordinarily your partner will respond to your informatory double with a minor suit call. If West passes, overcall your partner with 2 hearts. This shows not fewer than 5 strong cards in your suit. Your informatory double has shown strength in three suits. The inference from your subsequent bid is for partner to support you on 3 hearts, rather than rebid his minor suit, or show the other minor suit. If partner either rebids or shows a second minor suit, you must help his call.

Your Health

By DR LOGAN CLENDENING

Just after the war, the only one of the ductless glands about which we knew very much was the thyroid. About the others we had a few scraps of clinical knowledge. We knew a few diseases, which were considered to be very rare, which they were thought to produce, but our means of recognizing them and our means of treating them were both very inadequate.

In the short space of time which has intervened, there has been discovered and made available for treatment the active extract of the pancreatic glands, which are concerned with diabetes, the extract of the adrenal glands, the extract of the parathyroid glands, and several active extracts from the pituitary gland. Such methods of examination as determination of the basal metabolic rate and blood chemistry have greatly aided our methods of diagnosis in this field.

In no department has our knowledge been more actively advanced within the last few years than in the diseases of the parathyroid glands, and since we have already considered in this column researches on the other glands it might be interesting to review briefly what modern research has revealed concerning them.

The parathyroid glands are four small glands which lie behind the thyroid in the neck. More than any other of the ductless glands, they appear to have only a single function, and to be dependent very little on the action of the other glands for stimulation or retardation of function. The function of the parathyroids is the fixation and utilization of calcium in the body.

Calcium is a very necessary ingredient of the diet, and is obtained usually in abundance in any average diet, being especially abundant in milk and vegetables. But the mere entrance of calcium into the stomach does not mean that it is going to be utilized for its proper purposes, which are to form and keep the bones and teeth healthy and to keep the muscles in good tone. This last function is one that is not widely recognized, but the fact remains that unless there is a proper balance of various salts in the blood stream, the muscles do not function smoothly.

The secretion of the parathyroid glands is the substance which allows the calcium which is taken in the food to be utilized by the bones and muscles. We might expect, therefore, that disease of the parathyroid glands would affect these two systems and so it proves.

We have known for a long time of a disease called "tetany", which is due to lack of calcium utilization. It consists in convulsive movements of the muscles, and occurs especially in children with rickets (where there is also calcium maladjustment), and in the mother before and after delivery (because she had upset her calcium balance in furnishing calcium to the bones of the growing baby).

Treatment of tetany has been very unsatisfactory until the use of the recently isolated active extract of the parathyroid gland.

Tetany is due, then, to lack of parathyroid function, but we have also discovered a set of symptoms which are due to too much secretion. These symptoms, as might be expected, are the exact opposite of tetany. The muscles, instead of being too active, are sluggish, weak and easily fatigued. Besides this, there frequently occur strange degenerations in the bones, and one form of the disease is described as the occurrence of calcium stones in the kidney. Far from being rare, as was formerly supposed, a recent article reports 17 cases found in one clinic.

Government revenue of Lithuania in the first two months of this year was greater than in the same period of 1932.

BE BEAUTIFUL

By GLADYS GLAD

The beautiful Jean Harlow, whose platinum blonde locks are the envy of a good many of the femmes in the movie colony, often becomes riled because she can't spend as much time in the sun as she'd like. Jean's beautiful hair, it seems, when exposed to the sun, darkens. Instead of bleaching, the sun singes it to a shade several tones toward brown. Jean discovered this after she had anew swimming pool constructed. She was swimming daily while at work in one of her best known pictures, and a studio cameraman informed her that her hair was photographing darker. And as a consequence, ever since Jean has had to use protective measures.

Of course, sun and air are excellent for the hair and scalp, in proper doses. But overexposure is as bad for the hair as it is for the skin. And so the thing to do always is to protect the hair from the sun's rays. What with beach umbrellas, floppy beach hats and wide-brimmed street hats, that shouldn't be much of a task.

The big girl athlete who takes her tennis, golfing and swimming seriously, however, often refuses to be bothered with a hat. She's a regular Eleanor Holm when she's at the beach, a regular Helen Wills when she's on the links. She's out for sport and forgets about her hair or any other part of her personal appearance.

However, there's a means of protection for even such femmes who don't want to bother with hats, umbrellas and the like. And that is the protection afforded by the use of a good oil. If you're going to the beach, or intend playing tennis or golf, take a fine atomizer with you. Fill it with a good oil and then spray your hair with it before you go out into the sunlight. Mineral oil, which is one of the chief ingredients of brilliantine, is especially good for this purpose. Don't worry that your hair will appear greasy afterward, for you'll be surprsied how quickly the sun will absorb that oil. And yet the oil will afford your hair sufficient protection to keep it soft and glossy.

MORE POLITICS FOR SNOWDEN

Returning to Game Ex-Chancellor of Exchequer Announces—Raps Premier.

NO DEFINITE PURPOSE.

LONDOU, June 12 (A.P.)—"I am returning to politics," Lord (Philip) Snowden, former Chancellor of the Exchequer, announced to-day in the Daily Mail.

Lord Snowden rapped Premier Ramsay MacDonald, asserting "the government has at its head a man whose vanity, weakness and incoherence will be the nation's undoing if he continues in office."

MacDonald, he said, "is a mere Tory instrument." Lord Snowden charged the governments domestic and foregn affairs were muddled and "there is no unity, no definite purpose, no intelligible ideal in anything it attempts."

"In everything it has done or attempted to do so far," he continued, "it has shown a lamentable lack of leadership. The failure of the disarmament conference was due in large measure to its policy of drift and indefiniteness.

"Other countries complain with some justification they never knew where Simon (Sir John Simon, Foreign Secretary) stood. Nobody knows where the government stands in foreign policy."

Arrangements Made For District Annual

MOUNT PLEASANT, June 12 (Examiner Correspondence) — The June meeting of the Mount Pleasant Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Ira Lowe with a good attendance of members and some visitors.

The roll call secretary, Mrs. T. C. Morden reported that Mrs. Thos. Graham's side won out in the roll call contest and Mrs. Norman Fee's side will be expected to put on a treat at the next meeting.

Arrangements were made regarding the annual district meeting which will be held in the Women's Institute Hall at Mount Pleasant on June 22nd, when the local ladies will entertain the visitors from the eight branches in East Durham district at the noon hour. The meeting will consist of a morning session commencing at 10 o'clock and also an afternoon session.

Mrs. Eric McLean and Miss Ruth Tully were named as captains for the roll call contest for the coming year.

A splendid program was given in charge of Mrs. E. McLean and Mrs. M. Handley, which consisted of a reading by Mrs. Morden "Criticism"; reading by Ruth Tully, "Neighbors"; Mrs. Thomas Graham recited, "Jane Brown"; reading by Mrs. McLean "Why Worry."

Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by the committee, Mrs. Tully and Mrs. Jones, while a social hour was enjoyed.

Today's Recipes

Strawberry Chiffon Pie—One tablespoon granulated gelatin, one-fourth cup cold water, one-half cup boiling water, three-fourths cup sugar, one cup crushed strawberries, pulp and juice, one-fourth teaspoon salt, two egg whites, one-fourth cup sugar, one-half cup cream. Soak gelatin in cold water, add boiling water, sugar, strawberry mixture and salt. Cool until thick. Beat egg whites until stiff and dry and fold in sugar. Fold egg whites and cream into gelatin mixture. Put in baked pie shell, garnish with whipped cream and whole strawberries.

FACTS AND FANCIES

Strawberry Jelly

Four cups (two pounds) juice, seven and one-half cups (three and one-fourth pounds) sugar, two tablespoons strained lemon juice, one bottle fruit pectin. To prepare juice, crush thoroughly or grind about three quarts fully ripe berries. Place in jelly cloth or bag and squeeze out juice. Squeeze and strain the juice from one medium lemon. Measure sugar, strawberry juice, and lemon juice into large saucepan, mix well and bring to a full rolling boil over hottest fire. To reduce foaming, one-fourth teaspoon of butter may be added. Boil hard four minutes, stirring constantly. Add bottled fruit pectin, then bring again to a full rolling boil and boil hard one-half minute. Remove from fire, skim, pour quickly. Paraffin hot jelly at once. Makes about ten glasses (six fluid ounces each).

Takes Out Grease Spots

To remove oil or grease spots, cover with powdered chalk, let the chalk remain for an hour or so, then brush off. For candle grease—scrape off with a blunt instrument. Place a piece of blotting paper or soft brown paper over the spot and iron gently with a warm iron, moving the paper so as to carry off the grease. Do not have the iron very hot. And do not use much pressure or the grease will sink down instead of coming out.

Cleaning Pewter

To brighten pewter, soak the pieces for a day or two in one quart of water to which a piece of potash the size of a hickory nut has been added. Take from water, rub carefully with a cork dipped in oil, then polish with a chamois skin and whiting. When pewter has once been cleansed it may be kept bright by washing with hot water and soap.

The members of Vimy Ridge L.O.B.A. celebrated their seventeenth anniversary on Tuesday evening, by following their regular meeting, by holding a banquet served in the Orange Hall, Brock Street, and attended by visitors from Lindsay and sister lodges of the city. The long tables were very attractively decorated with frilly ruffles and runners of pink and mauve and lovely bouquets of tulips, lilacs, and iris. The head table was centered by a handsome birthday cake decorated with seventeen candles. A dainty corsage bouquet was placed at each plate as a favor for the guests. Mr G. Porter, Grand Lodge officer, acted as chairman and toastmaster. After a few congratulatory remarks he proposed: A toast to The King, which was responded to by singing the National Anthem; a toast to The Grand Lodge was proposed by R.W. Bro. Ritchie, and responded to by R.W. Sister Moore of Lindsay; a toast to The Visitor was proposed by Sister Monk, Past Mistress of Vimy Ridge, and responded to by R.W. Just Between Us Women

As weddings have grown bigger and better since the depression commenced to lift, so the wedding breakfast has taken on new formalities.

* * * * * * *

In such case special care should be taken with every detail of the table furnishings. The table may be made exceedingly attractive as well as correct, however, without employing elaborate table ware or decorative features. The choice of silverware and china depends largely on the character of the menu.

* * * * * * *

The central feature should be an elaborate decorative unit to hold a profusion of flowers whose color will dominate the table. The container may be a silver bowl or dish, which are to be found in a great variety of designs. A formal note is lent to the table by groups of silver candlesticks. The candles should be tall, so that they will remain lighted during the meal.

* * * * * * *

The table covering should be of lace or linen, preferably lace. Before each guest is placed first of all a service plate which may be either china or silver. The napkin, harmonizing with the design of the table covering, is carefully folded and placed on the service plate.

* * * * * * *

Since the breakfast probably will commence with bouillon, a silver soup spoon is laid at the extreme right. At a well ordered breakfast, the bouillon may be followed by chicken a la king or sweetbreads, which call for a special knife and fork. The knife is laid at the right, next to the bouillon spoon. The fork intended for the chicken course is placed at the left. With a menu of this nature, a heavy dinner knife is unnecessary—the smaller dessert knife being more appropriate.

* * * * * * *

The next course may be a fruit salad or its equivalent, for which a second fork is laid on the left next to the plate. If the menu includes another dish, a third knife and fork are added, making in all three forks on the left and two knives and a spoon on the right. The butter plate, with a special silver knife, should be placed at the right of the service plate. When coffee is served, a silver spoon accompanies the cup and saucer. The sugar bowl should be supplied with silver tongs. The saucers for holding bonbons or nuts should be preferably of silver. And the cups for water or wine may be of crystal or silver.

MOTHER OF QUINTUPLETS HAS TIP FOR MRS. DIONNE

KEVIL, Ky., June 12.—(AP)—The mother of five quintuplet boys born 38 years ago at Mayfield, Ky., rolled back the years today to recall the time when the world was talking about her babies, those babies, she said with a note of pain, who were killed by "too many people."

The woman is Mrs. Elizabeth Lyon, now 78 years old, who lives near here with a son Marion Lyon. She bore 13 children, four of whom are still living. The quintuplets died one by one after five days. The sturdiest of the five, John, lived to be 14 days old.

Mrs. Lyon blamed "those crowds" who swarmed to their humble home and handled their babies, for their early death.

"I'm going to write to this mother in Canada tomorrow," she said, and tell her what to do. I'm going to tell her to keep everybody away from those babies of hers; if she doesn't she will lose them all. But I don't think the doctor will let anybody touch them."

EXPECT TANGLED KNOX COLLEGE DEBATE TO-DAY

Pension Fund Report Shows Increase of $458,000 in Seven Years.

FORMOSA DISCUSSED.

Necessity of Maintaining Relations With Churches in Old Land Emphasized.

(By Harold J. Fair—C.P. Staff Writer).

TORONTO, June 12 (C.P.). — Final disposition of the tangled Knox College question was expected by commissioners to the 60th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada as they gathered at Knox Church to-day for what was heralded as the most momentous session of the present Assembly.

The committee investigating the proposal to restore Prof. Lloyd Morrow to his Chair at Knox College was scheduled to turn in its report and that would throw open the debate on the proposed reinstatement of Dr. Thomas Eakin to the principalship of Knox and his exchange of positions with Principal F. Scott MacKenzie of the Presbyterian College, Montreal.

Knox College, the business committee decided Saturday, would not come up till this afternoon. Meanwhile the morning session faced a mass of business delayed by yesterday's lengthy debates on the Formosa Mission and the Pension Board.

Despite almost an entire afternoon devoted to the Pension Board, final discussion of it had to be held over till this morning. The debate followed criticism of the board of administration by Rev. Dr. D. T. L. McKerroll of Toronto, chairman of the Pension Board.

Pension Fund Grows.

Dr. McKerroll reported increase of the pension fund from $467,000 in 1927 to $925,000 at present. In reply to a commissioner, he said the board of administration owed it $44,000 on which interest was being paid at five per cent.

Rev. W. D. Reid, Westmount, Que., said missionaries were kept on fields and their salaries held at ordinary levels with money that "should be paid to the pension fund."

This drew an explanation from James Dutton, Peterborough, chairman of the board of administration, that the fund had almost built up sufficient capital to enable it to pay annuities out of the income.

he only other item on the afternoon program was a report of the committee on correspondence with other churches. It urged the necessity of maintaining relations with churches in the Old Land, from which immigration provided potential strength for the Church. The Moderator and Assembly paid tribute to Dr. Robert Johnston, St. Catharines, convenor of the committee.

Last night the Assembly discussed evangelism and Sabbath schools. Rev. W. F. McConnell, Paris, Ont., presented the report of the committee on evangelism and church life, in the absence through illness of the convenor, Rev. Patterson Hall, Galt. Dr. W. H. Leathem, Ottawa, suggested the revival of pastoral letters.

A meeting of this executive is to be held in the fall, to plan for the winter's activities for each department of the Sunday school work.

OUR MAIL

Do not customs change? I almost missed an examination once because I did not put in enough punctuation marks. Now I am sometimes criticised for using too many. For the fun of it I looked over a few old rules and find I would be plucked according to these rules were I to leave out marks as we are now told to do. I met some visiting teachers laughing over saying, dive, dove, diven. Now it is used by good speakers.

When I was a child many of the older well-educated gentlemen who visited said arithm-e-tic, commit-te-e and so on. Meat meant food, corn meant grain. I can remember hearing discussion whether Manitoba should be pronounced Manitob-a-. I have been told the Indian would be with the acent on the second syllable. To me it is the most euphonious of the three. Many claim the reason the Bible is not read more is because so much of the language is obsolete or almost so.

But everything changes. There could be no progress without change. Even though all changes cannot possibly be for the best.

Suppose you have electric fans in the office. We hear the buzz of mosquitoes. They do not seem to mind sprays so much as they did other years.

I am just trying to cool off and took to thinking about you after I finished a letter.

Very best wishes,
Sincerely yours,
"Quid Est."

Dear Quid Est:

It was just lovely to get your letter. You are such a faithful neighbor and your letters are always so nice. They always contain such sweet messages and always something constructive. Aren't you glad we have had some rain. It will help the crops so much and how lovely the weather is after it. Last week the days were so very warm it was very hard to keep one's mind on one's work. But these last few days are just about right for we who have to toil indoors.

Do write again soon, Quid Est.
Sincerely,
Anne Wilcox

INSIDE THE PADDOCK

BY ART MURRAY

THERE ARE many funny incidents happen around race tracks but here is one we think is outstanding. A gentleman who plied his trade as a bookie was napped by the law outside the gate at Long Branch the other day and was duly brought before the magistrate at Mimico and fined twenty-five smackers. A friend who was doing a little impromtu spieling and impromptu spieling and racing fans to patronize his pal, dug down into his jeans and produced the money to pay the fine. Before the races started the next day, the cadi received a phone call from the bookie who requested his slips back so he could payoff, otherwise he would be mobbed and he could not do it without the figures.

When he was arrested outside the fence as the fourth race was being run, he had a single piece of note paper with a series of initials and figures on it, which the bench deciphered as his record of bets, and kept as a crown exhibit. In answering the telephone communication, the cadi replied, "I suppose the public who bet are entitled to their money back, so I'll give you a copy," and accordingly told him to drop around and get it at his office.

BOSCOBEL WHO was only claimed last Friday by the Smallman stable did the necessary for his new owners on Monday by winning from a shifty field. It was Smallman who first brought this horse to Canada two years ago so it looks as if he appreciates being back in his old barn . . . Before Long Branch opened we told you that Lloyd Gentry, the trainer of the Hatch stable would win a number of purses. Well, he has won at least one race every day since the meet opened and sometimes more, capping his latest win by slipping Indiantown over yesterday.

Harry Hatch has split his large string into two divisions, leaving one at Long Branch and shipping the other to Blue Bonnets in charge of Bill Bringloe, the former Seagram trainer, and in passing we might mention that he won his very first start in Montreal yesterday when Sweepvale clicked in the first race. The older racing fans will remember Bill Bringloe when he saddled Sir Harry for Seagram's and won the Aqua Caliente Derby a few years ago with a purse of one hundred thousand dollars attached.

CRAPSHOOTER HAS had no luck since coming to Canada, but class will eventually tell and he will gather in his share of purses before long. Dave Garrity has been shooting Poet's Dream his last couple of starts but has not been very successful. We guess it will be Dufferin where this one will find his racing legs, as that is his old stamping ground. . . . Below Cost is another they have been trying hard to put down in front, but all their luck has been bad. He will also do it before long. . . . Tomorrow is closing day at Long Branch and there is no racing on Thursday or Friday but on Saturday Dufferin will throw open its gates and the gee gees that can take the sharp curves will be in their element.

FASHION-CRAFT AND KEENE COP SOFTBALL VICTORIES

RALLY IN 7TH GIVES NEWARK 6-3 DECISION

Four Double Plays Prominent Part in Toronto's 5-3 Victory.

TWIN FALL FOR WINGS.

(By the Associated Press)

Since taking command of the International League pennant race five days ago, Newark Bears have looked more like the team that swept through the regular season last year, only to lose in the playoffs.

Yesterday it was the combined hurling of Charlie Devens and Marvin Dukke Plus a late-inning rally that gave the Bears a 6-3 decision over Montreal. Johnny Pomorski held the league leaders to a pair of runs until the seventh but then they unlimbered their guns and drove in three runs, necessitating the calling of Orlin Collier to the rescue.

Chief's Lose Second

Failure to connect in the pinches cost the Syracuse Chiefs their second straight game at the hands of Toronto Maple Leafs. The score was 5-3.

The Chiefs connected with eight hits and received 10 free trips to first base from Walter Hilcher. Jimmy Pattison and Charlie Lucas but four double plays by the Toronto infield stopped any budding rallies.

Murray Howell was the big gun of the Leafs nine-hit attack off Jim McCloskey. He drove in three runs with a pair of doubles.

Wings Drop Twin

Second place Rochester suffered a severe jolt as the Red Wings dropped both ends of a twilight-night doubleheader to Albany Senators. Albany won the seven-inning first game, 3-2, by scoring two runs in the sixth and one in the seventh, and then went on to capture the night contest, 11-7, scoring seven runs in the fifth.

Buffalo's Bisons dropped back to sixth position when they took a 10-3 licking from Baltimore. Puccinelli, Taitt and Asby clouted home runs in the fifth when Baltimore scored eight runs and sewed up the game. Euel Moore went the route for the Orioles, allowing six hits including home runs by Bill Regan and Ace Elliott.

CLOTHIERS WIN FROM ELECTRICS

Two-run Rally in Tenth Frame Gives Craftsemn 13-11 Victory.

SEE-SAW AFFAIR.

Fashion-Crafts worked two runs across the plate in the tenth inning to cop a 13-11 nod over C.G.E. in an exciting men's softball game at Central last night. After piling up an early lead, the Clothiers fell before a seventh-inning rally that gave C.G.E. an 11-all tie and forced the contest into overtime before it was settled. Four pitchers were used, two to a side.

Chuck Butcher went along nicely behind a good lead till wildness chased him in the seventh. Old Bill Simmons went in and allowed only one hit in three and a third innings, fanning one and walking two. Butcher had given a dozen hits, struck out seven and issued nine walks. Fred Martin started for C.G.E. but gave way in the fourth, having been nicked for six safe clouts while he fanned one and walked two. Jack Heffernan took his place and pitched good ball the rest of the way, holding his rivals to six hits—three of them in the tenth—and striking one out besides walking two. None of the hurlers got good support.

An error and hits by Gray and Delahaye gave Fashion-Craft two in the first. They got three next time out on a miscue, walk, Gray's single and Butcher's triple. Wiley singled in the third and got around on two errors. In the fourth they chased in five runs on three boots, three walks, Gainey's single and McDougall's lucky homer when Osterland misjudged the ball. They didn't get another till the tenth when singles by Gray, Russell and Gainey, with Delahaye's sacrifice, sent in two.

A walk and singles by Jones and Weese gave C.G.E. their first marker in the opening stanza. They got one more in the fourth on hits by Newson, Osterland and Heffernan. Two counted in the fifth on Grant's homer, singles by Weese and Miller and two walks. They tied it up with seven in the seventh on singles by Weese and Newson, two errors, three wild pitches and five walks. Fleming's hit in the tenth was wasted.

Gray led the winners at bat with three hits in five times. Gainey and Gillespie got two each, while Butcher hit a triple in one official appearance. Weese and Newson topped the losers with three hits each out of five trips. A Wiley-to-Clarke double-play, and catches by Gray and Newson featured the fielding, which was ragged in spots for both sides. The teams:

Fashion-Craft: McDougall, 3b; Gray, c; Delahaye, rf; Wiley, 2b; Gainey, ss; Gillespie, cf; Gardner, lf; Clarke, 1b; Butcher, p; Simmons, p; Russell, 2b.

C.G.E.: Jones, 1b; Grant, lf; Weese, 2b; Miller, cf; Newson, 3b; Osterland, rf; Walsh, c; Fleming, ss; Martin, p; Heffernan, p.

Getting Ready For Hockey Season

After seeing Jean Pusie on the ice, either with the New York Rangers or London, it is difficult to tell from the above photo whether he is training for boxing bouts or for next winter's hockey season. Jean was one of those "color" players who was so highly colored that they couldn't hold him in the N. H. L. With London he was a dangerous player—not so much with the puck and stick but with his fists, and woe betide the man who crossed him. But Jean is actually a boxer and a wrestler, and here he is in his training quarters in Montreal.

The first year's the toughest, especially for major league pitchers, but a surprisingly large number of yearlings appear to have made the grade this season.

More than a dozen youngsters, about evenly divided between the two leagues, have shown enough stuff to indicate their jobs are safe. Someo f them may take their places among baseball's pitching greats before they're through.

Most conspicuously in the limelight recently has been Johnny Murphy, erstwhile Fordham athlete, to whose brilliant work in a crisis New York Yankees owe one large vote of thanks.

Used principally in relief roles at first, Johnny took over a starting assignment when the Yankee staff, save only Vernon Gomez, collapsed. Since then he has won four games and lost only one. Gomez, in the same span, has won three and lost one and together they have kept the Yankees in the race. They may get help soon, however, for Johnny Broaca's three-hit game against the Athletics last week, even though he lost it, indicated the Yale alumnus will be a useful fellow to have around.

Cascarella Going Back

Joe Cascarella won four in a row for the A's to become the early season sensation but the former Jersey City twirler now has taken four beatings in succession and Connie Mack's best bet right now appears to be young Alton Benton, a right hander from Oklahoma City. Benton has won his last three starts, the last a six-hitter in which he shaded Broaca.

Gets Five Victories

Buck Newsom has been a workhorse for Rogers Hornsby's Browns. The talkative right hander has pitched in 13 games and allowed 85 hits in 85 innings and won five victories against four defeats. Fritz Ostermueller, young southpaw, has rounded into form for Boston Red Sox and Eldon Auker's relief pitching has helped Mickey Cochrane's Detroit Tigers, now leading the American League.

In the National League, Paul Dean, younger and less Dizzy half of the Dean brothers, has chalked up six consecutive victories and Curt Davis has developed into a valuable member of Jimmy Wilson's Philadelphia ensemble. Davis has won five games and lost four with a seventh place club.

The Cubs have two fine prospects in Big Jim Weaver and Bill Lee. Weaver won two games for St. Louis but was turned back to Newark because the price tag on him was too high. The Cubs promptly stepped in and bought him. He has won three games in a row for them. Lee started out with two successive shutouts but has been getting his bumps lately.

Ralph Birkofer, pitching his first full season for the Pirates, has won six games and lost two, and Joe Bowman has been considerable help to Bill Terry's crippled staff.

Yesterday's major league open date was a prelude to a new east-west series, starting today. The Eastern clubs of the National club open their second tour of the West while the western clubs of the American League are invading the Atlantic seaboard.

RURALITES WIN SLOPPY BATTLE

Keene Girls Stage Four Run Rally in 9th to Take One Run Lead.

VICTORY LEAD LOOP.

Westclox lost a chance of sending three teams into a tie for first place in the ladies' softball loop last night when they were beaten by the Keene team, on the latter's diamond 16 to 15 in a sloppily played league game, and the Rurals stepped into first place in the standing with two wins and one loss in three starts.

The Clock-Makers led the homesters right up to the ninth frame when Keene staged a four run rally to take a one run lead. Westclox counted once in the ninth to even it up, but failed to hold the opposition who tallied the winning run on three bad errors and a single. Mary McCarthy pitched the first four innings for the winners but issued a flock of walks and weakened in the fourth when Westclox sent in seven runs. Her sister, Marilyn took over the hurling duties in the fifth and gave a masterful performance that marks her as Keene's outstanding pitching threat. She fanned three, walked three and allowed only two hits in five innings. Barbara Blade went the route for the locals, twirling steady ball, but her teammates gave a ragged fielding display to lose the decision, Grace Hawkes made a great catch of a high fly while running backwards for the fielding feature of the battle and laced out a homer and triple. Laura Chartren had a triple and double. Irene Short with a homer and triple led the Keene batters and Grace McCarthy hit a homer.

The teams:

Westclox: Ferguson, ss; Chartren, 3b; Hawkes, 2b; Mortimer, 1b; Webb, c; Harris, rf Blade, p; Merrett, lf; Crary, cf.

Keene: Cocks, c; Brown, 2b; G. McCarthy, cf; Nelson, ss; L. McCarthy, 3b; M. McCarthy, p; I. Short, 1b; Wedlock, lf; Marilyn McCarthy, p; Gainor, lf.

GOLF FACTS NOT THEORIES!

By ALEX. J. MORRISON

Recently I've been teaching classes in one of the big department stores in New York city.

Record crowds have attended these classes. This has been most flattering to me but in order to weigh each person's application I always ask them why they come to me. Most of them have either read my book or follow these articles.

They all assure me that they have made up their minds about the practicability of my instructions and they are determined to stick to my 'theories."

I tell all as I'm saying to you now, determination and will power held but real improvement comes only from getting down to making the correct swing.

Most golf instructors prefer to string along with the pupil's inclination to learn the grip first, then look to body positions and movements later.

The result is that the player never gets around to learning the proper body action and balance.

It's the first thing the successful player learned as a boy, and it could be learned by older people if made as the first step.

The same thing applies to repairing the swing.

All faults originate with incorrect hip action. When trying to learn or fix up the swing start at the hips which are the hub

Once the hub is right the rest of the swing is easy.

LAWN BOWLING

HUGE ITALIAN REPORTED ILL DOWN TO 257

"A Mere Shadow of Former Self," Says Louis Soresi, Champion's Pilot.

PROMOTERS HYSTERICAL.

NEW YORK, June 12. (CP). — Principals in the maddest pre-fight developments in the annals of the ring, Primo Carnera and Max Baer found themselves summoned before the New York State Athletic Commission for another physicial examination today.

Only last Friday they were pronounced in excellent condition and fully able to fight 15 rounds for the heavyweight championship Thursday but another thorough once-over by Commission physicians was prescribed as a precautionary measure.

Meanwhile the promoters were virtually hysterical as they sought to offset reports that Baer was out of condition and that Carnera not only was in grave danger of going stale but also was actually ill.

Relief For Johnston

Jimmy Johnston and his Madison Square Garden Associates heaved a sigh of relief as Baer wound up training with another clownish exhibition at Asbury Park yesterday but found something else to worry about in developments at Pompton Lakes where huge Primo spent the day in bed.

Mystery so thick you could cut it with a knife cloaked the champion's whereabouts, his condition, his health and everything concerning him for a good part of the day. Finally it became known that he had spent the entire morning, afternoon and evening in bed. His manager, Louis Soresi, said Primo was so close to the edge he was in danger of falling over and was suffering from a slight cold and sinus trouble. The champion, Soresi explained, was a mere shadow at 257 pounds and a day in bed had been recommended to bring him up to his normal fighting poundage of around 250.

AT HASTINGS

HASTINGS, June 12 (Examiner Correspondence)—Bowling a steady game throughout the four games, Hastings defeated Havelock three out of four in the Trent Valley League on Friday night before a big crowd on the local greens. Lynch defeated Moore, 11 to 5, chalking up 10 points in the first seven ends. Wellman took seven out of the ten ends to defeat Mathison, 12 to 5.

Hastings—G. Lynch, skip.....	11
Havelock—J. H. Moore, skip....	5

Wellman .....203 012 011 2—12
Mathison .....030 100 100 0— 5

The clubs split the last two games. Mathison defeated Lynch, 10 to 9, in a hard-fought game, the winner got a big five in the fifth end, but Lynch fought right back and almost won the game with his last bowl. In the other game Wellman coasted home to a 9 to 2 win over Moore in a game featured by the small counts on each end.

Mathison .....110 051 002 0—10

Cogs and Fosters play and E.P.L. game tonight at six in the Exhibition Grounds. Now on form, Cogs should win by a couple of lengths, but baseball is like hoss racing inasmuch as you can't bank on form. If life were as simple as that, we would long since have retired from active slugging for a living and spent our spare time aboard a yacht clipping coupons and maybe shooting craps with the sailors. But no, you can't just look over the racing form and say, "Golly, this dog rates a furlong better than anything in the fourth, so here's where we go to town with the bankroll!" Just try it a few times and you find yourself back and sweating for a living or mooching a cuppacawfee handout on some busy corner.

• • • • • • •

True enough, form is the only logical way to play the ponies or figure on ball games or anything else. But everything is a bit screwy at times and just when you park your shirt on a sure thing, that's when it's screwiest and you go home in a barrel! Cogs look stronger than Fosters, but the latter team may toss in a twirler that will have more mystery than Greta Garbo and more curves than Mae West, thereby giving Cogs the well-known works. Or the breaks of the game may upset the dope, and don't get us started on "breaks" or the paper will never go to press! Anyway, it might be a good ball game and don't sell Fosters short.

• • • • • • •

And down at King Edward School this eve at six o'clock, the first bantam baseball game of the season is being staged. It's Maple Leafs from Ashburnham versus St. Peter's from points west. We didn't get a load of either squad yet so can't say what class of ball they'll dish up, but any kids' ball game is generally worth seeing. And generally gets quite a gallery. No admission, no lid-passing and no wisecracks at the umpires, please. Well, anyway, no charge and no silver collection. We must be getting softer than a two-minute egg when we start pleading ro umpires!

• • • • • • •

Speaking of screwy games, that was one last night at Central. It was a pretty fair sort of men's softball battle—going ten innings before Fashion-Crafts beat C.G.E., 13-11—but it had its odd aspects. We doubt if we'll see anything funnier all year than Butcher and McDougall racing for home in the fourth. Big Chuck drew a walk and was just settling down for a quiet nap on first when Shrimp conks a homer. Shrimp tore down to first a mile a minute and was on Butcher's heels about second. Chuck then dug in in earnest to keep Shrimp from passing him. It was pretty close all the way in from third with the fans laughing too hard to lay any bets. But Butch won by a beak. It honestly looked like a terrier snapping at a truck horse's heels.

• • • • • • •

Again in the seventh when C.G.E. rallied to tie the score, the Fashion-Craft players held several consultations around Butcher to decide whether he should be replaced or not. During one of these pleasant little chats, Tommy Miller ran home from third, and then you should have heard the squawks! However, the Clothiers had neglected to have "Time" called by the umps, and that little social oversight cost them a run. Bill Simmons, who must be nudging seventy pretty hard, did a nice job of relief flinging, and so did young Jack Heffernan for the losers.

• • • • • • •

Scoring a run in the last inning in Keene last eve, the Keene lasses took a 16-15 newspaper decision over Westclox in a good gals' softball game. Westclox didn't go so hot in the field, whereas the McCarthy team, pardon us, the Keene team played smart defensive ball besides receiving steady twirling and bingles at the right time. Still, it was plenty close at that. Marilyn McCarthy pitched the last half the game for the homesters, letting the maidens from Armour Hill down with two hits which is just this side of perfect flinging.

Petes leave around noon tomorrow for Kingston and Spook Scriver is expected to pitch. They had a good workout last night but it was marred by an injury to Ike Batten. The locals' third-sacker was hit on the leg by a hard grounder and will be out for a game or two since a blood vessel burst. Ike is the original tough-luck guy on the Petes' lineup, having the kind of luck that makes it risky to even comb his hair—running the chance of breaking his arm! He finished the playoffs last summer with a jaw up like a balloon from a ball hitting him in practise. Too bad, as Ike is a good thirdbaseman and is in there scrapping all the time, not letting his jinx bother him.

DELORO WINS FROM CALEYS BY 4-1 COUNT

Brooks Plays Brilliant Game for Winners—Scores Majority of Goals.

SCHEDULE FIXTURE

MARMORA, June 12 (Examiner Correspondence).—With only one position hanged in their team which met defeat at the hands of C.G.E. last week, Deloro triumphed over Caledonians on the former's ground on Saturday by 4 to 1. Deloro bombarded the visitors' goal from the kick-off and after four minutes, Brooks accepted a brilliant centre from W. Hart and headed the ball past Melrose. End-to-end rushes featured the next ten minutes and then, from a scrimmage in front of the Caleys' goal, Brooks found himself in favorable position to register. Caleys now pressed hard, with McBride and Tice standing out prominently; Barson sent in a beautiful drive, and Cousins, in clearing, was temporarily laid out. Shortly afterwards, Tice shot at goal and Cousins in attempting to clear, accidentally headed the ball into the net. Remaining play in the first half was in Deloro's favor but uneventful.

Upon resuming play, Deloro maintained the offensive, but the full-back play of the Caledonians repulsed them. Play was then taken to midfield for about ten minutes. A movement initiated by R. Smith in which W. Hart also took part, resulted in Brooks placing the ball over the visiting goalie's hands. Caleys now reconstructed their team and Green took the position of centre forward. This player tested O'Neill in what proved to be the last difficult shot for him to have to handle. Receiving from Sproul, Stewart then dashed up the left wing and centered to Brown, who took a kick with his left foot which rebounded back from Melrose. With his right foot Brown returned the sphere into the net. The Caley's goal had a few narrow escapes before the final whistle blew.

The game was played later than scheduled owing to the visitors arriving an hour late. Caleys were minus two or three of their regular players, but played doggedly and a fast game resulted.

W. Harrington well handled the game to the satisfaction of both teams. The teams:

Caledonians—Melrose, goal; Green and Adkinson, backs; Creighton, Whatman and Mayette, half backs; Clark, Dyer, Barson, Tice and McBride, forwards.

Deloro.—O'Neill, goal; Cousins and J. Hart, backs; Gray, Bradley and Sproul, half-backs; W. Hart, R. Smith, Brooks, Brown and Stewart, forwards; S. Smith, sub.

Referee—W. Harrington.

Albions Beat Nats In South-End League

Ned Viterali's husky Albions nosed out the Nats in a nip and tuck affair in Monday's fixture to clinch a play-off berth and end the Nats' chances for the first half. Wedlock, hurling for the Nationals, allowed seventeen hits, stuck out eight, and walked 2, while Cavanagh for the winners allowed 15 hits while walking four and striking out three.

A ninth inning rally which netted three runs for the Nats to give them a 2-run lead was soon wiped out by the Albions, who cashed in on two costly errors and three timely hits in their half to win the game.

Score by innings:

Mark St. Bantams Again Beaten 17-5

St. Paul's Bantams again had the Indian sign on Mark Street and took them for a 17-5 ride in last night's Church League softball meeting. It gave the winners first place and they will meet Park Street Wednesday at King Edward Park in the first of the semi-finals, while Mark Street, in second place, meets George Street at Queen Mary that night in the other semi-finals. Mackness and Sedgewick led the winning hitters last night, with Williamson pitching and Steer fielding well. Brady, Ferguson and Craig were best for the losers.

Trinity Srs. Nose Out Markmen 8 To 7

Trinity Seniors kept up their winning streak in the Church Softball League last night by nosing out Mark Street, 8 to 7, in a fine fixture. Ward and Hunter pitched fine ball, the former having but one bad inning, and leaving ten stranded. The heavy hitters were Ward, Mattice and D. Clarke for Trinity. Ferguson and M. Hunter led the losers at bat. This game leaves the section all tied up with only half a game separating each of the teams in this order: Mark Street, Knox, Trinity, St. Paul's, and George St. The line-ups:

PARK ST. BANTAMS CINCH 2ND PLACE

St. James' Outfit Drops 25-15 Decision to Westenders.

Park Street Bantams cinched second place in "A" section of their division of the Church Softball League last night by trouncing St. James', 25-15. Park Street now plays St. Paul's in the semi-finals, first game to-morrow at King Edward Park. St. James' were behind all the way, and two of their players had to leave the game with minor injuries. Sanderson of Park Street pitched a good game and had good support, Jobe and the Martin brothers being especially strong. Howden and M. Grose were best for the losers.

The teams:

Park Street—Tarkington, c; Sanderson, p; P. Martin, 1b; Jobe, 2b; D. Martin, ss; Drury, 3b; McDermond, lf; H. Campbell cf; L. Campbell, rf.

Knox Club Closes Unbeaten Schedule

Knox Juveniles finished their schedule unbeaten in the Church Loop last night by squeezing out a 16-15 verdict over George Street, and will enter the playoffs against the second team of "A" section. George Street will playoff against the first "A" team. Graham was wild on the Knox mound, but pitched fair ball. Hits and errors cost Gunsolus the game. Allison, Bullock, LeClaire, Lucas and McIlmoyle led the hitters, and Ash did some nice fielding. The teams:

George Street. — Gunsolus, p; Stinson, 3b; Galley, c; McClelland, 2b; Allison, ss; Ash, 1b; Bullock, cf; Parnell, rf; Wildman, lf.

THE SPUN GLASS MYSTERY

A Tale of Scotland Yard

By A. FIELDING

CHAPTER 21

Lady Tait herself lay down, but her usual nap would not come. Not though she had recourse to her ordinary unfailing device of counting counters on her lap. She heard the library doors below open, and John said tenderly, "I won't be long. Just a minute, darling." Then the door downstairs closed, and a second later, after a tap which was at once responded to, Mrs. Burnham came into Lady Tait's room, a troubled look on her face.

"John is frightfully upset," she said, "and most mysterious." She eyed Lady Tait as though the other's insight might help her. "He didn't tell me what was the matter—he only walked the floor and looked as though he were going to have all his teeth out. He wants me to wait for him. I don't suppose, from the way he spoke, he'll be more than a couple of minutes—but I confess—I can't think what's coming. Have you any idea what it can be about? Oh, how you startled me!" Lucy's tone was sharp for once.

"I've just got back from the studio. I knocked twice," Gillian said composedly. "I couldn't find Lady Tait in the other rooms and I heard her voice. Here's the plate. I don't think you can see where it's mended."

"No, no. I'm sure I can't." Lady Tait took it hurriedly. "By the way, would you be kind enough to do me a great favor? I want a book changed at the Times library, and there's no one to send. Might I ask you to take a taxi there for me and choose me a nice chatty book of Memoirs?" For once Lady Tait smiled as she held out a volume, but Gillian did not take it.

"I'm sorry," she said in her usual uninterested way, "but I've a most frightful headache. That's why I came back here. I must lie down or I shall be blind to the world tomorrow." And without waiting for another word Miss Dundas left the room.

Lady Tait was indignant at the way in which her effort to get the girl out of the house for at least an hour or so had failed. "I hardly think Miss Dundas has the making of a satisfactory companion in her," she said with some acerbity to Lucy, who was staring after Gillian with a look of surprise on her face.

"Not if she often answers like that," Lucy agreed, "but of course, if she's really feeling ill—she looked very white——" Gillian had. White and ill——

"But about John and what he has to say——" Lucy spoke as though that were miles away from Gillian Dundas.

But Lady Tait has no intention of being betrayed into some indiscreet words. Better that John should break his own trail, however bad it might be.

"It's time we all had something before starting." She looked at the clock. "Tea for you and me, Puss, and cocktails for the wicked rest."

Lady Tait told herself that this was supposed to be a pleasant family party, though John had seemed quite unable to remember this.

Claud was standing in the drawing room as the two came in. Both stared at him. Something about him suggested high tension, though his face was quite devoid of expression.

Etta first, then Alysia came on in. The cocktail tray was standing ready for them. Tea came in now, and Lucy poured out some for Lady Tait and herself at the latter's request. A service that her nieces had always done hitherto for their aunt.

They heard the front door open.

"That'll be John!" Lucy ejaculated, turning from the tea table with a smile that suddenly made Naylor feel lonely.

"I thought I heard a knock first," Etta said.

"I must go down now," Lucy spoke to Lady Tait. "I won't be long behind you others——" She stopped. The door of the room opened. It was the butler, and his face was very pale.

"Can I speak to you a moment, sir?" This to Naylor.

"Certainly." Claud was at his side in a moment, but Lady Tait intervened.

"What is it, Hankins? What has happened?" She, too, had risen to her feet.

"It's about Mr. John, my lady." The man spoke in a choked voice. "There's been an accident. The constable below wants to see some relative. Some gentleman relative——"

In a second all four women had swept the men aside, and were down the stairs. But Lucy was first in the hall. First on her knees beside a figure which had been carried in from a taxi.

"John! John!" she half shrieked, half whispered. "Oh, John, speak to me! It's Lucy! It's me!" There was a passion of tenderness in voice and face that made the constable turn his back on her. But Lucy would not let him move away.

"What's the matter with him? Oh, what is it?" She was fondling a hand that lay inert, heavy, clay-like, though still warm, in hers. "Bring some water! Do something! Don't just stand around." For once she was as imperious as Lady Tait. That lady turned to the policeman. She had been stooping over her stepson.

"Is he dead?" she asked in a low tone of horror. "He—he looks as though he were. Have you sent for a doctor?"

"The taxi driver saw him fall as though in a fit. He passed away as I got to him." The constable was choosing his words with care. "Is it Mr. John Tait? He said he knew him by sight."

"Yes. It is." The man's insistence on the name made Naylor look at him inquiringly.

"Where's the telephone, sir? I want to use it, please."

"There's one in the library here." Naylor led the way. "Do you want our doctor's number?"

"No, sir. We call in our own doctors in cases like this. Sudden death in the street."

"Rubbish," Naylor replied curtly. "I'm a member of the bar, constable." The constable's swift eye traveled over the young man, but he did not correct his misstatement as to police procedure.

"Relation, sir?" he asked.

"Cousin," was the curt reply.

"Ah!" And the constable walked over to the instrument. "No, please, leave the door open behind you, sir." The peremptory tone made Naylor shoot a long look at him. Standing himself in the doorway, he heard a number called. It meant nothing to him. Came a name equally unknown to the intent, very intent, listener. It was the code name for Superintendent Dartmoor. He happened to be in, and the constable was put through to him at once. Giving his name, number, and the locality of his beat, the man went on:

"Walking along Seymour place 10 minutes ago, sir, just before you get to upper Berkely street, I was hailed by a taxi driver who was supporting a gentleman in his arms. The gentleman died just as I got to him and he was helping lay him down. The taximan's well known, and the gentleman's name is Mr. John Tait. Yes, sir. Mr. John Tait. I'm telephoning from the house." Followed a pause and a coup e of very good, sirs, than, "I haven't sent for the family doctor yet, sir. I thought it better——" The constable left his tentative sentence unfinished. And after listening wound up with another "Very good, sir. It hasn't been moved yet." He hung up, and went to the door. Meantime, Lucy, looking up from chafing the hand that refused to grow warm, caught sight of Gillian Dundas on the landing just above. She was looking down at the group below. Her face was ghastly even with her back to the light, even in spite of its paint.

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Wednesday, June 13

The lunar transits for this day accent a degree of enterprise and initiative, with quickened energies and faculties, which will be found necessary to cope with impediments, setbacks and disappointments as well as financial anxieties or threatened losses. It may be more profitable to confine the business operations to trusts, combines, mergers or secret bodies or through measures of diplomacy, strategem or shrewdness rather than forceful operations. The private affiliations may hold pleasures and gratifying activity.

Those whose birthday it is may encounter a year in which they may have to summon all their native energies and resources to cope with financial difficulties and also frustrations and impediments of a tenacious character. It may be wise to tackle these obstructions by methods of diplomacy, tact or strategy rather than aggressive and bold measures. Private affairs bring pleasure.

A child born on this day may be resourceful, energetic and aggressive but inclined to be extravagant or careless with its funds, with strong leanings to social indulgences rather than application in business.

KAISER CLINGS TO HIS BELIEF HOHENZOLLERN MAY RULE AGAIN

Claims League Nations Only Bringing Internattional Co-operation Into Ridicule.

GAY IN EXILE.

LONDON, June 12.—(AP)—From his comfortable seclusion at Doorn, where in his own words he "looks at the world entirely from the standpoint of a private gentleman," former Kaiser Wilhelm has bestowed his blessing upon the Hitler regime.

Through an interview in the London Daily Mail he hinted at the belief that Hitler's work may be "crowned" by the restoration of the Hohenzollern monarchy.

Although the former ruler, now 75, did not disclose whether he was looking for reinstatement upon the throne himself, he told his interviewer "the German people have turned me out. If they want me back they will have to come and fetch me."

The interview was secured by Randolph Churchill, son of Winston Churchill, former chancellor of the exchequer.

Young Churchill, whose father knew the Kaiser personally before the war, said he found his host gay, mentally alert, gracious and amiable. Before leaving he was presented with signed photographs of Wilhelm and his wife, Princess Hermine.

Contented in Exile

Churchill said the princess had "turned the Kaiser's old age from what might have been tragedy into tranquility and contentment."

He ridiculed reports of the former monarch's great wealth, saying more than 80 percent of Wilhelm's Prussian income was consumed by taxes and that out of the remaining 20 percent he had to support 14 families.

"Hitler has done marvellous work in putting new life and soul into the German nation," the former Kaiser was quoted as saying.

They felt it right that his endeavors should be crowned by a return to a constitutional monarchy. I am sure that my family would not fail in their duty."

Wilhelm, his interviewer said, expressed contempt of "the talking circus at Geneva" and said the League of Nations "does nothing but bring international cooperation into ridicule."

Bridgenorth

Bridgenorth W.A. are having new matting laid in the church isles. Linoleum is to replace that which has been in use so long. The regular monthly meeting of the association was held at the home of the president, Mrs. Pettersone on Wednesday afternoon. The ladies agreed to give their support to any enterprise the cemetery committee may see fit to undertake to raise money to carry on further improvements in the church's cemetery.

Strawberry festivals are now being arranged for and are announced for Selwyn, Tuesday, June 26; Gilmour Memorial, Wednesday, June 27 and Fairview, Friday, June 29th.

Rev. C. C. and Mrs. Miller were called to Wilfrid on Wednesday when one of the prominent lady workers of the Derryville congregation died while in attendance at a meeting of the Women's Association.

Several "showers" and parties have been arranged for Miss M. Mann whose marriage is announced for this month.

Miss M. McNiel, teacher at Selwyn has accepted the position of teacher in her home school, near Bobcaygeon. Mr. Spence of Lakefield has been secured to take charge of the Selwyn School.

Mrs. Hardill entertained several girls at afternoon tea recently. Plans were made for a summer camp to be held in August.

The Young People's banquet at Selwyn was considered a success from every angle. Over one hundred sat at tables which were prettily decorated with flowers, candles, etc., the whole color scheme being in green and yellow. Mrs. McConkey, Mrs. Nicholls, Mrs. Stockdale and Miss Elliott had charge of the tables and were very ably assisted by several stalwart men who did their parts perfectly. Rev. C. C. Miller acted as toastmaster. Miss Mildred Purdy presided at the piano. Mr. Lillow of Peterborough was the guest entertainer of the evening. Gilbert McIlmoyle proposed the toast to the young people and Miss Olive Bell very ably replied. Mr. Clayton Fitzgerald proposed the toast to the church to which E. Joblin of Wesley Church replied. The speaker of the evening Rev. C. D. Daniel brought a very convincing message, speaking of one's relationship to home, work and God and used as his text Millet's picture, "The Angelus."

Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Fowler and family have taken up residence with his mother, Mrs. L. Fowler.

The friends of Rev. H. J. Bell will be interested in knowing that after several years in Hastings, he is this month moving to Blackstock.

Selwyn Young People now meet every other Thursday evening for a social time. Fairview Young People have ceased their activities for the summer months.

NOW NEVER RUN DOWN OR NERVOUS MAN SAYS IN SWORN STATEMENT

Mr. Roy Dagneau, Chatham, Ont.

TO help others who are run down and nervous Mr. Dagneau voluntarily tells of what Fruit-a-tives did for him . . . in a sworn statement so that you can know it's true. He states:—

"I do Solemnly Declare that I was very badly run down. I suffered terribly from nervousness. I had gas and was irregular and my complexion was bad. I tried Fruit-a-tives for a short time and soon felt better. Now I am regular, have a good complexion and I am never nervous any more."

BENNETT URGED TO SWEEP AWAY ALL FARM DEBTS

Chance to Become Great Emancipator Motherwell Tells Premier.

3 MEASURES UNDER WAY.

Soldier Settlers' Lands to be Liable to Municipal, Provincial Taxation.

OTTAWA, June 12 (CP)—Farmers and their financial problems are the chief concern of the House of Commons at the moment. Definite and far-reaching steps to put debt-ridden farmers on their feet and bring about a reduction in debts contracted when prices were high and which can not now be paid with prices low are before the House.

Yesterday three measures dealing with farm finances were considered. The bill to provide for debt adjustments passed through Committee of the Whole except for a few clauses reserved for amendment. Its aim is to scale down farm debts on the basis of the debtors capacity to pay in order to keep him on the land, producing wealth and enjoying as much independence as possible.

No opposition appeared to the measure although the legal problems involved are complicated and lawyer members of the House spent some time discussing them.

Progress was also made in committee with the amendments to the Farm Loan Act which are complimentary to the Debt Adjustment Bill. These provide for loans to farmers who have had their debts adjusted to enable them to carry on and for the provision of money at lower rates of interest to retire present mortgage indebtedness.

Motherwell's Suggestion

Hon. W. R. Motherwell, former Minister of Agriculture, suggested Prime Minister R. B. Bennett might make himself a great emancipator by sweeping away all farm debts and giving all farmers a new start, but Mr. Bennett reminded him the Government was bound by the constitution.

The Debt Adjustment Act is drafted with an eye to keeping within the four corners of the British North America Act and in the opinion of Mr. Bennett and other lawyers in the House goes about as far as it can. It is based on the Dominion's jurisdiction over bankruptcy and carefully avoids touching on the exclusively provincial field of property and civil rights.

The other Farm Bill before the House was an amendment to the Soldier Settlement Act which makes the lands of soldier settlers liable to municipal and provincial taxation. Hitherto they have been exempt as the title was reserved to the Crown in the right of the Dominion until after they had been paid for in full. The bill received third reading and moved up to the Senate.

Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Opposition Leader, pressed the Prime Minister for some estimate of what it would cost to administer the legislation. The bill provides that the cost shall be paid out of the consolidated revenue fund. Mr. King wanted an item placed in the supplementary estimates to cover it.

Estimate Impossible

It would be impossible to make any estimate that would be other than a guess, the Prime Minister replied. The same had been true of the Old Age Pensions Fund initiated by the last government. On that occasion Mr. King had followed the same policy of paying the cost out of the consolidated revenue rather than in the estimates presented to Parliament.

The Prime Minister amended the definition of farmer as set forth in the bill, to bring the provisions of the act to all whose principal occupation is farming. The original definition restricted the benefits to those "solely" engaged in farming.

The Government was most anxious, the Prime Minister said, to assure the farmer remaining on his property, and the measure contemplated this as part of the plan whereby his debt difficulties might be composed without the confiscation of his securities.

Mr. Bennett said he doubted if Parliament could go further in affecting the position of secured creditors "short of confiscation."

"This is confiscation," said Hon. J. L. Ralston (Lib., Shelburne-Yarmouth).

There was a subtle distinction between the provisions of the bill and confiscation, said John T. Hackett (Cons., Stanstead). The distinction lay in the fact that the creditor was merely compelled to value his security. What the board then did was to pass upon the accuracy of the valuation.

To a suggestion from Mr. King that a clause in the Act should specify reports should be made to Parliament, the Prime Minister said reports would go to the Superintendent of Bankruptcy who would in turn render an annual report to the Minister of iFnance. That report would be laid upon the table of Parliament at the commencement of each session.

CATSKILL CRASH VICTIM MOURNED ONCE BEFORE

Clyde Holdbrook Was Shot Down In Flames in France in 1916, Captured, Later Escaped

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 12.—(AP)—A Buffalo woman recalled today that 18 years ago a memorial service was held for Clyde Holdbrook, killed in the crash of his aeroplane in the Catskill foothills, after he had been reported killed while fighting over the German lines in France.

She is Mrs. Florence H. Watt, director of a business school here, in war days a resident of Youngstown, Alta. Holdbrook from Hanna, Alta., a nearby town, was reported by the Canadian Government to have been shot down in flames, she said, and on June 13, 1916, a memorial service was held in Youngstown.

But Holdbrook had managed to land his plane when forced down in battle, and although wounded, he later escaped from a German prison camp.

A Buffalo reporter who knew him said today Holbrook tod him he escaped across the battle lines in a German plane he had seized at an enemy aerodrome near the prison camp from which he had escaped.

RURAL SCHOOLS GIVE CONCERT

150 Children Take Part in Program Presented in Normal School.

FIVE SCHOOL SECTIONS.

The fourth annual concert by music pupils of the rural schools in Smith Township was held at the Normal School on Friday evening under direction of W. R. Potter, and was attended by a large audience, with one hundred and fifty children taking part from Schools Nos. 1, 3, 4, 5 and 11, in Smith. Keen interest was manifested by the audience and appreciation of the efforts by the trainer of the children, W. R. Potter, and others, in giving music a rightful place in the schools. As the chairman, R. F. Downey, remarked, "the work is gradually becoming better known and more and more schools are taking it up."

The program throughout showed the advances being made from year to year by these junior pupils in music and a fine quality in tone and rhythm was paramount.

The program, which opened with two verses of "O Canada," sung by all the schools, included the following items: An apt solo by Lawrie Mahood, "Music in the Air," with accompaniment played by himself on the guitar; an effective chorus, "Rockabye," by seven girls from No. 3 school; a mass chorus, "The Mermaid"; "The Farmer Boy," sung by a quintette of boys, and a much enjoyed solo, "Do ye ken John Peel," by Stewart Lockington.

The next chorus, "From the Village Steeple," sung by a group of shy youngsters, revealed good training, and was followed by "Hush, my Baby," sung by seven little girls from No. 1 school.

"The Land of the Maple" was sung in chorus by all the schools; Barbara and Jean Moore gave a delightful little hymn duet, "This is My Father's Will"; a semi-chorus was entitled "Sunshower"; Clarabelle Kelly sang "Some Folks Love to Sigh," in sweet soprano tones; with fine abandon, the boys and girls of No. 11 school united in singing the favorite selection "Home on the Range," with accompaniment by three harps; a mass chorus was "Come to the Fair," accompanied by Tom Allen on the piano, and Hazel and Bernice Slater, with their delightful smiles, sang "Pony Kate."

Action Song

The boys of No. 11 school gave a very effective action song, "I Saw a Ship a-Sailing"; Brahms' "Lullaby" was sung by children of No. 1 school; Hazel Telford and Mary McManus had a duet, "Come, soft and lovely evening," a well-balanced number in two parts; a chorus by No. 1 school pupils was "Welcome to the Lovely Spring," and the final choral number, by No. 5 school, was a finely rendered selection, "The Grandfather Clock."

A visiting group of senior girls from Miss Jackson' class at Confederation School sang two numbers: "May God Preserve Thee" and "Day is Closing." They were splendidly sung in two parts and showed very careful preparation.

An added interest was the entertainment by H. Lewis, who pleased the audience immensely, with his clever lightning drawings and humorous sketches and his equally expert ventriloquial dialogue with his doll, Sammy, who was a cheeky little chap and amused the children very much.

In closing, Mr. Downey called attention to the splendid work done by all the boys and girls, and also expressed sincere thanks to all who took part.

The principal of the Normal School, Dr. J. A. Bannister, also expressed his appreciation of the smooth ensemble efforts of the schools, working together so easily and effectively.

The children's director, W. R. Potter, thanked all who had any part in the evening's entertainment, especially the class teachers: the Misses Hart, Throop, Frank, Stewart and Mr. Ball.

In remarking on the splendid efforts in the advancement of music which are being carried on, with Mr. Potter so largely instrumental in the cause, Mr. Downey remarked: "You boys and girls are learning songs which you will be able to remember and sing all through your lives."

Defying all jokes about married life seeming to be longer, an English expert has just investigated statistics and found that wedded people really live longer than those who remain single.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE REVIEWS

ONTARIO GRAIN.

Approximate prices track shipping points—Wheat, 99c to $1.02; oats, 40c to 45c; barley, 48c to 50c; corn, 65c to 70c; rye, 48c to 50c; buckwheat, 58c to 60c.

Cheese prices advanced to a new high for the 1934 season on the Montreal produce and dairy market yesterday. Ontario colored was quoted at 11c a pound, compared with 10½c to 10¾c a pound at the close last week. Higher prices paid at country boards over the week-end accounted for the increase. Receipts were 624 boxes.

The butter market was slightly easier, fresh No. 1 being 21¾c to 22c a pound. Receipts totalled 530 boxes.

Eggs continued steady, graded shipments in carlots being quoted at 21c a dozen for A. large; 20c for A. medium; 19½c for B. and 18c for C. In less than carlots, eggs at 20½c a dozen for A. large, and 19½c for A. medium. Arrivals totalled 2,271 cases.

Potatoes were mainly unchanged. New Brunswick Mountains being 75c to 85c per 80-pound bag. Quebec whites 70c to 75c per 80-pound bag, and Prince Edward Island Mountains, 95c to $1.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO.—Responsive to advices that rains northwest had brought about less improvement of the crop outlook than was expected, wheat values averaged a little higher yesterday.

Scantiness of general speculative demand, however, made price gains difficult to hold, and in the end the wheat market was virtually where it left off Saturday. Meanwhile, the movement of newly harvested wheat in the south-west became larger. Enid (Oklahoma) receiving to-day 81 cars, and Wichita (Kansas), 25 cars.

Wheat closed irregular, ⅜c off to ⅛c up, compared with Saturday's finish; corn, ⅜c to ⅝c advanced; oats at ⅛c decline to ⅜c gain, and provisions showing a rise of 5c to 10c.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, June 12. — After a slight display of easiness at the start, wheat prices turned upward on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange yesterday and finished with gains of ¾ to ⅞ cents. The reaction appeared to be entirely local in origin and was stimulated by very narrow offerings.

July wheat checked out at 78½c, October at 80¾c, and December at 81½c. While local demand was fairly aggressive, little or no export business in Canadian wheat was reported over the week-end

Seriousness of the grasshopper situation appeared to have made a profound impression with grain traders, and general fear was expressed that with any return to warm or hot weather, the hoppers would quite offset the advantage of rains in many districts.

Cash grains trading was slow, but spreads on No. 1 Northern wheat improved ⅛c. Coarse grains, led by oats, all advanced.

CHIEF DAVEY AT HASTINGS

Cree Indian of Calgary on 3,500 Mile Water Journey From Winnipeg.

ON $2,500 WAGER.

HASTINGS, June 11 (Examiner Correspondence) — An interesting visitor to Hastings on Friday was Chief Davey of the Cree Indian reserve at Calgary. The Chief is on his fourth publicity stunt for the Winnipeg Free Press on a wager of $2500. The wager calls for the Chief to complete a 3,500 mile water jaunt from Winnipeg in two years.

He is making his trip in a trim little skiff, sixteen feet long, four feet two inches wide and twenty-two inches and his only motor power is a pair of strong oars and strong arms.

When The Examiner called on Friday evening the Chief was quite busy eating a real man sized meal, that showed why at the age of fifty-five he is an ideal picture of health, five feet nine inches tall and two hundred and thirty-two pounds of solid bone and muscle.

He left Winnipeg on September 29th last on his long cruise, and was very successful until he got into Lake Superior when his little craft upset and he lost most of his equipment. Undaunted by his loss the Chief kept right on his long journey until November 20th at Big Chief Island, opposite Orillia he was obliged to put up for the winter. On April 16th as soon as the ice had broken he started once again. From the time he entered the Trent Canal he was obliged to portage over every lock until he got to Burleigh Falls where navigation had opened.

He informed The Examiner that this was his fourth publicity stunt, in 1922 he in company with his father went on a trip around most of the world on a motorcycle. In 1926 he had his fare paid from Toronto Exhibition to Mexico City and walked back in time for the next exhibition. In 1931 he walked from coast to coast, a distance of 5500 miles in 11 months and 14 days.

If his pleasant venture i s successful he plans to go from Winnipeg to Liverpool in the same little craft.

Many citizens paid the Chief a visit while he was docked here.

LIVELY VETERAN.

CLAY CENTRE, Kas., June 12.—(C.P.)— Age means nothing to Charles Wingrove, 89, veteran of the Civil War.

He was the first person to dive into Clay Centre's new swimming pool after its formal opening. He has started a political career this year by running for the State Legislature.

SERVICE OF REMEMBRANCE HELD AT SAINT JOHN'S CHURCH, IDA

Bishop Owen Preaches and Several of Clergy of Diocese Are Present.

CEMETERY DECORATED

MILLBROOK, June 12 (Examiner Correspondence). — The Mother of Churches in the historic parish of Cavan, St. John's, Ida, erected in 1865, was filled practically to capacity on Sunday at 3 p.m when the third annual Service of Remembrance was held. His Lordship Right Rev. D. C. Owen, Bishop of the Toronto Diocese, who was paying his initial visit to the parish, preached the sermon, and assisting the rector, Rev. William Simpson, B.A., with the service were Venerable Archdeacon R. C Blagrave and the Rev. J. D. Paterson of Peterborough.

Previous to the service in the church friends from far and near gathered in the beautifully-kept cemetery, the first in use in the township and with other denominations burying there until separate "God's aces" had been established renewed acquaintance, and placed floral tributes on the graves of departed relatives. The ringing of the church bell summoned the worshippers within the sacred walls when the hour for service had arrived, Mrs. (Canon) W. Cartwright Allen presiding at the organ. Preceding the offertory, which is devoted each year to the maintenance and beautifying of the cemetery where so many pioneers sleep Messrs Clare Winslow and Tom McCamus sang "Watchman, what of the Night?"

Bishop Owen chose his text from I. Kings 8. 57, referring to the service of remembrance and thanksgiving as "a happy thing that there is this spot which is so rich in sacred associations for many individuals and many families; how different from one hundred years ago, when our forbears were struggling with the forests of this country, endeavoring to found homes, and establish towns and villages in this province of Upper Canada." It is a cheery thing that in the midst of our difficulties and struggles of today we have been led to celebrate so many anniversaries this year, including that of the See City of the Diocese, Toronto, founded one hundred years ago. Continuing his sermon the Bishop stressed remembrance, thanksgiving, venture, endurance, courage, and faith, the part these qualities had played in the lives of pioneer settlers, and the great need of their finding a place in the lives of their descendants today that our tangled problems may be solved; that we may have a larger and truer patriotism, clinging to our ideal of freedom but avoiding the snare of the false issue, and of the short cut; and that we may have a better conception of God as revealed in the face of Jesus Christ.

In the evening His Lordship preached in St., Thomas' Church, Millbrook when sixteen candidates were received into church membership by the solemn laying on of hands in the rite of Confirmation. After the service a reception for the Bishop was held in the Parish Hall, representatives of the entire parish, as well as many other citizens, taking advantage of the opportunity of making the acquaintance of the spiritual head of the Toronto Diocese.

PITTSBURGH, June 12.—(C.P.)—Joe Kopaczewski, 30, of McKeesport, appeared in criminal court to explain why he shot his fiancee.

"I was out of work for three years and I was so disguested I shot at her," said Joe, whose aim had been poor.

Three months was the sentence imposed by Judge William McNaugher, who wanted to know, "If you were so disguested, why didn't you shoot at yourself?"

U.S. READY TO TAKE WAR DEBTS IN TRADE

262 Candidates in Ontario Arena

SASKATCHEWAN HAS 167 RUNNING IN 54 RIDINGS

Neither of Provinces Has Single Acclamation Conceded at Nominations.

STRONG OPPOSITION.

Farm-Labor Out in Full Force in West—Ontario U. F. O. Names Only Two.

(By the Canadian Press)

Ontario and Saskatchewan settled down today to a final candidates, 262 in Ontario, week of political fervor as 429 167 in Saskatchewan, fought two provincial legislatures. verbally for 144 seats in the They were named in nomination proceedings yesterday and in neither province was a single acclamation conceded.

In each case a Conservative premier—George S. Henry in Ontario and J. T. M. Anderson in Western province—seeks return to power. Both face stiff Liberal opposition, led by J. G. Gardiner in Saskatchewan and Mitchell F. Hepburn in the east. In both provinces a third party is a conjectural factor; the Cooperative Commonwealth Federation has 37 candidates in Ontario's 90 ridings. In Saskatchewan the Farmer-Labor group, allied with the C.C.F. in policy, has 53 representatives in the fight for 54 seats. Election in the remaining constituency Athabaska, has been deferred until July 25.

Saskatchewan's 167 candidates include 52 supporters of the Anderson Cooperative government—44 Conservatives and eight Independents, 54 Liberals, eight others are variously aligned and the 53 Farmer-Laborites under Schoolmaster M. J. Coldwell, who is high in the councils of the C.C.F.

37 C.C.F. in Field.

In Ontario, with D. M. LeBourdais, secretary of the Ontario executive, as the active candidate-leader, the Federation nominated 37. The Conservatives have a full quota of 90 and the Liberals 82. Independents, Communists, and other groups complete the list. The once-powerful United Farmers of Ontario named but two.

The C.C.F. and its affiliated Farmer-Labor group are a question mark. The C.C.F.'s record in provincial politics is brief. Last August two candidates of the Federation tried their luck in Nova Scotia and lost their deposits. Two months later the organization elected seven out of 47 in British Columbia ,but has met with no success in Federal by-elections.

Just one member of the Farmer-Labor Party in Saskatchewan sat in the last Legislature there. He is J. Benson of Last Mountain.

Six Women Enter.

Neither of the old parties sent a woman to do battle. Six were nominated, four under the C.C.F. banner. They are Dr. Lorna Cotton in Durham, Mrs. B. Evans in

Burns Prove Fatal To Oakwood Man

LINDSAY, Ont., June 13 (CP)—Alfred Sanderson, of Oakwood, died in the hospital here this morning of burns he suffered in an explosion in his home yesterday when he used coal oil to make the kitchen fire burn better. Badly burned about the face neck and back, he was rushed to the hospital for medical care, while neighbors using fire extinguishers and pails of water, managed to save his home from serious damage.

Japan, Russia Balk At Armament Control, Kill Hopes Of International Guarantee

GENEVA, June 13.—(AP)—Hopes for a universal agreement on international disarmament guarantees were killed today by Japan and Russia.

These developments occurred at the first session of the committee of guarantees under the presidency of Maurice Bourquin of Belgium.

They were interpreted in confreence circles to mean that Japan will not accept armaments control and will not participate in the guarantees to which the French give great importance.

Observers were given to understand that the French might go to the extent of recommending a graduating scale of pnalties against any nation building armaments in defiance of a treaty.

USE BODY TISSUE TO PATCH HEART IN NEW SURGERY

Promises Escape From Tremendous Heart Death Rate at Present.

HEART INJURIES.

Flattened Hearts Straightened, Leaking Valves Closed.

(By Howard W. Blakeslee, A.P. Science Editor.)

CLEVELAND, June 13 (A.P.).—A new type of heart surgery, promising one avenue of escape from the present tremendous heart death rate, was proposed to the American Medical Association to-day by Claude S. Beck, Cleveland surgeon.

He pictured surgeons in the near future operating directly upon hearts. The hearts will be patched literally, he predicted, with grafts of tissue taken from other parts of the body.

Flattened hearts will be straightened. Leaking heart valves will be closed. Torn hearts will be sewn up. The surgery which will do this with comparative safety, without stopping the heart, is already in the experimental stage.

Heart Injuries.

In making these predictions, Dr. Beck enumerated heart injuries which he said the medical profession has scarcely begun to recognize.

These heart troubles, he said, come from collisions, falls, or blows.

Little attention has been paid in the past to such accidents as the sources of heart trouble. The em-

SUSPECT BLAST IN PLANE CRASH

Coroner on Catskill Inquest Positive Chemicals Played Part.

CARRIED BY PASSENGER.

LIBERTY, N.Y., June 13 (AP)—Investigators sought to-day to determine whether an explosion preceded the tragic smash-up of the big American Air Lines plane against Mongaup Mountain and, if so, whether chemical carried in the luggage of a passenger could have been responsible.

Coroner Victor G. Bourke, saying he was positive there was an explosion, disclosed he expected new information on whether it occurred before the sky liner crashed into the rugged mountain side, killing its seven occupants. He said new evidence might lead to postponement of the inquest set for 4 p.m.

Reports that "secret' naval documents were found in the luggage of William B. Bader, a Buffalo chemist, one of the dead, were denied in Washington. Naval officers said any papers in Bader's possession were not "confidential." They explained Bader's employer, the Semet-Solvay Company, was an unsuccessful bidder several months ago for a navy order.

Bader's luggage contained the chemicals under investigation. Coroner Bourke said so far he had no information as to their nature. T. H. Bennett, an official of the Semet-Solvay Company, declared any idea the chemicals figured in the accident was "absolutely unthinkable."

Dr. Bourke explained his conclu-

EAKIN IS GIVEN PRINCIPALSHIP KNOX COLLEGE

Assembly Also Confirms Dr. E. L. Morrow as Professor of Systematic Theology.

FOR ONE YEAR.

Rev. Barclay Urges Church Get Rid of Deficit Millstone.

(By Harold J. Fair, C.P Staff Writer.)

TORONTO, June 13. (CP).—The Presbyterian General Assembly to-day confirmed Dr. Thomas Eakin as Principal of Knox College, Toronto, and Dr. Lloyd Morrow as Professor of Systematic Theology for one year. The Assembly will appoint a judicial committee to consider Dr. Morrow's complaint and report next year.

TORONTO, June 13 (C.P.). — Possible reconsideration of the Presbyterian General Assembly's action in refusing last night to confirm Dr. Thomas Eakin as principal of Knox College was seen to-day when Rev. W. A. J. Graham of Thorold, Ont., announced just before the noon adjournment his intention of moving at a future sederunt in favor of that reconsideration.

The announcement was followed by an invitation from the Moderator, Dr. J. S. Shortt, of Barrie, for a conference between Dr. Banks Nelson of Hamilton and supporters and the Moderator during the noon hour adjournment. Stating he did not want to be regarded as the supporter of any one man, Dr Nelson agreed to the conference.

Further consideration of Dr. Lloyd Morrow's case did not come after the Moderator earlier had ruled out of order Dr Banks Nelson's motion for reinstatement of the discharged professor.

The Assembly, turning to other business, heard Rev. William Barclay, Hamilton, convenor of the Budget Committee, urge ministers to speak of finances "and rid the Church of the millstone we call deficit."

Liquor Attacked

Dr. A. J. Irwin Secretary of the Ontario Temperance Federation and Acting Secretary of the Canadian Temperance Federation, informed the Assembly Canada's 1933 liquor bill was $112,985,000 while her gold output was only $85 000,000. The most seductive and powerful, the most effective agency against sobriety is the active influence of the commercialized liquor power, he charged, adding it should be attacked by the Legislature.

As the Assembly was about to adjourn, Dr. T. Wardlaw Taylor, Goderich, Clerk of the Assembly, read a letter of congratulations to the Moderator from Mayor J. F. Craig of the Moderators' home town, Barrie, Ont.

FARMER TO PAY $1 FOR TRYING TO KISS WOMAN

Belmont Township Woman Is Allowed Dollar Damages in Court Action.

HUSBAND AWAY.

Alleges Bachelor Got "Fresh" While She Was Alone in Home.

The jury returned this afternoon with a verdict of $1.00 damages in behalf of Mrs. Pearl Brunton of Belmont Township who sued Frank Davidson, 67-year-old bachelor farmer for $500.

Alleging that on the afternoon of November 16 last at her home in Belmont Township, Frank Davidson, 67-year-old bachelor neighbor, tried to kiss her, Mrs. Pearl Brunton has brought action against Mr. Davidson for $500 damages.

Hearing of the case opened yesterday at the court house before Judge Robert N. Ruddy, of Whitby, acting County Judge of Peterborough, and a jury.

Testifying yesterday Mrs. Brunton told of the circumstances surrounding the alleged assault. Her story was completely denied by the defendant, who insisted on the other hand that Mrs. Brunton 'had tried to catch him." He maintained that "she was trying to pull something over me."

F. D. Kerr, K.C., appeared for the plaintiff and W. F. Huycke for Mr. Davidson.

Woman on Stand

On the day of Mr. Davidson's alleged assault upon her, Mrs. Pearl Brunton a large healthy-looking woman of 23, testified her husband was away from home on a visit to Havelock. It was after 4 o'clock when Mr. Davidson came to see my husband and asked me how he was. My husband had been ill a couple of days before, not seriously, and had fully recovered."

Her visitor sat down in the kitchen and talked to her while she went about her household duties. My two-year-old son was in the house with me later he went out with my brother-in-law, aged eight.

The children went out to play and as they were crossing the road, (our home is on Highway 7), I went to the window, as is my custom, to see that the children got safely across" she stated. "I was standing at the window watching the children. Suddenly I felt Mr. Davidson put his hand on my back. He tried to turn me around and pull me toward him. He tried to get my face against his. I pulled away from him. I told him he had better go home. He said, 'Yes, I guess I'd better, I left a big fire on'. He went."

Made Second Call

Mrs. Brunton said that was all that happened on November 16, but five days later while her hus-

Fast Recovery Is Being Made By Crops

Crops in Peterborough County are making a fast recovery from the effects of recent dry spell, Agricultural Representative A. D. Runions said to-day. The rains of the past few days have brought renewed life to spring grains and pastures and meadows are looking much improved throughout the district, he said.

Regardless of rain, however, a poor crop of hay is expected this year, Mr. Runions reported further. The strawberry patches which managed to survive the winter in the district have benefited by the rain but this crop also is to be a poor one.

NEW GLIDER RECORD.

ROME, June 13 (C.P.). — Major Umberto Nannini, a squadron leader in Marshal Italo Balbo's mass flight to Chicago last year, has established a new Italian record for glider flying.

Using a Biacone glider, Nannini was catapulted into the air and remained aloft for one hour and a half. He reached a maximum altitude of 6,400 feet.

Fate Intervenes

HIGHWIND PARK, Ill., June 13 (C.P.). — Preferring suicide together to a possibility that one of them might die on the operating table, Mrs. Alice King Botti, 63, and her daughter Margaret to-day tied their bodies together and swam out into Lake Michigan. Later they were found on the shore and the daughter revived, but the mother had died.

The daughter was taken to their home, where she told the story of the bizarre suicide pact.

Both left suicide notes telling their reasons for the act.

The young woman said she had recently undergone two operations for mastoid trouble. A third operation, she said, had been ordered, and both she and her mother feared she would not survive it. They agreed to a suicide pact.

Woman Recovers Pistol Lost in Scuffle—Father of 17 Children Dies.

NEW YORK, June 13 (A.P.).—A Bronx Park express, brakes screeching, slid to a standstill at the Ninth Street "L" platform last night freighted with death.

In the quick minutes between the Houston and Ninth Street stations the tragedy of Joseph Collucci and his wife, Mary, had reached its lurid denouement.

First, as the train gathered speed pulling out of Houston Street station, there were only words, high pitched. Suddenly someone cried: "He's got a gun."

Pandemonium wracked the car In a rear seat a woman turned white, fainted. The train roared on.

A Life Saved.

A man, Samuel Lauria, who knew the Colluccis, leaped forward to interfere. He reached for Collucci's pistol hand. Simultaneously the train lurched, taking a curve.

A bullet plowed into the car ceiling.

"Keep out of this," snarled Collucci, jerking away, for he was strong despite his 56 years.

The gun clattered to the floor under their feet.

Collucci, free from Lauria's grasp, flashed a knife, driving it along

"HURL JAPAN BACK"

PARIS, June 13.—How strong is the Red army of Russia? How many men has the Soviet government concentrated to-day in the Far Eastern danger zone? What is their equipment? Has Russia the power to withstand the onslaught of the yellow legions of Japan should it ever come to a war between the two countries? Can Russia check Japan's territorial ambitions or will the world behold a repetition of the debacle of 1905 when the czar's forces under Generals Kuropatkine and Stossel were hurled back from Mukden and mighty Russia lost Port Arthur to little Japan?

With these questions in mind, but hesitant and sceptical that I would get an answer at all, I approached the Russian military experts who are now in Paris negotiating the final stages of a Franco-Russian military alliance, which

OPEN FOR GOODS BUT ONLY UPON PARTIAL BASIS

Willing to Go Int Details if Requested by Great Britain.

LONDON SURPRISED.

Downing Street Silent While Officials Study Latest Situation.

WASHINGTON, June 13 (C.P.). — President Roosevelt is willing to consider payments in goods by countries owing war debts only on a partial basis.

This was made known at the President's semi-weekly press conference in comment on the United States note to Great Britain yesterday pertaining to the payments due next Friday

The suggestion for this manner of payments made in the note was declared not to be an offer for full payment on such a basis.

Mr. Roosevelt emphasized that the note was simply a reply to the British communication pointing out a way of payment rather than making an offer. In other words, the United States said it was willing to discuss the war debts if asked by Great Britain.

Welcome News

LONDON, June 13 (CP-AP) — Great Britain to-day welcomed the news that the United States stands ready to discuss "payment in kind" on the war debt account, but it seemed the proposal needed clarification.

At first sight, it was not clear whether payment in kind involved payment in goods and services; outright tribute such as Germany made after the war, and for which no payment in money was received or if the Washington Government intended to purchase British goods such as rubber, cotton and tin so that dollar balances might be built up in London for cash payment of the debt.

Much surprise was created in London by the reference of Cordell Hull United States Secretary of State, to payments in kind as the United States heretofore has insisted on dollar payments.

Official quarters at Downing Street were silent while the Cabinet studied the situation created by the new debts note before the Governments' attitude is stated to Parliamen.

Angle Misunderstood

British political circles feel there has been some misrepresentation in Washington in regard to the section of the recent British note referring to the debts European countries owe Great Britain.

The British note merely said, it was pointed out, that if Great Britain resumed payment to the United States she would be forced KITCHENER, Ont., June 13 (C.P.) — Karl K. Mr. Homuth, amply built, was the only one to get the point The other three speakers, comparatively spare of frame, missed it entirely.

Disappearance 5 Days Ago Sent Jap Warships Rushing to China.

SHANGHAI, June 13. (AP) — Mel Kuramoto, Japanese vice-consul whose startling disappearance nearly five days ago sent Japanese warships speeding to Nanking, was found alive to-day, wandering about an ancient cemetery on the edge of that city.

A statement by Japanese authorities here that the missing official had been found was affirmed by Chinese sources.

The Japanese announcement said Kurmato was well when discovered in the grounds of the historic Ming Tombs, on the outskirts of Nanking.

Chinese sources, however, said Kuramoto, found by Chinese police, showed signs of a mental lapse and was in a state of exhaustion, presumably after several days of wandering.

A grave situation in Sino-Japanese relations was created by the incident. Scores of Chinese police and soldiers were making a house-to-house search for Kuramoto when he was found, following an official warning from Tokyo that China would be held responsible for him.

Steamer Sinks Off Honduras —Only Seventeen Men Saved.

OTHERS DRIFT IN BOAT.

NEW YORK, June 13 (AP)—The United Fruit Lines reported to-day receipt of a wireless message from the steamer Zacapa, reporting the rescue of the captain and 16 members of the crew of the Norwegian freighter Knut Hamsun, which burned and sank Sunday night 120 miles off the coast of Honduras. Seventeen other members of the crew were reported still missing.

The message from Captain George McBride of the Zacapa said, "At 6 a.m., June 13, picked up Captain Frick and 16 men from the Norwegian steamer Knut Hamsun at a point 45 miles west of Quinta Suena Bank. Ship loaded with nitrate and proceeding from Inuique, Chile, to Jacksonville. Ship burned and sank Sunday night. Chief officer and 16 men in another boat still missing.

(Quita Suena Bank is 120 miles east of Bragman Bluff, Honduras, and 300 miles north of, Colon Panama).

Details Lacking.

No other details were received from Captain McBride. The Zacapa sailed from Port Limon, Costa Rica, June 12 and is due in New Orleans June 18.

The Knut Hamsun was a Norwegian freighter of 3,234 tons net. She carried a cargo of Chilean nitrate and was bound for Newport News by way of Jacksonville.

Whether the 33 men given in Captain McBride's message comprised her entire crew could not be ascertained.

The Knut Hamsun passed through the Panama canal on June 9 and the vessel burned the next day, according to the Zacapa's message.

The Knut Hamsun, previously known as the Kent County and later as the Arna, was built in 1911 at West Hartlepool, England. She was owned in Bergen, Norway.

The vessel was 410 feet long with a 54-foot beam.

MANY WORKERS FAILED TO GET MINIMUM WAGE

As High as 90 Per Cent of Employees in Some Departments Under Minimum.

OTTAWA PROBE.

Wages Paid Eaton Employees Probed by Committee.

OTTAWA, June 13.—(CP)—Evidence that 70, 80, and 90 per cent of employees in some department's of factories operated by the T. Eaton Company Limited did not earn minimum wages set by Ontario laws, was given today to the Parliamentary Mass Buying Committee.

The company would bonus a sufficient number to bring the factory within the law but this still would leave some employees receiving less than the minimum of $12.50 a week for experienced women workers.

G. G. Richardson, one of the investigating auditors for the committee told of one week, ending Jan. 19, 1933, when 35 per cent of the 183 employees in the corset factory did not earn minimum wages; 83 percent of the 104 workers on women's dresses and 91 percent of the 77 workers on women's suits.

Some Workers Bonused

To comply with Ontario minimum wage laws, the company would bonus enough workers to bring 40 percent of the total up to the rates, selecting those closest to the minimum wage scale in dollars and cents. The result was that 20 percent of the workers received less than minimum rates.

Out of a total of 1,155 workers in all garment departments in 1933 45.8 percent did not earn minimum wages. The average deficiency for DISEASE FEARED.

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, June 13 (AP)—Stricken Central America received additional reports to-day of wholesale destruction of life and property in a hurricane which struck six days ago.

"Ruin, misery, mud," was the graphic description of one observer.

Flights into the interior of Honduras and El Savador revealed that entire villages had been wiped out by devastating floods. The known dead in the two countries were estimated at 3,000, but observers feared the toll was much greater.

Weather forecasts said another tropical disturbance to the north which had menaced the coast of Mexico and Texas in the gulf "apparently" was dissipating.

A dispatch from the Associated Press corespondent at San Salvador said victims of the hurricane would probably greatly exceed the 2,000 now listed.

Town Swept Away

Apparently reliable reports, he said, were that the town of Verapaz, located at the foot of the Chincot volcano, was swept away by water rushing down the mountain.

The town of Acajutla was flooded, and great damage wrought.

Because of the lack of water supply, disease yas feared in the interior. Heavy rains had lashed the country for nine days.

Reports from towns in Honduras indicated the total number of dead there might reach 1,000, including the 500 persons drowned when the town of Ocotepeque was wiped out by a flood.

A flyer who made an aerial survey over Ocotepeque, said: "The scene that meets the eyes of the survivors is most grievous.

Everywhere are groups of persons, hungry, almost naked, seeking among the corpses still floating some loved one they will not see again. The church remains standing; all else is ruin, misery mud."

ELECTION WORKS TO FEVER HEAT FOR FINAL WEEK

CHALLIES, NIXON CLASH.

Insidious Force Dictating Policy of Gov't, Not Conservatives Says McQuibban.

TORONTO, June 13 (C.P.). — Election campaigners are destined for some exciting meetings if the reception given speakers on nomination day of Ontario's general election is an indication of what is to come in the six days left before the electors cast their ballots. Both Premier George S. Henry and Mitchell F. Hepburn, Ontario Liberal leader, witnessed some hectic scenes from the platform yesterday.

Premier Henry spoke at Markham and Woodstock, the former place the scene of his nomination address. Five other candidates besides the Premier were nominated for the fight in East York riding and they all spoke at the nomination meeting, where boos, yelling and applause kept the speakers shouting to be heard. Police had to intervene twice to stop altercations among persons in the audience.

A real hectic time featured the nomination meeting of Mr. Hepburn at St. Thomas. Hecklers launched their verbal barbs at both Mr. Hepburn and the Conservative candidate, Dr. H. J. Davis.

Robb Asks Questions.

How Mr. Hepburn planned to carry out his policy of "pay as we go," was a question asked by Hon. E. J. M. Robb, Minister of Health, at North Bay. He said Mr. Hepburn would have to go to the taxpayer to get $13,000,000 for relief and to repay the $12,000,000 given to the Province last year by the Dominion Government. The Gov-

JOINT MEETING TWO CANDIDATES AT WARKWORTH

F. J. McArthur, Tory Candidate,, is Subjected to Considerable Heckling.

REAL LIVELY MEETING.

W. B. Horkins Supports McArthur—Frank Benton Supports Mayor Carr.

(Staff Correspondence)

WARKWORTH, June 13.—Northumberland county's official nominations yesterday afternoon for the provincial elections enrolled the names of Fred J. McArthur of Cobourg, Conservative, and Mayor Norman H. Carr of Campbellford, Liberal.

The nominations were received by the deputy returning officer for the riding, Austin Hall of Colborne a formality in the town hall that was the requisite and customary preliminary to a joint political meeting and debate which attracted a crowd of at least eighteen hundred men and women from all pats of the constituency.

The town hall could not have accommodated half the people whose cars lined the streets in greater numbers than on Fair Day. Seating and speaking arrangements in the skating rink and exhibition building on the Fair grounds were undertaken by Councillor U. E. Wartman of Percy township. Even this generous accommodation left many men standing beyond the rows of chairs, and scores found fairly comfortable points of vantage on the beams and other framework of the big rink.

Mr. Carr was supported in his appeal to the electors by Frank Denton, K.C., of Toronto, and Mr. McArthur by W. B. Horkins, K.C. also of Toronto, son of T. J. Horkins of Campbellford.

Mr. Hall acted as chairman of the meeting, and announced an agreement by which one hour was assigned to each group of speakers Among those on the platform were W. A. Fraser, M.P., and Milton E Maybee, candidates of a memorable nomination day assembly four years ago in the federal campaign that returned Mr. Fraser as the Member of Parliament from Northumberland. Yesterday's attendance seemed even larger than on that

RALLY AT MARMORA.

Quebec M. P. Brings Message to Farmers in Interest of Hastings Candidate.

MARMORA, June 13 (Examiner Correspondence).—Marmora Town Hall was well filled on Tuesday evening for the public meeting in the interests of Dr. J. A. Faulkner, Liberal candidate for West Hastings. A meeting was held at Deloro Hall an hour earlier.

H. W. Sabine handled the duties of chairman very capably.

J. D. O'Flynn of Belleville was the first speaker. In rapid oratory he reviewed the statesmanship of the past, extolling Liberal and Conservative statesmen of the years previous to 1905. When the Conservatives went into power in Ontario in 1905, he asserted that the provincial debt was only $6,000,000 and that had been borrowed by the Liberals for northern railway development. Since 1905, the legislation had been all for the big interests, and to-day the province was in debt to the amount of $611,000,000. The Conservatives had blamed the depression for this, yet Quebec with the same depression to pass through had a deficit of only $106,-million dollars. Furthermore there was no period in that thirty years when any of the debt had been reduced. This, in his opinion, pointed to maladministration. Referring to what he considered was excessive expenditure on the part of the Conservative governments, he maintained that the greatest squandering had occurred in the Department of Lands and Forests. The old Liberal system of tendering had been changed by the Conservatives into the secret tender system. Liberals helped to put in the Conservatives in 1905 and Conservatives, it was being seen, would help to put in the Liberals in the coming election.

G. H. Holton

The next speaker was G. H. Holton, Liberal organizer. He mentioned the fact that in attending that meeting Dr. Faulkner was attending his 188th meeting of his campaign. "Isn't that the kind of a candidate you are in sympathy with?" he enquired. "Dr. Faulkner

STORMY ELGIN RALLY IS TURNED INTO NEAR RIOT

Hepburn Finally Carried Shoulder High From Hall as Opponent Speaks.

DAVIS ROARED DOWN.

Reference to Alleged Frame-up on Liberal Leader Starts Main Fracas.

(By Jack Hambleton, C.P. Staff Writer.)

STRATFORD, Ont., June 13 (C. P.). — Facing four speaking engagements, Mitchell F. Hepburn, Ontario Liberal Leader, left here today for Park Hill, Grand Bend, Goderich, and Owen Sound in his election tour of the province More than 3,800 people here last night heard the Liberal Leader enunciate his policies and promise reforms.

The nomination meeting was perhaps the most hectic political gathering the riding of Elgin has ever seen. Both Mr Hepburn and Dr. H. J. Davis, his Conservative opponent, were heckled and interrupted when they spoke after nominations closed. The meeting ended with Mr. Hepburn being carried on the shoulders of his supporters while Dr. Davis vainly tried to conclude his speech. The chairman of the meeting finally called for "God Save the King," when tempers were running high and it appeared there might be fisticuffs.

During Dr. Davis' defence of the Government policies and administration, he referred to the alleged "frame up" against Mr. Hepburn in Southwold Township, and this precipitated the main storm According to a number of affidavits handed out by the Liberal Leader Conservatives had tried to get a Southwold farmer to swear to a false affidavit attacking his reputation. Dr. Davis declared the Conservatives of the riding had nothing whatever to do with the attempt, and promptly a Hepburn supporter rose in the main body of the hall and challenged the Conservative candidate to tell where he was at the time of the alleged attempt.

Fists Waved

The cry "Where are you" was taken up by hundreds and exciting scenes followed. Many rushed toward the platform, waving fists and shouting. Vainly the chairman and Dr. Davis tried to obtain order and finally the doctor did manage to say he was not in the vicinity of Southwold at the time.

At another stage of the doctor's speech he turned to the Hydro investigation of some time ago and asked if the members of the judiciary who reported nothing was wrong with the Hydro Commission could not be believed.

An advertisement signed by R. M. Davis which referred to Mr. Hepburn's grandfather's farm was attacked by the Liberal leader when he rose to speak, and Dr. Davis declared he was not responsible for everything which appeared over his signature. Mr. Hepburn termed such attacks as "nasty, filfthy things," and explained the financial transaction by which the farm was taken over by himself.

He was heckled in the early stages of his speech and at one point stopped and challenged his interrupters to "keep right on, I can take it."

Worst Disaster In Years

The two candidates had agreed Dr. Davis should speak for 40 minutes, Mr. Hepburn for an hour and then Dr. Davis for an additional 20 minutes. The meeting ended in the greatest disorder seen here in years with the Liberal leadr being carried to the street and across to his com-

Unusual Time-Piece Owned By Local Man

A watch which will tell its owner almost everything but the name of the winning horse in the fifth race to-morrow was displayed at The Examiner by William Smyth, 509 Parnell street, this morning. Not only does it keep track of the hour, the minute and the second of the day but also it reveals the day of the week, the month, the date and the existing phase of the moon.

The watch is of Swiss manufacture and has been in Mr. Smyth's possession for two years. Thirteen extra wheels beyond those found in an ordinary watch make possible its extra functions. It winds just as any other watch does.

Mr. Smyth is a watchmaker of the third generation so he appreciates the complexities of the unusual time piece. He reveals that he is himself working on a watch which will be something out of the ordinary—a pocket watch operated by a very small battery instead of a main spring. The battery, he expects, will last about a year and will be replaceable at a cost of about one dollar.

PIONEERS' GROUP NEWLY ORGANIZED

Y.M.C.A. Class Instituted for Young Boys Between Eight and Nine Years.

Institution of a new class for young boys eight and nine years of age at the Y.M.C.A. was decided upon by the Board at a meeting last night. Known as the Pioneers' Group, it will be the means of extending the privileges of the Association to a large number of youngsters below the age limit of the Beginners' Class, up to the present the youngest group in the organization.

The need for such a class has become apparent through the wide response on the part of younger boys to the Y.M.C.A. swimming courses during the past couple of years. Eligible members will be given privileges similar to those of the Beginners with a gymnasium period and a swim each Saturday morning during the Fall, Winter and Spring, and swims Wednesday and Saturday during the Summer.

The fee for membership up to October for lads joining the group at the present time will be one dollar, the Board decided. The regular annual fee will be two dollars.

Enjoyable Concert Is Well Received

An enjoyable concert with encores for every number, was presented in aid of the Beaver Club at St. John's Parish Hall, Monday evening, with Mrs. R. Bugg in charge. Jack Smith was chairman.

The program for a pleasing entertainment was as follows: Piano selection by Nora Thomas; recitation, "Corn Cob Dolly," by Shirley Plumpton; solo, "Mother Machree," by Artie Plumpton; tap dance by Nora Thomas; solo, "Love's Old Sweet Song," by Miss Minnie Allen; trio, "Spinning Wheel," by the Misses P. Pink, A. and M. Fletcher; solo, "Won't You Buy My Pretty Flowers," by Lola Bradbury; entertainment by three Japanese girls, the Misses Nora Thomas and S. and A. Plumpton; Nursery Rhyme by Rosie Fletcher; solo, "My Mother Was a Lady," by Toots Delaire; trio, "Old Shanty Town," by the Misses P. CHILDREN'S AID SETS TAG DAY

Last Saturday of September Chosen as Tag Day for Shelter.

MONTHLY MEETING.

The last Saturday in September, the 29th, was chosen as the annual Tag Day of the Children's Shelter, at the meeting of the Board of the Children's Aid Society of the city and county of Peterborough, held yesterday afternoon in the City Council Chamber, with the Ven. Archdeacon Blagrave, D.D., presiding in the absence of the president, the Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe.

Mrs. H. W. Darcy was appointed as convenor, with chairmen of the standing committee, James Abraham, W Stocker and V. Eastwood, Senior, to act as assistants to the ladies.

The report of the superintendent, J. Edgar, for April (when no regular May meeting was held) was as follows: Applications for children, 3, wards placed out, 2; wards returned to Shelter, 2; complaints received and investigations made, 8; police court attendance, 1; children involved during month, 20; mail received, 25; mail sent out, 38.

For May, the report was as follows: Applications, 6; wards placed out, 2; wards visited, 4; wards returned to Shelter, 3; mileage covered, 150; complaints and investigations, 6; police court attendance, 3; children sent to Industrial school, 1; foster homes heard from, 4; children involved, 26; mail received, 35; mail sent out, 83. Number of children in the Shelter at the end of the month, 12.

hTe chairman of the Property committee, W. Stocker, reported that a chimney which was demanded at the Shelter by the Underwriters on penalty of raising the rate $40 a year, had been constructed by Mr. Tuggey for a little over that sum, and Ven. Dr. Blagrave congratulated the committee on the economical procedure.

It was reported that various coal companies of the city were anxious to supply the Shelter with winter fuel and had offered to hold the summer price with any increase until the order is placed. The Purchasing committee was given power to purchase the coal whenever they wished.

It was agreed to adjourn for the summer months, unless called by the president.

Those present at yesterday's meeting were the Ven. Archdeacon Blagrave, J. Edgar, W. Stocker, R. H. Parsons, E. B. Fowler, Ross Dobbin, Dr H. M. Yelland, Mrs. W. H. Gibbs, Mrs. J. Welsh, Mrs. N. Henry, Mrs. L. Yeotes and Mrs. W. J. Oke, James Abraham.

The report of the Purchasing committee, which was read by Mrs. J. Welsh, follows: Campbell's Dairy, $9.90; Herb Allan, $1.22; W. S. Bogue, 10 cents; Grafton & Company, $3; T. B. Maniece, 20.34; P. J. Harrison, 7.68; Richard Hall, Ltd, $14.54; H. W. Nigh, $5.10; Albert Hunter, $140; Bell Telephone Company, $9.10; H. Moncrief, $6; A. Blade & Sons, 80 cents; Canadian Oil Company, $1.37; Cassan & Hutchinson, $4.11; Stock's Bread Company, $10.04; W. J. Oke, $3.50; Ice Company, $4; Silverwood's, Limited, $18.69; Office Specialty Manufacturing Company, $7.21; W. H. Hamilton, $1.65; R. Neil, $1.40; Nicholls Hospital, $3.50; E. ernment should not be entrusted to the opposition, which was "crying blue ruin" as they had no faith in their province, he said.

Dr. George McQuibban, House Liberal leader, appeared on the nomination platform with Edward G. Boyd, Conservative candidate in North Wellington, at Arthur, in a debate, and the Liberal candidate charged the Government had spent only $3,500,000 on highways out of $20,000,000 collected from gasoline taxes and license fees. Dr. McQuibban said the Conservative Government did not represent the Conservative Party and that "an insidious force behind the administration" was dictating the policies.

Mr. Boyd said both Liberals and Conservatives were "wrapped up in monied interests" but he demanded to know what the Liberals had to help the people and why they had no platform.

Price Optimistic.

Attorney-General W. H. Price, in his nomination address in Toronto Parkdale, forecast the return of the Conservative Government with 60 out of the 90 seats, and declared with a return to normal conditions there should be shorter working hours with "at least a half-day's holiday weekly for all wage-earners, including those in retail stores."

Hon. George Challies, Provincial Treasurer, clashed on the Spencerville platform with Harry Nixon, Progressive leader, after the opposition chieftain had charged existence of a "toll gate" in the Liquor Commission and demanded to know if Mr. Challies was connected with Colonial Coach Lines. Mr. Challies denied the "toll gate" charge and said he had never received a cent from the coach lines, of which he was president.

The Dominion Cabinet Ministers will enter the election campaign in Ontario. Hon. Wesley A. Gordon, Minister of Mines and Labor, will speak June 15 at Haileybury, and on June 16 at Timmins, and two days later at Kirkland Lake. Hon. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways, will speak at Port Arthur and Fort William June 18, and Hon. Hugh Stewart, Minister of Public Works, will address a meeting in support of the Government at Gananoque June 14.

Kennedy-Marshall Clash.

About 1,500 persons witnessed a clash at Brampton between Hon. T. L. Kennedy, Minister of Agriculture, and Hon. Duncan Marshall. Appearing on the same platform after their nominations, they shook their fingers at each other as the Minister criticized Mr. Marshall's record as Alberta Agriculture Minister.

Mr. Hepburn's promise to take Hydro out of politics received little credence from Hon. Charles McCrea, Minister of Mines, who declared at Cornwall that all the Liberal leader was accomplishing was to place Hydro in politics. He said Mr. Hepburn's reported intention of discharging the Hydro Commission meant he would "take Hydro into his own hands."

mittee rooms, while excited supporters of both candidates stood on the sidewalks and in the roadway still arguing.

Dr. Davis charged Mr. Hepburn, on the eve of the 1930 election, had declared a $1,000,000-milk order was coming to Belmont, near St. Thomas, and stated Mr. Hepburn knew this was untrue. "No, no," shouted Mr. Hepburn, and again there was a storm of shouting and clapping. The Liberal leader declared he acted in good faith about the milk order, and called upon a man in the audience to testify in his behalf. The man rose promptly and said Mr. Hepburn was right and still again there was a roar from the crowd.

At this city the Liberal leader was given an attentive hearing and was extended a civic welcome by Mayor O. J. Kerr. He predicted Premier R B. Bennett would "never lead a party at the next election—instead he'll go to England and become Lord Matchbox or something."

Refers to Russian Trade

He attacked the government's policies, declaring Mr. Bennett had prevented the Russian trade treaty which would have provided a market for Canadian cattle, and turning to provincial issues reiterated his charge the government was trying to bribe voters by providing road work on the eve of the election.

He declared the St. Thomas meeting had been the "most hectic political debate in the history of the country," and charged the Conservatives with invading the riding "horse, foot, and artillery in their efforts to beat me."

Mr. Hepburn predicted the deal whereby the province took over the Dominion Power and Transmission Company at a cost of $21,500,000 would cost the government "seven seats in the Niagara peninsula," and said even Conservatives had stated the assetsof the D. P. and T. were simply "a pile of punk."

He attacked Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, former Hydro Commissioner, because Mr. Meighen's companies had held financial interests in certain projects taken over by Hydro, and with reference to the Hydro's' purchase of the Abitibi project he charged Mr. Meighen with speculation in the bonds of the project in violation of "the confidence of the people."

An annual charge of 50 cents for medical attention to school children will be made by Londonderry, Ireland.

In the Final Week.

REGINA, June 13.—(C.P.)— The home stretch in the race for votes was reached to-day in the Saskatchewan general election campaign which ends with voting June 19.

In the 51 of the province's 62 constituencies where voters will exercise their franchise next Tuesday, 167 candidates were placed in nomination yesterday for 54 seats. The single-seat constituency of Athabaska will vote July 24. Regina, Moose Jaw city and Saskatoon are two-seat constituencies.

The only tangle arising from the nominations occurred in Melfort constituency, where John A. MacDonald, returning officer, rejected the nomination papers of J. L. Phelps, Farmer-Labor candidate, because Phelps had not included his consent to stand.

Mr. MacDonald explained later that he had noticed the consent section unsigned and immediately sent his clerk to find Phelps and have the nomiantion papers put in proper order. When Phelps was unlocated as the final hour passed, the papers were rejected.

Deposit Retained

Communication has been made with the clerk of the executive council here to ascertain if there is any way out of the tangle.

At Saskatoon, Frank Eliason, secretary of the United Farmers of Canada, also affiliated with the C.C.F., stated that the returning officer in Melfort had retained Phelp's election deposit of $100 and he believed the nomination would be accepted.

Premier J. T. M. Anderson Conservative party leader, was nominated in Saskatoon along with Hon. Howard McConnell for the two seats. There are five other candidates in the constituency. J. G. Gardner, Liberal leader, is in a three-cornered fight in Melville constituency, where he is opposed by a Conservative and a Farmer-Labor nominee. M. J. Coldwell, Farmer-Labor party chieftain, is running in the two seat constituency of Regina where there is a total of seven candidates. Seven candidates were also nominated in Moose Jaw city, also a two-seat riding.

The only woman candidate to appear in the lists was Mrs. F. G. Salisbury, a Farmer-Labor candidate in Saskatoon. In Yorkton, L. C. Fletcher, who was first nominated under the assumed name of Leslie Foster, was accepted under his correct name. Fletcher, a son of Rev. W. P. Fletcher of Odessa, Ont., took the assumed name when he suffered a nervous breakdown in 1931 and came west to work in the harvest fields. There is no constituency with less than three candidates.

band was out at the barn. Mr. Davidson again came to her door. 'I asked him, 'Well, and who sent for you?' He didn't reply but asked me where my husband was. I said in the barn, and I went out and brought my husband in.

"My husband lit into him and told him he had better go and not come back. Mr. Davidson didn't say anything when my husband charged him with insulting me the way he had. He went off without hardly a word."

Shortly after Mr. Davidson left after insulting her, she said her husband came into the house and she complained to him immediately as to what had occurred. She saw her lawyer, Mr. Kerr, on November 20, four days later, and it was the day after that Mr. Davidson again came to her home.

"I did not think Mr. Davidson would do such a thing" she declared.

No Encouragement

"What, if any, encouragement did you give him?" Mr. Kerr asked.

"I did not give him any encouragement" witness answered. She explained that Mr. Davidson lived a half mile down the road and was a bachelor, living alone.

Cross-examined, Mrs. Brunton said she had been at Mr. Davidson's place several times but always in company with her husband. She had been in his house only once and that was to help her husband do some paper-hanging there. She had lived in Belmont township all her life. She declared that Mr. Davidson had come to her home before but always when her husband was present. "Now I kind of think that that was why he came before," she stated.

The husband, James Angus Brunton, aged 26, substantiated his wife's testimony as to his absence when the alleged assault took place. "I saw Mr. Davidson going down the road as I came home" he said. "I was not speaking to him. As soon as I got into the house I could tell that something had happened from the look on my wife' face. She told me the same story then that she has told here this afternoon."

Ordered Him Out

Five days later when his wife called him from the barn and he found Mr. Davidson in the house, he said. "I asked him what he was celebrating by insulting my wife the way he had. He didn't answer. I told him to get out and stay out and he said that he could do that too. He did not deny that he assaulted my wife."

Under cross-examination the husband said he had helped Mr. Davidson and as a neighbor Mr. Davidson had helped him. Previously there had been a friendy feeling between them.

James Ernest Brunton, father to the previous witness, who said that his home was across the road from that of his son, testified that he had seen Mr. Davidson leaving his son's house on the afternoon of November 16. His son that same evening had complained to witness of Mr. Davidson assaulting his wife. Four or five days later Mr. Davidson had come to his barnyard about a pair of shafts. "He said: 'The are pretty mad at me across the road.' I didn't say anything to him about it. And then he said: 'All I did was put my arm around her and they can only fine me a dollar for that and I'm the man that can pay it."

This closed the case for the plaintiff.

Frank Davidson, the defendant, who told the court he was 67 years of age, then took the stand on his own behalf.

Warm Welcome

He said that he had gone to the Brunton home on the afternoon of November 16. "When Pearl came to the door on my knock she said: 'Come on in, come on in. Angus will be back shortly'," he testified. "I went into the kitchen and took a seat. We talked for awhile, but almost as soon as I got in she hurried up and got her child and another kid dressed up and sent them over across the road.

"She went over and stood looking out the window. She almost filled the window. Then she said: 'O come quick, Mr. Davidson and look at the strange color of the sun.' I went over and looked and said there was nothing different about the sun. Then I sat down again. There she was still at the window. Then she called again, saying: 'Look at that team coming down the road.' I went and looked and didn't see no team.

"I tumbled then that she was pulling something on me and got away out of the house right away. I thought the quicker I got out the better.

Cross-examined by Mr. Kerr, witness could not remember anything that was said during the 20 minutes he was in the Brunton house that afternoon.

Later, he said, "I know she called me to the window a second time. And I know she was trying to catch me."

Deeded Farm to Brother

Mr. Kerr then asked if he had not on May 28 deeded over his 75 acre farm to his brother "for natural love and affection for his brother and one dollar." Mr. Davidson said he could not remember.

"Can you remember the purchase price of your farm?" he was asked. "I can if I want to" he answered.

Mr. Kerr pressed for an ato the question, but witness insisted he would not answer. Judge Ruddy ruled that he must answer the question.

"Don't you remember the purchase price?" Mr. Kerr asked.

"I'm just thinking whether I do or not; my memory is getting pretty bad."

Judge Ruddy interrupted: "You can answer that question. If you don't remember say so."

"I don't just mind it" witness then answered.

Q.—"Did you give your farm away?"

A.—"I don't know that I gave it away."

Q.—"Didn't you give it away to your brother, a kindly affectionate brother?"

A.—Naw, just a brother; that's all."

Q.—"Well, it wasn't a stranger you give it to."

A.—"No, it wasn't a stranger. But you see I thought this deal this case here, was all off. Up until May 18 it was off."

Q.—"But on May 28 you gave this conveyance of your property to your brother?"

A.—"Aw, there's no connection between the two transactions at all."

He denied that he had said to Mr. Brunton, Sr., that the younger Bruntons were angry at him. "I never heard nor never said such a thing," he declared.

Mr. Kerr asked him how he felt by escaping the alleged designs of Mrs. Brunton. "I suppose you felt very much like Joseph in the Scriptures?" the lawyer suggested.

"I don't know how he felt," was the answer.

"But you remember very well that day in the Brunton kitchen?"

"O, no, very well. She tried to get around me once before."

Mr. Kerr asked, "And yet you see that the very next morning you went back to this woman's home?"

Answer—"Yes, I went over to get her husband to come to my place and do some papering."

Asked if he had made a denial to the husband's charge that he had insulted Mrs. Brunton, "No, I didn't. He' talked so fast I didn't get a word in edgeways."

Question—"You say you are 67 years of age and is it true that you have never put your arm around a woman in affection, either because she was willing or you were willing?"

Answer—"I never bothered with women."

Question—'That is not the question."

Answer—"Well, what is the question? Put it up right."

Mr. Kerr repeated the question. Mr. Davidson answered, "Oh, I might have stepped off the trail a little bit. But still I was never any worse than a lot of others."

Wesley Davidson, brother of the previous witness, told of an attempt he had made to make a settlement of the case. He stated that Mrs. Brunton had told him she only "wanted to have her character proved good."

This closed the case.

DR. J. FAULKNER ASSAILS COST is a crusader. He has joined the crusade for a new party to be in power in Toronto." Mr. Holton then assailed the Henry Cabinet for their increase of their already too high salaries. Referring to the highways question, he said that the Liberals would earmark every dollar spent on the roads of the province. He classified Mitchell Hepburn as a student of economics who was competent to cut existing administrative costs by fifty per cent. He assured his hearers that old age pensions and mothers' allowances would not be interfered with if the Liberal party was returned to power. He deprecated the Government's issuance of bonds, and in his concluding remarks referred to a barn which had been erected by Government money at a cost of $37,000.00 which was later estimated to be only worth $9,000.00.

The Candidate

Dr. J. A. Faulkner, commenced his speech by referring to a statement made the same afternoon at the nomination at Stirling by Hon. J. R. Cooke, "Politics shouldn't divide us so much in the Provincial Legislature." "I hope to win this election," said the candidate, "by winning the consciences and hearts of the electors." After touching briefly in turn upon mothers' allowances, old age pensions, and soldiers' pensions, he hotly assailed Hon. W. H. Price on some of the latter's recent statements and manifested his disgust at an article appearing in the daily press of the province, "Do You Wish to Be a Kulak?"

Having endorsed the views of preceding speakers on the cost of highways and salaries of Cabinet Ministers, Dr. Faulkner then said he would correct a statement made by Hon. J. R. Cooke at Stirling that afternoon. Mr. Cooke had stated that electricity under private ownership cost three times as much as under Hydro. Dr. Faulkner cited firms in Belleville and Orillia who were paying double under Hydro to what they were before. "We may be paying what Hydro costs," he said, "but what we want to know is why it costs so much."

Message to Farmers

F. A. Bapty, who came next, referred to the keen interest being taken in the present election. He expressed regret that Mr. J. C. M. German, K.C., could not be present, and then introduced Charles Howard, M.P., of Sherbrooke, Quebec. In very eloquent language this speaker brought a message to the farmers. "While the farmer has money, he is the greatest purchasing power in the whole world," he declared. Canada could not blame the depression for where she stood financialy to-day, for no country has at the same time so many assets and so few people, said Mr. Howard. The reason Canada was not more prosperous was because she had maladministration at Ottawa and Toronto.

The meeting, free of heckling but marked with a few humorous ejaculations, closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

NOMINATION JOINT MEETINGS.

It has not been the custom for many years to hold a joint meeting here in connection with the official nomination proceedings, and to a great many people the failure to stage such a debate means a regrettable loss in interest and excitement.

In the majority of the constituencies the post-nomination joint meeting is rightly regarded as one of the biggest features of the campaign.

The usual procedure is for the candidates to address the electors in turn and for each to have the assistance of an imported orator, and as the audience is generally fairly well divided in the matter of political allegiance, there is an abundance of enthusiasm and a vast amount of entertainment.

Down in Northumberland, for example, over 2,000 excited electors of the constituency gathered at Warkworth to be present at the nomination proceedings, and a memorable meeting was held.

Such a gathering is in marked contrast with the situation in Peterborough where only the returning officer, the candidates and their agents had any part in the event, and the routine of nominating candidates was carried out with about as much excitement as is associated with filing a deed.

The joint meeting plan has a place in the scheme of things, and it is unfortunate that local political parties have abandoned this method of arousing interest.

A GREAT INDUSTRY.

The importance of the printing industry in Canada is effectively shown as the result of a report prepared by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, which reveals that in this country in 1932 there were 1,984 printing establishments in Canada, representing a total investment of $122,663,296.

Of this huge amount, $88,028,241 was for land, buildings, fixtures, machinery and tools; $7,194,868 for materials on hand, stocks in process, etc.; $2,024,588 for finished products on hand, and $25,414,603 for cash, bills receivable, etc.

Employment was given to 32,584 men and women, of which the salary employees numbered 14,411 and received $19,330,845, and the wage-earners totalled 21,173, with a total pay-roll of $25,264,133.

25,469 of the employees were male.

The printing industry employed 42,417 horse-power, the electricity purchased represented a cost of $816,701, and the fuel used amounted to $492,749.

Materials utilized in 1932 represented an expenditure of $26,446,372, of which newsprint accounted for over $8,000,000.

The total production of the printing trades in the year under review reached the large sum of $101,492,333, the greatest item being periodicals, among which daily newspapers were responsible for $36,312,989. Printed and bound books to the value of $4,602,469 were turned out during the year, and the total finished printed matter had a value of $91,100,568.

MANY IN THE FIELD.

The die is cast; with nomination day over the alignment of political candidates is complete, and Ontario can settle down to the task of selecting her government for the next five years.

The situation is unusually involved by reason of the appearance on the political scene not only of three dozen candidates of the new political party, the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation, but because the abnormal economic conditions and subsequent unrest of the past few years have produced a crop of Communist and other radical standard-bearers.

Some of these at least are in the field chiefly for the purpose of spreading propaganda; in other words, they are using the election merely as an opportunity to bring their pet policies before such of the electorate as will take the trouble to listen to them.

How much of a factor these nondescript candidates will prove remains to be seen, but present indications are that the support that Communists, Social-Labor candidates and United Fronters will obtain will be trifling.

The issue lies in the main between the two old parties, with the C.C.F. group carrying on a vigorous fight wherever they are represented.

The Henry Government has candidates in every constituency in the province, while the Liberals will be represented by nominees in 85 of the 90 ridings and are supporting other opposition candidates in the remaining five.

It is a large field with as many as six aspirants for office on the ballot papers in several ridings—but when the smoke clears away it will likely be found that few outside the three main groups have made much of a showing.

A FORTUNATE ROTARY CLUB.

The Peterborough Rotary Club has always been a fortunate service organization, fortunate in the calibre of its membership, fortunate in the unwavering support its social service activities has always received from the people of this city and district, and above all, fortunate in the men in its ranks who have given leadership to its work on behalf of crippled children and under-privileged boys.

When the local Rotary Club embarked upon its task of caring for children handicapped by physical defects it had the singular good luck to have in its membership such an enthusiastic worker as Dr. A. W. McPherson, who threw himself into the work of locating and treating crippled children with a determination and zeal that overcame all obstacles and won through to complete success. Fortunate, too, was the fact that also listed among local Rotarians was Dr. N. D. Buchanan, whose expert services were available in some of the cases taken under treatment.

Later on the good fortune of Peterborough Rotary again came to the fore when Dr. A. Moir, this year's retiring president, became associated with the club and took over the great responsibility of the crippled children's work. In more recent years Dr. Moir's unfailing interest in this mission of giving handicapped children a fresh start in life has made the work an effective success.

Here again fate smiled upon local Rotarians, for the Crippled Children's Committee generally and Rotarian Andrew Brown in particular measured up to their responsibilities one hundred per cent., and their indefatigable efforts have contributed immeasurably to the fine results attained.

Similarly with the Boys' Camp effort which, springing out of the interest shown by C. H. Rogers in boys who had no opportunity to enjoy a summer holiday under suitable conditions, has grown into one of the outstanding Boys' Camp movements in the province. Such Rotarians as Fred. L. Roy, Doug. Loomis and George A. Macdonald, now of Chicago, were particularly prominent in their work in behalf of that very fine effort, and once again the Rotary Club is to be congratulated upon its good fortune in having capable keymen available when their enthusiasm and ability was required.

WORKING NOW—ON RELIEF LATER.

The Oshawa Times records that "the number of families on relief in the city of Oshawa is now below the five hundred mark, and is steadily decreasing." That is good news, but the Times feels inclined to put a sort of question mark in it and says: "It is too much to hope that the number will remain below the five hundred mark when next fall and winter roll along. There are many now employed who will, during the period of idleness in our seasonal industries, have again to seek assistance."

Plainly that is not so good. Not so good for Oshawa and not so good for the men concerned. They are right now having a taste of work, of being able to support themselves, but they are on a short road, from which they must turn later on toward the relief office. The men will not like that, and we do not wonder at it. A red-blooded man getting back to work and exercising his right to provide for his own folk will not relish the prospect of having to revert to the poorer system of having things given to him.

It opens a fairly large question, one which has not yet been answered. Oshawa is an automobile centre, and for some time there has been a period of activity. That is splendid, but it will not last. That is the history of such places. They are sources of seasonal occupation, and when the rush is over there is nothing more for the workers to do, so they must look elsewhere for support. Not being able to find other employment they turn toward the municipality, and the municipality directs them to apply to the relief office. Then it is that the country in general, by payments from municipal, provincial and federal bodies, takes over the responsibility of supporting men who are required in factories for only a limited period in the year, and whose earnings during that time are not sufficient to keep them in the months when they are not working.

Cities are keen enough to secure industries, but the factory of seasonal operation at capacity, and then other months where but a few are working, is at best a questionable asset. It would mean uncertainty for the merchants and others engaged in business, more uncertainty for others who undertook to carry out obligations based on employment which petered out after a few months.

Oshawa is not the only place which has this experience. It is something which has come into existence in several lines of industry and it is the result of improved methods of manufacture where machinery has so speeded up production that goods can be placed on the market right at the time when they are in demand. The time for selling automobiles, for instance, is largely seasonal, and therefore the manufacture of the cars follows the same trend. In spring and summer people want cars and they want them right away, and therefore the car makers equip their plants so they can supply them right away while the demand is on.

But that does not settle the question of who is responsible for the support of the workers whose services are needed for only part of the year, and it has caused careful thinkers to question seriously the value of a seasonal source of occupation as an asset to the community. The human element in industry cannot definitely be denied its proper place in the consideration of this question. When machinery is idle it is housed and men see to it that it is cared for and protected from rust or damage, and we have an idea that the men who operate the machines should be similarly regarded.—Stratford Beacon-Herald.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Conservatives, Liberals and C.C.F. adherents alike will forget politics to-night as they rally behind the Peterborough Rotary Club and its annual carnival.

And now for "the last awful week." Let us hope last-minute roorbacks will be conspicuous by their absence.

Three or more candidates are running in half the ridings in Ontario. It is a situation that has most of the political sharks guessing as to the possible effect of the presence of so many aspirants for office.

The last time this city saw a three-cornered fight in the provincial field was in 1919 when T. Tooms, Labor candidate, was elected.

Remember, every cent received by the Rotary Club at its annual carnival is devoted to the club's social service work.

What's in The NAME

of Canadian Cities and Towns?

By FRANK H. WILLIAMS

MEDICINE HAT, ALBERTA

The origin of this name is bound up in the tradition that Kaus-ke-ta-pot, a young Sioux brave, cast his lovely bride into the waters of the river near where Medicine Hat now stands, that he might discover the whereabouts of the medicine bag, or hat (for both words mean the same in the Sioux language) and thus succeed to the chieftainship of his tribe.

Kaus-ke-ta-o-pot's bride was the daughter of the reigning chieftain, Kin-o-so-ta, and to his father-in-law, Kaus-ke-ta-o-pot confided that while he was slaking his thirst in the river the Great Serpent rose up out of the water and spoke to him, demanding of him a great sacrifice and holding out to him a great reward.

Kaus-ke-ta-o-pot consulted with his mather-in-law and his bride. Both urged him to offer up the great sacrifice. The dusky bride was tossed into the water and disappeared immediately.

The Indian warrior was directed to a spot where he found the Medicine Bag which was to make him all-powerful. While he and his followers were making merry over acquisition of this precious talisman the Blackfoot crept upon them and drove them across the river. But a ruse Kaus-ke-ta-o-pot and his followes ambushed their enemy and routed them. This was the last great fight between these traditional enemies.

Of Kaus-ke-ta-a-pot's subsequent career we know nothing. The story ends there, but the name of the city has endured to this day.

A Thought

TRUST

It was a pen of the wildest knowledge of human nature that wrote, "Those who trust us educate us." No one can succeed as a teacher without confidence and trust in the pupil. Too orten do parents repel and harm their children by treating them as though they could not be trusted. Confidence is the very frist step in winning and in inducing confidence. How can a child be drawn to God when he is continually threatened with the secret and searching eye of God? There is reason in the Oriental superstition of the "evil eye." God is our truest educator; He has given us bodily energies, mental powers, and a will to choose and to perform. He trusts us with all these, lovingly counselling us not to use them to our own destruction.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE REVIEWS

Approximate prices track shipping point—Wheat, 99c to $1.02; oats, 40c to 45c; barley, 48c to 50c; corn, 65c to 70c; rye, 48c to 50c; buckwheat, 58c to 60c.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

Butter advanced and potatoes declined on the Montreal Produce and Dairy Market yesterday.

Fresh No. 1 butter in carlots or less was quoted at 22 cents to 22¼ cents a pound up ¼ of a cent. At the weekly auction held at the Board of Trade 920 boxes of No. 1 Quebec butter sold at 21⅞ cents a pound, while 67 boxes of No. 2 sold at 21¾ cents a pound. Receipts were 530 boxes. Small lots to the retail trade were quoted by wholesale jobbing houses at 23 cents a pound for solids and 24 cents for prints.

The cheese market held steady. Ontario colored being 11 to 11¼ cents a pound. Quebec being a cent under the Ontario levels. At the Board of Trade auction 395 boxes of No. 1 Quebec cheese sold at 10, cents a pound, while No. 2 brought 9¼ cents. Arrivals totalled 3,416 boxes.

Eggs were generally firm, Montreal less than carlots being 20 to 20½ cents a dozen for A large, and 19 cents to 19½ cents for A medium. Western carlots were unchanged, selling at 21 cents a dozen for A large, 20 cents for A medium, 19½ cents for B, and 18 cents for C. Receipts were 3,023.

Potatoes declined 5 cents. New Brunswick Mountains were 70 cents to 80 cents per 80-pound bag, Quebec Whites 65 cents to 70 cents per 80-pound bag, and Prince Edward Island Mountains, 90c to $1.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Corn became king of the grain markets yesterday, and with buying on a broad scale advanced nearly four cents a bushel, the extreme limit allowed.

Swarming of chinch bugs into Illinois corn fields much earlier in the season than usual led to fears of impending huge losses of corn. It was asserted by leading trade authorities that owing to dearth of rain in volume sufficient to have the slightest effect in checking damage from the chinch bugs the destruction of corn might be the next major factor in the nation's 1934 crops.

Lively profit-taking forced some reaction from the day's top figures for corn, but the market closed strong, 2½-3 cents above Monday's finish, wheat ⅞-¾c up, oats ⅝-⅞c advanced, and provisions showing

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, June 13. — Dullness pervaded the Winnipeg grain pit yesterday, and at the end of the session wheat futures showed no change in price. An early sag was later wiped out entirely.

Contradictory factors helped the market to its dead centre finish. July option ende dat 78½c, October at 80⅝c to 80½c, and December at 81¼c.

The weather forecast indicated scattered showers and higher temperatures. Chicago gave a strong performance, but Liverpool ended lower. Ligtness of offerings encouraged traders, but export business proved disappointing.

Offerings were limited and quiet trading resolved itself mainly into a spreading proposition. Some buying appeared from houses with Southern connections Initial selling quickly petered out.

No figure was placed on exsort business, but some was reported to have been worked. Near the close a fairly large export order for cash wheat came in and was closed.

KIWANIANS CONFER ON 1924-25 PLANS

Conferences Discuss Club Objectives for the Coming Year.

TORONTO, Ont., June 13.—There are 1,870 Kiwanis clubs in Canada and the U.S. with a membership of 83,000, Fred C. W. Parker, of Chicago, secretary, declared in his annual report to delegates at the Kiwanis convention here to-day. The service organization was founded in Detroit in January, 1915.

Agriculture

The annual report of the agricultural committee urged a land utilization program. All clubs will bring urban and rural leaders together at an early date to discuss land use planning, problems and suburban settlements. Other activities to be continued are the promotion of diversified farming, institutes and scientific farming projects, dairying and pure-bred stock raising, sponsoring grain and stock shows and fairs, and 4-H boys and girls club work. Over 870 clubs in the U.S. and Canada are already engaged in this agricultural work, John C. Taylor, of Bozeman, Montana, chairman of the agriculture committee, reports. Other members of the agriculture committee are: Carl F. Chase, Nampa, Idaho, and J. A. Frohock, Bradenton, Florida.

Vocational Guidance

In vocational guidance work each Kiwanian will continue to aid those students interested in his business or profession. Back-to-school campaigns, character training, planned use of leisure time of young people and health education are all included in proposed community-wide programs for the clubs during 1934-35. Both sexes are to be included and the plans are to help young people of high school and college age.

Child welfare work will also be continued. This work includes the supplying of food, clothing, medical attention and moral guidance.

All forms of general health work, including clinics, hospitalization, preventoriums, vacation camps, etc., are also all continuous activities.

Citizenship

In citizenship work for 1934-35 an intensive effort is to be made for the education of voters in the complex social problems confronting civilization. Open forums, night schools for illiterates, naturalization work among the foreign born, citizenship councils, prizes and awards for conspicuous community service, get-out-the vote campaigns, study of tax problems and special weeks set aside both in the United States and Canada for citizenship training are all part of the approved program.

FR. BRENNAN CELEBRATES HIS 25TH YEAR AS PRIEST

ESPANOLA, Ont., June 13 (C.P.).—With more than 200 of his own parishioners and fellow-citizens joining with distinguished visitors in paying tribute to his work Rev. Father James T. Brennan, parish priest of Espanola, celebrated his 25th anniversary as a priest, nearly all of which was spent in Espanola, at a banquet tendered him on Monday night.

Congratulatory speeches were heard from over a dozen speakers, including Dr. J. M. Robb, Ontario Minister of Health and Labor who is member for Algoma, in which Espanola is situated. Dr. J. R. Hurtubise, M.P. for Nipissing, and church dignitarie, both Protestant and Catholic. Letters and telegrams were read from Premier George S. Henry, Minister of Lands and Forests, William Finlayson, G. B. Nicholson, M.P., the Hon. Charles McCrea, Minister of Mines, and Bishop D. J. Scollard. ... ...

ON THIS DATE

A DAY IN CANADIAN HISTORY

By Fred Williams

VANCOUVER'S BAPTISM OF FIRE

On this date, in 1886 fire swept the infant town of Vancouver, only a few weeks old. When the Canadian Pacific was first planned its Pacific terminal was located at Port Moody, some distance up Burrard Inlet; but that genius of transportation, the man with a vision, W. C. VanHorne, realized that a better location lay to his hand near the mouth of the inlet, the natural harbor of Granville. (Can any one tell we where that name came from? I have an idea it was that of a pioneer settler).

And so Granville became Vancouver. A small depot was erected, tracks were laid and the great terminal was born. There arose a number of shacks fronted by sidewalks on stilts, dangerous to walk at any time, but most dangerous at nights. It was a very primitive pioneer town, but it had a future. Adventurers thronged in seeking opportunities; businesses were started in tents among the great trees that lined the sloping upward shore; and the new town was launched.

Clearing had to be done quickly; trees were slaughtered and cut; there remained a lot of slash; the weather was hot; care was taken that there should be no fire; but fire came all the same. Whether due to a carelessly thrown match or to embers of a bonfire developed into flame by the wind, the dreaded fire came. Within a few hours there was nothing left but a heap of smoking debris while flames were sweeping into the trees to the south. The latter fire was soon controlled. Then Vancouver started re-building and within a few weeks was going strong.

The baptism by fire was a blessing in disguise. It swept away the shacks on the waterfront; it made town planning necessary; it enabled the city to be laid out on broad lines; and it gave to the pioneers just that zest which was necessary to conquer all obstacles and produce the great city of today, the third largest in Canada, and still growing. There are not many now left who were there in 1886. Twenty years or so ago when I was in Vancouver, it was custom for the survivors of that June 13th to gather and reclaim that day. Does that custom still continue?

Character From Handwriting

By BLANCHE A. DRAPER

A Feature Conducted by Peterborough's Leading Handwriting Analyist for the Readers of The Examiner

Full name and address (complete) must be given in all samples sent in.

Miss Leon Breen, Havelock, Ont.

Your handwriting expresses an individual personality. You are a type unto yourself, typically an enigma. There is versatility and intrigue, philosophy and psychology denoted, also a capriciousness which causes you to do things which are often not quite understood by others. You are discerning and do not rush into propositions. Ideas grow gradually and as you develop them, they become more and more perfect. You are susceptible to kind deeds and reach the pinnacle of your genuine nature under the influence of honest love. Sometimes you are tired of the daily grind, then you put forth renewed energy and find strength and comfort to enable you to carry on. You are energetic and utterly abhor lazy traits in anyone. You large 'B' represents a kind heart. The formations in name portray progressiveness and determination. Some indicate secretiveness, other a leaning in the other direction. You adore art and beauty and usually accomplish much work with the hands, especially of an artistic nature. Your number is 8 and is exceptionally good for business. Your birthsign is Taurus the Bull and you are ruled by Venus. May and July are your best months, and Friday your lucky day.

Janet Elizabeth Dougis Westwood, Ont.

Your writing shows that you are sensitive natured and rather inclined to be too reserved. You have many interesting talents but you do not seem to make very much of them at present. There seems to be designing ability in the writing, but you are not quite sure that you wish to enter upon this line of endeavour as yet. However you are not as mature in years, as yet, and so you will have plenty of time in which to make up your mind as to your future work. You are genuine and kind, loving humorous. As a rule your disposition is about the same, but when you do allow yourself the privilege of getting vexed, I venture to suggest that the 'sparks fly.' There is so much good in you, that success should follow you as a natural sequence, especially if you choose the line of work to which you are best suited when the time arrives. Your number is 3. Your birthsign Aquarius the Man. You are ruled by Uranus. April and August are your best months, and Saturday your lucky day.

Mrs. Fred W. Evans, Omemee, Ont.

Your writing reveals energy and enthusiasm. You seem to allow yourself to become impulsive and excited at times, and then you tire easily and become morbid and dissatisfied. However, you have the intelligence and the power to rise above the ordinary events, and to become vivacious and entertaining. You are genuine and sympathetic, and this noteworthy characteristic of sympathy should bring you many really worthwhile friends who will love you for your genuine qualities. Teaching, nursing or office work might interest you, and I know that which ever interests you the most will be carried out to perfection when you so desire. The lower loops show that you are interested in out-of-door recreation, and I feel sure that more time in the open will benefit you greatly. Your capitals show remarkable artistic ability which should lend itself to the performance of a hobby. The largeness of your capitals suggest love of flowers.

ALL OF US

(By Marshall Maslin.)

O, PRICELESS OPPORTUNITY

The day is so clear, so fair.

The wind blows so freshly, the little clouds float so sharply against the blue of the heavens. The air is so sweet, so delightful... I can see everything!....See that flowering tree across the way? I swear I can distinguish every pink petal of every flower....I look across this little slope and see every tree standing fresh and green in the morning sun. On that small hill a cow grazes comfortably, and I hear the tinkle of the bell on her neck, and I can see it away....I see a woman leave her home and carry a bundle of white clothing into the backyard, and I see her raise her white arms gracefully to pin the washing onto a line. There's a child pulling at her skirts and a gray cat walks lazily across the yard and the foot of a tree....I hear a train whistle, and I see the white steam puff out and fade swiftly into the air....And I can see, without straining, an automobile climb slowly along the road that leads up that mountain slope. Seems as if I could walk over there in half an hour or so, even though I KNOW it must be many miles away and cannot be as close as it seems.... The day is so clear, the air is so transparent that all things are brought close to me, and me to them.

Sometimes our lives seem as transparent as that....We wake in the morning to a new world, just made, with the dew of creation still upon it. We are vigorously alive and fresh with strength. All things are plain to us, nothing alarms us, nothing has evil meaning this morning...Our worries have faded in the night, our fears are pathetically childlike. Our problems carry their easy solutions in their hands. We are giants, we are invincible. It is good to be living and we are worthy of the splendid feast that is set before us.

On such a day, we should do something worth while. We should make it memorable. We are fairly in tune, joyously alive, strongly immortal, and we should celebrate the day in some grand fashion. If we fail, if we allow it to peter out, if we do nothing with this priceless jewel of a day, we commit a sin, we are traitors to life.... What can I do with this grand day to make it gleam forever in my memory?

Sisson Appointment Is Given Approval

(Examiner Correspondence.)

BETHANY, June 13. — The Manvers Council met following the Court of Revision, and the following communications were received and read:

From the Deputy Minister of Highways approving, relief project submitted by the township to the Department on an expenditure of $6000 on the roads of this township.

From A. E. Wilson as to insuring the employees of the township. On motion no action taken.

From the Highway Department giving a statement on the road expenditures in 1933 eligible for subsidy from government.

From the Provincial Treasury as to railway tax share for this township for 1934.

From R. Bottril as to help owing to his disability. On motion it was left in the Reeve's hands to find some way to help him.

The clerk reported that the Highway's Department had called him on the phone approving of A. B. Sisson's appointment as Road Superintendent. The official approval would be mailed at once.

Cumiskey—Neals—That the tenders for applying power for crusher having been opened, it was decided to leave the matter of who shall supply the power to Councillor Skuce and the Road Superintendent.

LIST MARKS TIME.

TORONTO, June 13 (C.P.) — Industrial shares marked time today, expanding trade to any extent only in Brewing Corporation Common, Imperial Oil, International Pete and C.P.R. Gains and losses were about balance over the board at the close. International Pete was outstanding with a gain of ⅞ to 28⅞, while the other oils were unchanged.

Brewery shares lost ground, only Canada Malting retaining a narrow gain. Canada Bud weakened ⅝ and Brewing Corporation, after holding at 10 through most of the session, took a small loss in the last few minutes. Distillers Seagrams and Industrial Alcohol had gains of small fractions at the close, and Walkers Common and Brewers and Distillers were unchanged.

The interlisted leaders slowed down in the afternoon and losses were recorded for Nickel and Ford "A" against advances of ¼ for Brazilian and C.P.R.

FEW WEAK SPOTS IN MINE TRADING

Senior Golds and Base Metals Steady—Some of Silver Issues Show Losses.

TORONTO, June 13 (C.P.). — A few weak spots cropped up in the mining section of the Toronto Stock Exchange to-day, but the general tone was firm on average volume. Senior golds and base metal were steady and som eof the cheaper golds and silvers took losses. The bears hopped on San Antonio and knocked it down 35 cents to 5.y0 from which point it recovered to around 5.20, off 25 cents net.

The sell-down for San Antonio had a mildly unsettling effect on other shares of the medium-priced group and Macassa, Sylvanite, Central Patricia, and Ventures sold lower.

Advances up to 25 cents were registered for Dome, McIntyre Pioneer and Bralorne. Wright-Hargreaves lost 20 cents: Noranda held practically unchanged, while gains Falconbridge, and Base Metals Corporation.

REST IS ORDERED FOR MRS. DIONNE

Too Much Excitement Around House Says Dr. A. R. Dafoe.

QUINTUPLETS GAINING.

CORBEIL, Ont., June 13 (CP) — Mrs. Oliva Dionne, mother of the quintuplets which are now 16 days old, was ordered to bed to-day by her physician, Dr. A. R. Dafoe, for a complete rest. All the children were in satisfactory condition today and showed weight gains over yesterday.

Mrs. Dionne who suffered a post partum hemorrhage and was near death for several days after the infants' birth on May 28, first arose from her bed last Firday, 11 days after the births.

"There has been too much excitement around the house," Dr. Dafoe said to-day, "and she is in a run-down condition. She must stay in bed for a while now and take things easy."

The children to-day reached a total weight of 11 pounds for the first time. Their weight at birth was said to be 13 pounds 6 ounces but it was inaccurate, and when they were weighed several days later on a good scale they were less than 10 pounds.

All showed gains to-day after their weight yesterday, when their total was 10 pounds, 10¾ ounces. Their total gain was 5¾ ounces, bringing them to an even 11 pounds.

Their weights in ounces to-day:

NEW YORK, June 13—For a considerable period the market has been fed with a glut of unfavorable news and it's action shows that an early change in it's diet would have more than the usual effect. Events are shaping up so that good news is likely to become the rule rather than the exception a few weeks hence and if that does develop this market will be able to score considerable progress on the up-side.

The metal stocks, copper and silver mining issues, have been showing considerable strength and are expected to attract a much wider speculative and should do better marketwise. Cerro De Pasco should have little difficulty working up to a new high for the year, while Kennecott Copper acts as though it might extend it's advance another four to six points. U. S. Smelting and Refining frequently a fast mover and will be quick to attract a following whenever the market conditions are favorable. Other issues in group worthy of attention are Anaconda, Howe Sound and Noranda.

J. Muir & Co.—Advantage should be taken of opportunity acquire or add to conservative long pull holdings in sound issues in raw material producing groups.

Cassal & Co.—It is only a question of time, when market will begin to discount more constructive factors in the picture.

Paine Webber & Co.—An extension of the upswing which began last week may be delayed a little pending a more favorable news background but the base laid over past month should hold substantially on any set-back meanwhile.

MANY WORKERS FAILED TO GET MINIMUM WAGE

all employees was $1.82 a week. The company added $1.04 to the pay envelopes of a selected list to bring the factory within the law. This left 20 percent earning less than minimum rates, who, if bonused to the rates would have received an additional $2.86 on an average per week.

Many Not Bonused

A long list of workers, many experienced, who earned less than minimum rates and were not bonused, was read by the auditor it showed women working 49¾ hours for $4.05; 50¼ hours for $4.05; 35 hours for 3.90; 30¾ hours for $3.25; 29¼ hours for $1.95; 29¼ hours for $2.60 and 18¾ hours for $2.40.

Increases in piecework rates were put into effect in January and February in Eaton factories, Richardson said but 1934 rates were considerably below 1929 levels. In one department, women's dresses, the average pay envelope for one employee in 1929 was $19.14 and in 1934, $10.80; for another, $16.15 and $10.24; a third, $18.29 and $11.37 and a fourth, $17.86 and $10.79.

Up until August, 1932, the whole of the female factory workers received wages in compliance with the Minimum Wage Law. That is to say, the average piece-work rate was 28½ cents an hour or higher, with the weekly wage $12.55.

Since then, however, Eaton's had taken advantage of the Minimum Wage Act provision which sets forth that the law is considered to be complied with if 80 per cent of the employees receive minimum wage rates.

Piece work earnings were slightly higher this year than last, the auditor said. This was due to increases in piecework rates in some departments and in others to seasonal increases in available work. The increases went into effect in January and February.

The wages paid in the "women's and misses' dresses" department were read out by Mr. Richardson. They showed employees being reduced from 46 cents an hour in 1929 to 26 cents in 1934, with the average wage over a four-week period dropping from $19.14 to $10.80.

Others declined from $16.25 to $10.24 from $18.29 to $11.37; and from $17.06 to $10.79 a week. In each case there had been a drastic cut in the hourly wage rate.

The reduction in rates from 46 to 26 cents an hour is 43 per cent," said Mr. Stevens.

Two other cases were cited by W. W. Kennedy (Cons., Winnipeg Centre). Employee No. 189 was reduced from 52 cents an hour in 1929 to 30 cents in 1934, while No. 183 was cut from 54 cents to 30 cents.

The auditor presented a table showing the number of employees in Eaton garment factories who did not earn the minimum wage in 1933. Out of 1,156 workers, 45.8 did not earn minimum wages during the year although the factory as a whole was brought within the law by bonusing enough workers so that 80 per cent came up to the minimum. The number below minimum wages ran as high as 72 per cent in one department and as low as 3.9.

The average weekly deficiency of those below the minimum wage was $1.82. To bring the factories up to the legal minimum, the company paid an average of $1.04 a week by selecting those closest to the minimum. This left 20 per cent of those who failed to earn the minimum who were $2.85 a week below and were not bonused.

"May I put this question to you, Mr. Richardson," said Mr. Stevens. "Under the Minimum Wage Law this 20 per cent margin which is allowed for those who may earn less than the minimum wage and still keep the employer within the law, was designed for the purpose of taking care of the slow, older workers and persons who might not be physically right up to par."

The regulations did not say what it was designed to cover, but the evidence of R. A. Stappels, when he appeared before the committee was that it covered the physically indifferent, the slow and the malingerer, said witness.

"Then on that theory there ought not to be any appreciable number of persons below the minimum rate?"

"I don't know what the Board had in mind," said Mr. Richardson. Originally it was set forth that 80 per cent must receive the minimum wage. Last April this was altered to read that 80 per cent must earn the minimum wage.

"If the evidence of Mr. Stappels was right—and there is no reason to think otherwise—that it was to take care of those who were slow, malingerers and so on, they would not likely vary much from month to month?" asked Mr. Stevens.

Witness replied in the negative.

PAY-IN-GOODS TIP ON DEBTS GIVEN BY U. S.

Any Plan Promising Mutual Benefit Will Be Considered Says Hull.

NEW POSSIBILITIES.

Britain Informed Debts Owed Her by Others Has No Connection With U. S.

(By Lloyd A. Lehrbas, A.P. Staff Writer.)

WASHINGTON, June 13 (A.P.)— A pay-in-goods tip from the United States opened new possibilities today in the war debt impasse.

In a note to Great Britain, Secretary of State Cordell Hull declared any proposal for payments in goods and services "which promise mutual benefit will be carefully considered."

Such commodities as tin, rubber, jute, and silver immediately came to the minds of observers as they studied the note. The world's greatest tin mines are largely controlled by Britain. Administrations officials, apparently concerned over the United States supply, are lending support to Congressional moves to retain present holdings and find a domestic source.

The British Empire is the world's largest producer of rubber, of which the United States is the leading consumer.

As the Hull note was made public last night, the French Ambassador, Andre de Labourlaye, called to present a missive, officially still a secret, but known to declare that France will default for the fourth time on Friday.

Franceowes the United States $3,960,772,238 of which $82,308,312 is now past due and $59,000,218.57 falls due Friday.

Czechoslovakia and Belgium have also announced their intention to default. Only Finland, one of the smallest debtors, has said it could pay.

Eight Unheard From

Eight other countries —Estonia, Hungary, Italy, Lativia, Lithunania, Rumania, Poland and Jugoslovia — are still to be heard from, but the prospects for cash are glum.

Great Britain announced June 4 that it would defer all payments on its $4,000,000,000 debt until it was scaled down to a payable figure. The British government cited transfer difficulties, indicated their taxpayers could not go on carrying such a loan and pointed out that Britain is receiving no payments from its debtors.

The United States note disagreed with "certain observations" of the British government and said:

1. Great Britain would not have to pay $262,000,000 to escape default. Payment of the installment due June 15 —$85,670,765.00—would have been sufficient to escape default under the Johnson Act.

2. The debt Britain owes the United States has no connection with debts other countries owe Great Britain.

3. Great Britain's only indication of meeting its obligations, the note asserts, "are the small fractions" paid in previous tokken offers and "a situation of this kind necessarily calls for the initiation of proposals by the debtor and by the creditor."

WRIT IS REFUSED.

QUEBEC, June 13 (C.P.) — Application for a writ of habeas corpus presented on behalf of Fred W. Greenwood, of Montreal, self-styled witness of Jehovah, who was arrested here last summer on a charge of being a party to a seditious conspiracy, was quashed and dismissed by Mr. Justice G. F. Bibsone, in a judgment rendered in Superior Court to-day.

USE BODY TISSUE

phasis has been confined largely to hearts penetrated by sharp instruments or by bullets.

Because the heart is apparently so well protected by the ribs and chest bone, he said, few persons think it may be bruised.

Yet he said there "can be little doubt that the heart is the recipient of many injuries."

Some of these hurts, he argued, have produced symptoms which were mistakenly attributed to disease, instead of to a bruise. He told of a golfer who was struck over the heart recently by a golf ball. Three days later this man developed angina pectoris.

Doctor Disagrees

Foremost medical men, Dr. Beck said, held that this angina had no relation to the golf ball. With this opinion he disagreed emphatically. Another case was a man kicked in the chest by a colt when four years old. All his life this man had suffered from a bad heart. Lately X-rays and other up-to-date diagnosis said, would have straightened that showed a flattened heart, due to the kick.

Surgery in childhood, Dr. Beck heart, and probably made it sound again.

TRAGEDY HALTS

the side of Lauria's head. Blood gushed from the wound, and Lauria slumped against a car seat.

The woman had dropped to the floor, clutching among the shuffling feet of the men and the other frightened passengers for something. She found it. When she straightened up the gun was in her hand. She aimed it at the man by whom she had had 17 children in a long and stormy married life.

Someone yanked desperately at the emergency cord.

A Life Lost

Mary Colluci's finger pressed the trigger. A bullet that, but for Lauria's interference, might have been meant for her, tore into the side of her husband's head. He slumped to the car floor, dying.

The train stopped, police pushed forward.

On the platform, waiting for a train, was a 13-year-old girl. Mary Colluci didn't wait for the girl to speak. She said in a voice that was surprisingly calm:

"I have just killed your father."

Then they took her away; and stretcher-bearers came for her husband, who was to die within a few hours, and for Lauria, the peacemaker, who will recover.

And the Bronx express roared on, for already many passengers were grumbling at the prospect of cold dinners.

OLD WATER MAIN WHICH PROVED OF NO VALUE LIFTED IN CITY

Laid 40 Years Ago to Pipe Water From River to Canadian General.

PART OF AGREEMENT

A finale to the story of one of Peterborough's early engineering follies his been written through the activities of Utilities workmen during the past few days. Sections of an old ten-inch water main laid in vain more than forty years ago to carry water from the Otonabee river to the present Canadian General Electric plant have been dug up along Townsend street.

It was part of the agreement between the town of Peterborough and the company, then the Edison General Electric, made when the company first established here in 1890, that the main should be laid. In due course and at considerable cost, a ten-inch hand-rivetted wrought iron pipe extending from the river, up Townsend street, to the Edison's power house was provided. But it never drew water. Plenty of suction was put on it at the Edison end but air seeped in through the rivetted seams of the antiquated tube. Primings proved of no avail—the Utilities records reveal that the main was given a half dozen unsuccessful primings after it was laid.

And now parts of the old main have been torn up. Ross Dobbin, Utilities manager, states that, even with the modern, air-tight piping of to-day, the project would have been a dubious one. It is considered impractical by engineers to try to lift water by suction through an elevation of more than fifteen or sixteen feet if there is any degree of resistance involved. Not alone is the C.G.E. property believed to be over the fifteen-foot limit in relation to the river surface but the resistance of more than a quarter-mile of pipe is to be reckoned on.

The old piping was made by the defunct Peterborough Bridge Works. The agreement in regard to the main gave the Edison Company exclusive use of it "free forever" but the company has been dependent on the city water mains for its supply ever since it located here.

JOINT MEETING TWO CANDIDATES

occasion, manifestly indicating that the contest in this riding has generated more interest and tension than is commonly reported from other constituencies in this part of the province.

Assuming the position of chairman, Mr. Hall first announced the result of the nominations and another matter of official business reminded the people that voting day was June 19. He asked the audience to give the speakers a courteous hearing even when they made statements with which there would probably be personal disagreement.

Mr. Carr Speaks First.

Mr. Carr, the Liberal candidate, said he would be disappointed if Mr. McArthur did not explain to the electors why the debt and taxes in this province had increased under the Conservative government, why the Cabinet Ministers had increased their salaries by $2,000 a year each. He also suggested that Mr. McArthur should give an account of his stewardship as a member of the Henry government.

"I don't think the people of Northumberland will be satisfied if Mr. McArthur simply tells us, as he said in the Legislature in 1932, that "when I awaken in the morning to find that I am a Conservative, living in Ontario under the supreme administration of the Conservative party, I am deeply satisfied."

Mr. McArthur may be satisfied but I feel that the people of this county are far from satisfied with conditions as they are. I regret the Henry Government's failure to interpret the needs of the people and their lack of courage to do things they should have done. I believe the Henry government realizes its unpopularity. This is indicated by its desperate tactics on the eve of the elections, tactics verging on wholesale bribery of the electorate with their own money. If this Government had a humane interest in the men who are umemployed they would have extended their ditch-digging program over two or three years, and not try to force a man, through no fault of his own, into obligation to a discredited government.

It will be the duty of the next Government under the leadership of Mitchel Hepburn to change the wasteful expenditure of the Henry government to a policy of rigid economy based on these principles: (1) Is the expenditure necessary? (2) If so, what is it going to cost? (3) Have we the money?

That is the way you and I would carry on our own affairs."

Mr. Carr reviewed the Liberal manifesto. He said that the function of the provincial government was largely administrative, and to be successful there should be close application to all matters of finance so as to prevent taxes becoming unbearable, "as they are at the present time."

"I stand for honesty and economy in the administration of our provincial affairs, for a true statement of our financial position in the publication of public accounts. I stand for a closer co-operation between the government and the people in trying to work out our problems such as employment. I stand for a new deal and a clean-up of the government's business. I ask for your support, and if you elect me I shall endeavour to assist in bringing about those things which will make this a better province to live in."

Fred J. McArthur

Mr. Carr spoke ten minutes, and Mr. McArthur, following him, took half of the hour allotted to him and W. B. Horkins.

There was no interruption to Mr. Carr, but Mr. McArthur was subjected to considerable heckling.

"I am glad of the opportunity to answer Mr. Carr's questions, but first I want to ask him where the Liberals stand, for their leader admits that he has no policy," Mr. McArthur began.

"One policy of the Henry Government which I stand behind is the loaning of money to farmers."

Laughter and shouts halted Mr. McArthur at that period.

"When you are ready to keep quiet I'll go on," Mr. McArthur remarked. "Fifty-five million dollars have been loaned to farmers at lower rates than they could get from the money lenders."

A voice—After the farm is sold.

Mr. McArthur—Is Mr. Carr in favor of farm loans? If he in favor of the moratorium the Henry Government adopted, and that has kept thousands of people from losing their homes in the last three years? The Government is taking care of 90 per cent. of the cost of highways.

"Digging ditches," some one called out.

"Yes, digging ditches," Mr. McArthur said.

"Who is paying for it?" another man shouted.

"As for digging ditches," Mr. McArthur continued, and some one yelled "The straight furrow."

Joseph Bellamy stood up in the crowd and demanded that Mr. McArthur be allowed to proceed with his address, and that he be given as good a hearing as that which Mr. Carr had received.

"Why is work going on now," Mr. McArthur continued; "the Government doesn't go on with work unless it has the money to pay for it. No men are being asked whether they are Grits or Tories."

"Yes they are," several persons replied from the crowd.

Mr. McArthur—The Government has balanced its budget. It has the best credit in the world; and that is why it is going on with road work to give men employment. But, Mr. Carr is afraid of what it will cost. Are the Liberals in favor of the reduction of Hydro contracts from twenty to five years. That was done as soon as the Hydro was in a financial position to do it.

Laughter greeted Mr. McArthur's statement, "Thank goodness we are spending money."

"It is an easy thing to spend no money," he proceeded. "It is easy to have no expenditure, but we are a progressive government."

Referring to Mr. Carrs statement that the people were overburdened with taxes, Mr. McArthur said there was very little direct taxation, and a heckler shouted "Six cents a gallon."

"Down in Nova Scotia the Liberals came into power and the first thing they did was to increase the gasoline tax from 6 to 8 cents a gallon. Do you want lower grants to rural schools?"

Voices—No.

Mr. McArthur—Well, leave it to the Henry government to handle. They know what they are doing. We don't have to go around this country bluffing.

A heckler—What are you doing?

Mr. McArthur—Talk about relieving the farmers of taxes. Is Mr. Carr willing to give a premium over and above the cheques to farmers the way other creameries are doing.

When Mr. McArthur mentioned the winter's unemployment relief work some one interrupted with the exclamation "twenty cents a day."

Mr. McArthur walked to the edge of the temporary platform, and said, pointing his finger: "You can't get away with that. You know those relief camps were opened to take men off the roads, and to give them shelter and something to do. And if the Government had paid them two dollars a day you fellows would have kicked that it cost too much."

More noise greeted his statement that the Henry Government could not be accused of one major scandal.

"Stand up you who are cheering. Come up on to this platform and enunciate any scandal of the Henry Government. You've got a chance to make yourselves famous right here today." (Applause).

His Stewardship

In reviewing his stewardship, as Mr. Carr had suggested, Mr. McArthur said that the road north from Brighton had been built, and a new one north from Campbellford was under way.

"I was responsible for earlier fishing in Rice Lake, and the summer resort people are pleased with the increased business this season. You are all reading about the investigation into massed buying. I was the one who brought that up in the House. I was the first to bring up the question of prices paid to farmers by the canning and packing companies; and as a result you are going to get more money this year for your tomatoes. (Applause)"

In reply to a question from the audience about the beer and wine Bill, Mr. McArthur said: "I was never in favor of freer sale of liquor at any time in my life. When the question came up during the last session I told Mr. Henry I was not in favor of the freer sale of beer and wine. Most of you probably do not know, but my friend Mr. Fraser knows, that when you are a supporter of the Government you have to support Government bills. Under an agreement you can't vote against Government bills. Against private bills you can if you like. I arranged with Mr. Henry that I would not be in the House when the vote on the beer and wine Bill came up, and Mr. Henry agreed. My second reason for not being in favor of it was that this is a local option riding. I did not vote against the Government, and I didn't vote against the local option sentiment of this riding, and I didn't vote against my own ideal. So, no one can accuse me of bolting."

In concluding Mr. McArthur said: "I have had as much fun here today as you have. As a Conservative I am standing for the Henry Government, and in no apologetic way."

Frank Denton, K.C.

Mr. Denton ran into a barrage of boos, and cheers also, when he launched into a reply to Mr. McArthur's challenge to recount any major scandal by the Government.

He began by mentioning "liquor toll gates", but some one shouted "that's bull,' and the whole audience laughed. Opposition to this introduction persisted, and finally Mr. Hall repeated his request for a courteous hearing.

"I came here to make an address on behalf of Mr. Carr...."

"Well, go on with it,' a heckler interrupted, and Mr. Denton passed over the McArthur challenge, reading the Hepburn program as recently published, and then discussing bond sale, Hydro management, salary increases to the Cabinet Ministers and other questions that have been heard on various platforms.

Mr. Denton declared that Prince Edward Island, the smallest province in the Dominion, sold bonds bearing 2.97% at the very time when the Henry Government issued $40,000,000 at $97 thereby yielding 4½%. Over night these bonds increased in value to $98 and were now quoted at $104. By that over night increase, Mr. Denton said, the people of Ontario lost $400,000, which went to the "lucky bondholders."

The government paid three financial experts $40,000 for their advice at what price these bonds should be issued. Their advice to sell at $97 was so costly, he continued, that it would have been far better if Mr. Henry had given them $40,000 and kept them away from him. The bonds were quickly taken up in a few hours, but the advertising of the sale continued all that week at a cost of $10,000.

Mr. Denton estimated that the action of the Henry Government in increasing the salaries of the Cabinet Minister $2,000 a year each amounted to around $100,000 since the "salary grab" went into effect at a time when every one else was feeling the full brunt of the depression.

W. B. Horkins, K.C.

Mr. Horkins recalled his boyhood in Northumberland, and paid a tribute to Fred McArthur for his diligence in attending to his duties in the Legislature as the riding's representative. He spoke at some length of the excellent system of good roads which the Hon. Mr. Henry had built, and the resulting increase in tourist traffic and income. It was also a fact, he continued, that in Ontario illiteracy is the lowest percentage in the whole English speaking world.

"Surely that couldn't have been attained without leadership and the leader in our educational system is the Hon. George Henry."

Mr. Horkins said that Mr. Denton, Mr. Slaght and Mr. McRuer, critics of the Conservative Government, wouldn't take Cabinet seats at the existing salaries and be subjected to the abuse which they were directing at the Ministers of the Government.

He declared that the Workmen's Compensation Act had been fathered by the Conservative party. One of its results was to reduce the opportunities of lawyers for earning fees in actions brought by injured workmen, and for this reason it ill became Mr. Denton or Mr. McRuer to find fault with the chairman of the Compensation Board.

The meeting closed with "Tories" and "Grits" uniting in singing "God Save the King."

LANCASTER ASKS ACTIVE SUPPORT OF PARTY IN CITY

City Workers Should Be Able to Counteract Any Losses in County.

BIG MEETING FRIDAY.

Charges of Extravagance Are Termed as Farcial—Issues Slight.

In a talk with the Conservative Party workers at the Water Street Committee Rooms last evening T. P. Lancaster made his first public appearance before the city electorate, and appealed for their active support and co-operation on polling day.

"I wish to impress upon everyone here," he said, "the necessity of putting their shoulders to the wheel and getting the voters out. Make it your own personal fight and do not leave it to the other fellow."

If the city workers would give him their active support on polling day, Mr. Lancaster believed he would be able to roll up enough votes in the city constituency to offset any losses he might sustain in the county.

Expressing some doubt as to the way the vote would go in the county, particularly in the southern townships, Mr. Lancaster believed that in the farming sections the farmers had become somewhat discouraged by the setbacks of a hard winter and the recent dry spell.

In the northern section of the county, prospects were very favorable, he said, particularly in the road camps, which he remarked were anything but "slave camps" as they had been described by the Liberal opposition.

In his home community, Mr. Lancaster said the people of Havelock were almost solid behind him even to the Liberals, while in Dummer—home of the Liberal candidate, he naturally expected that the vote would go in support of Mr. Hawthorne.

Mr. Lancaster explained that he had come into the fight at the invitation of Conservative headquarters, when he might have dropped out in his own interests. During the five years he had served in the government, he said, there had hardly been one week when he had not been in Toronto in the interests of the electorate.

Remarking that the issues of the election were slight, Mr. Lancaster stated that the whole object of Liberal criticism was to imbue the electorate with suspicion and distrust and to lead them to believe they needed a change of government.

Charges of extravagance he termed as being farcical and speaking of his own efforts in getting road work in Peterborough County, Mr. Lancaster believed that the expenditure besides creating employment for the jobless would also ultimately prove to be a means of attracting thousands of dollars to the district through increased tourist traffic.

Mr. Lancaster also expressed the opinion, "the Conservative government is going back." He felt he was being conservative when he estimated that the government would be returned with a majority of at least ten seats, which he said was a good working majority in a House that had been reduced to ninety seats.

Mayor Roland Denne who briefly addressed the workers, was extremely optimistic of the results that might be expected in the city on polling day. "We hope next Tuesday night that we will not only elect Lancaster but that we will make a clean sweep throughout the province and pile up a bigger majority than ever."

He referred to the part he had played in securing work for the city in co-operation with Mr. Strickland, Mr. Lancaster and Mr. Peck and forecast that work on the bridge spanning the canal on Highway 7 would be commenced in the near future with employment for more men.

The meeting to be held in the Grand Opera House on Friday night to be addressed by the Hon. William Finlayson, Minister of Lands and Forests, was called to the attention of the meeting. The workers were urged to see that the Opera House was packed from top to bottom for the occasion.

HALL'S BRIDGE

Whilst employed at Wallace Shearer's sawmill, W. Fred Bennett on Tuesday last sustained severe injuries to his left hand. He is doing well under treatment.

Mr. Wesley Beavor, who was also injured at the mill a short time ago, is rapidly recovering and will soon be able to resume work.

Miss Mitchell of Peterborough, a visitor to Buckhorn, met with a serious accident to-day, falling and sustaining a fracture and dislocation of the left shoulder. She received surgical attention at Hall's Bridge, and was later able to return to her home.

Whilst playing ball Mrs. D. Gillespie of Toronto, injured her left hand, receiving bruises and dislocation of a finger joint. She was treated locally and returned to Toronto.

"His case showed amazing improvement...in 3 weeks"

says DR. FELIX RAMOND, one of the greatest gastro-enterologists in France

If you have any of the troubles shown above, this typical "case history" may help you.

"MR. Z—," DR. RAMOND REPORTS, "had been overworking, lacked exercise." Besides dull eyes, tired body and swollen stomach he "had headaches, couldn't sleep . . . "The X-ray," he adds, "showed a lazy digestive system. He was constipated—his digestion slow.

"My advice—yeast—proved just the treatment he needed. As his digestion and elimination improved, his headaches stopped, he slept well—regained his former energy."

Perhaps your eyes are dull and bleary. Perhaps you lack "pep," have a big stomach . . . are constipated!

Note what Dr. Ramond says:—"Poisons formed when intestines function poorly affect health in many ways . . . To counteract this condition I recommend fresh yeast as the best corrective."

Then poisons cease to flood your blood. Eyes get back their lustre. Tiredness goes.

And as your normal digestion returns, "bloating" stops . . . gases cease to accumulate . . . you feel relieved, energetic, much healthier! Won't you give Fleischmann's Yeast a really thorough trial—for say 30 days, at least? At grocers, restaurants, drug stores and soda fountains. Just eat 2 cakes daily, following the directions on the label.

Each cake is very rich in vitamins B, D and G. Start to eat Fleischmann's Yeast . . . right now!

STANDING FORCE OF 600,000 MEN 7,000,000 RESERVES IN SOVIET

is to be known as "the pact of mutual assistance." There was no spontaneous response from the Russian military men, as can easily be imagined, but I obtained enough information to give a rather close approximation of the military situation in that part of the Far East, on which the eyes of the whole world are riveted.

Not Helping Others

When in a general discussion we finally touched upon the Far Eastern situation, I asked General Volovod Urishkin of the Red air-force: "Why did Russia permit Japan to install herself in Manchuria in 1932 and come right up to the Soviet border at a very vulnerable point?" the general, a blue-eyed giant of a man, thin-lipped and hardy, more of the Anglo-Saxon type than Slavic, did not steer me off with a genial little assurance of the Soviet's desire for peace, but replied quite frankly, "We did not have the strength to resist Japan in 1932. I know," he went on, "that there was a silent expectation in America and Britain that we would rush to meet the Japanese invasion, but we had no intentions of pulling the chestnuts out of the fire for anyone else and burn our fingers in the bargain. We could not afford to fight Japan in 1932."

"Could you now?"

"Wait and see," he smiled.

"Are you personally specially interested in the Far Eastern military situation or are you on the general staff in Moscow?"

"I am a Siberian, born and bred," replied the general. "I came straight from Vladivostok to Paris."

"How are things in Manchoukuo?" I asked. "An eminent colleague of mine has just interviewed a commissioner of the Salvation Army, who asured him after a visit to the Far East, that Japan was bringing peace and prosperity to the new puppet kingdom."

Japan Preparing

"Yes, there is quite a lot of activity in Manchuria," said the general. "Fifty-two aerodromes have been constructed so far by Japan and tens of thousands of miles of railway have been put down, strategic railways, of course. Then they are building poison-gas factories and factories for barbed-wire, aeroplanes, soya-bean reservoirs. They are constructing a new port for warships. Yes, there is quite a lot of activity in Manchoukuo. The Salvation Army gentleman you speak of is a good observer. At that, and this he probably didn't tell your colleague, there is a widespread revolt at the present moment in Manchuria. The Manchurian troops and their Japanese allies don't pull very well together."

"I know about the aerodromes and the strategic railways," I said. "Against whom is Japan building all that stuff?"

"Not against the man in the moon, you may be sure. He is too far away," came back General Urishkin.

"But suppose the man in the moon lives in Moscow?" I joked. "In Moscow they are not 'moony,' I can tell you that," he said. "We know what's going on in the world. And I think," he added, "the world knows what's going on in our country."

Ready for Japan

"Well, are you ready to meet the Japanese, should they come?"

"We are ready," said the general curtly.

"Fifty-two aerodromes, all close to the border, that's a formidable force. Have you anything to put up against that?"

The general puffed at his cigarette. "We have the Far Eastern army," he said.

"What do you mean, the Far Eastern army? Is that a separate force from the Red army?"

"Quite separate," he said. "The Far Eastern army is an autonomous force consisting of 36 infantry divisions."

"How many planes?" I ventured.

"More than Japan has," he hinted.

"Two to one?" I ventured again.

Hurl Japan Back

"I'll give you an idea," he said. "We have four hundred bombing planes and a flock of pursuit planes that could blot out the sun. And that's no exaggeration!"

"General," I said, "tell me frankly what will, in your estimation, happen if the Japanese did attack?"

"We'll hurl them back and fling them out of Manchuria in the bargain," he said without a moment's hesitation.

"What would you do with Manchuria? Keep it? Annex it?"

"We would simply give it back to the Manchurian people, that's all, and let them decide for themselves what they want to do, join us or join China."

"That sounds very altruistic," I said. "Methinks the temptation would be great in that event for Moscow to turn Manchuria into a Soviet republic?"

"We don't want an inch of anybody's territory, but we will not give one little square inch of our own to anyone else without putting up a heluva fight."

Will Crack World in Two

"But suppose you were confronted by a big military alliance, attackers in east and west at the same time. That is possible, is it not; let us suppose it?"

"Let me tell you something," said the general as he leaned over the table; "if we are defeated, if we have to go, we will slam the door so hard that the world will crack in two. But we will not be defeated, don't worry. We also have friends in the world, don't forget it, millions of friends, who will not desert us."

"You mean the workers of other countries?"

"Precisely. The majority of the workers of the world are on our side. Even in Japan we have millions of friends."

"I hope you are right," I said.

"Any general conflict now," he went on, "means the utter collapse of capitalism."

"You said just now," I asked again, "that in 1932 Moscow was not not strong enough to prevent Japan from occupying Manchuria. That is only two years ago. What happened in the meantime to make you so confident that Japan will be hurled back now if she should venture to cross the Amur into Siberia?"

Had Narrow Escape

"I told you," he said, "we have the Far Eastern army. And then," he added, "eastern Siberia has changed to such an extent that the army can live on the land itself; it no longer draws its supplies from the centre of Russia. In 1932 we had to rush millions of tons of grain from the Ukraine and the Caucasus to the Far East, for we were afraid that the Japanese were coming through that time. This involved tremendous hardships on the population of Ukrainia to an extent that foreigners were already shouting gleefully that we had so mismanaged things that we had another famine on our hands. Can you imagine anyone being happy over a famine?" the general looked up questioningly.

"I can't," I said, "but I know plenty of people who would be overjoyed if you all starved to death right this moment."

"I know," he came back cynically, "that's what you call loving your enemies!"

"Well," he went on, "we rushed the grain away from the west and we set all our factories to work manufacturing war-equipment. For six months we did nothing else but manufacture war material. Our people were in rags. They needed everything. But we needed war equipment even worse. Had we taken another course we would have been wiped out. Then we created the Far Eastern army under General Bluecher."

"By the way," I asked, "that General Bluecher—is he a descendant of the Bluecher who saved the day of Waterloo by coming up to the aid of Wellington in the last moment?"

"Yes, he is his great-great-grandson!"

Eastern Army Separate

"The Far Eastern army," continued the general, "is quite independent of the regular Red army, which guards the western borders and the south. There are at present 23 divisions of infantry under arms in the Far East. Each division has 12,000 men and consists of three regiments and one battalion. Then we have about 5,000 pieces of field artillery, 500 trench mortars, 900 small tanks, 400 medium tanks and a good many heavy battle tanks, 50,000 machine guns and some aeroplanes."

"I think you said?....How many did you say?" I urged, subtly I thought.

"That's the secret of the house"....he laughed. "Well, then we built double-track along the Trans-Siberian railway. A big job, but it's done now. It took 100,000 workers a solid year. Furthermore we built a railway from Samara in the centre of Russia to the Far East."

"How far?"

"Right into Vladivostok, without touching Manchuria?"

"Big job," I said in turn.

Built 2,000-Mile Railway

"Yes," he agreed, "and then we built a railway known as the Trans-baikal-Amur-Ussuri line."

"Let me put that down," I interrupted, "where does this line run?"

"It follows the Manchurian border."

"For how long?"

"Two thousand miles!"

"Who was in charge of all that work?"

"Comrade Kischkin of Irkutsk, that's where his headquarters are."

"Are you building any more railways?"

"We are constantly building. We are importing huge quantities of steel and locomotives this year."

"Any from Canada?" I asked.

"I don't know," the general said.

"Once the railway problem was under control, and suficient food on hand to keep the army for a year, our next task was to get people to work the land in Siberia and to build factories. This we accomplished, too, we transferred a few million settlers after first clearing the border regions of doubtful elements. The new population of Siberia is one hundred per cent Socialist."

"How did you get them out there. Forced labor?"

"Ha, ha, ha," came the answer. "Forced labor? Is that what they still say? Ha, ha, ha!"

Standing Army of 600,000

"No, we made special inducements to settlers, double pay in industry and freedom of taxation for a number of years."

"Military experts say that Vladivostok is hard to defend, almost impossible, and the general opinion is that in the event of an armed conflict the Soviets will simply abandon that city. What do you say to that?"

"We will not abandon Vladivostok. We have a special army stationed at Chita for the defence of Vladivostok."

"You mean that an attack on Vladivostok will be followed immediately by an invasion of Manchuria in the direction of Harbin?"

"That would be one plan," the general evaded.

"How strong is the regular Red army in Europe?"

"Six hundred thousand men under arms to-day, with a reserve of two million and a half and five million militia."

"How many divisions can Japan put in Manchuria in the event of war?"

"Twenty-four at the maximum."

"And the Soviets?"

"We have thirty-six division ready to meet any emergency in the Far East!"

Flin Flon Strike Reaches Deadlock

FLIN FLON, Man., June 13 (C.P.). — Deadlock in the strike of 1,300 employees of the Hudson Bay Mining and Smelting Cimpany continued here to-day, and the nearby Henning Maloney Gold Mines Limited operations were forced to halt.

Quietness ruled throughout Flin Flon with its 5,000 residents anxious to see the strike end and bring normal operations again. No move towards ending the deadlock was disclosed yesterday by either the strikers or company officials.

The strike, brought on by refusal of the company to recognize the newly formed Mine Workers' Union of Canada, which demanded restoratoin of pay cuts, brought cessation of work at the Henning Maloney Mines yesterday. The company was unable to obtain dynamite, which previously had been supplied by the Hudson Bay Company.

No action has yet been taken on the offer of the Town Council to act as intermediary in an attempt to end the deadlock.

REV. R. C. TAIT IS CLUB GUEST

Gives Interesting Talk to Campbellford Rotarians on Life in Newfoundland.

PERSONAL EXPERIENCES.

CAMPBELLFORD, June 13 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent) — Memories of his life in New Foundland were told the Campbellford Rotary Club by the Rev. R. C. Tait, Monday noon, when he addressed that body at the noon luncheon, and at which he expressed his regret at leaving the district, stressing the fact that many of his happy days had been spent with the local club, of which he was proud to be a charter and honorary member. President Clarence Williams in the chair, expressed to the speaker the regret felt by the club members at his departure from among them.

The speaker explained that as a boy in his teens, he came from Liverpool, England, to the island of Newfoundland, for work in the Methodist ministry, and told of his first impression of that triangular island, one of the largest in the world, 317 miles in length, and 316 miles in breadth, with 42,000 square miles of land, and a coast line of 2,000 miles.

Discovered by John Cabot, for which King Henry VII gave him ten pound stirling, it was one of the beauty spots of the world, Mr. Tait said, with its great arms running out into the sea, its lakes and waterfalls, its great mineral wealth and vast timberlands, a land hardly touched by Hydro development.

It was onto this island, at Trinity Bay, that the first trans-Atlantic cable was first run, and it was from Signal Hill, where Marconi received the first wireless message across the Atlantic, which came from Italy, and for these things the inhabitants were proud, as they were with their war record, for during the years of 1914-1918, the Newfoundland Regiment acquitted themselves with glory.

Many incidents of his life on the island stand out with pleasure, the speaker said, among which was that of being in a dorie off the coast, and not being able to row for the millions of fish that infested the waters. These fish came in with the tide, and were left stranded on the shore, a silver mass, and were eventually placed on the land for fertilization.

When he first went to the island, Mr. Tait said he was billeted with the Minister of Marines and Fisheries, an experience which to him, straight out from the Old Land, was thrilling. On the west coast of the island, he had 90 miles of a coast line as his parish, and went his rounds over rough country with the aid of a guide, as all ministers on the island did. Many of the journeys taken over the ice to the islands were at times dangerous, but there was a thrill in them that left in after years a pleasant memory.

Of the life of the island, the speaker said that one could not but feel the wonderful hospitality of the people, who were rugged and honest, and with but few wants, and although they had but little, they gave with willing hands.

Of the fishing off the coast, he said the herring season brought to Newfoundland thousands of schooners from all parts of the world, and with the trapping of lobsters, was part of the revenue of the people. Seal was also a part of their catch, but cod fishing was one of the staple industries, the fish being dried on shore by the women, many of whom were widows who had lost their husbands on fishing trips.

Newfoundland is also a tourists' paradise, Mr. Tait said, many Americans going there each year for the fishing and hunting, and establishing American colonies.

President C. B. Williams notified the club that he expected to represent it as delegate at the forthcoming Rotary International convention to be held in Detroit, Mich. in July. He would go at his own expense, he said.

ANNUAL CONCLAVE HELD AT FAIRVIEW

Many Interesting Discussions at Smith Township Sunday School Convention.

BRIDGENORTH, June 12 (Examiner Correspondence). — Smith Township Sunday School Convention was held on Tuesday, June 5, in Fairview United Church, with delegates present from all Baptist and United Church Sunday schools in the township.

The afternoon session, presided over by the president, F. A. Darling of Peterborough, heard a very interesting address from E. Joblin of Wesley Church. The second major item of the afternoon was the teaching of a Sunday school class by Mrs. Steinkrauss, who in her teaching showed considerable preparation. She used the exposition method rather than that of questioning. The subject of the lesson was "The Last Judgment," and her scholars were taken from the two public schools at Fairview.

Interesting Problems

The Round Table Conference was conducted by Rev. Mr. Wright of Gilmour Church.

After this session the ladies of Fairview served lunch at tables set on the church lawn.

A rousing song service, led by Rev. W. R. Archer, opened the evening session.

W. Yale of Lakefield gave a paper on "How to Save the Boy and Girl," in which the freer use of beer and wine was strongly denounced by the speaker. Education in the matter of drinking intoxicants must begin with the children.

The address of the evening was given by Rev. C. D. Daniel of Mark Street United Church, Peterborough. He spoke of the change the Oxford Movement is making in the lives of so many. "If we love God we will portray Him everyday." "When a teacher is finished her task, others ought to know what God is like." Mr. Daniel gave to his audience, which practically filled the church, a great deal to think about as they work at this greatest of all tasks, the bringing of Jesus to boys and girls.

The music of the afternoon session was provided by a trio from Wesley Church; in the evening Fairview choir twice, one in an anthem and with a quartet.

The convention went on record as deeming it wise to urge all voters in the forthcoming election to support only such candidates as have taken an unqualified stand on the temperance question.

New Officers

The officers elected for the next twelve months and installed into office by Rev. R. D. Wright were as follows:

President, F. A. Darling, Peterborough; Vice-president, C. Fitzgerald, Selwyn; Secretary-treasurer, Olive Bell, R.R. 4, Peterborough; Superintendents—Children's Dept.,

Young's Point

The many friends of Mr. Edward Young, Jr. will be pleased to learn that he succeeded in passing his examinations with honors at St. Michael's College, Toronto, and has now received the degree of Bachelor of Arts.

The softball team of Road Camp No. 2 met their Waterloo on Thursday evening when they motored to Young's Point and played the local team to a score of 16-14 in favor of Young's Point.

The regular meeting of the W.A. of St. Aidan's Church, was held on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Percy Stenner with a good attendance. The speaker for the afternoon was Mrs. W. J. Creighton of Lakefield who gave a most interesting and helpful talk on the work of the W.A. both in their branch and the W.A. as a whole. At the conclusion of the meeting Mrs. Stenner served very delightful refreshments.

Misses M. McNeil and G. McIlmoyle of Selwyn were visitors in the village on Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Darling were at their cottage this last week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. William Peter Richardson of Toronto are at Stony Lake on their wedding trip. The bride was formerly Miss Esme Heward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Heward of Toronto, who was married last Saturday in St. Thomas' Church.

ROSENEATH

Audrey Mouncey entertained a number of her friends on Saturday afternoon by giving a birthday party. Various games were played during the afternoon. Kathleen Brisbin won a prize in guessing the beans in a bottle. Verna Radley won the "Hunting contest" and Alma Thackeray won the prize in the guessing game. Delicious refreshments were served during the afternoon and a delightful time was spent by all present.

Among those who were present were Ola and Norma Duff, Alma Thackeray, Valetta and Golda Thackeray, Doreen Nichol, Noreen Adams, Edith Covert, Gwendolyn Varcoe, Kathleen Brisbin, Dorothy and Mavis Tucker, Marjorie and Jean Carew, Jean Braithwaite, Shirley Brisbin, Lela Taylor, Olive Sherwin, Rosella Taylor, Verna Radley and Addie Mouncey.

30 CENT TAX ON U. S. WHEAT

This Year's Grain Will Continue to Bear Processing Tax in Coming Market.

BOARD HOLDS FIRM.

(Copyright, 1934, by Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, June 13 (AP)—United States wheat will continue to bear a processing tax of 30 cents a bushel when the coming marketing year starts July 1, and probably for a considerable time thereafter.

Despite wheat's recent climb to $1.00 a bushel Farm Administration officials will not tamper with the present rate.

Considerable pressure has been brought to bear in recent weeks for a reduction of the tax when the drought damage, which clipped the prospective crop to about 500,000,000 bushels, sent prices climbing.

Proponents of the cut pointed out that the difference between the market price and the pre-war parity, the bridge which the Administration sought to bridge in its program of making benefit payments to farmers, had been drastically narrowed.

They argued, then, that the Administration did not need the 30 cents tax for benefit payments.

In reply, Administration officials maintained that wheat benefit payments might be increased during the coming marketing year, and at any rate, would not be reduced from their present level of 29 cents a bushel on that portion of a farmer's wheat which goes into domestic consumption.

The probability of increased benefit payments was strengthened by reports of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics that increases in prices paid to farmers for their goods had not kept pace with increases in prices of things farmers buy.

Lifford Line

Little Marion Stinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Stinson of the 14th concession of Manvers was the victim of a painful accident while playing at school on Friday afternoon. The child fell forcefully, inflicting injuries to her right arm. Her parents immediately took her to Lindsay for medical examination and while the arm was not broken it was found to be very seriously sprained.

The congregation are planning to have erected a covered shed near the church this summer. The shed now in use will be put up for sale. Arrangements are also being made for the building of a new fence at the north of the cemetery grounds.

When Mr. George Argue returned to his home at Lifford after a few day's absence he found that his house had been ransacked. Burnt matches were found everywhere. A Coleman lamp and other articles were carried off. The unwelcome visitors forced their entrance by way of the front door which is very near the roadway.

While a load of wood was being hauled away from Brisbin's sawing mill on Wednesday evening, the driver noticed the outbreak of fire on the roof of the repair shop. Considerable excitement reigned for a short time while the mill hands and others formed a water brigade and by much labor succeeded in finally extinguishing the blaze before it spread from the roof of the repair building to the main part of the structure. It was thought that the fire was caused by a spark from the smoke stack.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Ballyduff Presbyterian Church met on Thursday evening, June 7th at the home of Mrs. Harvey Gray. The president, Mrs. George Chapman was in charge of the meeting and led in detailed arrangements for the annual garden party to be held on the church grounds on Wednesday, June 27th. The hostess served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

Mrs. Lavina Murphy of Bethany has returned to her home after spending a few days the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Gervin Mulligan at Lifford.

The Fleetwood Dramatic Club presented their play "Too Many Husbands" to an appreciative audience at Mount Pleasant on Friday evening. The previous Friday the young people journeyed to Yeiverton and were well received.

The Fleetwood Y.P.S. held their annual picnic to Chemong Park on Saturday afternoon. An excellent time was spent in sports of various types and a bountiful picnic supper enjoyed.

NOW EATS ANY KIND OF FOOD, AND NO CONSTIPATION

Mr. Durigan Finds Relief in Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Here is his enthusiastic letter:

"Am 70 years of age, and for 40 of these years there never was a week but what I had to take a pill or some kind of cathartic.

"I took everything, but gained only temporary relief. Until last spring my daughter, who is a nurse in a hospital, brought me some Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

"At the end of the week, I knew I had something that was it, and I kept on taking it. I haven't taken a cathartic since. I can eat meat any time, as often as I like, or any other kind of food, and no constipation."—Mr. L. M. Durigan (address furnished upon request).

Laboratory tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to help muscle tone. Also iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, it clears out the intestinal wastes.

How much safer than patent medicines. Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. With each meal in serious cases. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Sold in the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

Weddings

MILLMAN—WOOTTEN

A quiet wedding was solemnized at three o'clock this afternoon at St. John's Church, when Frances Evelyn, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Wootten of Hunter street west, became the bride of Dr. William Stevens Millman of Oshawa, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Millman of Hamilton. Guests were present from Hamilton, Sudbury, Ottawa, Toronto, North Bay and Oshawa.

The church was tastefully decorated with pink and white peonies and ferns and the guest pews were marked off with white satin ribbons and pink sweet peas.

The Ven. Archdeacon Blagrave, D.D., officiated, and the wedding music was played by Mr. F. G. Mann, L.Mus., organist and choirmaster of St. John's Church.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a lovely gown of satin in heart-of-white-rose shade, designed on fitted lines with the new high square neckline, fastened with small buttons in the front and back. The same button trimming adorned the gracefully fitted sleeves.

A short circular train fell from the narrow waistline at the back of the gown.

The bride wore a becoming turban of the same satin, softly shirred and trimmed with fine lace. She carried an all-white arm bouquet of sweet peas and lily of the valley.

Mrs. R. L. Beamish of Ottawa was her sister's only attendant, wearing a gown of robin's egg blue chiffon fashioned on fitted lines, and a pink picture hat. She carried an arm bouquet of sweet peas in pastel shades and lily of the valley.

Mr. Murray Johnston of Oshawa was groomsman and ushers were Mr. H. J. Reynolds, K.C., of North Bay, and Mr. Hardy Millman of Hamilton.

During the signing of the register Miss Claire Preston of Ottawa sang "O Perfect Love".

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents at 526 Hunter street west. The reception rooms were decorated in pink and white roses, ferns and smilax, and the table was done very effectively with a banquet cloth of white lace, pink and white sweet peas and white tapers in silver holders tied with bows of pink tulle.

Mrs. Wootten, mother of the bride, wore a becoming gown of light beige crepe and lace with matching hat.

Mrs. Millman, mother of the bridegroom, was in Cathay blue chiffon with large matching hat. Both wore corsage bouquets of roses and valley lilies.

Later, Dr. and Mrs. Millman left on a motor trip through the United States, the bride travelling in a smart blue ensemble of imported crepe and satin, with white accessories and corsage of gardenias.

On their return, they will reside in Oshawa.

ROBERTS—HALL

A wedding of wide interest took place yesterday afternoon at Cambridge Street United Church, Lindsay, when Helen Margaret, daughter of Major and Mrs. George Hall, was married to Lieutenant James Alan Roberts, a member of the Governor-General's Body Guard, stationed at Toronto, and son of Colonel and Mrs. James A. Roberts, Charles Street, Toronto. Rev. J. J. Black officiated, and Prof. W. E. Fletcher played the wedding music. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory satin, with a high waist, faggoted, a high neckline buttoned on the back, long, tight-fitting sleeves, coming from faggots at the shoulder. She carried a white hymn book, with a cascade of white ribbons and rosebuds. Miss Alice Hall of Toronto, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Miss Mary Roberts, Toronto, the groom's sister, was bridesmaid. Colonel Roberts, father of the groom, acted as grooms man, and the ushers were Dr. E. ward Hall, brother of the bride; Mr. Alex Roberts, brother of the groom, and Mr. A. McEachren, all of Toronto. Eight officers of the Governor-General's Body Guard, in uniform, formed a guard of honor. They were Major Gordon Cameron, Captain John Campbell and Lieut. A. McKenzie, Mr. Erskine Eaton, Mr. Marshall Clelland, Mr. Grant Crawford, Mr. Mark Berwick, and Gordon Wotherspoon. After a motor trip to New York and the Eastern States the couple will reside at 91 St. Clair Avenue East.

An unusual photo of a statesman is this of Vice-Chancellor Franz von Papen of Germany, as, glass-covered candle in one hand, he walks in the procession of the Hedwigs Church in Berlin on the recent Feast of Corpus Christi.

In spite of the increase in wheat production and consumption in the past 30 years, the world still consumes from one and a half to two billion bushels of rye every year. Rye bread is most generally used in Russia, Germany, and Poland.

CHIPPERFIELD SCORES 71 IN EXHIBITION TILT

NORTHAMPTON, England, June 13 (C.P. Cable).—Young E. A. Chipperfield, who played a brilliant part in the first Test cricket match between England and Australia, won by the tourists, aided the Aussies again to-day with an innings of 71 when they opened a three-day match against the Northants County side.

At the close of play the Australians had been dismissed for 284 runs and Northants had compiled 35 for the loss of one wicket. In addition to Chipperfield's substantial score, Don Bradman, who made a dismal showing in the Test, contributed 65 runs and W. H. Ponsford was good for 56.

Austin Matthews led the Northants' attack, getting four wickets for 71 runs.

BLODGETT.—In loving memory of Harry Blodgett, who died June 13, 1931.
We often sit and think of him when we are all alone,
For memory is the only friend that grief can call its own;
Like ivy on the withered oak, when all other things decay,
Our love for him will still keep green and never fade away.
—Ever remembered by Mother, Father, and Family.

ONTARIO PAYING SECOND HIGHEST INTEREST RATES

Prince Edward Island Only Province Paying Higher Interes on Loans.

LIBERAL RALLY.

Joseph Singer, K.C., of Toronto, Addresses Meeting in Committee Rooms.

"Why is Ontario paying 4.6 per cent on its loans when money is being borrowed by other provinces at 3.2 to 4 per cent?" Joseph Singer, K.C., of Toronto asked as he attacked the handling of public loans under the Tory regime as "unskilled and disgraceful" at a Liberal rally in the interests of James Hawthorne in the city last night. "It is an illustration of how Premier Henry and his Cabinet Ministers have been looking after you."

With the exception of Prince Edward Island, Ontario is paying the highest rates of interest of any province in the Dominion at present, Mr. Singer declared as he made a sweeping charge of incompetence on the part of those responsible. The average rate of interest paying on the direct funded debt of the province is 4.95 as compared with 4.33 for Quebec, 4.61 for Nova Scotia, and 4.66 for British Columbia, he said. The richest province in the Dominion, Ontario's credit would be unexcelled if it were properly governed and it could get its money at the lowest instead of the highest raes in the Dominion, he declared.

Mr. Singer was one of a group of six speakers who addressed the meeting, held in the Liberal committee rooms on Charlotte street. Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C., Jacob Low, Vincent Eastwood, Dr. Donald Munro and Howard Quinn of Douro had places on the program. The hall was comfortably filled for the occasion and repeated demonstrations of enthusiasm for the cause marked the course of the evening.

Dead to Issues

"Both Liberals and Conservatives alike are dead to the issues of the campaign," Mr. Singer said, as he deplored a lack of interest on the part of the taxpayers in their own welfare. "It is your duty to hear what the Liberals and Conservatives have to say. After you have heard the true facts from the Liberals about the government you have endured for the past five years you will not think of returning it to power."

The least the taxpayer can ask of a government is that it be reasonably honest, intelligent and economical, the speaker continued, and charged that the Conservative government under Ferguson and Henry has met none of these requirements. He outlined the growth of the Provincial debt during the past twenty years in a talk on the extravagance of the Tory regimes. Henry claims he has been running the government on a "business basis," yet he has borrowed $189,000,000 for roads alone which will not be repaid three generations from now, he said, claiming that the roads will be long worn out before one cent of the cost will be paid.

Dealing with the honesty of the Henry regime, he went over the Abitibi deal. He related that Mr. Henry denied knowledge of the fact that $50,000 had been paid John Aird, Jr. The Premier was either lying or proving that he has no right to be the leader of the province, he said. A man who approves the payment of $50,000 out of the provincial treasury without asking to whom it is to be paid is unfit for a position of trust, he declared.

Extravagance

"The administration promised to effect every economy possible, yet let us look at the increase in the number of civil servants in the province," he continued. "In 1929 the number of civil servants was 6,926. In 1932 the number had grown to 7,760. In these four years, years that were the most difficult the taxpayers had seen over a long period, we find 832 new salaried officers added to the Government's list."

He flayed the Government for extravagance in the erection of the new barn at the Ontario Hospital near Orillia at the cost of $37,140, and an assembly hall adjoining the Hamilton Hospital at a cost of $140,740.67. A training school for girls has been built in Galt at a cost of $75,000, yet the need for it is so little that girls had to be transferred from other schools to fill it.

G. N. Gordon

"Mr. Henry was sworn in to be the watch dog of the treasury," G. N. Gordon said as he scored the part of Henry in the Abitibi affair. "He was such a fine watch dog that he made a personal profit of $16,000 out of his office when he induced his Government to take over the bankrupt Abitibi." The taxpayers, as usual, paid the bill for the Abitbi affair, he said, suffering a loss of $12,000,000.

Referring to the Hon. J. R. Cooke, Hydro chairman, as a farmer and later a cheesemaker, who knew nothing whatever about Hydro when he was given his Hydro job, Mr. Gordon declared that it was because of his ignorance of Hydro that he got the job. "He was just what they wanted—a putty-man who would not interfere with the Henry crowd as they took their private profits."

He blamed the present unrest in the country on the irresponsibility of governments willing to allow such conditions as revealed in the Stevens probe into the Simpson and Eaton records. The investigation has have revealed that as wages went down the personal profits of the financiers in control went up, he said. This is invariably the case where there is no control — where the government is in the hands of rich men such as George Henry and R. B. Bennett who have no interest in the lot of the working class, he claimed. With such conditions, he suggested, it is little wonder that such radical movements as the C.C.F. cast their shadows over the land.

One Factor

"There is one factor we should always keep before us. The men and women who give their lives in toil to bring up their families are entitled to a fair, square deal. The masses of workers on the farms and in the cities are those who should be first guarded. The way to guard them is to remove from office the irresponsible crowd in the Henry Government, and elect some straightforward honest men like James Hawthorne."

Vincent Eastwood paid a tribute to James Hawthorne. His career on his township council and in the county council has shown him well fitted for the more responsible duties of the Legislature, he said. Mr. Hawthorne, he assured the audience, will have the viewpoint of both the farmer and the business man.

Claiming that the over-enthusiastic development of highways has been a benefit to the cities and city dwellers at the expense of smaller rural communities, Jacob Low attacked the highway building program the Conservative Government has carried out. With the unrestricted building of highways, the business of the rural districts has been taken from the small centres, he said.

LUCKY IS THE BRIDE ON WHOM BRIGHT JUNE SUN SHINES

Windblown Effects, However, Not in Evidence as She Trips to Altar

By LISBETH

Lucky is the bride the June sun shines on. Or, at least so it seems, for there are more brides in the month of June than in any other similar period.

This year stream lines and windblown effects are so popular in sartorial circles that we fully expected to see them marching to the altar.

Bridal gowns, however, seem to have resisted temptation as far as the windy effects are concerned, although I suppose the long, sweeping lines of the wedding gown might come under the charge of streamlining.

A lovely high necked wedding frock in damask-skin satin is worn at the left by that favorite comedienne of the screen, stage and radio, Gracie Allen. It has a yoke of real lace and cap of same from which the veil floats gracefully, with orange blossoms at the sides. Gracie also wears a cluster of the blossoms in her bodice and carries a muff of the fragrant flowers in her hand.

Fourteen gores distinguished the gown worn by Betty Furness, next. The gores form a flower-like cape at the shoulders, covering the long, tight sleeves. Just below the hips the gores form lapels that repeat the shoulder treatment. A gorgeous Battenburg lace veil with a tiny coronet of orange blossoms completes this lovely gown.

A new departure in caps is shown by Jean Muir, third, with a lacy wedding dress. It is outlined with ermine tails, holding the veil to the back of the head.

Wedding lingerie is more on the cream than dead white this season. And of course it may be in dainty pastels. The bridal pajamas worn by Gracie Allen, right, are a luscious pink and trimmed with real lace. The waistline is high and the sleeves long and full with cuffs of the lace.

Cotton is very smart for the garden wedding this season. A gown of pique, or organdie, or any of the other sheer cotton materials is cool and lovely and more original than the traditional satin.

Your Health

By DR LOGAN CLENDENING

Blushing is a subject about which many of my readers have asked for explanation and advice. They are "subject" to it, so they say, and they do not like and it they want it cured.

These confidences affect me deeply, but I have been unable to find any authoritative discussion of the subject in medical literature. This curse of youth seems to be beneath the notice of the physiologists. Yet, I venture to say, after pondering on it, that it would yield a rich vein of research, if probed. There seems to be, according to my correspondence, a good many ready blushers in the land, and if a dozen or more were gathered in a capable research laboratory, it might be possible to discover the substance, yet unknown, which controls vasodilator activity.

Blushing is essentially simply the dilation of the small blood vessels of the face. Such dilation is always involuntary—out of the individual's control—that is the worst part of it; he only wishes it weren't. It is brought about by the mention or presence of an object associated with the secret (of supposedly secret) mental or emotional life of the blusher. All this, of course, everyone knows.

Changes in the size of the small blood vessels in the body are constantly going on. Sometimes an organ will be called on for immediate activity, and blood will gorge it until that activity is over, when it will return to a pallid existence. These alternate changes are brought about by the action of the muscles in the coats of the small blood vessel, controled by the vegetative nervous system.

About the constrictor muscles fibers, stimulation of which would cause contraction, loss of blood supply and pallor, we know a great deal. The nerves which supply them are stimulated by adrenalin, the secretion of the adrenal gland, and injection of adrenalin into the body artificially will contract these vessels, causing pallor of the face and all the rest of the skin surface of the body.

But the dilator fibers, stimulation of which causes blushing, are not so easy to demonstrate. Nor do we know of any chemical secretion from any gland of the body which will cause their dilation. All secretions of the body, such as adrenalin, appear to have antagonistic secretions from other glands, and it is possible that some part of the secretion of the thyroid or anterior pituitary gland may cause vascular dilation, but we do not know definitely what it is.

Since adrenalin is poured out in states of anger and fear, and blushing is usually due to softer emotions, it may well be that such an antagonistic hormone exists.

As to cure, no one need worry about that. It will come in time. There may even come a moment when the most furious blusher could wish that he cared deeply enough about anything to blush again. Once the mention of a lady's name suffused his features until he looked like a boiled lobster; now Helen and Cleopatra, and Garbo, herself, all combined, are powerless to alter one tint of that mask-like countenance.

PREMIER URGES HEPBURN BARE TOLL-GATE LIST

Claims Liberal Leader Made Only One Public Statement in Campaign.

"WHAT IS HIS MANIFESTO?"

Promise to Ease Tax Burden, Misleading Statement, Says Henry.

(By Ernest Burritt—C.P. Staff Writer).

WOODSTOCK, Ont., June 13. — (C.P.).—Liberal Leader Mitchell F. Hepburn to-day faced a 'dare' from Premier George S. Henry to reveal to the public three matters the Premier said were important in the present election campaign.

Speaking last night at a Conservative rally in behalf of George W. Sales, candidate in Oxford riding, Premier Henry challenged the Opposition leader to make good his threat to reveal further names in connection with the Liberal accusations of a liquor toll-gate; to complete the Liberal party's series of election statements, and to tell the people definitely if a Liberal administration would cut "one cent" from the educational grant.

Accusing Mr. Hepburn with being the only leader of a party he had ever heard of "seeking office without a platform," the Premier claimed the Liberal Party "does not want to go any further regarding Mr. Hepburn's boasted threat to reveal each day the name of a new liquor agent.

"They would rather try to inuendo and suggestion," the Premier added. "To create the idea with the public something is wrong when they know right well there is nothing wrong. And they also know right well the Government was connected with the matter in no shape, way or form. Otherwise, why did they not take advantage of the opportunity when the House was sitting. They had all the data available and if they had any charges to make an investigation could have been called."

Only One Statement.

Mr. Hepburn also had announced he would issue no manifesto but would prepare a series of statements for the public, the Premier continued. "Well, I would like to point out to Mr. Hepburn the one statement he made is two weeks old," said Mr. Henry, "and we are only one week from election day. Where are the others? The people have a right to know what he stands for and how he proposes to make the 50 per cent. saving in Government expenditures he talks about."

Each source of revenue and expenditure was outlined by Mr. Henry, who said Mr. Hepburn could eliminate none of these services and he "dared" his opponent to tell the people if "he will out one cent from the educational grant." The Premier also said if Mr. Hepburn was promising the people to lighten the tax burden, "he is misleading you."

Clippings from the Toronto Globe were read by Premier Henry, quoting the newspaper as saying Mr. Hepburn would eliminate the Departments of Agriculture, Health and Mines. "But now he denies this in Peel because his lieutenant, Duncan Marshall, the Liberal candidate there, has been promised the post as Minister of Agriculture," the Premier declared. "How can you place any reliance in a man who cannot keep his word 12 months. I say to the sane-thinking Liberals if they knew where their leader is attempting to lead them they will get behind the present Government to retain for Ontario a sound, honest administration."

MEIGHEN FIGHTS UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF PLANS

Opposes Home Building, Back-to Land Move, Gov't Search for New Resources.

ONLY ADD TO DEBTS.

Liberals Put Up Stubborn Fight to Shelve Shipping Bill.

OTTAWA, June 13 (CP)—A series of aggressive schemes to deal with the unemployment problem are before the Senate to-day, but they fail to carry with them the approval of Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Government Leader. Hon. Edward Michener of Calgary raised the unemployment question in the Upper House of Parliament yesterday while the House of Commons was advancing a number of Government bills and finally running into a stubborn fight over the Shipping Bill.

Declaring the aim of governments should be to absorb the unemployed in productive work Senator Michener proposed a board of commissioners to study, direct and aid national enterprises which might be financed by an issue of currency based on a 25 per cent gold backing.

Home buildings, a big back-to-the-land movement and the employment of government geologists to search for new sources of wealth, particularly anthracite coal and petroleum, of which Canada stood in need of a home supply, were suggested.

Mounting debt would be the only result of such steps, said Senator Meighen. A project started solely to provide work, only added to other burdens. If house building were profitable, contractors would do it. The rural population could not be artificially increased. It had decreased because of the displacement of farm labor by machinery.

Lack Proper Incentive

Neither could he see advantage in Government-sponsored prospecting. Men engaged would not have the incentive of personal gain and would concern themselves mainly with the continued receipt of their monthly cheques.

Despite a barrage of opposition, Prime Minister R. B. Bennett told the House of Commons the Government intends to see the new shipping bill through this season. It is a consolidation of all the law relating to navigation much of which was formerly enacted at Westminster and made applicable to Canada.

Now with the Dominions autonomous an attempt is being made to work into effect uniform marine laws throughout the Empire. Canada is taking the first step and Mr. Bennett emphasized it was desirable that this country give a lead to the other Dominions in grappling with the problem.

"Admiral" William Duff, Liberal member for Antigonish-Guysboro, Hon. J. L. Ralston former Minister of National Defence, led in the drive to have the bill laid over until next year. They contended its 700 odd sections and numerous schedules were too much to ask the House to digest at the end of a session and that an opportunity should be afforded all shipping interests to express their views.

Hard on Mariners

Fears were expressed the measure would prevent many competent Maritime provinces mariners and fishermen from operating their boats because they would not be able to obtain the necessary certificates.

Although they had been guiding their craft over the waves for many years.

Ample consideration had been the government's answer. The bill given the measure in the senate was had been pending before parliament for two years and was really based on the work of the conference on merchant shipping at London in 1928. All parties interested had heard about it and many had protested at delay in getting it on the statute books.

Apart from the shipping bill the government found smooth sailing yesterday in getting the house to approve its measures. The new gold tax was approved along with all remaining resolutions in the budget, including the tariff changes. First reading was given the bills to bring them formally into the statute books.

French Aviators Off To World's Fair

MONTREAL, June 13. — (CP) — The French flyers Capt. Maurice Rossi and Lieut. Paul Codos took off from St. Hubert airport here at 9.15 a.m., E.D.S.T. and turned their big monoplane Joseph Lebrix westward towards Chicago where they plan to visit the World's Fair.

The holders of the world long distance non-stop flying record were scheduled to make the flight to Chicago in one jump with no intermediate stops. They asked for charts adapted to a course along the north side of Lake Ontario which will carry them over Toronto and Niagara Falls.

The annual High Tea at which Mrs. E. Morrison, superintendent of the Residence at the Young Women's Christian Association, entertains the students and other residents at the "Y," was a very pleasant event of last evening. Arrangements were carried out, as usual, in the most satisfactory fashion and the guests thoroughly enjoyed the splendid repast provided and the interesting brief addresses which followed, and which, in every instance, eulogized the comfort of the "Y" residence and the interest taken in the girls by Mrs Morrison. The decorations of the table were lovely, with two-shaded mauve tones and a profusion of peonies, syringa, mauve and white lilacs and iris. The toast to "The King" was proposed by Mayor Denne; the toast to "Our Guests," proposed by Miss Olive Armstrong, was responded to by Dr. A. Moir; the toast to "Our Board," proposed by Miss Elizabeth Thomlinson, was replied to by Mrs. E. E. Harvey, and the toast to the "Normal Students," proposed by Miss Eleanor Robinson, was acknowledged by Miss Margaret Prouse. On behalf of the studen's at the Normal School who are in residence at the "Y," Miss Catherine Henley presented Mrs. Morrison with a beautiful bouquet of flowers. Miss Thomlinson, in voicing the toast to the Board, referred to the untiring interest taken in the Residence during the past five years, by the retiring president, Mrs. E. E. Harvey, and also welcomed the incoming president of the Board, Mrs. H. R. H. Kenner. Pleasing music interludes were provided by Mrs Agnes Logan Green, in piano numbers, and Miss Margaret Dickson, who sang twice. Guests present included Mayor and Mrs. Denne, Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Bannister, Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Macdonald, the Rev. and Mrs. F. N. Wootton, Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Kerr, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Park., Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Downey, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. The Garden Party planned yesterday afternoon by the Ladies' Aid Society of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, for which Mrs. T. A. Mackay of Park street lent her handsome residence and grounds, turned into an indoor tea, owing to the dampness of the lawns from recent rains. But it was an extremely successful event and thoroughly enjoyed by the many ladies who took advantage of Mrs. Mackay's gracious hospitality. Assisting the hostess in receiving were the president of the society, Mrs. Andrew Jack, and Mrs. Robert Ross. The ladies were ushered by Mrs. F. J. A. Hall to the tea room, where a profusion of flowers made a lovely setting for the pretty table, draped in lace and centered by a huge majolica bowl filled, in circular fashion, with yellow and blue iris lilies. Triple-branched candelabra at either end held yellow tapers. During the first hour, tea was poured by Mrs. W. H Hill and Miss Annie Erskine, while Mrs. R. R. Hall and Miss Nan Hall presided during the second hour. Assistants were Mrs. S. A. Archibald, Mrs. D. W. Clark, Mrs. W. A. Burrell, Mrs. W. S. Hill and Mrs. A. D. Runions. Mrs. Ada Craig was in charge of the service of refreshments and Mrs. W. A. Cochrane was treasurer. During the tea hour, an enjoyable musical program, in charge of Mrs. R. Ross and Mrs. T. H. Taylor, was presented, with songs by Mrs. S. V. Moulton, Mrs. L. Mitchell and Mrs. R. Cowan, piano selections by the young daughter of the house, Miss Elizabeth MacKay and Scotch songs, unaccompanied, and done in Highland costume, by Jimmie Sands. A candy table sale was looked after by Mrs. W. L. Ferguson and Mrs. C. E. Blewett, a 'White Elephant' sale was in charge of Mrs. H. Stenson and Mrs. Wesley Brown, and a sale of home-made cooking was supervised by Mrs. J. Marsh and Mrs. G. Ballantyne.

Mrs. Walter Belleghem lent her pretty summer home at Chemong Park yesterday for the annual picnic of the Peter Robinson Chapter I.O.D.E., which was combined with the June meeting of the organization. About fifty members enjoyed a delicious buffet supper in the prettily-decorated rooms, with arrangements in charge of Mrs. C. E. Graham, Mrs. B. V. Moore and Mrs. Belleghem. After the picnic supper, twelve tables of bridge were played with the prize for high score won by Miss Florence Adams. A sincere expression of appreciation to the gracious hostess was voiced by Mrs. Alex Sollitt. At the brief business meeting, with the regent, Mrs. C. S Browne, presiding, several letters of thanks were read from students assisted by the Chapter. It was decided to hold a garden party at the residence of Mrs. W. Derry, McDonnel street, on June 26th, also to sell tickets for a Hope Chest.

Evidence of the fine care given by Mr. and Mrs. Powell to these ponies and the tiny mother is in the glossy condition of their coats and the healthy condition of the new arrival. Over fifty people visited the new little Shetland pony on one day this week.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

In summertime when children play out of doors all day long, mothers may well wish that there were more fences inclosing their own and neighbors grounds. The temptation to stray across the boundaries and into the domains of the adjoining lawn is almost too strong to be resisted even when the youngsters know where the boundary lines are. But more often the wandering is not deliberately planned but the result of no fences or boundary to lawns merging into one another in an even greensward. How are the little folk to know when they are trespassing and when they are on home grounds? Because of this mothers have to be watchful lest their children get too far away, and that they do not trample on flower beds or harm bushes cherished by neighbours.

* * * * * * *

It is something of a problem to know just how to safeguard other's property and not be continually harassing their own little folk with words of warning. When grounds are thrown together, it is partly for landscape gardening effects. This is especially true where lawns are not extensive and would seem broken up if divided off with the precision of fences.

* * * * * * *

Shrubbery can give added beauty, if the bushes are well cared for and of a decorative kind. And flower beds are delightfully ornamental boundaries. Parents can teach their children to be careful about keeping their own plants from harm, and inculcate a respect for neighbors' plants at the same time.

* * * * * * *

A lawn seat placed just inside one's own grounds where they meet those of the next property gives a line of demarcation which is pleasing rather than marring. If it can be in the shade of a tree so much the better for practical use. By instructing children that they should not go beyond that settee, or they will be out of bounds, is a help in restricting the trespassing.

* * * * * * *

More liberty is permissable to children when in adjoining residences there are playmates. The little folk from each family can have the run of both lawns with no feeling of trespassing, provided they do no damage to either property. Children have to learn to respect other people's property. They must be taught not to pick the flowers or shrubs or plants in gardens, unless they are given permission. They must not deface house or grounds. They must be reasonably careful when playing ball, for example, to be far enough away from the house so that windows are not endangered.

* * * * * * *

On the other hand parents should not expect perfection in children Some latitude should be given them. It is only when wilful disobedience about straying off, or harming flowers, etc., is known, that punishment rather than warning is needed.

Household Hints

MENU HINTS

Baked Beans Cabbage Salad
Boston Brown Bread and Butter
Lemon Pie Coffee

This simple supper or dinner menu is a good one for house cleaning time. Or if your housecleaning is done, then for the day you want to shop in town or go to the club meeting or spend in the garden.

Today's Recipes

Baked Beans—One pint marrow-fat beans, one-half teaspoon baking soda, one-fourth pound salt pork cut in small pieces and browned, one-third cup brown sugar, one tablespoon molasses, one cup tomato pulp, one small onion, cut fine; few stalks celery, cut up; salt and pepper. Soak beans overnight. Boil ten minutes in water containing soda. Drain and add remaining ingredients. Bake three hours in slow oven, adding a little water when needed to keep from becoming too dry. Chill sauce may be used instead of tomato pulp if desired.

FACTS AND FANCIES

Use for Blades

You need never again wonder what to do with those used razor blades, for a new kitchen knife has solved the problem. The blades are fitted into the knife and used until they are no longer sharp. The knife is ideal for peeling, cutting and coring. Ask your hardware dealer for them.

BE BEAUTIFUL

By GLADYS GLAD

According to a letter that I received from a famous Paris couturier the other day, the new styles being plotted by the designers of that fashion center are raising quite a furore. The latest evening gowns are being made of rubber, straw, taffeta and materials that either swish or clank. The gowns themselves are so tightly fitted that a gal can barely sit down in one of them. Some of them have trains just long enough to pick up a minimum of one pound of dust per evening. And all of them have well-defined bust lines.

Unfortunately, there are quite a few girls who do not posses well-rounded busts. Such girls are going to find themselves unable to wear the new styles very smartly. For even the less extreme gowns today demand a well-developed bust. The flat-chested styles of the boyish era are definitely out of the fashion picture this season.

However, I've found that exercises of the proper sort are effective in developing and rounding out the bust contours, if they are practised faithfully every day. There are a number of excellent ones outlined in my "New Figure" booklet, together with a most helpful coco butter massaging process. And the following ones are also most effective:

Get down on your knees on the floor and sit back on your heels. Drop your head back, pull your shoulders well back, and clasp your hands behind you. Then, very slowly, bend your body forward until your chest nearly touches the floor. After this, relax completely, dropping your head and shoulders forward. Then slowly move back to first position, and repeat.

Stand erect, arms raised to shoulder level, elbows bent. Grip the hands tightly together and move your arms as far as possible from right to left, trying to pull your hands apart. Offer plenty of resistance when doing the pulling. Repeat, moving the arms from left to right.

Stand erect, arms extended sideward at shoulder level. Rotate the arms from the shoulders forward, upward and back, describing as large a circle as possible with your fingertips. Repeat this rotary motion for 15 counts and then reverse the direction of the circle.

SONG RECITAL GIVEN BY PUPILS OF MRS. PARK

Second Recital is Enjoyed by Thoroughly Appreciative Audience.

SIX STUDENTS HEARD.

(By Jeanette)

The second in a very interesting duo of Song recitals by pupils of Dorothy Allan Park was presented last evening in the hall of the Conservatory of Music before an audience that numbered well on to two hundred extremely appreciative people, who applauded enthusiastically the efforts of a sextette of vocal students: Mrs. L. M. Brooks, Mrs. G. A. Richmond, Mrs. E. V. Morphet, Miss Marion Ralston, Miss Florence Glenny and Miss Jennie Smart.

Again, as on the first occasion last week, when other singers from Mrs. Park's studio provided the program, the pupils in pretty summer frocks formed a semi-circle on the stage, which formed an attractive setting with its tall lighted lamps, ferns and a profusion of beautiful flowers. The announcements were made by Mrs. C. H. Crowe and accompaniments were played by Mrs. Park and Agnes Logan Green.

A delightfully varied program was presented and the intent interest of the listeners relaxed only when the final number was finished. Composers old and new were included in the list, with several softly-vowelled Italian selections. The superb quality possessed by Mrs. Park of bringing out the very best in her students resulted in some beautifully-rendered numbers. This was especially noticeable in the case of Mrs. L. M. Brooks, who surpassed herself last evening in her moving presentation of two very lovely songs.

They were two prime favorites: "The Blind Ploughman" and "Hush-een", the first imbued with strong, sincere religious feeling, and the second a charmingly sweet bit like a lullaby. Mrs. Brooks' rich low-toned mezzo soprano was at its best in these songs, and its finely-controlled, maturely expressive cadences reminded one of the recipe for success given by Marie Dressler: Live your part and color it with restraint. She sang also the reverent stanzas of "My World," the dainty Tschaikowsky song entitled "Why?" and a tone picture of springtime and romance, "All a Merry Maytime".

Miss Ralston

Miss Marion Ralston, whose free, blithe handling of her strong, brilliant, high-toned dramatic soprano voice promises much for the future of this youthful singer, was one of the highlights of a pleasing program. Applause, generous and sincerely appreciative, followed the songs which she sings so dramatically, easily and brilliantly. The final programmed number was a rendition by this gay singer of the carefree Waltz Song from Edward German's light opera, "Tom Jones", and she dramatized its bright emotional fervor and lyrical rhythm with such effect as to bring her repeated applause. Bach's composition, "My Heart Rejoiceth", was another song by this talented pupil, who sang also Rachmaninoff's "Through the Silent Night"; the difficult aria, "Mighty Love", from Handel's "Alexander Balus", in which bird-like cadenzas, long sustained, and exacting repetitive phrases, bristling with hazards, proved quiet easy for the skilfully trained voice, and a beautiful old Italian love song, "Lasciatemi morire", in which the heroine, Arianna, longs for the peace of oblivion.

Miss Florence Glenny, possessor of an animated, sparkling soprano light-toned, high sweet tone, with a bird-like quality that holds the attention, was accorded a large meed of applause by her pleased audience. Her rendition of the spirited composition, "How Shall I Sing that Majesty?" was extremely effective, with a graceful companion in the lyric stanzas of the dainty love song, "Rose of My Heart" by Herman Lonr, "O Flower Divine" vibrated with pulsating, sweet melody. Two other beautifully-sung compositions were "Still as the Night" and the lament for the lost Euridice, "Che Fare" from "Orefeo et Euridice" by Christoph von Gluck. This cry of the bereaved Orpheus for his wife was interpreted with finish and charm in the pliant, clear soprano tones.

Mrs. G. A. Richmond had a duo of songs that were delightful. Both were accorded repeated applause. She appeared to surpass any previous performance in her rendition of the Italian love song, (O zephyr soft and kind), in which her pure echoing finely-timbred voice was at its best and in its companion, Henschel's beautiful composition, the "Morning Hymn."

Finely-etched Words

Mrs. Richmond sang also a trio of excellently-rendered songs—a reverent Communion hymn, "Panis Angelicus" (Bread of Angeles), entitled "O Lord Most Holy"; an unusual selection entitled "Child of Earth" and "Here in the Quiet Hills." A quality in this singer of meticulous, exceptionally fine enunciation made every word easily distinguished.

(A musical reviewer of Toronto, the vivacious Mr. Mullins, wished in print sometime back that lady singers would label their voices. It is a wish breathed by many a reviewer. We regard the last two singers on the program as contraltos, but we don't know whether that is quite correct—or acceptable."

At any rate, both sang charmingly. Mrs. E. V. Morphet gave one of the prettiest possible renditions, expressive in the extreme, of an extremely dainty composition, "There are Fairies at the Bottom of our Garden"by Lisa Lehmann, bringing out its elfin delight in the most charming manner. And she also sang, in her light, sweet voice, with its careful enunciation, another effective bit, "Ma Curly-headed Babby"; "April Goes a-walking" and "I Heard You Singing,' by Eric Coates.

And the other singer of the evening whose pretty voice has contralto inflections was Miss Jennie Smart, who excelled in the expressive quality of her work and who created a tone picture for her listeners, especially in the melodious sweetness of the finely-rendered old favorite, "Danny Boy" which has its genesis, by way, in an air the origin of which goes back into the mists of antiquity. The Farewell to Erin's legendary chieftain, Cuchullain, which inspired this melody, is one of the oldest of the ancient Celtic songs, and its pathos and patient acceptance of life and death still enchants the imagination of countless listeners the world over. Miss Smart sang it with expressive charm, and also added to her program "May Day Morn", "Beloved, It Is Morn", and another prime gem of lyric loveliness, "Annie Laurie," also rendered with expressive sweetness.

NO TEXTBOOK COVERS THIS CASE

The following facts show why no textbook ever has or ever will cover all important situations which are encountered in actual play. The dealer may hold any one of 635,013,559,600 different hands. With the particular hand held by the dealer, second hand may hold any one of 8,122,425,444 different hands. With the two particular hands held by the first two bidders, third hand may hold any one of 10,400,600 different hands. The first three hands being fixed the last bidder can hold just a single hand. The possible combinations between the four hands amounts to 53 644,737,765,488,792,839,237,440,000. Playing 300 different hands a day, it would require 5,797,210 years to play just the hands coming to a single player.

It is bunk to state that partner cannot be forced, after he had passed. No player expects his partner to refuse a force when an informatory double is made. Provided you hold forcing bid strength, partner must respond, whether he has or has not previously passed. It is your business to see that partner is not forced unless you have game, provided he will keep bidding open once, until you show him two makes. The forcer must agree to another bid when partner reponds.

Suppose partner deals and passes. Second hand bids 1-spade. Let the bidder sit South, and hold either of the two hands shown.

(A)—
♠ A K Q 6 3 ♦ A 7 2
♥ 8 4 ♣ 9 5 4

(B)—
♠ K Q J 6 3 ♦ A 7 2
♥ 8 4 ♣ K 5 4

You sit West and hold either Hand 6 or 7 (which complete the series of hands began yesterday).

(6)—
♠ 5 ♦ K Q
♥ A K Q J 5 ♣ A Q J 10 6

(7)—
♠ None ♦ 3
♥ A K Q 8 5 2 ♣ A Q J 8 7 3

As dealer you would make an opening bid of 2-hearts, on either of them. Knowing that showing two suits gives odds of 82 to 18 that partner can better support one than the other of them, you would insure being able to show partner both suits, by using a forcing bid. Although your partner has passed, and South has opened the auction, you still must force. And to be in position to force when necessary you must ask partner to accept a force, even if he has passed.

You have become accustomed to the negative no-trump, to keep bidding open on almost nothing over partner's opening bid of 1. Now become accustomed to keeping bidding open with 2-No Trumps, or even 3-No Trumps, although you are trickless and without stops to an adverse suit make. But only do this upon the knowledge that partner never will refuse to overcall your no-trumps if he has forced you bid over an opening suit call. Bid 3-Hearts over 1-Spade. Whatever partner responds, whether a suit of 3-No Trumps, bid your 4-Clubs. Allow partner to choose between your two suit calls. It will you well in the long run.

INSIDE THE PADDOCK

BY ART MURRAY

WITH THE completion of today's card at Long Branch it will mean the end of racing at that point until next October when the fall session gets under way. Dufferin opens a seven day session on Saturday but the mile tracks remain inactive until Hamilton opens two weeks later. Then follows Fort Erie with a fourteen day meeting, the first of this duration to be held in Ontario since the Dominion government amended the racing bill to allow meetings of longer than seven days. But to get back to Little Saratoga, Len Sweep, the Queen of the Half Milers is already on the ground and ready to do business at the old stand. This one can take those sharp turns like nobody's business.

Double Dare is another that is right at home of the sharp turns and is in the pink of condition. Lindsay should also account for a race or two there as in previous years. Bubbling Out favors this racing strip as does Mr. Gaiety. Strange as it may seem the latter is one of the long striding brigade and these kind do not take kindly to the merry-go-round strip.

WE SUPPOSE you noticed where they are bringing old Sun Beau back to the races. He is now nine years old and is the greatest money winner of them all and as Equipoise is gradually creeping up on his purse total they figure he may add a few more dollars and keep far enough ahead that the ace of the Whitney stable will not reach him. The fact that he has been out of training now for five years and his advanced age makes us dubious as to his ability to successfully stage a comeback, and then to add insult to injury of some lesser lights should take him into camp it will take away a lot of the glory he attained in his prime. At any rate we wish the old boy all kinds of luck in his future races.

Eddie Seagram's Young Kitty is now nine years old and is winning regularly but she has never been away from the races for any length of time like Sun Beau . . . Right now we will go on record as predicting that Jockey Dougherty will be the leading mounter at the coming Dufferin meeting. For years Dude Foden was always premier rider at this track but of late years he has done very little riding here on what he calls the suicide turns. The past year or two Charlie Ralls has been the leader but this season he is piying his trade elsewhere and likely will not be available.

OF THE HORSES now campaigning at Long Branch some will be vanned over to Dufferin while others will go on to Hamilton to await the opening at that point. If Feudal Lord goes to Dufferin he will grab a heat without any trouble as on closing day last autumn at this same place when he just tow roped his opposition.

Cogs and Foster Clan Battle to 3-3 Tie

SEVENTH FRAME COMEBACK TIES E. P. L. FIXTURE

Pair of Southpaws, Dunkerley and Billingsley, Hook-up in Clever Duel.

FOSTERS HOLD EARLY EDGE

A seventh-inning rally in which they scored three runs gave Cogs a 3-3 tie with Fosters in a fine E.P.L. game at the Exhibition Grounds last night. A fair-sized crowd saw an excellent southpaw duel between Lefty Dunkerley and Lefty Billingley, a game that finally wound up with Cogs knotting the count in the dusky final frame. Fosters had the edge the first six innings.

Dunkerley, making his mound debut for Fosters, whistled his fast ball by seven Cogs, mixing up a hook and using a change of pace that had the league champions handcuffed till the seventh. He allowed five hits but three came in the last inning. The first hit was a bunt in the fifth. He walked three. Billingsley on the other slab also dished up first class twirling to let Fosters down with four hits, no two to an inning. He fanned nine but walked five, these complimentaries figuring in all three runs. Both hurlers received only fair support.

How They Scored

Fosters got two runs in the first, Mowry and Dinesen drawing walks with the former scoring on Maudsleys single which sent Dinesen to third and the latter going home on an infield out. Their other run came in the third, Dinesen walking, moving up on Joe Bailey's free ticket, and tallying on Bert Bailey's single. Not till the seventh then did they get a runner to third. Cogs threatened several times on errors but could not score till the seventh. In this frame, Billingsley led off with a hit, Mein walked and both advanced on Wilson's single. The latter was out on Padgett's fielder's choice which scored one, Padgett stealing second. Two more raced home on Vannest's hit to centre. The next two were retired and the game called.

The only Foster players to hit safely once were Maudsley, B. Bailey, Dundas and Williams. Billingsley got two of Cogs' five hits, Wilson, Vannest and Cadd getting the others. Dundas, Williams, Padgett and Billingsley were best in the field.

DELORO LOSES INITIAL GAME LOCAL GROUNDS

Visitors Give Brilliant Display Against Winners in Smart Soccer Tussle.

NEWCOMERS ON CLUB.

A last minute goal by Fred Earle gave the Canadian General two league points at the Deloro aggregations expense, on King Edward Park last night, before a good attendance of spectators, although a draw would have been a correct criterion of the tussle. The visitors are introducing the youth of their locality into the game and Gordon Clark, at outside left, is considered one of the fastest players while on the ball. Brown and Brooks got visitor's goal while McMaster and Earle were the scorers for the winners. Brown, Deloro, retired with a torn ligament during the last twenty minutes. The visitors have a clever team.

Opening Exchanges Fast

The Deloro team lost the spin of the coin and were compelled to face the sun. Right from the kick-off, the C.G.E. reverted to defensive tactics to keep the visitors outside the shooting zone. On midfield play, Jones dribbled his way up-field where he passed to McPhate who tested Murray, Deloro custodian, with a first timer. He punted clear to his forwards and just as Brooks was set to break through, Jones conceded a foul kick that looked dangerous when Brown and Brooks sent rocket drives towards Curtis' charge. Mitchell cleared from the melee, but Smith, inside right, returned the ball to Hart on the wing who centered nicely to Brown and finally rested in the net. The C.G.E. replied with greater vigour than ever to find the visitor's full backs overshadowing the attack, in fact, the only tangible shot came from the foot of McPhate who tested Murray at close range as the latter conceded a fruitless flag kick. Exchanges continued even for a while with Deloro claiming an infringement within the dread area but the referee was not in a position to award the claim. Then the Deloro attack bombarded the C.G.E. without any success although the effort by Brown, when he headed Hart's center, was taken off his head by an opponent's foot. Play ran from end to end at a terrific pace with the forwards being repulsed when within their objective At this point Brown of Deloro was limping around badly but continued playing. With five minutes to go, the C.G.E. halves concentrated on low passing combination that finally brought them the equalizer when McMaster accepted a smart pass up through the centre to bulge the net in below the cross-bar. Half time, Deloro 1, C.G.E. 1.

2 Goals in 2 Minutes

On resuming, the local boys broke fast to have Murray in difficulties when he saved a low grounder that brought a throw-up outside the goal area. On the next visit by the C.G.E. the unfortunate misunderstanding by the Deloro full backs permitted McMaster to await the ball as it rolled between them and he simply banged the sphere into the net. From the center kick Brooks broke away on an individual effort to beat Curtis with an unsavable drive, at point blank range to make the game on an equal basis again at two apiece. The players gave all they had and many interesting combinations were shown by the teams in which the half backsof the respective teams dominated the situation. Bradley, Deloro, being conspicuous with his clever anticipation of theoppents attack while feeding his forwards at the logical moment. On one occasion, he sent the ball to the foot of Brooks who evaded the full backs nicely and rattled the cross-bar with a terrific drive at close range It was anybody's game until the closing minutes when a break away by Quinn on the right end with the winger placing the ball into the centreof the goal. It travelled in every direction until it arrived at the foot of Earle who won the game with a smart right footer that Murray had no chance to divert. Canadian General 3, Deloro 2.

Deloro—R. D. Murray, goal; T. Cousins and J. G. Hart, full backs; P. Gray, Ernest Bradley and J. Sproul, halves; W. Hart, R. Smith, George C. Brooks, Wm. Brown and G. Stewart, forwards. Sub., S. Smith.

Canadian General — W. Curtis, goal; J. Mitchell and W. Bolam, full backs; W. Robb, E. Jones and S. Clark, halves; J. Quinn, P. Earle, B. McMaster, A. Mitchell and T. McPhate, forwards.

Referee—Harry Hotston.

WINGS DIVIDE DOUBLE-HEADER WITH SENATORS

Rochester Takes Second Game 4-3 Which is Ended By Rain.

LEAFS WASHED OUT.

(By The Associated Press)

Albany's steady climb toward a first division berth in the International League had carried the Senators to within two games of the fourth place Montreal Royals today and not the least of the factors contributing to the Senators' recent success has been the heavy slugging of Fred Sington.

One of the Best

The former Alabama football star has developed into one of the loop's best all-around swatsmiths. His batting average to-day stood at .393; his string of 77 hits included 17 doubles, six triples and 12 home runs; he enjoyed a wide lead in the "runs batted in" department with 74; and was among the pace-setters in run scoring, with 52.

Sington enjoyed a field day yesterday as the Senators split a double bill with Rochester Redwings. He drove in eight runs all told, prodding home five markers in the first game with a double and three singles and clouting his 12th homer with two on in the fifth of the nightcap, limited to six innings because of rain. Albany won the first game, 10-9, although Rochester almost pulled the decision out of the fire with three runs in the sixth and four in the eighth. The Redwings then won the second encounter, 4-3, as Ed Kleinke survived Sington's first inning homer and blanked the Senators the rest of the way. Kleinke allowed only four hits as did Ray Prim.

Wings Held Second Place

The even split enabled Rochester to hold second place, three games behind Newark Bears and a game and a half ahead of Toronto. Albany remained two games behind Montreal and a game and a half ahead of Buffalo.

All other games were washed out by rain.

BROTHERS IN SPORT SELDOM FINDS ONE OUTSTARS OTHER

Conachers, Cooks, Bouchers and Others All Shine in Canadian Sport.

MANY IN HOCKEY

By BILL McNULTY
Central Press Canadian Sports Writer

The normal formula is for one of two or more athletic brothers to over-shadow the balance of the family. However, this rule does not always apply. In some instances two brothers have won sports recognition in about equal quantities. Or, at least, there is not a wide margin between the pair.

Lionel Conacher of Toronto was the standout in the Conacher family for many years. Then his younger brother, Charlie, took the leadership for several years. Now Lionel has battled back into the van for family recognition with his sterling performance last season on the ice, these being a basic element in the capture of the Stanley Cup and world's pro hockey title by the Chicago Black Hawks. Charlie did not distinguish himself as actively as the Big Train, but he continues to be one of the major scoring threats of money hockey. He is distanced in the versatility race by his older brother, although he has played softball and football. The Big Train is on many tracks, including hockey, lacrosse, football, boxing, wrestling and baseball, and is equally as good in football and lacrosse as he is on the ice.

Lionel Conacher

Frank Boucher of Ottawa has the margin over brothers Bill and George in the sports spotlight at present, but it was not always thus. Bill starred for many years in the National Hockey league with Ottawa and the Canadiens and was a roughster on the ice. He has faded out of the picture the past two years in the minors. George (Buck) Boucher coached the Senators for the N.H.L. season of '33-'34, after directing the Boston Cubs in the Can-Am circuit. He also starred in the N.H.L. for many years. Frank has been centre for the Gotham Rangers since they were organized and last season was one of the best.

Frank Boucher

Tiny and Paul Thompson of Calgary are brothers and until last year Tiny was the better known of the two, thanks to his work in the cage with the Boston Bruins. Then the Bruins went down and the Chicago Black Hawks, for whom Paul was on the wing, came up to the Stanley Cup possession. Paul did some creditable work during the playoffs and thrust Tiny to the sidelines. Both play baseball during the summer, but Tiny is claimed to be superior to his younger brother in the summer sport.

George and Sylvio Mantha of Montreal are about on a par within the sports glare at present. They have played together on the Canadiens in hockey for many seasons and have also played together in lacrosse with Montreal teams in recent summer seasons.

Although both are presumed to have slipped on the ice in recent years, Bill and Bun Cook of Saskatchewan have almost equal hockey recognition since going with the Rangers, although Bun seems to have retrograded considerably more than brother Bill the past two years. Both are wheat farmers and neighbors, as well as co-operators on the Ranger front line. However, will this old line be dismantled and only Frank Boucher, the centre, retained for next season?

Bill Cook

Herb and Art Flack of Toronto have divided honors pretty well in speed skating, although Herb is in the honor seat at present, because of capturing the Canadian outdoor title at Toronto last winter. Both have been active on the tubulars for some years.

Whether in hockey or lacrosse there was little advantage to either Cy or Corbett Denneny of Ottawa in their long careers in sports as performers....ditto for Sprague and Odie Cleghorn of Montreal, although what advantage there prevailed was with Sprague, one of the toughest warriors in the history of hockey. Both Cleghorns were good in lacrosse, too....Dess and Earl Roche of Ottawa have been considered about equal in hockey talent ....In the Belyea rowing family of West St. John, N.B., Hilton Belyea, former Canadian single sculls champ, was outstanding. The others were Fred (Bollard), Harry and Frank....Of the hockey Carrols of Moncton, N.B., George was considered the best of seven brothers, all ice performers, viz., Fred, Tom, Hal, Percy, Blair, Ken.

St. Paul's Ousted In Juvenile Series

Murray Street Juveniles eliminated St. Paul's in a Church loop softball game last night, 7-6, in a snappy exhibition. If St. John's beat St. James' to-night, Murray Street is out, while if St. James' wins, Murray Street and St. John's will play off for second place. Strickland was too good for the Saints' last night, except for four runs in the fifth, including homers by McMillian and Currie. He fanned a dozen. Currie also went well but was somewhat wild. Morrow, King, Foster, Mortimer and Hawkes led the hitters. Sedgewick made four nice catches but dropped a soft one to let in the winning run.

The teams:

St. Paul's—King, 1b; Sedgewick, lf; Whiteside, ss; McMillian, cf; Barr, 2b; Currie, p; Morrow, c; Metcalfe, 3b; J. Easton, rf; S. Easton, rf.

UNREST IN CHAMP'S CAMP SWINGS SUPPORT TO MAXIE

Others Playing "California" Hunch Believe Baer is Cinch to Win Title.

FANTASTIC ANGLES.

(By Alan Gould Associated Press Sports Editor).

NEW YORK, June 13. (AP).—It's no trouble at all for anyone playing the "California hunch" this year to pick Max Adelbert Baer to chop down the ponderous Primo Carnera and bring back the heavyweight championship of the world to the U. S. A. to-morrow night.

College track and field honors already have been taken back to California by Stanford; Lawson Little and Olin Dutra have contributed golfing quests to the Golden State's sporting harvest this spring and the brawny California bears rank among the favorites for the Pough-Keepsie regatta this week—so why not continue the parade with the pride of the belting Baers?

It has been a long time since anything developed so many fantastic angles as to-morrow night's brawl between the former circus freak and the motion picture playboy but that won't prevent Californians from backing Baer to clout his way to the championship.

A week ago, so much fuss was madeover Baer's apparent lack of condition as a result of Boxing Commissioner Bill Brown's whistleblowing that the happy-go-lucky Californian's chances took a sharp drop. To-day, with increasing signs of unrest in Carnera's camp followed by the fact that the champion developed a sore throat, it appeared Baer's support rallied to the extent of making him an evenmoney choice by the time they climb into the ring in Madison Square Garden's "sunken bowl" tomorrow evening.

CARPETMAKERS GAIN 6-3 WIN

Brintons Hold Lead From Start in Snappy Softball Fixture.

NEAT FIELDING.

In a smart men's softball game at Central last night, Brintons pulled out a 6-3 verdict over Johnston's Tires. The contest was fast all through and marked by snappy fielding. The Carpetmen began banging away at Jimmy Price early and finally forced him to retire in the sixth in favor of Parsons. He yielded eight safe blows while walking six before he got his walking papers. Timely hitting by Weir and Sturgeon helped his downfall.

Lefty Sturgeon, player-manager of Brintons, went on the mound for the southend crew and hurled good ball. He was notched for a dozen hits and four free tickets to first but bore down tightly in the pinches to come out on top. He also clouted a homer in the sixth. Three strikeouts were marked to his credit.

Nifty fielding by Brintons kept the Deck boys down, Playford making some tough ones look easy, and the fifth to knock down a liner for the Dormer brothers combining in a classy out. Pat Calladine also aided a lot with his steady catching and chatter. The teams:

Johnston's Tires: Anderson, c; Starr, c; Dorrington, 3b; Ellis, 1b; Montgomery, lf; Allen, cf; Creighton, cf; Stanger, 2b; McQuade, rf; Crary, ss; Price, p; Parsons, p; Elliott, pinch-hitter.

Brintons: H. Dormer, 3b; Smith, 1b; Williamson, cf, rf; Playford cf; Currie, rf; Calladine, c; Weir, rf, 2b; Dallin, lf; Bradshaw, 2b; Sturgeon; p; G. Dormer, ss.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By The Associated Press)

Mel Ott, Giants. — Drove in four runs against Reds with triple, double and single.

Tommy Bridges, Tigers.—Limited Red Sox to seven runs, fanning five.

Bud Tinning, Cubs.—Granted Phillies only one hit in six innings of relief pitching.

Danny Taylor, Dodgers—Made four hits, batted in four runs, stole base and scored twice against Pirates.

Paul Dean, Cardinals.—Scattered 12 Boston hits and struck out five for seventh straight victory.

Reg. Dyer's rink by virtue of defeating Jimmy Cullen, heads Group No. 1, with 4 wins and no losses. This game was a tie coming home—14-14; and when Dyer came to play his last bowl Cullen was laying four shots and looked like the game. However, Reg. played a perfect running shot and carried the jack back to the ditch, but his own bowl went dead.

Immediately everybody jumped in to see who was shot—they all went into a huddle—seconds, leads, skips and vices. Firsts one bowl was shot and then another, and finally it was declared Jimmy was shot. Then somebody got a bright idea that another bowl at a different angle might be shot, and when that bowl was measured it was found that Reg. was shot by about half an inch. Anyway, it was a good game—lots of fun—Jimmy lost and Reg. won.

Another good game was the Chesler-Mayneord affair. Jack was behind all through the game, but finally tied it up on the last end—and then won out on the extra end by one shot. Incidentally it was Benny's first loss and Jack's first win—so it worked both ways.

The boys and girls are asked to remember the mixed tournament to-night at 7.30 p.m. Everybody is welcome.

ELECTRICS WIN THIRD STRAIGHT

C.G.E. Collects 30 Hits Against Leafs' 20 for 26 to 13 Victory.

SEVERAL HOMERS.

C.G.E. girls gathered in a bagfull of solid base hits last night at Armour Field, when they nabbed their third consecutive win of the season, beating Maple Leafs, by the rather lopsided count of 26 to 13, in a duel featured by heavy clouting, the two teams dividing exactly fifty safe hits.

Maple Leafs used two pitchers, Genevieve Mann starting and I. Burnham taking over the job in the sixth and finishing the game. The Electrics started Annette DeCarlo on the rubber but she retired in the second in favor of Marg Snowden, who coasted along until the eighth, fanning six, but in this frame, the Leafs landed five hits in a row to score five runs and Helen Newson went to the mound. The latter pitcher allowed just three hits and one run in the frame and a half in which she worked.

Lil Trollop, I. Sturgeon and Bel Thirnbeck laced out homers for the losers, and P. Rome had two doubles. Every C.G.E. batter had at least two while Marg English, Laura Bosley and Marg Snowden all hit safely four times. Dot Millar slammed out two triples, Dot Byers got one and E. Gates added another. Dot Self and M. Snowden clouted homers. Marg English played a great game in left field for the winners, making a sensational running catch of a hard hit fly in the fifth. Marg Todd, first sacker for the same team played a smart game and Phyllis Rome was the fielding star for the losers.

The teams:

Maple Leafs: A. Sturgeon, 3b; L. Cockerill, rf; I. Burnham, p; Foster, rf; G. Mann, p, rf; Trollop, 3b, cf; I. Sturgeon, 1b; Ballantyne, ss; Thirnbeck, c; H. Mann, lf; P. Rome, 2b.

SPORTS DAY BY DAY

Baseball, Lacrosse Soccer Softball, Bowling, etc.

By C. J. P.

The Omemee maidens are here this evening to do battle via a softball game with Westclox at Central. Now, these are both pretty fair teams, fair for looks and fair for playing—so take your choice and drop around for a while whether you're a softball fan or just an admirer of good-looking gals. Personally, we like to see good games, but when the players are also easy on the eyes, well that's just so much more gravy on our meat. And we're not on a diet! The game is due to commence at 6.15 o'clock, weather permitting. Even if it doesn't permit, the contest is still booked for quarter past six.

• • • • • • •

C.G.E. gals and Maple Leafs had a merry old time of it yester evening over in Armour Field, with the Electrics grabbing off the swollen side of a 26-13 score. It was the third straight for C.G.E., and these lasses look like they mean business this summer. A lot of man-sized clouting, fair fielding and mediocre twirling marked the fracas before a big crowd—most of whom forgot to kick in. Lil Cockerill, making her debut with the Leafs, did herself noble in the short time she played, getting a single and double in twice up and grabbing off a fly.

• • • • • • •

Lefty Sturgeon returned to the hilltop for Brintons last night and subdued the loop-leading Johnston's Tires, 6 to 3. 'Twas a nifty struggle and featured by snappy fielding, especially by the Carpetmen. Lefty allowed twelve safe hits but kept 'em well scattered and bore down in the tight spots with a whistling fast ball, crossed occasionally with a sticky slow floater that nearly broke several backs. Price and Parsons both toiled for the Deckmen and didn't do too badly, either. In fact, it was a nice game to oop and a tough one to drop.

• • • • • • •

Two southpaws, Dunkerley and Billingsley, staged a dandy duel at the Exhibition Grounds last p.m., with Cogs rallying to get three runs in the last inning and sew up the tilt at 3-all. Young Lefty Dunkerley had Cogs eating out of his mitt with a lovely performance till the seventh, while Billingsley—after a shaky start—also tossed in a beautiful brand of ball. Such struggles are well worth seeing. The game will have to be re-played.

• • • • • • •

Fosters kicked up an argument at the end, saying the game should have been called earlier owing to darkness. And we can't blame them, as it was plenty dark at the start of the seventh. The contest was twenty minutes late starting, and while none of the three Cog runs in the seventh came because of the dusk, still that's not the point. Bill Prindible, loop president, told us after the game that all E.P.I. games would have to start on time in future, or drastic action would be taken against the offending team. The C.O.B.I. contests are seldom late in starting as there is a league ruling whereby a team may be fined five simoleons if it is not ready to start at the advertised time.

• • • • • • •

St. Peter's School opened the bantam baseball season last p.m. with a 25-11 win over Maple Leafs. It was a mighty slugfest with five pitchers used, Coppsrthwaite showing more than any of them, though the two Saints' flinger looked promising. Fielding was fair but the big diamond bothered the boys a lot. Quite a crowd watched the kids slap the dickens out of the ball, under the watchful eyes of Umpires Scates and Thomas. Bill Kay of the O.B.A.A., Max Swanston of the C.O.B.I. and Prexy Jack Deannard of the City League officiated in the opening ceremony. Somebody lost the scorecard after the game, so we'll have to omit the two lineups this time.

• • • • • • •

The old injury jinx that nearly wrecked the Petes' team in the Central League last year has started on 'em again. With Ike Batten and Len Hollingsworth having injured legs recently and Bill Calladine a sore flipper, Archie Deyell had the tough luck in practise last night to sprain an ankle, which'll put him out for a time! This leaves Knotty Lee's crew pretty well shot just as they start a tough ten-day grind in which they play five games. Ike Batten told us last evening that he had a special pad made for his leg and if at all possible would get into today's game. The Petes should have more reserve power after what happened last summer.

• • • • • • •

Local intermediate lacrossers—going under the name of Kiwanis this year—will play home games in Riverside Park, along the west grandstand. They play in Cobourg this Saturday night, while the first home game will be next week with Belleville here either Tuesday or Thursday evening at 6.15 o'clock. Twilight games will be the order, not floodlight. The boys may practise nightly now in the east end of Riverside, and expect to have a strong O.A.L.A. entry for their jaunt to the Lakeshore Town this week-end.

• • • • • • •

Sport hash: Dinesen appeared hypnotized—or anchored to his knees in mud—when Billingsley pulled one of his tricky throws to first in last night's E.P.I. game . . . . Incidentally, we called the turn when we said Fosters were due to surprise the strong Cogs . . . . Local gals' softball teams have been invited to a tourney in connection with the Belleville Centennial June 20th and 21st, participants getting meals and medals; C.G.E., Maple Leafs and probably others will make the trip . . . . Ball fans will be wasting their time by jingling us before dark for the senior score this e'en, and it may be some little time after dark before the final result can be wired here.

SANDY SOMERVILLE ON ONTARIO TEAM

Will Select Willingdon Trophy Five at Provincial Amateur Championships.

TORONTO, June 13 (C.P.) — Selection of the five-man Ontario team to compete in the Willingdon Trophy interprovincial golf tournament in August will be made at the Ontario amateur championships and at a special meet in Toronto, July 16. British Columbia won the trophy at Vancouver last year.

The executive committee of the Ontario Golf Association decided yesterday that Ross "Sandy" Somerville, the silent men from London, Ont., will become automatically a member of the team. Its members regard Sandy as the nation's outstanding golfer as he is the only man who has ever held the Canadian, United States and Ontario championships.

Fredericton Team Makes Best Score

Enthusiasts of shooting throughout the Dominion will be interested to read the high scores recently made in the Dominion Marksmen Royal Canadian Mounted Police Revolver Championship Competition. Out of seventeen competing teams, Fredericton, N.B., Team No. 1, made the best score of 1,374 points out of a possible 1,500; "D" Division Team No. 1, of Winnipeg followed with 1,344 points. The winner of the Individual High Score Trophy was Sgt. A. Ford, "K" Division, Banff, Alta., who achieved 286 points out of 300. In deliberate fire, Sgt. Ford scored 187 points out of 200, and, in rapid fire, 99 out of 100. "Depot" Division, Team No. 2, Regina, Sask., was awarded the Tyro Championship.

These results have just been made public by the sponsors of the event, the Dominion Ammunition Division of Canadian Industries Limited.

Knox Senior Nine In First Place Tie

Knox Seniors climbed into a first-place tie in their Church Softball League standing last night by nosing out St. Paul's, 9-8, in a fine fight. Ferguson and Fleming both pitched steady ball, each having but one bad inning. Wooll and Charlton pulled nice catches, while latter, Archibald, Smythe, Marsh and Fleming hit effectively.

The teams:

St. Paul's—March, 3b; Kirkwood, lf; Coleman, 1b; Broadley, 2b; McIntyre, cf; Clayton, c; Fleming, p; Anderson, ss; Wooll, rf.

Knox—Charlton, cf; A Wedlock, 2b; Ferguson, p; Archibald, 3b; Masters, c; Morrison, lf; Smythe, rf; B. Wedlock, 1b; Allen, ss.

St. Paul's .. .. 410 120 0—9

CHUCK KLEIN WITH LEADERS CIRCUIT RACE

Giantmen Pound 19 Hits Off Four Red Hurlers for 12-1 Victory.

CUBS AND CARDS WIN.

(By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr., A.P. Sports Writer.)

Like almost everything else in big league baseball this season, the home run battle is showing signs of developing into a close and protracted scrap. With the rise of a couple of new clouters to rival the old standbys, Babe Ruth, Jimmie Foxx, Lou Gehrig, and Chuck Klein, about a third of the season has passed without giving any indication of who among a half-dozen leaders will come out on top.

Gets His 15th Circuit.

When Klein swatted his 15th circuit drive of the season yesterday in the course of the Cubs' 6-5 decision over the Phillies, it put him up on even terms with the sensational newcomer, Zeke Bonura of the White Sox, the reliable Lou Gehrig and Mel Ott, who has been clouting them at a better clip this season than ever before.

Klein's homer was the most powerful Cub blow if the day. It came with two on base in the third inning and was the chief ingredient of a four-run rally that offset the five the Phils scored off Jim Weaver in the same frame. Chicago collected two more runs in the fourth, then held the lead with the aid of Bud Tinning's fine relief hurling.

While Klein was collecting his first homer in nearly two weeks, Ruth also broke a week-long drought with a blow which would have been his 16th of the season if it had counted. Rain nullified the blow and all the rest of the Yanks' and Browns' four innings of labor when it halted the game in the first half of the fifth.

Jim (Ripper) Collins of the Cardinals, another clouter who has been threatening the leaders for quite a while, smacked homer No. 14 to aid St. Louis in a 7-3 conquest of the Braves. He joined the reserve line of the home run battle with Foxx, just one behind the leader, and incidentally contributed three runs to Paul Dean's seventh mound victory.

Giants Keep Pace.

The triumphs of the Cubs and Cards didn't alter the National League pennant race much as the league leading Giants used the common variety of base hits, plus a circuit drive by Travis Jackson, to blast out a 12-1 victory over Cincinnati. They collected 19 blows, Pitcher Fred Fitzsimmons getting four, and put together two five-run innings. Brooklyn's Dodgers put over the day's big surprise when they came from behind with a four-run rally in the eighth and gained a 9-7 decision over Pittsburgh.

The only American League game which escaped the rain in the East saw Detroit's league-leading Tigers pound out a 4-2 decision over the Red Sox behind Tommy Bridges' seven-hit flinging. All the scoring was done in the eighth when Dusty Rhodes weakened just enough to drop his club out of its tie with Washington into sixth place.

THE SPUN GLASS MYSTERY

A Tale of Scotland Yard

By A. FIELDING

CHAPTER 22

"Don't come down," Lucy said at once, in the tone of an older woman anxious to spare a young one a heedless and distressing sight. "Mr. Tait has been taken ill. You can't help us. We're all here."

Gillian made no reply, but she tottered down the stairs and into a room facing the one where the constable was telephoning. Naylor went in after her.

She hardly seemed to see him at first. Then she gave him a sudden frenzied look. It would have startled any man. There was more than the terror of a young girl brought face to face with her first glimpse of death in it. She sank into a chair, or rather crouched there, and closed her eyes. Naylor was obviously dismissed. It was as though she had half thought of appealing to him—for what? And had decided against it. What had made her change her mind? His impassive face?

"Is there anything I can do for you?" he asked in an odd, muffled, hesitant voice. There was open reluctance in it, as though the words came against his better judgment. She shook her head. There was no sound in the room until the door opened. The constable looked in, a sharp, searching look.

"I'm ready to telephone for your own doctor now, sir." Naylor remembered that he had heard him step to the door a full minute ago. He went on out to him and gave name and number.

Back at Scotland Yard, Superintendent Dartmoor, on hearing the name of the man who had died so suddenly in a street just around one turning from his own house, pressed a button on his desk. Chief Inspector Pointer got the call and came in at once. He listened very closely to the account which had just come in to them.

"If a crime, sounds like poison," he murmured.

"Fortunately the bobby who saw it happen recognized his name as one of those connected with Lord Mills and 'phoned up at once for instructions. Drop everything, I see you've practically finished the job you're on, and finished it well, by the way, and have a look into this death. See if there's anything queer there. I'll speak to the D. C. and get a Home Office expert for you."

"It's an odd happening," Pointer agreed thoughtfully.

"Or it wouldn't come our way," Dartmoor added. And the superintendent responsible for the fifth of London in which Tait, like Lord Mills, had died, picked up the telephone, and Pointer hurried away to make a few swift arrangements.

"Here's your impartial witness," Dr. Hardy said good-humoredly, as he stepped in quickly just as Pointer was finishing.

"I don't want one, sir," was the reply as the detective officer led the way to his car in the great square below, which no car can enter except on direct business with the C. I. D. "I want you to feel absolutely certain that there's been foul play, and determined to find the proof."

"Absolutely convinced yourself, are you?" Hardy asked.

"Oh, no, I've an open mind. You're the one who has no doubts whatever but that a crime has been committed and that you will be able to show it up."

Dr. Hardy, the greatest expert at the Home Office on poisons, and the appearances of deaths from them, shot him an amused glance from veiled but keen eyes.

"I'm poisons," he said oracularly; "the very fact that I was asked to hurry along shows the field of inquiry, but is there any particular kind of poison which I'm so certain has been used?"

Pointer only shook his head and passed on the information received by the constable as to Mr. Tait's last moments on the pavement.

So quickly had all this been done that they drew up at the house in Great Cumberland place just as Dr. Merridew the family medico, was jumping out of his car.

While the chief inspector and the Home Office expert were driving up, Mrs. Burnham at last laid down the hand to which she had held as though to a bulwark.

"I want him taken to the library," she begged, "or into one of the rooms. I can't bear him left here in the hall. It's, oh, it's too horrible!"

The body shouldn't be touched any more. It ought not to've been touched at all," h cons able said very officially indeed. The butler was just admitting three men.

"The body.' 'It,'" repeated Mrs. Burnham in a sort o' shriek, as though the words had opened reality to her. "John! John!"

She let Lady Tait put an arm around her and help her to her feet.

"John gone! Everything gone! All my future—my happy future!" She spoke in a sort of desolate monotone that made Lady Tait's tears rise, and she was not given to easy weeping. The two doctors—and the man from Scotland Yard waited in respectful silence until the little group of women had passed on upstairs. Then the three of them stepped forward to the body lying on the floor. Pointer had it carried into the nearest large room, which happened to be the dining room, and the doctors ordered it to be placed on the table. Privately the chief inspector thought of the shock to the feelings of the family who might next be asked to gather about it for some meal, but the medical men had right-of-way here and he raised no objection. He himself had a word with the constable first of all, and then another with the taxi driver.

The latter was crawling along, on the look-out for fares, in the street that ran parallel to this when he noticed Mr. Tait ahead of him. He knew Mr. Tait well by sight, as he had several times driven him away from his stepmother's house. He loitered, hoping to attract his attention, but Mr. Tait seemed to be rushing somewhere deep in thought. Suddenly the taximan saw his legs give way for a second as though some one had struck him across the back of the knees. He kept his balance, but only to stagger blindly across the pavement as though trying to get to a supporting wall. The man was off in an instant, and caught him just as he would have pitched on his face. The face itself was convulsed, with lips drawn back from teeth clenched as though in agony. One hand beat the air, the other grasped at his breast pocket and jerked out a gold trinket which fell on to the pavement. The taximan shouted to a constable who was already running up, and who helped him to lay Mr. Tait down on the pavement where he died even as they laid him. The trinket the driver picked up and replaced in the gentleman's waistcoat pocket.

Health For Young Girls Happiness For Tired Women

MILBURN'S HEALTH AND NERVE PILLS

Thousands of women become tired out and run down, become thin and pale, and profound weakness makes life a burden.

The whole outlook of life is changed when the nervous, sick headaches, the sleeplessness, the spells of dizziness, of weakness and discouragement, and the tired, languid feelings disappear with the use of Milburn's H. & N. Pills. They tone up the nerves, enrich the blood, and bring the health back to normal again.

For Thursday, June 14

The planetary configurations bearing rule on the affairs of this day presage a fair amount of activity, with employment of interest and all pertaining to writings, correspondence, publishing, publicity and promotion of paramount importance. In this connection there may develop some hasty and important news of an advantageous nature. But sign all these writings with due precaution, being on guard against loopholes for misrepresentation or fraud.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for an interesting and progressive year in employment, particularly if the employment has to do with writings, publishing, advertising or promotions, all of which are under a friendly stellar influence. But be careful in affixing the signature to all writings or documents, being on guard against fraud or misrepresentation. Good news may have important bearing on current affairs.

Tribute to Late Judge Huycke Paid by Judge Ruddy of Whitby.

COUNTY COURT OPENS.

True bills were returned yesterday afternoon by the Grand Jury in all four criminal cases on the docket of the General Sessions of the Peace which opened at the court house yesterday afternoon before Judge Robert N. Ruddy, of Whitby, acting Judge of eterborough County.

In opening the court, Judge Ruddy paid splendid tribute to the memory of the late Judge E. C. S. Huycke, who for more than 25 years was Judge of Peterborough County. "The death of Judge Huycke is a tremendous loss to this couuty and to the whole province," Judge Ruddy said. "His ability was known and recognized throughout the province. He worked very hard, in fact too hard and that in my belief hastened his death."

The criminal cases on the docket for which true bills were returned are: Mrs. Alice Leeson, charged with procuring; Horace Williams, charged with criminal negligence; Thomas Hele on a charge of assalting his wife; and Fred Reynolds with non-support.

Members of Grand Jury.

Herbert Abbott, Douro; John Coones, Apsley; Sidney Fairbairn, North Monghan; Gordon Hill, 620 Gilmour street; Darius Hall, Harvey; Herbert Kylle, Otonabee; Fred Morgan, Dummer; H. J. Parnell, 224 Rubidge street; W. J. Robinson, Smith; J. L. Roland, Smith; F. H. Sommerville, 16 Inverlea street; W. C. Steinkraus, Smith; G. A. Welch, 29 Crescent street.

PETHERICK'S TRIUMPH

(Examiner Correspondence.)

BURNBRAE, June 13. — In the best game of the season, Petherick's softball squad triumphed over West Seymour 10 to 7 in a five inning encounter Saturday evening, on the High School diamond. Slippery grounds following a heavy rain paved the way for a few excusable errors on both sides, but the fielding was exceptionally good with the outfielders being particularly prominent. The winners connected with Anderson's offerings for a substantial lead in the first three frames, while Kerr pitched steady ball throughout, the only heavy count coming in the fourth when with two out, a walk, error, and homer, by Collins, accounted for a trio of runs. Both pitchers registered several strikeouts.

West Seymour: Anderson p; McCook c; Chadwick 1b; Patrick 2b; Rutherford 3b; Hooper 22; Nicholas, lf; Collins cf; McCulloch rf.

Petherick's: G. Kerr, p; A. Petherick c; Barnum 1b; G. Petherick, 2b; L. Watson 3b; D. Watson ss; R. Fry lf; D. Kerr cf; F. Fry rf.

Umpires: Richardson, McComb, Farrell.

The next game is Seymour West vs. Menie on Saturday June 16.

HENRY REGIME EXTRAVAGANCE IS CRITICIZED

Complete House Cleaning at Queen's Park Stressed by Rally Speakers.

HIGHER DEBT BURDEN.

Mayor Carr Defends 'Self Against Tory Statements at Campbellford Meeting.

CAMPBELLFORD, June 13 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — Criticism of the extravagant expenditures of the Henry Government and of the increased burden of debt, and the need for a complete house-cleaning at Queen's Park were expressed by speakers at Campbellford last evening, when the Regent Theatre was packed to capacity for a Liberal rally at which the speakers were W. H. Moore, M.P. for Oshawa; Frank Denton, K.C., Toronto; W. A. Fraser, M.P., and Mayor H. N. Carr of Campbellford, Liberal standard-bearer for the riding of Northumberland, in whose interest the meeting was held.

Defending himself for the first time against statements that had been made against him during the present campaign, a privilege he claimed he had on the platform in his own town, Mayor Carr refuted many of these as election propaganda. It had been said, he stated, that if Harold Carr was elected he would move to have the widow's allowance cut.

Touching a human note and giving a personal experience, he told the gathering that when he was a year old, his own father had left home one morning for work, never to return, having been crushed to death. His mother had been left with three children to keep, a job she was ill equipped to carry out, and one of the first jobs he himself had done to bring revenue to the family budget, was to sell papers on the streets of Toronto. "I leave it to you, he stated, if I would try to rob any widow of what little money she can get."

Headed Delegation.

And referring to the statement made against him by F. J. McArthur, that he did not want the unemployed of Campbellford to have work, Mayor Cara told his audience that when Mr. McArthur said this, he knew it was not the truth. It was he who had led a delegation from Campbellford, of which he was the only Liberal, to Toronto to seek for road work to relieve the unemployment situation in the town. Mayor Carr explained, and the argument he had put up to the Hon. Mr. Macaulay was this. "If for no other reason than for political expediency, you should get this work under way for these men," for it had been promised long before this. The Minister had stated, "I don't thing there is anything to your argument. I don't think the men will give us any credit, except at election time."

And in regard to the statement by his political opponent, that he had as Mayor of the town, raised the tax rate this year higher than it had ever been, 49 mills, Mayor Carr pointed out that was not true, for when he took office the tax rate for Campbellford was 52 mills, and it had dropped to 47 mills, although it had been necessary for the council to raise it to 49 mills this year.

And giving his stand in regard to the much discussed and vexed question of the hunters of the district, who demand from the Government the right to hunt deer with dogs, the speaker stated that although he had never hunted in his life, if elected, and his people wanted dogs to hunt with, it would be his job, if humanly possible, to get dogs for them.

Political Mismanagement.

Political mismanagement was the cause of the depression in Canada, in the opinion of W. H. Moore, M.P., who reviewed briefly the Canadian situation, especially in regard to the increase of Provincial debts in the Dominion. A depression should never exist in this country, he stated, pointing out that it was the fault of governments and of politicians.

"People, he said, did not realize how serious conditions were today in the country, which was on the verge of chaos, and quoted figures of the increase of debts of several provinces over the past ten years, from 1922 to 1932,taken from the records of the Citizens' Research Institute of Canada. These showed as follows:

Prince Edward Island—1922, 1 million dollars; 1932, 3½ million dollars.

Nova Scotia—1922, 24 million dollars; 1932, 62 million dollars.

British Columbia—1922, 86 million dollars; 1932, 145 million dollars.

Saskatchewan—1922, 52 million dollars; 1932, 109 million dollars.

Quebec—1922, 58 million dollars; dollars; 1932, 109 million dollars.

Ontario—1922, 222 million dollars; 1932, 501 million dollars.

Each province also had a sinking fund, which was added to yearly, the speaker said, but with Ontario, this had decreased from $7,921.82 to $6,444.66. "They have even used the sinking fund, he declared, that's the issue, think of these things away from party politics, as our business. Its the main issue to-day, the record of the Henry government, and they can't get away from it."

And in connection with taxation, he said that twenty-two percent of the peoples' income was used for this purpose, or in other words, every person had to work twenty-two days out of every hundred for the government. To-day the national debt per capita was $625 per head of every person in the country.

Frank Denton, in a firey address attacked the Henry government for its policy of buying votes before the election, by giving work to thousands of men a few days before election day, by building roads and filling in ditches, which last election had been dug out. He was glad the men had work, he declared, but if this work was necessary now, why was it not necessary months ago. In his opinion it was too obvious and he pointed out that the people were not fooled by this, nor were the workers themselves.

Greatest Issue

Mr. Denton also went into the matter of what he called the greatest single issue of the campaign, the six hundred million dollar debt of the Province, and compared this with the claimed assets against it, the Hydro system, the value the government places on Provincial buildings, a matter of fifty-three million dollars, and fourteen million dollars in the unemployed relief, and urged a complete ousting of the Tory patronage machine which he said, had overpowered the government itself.

W. A. Fraser scored the wastefullness of the Henry Government, and attacked that party, especially in regard to the water power, and the buying of this from Quebec interests at $15 per h.p. and at the same time cancelling power from the Town of Campbellford, which was selling at $10 per h.p. "Why did a member for this riding permit it to be cancelled?" he asked, giving as his suggested reason that the horse power from Campbellford did not bear a certain Tory grab to certain Tory cliques in the city of Toronto.

Mr. Fraser, who received a great ovation from the gathering, introduced Mr. Moore.

The meeting was presided over by W. S. Wiggins, president of the Campbellford Liberal Association. Interjected among the several addresses were vocal numbers by the Grafton Quartette. The pianist for the evening was Miss G. Maynard of Campbellford.

1ST (ST. JOHN'S) PETERBOROUGH TROOP

On Friday evening, June 8, in the Parish Hall, the troop had a meeting of more than usual interest. The troop was under the leadership of A.S.M. Fred Ford, assisted by A.S.M. Warren Turner and Troop Leader Clifford Boate. The features of the evening were the final preparations for Parents' Night and an investiture.

Before the meeting closed Scout Master George E. Groombridge, who has been unavoidably absent from recent meetings, visited the troop and admitted Gordon Pink and Ladislaces "Pete" Dominik into the Brotherhood of Scouts. The former is a member of the Bulldog Patrol and was presented by P.L. Thomas Hooper, while the latter, on the other hand was invested as a Scout for the Rover Crew and was presented by A.S.M. John Langley of the 2nd Armour Troop. Ven. Archdeacon Blagrave, D.D., troop chaplain, asked a blessing for the new Scouts. The troop, then, resolved itself into a council fire meeting, and Rev. E. R. James, of St. John's Church ,another friend of the Scouts, spoke to the boys on the value of obedience.

Parents' Night, an annual event with the 1st Peterborough Group is to be held next Friday.

The purpose of Parents' Night is to show the parents and friends of the boys what the Scouts do at meetings and to give them some idea of what Scouting is. Also it is to give the leaders an opportunity they too rarely get to meet and speak with the Scouts' mothers and fathers. As suggested by one of the leaders, each Scout is going to do two things in preparation for next week: 1.—Tell every member of his patrol absent Friday to be on hand; 2—Come himself next Friday and bring his parents.

Both Cubs and Scouts will be looking for visitors on Friday. Cubs and Scouts will meet at the regular time and their parents are urged to come as soon as convenient. Those wishing to visit the Cubs in their own "lair" should be on hand shortly after seven p.m.

The program will be snappy and will include many contests. From "flag break" to the closing an interpatrol competition will be in progress, with points awarded for attendance, inspection, conduct, and skill in games, etc. This should prove interesting for all.

Every Scout, Cub and parent on hand Friday evening, please.

PRIZES AWARDED IN ESSAY CONTEST

Presentations Are Made by Inspector Mowat in St. John's Parish Hall.

Catherine White of Peterborough and Rachael Elmhurst of Birdsall were awarded first prizes when the winners of the Humane Society essay contest were announced in St. John's Parish Hall last night. Eight prizes were presented and forty-two contestants were singled out for honorary mention for essays on the subject, "What Does It Mean to Be Kind to Animals?"

The essays were judged in two groups, the entries from children in rural schools being separated from those of the city.

City winners of second, third and fourth prizes were Dorrell Heffernan, Barbara Kerneghan and Audrey Leach, while county winners of second, third and fourth places were Clarabella Kelly, Smith Township; Kervin Leahy, Douro, and Fergus Moher, Douro. The judges reported that a large number of essays were submitted and that the judging of them was a very difficult matter.

More than fifty children with a number of parents witnessed the presentation of the prizes which was carried out by Inspector A. Mowat. Mr. Mowat said that every child who is to be a good citizen in his community should acquire a knowledge of art, music and literature as part of his culture. The cultured person will naturally have a disposition to be kind to animals, he said. Inspector R. F. Downey offered a few words of congratulation to the winners and urged that every child should have a pet. Venerable Archdeacon Dr. R. C. Blagrave of St. John's Church, presided.

First prizes for the competition were volumes of "Beautiful Joe" by Marshall Saunders, who, incidentally expressed considerable interest in the contest when told of it by a visitor to Toronto from Peterborough recently. Copies of "Buff, a Collie," by Albert Payson Terhune were given as second prizes, and third and fourth prizes were copies of the book, "Black Beauty." Each winner of an honorary mention was awarded a copy of the magazine, "Animal Life."

Judges were Mrs. A. E. Sherwood, Mrs. Frank Kerr and Miss Florence Adams. Dr. J. E. Middleton tendered a vote of thanks to all those in the city and county who aided in the contest.

Magistrate's Court

In Traffic Court this morning, before Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., four motorists were fined for speeding, and were penalized as follows: Harry S. Morton of Peterborough, $10 and $4.35 costs; Peter J. B. Lash, Toronto, $7.50 and $3.75 and costs; Percy Shaw, Toronto, $12.50 and $3.75 costs; and Charles A. Lawrence, Toronto, $16 and $3.75 costs.

Max Swartz of Homewood avenue was fined $10 without costs on pleading guilty to a charge of operating a motor vehicle without a driver's permit or chauffeur's license, while Clarence McCullough of Pontypool was assessed $10 and $3.75 costs on a charge of having inadequate brakes.

Ottawa To Extend Direct Relief Date

OTTAWA, June 13. — Federal direct relief aid to the Provinces has been extended from June 15 to July 15 ,according to a statement contained in a telegram transmitted yesterday by Hon. W. A. Gordon, Minister of Labor, to each of the Provincial Premiers. It was admitted, though, in the telegram that there were areas in Western Canada "where the Dominion Government has concluded that special arrangements will have to be made."

EIGHTEEN AUXILARIES ARE REPRESENTED AT MILLBROOK

Peterborough Presbyterial W. M. S. Holds Semi-Annual Gathering in Grace Church.

SPLENDID REPORTS

MILLBROOK, June 13 (Examiner Correspondence)—Eighteen out of the twenty-three Auxiliaries of the Peterborough Presbyterial W. M.S. responded to the roll call at the semi-annual meeting held in Grace Presbyterian Church, Millbrook on Saturday, with the president, Mrs. D. Ewart, of Cobourg, occupying the chair. The Auxiliaries were represented by approximately seventy delegates for the gathering.

Sessions were on daylight saving time, the morning opening at ten-thirty, with the hostess Auxiliary having charge of the devotional period, Miss Muriel Ball and Mrs. F. J. Deyell conducting the worship service in the absence of the minister, Rev. H. R. Williams, B.A., who was attending the General Assembly at Toronto. Following the reading of the minutes by the secretary, Mrs. J. R. Eakins, the reports of officers were received showing the various departments in a state of constructive activity and growth. Mrs. Rowan, of Peterborough, presented the Mission Band report, with suggestions regarding having this younger folk's organization in connection with every Auxiliary, local arrangements overcoming difficulties of time and place of meeting. Miss Lees and Miss MacVannell, of Peterborough, reported for the Girls' Groups and the Young Women's Auxiliaries, telling of the necessity of training these young people for the position of senior members and officers later on; activities included a mother and daughter banquet of the St. Paul's Church organization, a rally and banquet with Miss Hill as the speaker, and raising funds for the annual camp attendance, and for remittance to the Presbyterial treasurer. Scrap books had been made at Bowmanville, hymn books of the church repaired, and study books taken up regularly by all the groups.

Discussion was taken up regarding a Mission Band Rally to be held at Cobourg for the entire Presbyterial, the matter being left with the secretary. The Glad Tidings secretary, Miss Nina Davidson, of Peterborough, brought a cheering message, urging a larger subscription list, and the Supply Work Secretary, Mrs. Bland, of Colborne, stressed the need of having the bales shipped as early in September as possible in order to have them re-packed and sent off to the west before the arrival of cold weather when their contents are so decidedly needed.

Miss Galbraith, Bowmanville, literature secretary, told of the many camps to which papers, etc. had been sent, and offered to supply separate Auxiliaries with the addresses where each could send such supplies if desired. Mrs. (Rev.) Rhodes, of Cobourg, had a table of books from which she read some extracts to arouse interest, a number of sales taking place before the delegates left for home. The Welcome and Welfare Secretary, Mrs. Porter, of Norwood, mentioned a number of activities and the question box, which followed, called forth much helpful information together with 'tried and tested' practical suggestions.

The special prayer for the Peterborough Presbyterial W.M.S. work was taken by Mrs. G. Thompson, Campbellford, and after a hymn and announcements the morning session was closed with prayer by Mrs. J. R. Thompson, Millbrook. Adjournment was made to the basement where the Women's League of Grace Church provided a substantial dinner, and the social side of the convention was particularly enjoyed.

Devotional Period

The devotional period at the opening of the afternoon gathering was taken by Mrs. L. McLaughlin, of Bowmanville, and the formal welcome by the hostess Auxiliary was extended by Mrs. John Thompson, Mrs. Rhodes making graceful acknowledgement of the kindly words spoken. "Echoes from the Provincial Society," which convened at Hamilton, was an important feature of the program, the Presbyter al delegates Mrs. Dutton and Mrs. Rowan, of Peterborough, bringing this interesting and encouraging message. Mrs. Jordan, of Peterborough, who was also at Hamilton, was not present on Saturday, and Mrs. Dutton, in her resume of an address on "The Transfiguration of Christ," given by Mrs. Eaton, of Orillia, at the provincial gathering, created an atmosphere of spiritual uplift.

A solo by Miss Vanita Ingram preceded the report of the seventieth anniversary of the W.M.S. of the Presbyterian Church in Canada held on May 19, in Knox Church, Montreal, when delegates were present from the Pacific to the Atlantic, Miss McMurchy, Dominion President, having charge of the sessions. A feature of peculiar interest was the presentation of a lovely sheaf of flowers to Mrs. R. J. Dudied, of Westmount, a charter member of the organization, joining when seventeen and now eighty-six years of age. The gift was offered by Miss Margaret O'Hara, the oldest missionary of the church, retired in 1927 after forty years of active service on the foreign field.

Mrs. Morgan, Peterborough, and Mrs. Clarke, Brighton, brought the report of the Montreal gathering, the president mentioning the honor done the Presbyterial in having the former as Glad Tidings secretary for the province, and the latter financial secretary, as well as being elected delegates to the Dominion convention.

Invitation Accepted

The invitation from St. Paul's Auxiliary, Peterborough, to hold the next biennial in January, 1935 there was gratefully accepted, and the fact that Miss Lamonte, field secretary, is to be in the Presbyterial for leadership training was stressed, Centreville and Havelock have already extended invitations for the classes. A 'remembrance service' was held for Mrs. Learmouth, Presbyterial Mission Band secretary for several years, who had been removed by death, and a resolution of sympathy and appreciation of her valuable services was placed on the minute book.

A hymn and silent prayer closed this period, and the president gave her concluding address issuing a stirring call to whole-hearted action, with co-operation and sharing as key words since "we all need each other, and Christ needs all His followers."

The usual votes of thanks were passed and the meeting closed with a hymn and prayer, tea being served in the basement before the delegates and the several friends who had supplied cars made final departure.

A Bomber

ALFORD, Lincolnshire, England, June 13 (C.P.) — John Twigg, a farmer, while joy-riding in an airplane over this little market town the other day dropped a rotten egg with unerring aim on the police station.

The amateur air bomber in Police Court to-day was fined 10, with an additional $7.59 in costs, for this affront to local authority.

The case, one of the oddest ever brought to trial in England, ended abruptly when Twigg pleaded guilty to the malodorous offence.

Weddings

TINNEY—PETHERICK

PETHERICK'S CORNERS, June 13 (Examiner Correspondence)—A wedding of two popular local young people on Saturday proves of more than passing interest to residents of this community. This event took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Petherick when their only daughter Freda, became the bride of Albert Tinney, formerly of Bancroft.

The ceremony was conducted by the Rev. F. G. MacTavish at 11.30 a.m. in the presence of about forty guests including immediate relatives and girl friends of the bride.

Following a delightful wedding luncheon the happy couple left for a motor trip to Toronto, London, Peterborough and Bancroft. On their return they will resume residence in the community.

CAMPBELLFORD TIES WITH BRIGHTON

CAMPBELLFORD, June 13 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — The Campbellford Lawn Bowling Club's first game in the Trent Valley Bowling League was played on Friday evening last, at Brighton, when tie games were registered, both clubs chalking up two games apiece. For the locals, C. P. Shepherd's rink registered both games, while that skipped by A. J. Meyers lost both their plays. The Brighton rinks were skipped by Reiger and Maybee. Those on the Campbellford line-up were: Shepherd (skip), J. Linton, J. Poulton, L. Diamond; Meyers (skip), L. B. Glover, G. Mowat, N. H. Morrison.

TOWNSHIP WAGES SET BY COUNCIL

Richard Davis Appointed Fence-viewer in S. S. No. 8, Harvey.

The Harvey Council held an adjourned Court of Revision at Hall's Bridge recently, with all the members present and Mr. Irwin in the chair.

Sam Gate sent a letter in regard to his assessment being raised by adding Mrs. A. E. Dawson's assessment and which he claims should not be added to his assessment as he owns the whole lot.

Moved by Mr. Given, seconded by Mr. Shearer that Sam Gates' assessment as set by the Court of Revision be confirmed, with 1933 taxes against part of lot 17 concession 14, 4¾ acres assessed to Mrs. A. E. Dawson, be struck off the collector's roll, and the clerk to notify the county clerk and treasurer to remove the taxes against part lot 17, concession 14, 4¾ acres from the county books, as this property was assessed to two different parties in 1932.

Moved by Mr. Hall, seconded by Mr. Given that the assessment roll as revised and amended by the Court of Revision become the roll for the municipality for the year 1934.

Council resumed in general business, the reeve in the chair.

Fred Dixon and George Ireland, addressed the council in regard to repairs to their roads.

Wallace Shearer was appointed to look over these roads and report back to the council.

On motion of Hall and Shearer, that Richard Davis be appointed fence viewer in S. S. No. 8.

Moved by Mr. Shearer seconded by Mr. Irwin, that the township pay the same wages as last year, 20c per hour for man and 35c per hour for man and team.

Moved in amendment by Hall and Flynn, that council pay 20c per hour for man and 40c per hour for man and team.—Amendment carried.

On motion of Hall and Shearer, Thomas Flynn was allowed to use the 15th concession line opposite lot 11, until the council requires it for use, at $1 per year.

Moved by Mr. Irwin, seconded by Mr. Shearer, that Mr. Given see the Verulam Council in regard to sale of gravel pit.

Moved by Mr. Hall, seconded by Mr. Shearer, that Albert Young receive the side line on the south side of lot 1 at Brumwell's Corner east about 200 yards where the new road turns off the side line.

Moved and seconded that the collector's time be extended until the next meeting of council and the collector to have a statement of taxes on that date.

Moved by Mr. Flynn, seconded by Mr. Irwin that the reeve and clerk draw on the treasurer for the following accounts: Examiner advertising, court of revision, $3.36; R. A. LADY TEACHER CHASES BEARS DOWN HAVELOCK'S MAIN STREET Incident is One of Many Recalled by Village's First Citizen, William Mathison.

FIRST CHURCH 1882.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HAVELOCK, June 13.—"Did you ever stop to think what would happen if a lady school teacher in company with a group of students, suddenly interrupted a class to rush madly after a family of bears loitering about in the sunshine on George street?" Less than 60 years ago this very thing caused no more excitement than the appearance of a horseless carriage causes when it draws to a halt on the main thoroughfare of the railway village today.

This is just one of the collection of interesting facts related to The Examiner in an exclusive interview this week with William Mathison, Havelock's first citzen in the fullest sense of the word.

In the year 1842 Andrew Mathison and his wife, Jeanette, came here from Glasgow, Scotland, and cleared and planted a small farm to the west of the present town site. The baby, who was later to become the first citizen of the "cedar swamp village," was born in 1853. He grew to manhood, cleared and planted 50 acres of what now comprises the east half of the village. A brother, Alexander followed suit in the west end. The first house, in which he still lives, was built in 1876, and overlooks the village park.

Only a very few of the original fifty acres remain. The Mathison brothers gave the street allowances to the municipal council, and sold the C.P.R. twenty-seven acres of right-of-way for $9 an acre. The first post office was on the site of what is now Pine Grove cemetery, and in the township of Belmont. The settlement north of the railway was known as Mathison and the original plans and survey carried this name.

Name is changed

The railway company wanted a post office and they couldn't move the one known as Havelock (after General Havelock), without bringing the name with it. On account of this, and because William was always an easy-going, good-natured Scotsman, is why we live in Havelock to-day and not in Mathison.

A move taken in those early days—and regretted ever since—was the selling of what is now the village's lovely park. In his own words "it has been a source of worry always. The children who persist in playing ball on Sundays are the biggest reason for this. When the ball goes over my fence, that's when the game ends," he remarked.

The first church in the settlement was at Pine Grove, and according to this dyed-in-the-wool Scotch Presbyterian, it was the right one. It was built in 1882. It was replaced by the fine brick building that now stands on George street in 1884. The old frame building was taken over by Rev. Father Patrick Conway, and used until 1900 when the new place of worship was built on the edge of Mathisons orchard. "His reverence wanted to build in the orchard, but I could never allow another church to come between me and my own," said Mr. Mathison.

According to the history of the village as described by the members of the United Church, the first Methodist church was built 50 years ago. The Anglican and the Baptist followed later. When the Baptist faith passed out here, the Orange Lodge took over the building and have used it for a meeting house ever since.

Joins Orange Lodge

Commenting on a few of the outstanding happenings in his life he named first his joining of Belmont Orange Lodge at Donegal when only 18 years of age. He later became a charter member of Havelock Lodge No. 326. And this brought to memory the recent passing of an old friend of his own age and also a charter member of L.O.L. 326. This was Robert McCutcheon of whom he spoke very highly.

His interest and few years experience on the municipal council, was the next item of importance. The first election was in 1902 when Alex. Macaulay was chosen reeve. Some of the officers since then were: Joe Knox, W. T. Curtis, S. S. Joyce, William Mathison, Edward Fennell, Wm. Jones, E. J. Leeson and R. Sanderson.

Mr. Mathison can read the finest print without glasses and has always had a Scotch collie since he was able to walk. He can be seen almost any day on our streets going the quarter mile on foot from his place to the post office for his mail.

Obituary

JOHN EDWARDS

LAKEFIELD, June 13 (Examiner Correspondence). — The torrential rain, which fell at the hour set for the funeral of the late John Edwards, Jr., Nassau street, prevented many friends from attending the service, which was held at the house at 2.30, with Rev. W. J. Creighton officiating. Mr. Creighton paid a tribute to the patience and fortitude of the deceased during his very long, trying illness. The pall-bearers were his four brothers, Dan, James and Sam of Peterborough, Frank of Lakefield; Mr. Roach of Port Hope, and Mr. John Hampton. Interment was made in Hillside Cemetery.

John Edwards was the son of Mr. John Edwards and the late Mrs. Edwards, and was born in Lakefield. He conducted a blacksmithing business for many years, only giving up when it was a physical impossibility for him to work any longer. An illness followed which was very trying and in this he was patiently nursed by a devoted wife, who showed the greatest fortitude under difficult conditions. Mr. Edwards was a man who had the respect of the community; he was a very quiet temperament, and took no active part in the local affairs. He was a member of St. John's Church. He is survived by his widow, two sons, Hector and Percy; two daughters, Mrs. Olive Emery and Eleanor. His father also survives, and his four brothers and a sister who resides in Port Hope.

JOHN WATERS.

TRENT RIVER, June 13.— (Examiner Correspondence.)—The funeral of the late John Waters, who passed away Sunday evening at the home of his daughter, Mrs. George Cook, Wilson Settlement, Percy township, was held Tuesday afternoon, with service at the house at 1.30 o'clock conducted by the Rev. Mr. Flatt of Norham.

In the passing of Mr. Waters, whose 89th birthday occurred May 28th, Trent River loses one of its oldest and most highly esteemed former residents. During his years spent in Trent River, where he held the position as bridge tender until he reached the time when age forced him to retire. He was a faithful member of the United church, taking an active part for the good of the cause, a good neighbor, honest and upright in his dealings and made many friends.

Five years ago, with his late wife, he left Trent River to take up residence with their daughter, Mrs. George Cook, of the Wilson Settlement, Percy Township. Mrs. Waters, whose maiden name was Jane Storey, predeceased him two years ago. Surviving are two daughters. The pallbearers were Messrs. Wesley Wilson, Alfred Wilson, George McNutt, Ray Petty, Walter Weier and Robert Bateson, all neighbors.

Interment was made in Centre church cemetery, West Seymour.

BOYS' CAMP AT CLEAR LAKE IS MAINTAINED BY ROTARY CLUB CAN NOW ACCOMODATE 100 BOYS

One of Best Situated and Best Maintained Camps in Canada.

OPENED IN 1922.

Thousands of Boys Have Enjoyed Summer Outing at the Camp.

(By TED OUTRAM.)

One of the chief community services of the Rotary Club to Peterborough and district is the maintenance and direction of the club's famed Boys' Camp at Clear Lake.

This camp is unique in many many ways and has gained a reputation among camp leaders throughout the Province as being one of the best situated, best equipped and best maintained camps in Canada. Thousands of boys have spent happy summer days at the camp and have gained physical, mental and spiritual strength for the great adventure of life as a result of their camp training.

Ideally Located.

Establishment of this camp, so ideally located on the eastern shore of beautiful Clear Lake, one of the jewels of the Kawartha Chain, was one of the first great works of the Peterborough Rotary Club. Away back in 1921 when the club here was first organized, the charter members decided unaimously that the club embark upon some enterprise that would prove of wide benefit to the whole community.

Members of the club gave much thought to the choice and finally, recalling their own youthful days and the untold joys of camp life, it was decided that a fresh air camp should be established so that Peterborough boys might have an opportunity of piling up healthy vigour in the open sunlight of a well-conducted camp.

Great thought then was given to the choice of the camp's location. C. H. Rogers, telling of this stage in the camp's development, said: "In the fall of 1921, V. J. McElderry, K.C., and myself discovered a place on Clear Lake which we considered would be ideal for such a camp. The property was owned by Sam Bryson and it was about three miles north of Young's Point. It was a 600-acre ranch and had a great sweep along the lake. Partly wooded, it had many open spaces and was splendidly suited for playgrounds where the boys could have every facility for active sports.

"We took Mr. Bryson, who was then quite old, in a little boat down to the site that had impressed us. After carefully looking over the ground for some time, Mr. Bryson turned to us and asked, "What do you want to do?" We explained to him that we hoped to establish a camp for city boys on part of the property. We told him how important the Rotary Club considered such an enterprise and how much it would mean to city boys to have summer outings at the camp. The old man listened very patiently as we pictured enthusiastically the benefits to the district's young men to have such a camp. We explained that about eleven acres would be sufficient for the camp and suggested that a fair price might be $500. Without a moment's hesitation the old man replied gruffy, "No, no! I wouldn't think of taking such a price from the Rotary Club for it." He paused and then added, "Why that's altogether too much. I want to share in it and I'll accept $250 for the property."

Committee Organized.

In the Spring of the next year a Camp Committee was organized in the Rotary Club and several hundred letters explaining the club's purpose of establishing the camp and urging donations to assist in financing the important undertaking. These letters went out to citizens in every occupation in the city and response was surprising in its generosity. The appeal for donations outlined the need for equipment and materials that might be spared by various firms and individuals in the city that could be used for building the camp.

Immediately the supplies asked for began to flow in. Lumber firms gave lumber; factories made gifts of roofing; hardware dealers donated hardware materials; painters gave paint materials; and many others donated materials. Even milk dealers were canvassed and many of them turned in their surplus milk to the Peterborough Milk Products and later on an equal amount of milk was supplied to the camp by this company. It was a real community effort and citizens joined in it heartily. During the first two years of the camp much food supplies were donated.

Erecting Buildings.

Then came the next step of erecting buildings at the camp. Here again Peterborough citizens showed their generous support to a worthwhile effort. Numerous persons offered to give their labor and skill to the building work without any charge to the club. In this connection Alex McLeod did the roofing for the camp buildings without charge, and a fine job he and his workmen made of the job. City tinsmiths combined and sent up a truck and men and put the eavestroughing on the building. Several carpenters went up to the camp and gave several days' work without any charge. Another citizen took his boys to the camp and built the

ONE MAJOR SERVICE WORK CASE OF ROTARY CLUB

Rotary's chief service work is amongst the crippled children and above are shown two cases which were financed by the Peterborough club. Reginald and Justine Shaughnessy are the twin sons of Mr. and Mrs. James Shaughnessy of this city. To the left are shown pictures of the two boys when they first came to the attention of the Rotary Club on June 20, 1926; in the centre is a picture taken one year later, July 21, 1927 and to the right the two happy looking twins as taken on June 4, of this year with their crippled limbs completely straightened. Letters of thanks from grateful parents appear, on page two.

CARE OF THE CRIPPLED CHILDREN INAUGURATED BY ROTARY IN 1913

Governor of 27th Rotary District Tells of Club's Work.

ROTARY'S OWN FIELD.

By GRANT L. BIRD,
(Governor 27th District, Rotary International.

The crippled child is one whose activities are so restricted by accident or diseased muscle, bone, skin or nerve, that his normal capacity for education or self-support is affected.

Although accidents are responsible for an increasing number of cripples, congenital anomalies or deficiencies, which are errors in development prior to birth, contribute a large number. Even still a larger number are, however, due to disease. These diseases include chiefly Anterior Poliomyelitis (Infanti le Paralysis) and Tuberculosis.

Infantile Paralysis, during the past three or four years had had a relatively high incidence in the province of Ontario. During the past year, however there have been fortunately very few cases.

The treatment of these disabilities frequently requires long periods of sometimes months and even years. It is for this reason an expensive procedure and very often beyond the reach of the average parent.

Treated Children Since 1913.

The first Rotary Club to interest itself in the cure of these cripples was the Club at Syracuse, N. Y., in 1913. Next, the club at Toledo, O., undertook the work in 1916. From these endeavors the Ohio State Society for Crippled Children and similar societies in the United States and Canada originated. In Ontario we have the Ontario Society for Crippled Children, which is doing an excellent piece of work under the administration of R. W. Hopper, a member of the Toronto Rotary Club.

In 1920 the Order of the Mystic Shrine entered upon a program of building hospitals for crippled children. In this they have done a wonderful piece of work.

District Governor

GRANT L. BIRD

governor of the 27th District Rotary International who in a message to the local Rotary club outlined the history of the Crippled Children's work as now sponsored by Rotary International.

In 1922 Rotary International, at the convention at Los Angeles, adopted the following resolution:

"Whereas Rotarians have evinced an interest in crippled children and have expresed a desire to assist in bringing to crippled children physical corrections, surgical relief, and education, in cases where such treatment will be of benefit.

"Now, therefore, be it resolved that the 13th Annual Convention of Rotary International commends this humanitarian activity on the part of the Rotary Clubs so engaged and directs thereto the attention of the delegates present at this convention, that their own clubs may take cognizance of the movement as offering an opportunity for service in their respective communities."

ROLAND DENNE

Mayor Denne Wishes Rotary Every Success

I have been familiar with the benevolent enterprises of the Peterborough Rotary Club since its inauguration, and I have no hesitation in complimenting the Club as an organization, and its members individually, on the excellent work they have done, especially their work in the interest of crippled children, many of whom have been greatly benefited by the provision made for them. I hope that the Club will continue to prosper and be enabled to continue its benevolent undertakings.

ROLAND DENNE, Mayor

A Rotarian's Creed

This is my Creed: To do some good,
To bear my ills without complaining;
To push on, as a brave man should
For honors that are worth the gaining;
To seek no profits where I may, by winning them,
Bring grief to others; to do some service day by day,
In helping my toiling brothers.

What is Rotary Club

A Rotary Club is a group of representative business and professional men who, without secret vow, dogma, or religious creed, but each in his own way have accepted the Rotary philosophy of Service.

ROTARY'S FAIR OPENS TO-NIGHT

Big Carnival Will Be Held For Two Nights on the Market Square.

DRAW FOR CAR.

Everything is in readiness at the Market Square for the opening of the Peterborough Rotary Club's big Carnival to-night.

Enthusiastic workers were on the job early to-day setting up the various booths; this afternoon saw most members of the Rotary Club busily engaged in decorating their stalls, and to-night the fun will be in full swing, with Games, Ferris-wheel, Merry-Go-Round, and other attractions to provide thrills, amusement and entertainment for the thousands of people from the city and district who will throng the Market Square for the first night of the huge two-day fun-making event. To-night, too, there will be prize drawings and a number of lucky people will go home happy in the possession of a worth-while premium.

To-morrow night, there will be more fun, more games, and as a climax the draw for the Chevrolet car on which thousands of tickets are being sold.

The Rotary Carnival is always regarded as one of the big events of the year, in the first place because it always brings together a throng of happy people who get a decided kick out of the noise and color of the animated affair, and secondly, because the public is thoroughly in sympathy with the work being carried on by the Rotary Club, and realizes that every cent turned in during the Carnival is devoted to social service activities, particularly to the great mission of giving a fresh start in life to scores of children who are handicapped by physical defects and whose parents are unable to provide

TWIN ORGANIZATION

Some of the Activities of Club in Past 13 Years Outlined.

(By Rotarian Fred Roy).

The Peterborough Rotary Club is in its 14th year of service to Peterborough. The first Board of Directors was Rotarians John Crane, C. G. Graham, Fred L. Roy, Frank Linton, V. J. McElderry. The Presidents are as follows:

Fred L. Roy	1921-22
John Crane	1922-23
V. J. McElderry	1923-24
J. W. McDermid	1924-25
John Seels	1925-26
C. H. Rogers	1926-27
A. L. Kilnly	1927-28
W. R. Morris	1928-29
R. L. Dobbin	1929-30
Robt. Abbott	1930-31
R. F. Downey	1931-32
James Juby	1932-33
Dr. A. Moir	1933-34
J. F. Reed	President-elect

The organization meeting was held at the Empress Hotel on the evening of March 10, 1921. The Club was sponsored by the Belleville Rotary Club, with W. L. Doyle acting as District Governor's representative. Over 100 Rotarians from Toronto and Belleville were in attendance. The Kingston Club is a twin organization, the charters having been presented to Peterborough and Kingston on the same evening.

Worth-While Efforts.

For almost fourteen years Rotary has justified its existence by many worth-while efforts. One of the first activities was the supplying of milk to the schools for undernouished children and to the Peterborough Health Association Camp at Jackson Park. Delinquent boys were given a chance to make good through the co-operation of the Police Magistrate and Chief of Police and the difficulties of many boys were straightened out. These boys were all sponsored by individual Rotarians and in practically every instance they made good. The splendid Rotary Camp on Clear Lake was the idea of Rotarian C. H. Rogers, who located the camp site and purchased the property on behalf of the Club. For a number of years he was chairman of the Boys' Work Committee and the fine plant and equipment which exists on Clear Lake to-day is largely due to his efforts. William Barrie was the architect and Rotarian Tom Ephgrave superintended the erection of the buildings, assisted by the members of the Club. Practically all the materials were donated by Peterborough concerns, including lumber, shingles, paint, kitchen range, etc. Everything was loaded on a scow at the Peterborough wharf and landed at the camp site on Clear Lake by the Stoney Lake Navigation Company. The Rotary Anns played an important part in furnishings and equipment. They supplied furniture, dishes, kitchen utensils, curtains, boats, library, etc. They also were responsible for the beautiful stone fireplace in the assembly room. There is now an investment in this camp of well over $10,000.00, with no indebtedness. A house-to-house survey of the whole city in connec-improved by the group of men composing the Rotary Club is highly esteemed by members of the Kinsmen Club, whose field of service is also amongst children.

The association of Kinsmen Clubs was born in the City of Hamilton in 1920 by a group of young men who thought that there was need of a club for young men who had not reached the peak of success in their life work.

In 1929 the local club was formed under the presidency of Alexander L. Elliott, and has continued successfuly under the succeeding presidencies of Dr. Ralph Honey, G. Wilson Craw, C. Fred Percy, H. H. Paul Johnston and C. Alex Solitt.

There are Kinsmen Clubs right across Canada from Moncton in the east to Victoria in the west, composed of young business and professional men to the end that they may be improved and educated in modern business and professional methods and ethics, and that the interest of each in the welfare of his community may be stimulated.

The Kinsmen Club is distinctly Canadian as only Canadian Nationals are eligible for membership.

The Club in Peterborough, previous to last fall, had assumed no definite service work for its own, but gave alike to all causes that were thought deserving when funds were available. Some of our larger gifts include a grant to the Central Charity Board of over $500.00. This we considered desirable as they were enabled to obtain an equal amount from the Dominion and Provincial Government and this $1,500.00 was made available for needy cases. We also collected and gave to the Peterborough Health Association aproximately $400.00 and following that when that Association became unable, through lack of fnuds, to distribute milk to all that they considered worthy, the club continued the milk supply to some of more needy cases. Me have also supported the work done by the Examiner Relief Fund to the extent of $100.00, and each year we purchase school books for pupils at the Collegiate who are unable to buy them themselves. Many other charitable deeds have also been done by the local club such as baskets at Christmas time and providing transportation to and from school for a crippled child one winter.

Last Fall, however, we selected Preventive Eye Clinic work among under-privileged children as our own line of endeavour. We have extended this work, when finances have permitted, to deserving adult cases such as, for example, that of one man who was broken in health, and in financial difficulty and whose greatest comfort in life was reading.

The contacts with the children who need our help comes through the public school nurses, and the Separate school authorities.

During the past winter we have handled 40 cases and 20 more are in the process of investigation.

The appreciation of those receiving held is illustrated by the following excerpt taken from one of the many letters that we have on file:

"These glasses suit me perfectly. It is good to be able to see long distances again without straining my eyes. I have no difficulty in seeing the blackboards at all now, thanks to the Kinsmen Club."

All of the help that we have been able to give in the past and all that we will give in the future, has been and will be made possible only through the generosity of the citizens of Peterborough and district. The Kinsmen Club simply administer with a very keen sense of responsibility, the money that comes to us from all who have supported us in all our undertakings.

We wish to take this opportunity to express our gratitude and thanks to everyone who has supported us in any way in the past, and to ask the continuance of that support in the future.

ORGANIZED IN SPRING OF 1921

tion with the Crippled Children's Work was carried out successfully by the Rotary Anns under the guidance of Dr. A. W. McPherson.

Student Loan.

A Student Loan Fund was established in 1922 by the Club, assisted by a number of public-spirited citizens. This fund has been in continuous use for about twelve years and has been the means of assisting a number of worthy students to higher education.

Dr. Barker will be remembered by many of the citizens for his wonderful series of talks to mothers, to fathers and to boys and girls. This was another worth-while contribution of the Club to the community.

In 1922 the famous "Scots Guard" Band was brought to Peterborough and played before a huge audience in the Armouries.

The Lindsay Rotary Club was sponsored by the Peterborough Club. The late Rotarian William Widdess was District Governor's representative, in organizing the Lindsay Club. Peterborough also assisted in organizing the Cobourg and Campbellford Clubs.

Peterborough has been represented at practically all the International Conferences—Dr. Buchanan and J. H. Seels were in attendance at Los Angeles, Calif.; L. A. Potvin at Denver, Col.; W. R. Morris being in attendance at Ostend, Belgium.

Two Major Activities.

The two major activities to-day are Crippled Children's Work and the Boys' Camp at Clear Lake.

Too high a tribute cannot be paid Dr. A. W. McPherson, who carried on the Club's Crippled Children's program for so many years; to Dr. Norman D. Buchanan, who performed many operations, and to President Archie Moir, who is so ably and effectively carrying on this work at the present time. Many deformed little limbs have been corrected; many bent little bodies straightened. Rotarian Andrew Brown, the present chairman of this committee, has personally investigated every case reported, and has brought many cases to the doctors for treatment.

So much for the past history of Rotary in Peterborough. With the confidence of the whole community behind it, Rotary looks forward to the future with great hopes and high ideals. The Club is deeply grateful for the support which has always been extended by the citizens. This spirit of confidence will continue to spur on and encourage the members to greater efforts in community service.

A Rotary Club is a self-sustaining institution. It is run entirely on the annual dues paid by its own members. Every dollar collected for its community welfare program goes for that purpose and not one cent for the expenses of the Club itself. It is on this basis that Rotary asks your continued interest and support.

Dear Sirs,

My husband and myself wish to thank you for what you have done for our two boys.

We thought they would never walk, but after your good work they are now able to enjoy life as other boys.

Yours truly,

MRS. JAMES SHAUGHNESSY.

Peterborough, June 4th, 1934.

Peterborough Rotary Club.

Dear Sirs.

My husband and I wish to thank you for what you have just done for my son Richard.

He had been unable to walk for four months when one of your members called to see him, about May 1st of this year.

As you know, you sent him to the Hospital in Toronto.

He is home now, and I am assured he will be able to go through life as other boys.

Thanking you again,—I am,

Yours truly,

MRS. WILLIAM BRADLEY.

It is now estimated that nearly 2,000 clubs in Rotary throughout the world are interested in this work. In many communities, state, province or other political sub-divisions legislation has been given which provides state care for cripples. In Ontario we have not as y et reached that state of efficiency and the care of the crippled remains a financial burden upon Service Clubs or other charitable organizations. In this Rotary has played a magnificent part, not only making surveys for the detection of these cripples, but also in providing hospital maintenance, after supervision and care.

It should be pointed out that in the hospital maintenance, the provision of splints and appliances and the transportation is the only financial cost in treatment. All surgery is provided without charge by the surgeons. In this regard the province is greatly indebted to the Orthopaedic surgeons who have so freely given of their skill and time to this work.

To provide funds for the hospital maintenace, etc. the Rotary Clubs must appeal in some manner to the citizens of the communities in which they operate. The Rotary Club of Peterborough has done and wishes to still continue to do a splendid work in the care of cripples in the city and surrounding district. They are now appealing to you in a unique manner to help them in this fine community endeavor. The people of the province have generously assisted other Club in many ways. I am certain that the people of Peterborough and district will prove no exception. As Governor of the 27th District of Rotary I bespeak for the Peterobrough Club your loyal supoprt.

BOYS' CAMP AT CLEAR LAKE IS MAINTAINED BY ROTARY CLUB

wharf, which was needed badly.

The first buildings erected included the main camp building, used as sleeping quarters and dining hall the kitchen, cook's quarters and supply room and two small cottages. During the first several years it could accommodate comfortably about 60 boys.

The camp progressed in every way. The boys joined in the work of improving the grounds, willingly setting aside several hours a day for this work. Benefit to the boys for their days at the camp was everything that the Rotary Club expected.

The boys learned to swim so expertly that to many a swim across the width of the lake was just an afternoon's light exercise. They were taught paddling until they became most adept and knew what to do in any emergency, when such knowledge might mean the saving of a life. They played baseball and other games and returned to their homes in the city and to their jobs with renewed energy and determination to succeed.

Additional Buildings.

But the Rotary Club had greater visions for the camp. Plans for erecting more buildings for separate sleeping quarters were drawn. Two airy dormitory buildings were erected, one on a hill north of the main building and the other among a group of cedars just south of the dining hall.

The site of the camp has proved the wise judgment of the men who selected it. Cool breezes from the west constantly blow across the lake and sweep through the camp with unspoiled freshness. Every summer evening the boys see the sun go down in a blaze of color behind the wooded shore of Kawartha Park.

The camp now can accommodate most comfortably 100 boys at once. The boys at the camp have always been under the most careful supervision; men who know and like boys and who are wise to all their tricks and caprices, have always been selected as camp directors. The boys have the utmost freedom, under kindly supervision, so that they may develop self-reliance.

Not One Accident.

The fact that the Rotary Club has operated this important camp for nearly 12 years without a single serious accident speaks for itself, and proves the constant efficiency of the camp leaders.

For the first several years the camp director was Herb. Mowat, who at that time was head of St. Andrew's Brotherhood in Toronto, and being an old Peterborough boy, he was enthusiastic about the work. He gave unstintingly of his talents, getting the camp started on proper foundations.

Captain Douglas A. Loomis, M.C., popular physical director of the local Y.M.C.A., has been camp director for the past seven years. "Doug" as he is known to all the boys, has a remarkable capacity for keeping harmony and good-feeling among boys. He keeps their activities within bounds and still he does it all in such a kindly way that the boys never really recognize the fact that their actions are being carefully supervised.

Mr. Loomis knows every "wrinkle" of camp life, being an old campaigner himself. Hardly a week passes in the summer that he does not take all the boys in the camp off on an exciting over-night trip to some distant quarter of the lake. On these trips the boys sleep under the stars and everything moves along smoothily as though planned by an army general. Lessons the boys learn on these outdoor camping trips will be remembered throughout life.

The aim of the Rotary Club in establishing the camp was to provide a vacation for boys and so free them for a while at least from the artificial, stinting life of the cities. Parents may send their boys to the camp with the perfect assurance that they will be well cared for.

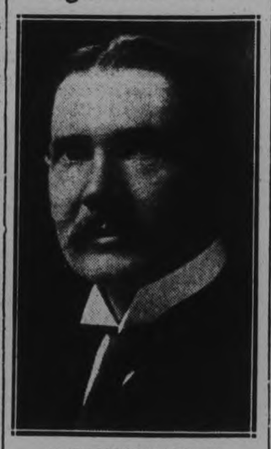
Not Burdened With Rules.

The camp is not burdened with rules, but the few that there are are strictly adhered to. They are: Swimming only at regularly appointed periods and only under supervision; firearms must not go into the camp or be used while there; absence from the camp only by permission of the camp directort; use of boats only by permission of the director.

Words only fail to give a comprehensive picture of the splendid facilities of the camp. To get a true impression the camp should be visited, and this can be done easily since it is within an hour's drive of the city. In order not to interrupt the daily program laid out for the boys at the camp, Sunday has been set aside as visitors' day and on that day parents and friends are most welcome.

A big feature of the camp is the fact that it is operated at cost. It is managed by a committee of Peterborough business men appointed from the Rotary Club, assisted by a committee of older boys who have previously attended the camp.

Eighth President



W. R. MORRIS, 1928-29, Chartered accountant, and who represented the Peterborough Rotary Club at the International Conference at Ostend, Belgium.

5 SAILORS DIE IN SEA TRAGEDY

Full Set Sails Carry Little Schooner to Doom After Collision.

NO BODIES FOUND.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. June 13 (CP) —Why the Effie Collett sailed on after she was struck by the steamship Silver City remained a mystery of the sea to-day.

While marine officials sought an explanation of th etragedy, search continued for bodies of five Newfoundland seamen drowned early yesterday morning when the little trading schooner foundered off Torbay.

After the collision the damaged schooner swerved away before the wind, her full sails carrying her swiftly into the darkness.

Captain Vardy of the Silver City shouted for her to heave to, but the Effie Collett's course was not altered. The steamship followed at full speed, attempting to overtake the fleet sailing vessel, when suddenly the schooner disappeared.

Cruising around in the vicinity until after daylight, the Silver City found no trace of survivors.

Find Only a Barrel.

She picke dup an empty pork barrel before she returned to St. John's to report the accident.

Identity of the missing craft was unknown until late Sunday afternoon when a police boat found a suitcase containing papers giving the name Effie Collett, out of Hare Bay, on the southern coast of the island.

The police boat also picked up a piece of bulwark, part of a hatch, and bits of wood and later recovered a submerged dory.

Captain M. Ford was in command of the Effie Collett when she sailed out of Hare Bay for St. John's several days ago. He had with him Joh nOurtis, Matthew Wells and Walter Collins, all of Hart Bay, and Mike Bridgeman of Mister, Can You Spare Five Minutes For a Boy?

By FREDERICK E. BAKER.

He would cause any thoughtful man to take a second look. Something about his eyes, perhaps. Physically, he seemed tired, not too clean, ragged; in his face you saw bewilderment, an expression of mental pain.

Who was he? Why had he come to Seattle? Where was he going?

We followed him. Our trail took us to a Federal Transient Service Shelter; the boy went in, and we also. I was still in the dark, but now my friend knew the how and why.

"This lad is one of the 200,000 bumming their way around the country," he told me. "Let's find the officer in charge. I want you to see the picture as it is."

My friend, I learned while we waited a moment, is a member of a special citizens' committee, appointed to make a special study of the transient boy problem and to do what it can to alleviate the condition. Members, I was interested to learn, include fellow Rotarians, Kiwanians, Legionnaires, and representatives of other public-spirited institutions and service organizations.

Presently the capable young man in charge took us to the boys' ward. We found 20 young fellows, from 15 to 21, scattered around the room. My companion discovered one he had met before, and the four of us drifted over to an unused corner. After a few moments the boy began to talk, right from his heart. This was his story * * *

"I'm 19 now and I've been 'on the road' for over a year. At first it was fun; riding on freights in the day, sleeping in the 'jungles' at night. We usually got food and a place to sleep. But when the winter comes—that's something else. I never heard from home, they didn't know where to write, and I couldn't stay in one place long enough to hear from them. I'll admit I've been lonesome since the first three months out.

No Use Going Back.

Why don't I go back?" he asked, his quick eye divining a question in my mind. "To what! Dad hadn't worked for months before I left Five kids including the baby —and about half enough to eat. One less mouth to feed would be just that much more for the others so I 'pulled freight.'....Thought I could get along fine, make my own way, and take care of myself.

I've made my own way all right, but where?" His glance swept the room, then came to rest on his worn shoes. "I don't meet anbody on the road except hoboes and men who have been beaten down by conditions. The men running these shelters and breadlines are swell—but they are so busy a fellow doesn't get a chance to really know them. Usually we can stay in one place only 24 hours. We leave home because we want to help a bad situation ;I'm afraid we get into worse.

"At home there is a possible chance of getting a job, away from home—well it's right that the jobs go to the local folks, I guess. So we can only roam....I got sick in Oakland and then things did look black. I'd have given anything to have had the folks around. Everybody treated me keen, too, even though I didn't have a dime. But when a fella's on his back he wants his folks.

"Maybe," he added with a note of wistfulness in his voice, "maybe things are working out better for the family now. The man running the shelter has given me permission to stay here for a few days while the Travellers' Aid gets in touch with Ma and Pa. And I sure hope I can get back. I guess I'd bum my way back, just like I've been bumming, if I knew things were all right at home. The Travelelrs' Aid lady said that prob'ly Pa would send money for me to get back with if he had it, or maybe Uncle Pete would loosen up that much."

"Will you stay home if you get there?" my friend asked.

"I sure will!" was the quick reply. "I want to see the kids and the folks again and if I get there I'm going to stay, no matter how hard it is. I wish all the kids who leave home knew what they would be getting into. They wouldn't leave if they did. I'll tell every kid I see who wants to go on the bum what a mistake he would be making, and why.... And," he finished, "thanks a lot for being so interested in me."

Could you hear that story without wanting to find out more about this transient boy problem? Neither could I.

Staggering Figures.

I learned that in the three months just past, 1,071 homeless boys had come to Seattle from all over the United States. They are fed two meals at the "soup kitchen" and sleep on a clean bed at a shelter. What they do at smaller cities and way-points is something else.

In these wanderings, how much does a boy absorb which will be permanently harmful to him? A study of 568 cases made by the Travellers' Aid Society uncovered these facts: Nine boys were age 11 or younger, seven were from 12 to 14, 111 were from 15 to 17, and 441 were from 18 to 20 inclusive. Hitch-hiking was almost the sole means of travel.

The reason for leaving home was the economic problem for 250, search of adventure for 94, absolute lack of home for 56, conduct problems for 56, an endeavor to locate relatives for three, physical disability for four, and marital difficulty for four more. These are not necessarily the reasons given by the boys themselves but, rather, the results of the investigations in each of the communities whence the boys came.

One boy had no schooling, 69 never finished the eighth grade, 126 more completed the grammar school requirements, 300 had from one to four years in the high school, six had from one to two years of college, one finished business college; and information was not available on the remaining 65.

American parents brought 465 of these boys into the world; 103 were foreign born. Most of them had been on the "lonesome road for about a year.

If you don't find these facts staggering, then they should be re-read.

What Can Rotary Do?

What has been done? What is being done? What can Rotary do?

The countless citizens committees have been accomplishing much; increased leisure-time activities for adventuring—but, at heart lonely—much, but nothing in the life of the bewildered boy-on-the-loose can take the place of a personal interest from an understanding man. A friendly chat over a desk, symbol to the youngster of the success he dreams of attaining may help him regain purposeful ambition and self respect.

ROTARY TURNS CORNER AT LAST

More Than Half Clubs Increase Roster in Past Six Months.

FIGURES GRATIFYING

Rotary, too, has turned the corner, judging from recently compiled membership statistics. More than half the clubs in U.S.C.N.B. (United States, Canada, Newfoundland, Bermuda), for example lengthened their rosters between July 1 and December 31, 1933. Such figures are gratifying, but they tell a scanty story unless interpreted. Aside from the obvious implication of "bigness," what do they mean?

It would be easy to answer that question with a pat explanation, flattering to the Rotary organization, its technique, its leaders. Certainly any comprehensive explanation of Rotary's numerical strength must take such factors into account for they are important, but there remains a basic reason for the brave showing of the movement throughout the depression. It is a growing feeling among business and professional men in all lands that there must be more to business than profits. Some openly declare that if selfishness alone is the end of human effort, then the civilization we know is destined to recede as have those of Egypt and Babylon, Crete and Greece, Rome and Yucatan.

But can the profit and service motives be reconciled without one destroying the other? Callow philosophy and adolescent economics insist they cannot, but Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler sees the problem in no such hopeless light. In his recent report to Columbia University he pointed out that, "If helpful service to one's fellow men be the dominant motive, then the greater the legitimate profit one makes, the more he will be applauded Criticism and resistance come when the service motive disappears from sight and the profit motive dominates all.

Cripple Prevention Better Than Cure

"There is not a doubt that the greatest contribution we could make to the cause of the cripple would be to devise means of preventing those conditions which are the cause of crippling. If we could, at a stroke, wipe out all the causes of crippling diseases, what a lift that would be to the sum total of human happiness," —W. E Gallie M.D., F.R.C.S. (Eng.) Rotary Aims to Foster International Goodwill, Peace

ROTARY'S UNIVERSAL INFLUENCE GREAT FACTOR FOR WORLD PEACE

3,700 Rotary Clubs in 70 Different Countries United in Ideal of Service.

GLIMPSES OF THEIR WORKS

(By Rotarian W. R. Morris)

Rotary in its international aspect cannot be considered without particular reference to its Sixth object:

"The advancement of understanding, goodwill and international peace through a world fellowship of business and professional men united in the ideal of service."

Truly, an ambitious objective and a worthy ideal of a worthy organization and as in other advances made by Rotary, we are proud to think that the author of the Sixth Object was a Canadian, Dr. Donald MacRae of Halifax.

Naturally little could be done in furtherance of the Sixth object until Rotary was a world-wide organization as it now is with its 3,700 Clubs spread through some 70 different countries and with members speaking nearly as many different languages. In this connection again it was two Canadians, Jim Davidson of Calgary and Layton Ralston of Halifax (afterwards Minister of Defence in the Dominion Government) who blazed the trail of Rotary in Australia and New Zealand and subsequently Jim Davidson gave two years of his time in carrying Rotary to the countries in the Far East, to Turkey, Egypt, Syria, Palestine, India, Ceylon, Burma, Siam, Straits Settlements, China and Japan.

Few of Practical Works.

Here are a few and only a few of the practical works accomplished by Rotary Clubs in various parts of the world:

In France there is what is called a "Petit Comite" composed of prominent Rotarians. This Comite has been very active for some three years in the promotion of better mutual understanding between France and Germany. Many Franco-German meetings have been organized in Germany with French Rotarians as speakers and vice versa. Political and economic questions are discussed at these meetings and these discussions more than anything else have caused an improvement in the general conception of German conditions, aims and objectives among French Rotarians and of French policies in the minds of their German colleagues.

Articles in the daily press are under careful observation with a view to influencing the newspapers to carry unbiased truthful information on events in the other country. Other similar committees have been or are being formed, and where there are no permanent committees, Rotarians in the Capital and near the frontiers carry on most of the international activities.

In South America a boundary dispute between Chili and Peru had caused friction for some 46 years and was finally settled some five years ago primarily by the efforts of Rotarians in each country working in co-operation.

During Armed Conflict.

Very recently armed conflict has involved the countries of Paraguay and Bolivia. Many lives have been lost and prisoners of war taken. Rotary Clubs of these countries in co-operation with clubs in countries not involved have enabled prisoners to exchange letters with their families and receive money from friends at home, thus adding materially to their peace of mind and comfort.

In the Orient and Levant — Rotary is the first organization in most of the important commercial centers that has brought together effectively the important men of different races. In these Eastern Clubs, Indians, Burmese, Japanese, and so on meet with Europeans. The Calcutta Club has pointed with satisfaction to the influence which Rotary has had in improving relations between the Britons of that city and the Indians.

Rotary has exercised the same influence among the many races inhabiting India, Burma, Siam and the Malay Peninsula. Our clubs in these countries comprise members of many colors of skin, many religions, languages and age old traditions and Rotary is the only means of social and friendly contacts between them.

A short time ago there was a border dispute between Spain and Portugal arising over the utilization of the water power of the Douro. The Rotary Clubs of these countries effectively facilitated the reaching of an agreeable solution by an international commission appointed to settle the matter.

Here let me quote the views recently expressed by two of our public men.

Canon Shatford of Montreal, speaking to the Canadian Club at Toronto said: "Until the world has become peace-minded by realizing true fellowship, and learned to displace fear by faith and competition by understanding, peace will not be attained and war will continue to devastate mankind. Challenging all men to enlist in the cause of peace and urging that disarmament could not bring security and safety until peace had gained disarmament, Canon Shatford charged that nationalism was one of the greatest enemies to peace and that competition in world trade stood as the great barrier between humanity and total abolition of warfare. Let the nations of the world get closer together, he urged. Let them jointly discuss their relations. Surely, he asked, could not fellowship be expressed among nations as it is now among men? The first resource of fellowship was mutual understanding. It could be urged forward by clubs as the one he was addressing. Faith conquers fear, he stated. Faith in others brought security. Faith was the enemy of arrogance. Out of mistrust sprang rivalry, jealousy, and war. And co-operation could overcome any competition. The world had learned that no nation could live alone and be self-sufficient. All the world to-day had become dependent. Interlocked relations demanded a policy of co-operation."

And Sir Robert Borden in a Remembrance Day address, stated: "That the nations signatory to the League of Nations covenant gave therein their pledge that national armaments should be reduced to the lowest point consistent with national safety and the fulfilment of international obligations for common action.

"The 'Paris Pact,' wherein all civilized nations renounced war, Sir Robert referred to as 'a gesture of excellent import,' but, he said, it had failed to banish the lurking phantoms of fear, distrust and suspicion. Trust, confidence and co-operation must be seared into the conscience of each nation before the full purpose of the League of Nations might be achieved."

Extension of Rotary in all countries, many and large Clubs in all countries, clubs which are real cross sections of their communities, and all of them well educated in matters pertaining to international service in Rotary, can exercise a powerful influence for peace and can make Rotary's contribution to the understanding and concord between nations what we all want it to be.

Mothers! Here's How Ovaltine Curbs Child Nervousness

While Adding Weight a Pound a Week or More

OVALTINE is a scientific food beverage, approved by thousands of doctors and child specialists largely because of its remarkable power to increase both weight and nerve poise.

Recent scientific tests conducted among school children in New York State have demonstrated that nervousness was actually decreased as much as 30% in two weeks—and in some cases as much as 18% in one week—when Ovaltine was given. 85% of all nervous, under-par children in these tests responded almost at once.

While these tests deal mainly with nervous children, they are equally important for underweight children, too. For child specialists have long observed that underweight and nervousness go hand in hand.

Thus, when Ovaltine is given, it acts to break up the "vicious circle" that nervousness and underweight tend to create. And usually adds weight at the rate of a pound a week or more.

You simply give Ovaltine, shaken up with cold milk—and children love its delicious taste. (Note special free offer of Orphan Annie shake-up mug in coupon at the right.)

The Privilege and Responsibility of Being a Rotarian

IDEA OF ROTARY WAS STARTED BY LONESOME YOUNG LAWYER; WANTED TO MAKE MORE FRIENDS

First Club Formed in Chicago in 1905—Became International in 1912.

ORGANIZATION'S HISTORY

3,631 Clubs With Membership of 150,000 in 70 Different Countries.

(By Rotarian "Sam" Kenner)

The lonesomeness of a large city coupled with the desire to make friends and enlarge his circle of acquaintances was the motive that prompted Paul Harris, an attorney in Chicago, with three other men to start a club. The first meeting—just an informal group around a luncheon table—was held on Feb. 23, 1905. Several names for the new club were suggested by Harris. One of them was "Rotary," which had occurred to him because the meetings had been held in "rotation" at the places of business of the members.

The new club increased in size and soon there were nearly half a hundred members, and evening meetings were held regularly. Three years later (1908) a sister club was organized in San Francisco. Other clubs followed rapidly. These were not organized as the result of any studious effort to extend the organization, but were the result of seed more or less accidentally sown by men who were enthused by the Rotary idea.

In 1910 the 16 clubs then in existence held a convention, and the National Association of Rotary Clubs was formed.

International

Two years later—in 1912—the National Association of Rotary Clubs granted a charter to the Winnipeg Club of Canada and to the London Club of London, England, and the National Association became the International Association of Rotary Clubs. In 1922—ten years later—at the convention held in Los Angeles, the name was changed to Rotary International, and that is the name to-day.

Since the first club was organized in 1905, Rotary has spread very rapidly, to such an extent, indeed, that to-day in 70 countries, 3,631 clubs with a membership of 150,000 are in existence. This is a remarkable growth when one considers that Rotary does not use professional organizers—men who receive financial returns from organizing Rotary clubs.

Service

There are 150,000 men of various gifts and various businesses and professions striving after the realisation of their common conception of what the world needs most—a baptism of brotherhood and human kindness applied to all the affairs of life, and the substitution of service for the selfishness which lies at the root of so many of the world's troubles.

What but selfish lust for power and domination over other nations prompted the Great War, under the effects of which the world is still reeling? What but selfishness influences the employer who grinds out of his employees the utmost possible work for the least possible pay and the least possible kindness and consideration? What but selfishness impels the workman to do the least possible amount of work for the greatest obtainable amount of money? What but selfishness makes the profiteer exact the last cent from the consumer, regardless of economic value or legitimate return for capital outlay and labor?

Yes, what the world needs most is a spirit of service in the hearts of men, and in their actions that reciprocity which is the basis of the Gold Rule. The ideal of Rotary is Service.

If we have this ideal in our hearts, it will prompt each one of us to say:

"If any little word of mine
May make a life the brighter,
If any little song of mine
May make a heart the lighter,
God help me speak that little word
And do my bit of singing.

And drop it in some lonely vale
To set the echoes ringing.
If any little love of mine
May make a life the sweeter,
If any little care of mine
Make another life completer,
If any lift of mine may ease
The burden of another,
God give me love, and care, and strength
To help my toiling brother."

Practical Idealism

Rotary, however, is no less practical than idealistic. One of its objects is the interchange of ideas and business methods as a means of increasing the efficiency and usefulness of its members, and of cultivating friendships. It is also practical in that it fosters in each of its members an active interest in the civic, commercial, moral and social welfare of his community. It exists to help the children of the cities and towns to become happy, honest, useful, and prosperous citizens. It exists to rid life's pathway of the flints that wound little feet, to light lamps in the dark places along which we ourselves have passed, along which we ourselves, it may be, have stumbled, to erect signposts on life's highway to warn the young wayfarers not to turn aside into the flower-bedecked quagmires with which the road abounds, to make our homes the happiest places on earth, to inculcate high ethical standards in our business and professions, and to dignify our occupations as affording us opportunity to serve society. It exists to teach love of city, country, and flag, and to cultivate the virtues of charity, cheerfulness and optimism in whatever situation we may find ourselves.

Restricted Membership

Each one of the first four members of the original club in Chicago followed a different calling and so the membership of the original club was maintained on this basis—no two men in the club representing the same business or profession. This plan had many valuable and distinct features and is now with a minor modification a constitutional provision for all clubs. Other organization may have thousands of members on their rosters, but the Rotary Club is limited to one man from each business or profession. Some of the advantages of the plan are: (1) Representative and efficient membership; (2) Concerted action easy; (3) Ideal forum for discussion; (4) Clique rule made difficult; (5) Provide avenue for removal of dead timber; (6) Self-confidence stimulated.

Attendance

Membership in a Rotary Club is both an honor and a privilege. Like any other honorable privilege it involves corresponding duties and obligations. The price of efficient membership is regularity of attendance at the weekly luncheons. Only circumstances which cannot reasonably be controlled such as "out of the city" or "in the hospital" are accepted as excuses for absence. Only busy men are eligible for membership in a Rotary Club. One is not allowed to plead even the pressing emergencies of his public or private avocations.

Under the rules of International Rotary a sequence of four absences without an explanation considered as satisfactory by the directors causes a member automatically to lose his membership. A member also forfeits his membership if he fails to attend 60 per cent. of the meetings held during the year.

Rotary's Emblem

Rotary's emblem is a cog-wheel which signifies that Rotary's function is to run in mesh with the cogs of other wheels. The genius of Rotary is not in its competition with existent institutions and constituted bodies, but in its co-operation with those which may require its help. It holds no mandate to run counter to any organization, political, civic or religious, or to cut into the concerns of others. Its emblem, I repeat, is the useful cog-wheel, not a buzz saw.

The cog is not a thing in itself. It exists for others and others exist for it. A cog believes in team-work. All the energy it gets from its neighbors behind it passes on to a needy fellow ahead. A cog ceases to function if it is a misfit. It must fit perfectly into the scheme of things. A cog's insistent demand is "Give me a chance to help another cog." Every bit of a cog's surface is a working surface. A cog is 100 per cent useful, 100 per cent serviceable, 100 per cent unselfish. We should strive to be cogs.

Charity

Although Rotarians are second to none in practical charity, Rotary itself should not be regarded as a charitable institution or a bank with unlimited capital upon which all and sundry may draw on demand. Rotary is a public servant, not a paymaster. Individual members will, of course, act as they see fit but Rotary as a movement cannot be expected to carry the community's charitable obligations on its shoulders. Its emblem is not a cash-box. Even if it were able to carry the burden, it would not be good for the community if the community did not get into personal touch with its own problems, and recognising its moral obligations experience the joy of relieving pain, alleviating sorrow, and eliminating wrong. Rotary's function is to bring these problems under public notice if necessary, and to help the community to repair the wrong, but only if called upon to do so.

Rotary's Slogan

Rotary has two slogans, "He profits most who serves best," and "Service above self." Objection has been made to the former on the ground that there should be no thought of gain in our actions. It is true, of course, that it is a law of nature that whenever a man helps another, he helps himself by broadening his own sympathies and enlarging his capacity for usefulness. An old Arabian proverb:

"Help thou thy brother's boat across,
And lo! thine own has reached the shore" epitomises this rule very forcibly. But at the same time it should be remembered that a kindly act to a child, to a man, woman or community which has the idea of personal gain as its impelling force is not Rotary. For that reason, perhaps, the latter slogan "Service above self," is the better of the two.

Astor Wedding Big Social Event

One of the outstanding events of the season on the social calendar at Newport, R.I., is the wedding of Ellen Tuck French, daughter of Francis O. French of Dedham, Mass., and John Jacob Astor, III., scion of the wealthy Astor family, pictured above, which is scheduled to take place in July at the "Chet wode," Astor's estate at Newport.

International Head Man Of Distinction

John Nelson, president of Rotary International, with its many branches throughout the world, is a Canadian of distinguished attainments. For years a newspaperman in the Canadian West — editor, publisher, and proprietor, he is now director of public relations for the Sun Life Assurance Company, with head office in Montreal. Mr. Nelson was given the high honor of election to the head of all Rotary at the annual convention held last year in Boston.

NEW LEISURE TO LEARN OBJECTIVE OF TO-DAY

The answers to the problem of our new leisure of to-day are work and study. Work and study as never before; to improve self and one's neighbor. And back of these objectives is the good of a broader ethics and a more tolerant feeling of humanity. Mohammedan, Jew, Protestant, and Catholic alike need occupation, wages, and comforts of life. In the face of national needs, artificial boundaries fall. The man who helps anyone to a better plane is helping himself and all humanity.—L. V. Jacks, in the Rotarian Magazine.

REMEMBER SPEAKERS.

DRUMHELLER, Alta.—An agreeable holiday custom followed by Drumheler Rotarians is that of sending greeting cards to all guest speakers who addressed their club during the previous 12 months.

Rotary's Aim

To make each member a better man because he is a Rotarian.

To help us all think and do right.

To make business a pleasure; to make truthfulness and qualitly the prime elements of business.

To boast only of facts.

To boost that which is worthy.

To make men love their neighbors, even when they are competitors.

To look upon the sunny side of life and smile.

To supplant sorrow with joy.

To seek that which is good in all men.

To condemn none unjustly.

To put honor before gain.

To be considerate of all and of their opinions.

To serve mankind cheerfully, faithfully, honorably and unselfishly.

REVISION OF HISTORY IS NEEDED, SAYS ROTARIAN

OTTAWA. — A re-statement of histories is the paramount problem in promoting international goodwill, Armitage Ewing, Montreal, told the International Service Group of the 28th District Rotary Convetnion in Ottawa.

"There should be justice done to the facts of history," said Mr. Ewing, "but malice and ultra-patriotism should be eliminated." In the promotion of international goodwill this problem, he thought, transcended all.

The Council of the City of Peterborough, representing the many merchants, manufacturers and citizens generally of the City, has pleasure in heartily endorsing the work of the Peterborough Rotary Club, which has greatly benefitted so many in Peterborough, especially children, in its benevolent undertakings.

Rickets Prevalent Where Winters Long And Days Short

LACK OF SUNSHINE IN INFANCY CAUSE OF CHILDHOOD DISEASE

Is Very Easily Prevented by Sun Baths and Cod Liver Oil.

BONES FLEXIBLE

By Dr. Alton Goldsbloom, McGill University.)

Rickets, unchecked, is a crippling disease. Despite the readiness with which it can be controlled it is still very prevalent It is a disease that contributes greatly to infant mortality by reducing the resistance of infants to infections. It is responsible for bow legs, deformed chests, misshapen pelvic bones, stunted growth. This is why it is of the utmost importance to give the widest possible publicity to the accepted methods for prevention and cure of this disease.

In young infants, rickets is not responsible for any great deformities; yet it is at this age that steps for prevention or cure must be taken in order to avoid the crippling deformities of later childhood. The very young infant suffering from rickets may have very few symptoms by which the mother might recognize the disease. Even the physician may not be certain without the aid of the X-ray. The infant may be a little pale, or he may sweat somewhat profusely, but that is all Easily recognizable signs will come later, but we need not wait for them in order to begin our treatment.

Bones Flexible.

As soon as the infant is old enough to bear his own weight either in the sitting or standing position the deforming effect of untreated rickets begin to become evident. The muscles and ligaments are flabby and the bones are flexible, therefore, whenever there is strain, there may be deformity. The spine may curve and bowing may develop not only in the legs but in the thigh bones and in the arms Another cause of deformity in rickety children is breaking of the bones which are very weak. One at times encounters children with late, untreated rickets in which the X-ray reveals numerous fractures in various stages of healing and in various stages of deformity. The fractures occur insidiously, without much pain, only to be discovered accidentally, long after they have occurred.

Whenever rickets in a child has been allowed to progress untreated until crippling deformities have developed, permanent crippling may result in spite of the arrest of the rickets itself. What cures rickets does not cure the deformities that rickets has brought about. Remedies may stop the disease from progressing, but only surgery can straighten crooked bones. Yet, with all this, such bones can never be as strong as those in which the rickety process has never been given a chance to develop.

In a civilized country, blessed with newspapers, radio, health centres, and health magazines, with the wide dissemination of knowledge concerning vitamins; it is difficult to understand why there is still a great deal of rickets among children, and in some parts of the country, an inexcusable amount of late, untreated rickets, with its consequent deformities of bones and the stunting of stature. Rickets can and should be completely eradicated as a disease of civilized people. It needs only the same awakening of the public conscience as has occurred with regard to scurvy. Scurvy is now almost an unknown disease in infants. Orange juice or the juice of some other citrous fruit is so universally given to children and so much as a matter of routine, that I am sure many a mother who never omits giving baby its daily dose of orange juice has long forgotten what it is for, and what it prevents. It has become a fixed habit. She may have some vague idea that it has something to do with regulating the bowels, but that orange juice prevents scurvy, very few mothers really know. Yet orange juice is given daily as part of the unalterable ritual of the baby's morning routine. Whenever cod liver oil or viosterol will be treated in this same way as something which must be given each day of the baby's first two years at least, then we shall have reached the vanishing point of rickets as an important disease.

Sunlight the Preventative.

The factor which prevents rickets is, in the last analysis, sunlight. It is sunlight that manufactures Vitamin D, whatever may be our medium of administering it and sunlight is responsible, directly or indirectly, for Vitamin D wherever it is found or however it is made; that is why sunlight must be considered at all times as the most important remedy, for the cure of rickets or for its prevention.

The direct rays of the sun shining not necessarily on the entire body of the infant, but on any part of him, preferably the arms and legs, are quite sufficient to adequately prevent or to completely cure any case of rickets Burning is to be avoided—a slow tanning is all that is required. In cool weather this can be done indoors beside an open window; in warm weather it can be done out of doors. It is not necessary to expose the face. In the heat of summer, exposure of the limbs, not to the direct sun, but only to the reflected light of the bright sky, the child lying in the shade, is quite effective and without risk, no matter how long the exposure.

Many fishes, notably the cod have this factor, or vitamin, stored in abundance in the oils of their livers. Hence the value of cod liver oil. Cod liver oil has been known as a folk remedy for centuries, but it is only quite recently that the reason for its efficacy has been discovered. It is one of the best medicines we have for the prevention and treatment of rickets. More recently it has been found that a substance known as ergosterol, when exposed to ultra-violet light, rapidly acquires the same power as cod liver oil and sunlight, so far as rickets is concerned. A solution of this irradiated ergosteral in oil is what is known in North America as Viosterol, in England as Radiostol, on the Continent as Vigantol; very small doses of this oil solution are very effective and never harmful.

Prevention Easy.

To prevent rickets, and every infant is liable to this disease unless one or other form of preventative treatments is given, it is necessary to give daily either two or three teaspoonfuls of a good, tested cod liver oil or about 10 drops of Viosterol. Sunlight is not always available, cod liver oil and Viosterol always are. Sun exposures should be given whenever possible, and either cod liver oil or Viosterol regularly, daily, summer and winter, from the end of the third week to the beginning of the third year of life. After that age, the anti-rachitic medicine need only be given during the winter months The universal adoption of this practice would instantly lead to the disappearance of rickets.

To prevent rickets is very easy. To cure mild rickets is not difficult. Neglected, late, untreated rickets may be arrested but the damage done by such neglect may forever leave its mark. The regular administration of cod liver oil or of Viosterol must become a daily habit with all mothers. Whenever this happens the problem of rickets shall have ceased to exist.

PLYMOUTH sales are gaining by leaps and bounds. Registrations of new Plymouth cars in Canada for the month of March were over three times the sales of March last year.

There can be only one answer to this—Plymouth owners are talking to their friends. They are enthusiastic about the way Plymouth performs, proud of its appearance and satisfied that they bought the best car in the lowest priced field.

HYDRAULIC BRAKES are one of the sources of their delight in driving a Plymouth car. They stop the car quickly, smoothly and they never become unequalized — never cause swerving. Hydraulic brakes are the simplest type of brakes and require no lubrication—seldom require adjusting. They are the safest brakes made.

THE PLYMOUTH ALL-STEEL BODY is the greatest motoring protection you can give yourself and your family. It is all steel reinforced with steel . . . all the parts electrically fused into one shock-resisting whole . . . it does not rattle . . . cannot rot.

FLOATING POWER ENGINE MOUNTINGS banish engine vibration — one of the greatest sources of driving fatigue. The Plymouth motor is cradled in its two rubber mountings which are scientifically placed so that the engine absorbs its own vibration. No engine vibration can reach the passengers.

INDIVIDUAL FRONT WHEEL SPRINGING is found in even the lowest priced Plymouth. Plymouth is the only car in the lowest priced field that gives you individual front wheel springs. It is the same type of springing that is used in some of the world's highest priced cars.

LOOK AT ALL THREE LOWEST PRICED CARS—but make sure you drive a Plymouth before you buy. Make sure you get these four features vital to your safety and comfort. Your Chrysler-Plymouth dealer invites you to have a demonstration today.

Rotary Membership Developes Community Spirit

MAN'S HORIZON IS BROADENED IN ROTARY CLUB

Rotarians Represent the Average Citizen of the Community.

COMMUNITY SPIRIT

Membership is Both a Privilege and a Great Responsibility.

(By Rotarian Alex Mowat)

There are many reasons for Rotary Membership being considered a privilege highly to be esteemed. A man is known by the company he keeps. "Tell me thy company and I will tell thee what thou art," is an epigram expressing a profound truth. Rotarians represent the average citizen of the community and mingling with such men, week after week, should be beneficial and stimulating.

Acquaintance naturally ripens into friendships. Many friendships are made in Rotary circles. These are cherished treasures, since life has nothing nobler in store than a true friend.

"Friendship, peculiar boon of Heaven,
The noble mind's delight and pride,
To men and angels only given,
To all the lower world denied."

Man is a social animal and naturally desires human fellowship. This desire is met and satisfied by Rotary. The hour spent with congenial spirits serves to keep the heart young.

Rotary membership broadens a man's horison. The addresses are generally of a high order and the topics discussed are timely and suggestive. Then, too, the unconscious influence of his fellow-members, the kindly smile and the friendly greeting do a world of good, particularly in these times of stress.

Community Spirit

Rotary membership develops a community spirit. This is the spirit from which national and international ideals evolve. This community spirit finds expression in practical undertaking in helping the unfortunate such as Rotary is engaged in.

In the last anaylsis the Rotarian gets out of Rotary good in proportion to what he puts in. It is his privilege to get much out of Rotary. In the meetings we find practical sincerity, truth, unselfishness, sympathy, humor, kindness, courtesy, grace and other virtues that affect all and serve to make of the members better and more useful citizens. All may share in this good.

Rotary membership is not only a privilege but involves a responsibility as well. Its ideal is Service: "He profits most who serves best." This ideal must become a reality in the life of the Rotarian. His real worth is not determined by his material possession but by his character and the service he renders society.

The welfare of society before that of self is an ideal not easy to live up to. We have to harmonize our own good with the good of society. Where these conflict the good of society must be preferred. If this ideal were to become universal, new and brighter era would soon be ushered in, and the world's troubles and sorrows would disappear.

Bring Ideal Nearer

This ideal may appear still far distant, but it is the duty and responsibility of each Rotarian to do his bit to bring it nearer. Fortunately the good that men do lives after them, as well as the evil they do.

"Our echoes roll from soul to soul,
And grow for ever and for ever."

If we believe in the ultimate triumph of right, then the influence of Rotary and of other kindred movements must continue to grow and spread until the whole civilised world is linked up in the bonds of peace and goodwill.

The foregoing and other reasons should bring home to every Rotarian the privilege and responsibility of his membership.

FORWARD— ALL TOGETHER

By J. RAMSAY MACDONALD

Prime Minister of Great Britain.

I AM very glad to respond to the invitation to send a message to Rotary International, not only because I value the friendship of a great many of its members, but because I regard its work for international understanding and co-operation as of the highest importance. Any greeting that I send must therefore begin with warm appreciation of all that it is doing and with an expression of hope that the work will be carried on successfully.

Ramsay MacDonald

The business man should take a foremost place in the ranks of the ambassadors of world peace. Anyone who has been striving to that end has had to meet with much discouragement from quarters which seem to have no appreciation of the difficult and delicate ways that have to be trodden. The only sure way is the road of mutual confidence. Between nations, fear and suspicion are the barriers put up by mischievous hands to obstruct the road of goodwill which we are building with so much labor.

The problems with which the world is confronted can only be solved by international co-operation, and now more than ever is there both need and opportunity for the exercise of high endeavor and mutual confidence.

I look to Rotary International as a valuable ally, and I repeat my heartiest hopes for the triumph of both your work and your spirit.

ROTARY ACTIVE THIRTY YEARS

Social Hour Started by Lawyer Spreads Over 76 Countries.

KEYNOTE "SERVICE"

What is Rotary?

This can best be answered by giving a brief survey of its origin and history. Nearly thrity years ago, a young lawyer in the City of Chicago felt the urge for increased fellowship with men in other walks of life, and with this object in view, invited a few of those he knew best, to meet in his office for a social hour. This first meeting was so successful, that they decided to meet weekly, rotating the place of meeting in their various offices, hence the name Rotary.

From this small beginning the movement has grown until there are now Clubs with a membership of over 150,000, and embracing 76 countries of the world.

The key-note of Rotary is service, which finds its expression through the Club, the community, the vocation in which its members are engaged, and more especially in the larger field of international service. Some one has said that Rotary is the most representative international agency in the world at the present time. Its members are drawn from the leaders of every section of the community in every country. It is pledged to the ideals of peace and international brotherhood.

Answer to Old Query.

Rotary is attempting to supply an answer to that ever recurring question, "Am I my brother's keeper?" If we feel that the affairs of others are no concern of ours, that the troubles and sorrows of mankind are not our responsibility, then Rotary can make no appeal to us. But insofar as we realize, the essential brotherhood of all men, our interdependence on each other in cultural and economic spheres, the futilities of racial hatred, and the possibilities of what might be to that degree can we understand the meaning of Rotary.

"Be thou guardian of the weak,
Of the unfriended, thou the friend;
No guerdon for thy valor seek,
No end beyond the avowed end.
Wouldst thou thy God-like power preserve,
Be God-like in the will to serve."
... —Jeanette B. Gilder.

"To oure is the voice of the past; to prevent is the divine whisper of to-day."—Kate Douglas Wiggin.

GOOD FATHERS NOT BORN BUT MADE, SAYS DOCTOR

"To be a successful father or husband is not an art to be easily acquired. Men think it is more important to be successful in work or business. This is, of course, important, but it is equally important to be a good husband and father. Good fathers are not born, but made—and made by themselves."—Dr. J. Fenton, M.O.H., Kensington.

TRAIN WRECKERS AGAIN ATTEMPT KILL EMIL FEY

Dyamite Main Line Running From Vienna to Budapest.

EXPRESS IS FLAGGED.

Governmest Offers $2,000 Reward for Tips to Arrest of Terrorists.

VIENNA, June 13 (A. P.) — Train wreckers again to-day attempted to kill Emil Fey, Minister of Public Security of Austria, by derailing the main line express.

It was the second attempt against the life of a high official of the Government in four days. Last Saturday a bomb was discovered above the office of Prince Ernst Von Starhemberg, Vice-Chancellor of Austria.

Fey's life has been attempted often before.

To-day the wreckers dynamited the Vienna-to-Budapest main line near Goetzendorf, 24 miles east of here.

Both tracks were torn up, but the train on which Fey was travelling to Budapest was flagged in time to prevent a disaster.

Shoot To Kill.

The attempted wreckage came just as the directors of security of the nation issued orders to soldiers and auxiliary guards protecting Austrian railroads that they must in the future shoot to kill any persons approaching railroad lines at any point except authorized crossings and stations.

Fourth President

J. W. McDERMID, 1924-25, Druggist, and for years an active worker in the Club.

The official Government Gazette published Government offers of 10 to 10,000 schillings (about $2,000) for tips leading to the arrest of the Government terrorists.

Chancellor Dollfuss is scheduled to go to Budapest to-morrow for an agricultural parley, thereby leaving Prince Starhemberg in control of the Government for the first time since he became Vice-Chancellor, succeeding Fey.

The power line mast at Scheibbs in Lower Austria was dynamited last night and several small bombs were exploded in railway stations.

TUGWELL UNDER SECRETARY

WASHINGTON, June 12 (AP) — By a decisive 16 to 2 vote, the United States Senate Agriculture Committee to-day approved the nomination of Rexford G. Tugwell to be Under-Secretary of Agriculture.

Only Chairman Ellison Smith (D., S.C.) of the Committee, and Senator Henry Hatfield (R., W.Va.) voted against promotion of Tugwell from the $7,500 a year post of Assistant Secretary to the new position paying $10,000.

Explanation Needed

One of Rotary's prominent bowlers should explain to the club why it was necessary for the "Arm of the Law" to appear at the Masquerade Bowling Tournament last Wednesday evening. An arrest might have been made,—but it wasn't.

Nearly 1000 men are at work on the new Cunard liner 534, being built at Clydebank, Scotland, and additional thousands will be employed later.

Poison Sawdust

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., June 13 (C.P.) — After lying for 20 years on the north bank of the Saskatchewan River here, use has at last been found for 500,000,000 pounds of sawdust of the now defunct Prince Albert Lumber Mill which operated here in pioneer days.

To-day 100 city relief workers were busily loading the first shipment to be sent over railway lines to grasshopper-infected areas in Southern Saskatchewan. The sawdust will be mixed with bran, then saturated with poison and broadcast by hand over land where the plague is most severe.

"AN' WHAT IS ROTARY, ANYWAY?"

(By Rotarian J. A. Bannister.)

Two workmen, grimy from their morning's toil, had just finished the contents of their dinner pails. As they lighted their pipes, Pat said: "Mike, I'm after hearin' that the Rotary Club is to have a big party on the Market Square. Seems to me they're always tryin' to raise money. An' what fur? So's they can have their weekly feed at Chris Graham's, with a bit o' gossip thrown in!"

"Now, Pat, you've got them all wrong this time," said Mike with some warmth. "Sure, an' hasn't Dr. Moir been tellin' me that Rotary means a great deal more to him than a weekly dinner party? The doctor is a busy man, as ye know, but whin I got him talkin' about Rotary he clean fergot that I'd come to have him dress the cut in me scalp that me friend Murphy made wi' the shovel whin we were havin' a bit o' neighborly argument. 'Nok,' sez he to me, 'there's the Boys' Camp. That's a bit o' work the Rotary's proud of. It's a great thing for the boys to have a place like that where they can go, and have a rale outing—boatin' an' swimmin' and fishin' an' plenty o' room to rassle. They learn how to take care o' themselves, how to be nate and tidy, and how to live peaceably with others. An' they develop appetites that keep the cook busy. Thim as can pay fer it, pays,' sez he, 'but each year we sind a raft o' boys that haven't the money to pay, an' that wouldn't get any holiday if it wasn't for Rotary.'

"But isn't it dangerous?" says I.

"Dangerous?" says he. "Not a bit of it. Isn't Doug. Loomis in charge?" "Faith, an' that's somethin'," said Pat. "But what's this I've been hearin' about crippled children? Seems to me Dr. Moir ought to know something about that."

"'Tis the doctor that does know," was Mike's answer, "but he's too modest to tell about his own particular work. Jist you ask Andy Brown. He's chairman o' the Crippled Children Committee, an' always has both eyes open for any that are in need of help. He can tell you how many the Rotary Club has cared for; how many who would have passed through life unable to walk, are now as spry on their feet as your own children, how many have recovered the use of their hands, and how many have had free medical attention that has given them a new hope in life and a chance to become independent and self-supportin' instid of bein' a burden on the community. You should see Andy's eyes sparkle when he tells about them, an' if ever ye hear o' a handicapped child whose parents can't afford to have it cared for, just you telephone Andy Brown, an' he'll be the happiest man in town."

"Good fer Andy!" said Pat. "I've an old school mate who has hobbled about on a crippled foot all his days, an' only the other day he says to me, says he, 'Pat, if me old father had only been able to have this foot straightened whin I was a bit of a boy, what a difference it would have made to me!' There was no Rotary in thim days, an' his father was poor. I'd be proud to be a member of an organization that is doin' such a work as that. If they never did anything else but bring health an' strength an' happiness to little children, they're more than justified. Sure, it's the Master's own work they're doin'."

"Now, Pat, ye haven't heard the half of it yet," Mike continued. "There's the Student Loan Fund. That's in charge o' Principal Kenner. What would it have meant to you an' me if we could have gone to school an' got a bit o' education? It isn't the pick an' shovel we'd have been usin' if we could have had more schoolin'. I know your father couldn't afford to send you on, an' neither could mine. So here we are. There's many a promisin' boy in the same position today. He has the brains and he has the ambition, but he hasn't the money. Give him a chance, an' he'll be a doctor, or a lawyer, or an engineer, or a teacher, that will bring credit to his home town. Here's where Principal Kenner an' his committee come in. They satisfy themselves that he is honest an' deservin' an' then they dip into the fund and advance him the money that will enable him to make good."

"I remimber now," said Pat, "last Christmas time, when me neighbor had been out o' work. He says to me, says he, 'It'll not be a very merry Christmas for the childer this year. It makes me heart sick to hear them talkin' about Santa Claus an' what they want him to bring, an' me all the time wonderin' where they're goin' to get a dacent dinner, let alone presents.' Would you belave it? The night before Christmas, he came rushin' into my place with a smile all over his face. Says he, 'Pat, it just bates me. To-night there came a rap at the door, an' when I opened it, there was a stranger that I never remember havin' set eyes on before. He handed me a big basket that I could hardly lift. From the Rotary Club, an' a merry Christmas to you an' the childer," says he. An' before I could recover from my surprise he was gone. But the basket had the finest Christmas dinner in it that has been in our house for many a year. Pat, what is this Rotary Club anyway?' says he."

"That's just like them," said Mike. "I don't know how many baskets they sent out. I asked Jim Juby, who was president last year, and he told me they contribute generously to the city relief. They lend their moral and financial support to every local effort for the good of the city, they encourage clean sport, they co-operate with other service clubs, and try in every way to live up to their motto, 'Service before self.' So, if they do try, once a year, to raise some money, and offer to the public an opportunity of becoming partners in a worth-while work, it's up to you and me to help them, especially when they give us such a good time at their carnival. I wouldn't miss seein' Jack Seels rushin' around an' bossin' the job, an' Ross Dobbin in charge of a booth, an' Fred Reid, the new president, shouting, 'Under 'B, seventeen,' at bingo, for a good deal more than I spend."

"True fer you, Mike," said Pat enthusiastically. "I'm fer Rotary now. I'll be with the crowd on the Market Square, an' if I don't win any prizes, I'll have a good time, an' I know my money will be helping someone that needs the help. But there's the whistle, bad luck to it."

PARAGUAY RIVER, SEA OUTLET IS CRUX OF THE CHACO DISPUTE

Bolivia Wants Control of River —Borders Ever Clearly Defined.

JUNGLE IS FERTILE

By CHARLES P. STEWART
(Central Press Canadian Writer)

Than the Gran Chaco (where the world's powers are trying to put an end, by an arms embargo, to warfare between Bolivia and Paraguay) there probably is no region on earth concerning which so much misinformation is rampant.

Having not exactly explored (for it never has been even completely crossed since a Jesuit expedition traversed it a century or more ago), but at least having penetrated it several days' travel from both the eastward and westward, it irritates me to hear it mis-described in practically every despatch dealing with the conflict between the two South American republics.

The Chaco is a Guarani Indian word meaning the "wilderness," and the "gran chaco" means the "great wilderness."

A Huge Wilderness.

This particular wilderness is an area of 8,000 or 10,000 square miles in northern Argentina, south-eastern Bolivia, north-western Paraguay and maybe a small quibble from the edge of Brazil (it isn't a sharply defined region; no wilderness is). There is, to be sure, an Argentine "gobernacion," corresponding to a territory like Alaska, of the Chaco, but that's a definite district. Some authorities also contend that the Chaco (the wilderness) extends northward 1,000 miles or so, to and beyond the Amazon. The wilderness does, of course, so extend, but ordinarily that isn't what's understood when the Chaco is referred to—what's meant is the spot, in Argentina, Bolivia and Paraguay, lying just a-straddle the Tropic of Capricorn, about midway between the oceans.

If one includes the realm away northward to the Amazon, the Chaco is, indeed, largely a jungle country.

Primitive Country.

The Chaco proper, however, is no such thing.

Most of it is fine, flat, open savanna—a beautiful country. It would be ideal for farming, but lacks transportation to move crops to market. Cotton grows wild on it. Cattle on it grow butter fat.

It's watered by the Paraguay, Pilcomayo and Bermejo rivers and their tributaries, and they overflow sometimes, but it's no steaming swamp. It's hot, certainly, but not hotter than, say, Texas, in summer. In short, it's one of the gardens of the earth, if it were developed.

Groves of palm and quebracho are rather frequent in the Chaco, but by no stretch of the imagination can they be called "jungles."

There are big snakes and large cats, referred to by the settlers as "tigers."

Boundaries in Doubt.

There may be some oil. It's doubtful that there's much. There has been some prospecting for it, but without very brilliant discoveries. Assuredly they have not been sufficient to start a war over.

But the boundaries between Bolivia, Argentina and Paraguay never have been accurately delimited.

The Bolivians have persistently tried to encroach on what the Argentines consider their soil, but not with much energy, for the Argentines are too strong for them. They have encroached on Paraguay more determinedly — the paraguayan population being numerically far inferior to Bolivia's.

Besides, Paraguay has, after a fashion, an outlet to the Atlantic.

That is to say, it is on the Paraguay river (a navigable stream) which empties into the Parana, which empties into the Rio de la Plata, which empties into the eastern ocean.

It is not a very satisfactory outlet, but it is better than none.

And Bolivia has none. It had one once, on the Pacific at Antofagasta, but it lost it, in a war with Chile in the 1880's—and Chile is too formidable for it to tackle, just as is Argentina. Its one hope of a vent is by way of the Paraguay river—and it can get it if it can acquire title to the Chaco, as far to the eastward as that river.

This unquestionably is the whole secret of the Bolivia-Paraguayan conflict.

Canadian Mennonites Settled.

In future years the Chaco, for itself alone, may be well worth having—but not now.

Tex Rickard of New York spent $1,000,000 trying to colonize the Argentine Chaco in the late 'teens of the present century. Fred Engen, a Norwegian promoter, tried to colonize the Paraguayan Chaco with Canadian Mennonites soon afterward. They all failed; the time was not ripe for the region's development. Its oil resources are doubtful.

The crux of the situation is the Paraguay river—with its outlet on the Parana—with its outlet on the Rio de la Plata—with its outlet on the Atlantic ocean.

Bolivia is bottled up.

It can't get out by way of Chile; Chile is too potent. It can't get out by way of Argentina, which is still more so. The weakest spot is Paraguay; hence that's the direction in which Bolivia is exploding. It naturally seems like a trifling matter to folk in such a country as the United States, but it's a matter of life and death to Bolivian enterprise—and of life and death also to Paraguay, defending its territory.

PLAYED BIG PART IN FURNISHING OF BOYS' CAMP

Rotary Anns Took Keen Interest in Early Formation of Camp.

EXCELLENT HOSTS

Given Their Loyal Support to Many Community Undertakings.

Unfortunately the Rotary Anns of Peterborough are somewhat dormant at the present time, but they have performed an excellent service during past years.

They came into being during the first year of Rotary, and were very active during the formative period of Rotary in this city. They gave unsparingly of time and talent during the first years of the Boys' Camp. These unselfish Rotary Anns provided blankets, books, cooking utensils, dishes, chairs, tables mattresses, pictures and curtains for the camp. Not satisfied with the above and anxious to make the camp a "homey place" they assumed the cost of installation of the fireplace. Again with shrewd and discerning instinct they provided the camp with a punt and two skiffs. They conceived the idea of a suitable flag for the camp, and Rotarian "Bill" Butcher did this for them.

The Rotary Anns found time for other activities. They have proved themselves excellent entertainers: Ladies' Nights were always bustling with interest and enjoyment, their "Rose Ball" was crowned with success; the dances at Rye's and Ford's won the plaudits of their "hubbies." They were intensely interested in the "Made in Peterborough Fair"; in the Health Association; in banquets for boys, and in the first survey of the city for cripped children.

These splendid Rotary Anns have given their loyal and energetic support to many community undertakings; have provided thousands of dollars for philanthropic work, and have always remained ready to assist worthwhile undertaking for the advancement of this fine city of Peterborough.

Rotarians owe much to them for their assistance and their encouragement. Every Rotarian cherishes a hope that the Rotary Anns may soon awaken from their short sleep, and fine a place of outlet for their many talents.

SOUTH AFRICA PAYS.

PRETORIA, South Africa, June 13 (C.P. Cable via Reuters). — Disregarding the war debts controversy abroad, the Union of South Africa is continuing her payments to Britain. She has just paid the last six months' instalment of £178,850, roughly $895,000, and intends paying the next instalment in December, regardless of whether the British Government reaches a final settlement with the United States by that time.

FRANCE DEFAULTS

PARIS, France, June 13 (AP).—France, formally decided to-day to make her fourth war debts default to the United States in a note approved by the cabinet.

Adouard Herriot, Minister Without Portfolio and former Premier, who has steadfastly supported payment, voted with the minority and his position was officially recognized by a communique.

A note will be cabled to Washington to-night.

ROTARIANS PLAY AN ACTIVE PART WELFARE WORK

Feature Crippled Children's Assistance—Aid Educating Promising Students.

BOOST BOY SCOUTS

Fellowship Touch Helps Maintain Members' Morale in Trying Times.

(By Rotarian R. F. Downey).

The question often is asked, What does Rotary really do anyway? Here are a few of the activities undertaken:

The Club supported the Chautauqua by providing free tickets to a number of young folk who otherwise would have been deprived the privilege of attending. The Chamber of Commerce has had loyal support from Rotary. Another movement calling for sympathetic support from Rotary has been the Boy Scouts. Here indeed has been a fine piece of work. Then, too, the Club has given aid to sports—hockey, baseball, etc. Assistance, too, has been given to the Y.W.C.A., particularly in helping to defray the cost of swimming lessons to a number of girls. A sum of money has been set aside for promotion of education, through student loans. Promising young students are carefully selected and aided in defraying the cost of their education. The Club endeavors to serve by distributing Christmas cheer at the Festive Occasion and by helping as far as possible with relief throughout the year.

Aid Crippled Children.

Perhaps Rotary's greatest efforts have been directed toward "crippled children" and the Boys' Camp. As these undertakings are being dealt with elsewhere, nothing further will be mentioned here.

All of the above-mentioned activities have to do with providing money for public welfare, but there is another side—much more difficult to describe and very elusive — the human side, the man-to-man attitude. Here Rotary is performing one of her greatest services. Rotarians meet Monday at 12.15 of each week at luncheon for fellowship for uplift, for willing service. One of Rotary's greatest objectives is to keep not only the morale of every member a little higher in these trying times but also to reach out through sympathetic service to the community.

The House by the Side of the Road

There are hermit souls that live withdrawn
In the peace of their self-content;
There are souls, like stars, that dwell apart,
In a fellowless firmament;
There are pioneer souls that blaze their paths
Where highways never ran;
But let me live by the side of the road
And be a friend to man.

Let me live in a house by the side of the road,
Where the race of men go by—
The men who are good and the men who are bad,
As good and as bad as I.
I would not sit in the scorner's seat,
Or hurl the cynic's ban:
Let me live in a house by the side of the road
And be a friend to man.

I see from my house by the side of the road,
By the side of the highway of life,
The men who press with the ardour of hope,
The men who are faint with the strife,
But I turn not away from their smiles nor their tears—
Both parts of an infinite plan:
Let me live in my house by the side of the road
And be a friend to man.

I know there are brook-gladdened meadows ahead
And mountains of wearisome height;
That the road passes on through the long afternoon
And stretches away to the night.
But still I rejoice when the travellers rejoice,
And weep with the strangers that moan,
Nor live in my house by the side of the road
Like a man who dwells alone.

Let me live in my house by the side of the road
Where the race of men go by—
They are good, they are bad, they are weak, they are strong,
Wise, foolish—so am I.
Then why should I sit in the scorner's seat
Or hurl the cynic's ban?
Let me live in my house by the side of the road
And be a friend to man.

—Sam Walter Foss.

CRIPPLED CHILD IS SYMBOLIZED IN DICKENS TALE

'Tiny Tim' Appeals to the Human Heart of All Ages.

CAN BE PREVENTED.

One-half Patients Examined Need Never Have Been Crippled.

Since Dickens first created him, "Tiny Tim" has been the symbol of childhood rendered helpless through crippling. The appeal which this makes to the human heart is as strong to-day as in the days of Scrooge. Laymen are impressed and distressed by the obvious invalidism and for decades past have given of their money, their time, and effort to provide medical skill for such handicapped children. Homes for crippled children, hospitals for surgical treatment and special clinics, are part of the program of voluntary agencies in Canada, among which service clubs, particularly the Rotary, Shriners, Kiwanis, and Lions, have taken a prominent part.

Can crippling be prevented? We must answer "Yes" because specialists who see many thousands of cases yearly tell us that one-half the patients examined need never have been handicapped. The chief causes are (1) deformities present at birth ;(2) those caused by disease; (3) those resulting from accidents. Group (1) can be corrected to a very great extent, if cared for early . Group (2) includes a vast number who suffered from infantile paralysis previous to the use of serum; also tuberculosis of the bone, which type is almost entirely traceable to infection from cows and passed on to the child through raw milk; rickets, too, is an important factor, being due to diet lacking in certain essentials for bone-building.

Can Be Prevented.

We now know that conditions listed in (2) can be prevented. First, paralysis with resulting crippling can be absolutely prevented, should infantile paralysis develop, if convalescent serum is given on the first day of illness. Second, killing by pasteurization, all the germs, should they gain entrance to milk, will prevent bone tuberculosis. Third, sunshine, cod liver oil and food rich in calcium spell positive insurance against rickets and consequent deformity.

Crippling, however, is a term which embraces various conditions other than loss or impairment of a limb. "Crippled with rheumatism" is a common expression and many are invalided because of heart conditions and handicapped by defective eyes, cleft palate, hair lips, etc. Nor are all cripples little children. How fine it would be if there was no age limit set by the generous programs of service clubs, and that all Ontario's handicapped could share in the good things offered at present only to specific types and confined to the childhood groups!

150,000 MEANINGS TO NAME ROTARY

For 25 Years Clever Masters Have Been Trying to Define Rotary.

For twenty-five years clever masters of phrase have been delighting in the deft business of defining Rotary. Thus far, none of them has achieved more than an approximate result.

What is the matter? Is Rotary too complicated to admit of easy definition? Or has it wrapped around the original idea a mystical aroma which cannot be grasped within the compass of a single sentence?

It is a question whether language ever fully defined anything worthy of definition. For words are merely symbols of thought; and thought extends into depths as diverse and unfathomable as some new cavern or a summer sky. Conversation is an exchange of personality, laboring through speech to interpret itself—and always partially failing. It has been said so often that perfect affection can best express itself in silence that it has become trite. But such a silence is a part of mutual understanding, made perfect.

Thus, with all our definitions. They are incomplete expressions of human ideas. Words do not always have the same meaning for one person as for another, and the attempt to explain will often mislead when designed to be most helpful. Definitions thus often hinder more than they help. They have created clashing theologies, national prejudices, all the wars of the world, all the divisions that breed in misapprehension.

We cannot define Rotary because it has 150,000 meanings. It varies with its votaries. It is a luncheon club, a philanthropic agency, an international brotherhood, a bond for business ethics, a reservoir for community enthusiasm, a mixture of many motives, according to the individual. But after all the efforts of its best friends to catch Rotary's spirit and describe it in a paragraph, one feels there is something else there.

The first proclamation for Thanksgiving Day issued in the Dominion of Canada was dated December 22nd, 1798, the date of observance being January 10th, 1799.

Rotary Making Valuable Contribution to Civilization

ROTARY OFFERS CODE OF ETHICS ALL EMBRACING

Making One of Most Valuable Contributions to Our Modern Civilization.

IT'S PRACTICAL WORK

"Sixth Object" Justifies Alone Existence of Rotary in the World.

(By Rotarian D. G. H. Melton)

The Rotary Code of Ethics is so generous and all embracing, so truly Christian in character, that a member of its society who stands four square on all of its ethical principles, when asked to write of Rotary and its aims and objects, finds as a layman he has penned a sermon. For since Christ gave utterance to his exhortations and parables, Christian churches throughout the ages have repeated again and again His charges and we find them now re-worded in this twentieth century in a code to cover our present social and commercial life. The acknowledgment of this code by representative men of every walk of life, not in one community or state but throughout the world, recognizing no such man-made barriers as color, language or creed, has to-day, amongst men who really think and study outside of the scope of their private avocations, proven there is fast coming the realization that Rotary is offering to the established order of things throughout the world, one of the most valuable contributions which our present civilization has seen or perhaps which up to this time, history can record.

The existence of Rotary throughout the world would be fully justified if it worked for nothing more than its "Sixth Object," which is:

"The advancement of understanding, goodwill, and international peace through a world fellowship of business and professional men in the ideal of service."

Was not the birth of Christ heralded from Heaven with those words so familiar to all of us: "Peace on earth, goodwill towards men"? Are we nearer to the fulfillment of that exhortation? Thinking men answer, "Yes," and Rotary does, too, for that is its object.

Intensely Practical

Then, too, realizing that idealism alone will not carry Rotary through, it has been deemed that it should be intensely practical. As a service club, it must serve. Does not the motto say, "Service above self —He profits most who serves best"? Yet, in spite of a general acceptance of this creed in the hearts of most men—a willingness to admit that "someone must do these things"—is it not a fact that many men not having yet aroused themselves to labor in this "great vineyard" still prefer to follow such pursuits as are calculated to bring them only personal aggrandisement or financial gain?

Was it not said, "It is more blessed to give than to receive?" To give of one's time and effort conveys to the giver a real taste of the fullness of life, an awakening in the mind of the real purpose of life. So Rotary fits this into its scheme of things. A Rotary Club is a hive of workers—no drones, everyone is expected to lend effort and in so doing it is contrary to Rotary's principles to couse one's daily employment or business to suffer or be neglected.

Thus it is found that Rotary as a Service Club in a community whether large or small has proven itself of inestimable value. Its members show a lively zeal in all worthwhile projects and are indeed imbued with a sense of true "civic pride." This sense becomes nation-wide with the chain of these clubs scattered as they are, throughout the length and breadth of our land.

Its practical work on behalf of crippled children and "underprivileged" boys has been fully established and is generally recognized. Interesting statistics could be given of this district alone, showing the number of maimed and crippled children who through the efforts of Rotary have been made "whole." Little limbs once considered by their parents to be doomed to the terrible handicap of deformity have through the gentle skill of the surgeon been straightened and these joyous children have amply testified with smiles and happiness at our meetings, their gratitude for Rotary's interest in their well-being. What citizens these youngsters will make. Will they in turn deny the less fortunate? It is quite reasonable to assume that they when their time arrives will help others.

Valuable Contribution

In Rotary's effort for underprivileged boys a valuable contribution has been made. Consider the many hundreds of boys who have enjoyed the physical and mental development afforded them through the facilities of our Boys' Camp at Clear Lake, courage and will power restored, lungs expanded with air made clean and health-giving with aroma of the pines, a plunge into the invigorating waters of the lake and a healthy balanced diet. Who will say that men "fritter" their time away in service clubs for no purpose at all? The investment to-day will produce in due course a healthy and contented manhood as compared with what might be had these boys been left alone with their troubles and perplexities.

Thus Rotary serves. Someone has aptly said that "Rotary is not of yesterday nor of to-morrow, but of to-day; not destructive but intensive; not exclusive, but unique; not selfish, but practical; not stilted and formal, but social and fraternal." And perhaps this is the best explanation of Rotary that can be given in so many words.

The wide scope of Rotarian conception is clearly developed by its Code of Ethics which explicity state a Rotarian shall not be "more obligated to a brother Rotarian than to every other man in human society." Thus the influence of Rotary and its conception of human rights are not confined to its clubs or its members, but since a Rotarian is expected to conduct his business and relationships ethically, it is quite reasonable to expect that this conception must extend into every branch of his personality as it makes contact in the place where he resides or conducts his business affairs and spreading as it does, assumes an international character.

To those who sense this influence will come the appreciation and accord with the final ethic of Rotary:

"Believing in the universality of the Golden Rule, 'All things whatsover ye would that men should do unto you, do ye even so unto them."

And so it is contended that society will be best served and strengthened when a more generous conception is acknowledged by all of the extension, of an equal opportunity to all men in the natural resources with which God in his infinite wisdom has seen fit to so plentifully endow this planet.

Sixth President

CLAUDE H. ROGERS, 1926-27
Vice-president of the Peterborough Canoe Company, and one who has always taken a very keen interest in the Rotary Boys' Camp.

LEARN OF LEAGUE.

WEDNESBURY, Eng.—Under the auspices of its International Service Committee, the Wednesbury Rotary Club suggested that school authorities give children some instruction in the activities of the League of Nations. To give the children greater incentive for thorough study, prizes were offered for the four best essays prepared on the League.

ROTARY PHRASE HAS FINE RING

Dignifying One's Vocation is More Than a Catch Slogan.

LIKE AN OBSERVATORY

There's a wholesome ring to the words, "dignifying one's vocation." Some phrases that aptly catch a thought soon fade, lose their tanwear. But "dignifying one's vocation" is an exceptiin.

Somehow, it always brings to mind the face of someone we have known who labors hard, thinks honestly, and sees his particular work in relation to other men in the same vocation and to society. What separates him from the legions who are bored with their jobs is that to his he brings imagination without which, as Henry Ward Beecher once remarked, a man is like an observatory having no telescope.

We are reminded of a story.

A philosophically minded traveller, waiting for his train at a country station, became fascinated by a gang of workmen. Some were pounding and sawing. Others were dumping gravel and cement into the maw of a crushing cement mixer. Tractor-drawn plows were slicing the turf into gleaming black ribbons. All was bustle, activity.

"What," he asked of one workman, "are you doing?"

"Breaking stone," was the reply.

Farther along the same question was put to another.

"Me?" I'm working for three dollars a day," came the answer.

The traveller approached a third workman and again asked the question. The man straightened up, and gazed steadily at the inquirer.

"Why," he said, "I'm helping to build a road."—Rotarian Magazine.

One Self-Approving Hour

ONE SELF-APPROVING hour ... ...m ....

The Beaver sometimes contemplates the dam
And says: "Nice job! I'm proud of that, I am!"

The Oriole regards her swinging nest
And flutes: "Of all fine cradles, there's the best!"

The She-Bear cuffs her cubs with loving paw
And growls: "A sweeter pair I never saw!"

Erect upon the ant heap, cries the Ant:
"Say! Who can make a mountain if I can't?"

So you, I trust, have similarly stood
And looked upon your work and found it good.

GENERAL ELECTRIC

"Dream Kitchen"

HERE is the kitchen of to-morrow—made available to Canadian homes TO-DAY. You can now have a kitchen in which meals are cooked automatically — perishable foods are constantly safeguarded—dishwashing becomes child's play—and countless tedious tasks are performed swiftly and silently by the magic of electricity.

In this General Electric Kitchen you will find such popular servants as the General Electric Refrigerator—the G-E Hotpoint Range—the G-E Dishwasher—the G-E Telechron Clock—the G-E Mixmaster—the switch of the G-E Tank Heater—the G-E Ventilating Fan—together with the many smaller Hotpoint Appliances.

You can plan your General Electric "Dream Kitchen" step-by-step—adding appliances from time to time, or you can have the General Electric Kitchen Institute submit plans without obligation, for the complete transformation of your kitchen.

Peterborough Plant of C.G.E. Plays Important Part in Electrifying Modern Homes

In the Peterborough plant of Canadian General Electric are manufactured a wide range of electrical devices from huge generators—to the General Electric Refrigerators used in thousands of Canadian homes.

Peterborough factory is the largest of five operated by Canadian General Electric Company, Limited. The ever-increasing demand for G-E equipment has necessitated during the past few years a large building expansion program—and the installation of modern manufacturing apparatus—affording employment to many hundreds of Peterborough citizens.

Canadian General Electric Company has kept pace with the times—utilizing scientific research to create more efficient and valuable appliances and equipment for home and industry.

In no small measure the business and prosperity of Peterborough is linked with the growth of Canadian General Electric Co., Limited.

FRIENDSHIPS ARE FOSTERED AT THE ROTARY ROUND TABLE

Goodwill Promoted and Personal Horizons Expanded by Weekly Luncheons.

COMMUNITY CONTACTS.

By Rotarian Rev. C. V. McLean.

Associated with the beginning of civilization in many lands is the story of a table around which men met and conversed freely, without being hampered by an agenda or parliamentary rules. History and legend intertwine in the stories of King Arthur's Court with its Round Table. The Rotary Club is one of many organizations which have shown an appreciation of the possibilities of the table in fostering relationships and in cementing friendships.

The table, around which Rotarians gather each week, has been for a quarter of a century, and continues to be a potent force in promoting mutual understanding and goodwill. The twentieth century is an era of standardization and specialization. Such a spirit tends to segregate men of similar vocations and to separate them from men of all other vocations. We hear of fraternities and unions in increasing numbers. They are as prolific as the proverbial mushroom and they are valuable in that they stimulate their members to increase their efficiency to the utmost bound. But they have one defect, at least, in that they acquaint a man only with those whose interests and attainments are cognate with his own. The guild system of the middle ages was a blesing in that it bound together all men of the same trade, or business, and taught them how to become more capable servants of the community. On the other hand, however, it was baneful because its members often became so enthusiastic for their own guild as to forget that other guilds were in existence, of whose services the community stood in need.

The Rotary ideal is to moderate that class consciousness in so far as it might interfere with the welfare of the community. Men who belong to various professions and mercantile interests come together for luncheon each week, and converse informally. Such conversations and discussions must help to widen the horizon of each participant.

The Rotary Address.

Following the luncheon is the address, which is gradually creating a new and valuable form of presentation, which is destined to be of educational value in the future. When men of similar vocations meet, the speaker feels impelled to indulge in technical language lest he should be accused of underestimating the abilities and attainments of his hearers. But in the Rotary Club, the speakers are gradually coming to assume that, whatever the subject may be, it is a specialty of some of the audience, of passing interest to others, and quite foreign to the interest of others. Consequently the speaker must arrange and present his ideas in such a way that they may be comprehensible to novices in that field, and, at the same time, stimulating to specialists. One often wishes that the speakers, who appear before learned societies, would feel subject to the same compulsion. Their deliverances might then be much more helpful to a larger circle. Hon. Stanley Baldwin confesses that he has attended meetings of the Royal Society without being able to comprehend a single idea. The speech was too profound to be profitable.

But Rotary is not solely parochial. It believes that the citizens of different cities will profit by meeting at table from time to time. Or, if one city may be reminded of another city by means of an attendance contest, the results will be beneficial. Under the strain of daily life, our loyalties and sympathies contract as metal does in a falling temperature. Some influence is essential lest the process should advance too far. When modern civilization was emerging in Northern Europe, one of its handicaps was that neighboring cities and towns would not co-operate for the common good. Each city regarded itself as the natural enemy of its neighboring cities. Only by a tedious, and sometimes painful, process did the minds of men grow broader. While we rejoice in the progress that has been made because of the introduction of co-operation, yet we must deplore the fact that it is still trammelled in many respects, and it must remain so until personalties, forged between city and city, have done their beneficent work. Mr. Amery was a wise Imperialist when he advised the citizens of the British Empire to travel in other parts of the Empire; make personal acquaintances; and keep these friendships warm and vital by mailing a letter or post card to them occasionally.

Rotary International.

And finally, we come to the outermost rim of the Rotary wheel—Rotary International. When this century was greeted by the world, many so-called prophets saw visions of the dawn of an era in which good will should prevail among the nations, and swords and uniforms were to be made to be used only for dress parades. We know to-day that the prophets were victims of delusion. The story of what has happened in the first third of this century to shatter the amity of nations is too painful to record. Suffice it to state that a long chain of unfortunate events has been erected as a barrier, separating nations one from another. When the plenipotentiaries meet in formal council, they appear to indulge in platitudes and paradoxes only to separate without satisfactory results. Even if some pact is agreed upon, it is couched in terms so ambiguous and equivocal that doubts are awakened rather than allayed by it. "Hope deferred maketh the heart sick." Those who have become sick at heart are worthy of sympathy. But we have forgotten that statesmen and ambassadors merely reflect the sentiment of the nation which commissions them. They dare not do more. Great reforms must commence in the hearts of individuals. A nation is an aggregate of individuals, each of whom is a slave to his inherited instincts.

The Greeks stigmatized all who spoke a foreign tongue as barbarians. And the old Trojan bespoke the mind of humanity when he said: "I fear the Greeks, even when they come, bringing gifts." But acquaintanceship can do something to dispel these antipathies which have become chronic.

Bertrand Russell was greatly surprised on visiting China to find that Europe had no monopoly of culture. Rotary accepts the same hypothesis. It is convinced that the citizens of every nation will profit by sitting at meat, in friendly fashion, with the citizens of other lands even though their speech may be different. Smiles and laughter are the universally understood means of communication. In this way, men, who have been estranged by influences over which they had no control, learn to think in terms of friendship, rather than of friction. In this quiet, unobtrusive way, the day is brought nearer when the nations will bring their several banners into the banquet hall of humanity and

"Let their varying tints unite
To form in Heaven's light
One arch of peace."

Let us remember, then, that Rotarians entertain a threefold purpose; we cherish a threefold vision—the unified community, nation-wide co-operation, international good-will. Therefore, to use the title of a recent book, "More Power to You!"

BOY REQUIRES SUMMER OUTING

Rotary Boys' Camp is Just the Place For Annual Holiday.

CAREFUL SUPERVISION.

(By Rotarian Fred Roy)

Give your boy an outing this summer at the Rotary Boys' Camp.

Clifton H. Hodge, that veteran educator and nature-lover, tells us that to plant deep in the life of any boy a genuine love of nature is to give him one of the surest moral regulators known, and to present him with a fine sense of real values that will forever be a joy to him as he grows older.

A boy takes as naturally to nature as a duck to water. There s nothing in the world that interests him as much as birds and bugs or toads, or "Devil's Darning Needles," especially in the spring or summer, and every one of these little wild folks are nature's assistants to entice a boy out and away to the simple life in the out-of-doors. A boy who knows little or nothing about nature knows little or nothing about life.

City life unfortunately robs most boys of the opportunity to really know nature. There are about 495 trees native to North America and yet the average boy will only know about twenty or thirty. There are about 1,200 different varieties of birds and yet how few are really well known to the average boy? There are hundreds of common flowers. How many does your boy know?

Give your boy a chance to get familiar with nature by sending him to the Rotary Boys' Camp in Clear Lake. Excellent food is provided, and the boys are under the careful supervision of Doug Loomis, physical director of the Y.M.C.A.

"A feller isn't thinkin' mean
Out fishin';
His thoughts are mostly good and clean,
Out fishin';
He doesn't knock his fellow men
Or harbor any grudges then;
A feller's at his finest, when
Out fishin'."

KIWANIS ENDORSES ROTARY ACTIVITIES

Kiwanis Club Has Always Enjoyed Its Association With Rotary.

(By Kiwanian T. A. Mark, Chairman Publicity Committee)

Rotary consists of a group of men who "go about doing good." Yes, and it consists of more than that—for the wives (Rotary Annes) are usually rendering a very useful, if less conspicuous, service in the fine community work of uplift in which their husbands are engaged.

These present-day Samaritans are making crippled children to walk and through their activities the blind are enabled to see, the dumb assisted to speak, and the deaf to have their hearing restored. "In as much as ye did it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it also unto me."

Rotarians seem to have a wonderful capacity for making friends, and a friend is the best asset anyone can have. Friendship is reciprocal. In consists of helping others and being helped by them. A Rotarian helps a crippled child and the joy expressed by that child helps the Rotarian.

Rotary, in common with the other service clubs, believes that prevention is better than cure. They try to straighten the "dead man's curve" before the auto is wrecked—to have tenement houses inspected before children are burned to death—to have bridges repaired before the loaded truck goes through and the driver is killed—to have weak children placed in summer camps while there is yet hope. They follow the thought expressed by Leigh Hunt when Abou Ben Adhem says to the Angel:

"What writest thou?" — the vision raised its head,
And with a look made of all sweet accord,
Answered, "The names of those who love the Lord."
And is mine one?" said Abou. "Nay, not so,"
Replied the Angel. Abou spake more low,
But cheerily still; and said, "I pray thee, then,
Write me as one that loves his fellow-men."

In the field of athletics, Rotary renders most important assistance in fostering the idea that—instead of a few becoming very highly-trained and the vast majority merely spectators—every man, woman and child should be moderately trained and benefit thereby. They also encourage that community spirit which says—victory is not so much in winning the game as in playing fairly.

These men have their living to make; few of them are wealthy. But amid their business worries they make time to render this splendid community service, which is also your work and mine. Surely they deserve our whole-hearted support..

For Uniform Prices.

Morelia, Mexico— Rotarians of Morelia, through their Vocational Service Committee, have enlisted the aid of the local chamber of commerce in a campaign for a fixed price for all merchandise sold in their city. This campaign, it is believed, will result in greater confidence on the part of the buying public.

BILL OF RIGHTS NOW CONFIRMED

Ten Provisions Are Drawn Up For Crippled Children.

CRIPPLED DESPITE CARE

The International Society for Crippled Children, in tenth annual convention assembled at Cleveland, Ohio, declared the following to be the "Crippled Child's 'Bill of Rights'," in which and through which the society, for the first time states, from the standpoint of the child, its program for the prevention of crippling conditions, the finding of the crippled child, its care, treatment and education, and finally, its placement in the life of the world.

I.—Every child has the right to be well born; that is to say, the right to a sound body, complete in its members, physically whole. In the securing of this right we pledge ourselves to use our influence that proper pre-natal, intra-natal and post-natal care be provided to the end that congenital deformity, insofar as it is humanly and scientifically possible, be prevented.

II.—Every child has the right to develop under clean, wholesome, healthful conditions. In declaring this right, this society undertakes to use its influence to the end that children everywhere, through proper legislation, both local and general, and through proper supervision and protection, may grow to manhood and womanhood free from crippling conditions caused by insufficient nourishment, improper food, or unsanitary environment, and free, so far as possible, from danger of accident, wounding or maiming.

Crippled Despite Care.

III.—Notwithstanding the rights of children to be well born and to be protected throughout childhood, it is recognized that in spite of all human precautions there will be, unfortunately, some crippled children. These we declare to have the right to the earliest possible examination, diagnosis and treatment, recognizing, as we do, the fact that many thousand cases of permanent crippling may be eliminated by early and effective care.

IV.—Every crippled child has a right, not only to the earliest possible treatment, but to the most effective continuing care, treatment and nursing, including the use of such appliances as are best calculated to assist in remedying or ameliorating its condition.

V.—Every crippled child has the right to an education. Without this, all other provisions, unless for the relief of actual suffering, are vain.

VI.—Every crippled child has the right not only to care, treatment, and education, but to such treatment as will fit him or her for self-support, either wholly or partially, as the conditions may dictate. Without such practical application education is likewise purposeless.

VII.—Every crippled child has the right to vocational placement, for unless the child—boy or girl—after having been given physical care and treatment, and after being educated and trained, is actually placed in a proper position in the life of the world, all that has gone before is of no avail.

Right to Treatment.

VIII.—Every crippled child has the right to considerate treatment, not only from those responsible for its being and for its care, treatment, education, training and placement, but from those with whom it is thrown into daily contact, and every possible influence should be exerted by this and affiliated organizations to secure this right, in order that, so far as possible, the crippled jibe or the bitter taunt, or, worse still, the demoralizing pity of its associates, may be removed.

IX.—Every crippled child has the right to spiritual, as well as bodily development, and, without regard to particular religious or denominational belief, is entitled to have nourishment for soul-growth.

X.—In brief, not only for his own sake, but for the benefit of society as a whole, every crippled child has the right to the best body which modern science can help it to secure; the best mind which modern education can provide; the best training which modern vocational guidance can give; the best position in life which his physical condition, perfected as best it may be, will permit, and the best opportunity for spiritual development which its environment affords.

Rotary To Rescue

When you have helped a crippled girl or boy to an easier way through life you have not only helped the girl or boy but have created an asset for your country.

BEST EDUCATION COMES FROM HUMAN RELATIONS

There are two sorts of education. There is the education where you get your knowledge and the education which is equally important, of friction with other human beings and that you cannot get as long as you sit by yourself in your lodgings. You only get it through rubbing your brains with those of other people. You get the corners knocked off, you learn toleration and you emerge an infinitely better fellow, able to get at work at once among your fellow men. Work will be infintely better done if you have gone through that process of friction and massage with other human minds and men. —Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin.

Rotary Should Aid By Preventing Cripples

RECENTLY PERFECTED SERUM HALTS PROGRESS OF PARALYSIS

Clubs Might Collect Antitoxin in Case of Outbreak, Says Dr. R. I. Harris.

HISTORY OF SERUM

An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure is an ancient maxim that Dr. R. I. Harris, orthopedic surgeon, and associate surgeon of Toronto General Hospital, through whose hands have passed many Sudbury crippled children, calls to the attention of Rotary Clubs engaged in crippled children's work.

"To many Rotarians who are interested in crippled children, their aid in the many activities which are necessary for the collection of convalescent serum for treatment of infantile paralysis will probably be of more value in the prevention of deformities than would 10 times as much effort expended upon children who are already paralyzed," he wrote recently.

Dr. Harris inaugurated the Sudbury Rotary Club's crippled children's clinic in 1926, when he examined 65 children, and recommended courses of treatment for them. He has always kept in close contact with the Sudbury Rotary Club, and with the little patients sent to the hospital with which he is connected or to the Hospital for Sick Children in Toronto.

In a recent article in the Canadian Public Health Journal, Dr. Harris addresses himself particularly to Rotary Clubs. His article, in part, follows:

Preventing Deformities.

"In these humanitarian days great interest is being displayed in the cure and care of crippled children. Rotarians and others have made these unfortunate children the special objects of their interest. With admirable energy they have organized surveys and financed hospital and surgical treatment. From their years of experience, there has come a clear conception of the magnitude of the problem; the numbers of crippled children, the extent of their disabilities, the variety of causes, the permanence of some of the disabilities, and the need for special education and vocational training. From this intimate knowledge of the problem has grown naturally the question: 'How many of these crippling deformities could have been prevented?'

"Certainly prevention, if it can be attained, is much better than treatment after the deformity is established. All too frequently deformities, once established, can never be completely cured. They can be improved by surgical care, but even after all has been done which can be done, the child is still permanently physically handicapped. It is obvious that in such cases prevention would be better than treatment after the deformity is established. Not only would the child be spared a long and distressing illness, but the permanent disability would be entirely prevented. The prevention of deformities is well worth our serious consideration.

"The problem of how to prevent deformities is complex. To a great extent it is a problem belonging to the field of medicine, but there are social and administrative aspects to it which should command the interest of every public-spirited citizen. To begin with, the problem of prevention varies with the disease which has caused the deformity. In Ontario we find that the deformities of crippled children are chiefly due to infantile paralysis, tuberculosis, congenital deformities, and rickets. An approximate estimate of the relative importance of the various causative factors is as follows: Infantile paralysis, 40 per cent.; tuberculosis, 30 per cent.; congenital deformities, 15 per cent., and other cases 15 per cent. It is clear that effective measures of prevention will differ very widely, depending upon the disease we must deal with.

Infantile Paralysis.

"Infantile paralysis is an infectious disease which recurs each year during the summer and early fall. It is due to a germ so small that it cannot be seen under the highest powers of the microscope; hence, it is called an ultramicroscopic virus. The peculiar property of this virus is its ability to attack the cells in the spinal cord, which send out impulses to make muscles move. The spinal cord cells are not attacked in the earliest stages of the disease, but only after it has been in existence for several days. Indeed, some patients entirely escape the paralysis which is the serious feature of the disease. If the disease does localize about the cells in the spinal cord, it causes the death of many of them and the serious derangement of many others. As a result, all the muscles dependent upon these cells are deprived of their impulses and are paralyzed.

"With the lapse of time the disease subsides, and those cells in the spinal cord which have been damaged, but not killed, recover. When they do so, they again send out impulses to their muscles, and these recover from their paralysis. But those cells which are killed by the infection are never replaced. Muscles supplied by them are permanently paralyzed. A typical case of infantile paralysis passes through an acute illness of a few days' duration, which is followed by paralysis. After a long lapse of time some of the paralysis clears up, but usually some remains permanently. The permanent partial paralysis results in unequal pull upon extremities and this, when continued over a long period of time, causes distortions of the feet and limbs. The disability of patients who have suffered from infantile paralysis is due first of all to the paralysis and secondly to the distortion which has resulted from long-continued paralysis.

Prevention a Complex Problem.

"To prevent these paralyses and deformities is a difficult and complex problem though of recent years great strides have been made. It has not been possible to develop a serum or vaccine which will render individuals immune from the disease. The invisibility of the germ has baffled all efforts to study it and to turn it to useful ends. It has been found, however, that one attack of infantile paralysis renders a patient immune to the disease for life, just as does one attack of small pox or measles. In the blood of such patients are substances which will assist children struggling with the disease to overcome their infection. This knowledge led to the administration of the blood of convalescent patients to patients suffering from the disease.

"This is the method of treatment by convalescent serum. Its value is still under judgment, but already sufficient experience has accumulated to make it clear that it marks the greatest advance in the treatment of this dread scourge of childhood. You can realize its limitations. The serum cannot be prepared from animals, hence it can never be available in large quantities and always ready. It can only be obtained from human beings who have themselves suffered from the disease. Moreover, in order to prevent the paralysis which is the dread future of the disease, it must be administered before paralysis has set in. This means that the disease must be diagnosed in the pre-paralytic stage, and often this is difficult.

During the Early Stages.

Even when paralysis has established itself, something can be done to prevent deformities. During the early stages the paralyzed limbs are tender and painful, and as a result the child wants to lie undisturbed. He will do this in any position which seems most comfortable, and often the position in which he places his limb is one of bad deformity. Long fixation in this position leads to changes which tend to make the position permanent. In the end, he recovers from the bedridden state with a paralyzed limb and one, moreover, which is fixed in a bad and useless position. It would have been just as easy, by means of splints, to have given him the comfort he desired and at the same time to have maintained the limb in a good and useful position. About one-third of the operations which are undertaken upon children who have suffered from infantile paralysis, are for the correction of deformities which could have been prevented by proper attention to the position of the limb during the long period of convalescence. This failure is due largely to the inability of parents to appreciate the great length of time over which painstaking care must be given to the limb."

History of Serum

Convalescent serum was first used in Canada in 1918, according to Dr. Helen MacMurchy, former chief of the division of child welfare in the Department of National Health. It was given to two children in the Hospital for Sick Children, in Toronto, she says in an article in the December issue of Health.

In this same hospital, in 1929, when the urgent need of the serum was realized, the physician in charge called a taxi, sent for one of the house surgeons, gave him a list of the out-patients, more or less disabled, who had infantile paralysis and had been attending the out-door department of the hospital, and despatched him with instructions to bring these patients at once, three or four at a time, to the hospital laboratory, having first explained to the parents what was needed and why, and having got their consent and the child's consent. The blood thus obtained in the hospital laboratory from these donors was refrigerated and sent immediately to the Connaught Laboratories of the University of Toronto where it was prepared, placed in ampoules containing 30 c.c. or more and refrigerated till it was needed for immediate use.

The Donors Come

As soon as people know that donors were wanted, donors came to give their services. "So the others will not be disabled like me," as one of them said.

One boy said in 1929:

"Why didn't the doctor take my blood?"

"It was because he thought you were not strong enough to spare it," said the nurse.

"But I want to give my blood," said the boy.

In the same article, Dr. MacMurchy tells how Rotary Clubs or others may locate donors in case of an epidemic. "A slide shown in the moving picture theatres asking donors to call at a certain address will bring donors," she wrote. "The radio is perhaps the best way of all. Some doctor with a good radio voice who can tell what we want and why will bring all the donors we need. A reasonable sum of money should be paid to each donor for this service."

The Crisis

Explaining how the serum acts, she said:

"If you have ever known about a patient with pneumonia, you will remember about the crisis. What happens at the crisis? The high temperature falls suddenly in two or three hours to normal, or nearly normal temperature. The patient who has been fighting for his life has gained the victory. The fever has left him. He feels much better. He has passed from a condition of danger to a condition of safety and he makes a good recovery. What caused this wonderful change?

"It was the poison of the pneumonia germs in the blood which caused the fever and the deadly illness. At the crisis, the powers of the body have prepared enough protective serum in the blood to destroy or neutralize the poison of the pneumonia germs and the danger of death is over. The enemy is conquered.

"It seems that much the same thing happens in poliomyelitis. The bodily powers prepare a serum which destroys or neutralizes the poison of poliomyelitis and the patient's life is saved. If the bodily powers are unable to prepare enough of serum to save him, the patient dies. If the bodily power can prepare enough serum to save his life, but not enough to save some parts of his nervous system from destruction, the patient suffers more or less paralysis.

"It takes some time for the bodily powers to make the serum. If we can put the convalescent serum into the patient's blood at the beginning, before he is paralyzed, then the temperature falls to nearly normal, the patient feels better and these is no paralysis or weakness of the muscles. But he must get the right serum in the right way and at the right time.

Used in Alberta

"Before 1927 there were not many cases of poliomyelitis in Canada. In 1927 there were 610, more than half

"Manitoba was the first province in Canada and one of the first places in the world where convalescent serum was used on a large scale with marked success. This was in 1928. Most of this work was done in Winnipeg. A research committee was formed with the co-operation of the medical profession, the University of Manitoba, and the provincial health authorities. An advertisement in the newspapers help to get donors.

The results were remarkable. Fifty-seven children who had the disease just beginning and who had not developed paralysis received the serum. Not one of the fifty-seven died. Fifty-three of them recovered completely, with no paralysis. The other four had some paralysis after recovery. Eighty-seven other children who had the disease but did not get the serum or did not get it in time met a very different fate. Seventeen died. Forty-eight were paralysed. Only 22 recovered completely."

This experience was repeated in Ontario. In 1929 there were 477 cases in Ontario, and of those which received the serum the first day of illness all recovered, and none were paralyzed.

The serum must be given at the beginning of the disease. It must be given in the first 12 hours.

of them in Alberta. Convalescent serum was used in Alberta with good results in 1927.

Rotary Is Not . . .

1.—Rotary membership is not a business asset—it's a personal liability.

2.—Rotary is not a secret order—it has no rituals, no robes, no pass-words, no oath-bound pledges and no insurance benefits.

3.—Rotary is not an end—it is an ideal that grows daily.

4.—Rotary is not a hospital in which to nurse grudges and grievances—it is an open air sanitarium for doers, not drones.

5.—Rotary is not a refuge for snobs and hypocrites—but is a meeting place for livewires and keen thinkers.

6.—Rotary is not a debating society in which to settle differences of politics and religion—or anything else.

Visit Leper Colony.

Building The Bridge For Him

An old man, traveling a lone highway,
Came at the evening, cold and gray,
To a chasm, deep and wide.
The old man crossed in the twilight dim,
For the sullen stream held no fears for him.
But he turned when he reached the other side,
And builded a bridge to span the tide.
"Old man," cried a fellow pilgrim near,
"You are wasting your strength with building here;
Your journey will end with the ending day,
And you never again will pass this way.
You have crossed the chasm deep and wide,
Why build you a bridge at eventide?"
And the builder raised his old gray head:
"Good friend, on the path I have come," he said,
"There followeth after me to-day
A youth whose feet will pass this way.
This stream, which has been as naught to me,
To that fair-haired boy may a pitfall be;
He, too, must cross in the twilight dim—
Good friend, I am building that bridge for him."

ROTARY'S REPLY TO CHALLENGE OF THE CENTURY

Man's Social Concepts Found Lagging Behind His Inventiveness.

"NEW DEAL" IS NOT NEW.

By WALTER D. HEAD
(Chairman, Rotary International Service Committee).

To attempt to dam the stream of human invention would be, it seems to me, both foolish and impossible. As well try to hold back the sea or stop the march of human progress. At present the economic machine is out of order and for this reason there are some who would scrap it or attempt to rebuild it. From the Rotary viewpoint, however, present conditions call not for a restriction of human ingenuity, not for a new and different type of activity, but for a redirection and an altered emphasis of activity.

Man has lifted himself to his present high standards of conduct and opportunity for experience through his intellect, his imagination, and his inventive genius. Not to encourage the continuation of this process would unquestionably be retrogression. What is needed is an economic and political control by which the products of man's brain shall be used for the maximum benefit of society and not chiefly to satisfy "greed for profits."

"A very large part of the revolutionary spirit now abroad in many lands," says President Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia University, "would be quickly quelled could the mass of the population be made to feel quite certain that in transacting the greater business of the world the service motive comes first and that the profit motive is subordinate to it."

The continuation of our civilization depends upon the prompt and responsible consideration, in terms of their social implications, of science, of the machine, and of our rapidly increasing productive capacity. The old philosophies of laissez-faire, of individualism, of competition and of supply and demand, and our blind trust in the automatic adaptability of our economic system are to-day in disrepute. We are not convinced that we should fly from the manifest weakness or obsolescence of these concepts to a suppression of initiative. But if we are to cut the grounds from under irresponsible radicalism, we must boldly face a readjustment of our political and economic procedures.

"New Deal" Is Not New.

In some quarters this is referred to as the "New Deal," but there is nothing new about it. Without smugness or Pharisaism, Rotarians might point out that for more than 20 years the substitution of the service motive for the selfish motive— "Service Above Self"— has been the activating principle of their organization. Rotary, however, did not discover this principle. Indeed it was expressed some thousands of years ago in the words, "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and all these things shall be added unto you."

Fundamental world changes are taking place almost daily before our eyes. Their outcome depends completely on their success in meeting the needs, not of any one class, but of the entire human race. Otherwise we shall have a continuation of unbalance and of recurring strife.

The special contribution which Rotarians can make to the era of recovery is in both pointing out and courageously standing for the application of the service principle to all human relationships.

About a year ago Past President Clinton Anderson asked the question, "Is This Rotary's Hour to Speak?" The answer is emphatically, "yes." Because of our international character and because of our potential power of leadership, we are faced with a great opportunity and a great responsibility. If Rotary and, indeed the whole service club movement are to continue to justify themselves, they will have to rise to the challenge of the times and accept a position of real leadership in planning for a new world order.

20,000 Miles For Two.

Woodstock, Ont.— a major activity of the Woodstock Rotary Club for many years has been its work among crippled children. More than one hundred have been given treatment, and in many cases they have been completely cured, due in part to the efforts of Woodstock Rotarians. One boy, for example, was brought to the hospital in Toronto 52 times, involving a round trip of 180 miles on each occasion; another youth, from a nearby town, was taken to Toronto 54 times — a 200-mile round trip. On these two cases Woodstock Rotarians totalled more than 20,000 miles.

DUES PAID PROMPTLY.

Buena Vista, Pa.—When Buena Vista Rotarians assemble for their first meeting each month, they find at each place a check filled out and ready to be signed, covering one-twelfth of the cost of dues and meals. This simple plan has proved effective in the collection of dues.

KING'S PERSONAL CODE OF ETHICS

Hangs in His Majesty's Workshop in Buckingham Palace.

SIX SIMPLE RULES

His Majesty, King George, has compressed his personal code into six simple rules which hang in his "work-shop" in Buckingham Palace. They are:

1.—Teach me to be obedient to the rules of the game.

2—Teach me to distinguish between sentiment and sentimentality, admiring the one and despising the other.

3—Teach me neither to proffer nor to receive cheap praise.

4—If I am called upon to suffer, let me be like a well-bred beast that goes away to suffer in silence.

5—Teach me to win, if I may; if I may not, teach me to be a good loser.

6—Teach me neither to cry for the moon nor to cry over spilt milk.

OMEMEE W.M.S.

Ladies Hear Splendid Report of Greenbank Convention by Mesdames Bradley and Vaughan.

OMEMEE, June . (Examiner Correspondence).—A very happy time was enjoyed by the members of the Women's Missionary Society of Trinity United Church when they met at the home of Mrs. T. H. McConnell on Thursday afternoon for their June meeting.

The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Bradley. Mrs. Lamb and Mrs. R. Williamson were appointed program committee. The Devotional Leaflet was given by Mrs. Bradburn. A vocal duet, "Whispering Hope," was rendered by Mrs. McConnell and Mrs. Morecombe.

Reports of the convention held recently at Greenbank were very interestingly given by Mrs. Bradley and Mrs. Vaughan.

The ladies intended to sew at the conclusion of business, but they hadn't enough time after the reports were given, so it was postponed to the July meeting, which will be held at the home of Mrs. D. Weir.

The annual quiting will be held in the church basement on June 14.

The meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. Reddick, after which dainty refreshmentsw re served.

FURTHER NEGRO EDUCATION.

BUNKIE, La. — An industrial school for negroes—one which will teach them to raise their produce properly, and conserve what they raise, is a project in which Bunkie Rotarians are very much interested. Five acres of land for the school have been donated; and a negro professor, who has appeared before the Rotary Club, is working up interest among his own people. It is planned soon to engage in a campaign for funds for a simple building to house the school.

Tree Planting.

Shanklin, I.O.W., England.—Rotarians of the Shanklin club in cooperation with Rotarians from Newport, Ryde, Cowes, and Sandown are engaged in a tree planting campaign to add to the beauty of the Isle of Wight highways. More than a hundred Cornish elms and sycamores have thus far been planted, each tree bearing the inscription: "These trees were planted by Island Rotarians, November, 1933."

ARCHITECTURAL PRIZE

ROSARIO, Argentina.—To encourage the construction of more artistic edifices, the Rotary Club of Rosario is awarding a prize annually to that architect who is most responsible for the most artistic building erected during the year.

BALUCHISTAN SUFFERS.

Mach Area Wipe Out in 1931 is Again Badly Stricken.

CALCUTTA, India, June 14 (C.P.). — An earthquake, apparently worse than the Bimar Province disaster which killed thousands last January, shook Afghanistan and Baluchistan early to-day.

The affected area was reported to stretch along the whole north-west Himalaya range

Indications were that Mach, near Quetta, which was completely wiped out by an earthquake in 1931, has again been badly stricken

Reports suggested the epicentre of the quake was in Afghanistan.

Seismographs here, however, recording the most severe shock at 3 a.m., G.M.T. (10 p.m. E.S.T.) indicated the centre of the greatest earth activity was in Baluchistan.

60TH ASSEMBLY ENDS SESSIONS

PROFITS ACCUMULATE.

By HAROLD F. FAIR
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

TORONTO, June 14. (CP).—Wished Godspeed by the Moderator, Dr. J. S. Shortt, Barrie, commissioners to the 60th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada ended their deliberations at 1.20 p.m. to-day in the harmony which characterized the opening over a week ago.

Rushing through a lengthy agenda this morning, the Assembly wound up its business of legislating for the Dominion-wide denomination for another year. There was little opposition to the various reports presented.

Incorporation of a trustee board, proposed in an overture by the Toronto presbytery, was opposed by D. M. Rowet, Montreal, in the

HIGH OFFICIALS LIVES IN DANGER

"Three Judges of Hell" Send Bombs to French President, Premier, Cabinet.

MAIL CLERKS INJURED.

PARIS, June 14 (AP)—A weird campaign of terror by "The Three Judges of Hell," who have threatened the lives of the President, Premier and other high officials of France, was revealed to-day when a bamb which failed to explode was received by an American firm.

One bomb mailed by "The Three Judges" exploded yesterday in a post office, injuring three clerks.

Letters threatening death were contained in both bombs and also have been sent to President Albert LeBrun, Premier Gaston Doumergue members of the Cabinet and other distinguished men.

The second infernal machine was delivered to-day by parcel post to "Tokalon," a large American beauty product firm controlled by E. Virgil Neal.

A girl mail clerk's life was probably saved by her quick realization that a faint metallic sound as she opened the package was a spring intended to explode the bomb. She kept the package closed until police arrived, when it was opened by experts. They found the same powder and loaded mechanism as was in yesterday's machine.

Quintuplets' Mother Suffers Relapse

Suffering a relapse after the birth of her quintuple children, Mrs. Oliva Dionne of Callander, Ontario, has been forced back to bed by Doctor Dafoe. The doctor states that Mrs. Dionne got up too soon after the birth of the children. She is shown here with one of other children shortly after she was able to arise from her bed and "get back to work."

75,000 Tons Limestone Are Dislodged For Use in Havelock Plant.

18 TONS DYNAMITE USED.

Terrific Explosion Moves Rocks, Size of House, Like Corks.

(Examiner Correspondent)

HAVELOCK, June 14—More than seventy-five thousand tons of Ontario limestone went hurtling through the air a few minutes after ten o'clock this morning, when eighteen tons of dynamite were set off with 110 volts of electricity. The spectacle had been looked forward to by hundreds of people from the district and many came long distances, taking up their positions on the small hill southwest of the quarry.

The signal to fire was given shortly after 10 o'clock after the little steam locomotive at the plant had rolled up and down the railway sounding a whistle of warning in shrill staccato nates that echoed and re-echoed from the face of one rock to another. There was a tense moment, then came a single shot in the swamp. This was the signal for "eyes right" and the spectacle.

There seems to be something fascinating in one of these big shots The big hill lifts, a puff of smoke rises, the high speed movie cameras catch a thin white electrical current that is too rapid for the human eye. Large bolders the size of an average house are tossed about like wafers. Finer and smaller rock is rocketted almost a half a mile and comes down with a muddy thud in the swamp directly west from the

Quintuplets' Mother Is Much Improved

CORBEIL, Ont., June 14 (C.P.).—Mrs. Oliva Dionne, mother of the quintuplets who completed their 17th day of life to-day, was much improved and her girl infants are all in good condition and gaining weight, Dr. A. R. Dafoe reported.

Mrs. Dionne rested well during the night and was anxious to be up and around her home to-day However, her physician has decided she must rest for some days at least. He ordered her back to bed yesterday when he found excitement around the farm house had caused a slight relapse.

The babies weighed 11 pounds 4 ounces to-day, a gain of 4 ounces among them.

Mrs. Ford Turner Undergoes Emergency Operation in Oshawa Hospital.

ACCIDENT IN OSHAWA.

As a result of injuries received in an automobile collision last evening, Mrs. Ford Turner of this city was admitted to Oshawa General Hospital, and underwent an emergency operation. While her condition is considered as serious, it is reported, her condition showed slight improvement to-day.

It is learned that Mr. and Mrs. Turner, who were on their way to attend the fortieth wedding anniversary celebrations of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Mitchell at Oshawa, were on the final lap of their journey at about six o'clock last evening when their car was involved in collision with another automobile in the residential district of Oshawa.

While both the vehicles were slightly damaged, none of the persons involved in the accident sustained injury with exception of Mrs. Turner. At first her injuries were not considered serious, the doctor who attended her, in the first instance coming to the conclusion that Mrs. Turner was suffering from shock.

Subsequently, it is stated, Mrs. Turner began to sink rapidly and medical attendants ordered her immediate removal to hospital. She underwent an emergency operation besides having two blood transfusions.

Effect Of Drought To Hit U.S. In Winter

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—Belief that effects of the drought will continue into next winter led United States Government officials today to start planning a long-term relief program.

Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace and Chester C. Davis, Farm Administrator, agreed that shortages of hay and feed crops created by the drought would not be felt in some sections for many months, but that such conditions eventually would develop, making necessary additional help.

It was estimated that cattle purchasing, which now totals about 100,000 head, will continue for six months at least with farmers selling their livestock later when the feed deficiency becomes apparent. Davis estimated that about 2,000,000 head would be purchased eventually.

Prime Minister Demands Balanced Budget Before Erecting New Federal Buildings

Reporting to the City Council on the results of a hurried visit he and Alderman Hamilton made last week to Ottawa in order to urge the need of a new Federal Building here, Mayor Denne said last night: "We received a wire from Mr. Peck on Thursday that an appointment for us with Hon. H. A. Stewart, Minister of Public Works, for Friday morning. We saw Hon. Mr. Stewart and he showed us that plans for the new Peterborough Post Office and Customs House was on file together with estimates of the cost of such a building.

"However, he told us emphatically that the Prime Minister would not consent to the building of any new post office in Peterborough or anywhere else until the budget is balanced," concluded the Mayor.

Alderman Ellis said: "Well if others don't get any public works we well have to be satisfied too." This seemed to express the feeling of the whole Council.

Alderman Hamilton stated: "It was evident to us that Mr. Peck had done everything to push the need for such a new building here."

Farm Troubles

CHARLEROI, Pa., June 14 (C.P.). — Droughts and the like are merely minor worries for Farmer Mike McQuire. It's blackbirds, rabbits—and necessarily nude scarecrows—that almost have him licked.

He had to move his lettuce garden to a new site because the rabbits ate the lettuce. In the new site, securely fenced, the blackbirds feasted. McQuire built a scarecrow and someone stole the clothes.

Then he built another scarecrow, with his extra remaining suit. Someone stole it, too. Now the scarecrow wears just a shirt and shorts—very ragged.

PLANE SMASH INQUIRY TAKES SURPRISE TURN

Navy Department Sends Officer for Explosive Formula Taken From Wreck.

CORONER'S HANDS TIED.

Surrenders Evidence on Authority "Greater Than That of County or State."

By Morris Watson
(Copyright, 1934, by The Associated Press.)

LIBERTY, N.Y., June 14 (AP).—The United States Navy Department in a sudden surprise move into the investigation of Saturday's air liner crush on Last Chance Mountain, had stirred up a cloud of mystery sparks to-day from a document recovered from the wreckage and captioned: "Formula for Explosive D".

A naval intelligence department officer, his aide and a naval chauffeur appeared here last yesterday and departed three hours later with documents and chemicals which Coroner Victor G. Bourke had recovered from the luggage of William Baxter Bader, Buffalo Chemical engineer, who was one of the seven victims of the air liner crash.

When surprise was expressed that the coroner should relinquish possession of evidence which had been expected to figure in the inquest, set for this afternoon, he said he had turned over the evidence because an authority "greater than that of the county or state' had demanded it.

Moratorium on Young, Dawes Loans to Last Until Further Notice.

FRANCE PLANS ACTION.

Move Will Save Germany $160,000,000 in Foreign Exchange in 6 Months.

BERLIN, June 14.— (AP) — The German government today declared a moratorium on payment on the Young and Dawes Loans, supplementing a previous moratorium by the Reichsbank on the payment of all medium and long-term foreign obligations between July 1 and Dec. 31.

Lutz Schwerin von Krosick, the Minister of Finance, announced that the payment of interest and amortization on state loans will be suspended "for the time being until further notice."

He announced that an explanatory statement would be made in all capitals where parts of the state loans were issued. In its moratorium announcement, the Reichsbank said no cash transfers would be made for the six months period

By the one stroke, Germany will save herself approximately 400,000,000 marks (about $160,000,000) in foreign exchange for the second half of 1934.

There is no direct mention of either the Young or Dawes loan in the 10-page communique telling of the moratorium since such loans are a government affair, but it was reliably reported that "there will be no exchange available for servicing such loans."

Grave Situation

(By George Hambleton, Canadian Press Staff Writer)

LONDON, June 14 (CP Cable). — The German six-month moratorium on the Young and Dawes loans announced to-day has raised a grave situation and the seriousness of the step taken by Germany will be stressed in the House of Commons to-morrow.

Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, will make a statement on the British position, it was learned shortly after the moratorium—running from July to December—was announced from Berlin. The Chancellor, it was indicated, would stress the gravity of the decision.

When the possibility of suspension of payments on the Dawes and Young loans was first rumored some weeks ago the British Government took the opportunity to point out the serious view it would take of such a step.

PARIS, June 14. — Fuit homo missus a Deo, cui nomen erat Joannes. Thats' Latin, you will say. So it is. It is the sixth verse of the first chapter of the Gospel according to Saint John. In English the text runs this way. "There was a man sent from God and his name was John." These words blazed in fiery-red headlines on the front page of the monarchist papers in Spain on the 17th of May.

May 17 was the 48th birthday of His Majesty Alfonso XIII, the former king. If everything had been right between the former king and his followers, the headlines should have run: There was a man sent from God and his name was Alfonso. Then why not Alfonso? Why John? And who is John? Certainly not the writer of the fourth Gospel, nor the Apostle John, or that other John, the Presbyter; or John the Baptist. It is difficult to see, not even by the widest stretch of the imagination, how these venerable personages of biblical days could have anything

Poisoned

SYDNEY, Australia, June 14. —(A.P.) — Fifteen Newcastle children, declaring themselves poisoned by candy, were rushed, writing in agony, to a hospital in ambulances to-day.

Physicians hurriedly administered treatments to relieve their pain. As soon as they had a chance, they examined candies which had been eaten.

The laboratory experts pronounced them perfectly harmless. "An amazing example of mass suggestion," said a physician.5

To the Pennsylvania German jurors, "bluts" meant 'bump."

FILM MAGNATE'S WIFE ROBBED

Mrs. Adolph Zuhor Loses $86,075 in Jewels, Cash at Chicago Hotel.

NECKLACE WORTH $75,000.

CHICAGO, June 14 (A.P.).—Mrs. Adolph Zukor, wife of the film magnate, reported to the police today that she had been robbed of $86,075 in money and jewellery while a guest at the Blackstone Hotel last night.

Mrs. Zukor said she awoke at midnight and noticed a light shining into her bedroom from another suite. She arose to investigate and found a black French bag had been taken from the room. It contained a $75,000 necklace made up of 79 pearls, with a platinum clasp set with an eight carat diamond.

In addition there was a cluster diamond ring set with three large and several small diamonds, valued at $3,000; a diamond brooch, several bits of jewellery of lesser value, and $50 in cash.

Mrs. Zukor's maid was sleeping in an adjoining room and was unaware of the burglary.

LOCAL DOCTOR IS APPOINTED HEALTH OFFICER

Dr. G. Murray Fraser Be Peterborough's First Full-time M.O.H.

COUNCIL PASSES BY-LAW.

Salary is Fixed at $3,000—Duties Will Start on August 1.

Dr. G. Murray Fraser was appointed unanimously last night by the City Council to the offices of full-time Medical Officer of Health and City Physician of Peterborough at a salary of $3,000 per annum.

Appointment of Dr. Fraser took place at a special meeting of the Council, called at the request of Alderman Walter Stocker, chairman of the Board of Health, to reach some definite decision regarding the plan to combine public health services in the city.

It was announced at the outset that Dr. Fraser's application was the only one received when the Council had recently advertised in The Examiner for applicants from local doctors for the two positions. It was stated that doctors in the city had signed a statement that as long as the two offices of Medical Officer of Health and City Physician were combined they would not apply for the position.

Decision Needed

Mayor Denne told the Council, "We want to decide whether to employ Dr. Fraser or throw the applications wide open. We are only wasting time as it is. There are three nurses at the Isolation Hospital who might easily be used in other health services. They only have an average of about one patient a month up there."

It was then Alderman Tuggey recalled that local doctors had made the statement that they had agreed not to apply for the city medical position, left vacant by Dr. T. W. H. Young, as long as both offices were combined. Alderman Hamilton stated that the Council never expected the City Medical Officer of Health to attend all the city's relief cases.

Alderman Macdonald maintained that the Council should proceed and appointment a full-time Medical Officer of Health appointed and for tenders for the job and if none of the other doctors want the job that is their business," he said. "It was an open book. I think we should go ahead and make the appointment now."

Report on Interview

At Alderman Tuggey's request, Mayor Denne then reported on the interview he and Alderman Stocker had had with the Board of Education. "The Board told us that as soon as we had a full-time Medical Officer of eHalth apointed and some definite program prepared, its members were ready to co-operate.

MRS. J. PICCARD TESTS BALLOON

Lands at Leamington After Flight Preparing for Stratosphere Ascent.

FIRST SOLO EFFORT.

DETROIT, June 14 (AP)—Mrs. Jeanette Piccard, on a solo flight as part of her training for a balloonist's license, notified her instructor here this morning that she had landed at Leamington, Ont., shortly after 9 a.m. (E.S.T.).

Mrs. Piccard, who hopes to pilot the balloon of her husband, Prof. Jean Piccard, on a stratospheric flight th's summer, telegraphed her husband and her instructor, Edward J. Hill, that she made a "very good" landing at Leamington, which is on Lake Erie about 30 miles from Windsor, Ont.

The telegram said the baloon had been carried out over Lake St Clair and then caught in an air current which carried her southward to Leamington.

Mrs. Piccard first took off at 1.30 a.m., for the night solo flight that is a prerequisite for a balloonist's license. She landed about four hours later in the outskirts of Detroit and then took off immediately for the day solo flight that completes her course of training.

HEPBURN NAMES MINES MINISTER TOLL GATE LIST

Reads Letters Seeking Influence to Place Strathnavar Brand With Board.

AT GODERICH RALLY.

Disclosure Follows Challenge From Henry to Add to "Charges."

GODERICH, Ont., June 14 (CP) —Liberal promises of additional charges in connection with the Ontario Liquor Control Board involved Hon. Charles McCrea, Ontario Minister of Mines, to-day, as Mitchell F. Hepburn, Ontario Liberal Leader, charged the Minister with "using his influence" in having a brand of whiskey placed with the board.

Mr. Hepburn's latest "toll gate" charge was made at Goderich last night as he continued his campaigning for the Ontario general elections, June 19. Mr. Hepburn said he was accepting Premier George S. Henry's challenge to add to his "toll gate" charges.

The Liberal Leader produced four letters on which he claimed his charges against Mr. McCrea were based. He said one letter on the letterhead from H. Wright, lumbermen's and road contractors' agent at Ottawa, and was addressed to "Dear Friend Charlie."

After surprise had been expressed six new brands of Scotch had been placed with the Board and "My brand, 'Strathnavar' is not among them," Mr. Hepburn said the letter added: "I trust you will take this matter up with Sir Henry Drayton (then chairman of the Board) at the earliest possible moment and that I can count on you to do your utmost to see that Strathnavar is placed on the list of the Liquor Control Board of Ontario, and that I receive a substantial order for this brand as soon as possible."

"McCrea's Reply."

Mr. McCrea replied to this letter, the Liberal leader claimed, by writing: "You wrote to me some time ago about a matter very important to you. I arranged at the time and omitted to mention it. I have heard nothing concerning it since, but perhaps everything has worked out satisfactorily."

The letter to Mr. McCrea, he continued, was dated Aug. 8, 1929, and Mr. Hepburn charged Mr. McCra received another letter from the same source, thanking him for "your kind support and influence with the Liquor Control Board of Ontario in getting them to list and place in order for 400 cases of my Strathnavar Scotch whiskey, which I have been working so long to accomplish, without success, until receiving your assistance."

Mr. Hepburn charged another letter by J. L. McIntyre, commission merchant, to V. H. G. G. Pickering, managing director of a Toronto agency, mentioned a dispute between McIntyre and Mr. Wright over commissions for the sale of whiskey. The Liberal leader, said Mr. Wright, claimed more commission, and declared the letter stated Mr. McIntyre was "aware that Mr. Wright will, or probably has already advised you he will see or write the Hon. Mr. Charles McCrea in regard to this matter."

The letter added, according to Mr. Hepburn, "However, he cannot hold me up for more than he has been promised or is entitled to by threats of this nature."

The toll gate system was operating two years ago, Mr. Hepburn said, declaring the letter had been written before the 1929 election.

HASTINGS CHIEF CONSTABLE DIES

William A. Killingbeck Passes in Nicholls Hospital, Peterborough, After Short Illness.

MOURNED BY VILLAGE.

HASTINGS, June 14 (Examiner Correspondence).—The entire village of Hastings and district is mourning the death of Chief Constable William A. Killingbeck, which occurred Wednesday afternoon in Nicholls Hospital, Peterborough. News of his death came as a great shock to a multitude of friends.

The late Mr. Killingeck had only been ill a few days before he was removed to the hospital two weeks ago, on Tuesday night his condition became critical.

Born in the Township of Dummer forty-five years ago the late Chief spent his early days in that township before coming to Hastings. For a number of years he was employed at the Fowlds Co., Limited, when they supplied the power for the village. After leaving that position he went in business for himself as an electrian and decorator.

Chief Killingbeck, who was known as "Bill" by everybody, has been on the local force for the past ten years. The late Chief made many friends by his kindly warnings to lawbreakers, and his efforts in trying to smooth over difficulties for citizens out of court.

Mr. Killingbeck was also in charge of the local Hydro lines.

There are left to mourn his loss, his sorrowing widow, five sons and four daughters, Gordon, Melville, Lorne, Norman, Bruce and Pansy, Mabel and Pauline at home and Mrs. A. Sherwin of Hastings. There is also left to mourn his loss, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Killingbeck, at Castleton, also five brothers and five sisters: Roy of Warkworth, Charlie of Burnley, Percy of Peterborough, Ernest of Havelock, and Howard of Norwood, Mrs. A. Lemoire of Hastings, Mrs. Wright of Castleton, Mrs. Tripp of Percy, Mrs. Lonsbury of Warsaw, and Mrs. Vallory of California.

The funeral will be held on Friday afternoon from the family residence, Front street. The time of the service has as yet not been arranged.

Interment will be made in Trent Valley Cemetery.

BROCKVILLE, Ont., June 13 (C. P.). — No fewer than 265 applications have been received by the Board of Education at Gananoque for the post of principal of the Linklater Public School there, one applicant offering to serve at an anual salary of $600, less than one-thirg of the salary of $1,900 paid the retiring principal.

AYRSHIRE BREEDERS CONDUCT THEIR 22ND ANNUAL FIELD DAY

Rally at Havelock Draws Representatives From Across Province.

INSTRUCTIVE ADDRESS.

HAVELOCK, June 14 (Examiner Correspondence). — Under ideal weather conditions the 22nd annual Field Day of the Ayrshire Breeders' Association of Central Ontario was held at the local park grounds Wednesday afternoon, with representatives from all parts of Ontario in attendance.

The beautifully-shaded grove was an ideal place for such a gathering and Reeve Richard Sanderson, in his address, welcomed the members and their friends and expressed the hope that they would return often to Havelock to hold their picnic, and assured them of the interest of the people of the village in the work of the association, and in agriculture in all its branches.

Mr. W. J. Peoples, president of the association, was in charge of the program, and after a few brief remarks relative to the work of the club in Peterborough County, introduced the speakers who had been invited to address the gathering.

Mr. A. D. Runion, representative of the Department of Agriculture at Peterborough stated, that he was pleased to find the members of the club so enthusiastic about the work.

Mr. Alex Hulme, one of the oldest breeders of Ayrshires in Canada, gave a brief history of the club. The club was organized in February, 1911, and has continued to grow steadily in membership. The object of organization had been to get away from the unfriendly spirit of one breeder towards another.

Before organization the individual breeder believed he should be the only one in his district. He did not think any other farmer had any right to go in for raising the same stock. Organization had accomplished what was intended, and now the spirit of co-operation among the breeders was very noticeable.

Department's Policy

Mr. L. E. O'Neill, Ontario Live-stock Director, Toronto, was the next speaker. He paid a tribute to the previous speaker, Mr. Hulme, of whom he spoke as a veteran in

DR MURRAY FRASER GRADUATED IN 1921

Served Overseas With the 21st Battalion — Well Qualified.

Dr. G. Murray Fraser, who was appointed last night to take charge of the city's health services, has had much experience in public health matters.

Dr. Fraser was born in Toronto, the son of the late Alexander R. Fraser. While a student at the Medical School of the University of Toronto, he enlisted with the First Battalion C.E.F. and served in France as a lieutenant, suffering wounds that caused him to be invalided home. On his return to Canada he continued his studies in Medicine, graduating from the University of Toronto in 1921.

He immediately entered the service of the Department of Health and took charge of the Provincial Laboratory at Owen Sound. In 1925 he was moved to this city and was in charge of the Laboratory here until 1927, when he began private practice and became associated with the Peterborough Standard and Medical Clinic.

"I want to congratulate this Council on securing the services of such a highly-qualified doctor as Dr. Fraser for the office of City M.O.H.," Alderman McIntyre told the Council last night. The other members of the Council were unanimously of the same opinion.

708 Foot Tunnel

The tunnel seven hundred and eight feet in length was started more than a year ago by experienced drillers and contained forty-one pockets. Each pocket contains anywhere from five to thirty-six boxes of dynamite. The amount is determined by the overhead burden. This was found to be seventy-three feet at the face and reduced as it went further into the hill until it was only thirty-one feet. The average width was about three and one half feet while the height was about four and one half feet.

This 'shot' more than any of the other had the effect of changing the face of the quarry from running north and south to an east and west direction. This has been the aim from the start since the old face made it dangerous on the occasion of heavy blasting. A great deal of most expensive machinery in the mill of the plant was always threatened with destruction. When the Ontario Rock Company purchased the property a 110 foot slope presented a most impregnable face. Before this blast the face at the highest point was seventy-three feet. When the rock loosened by this shot is removed in the course of a year or so, the face should not be more than thirty feet or so in a westerly direction.

H. L. Scott manager still retains his enviable record for successful tunnel shooting with many big shots to his record. Alex Longwell (of Toronto) president of the company and other officials as usual arrived shortly before the hour set to witness the shot.

Ten years ago thirty tons of explosive were used. That was the time a special train was chartered from Toronto to carry sight-seers from there and intermediate points. Twenty-four tons were used in April 1929; twenty-two tons in April 1930 and twenty tons in April 1931.

Mr. Scott looked after the wiring personally to insure a "sure shot."

Frank Davidson Must Also Pay Costs of County Court Action.

JURY OUT OVER 2 HOURS.

Returning with a verdict that Frank Davidson, 67, Belmont farmer, was "guilty" of attempting to kiss Mrs. Pearl Brunton, 23, in her Belmont Township home on November 16, last, against her will the jury before Judge R. In addressing the jury previous to the jury men retiring to consider their verdict, Judge Rudy said: "The evidence here does not disclose damages suffered by her. The law provides if you find a verdict for the plaintiff in this case she is entitled to nominal damages, the fine being some small amount like one dollar or twenty-five cents.

"But there is another feature, consisting of exemplary damages, which is awarded by taxing the defendant for higher compensation for the woman. If you consider that this woman has been grossly insulted by the defendant in this case, you may, for the benefit of others who may be planning to do the same thing, affix exemplary damages."

MRS. M. J. BARLOW HONORED AT 86TH BIRTHDAY PARTY

Motors to Madoc to Observe Celebration With 92 Years Old Sister, Mrs. S. Danford.

BORN IN BELEVILLE.

(By Examiner Staff Correspondent.)

CAMPBELLFORD, June 14. — A resident of Campbellford for many years, well known in the surrounding district, and a pioneer of this section of Ontario, Mrs. Mary Jane Barlow celebrated her 86th birthday on Sunday, June 10, and observed the occasion by being the guest in Madoc of her sister, Mrs. S. Danford, who is in her 92nd year, where the past was talked over and remembered, and the happy days of long ago again lived, especially the experience of going to church in the little wagon drawn by oxen.

A delightful party was held for the honored visitor, the cake being presented to her by a niece, Miss Matilda Danford, a missionary just just returned from China after 24 years service there. The cake was a beautiful creation, decorated with the age of Mrs. Barlow, and birthday greetings worked in Chinese characters.

About four o'clock in the afternoon Mrs. Barlow motored on to Havelock, where tea was served at the home of Miss Ida Ketcheson, a niece, where she was met by Mrs. Zurick, Mr. and Mrs. Blake Ketcheson and family. She motored from Campbellford, with her daughter, Mrs. W. G. Ayrhart, and Mr. Ayrhart, grandson Harry, and great grandchildren, Bernice and Buddy.

Among the guests at Madoc were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Danford, Mr. and Mrs. S. Danford and family, Miss Mary Danford, and Miss Flora Danford; also Miss Konachey, a returned missionary from China.

Mrs. Barlow was born in Belleville, and moved with her parents to Hazard Corners, where she lived until the death of her mother, a few months later marrying Mr. Samuel Barlow of Stirling, where she resided until her husbands death, when she came to Campbellford to live with her daughter, Mrs. W. G. Ayrhart. She is remarkably active for her age, never wears glasses only to read, and although she says she says she cannot hear now so well as she did 35 years ago, she is just as able to do her work as she was then. She received many birthday greetings, among them being from her son, H. D. Barlow, Capreol, Ont., and from Toronto and Ottawa.

Ayrshire Breeders Hold Field Day

the livestock work. He believed that if a man gets pleasure out of his work, he is getting something out of life. He outlined the policy of the department in relation to the production of livestock. The department has been focussing on the sire as an important factor in the development of good herds. The provincial bull policy has been in effect from one year the first of this month. In that time many buyers have been assisted in buying good dairy bulls. In all 690 had been placed, at a cost of $43,000 on a basis of fifty-fifty by provincial and federal governments. He believed that in most cases the purchaser had been given the benefit of the bonus, but stated that whether the breeder or buyer got the benefit did not matter, as the work of placing the better dairy stock throughout the country was promoted.

Mr. O'Neill stressed the value of accredited herds. Those herds east of Kingston have practically all been tested for T.B., and the work of testing is progressing in the Kenora district. He advised the breeders of Peterborough to take time by the forelock and make application to have their herds all tested in the same manner. More and more the demand is increasing for seed stock from accredited herds. An inquiry from Mr. Hulme as to what was necessary to have this service from the department drew the answer: "the signature of the majority of producers."

100 p.c. Accredited

He recommended that if possible one hundred per cent apply for this service of a restricted area and where this was done the testing would begin sooner than where a smaller percentage applied. He stated that shipment to New York and other states will not be allowed unless the herds have been accredited. He also advised the breeders present to exhibit their stock in the country to the south of us. The government is prepared to assist where necessary by paying freight charges on stock being exhibited in the United States, knowing that seeing the stock produced in Canada will create a greater demand for Canadian dairy and butcher cattle.

Mr. O'Neill also touched briefly on the hog situation in Peterborough, stating that the county stands well up in the listof hog production in Ontario. He quoted figures relative to the shipment of bacon to the old land, and pointed out weak spots in the system. He stated that if Canada or Ontario wants to keep her customers in the old land she must regulate or systematize her supply. The shipment of six million pounds one year and eleven million pounds another year, with two million the following year was not good business.

Cooperation Key Note

He urged all swine producers to cooperate with the Peterborough Swine Producers club with a view to regulating the supply and avoiding such fluctuations. Honorable F. C. Biggs, chairman of National Livestock records was the next speaker. He stressed the value and necessity of the service of record of performance. More and more the buyer of dairy cattle is demanding cattle with a record as producers The method of obtaining these records is a very simple one. All that is necessary is to board a man for a couple of days every few months while the records are being obtained. The records must be honest and right, otherwise they are of no value. The two methods of identifying animals, tatooing and photographing, were touched upon by the speaker who recommended the former as the better method.

Mr. Frank Napier, secretary treasurer Canadian Ayresnire Breeder's Association was present and gave a demonstration of tatooing on one of Mr. Fred Rutherford's young cattle. Mr. Biggs stated that the Ayreshire Breeders topped the list in Ontario this year with more registrations than any other breed, showing the growth in popularity of this stock. He stated that the record of performance of dairy cows meant the survival of the fittest. Those giving the best milk with an even supply of butter fat, were the ones that would be in demand.

The speaker went on to say, that two Ayreshire cows can be kept for less than one of other breeds, one breed in particular, and the Ayreshire record of performance showed better results. He urged those present to produce what they could sell.

He stated that the Wentworth farmers were busy at present planting various substitutes for the hay crop which is known to be a failure. Millet, corn, etc. are now being planted for winter fodder. The farmers have been hard hit before but have weathered the storm and they will continue to do so.

Mr. F. M. Rutherford, secretary of the club addressed the gathering briefly. He expressed regret that more of the members did not come for dinner, which he believed to be the best time. At the table they are all together and can discuss things of interest better than at any other time when there is so much to distract the attention.

Wins Pure Bred Calf

Mr. O'Neill was then called upon to draw the winning ticket for a pure bred calf, which was won by Miss Ethel Robson of Wentworth. The addresses were followed by a demonstration of judging Ayreshires by Mr. Napier, who pointed out the various points to be taken into consideration in judging, the perfections and imperfections to be looked for.

A number of cattle from the herds of Mr. W. J. Peoples of Belmont and Mr. Fred Rutherford of Bonarlaw were on the grounds and these were the centre of attraction being almost perfect specimens of Ayreshires.

REV. E. C. MOORE GIVES SUPPORT TO LANCASTER

Young's Point Rector is Heard in Political Address at Tory Rally.

CANADA IN LEAD.

$3,419,326 Have Been Spent in Riding by Government, Lancaster Says.

YOUNG'S POINT, June 14 (Examiner Staff Reporter). — "I ask you first to think—to think of the record of the Conservative Government and to use your vote intelligently." The Rev. E. C. Moore pleaded during an earnest discussion with the electorate of this community last night of some of the world problems of the day.

Rev. Moore expressed the pleasure it gave him to be associated on a political platform with men of the calibre of T. P. Lancaster, the candidate, and also T. H. Stinson M.P. of Lindsay, and J. F. Strickland K.C., of Peterborough.

Interested in Politics.

He had taken deeper interest in politics of late, the speaker remarked, because of the trend of events. "Something has happened," he said in reference to world conditions, "and those happenings in Europe were of vital importance to the people of Canada."

His study of current economic events had led him to the conclusion that the peoples of Russia Germany, Italy, and Austria had lost their liberty because they did not use their minds and work out slowly but surely to a better system

He warned that while the British peoples had retained their freedom they had been beset during the past few years by the organizers of other movements from other countries Men who had succumbed to the teachings of these groups, he felt, had short memories and very little knowledge of the great heritage that was theirs as Britishers.

Urgent Problems.

The problems had so gripped him by their urgency, Rev. Moore stated, that he wished to give his whole being to the campaign on behalf of the Conservative cause. Another reason for his interest, he explained, arose out of eight years' social service work with the Episcopal Church in Detroit.

Among one of the things he did in establishing young Canadians in employment in Detroit, he said, was to take those young Canadians to the Federal officer and get them to take out their first papers for the purpose of ultimately becoming American citizens. They had to do that, he stated, in order to qualify for jobs in the automobile factories where cars were being manufactured for shipment into Canada It had always been a condition that had made his blood boil, and that, he remarked, was under the Mackenzie King Government.

Thanks to Conservatives.

"I can't forget that, and I vowed that when I returned to the Dominion to give every ounce of energy I had to a party that would change conditions. The change came Thanks to the Conservative Party: thanks to Premier Bennett it is all changed, as so long as his policy is enforced, all young Canadians can be assured of better opportunity in their native land," he said.

"You will say, What has this to do with a provincial campaign? I would say to you that under the Henry government we had the same sure, safe, sane and farsighted policy as has been carried out by the Federal government. There has been closest co-operation between the two bodies."

One of the things the speaker was particularly pleased about so far as the provincial government was concerned was that, "the Conservative party has been the spearhead of social progress in Ontario."

The C.C.F. Policy

In the present campaign, Rev. Mr. Moore stated, there were only two parties that had any program. They were the Conservative party and the C.C.F. "You know the C.C.F. platform and that it is out as you might think to get after the big fellow; but you also should know that it is out to undermine everything we have built up by past effort. I feel assured none of you will have anything to do with that party, especially any of you who are landowners."

The Conservative Party, the speaker declared, was a party that had told the electorate in plain terms where it intended leading them, and it was a party that could look proudly back on a fine record of service.

T. A. Stinson, M.P., of Lindsay, reviewed present conditions in Canada in the light of world events and was of the firm opinion that neither the Federal or Provincial governments could have done more than they did to meet the crisis the country had to face.

Canada in Lead

Quoting from the report of the Economic Section of the League of Nations, Mr. Stinson showed that for the first quarter of the present year Canada led the entire world in industrial activity, showing a gain over the corresponding period of the previous year of 40 per cent. It was indication, he believed, that "we are on the dawn of a new day."

The reason for Canada's world supremacy in regard to industrial recovery, Mr. Stinson attriuted to good government. He spoke particularly of the efofrts of the Federal and Provincial government towards aiding the farmers, and spoke of the benefits agriculture had reaped as a result of the Imperial agrements.

Mr. Lancaster, who was the last speaker, following Mr. Strickland on the platform, gave a concise acount of his stewardship as a former member of the provincial legislature. While he did not wish to be unduly optimistic, he said he felt safe in predicting that he would again be returned to represent the new amalgamated riding of Peterborough County.

Proud of Achievement

He spoke of the platform on which he had previously sought election and referred to the manner in which he had implemented his former promises to the electorate. He was especially proud of the road work he had been able to secure on the Burleigh Falls-Bancroft section and believed it would eventually result in big returns to the whole of the district in increased tourist traffic.

Mr. Lancaster presented some figures showing that in the past six years the provincial government expended $122,301 on unemployment relief in Peterborough County; while during the same period $399,865 had been spent on farm loans (the peak year being 1932); and $3,419,326 was spent in the grand aggregate in this riding.

ROTARY CARNIVAL WELL ATTENDED FIRST NIGHT – BIG DRAW TO-NIGHT

Up Until Late Hour Market Square Had Good Crowd of Patrons.

IN AID OF CRIPPLED.

"The Colonel's lady and Judy O'Grady" went to the Rotary Carnival last night. A little matter like a chilly evening couldn't keep away the philanthropic people of Peterborough who like to help and who want to do all they can for the Crippled Children's work and the other worthwhile community efforts that the Rotarians sponsor through the year.

All evening, to a late hour, the big Market quare had a good crowd of patrons. Along the curbs where little pigs wait in crates on weekly market days for chance buyers, and where the green lettuce leaf and the mealy Irish potato flourish, were booths that dispensed amusement wrapped up in various forms. There are plenty of games of chance and skill, and fun may be had on every side.

Sam Thompson, who might have been expected any minute to break forth and sing all about the famous Mackay or the equally famous road to the Isles, was there in all the glory of kilted outfit, with a wee red hat set asjant his head. His strong lungs blew the breath through the bagpipes and he skirled forth with Scotch airs that brought the crowd to patronize the bingo game at the corner. But there was nothing "Scotch' about the prizes at this game or any of the others that aim to tempt the wary nickel and dime from the pockets and purses of patrons.

The prizes are extremely good, much beyond the average at these games of chance. You can sit and watch a card cover itself with grains of corn, and, if you are lucky, take home aluminum pieces that are worth a lot of money, or ladies' dresses and lingerie or novelties in the way of silver and brass pieces, ornaments of all types, verandah chairs with gay stripes, little Teddy bears with cheerful grins, or those perky little calico dogs with enquiring eyebrows that have pointed, upstanding ears and brilliant red muzzles over snub noses.

There are glass and china pieces, fishing creels of wicker, roller skates and electrical appliances. And chocolates and bottles of olives and pickles, to say nothing of bags filled with canned goods and canisters of the famous Maxwell House coffee.

The "Go-Laddie"

Strings of green, red and amber lights blink a welcome in a long line stretching from the Empress Hotel to one of the large posts on the Water street curb, and electric lights in a star illuminate the Ferris Wheel, on which the passengers can get a good look over the city.

Seniors and juniors alike crowd about the Merry-go-Round with its spirited steeds that sail so haughtily past the youngsters who haven't a nickel and take it out in watching their more fortunate companions "Go-laddie" was the old name for these contraptions that have added so much to the joy of life of many generations, with an obliging musical machine grinding out a tune as the horses sweep by.

The "ring the silver" game had a constant attendance last night. The sight of so much silver money waiting for the possessor of a skilful wrist and good eye on the aim seemed to fascinate the circle that ringed it about.

The ice cream cones languished in vain for customers, and the patrons of iced drinks were mainly small boys with cast iron constitutions, but there weren't enough assistants for the sizzling hot dogs that had a toothsome look as they waited for the last touch of mustard and the enveloping wrapper of a nice new roll.

The "little horses" raced about their circular track, and a busy motor car shuttled back and forth to win money for some lucky ticket holder.

There were tiny white mice with durable tails that allowed them to be captured by the men in charge and placed securely under a wire sieve until they were required to rose out a lucky number. They also proved to be a drawing card for old and young alike. Although they work so hard at making money for the crippled children, these little mice have an easy-going appearance and are laundered to a beautiful whiteness.

Obliging young Boy Scouts assist in many ways at the Carnival, which is under the watchful eye of the general convenor, J. H. Seels, with countless groups of energetic assistants in Rotarians and their friends, manning the different booths. "Manning" is right. It's a man's affair, this, with the fairer sex never getting a look-in, as far as assistance goes.

Don't forget that to-night is your last chance this year to contribute your bit—or two bits, if you like—to the community efforts of this club that have brought joy to the hearts of so many a child and its parents.

The draw for the big Chevrolet car will take place to-night and some lucky person will be glad that he or she bought a ticket on it. It might be you—you never can tell.

Obituary

MISS LITA MAY DAINARD

HASTINGS, June 14. (Examiner Corresondence).—Death came very suddenly on Wednesday evening to a popular young citizen in Miss Lita May Dainard. The deceased, who was in Nicholls Hospital, at Peterborough for some weeks, returned home three weeks ago. Her many friends thought she was convalescing very well and her tragic death has caused a feeling of sorrow throughout the village.

Born in Hastings on May 31st, 1919 the deceased was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Dainard. She attended Hastings public school where she was very popular. She was also a member of the A.Y.P.A. of St. George's Anglican Church.

There are left to mourn her loss her sorrowing parents, four brothes and two sisters, namely, Robert of Lindsay, Wesley of Hastings, Clifford of Toronto, Nicholas of Cobourg and Mrs. H. Stewart of Foxboro, and Bernice at home.

Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Mount Pleasant

The third annual Remembrance Day service was held at St. John's Church, Ida on Sunday afternoon. Service was held in the church at 3 p.m. with the Bishop of Toronto as special speaker, who delivered an excellent sermon. The bishop spoke very highly of the work our forefathers have done in the building of our churches and the making of our country, giving reference several times to the stump fences which are a symbol to the labor of our ancestors in the making of this country what it is to-day. Rev. Mr. Patterson of all Saints' Church, Peterborough was also present and took part in the service. A duet was sung by Messrs. Tom McCamus and Clare Winslow. The offering was in aid of the upkeep of the cemetery which looked very nice despite the long dry spell.

Mr. Herman McLean of Toronto spent the week-end with his brother, Mr. Eric McLean and attended the Remembrance Day service.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson of Oshawa were guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. Seeney on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Sutton and Miss Audrey Keen spent Monday evening with friends in the village.

Mr. and Mrs. William Mills of Lindsay visited the latter's father, Mr. William Elliott on Sunday and attended the Remembrance Day service.

Miss Margaret McCamus of Toronto spent the week-end with her father, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McCamus.

On Friday evening under the auspices of the W.A. of the United Church a concert was staged when the Ycung People of Fleetwood gave their play, entitled "Too Many Husbands." The parts were well taken and the play proved humorous throughout the entire two acts. Musical selections were given by the visitors between acts. At the conclusion lunch was served by the local W.A. to the visiting cast.

A WORD ABOUT THE CANOE.

In an editorial warning appearing in the columns of the Sarnia Observer readers are advised to be most careful in their use of canoes, and while The Examiner is in accord with much of the advice that is given, we must respectfully submit that it is a libel on the fair name of one of the most graceful and useful small craft in existence to suggest that the canoe should only be employed "in the safest of waters" and "within swimming distance of the shore."

The chief concern should be, The Examiner submits, to learn how to handle a canoe safely.

In the hands of expert paddlers, these boats are as safe for use on Canadian rivers and lakes as any one could desire; it is only when novices attempt to take liberties with the canoe that any real element of danger enters into the situation.

The canoeist must learn the simple technique that ensures safety, and once he has grasped that and carefully carries it out, he need not worry about getting too far from shore, as the Observer suggests.

Canoes, of course, are not the proper craft for individuals who want to "rock the boat" or who like to change places in the craft in midstream, or who act as if they were passengers on a barge instead of in a light, frail affair.

THE BANKS AND THEIR GOLD.

While Canadian banks in this particular instance are not likely to have the support of the man on the street, there is little doubt that the action of the Canadian Parliament in passing legislation calling upon the chartered banks of this country to hand over their holdings of gold to the Federal Government at the old price of $20.67 amounts virtually to confiscation.

Through this course the Government will make a very substantial profit, somewhere in the neighborhood of $33,000,000, it is estimated, as the holdings of gold at the end of April was approximately $47,000,000.

There are not a few who argue that some recompense should be made to the banks when the gold is turned over to the country, on the ground that such a policy would be simply an act of justice.

Those who take that view of the situation submit that the Canadian Government had little or no part in causing the increased price of gold, while, as the Monetary Times puts it, "even if the Government could claim all the credit it would not justify them in confiscating the gold at the old price from the banks."

However, the Government's legislation has been passed, and as we said at the beginning of this article, it would be difficult to stir up a great deal of sympathy among the majority of Canadians over the incident.

THE ADVANCE POLL.

The election authorities have shown good judgment in widening the scope of the advance poll to be held in connection with the provincial election.

As originally drawn up, provision was made only for three classes, sailors, railway men and commercial travellers, who would be absent from their place of residence on election day, and who were given the privilege of voting on Saturday or Monday.

A good many other citizens on this occasion would have been deprived of an opportunity to use their franchise because this is the season of military camps and of conventions of all kinds, and soldiers whose period of training comes in election week and hundreds of delegates appointed to attend these various gatherings to be held next week would have lost a chance to vote were it not for the decision to extend the facilities of the advance poll to these classes.

It is to be hoped that all voters affected by these circumstances will show their appreciation by making sure that their vote is registered.

The machinery has been provided for them to use their franchise before leaving home, and there is therefore no reason why they should not have a voice in deciding the issues of the day. If they fail to exercise their franchise they have no cause to complain because the authorities have made it as convenient as possible for them to register their vote in advance of the election.

THE SASKATCHEWAN FIGHT.

If anything, the political situation in Saskatchewan where the electors will also go to the polls next Tuesday is more involved than in Ontario.

There, in addition to a Government party, composed largely of Conservatives, there is the Liberal opposition, led by ex-Premier J. G. Gardiner, and also the Farmer-Labor group, allies of the C.C.F., which is making a real fight to take over the reins of power and has 53 candidates in the field.

The Saskatchewan fight differs from the Ontario campaign in that all three parties are contesting almost every riding, where, as here, of course, the third party, the C.C.F., has not enough candidates in the running to give it control of affairs, even if every one of its standard-bearers were successful.

In the western province it is a triangular battle all along the line, and while the two old parties both profess every confidence in the outcome, the fact that Elmore Philpott, one of the foremost Ontario members of the new movement, has chosen to campaign in Saskatchewan rather than his own province is not without its significance.

His action indicates that the Farmer-Labor group regards its chances of victory as extremely bright; and not unnaturally so, because if the C.C.F. policies cannot be put over in a province that has suffered so severely from the effects of the depression and of successive bad crops, the outlook for swinging any other part of the country into line must certainly be looked upon as decidedly small.

Two things a man should never be angry at—what he can help and what he can't.—Quebec Chronicle-Telegraph.

VALUE OF EDUCATION.

These are important days for the happy and hopeful graduates and the proud, elated parents. Young men and women are being called to the convocation halls of our universities to receive the rewards of extended and faithful study in the form of crisp, new certificates, which to them indicate that the long tedious grind is over.

In a sense this is true. We congratulate these graduates in their hour of victory. They deserve the encomiums they have earned, for the success they have attained, and the honor they have won. Their whole lives are before them; and the world is waiting for a display of practical evidence of their right of distinction. Knowledge is power, and begets confidence and courage. The world looks rosy before them, and the future seems assured.

But, is the long tedious grind over? Far be it from us to dampen the ardor of youth; but if their education has been of any use to them whatever, it will already have taught them that the long grind is just about to begin. Some such thought was appropriately expressed by Dr. Sherwood Fox, president of the University of Western Ontario, in addressing his graduating students when he said:

"The danger point in university training is reached when students come to convocation and graduation and are apt to think that they have attained the highest rung in the ladder of success, and that the world will accept them as leaders. The knowledge achieved in the university is not sufficient for the student to engage in the battle of life. Your career is now just beginning, it will be a sad mistake for you graduates to believe that you may settle back and take life easy, content with the education you have already received. What is education? You must critically ask yourselves that question. It cannot be defined because it is a process. You should be distrustful of anyone who attempts to define it. Its importance cannot be stressed too much. It is not too late to develop your powers, your education here does not end your right to develop your mentality."

Dr. Fox has in these words proven that he has the correct estimation of life and its problems, and if his graduates will "take it" in an intelligent spirit, they will start life with the proper outlook upon the essentials of success, with splendid prospects for the fulfilment of their cherished hopes.—Chatham Daily News.

BIG PROBLEM AWAITS SOLUTION.

One of the big question marks looming before the public is what will be the outcome of the Stevens mass buying probe which has been going on at Ottawa for some weeks. A mass of evidence is piling up and some of the disclosures are unsavory, to say the least.

Commenting on this urgent question of the day, the Stratford Beacon-Herald is quite right in pointing out that:

"It is not sufficient that those conducting the investigation shall sit around like a number of doctors in the sick man's room, and keep on remarking that the patient is a sick man or that he is suffering from some dread malady. That much would probably be apparent at first glance or it would be made known by diagnosis. The real need is that something be prescribed to meet the needs of the case whether for internal dosing or by means of the surgeon's knife."

It is patent to all thinking people that something will have to be done to eliminate as far as possible unfair dealing. Sweatshop conditions have no place in Canada. Wage-earners are entitled to reasonable remuneration for their services. The remedy to be applied no doubt constitutes one of the major problems facing Ottawa to-day. What steps is Parliament going to take to prevent unethical business practices?

Speaking to a large congregation at Trinity United Church, Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, touched on this vital question. As one way of remedying conditions he urged citizens to stop buying the products of sweatshops. The Minister also stressed the necessity of closer adherence to business principles conforming with Christian economics. A part of Mr. Stevens' able address which cannot be emphasized too much is his reference to the doctrine of Christian stewardship that all wealth is held in trust. In this connection he says:

"It teaches not only that all wealth is held in trust for the state and for humanity, but the greater the wealth the greater the responsibility; a pill that many don't like to take. It's not good enough for a man to erect a business and pyramid it, and build up a name, and then wash his hands of the workers in the business. Just as surely as he brings into the business a score of workers he takes on himself the responsibility of the welfare of those workers. He can't escape it in the eyes of the Christian doctrine. 'Unto whomsoever much is given, of him much shall be required,' is sound economics."—Kitchener News-Record.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Remember the last night of the Rotary Club's Carnival to-night. Plenty of fun and entertainment in aid of a fine cause.

Ten political groups are entered in the Ontario political campaign. The number would likely have been less if candidates were required to post a deposit.

At all events it must be admitted that Ontario can report a heavy crop of hecklers if other crops are not up to the mark.

Every cent of profit from the Rotary Carnival is devoted to social service work. That should be sufficient to ensure complete success for the annual carnival.

THE LIQUOR CONTROL BOARD EXCEEDS ITS POWERS

To Editor of the Examiner,

Dear Sir,—An item in the Mail and Empire of June 8th announces that the Liquor Control Board "has determined to ask that all those in the province who seek authorities" (for the sale of beer and wine) "send in their applications to the Board at the earliest possible moment. Forms have been printed and are now available." The application must be accompanied by a petition signed by at least 15 persons (a ridiculous number) who are resident in the immediate vicinity.

If this information is correct, the Board has been clearly guilty of illegal action in spending the money of the province without warrant.

The Beer and Wine Bill is not yet law and in certain conceivable circumstances it may never become law. The only powers the Board has are those conferred by the existing Liquor Control Act. The soliciting of applications by the Board for authorities is unwarranted by the Act and the printing of forms, etc., not required by the existing law is surely illegal. The Board has violated its trust.

Even if the Bill becomes law this present action is unnecessary, undignified and precipitous. Haste in the granting of authorities without ample nvestgation is against the public interest. This action of the Board can be construed only as an effort to win support in the coming vote and its breach of propriety and legality indicates a fear in the hearts of its promoters as to the results of the election.

GEORGE LEADER REPLIES

The Editor of The Examiner,

Dear Sir,—In making the statement I did last Wednesday evening that, I had been informed by a prominent merchant on Hunter street, that there were twelve places on that street where drink was sold illegally, I said neither more nor less than the exact truth, and that is all the information I have, I am not in a position to lead the police to the exact numbers on that street where these places are and knowing my principles on this matter as everyone in Peterborough does I am not in a position to find out, even if so inclined, which I certainly am not. I had no thought in my mind of impugning either the zeal or efficiency of our police force. I have every respect for Chief Newhall and the officers who serve under him and I believe them to be as efficient a body of courteous, capable men as are to be found in the Dominion of Canada, but that was not the point at all. I stated clearly that the promises made by its sponsors the Conservative Party when introducing the L.C.A. that it would do away with the illegal sale of liquor by removing the necessity, that this promise had not been fulfilled.

I appreciate the fact that Chief Newhall has not men enough to watch all the places suspected of selling liquors, for they are far too many and the exigency of other matters take up their time. But then how is The New Beer and Wine Act to be "strictly enforced" as Mr. Henry has promised. If the Act is put into force about the first of July, if the Henry Government is returned or the Liberals under Mr. Hepburn it will be necessary for the City Council and the Police Commission to at once place under the direction of Chief Newhall an additional force equal to the number he has at present for as the Chief says he has no men to spare to watch these places.

Mr. Henry has already proved that he does not and cannot rely on his own statement that the New Act will promote temperance, by widening the roads and filling in the ditches that the additional number of drunken drivers may be able to steer their erratic way and that the decent sober driver may have a sporting chance to dodge them. He has also started to build first aid stations along the Highways to take care of the increased number of injured that would result from the increased number of drunken drivers.

The best plan in my opinion is to return men who will hold back the proclamation of this Act until the people of this province have a chance to either endorse or refuse it through a referendum apart from party politics.

Thank you,

Yours faithfully,
George Leader.

NAPANEE, ONTARIO

Before the white man settled in eastern Ontario, the falls upon the river in this town were known as "The Appanea." This was the first part of the province settled by U.E. Loyalists, and two years after they were settled a grist mill was built at the falls. The Mohawk Indians, who were also Loyalists, settled upon the reserve, seven miles away, just a few weeks before the arrival of the white man and when the mill was built the Indians visited it to get their flour and gradually the "Appanea" crept into the Indian language as the word for flour. The original meaning of the word is lost. The white man changed it to Napanee, it is supposed, because the latter was more euphonious.

$5,000 BARN FIRE.

BROCKVILLE, Ont., June 13.—(C.P.).—Loss of over $5,000 was caused by lightning striking buildings on the farm occupied by Edward Gray, at Glen Morris, near Athens, early to-day. The subsequent fire destroyed a cow stable, silo, the main barn and a shed. One bull, a number of calves and a quantity of machinery, much of it new, were lost, some insurance being carried on the buildings. The farm is owned by Robert Foster, of Athens.
